A Christmas party for the enlisted personnel will be held on the base, with the base's officers and the Marine Air Base Band providing the entertainment.

Other Men Leave

Leaving this last week with three others of the little nucleus of men students on campus was Associated Student Body President William Seaman, who was inducted for "forces on land or sea," and who is trying for a commission in the Navy.

His official withdrawal having been given to Wilhelmina Menken, assistant registrar, last Tuesday, the student council met last night, presiding under Vice-President Eleanor O'Boyle, to choose a temporary president to take his place for one month. At the end of that time an election will be held.

EDITORIAL

"It's just like it was in Germany in the beginning." German refugees thus favorably contrast Nazi sadism with current events in Boston and Brooklyn, U.S.A.

With renewed fury an ancient and hateful prejudice has been whipped up again—the traditional augur of unrest, anti-Semitism. Today in Boston, Jewish children have been reviled and beaten and their elders subjected to physical assaults and vandalism, while the municipal authorities jovially wink a collective eye at this playfulness until they see with the other the frank reporter for the newspaper PM. In New York, the broken store windows remind us of Hitler-inspired Germany, and the desecrated Jewish cemeteries, with tombstones smashed and scattered, recall the brown-shirts of Cologne and Erfurt in 1926 and 1927. And in the Gopher Prairies, and Middletowns, and Santa Barbaras of America, too many speak with gloowering brow of the clever, unscrupulous Jew who has an octopus stranglehold on the business, banking, and government of the country.

Americans should not forget that to throw a stone at one's neighbor is to have that missile come whistling back at him. The Irish who have persecuted Jewish-Americans in Boston may some day become the hated minority, having provided the impetus. The Negro or workingman who shrugs his shoulders at the plight of others may be laughing out of the other side of his mouth tomorrow. The indifferent Protestant or Catholic should realize that tolerance is secured only when it respects all creeds and beliefs.

The average George Babbitt, when he tacitly condones this persecution, should recall how Hitler paved his road to power with attacking first the less popular fringe of society and ended with the regimentation and surveillance of all.

No one is asking you to pamper or coddle the nearest Jew or member of any other persecuted minority. Just remember that the explanation for the chaos of our world is not resolved by reliance on an old prejudice, that a working democracy demands that we respect the rights of all our minorities. Clergymen should be courageous and conscientious enough to appeal in the pulpit to the Christian humility of their congregations. Children in school should be taught that far from being a ridiculous, cringing old wretch, Shylock was in reality the tragic victim of bigotry who asks, "Hath not a Jew eyes? hath not a Jew hands, organs, dimensions, senses, affections, passions?—If you prick us do we not bleed? if you tickle us, do we not laugh? if you poison us, do we not die? and if you wrong us, shall we not revenge?"

Back again after Thanksgiv-ing . . . and glad to be here. However, the thing I've heard most comment on being thankful for this year is that Christmas vacation is only three short week away. (We're only kidding!)

Goodbye to ROBERT STANSBURY and PREXY WILF SEAMAN, both of whom left this week to join the ranks of the Navy.

And my hat's off to JOYCE EVANS and MARIAN AGMALIAN who have become so engrossed in selling those newly published handbooks that they've even included the Marines in their sales.

Hope you're all coming to the Christmas party in the cafe on the tenth. SANTA CLAUS is going to be there to help draw for the war bond. Better come, or you'll miss the excitement.

Editor's note:
It has been suggested that interesting letters from service men should be printed each week in El Gaucho. The following was received by Dr. Girvetz from a former student in the South Pacific.

Dear Harry,

I believe that I last wrote you just before the action started out here. So much has happened that it would be difficult to give a coherent picture of the whole thing. One tends to become terrifically involved in his specific job and the total picture is blurred and hazy.

I had always heard that men went into action thinking they wouldn't be injured or killed. Nothing is further from the truth. Everyone expects to be well shot up every time they go out. Everyone talks lovingly of which sulfa drug they prefer and how exactly to stop a hemorrhage ...

Most of the men are much more advanced in their thinking than their officers and to state their attitude succinctly I would say they are in an "experimental" mood and willing to try something else. Of course, England is much further advanced in this respect and the British sailors I talk to out here say things that would positively make Martin Dies shudder.

Insight into America's difficulties also!

Writing Contest Held at Stanford

Four awards in dramatic writing are offered in the ninth annual competition of the Dramatists' Alliance of Stanford University.

The late poet, Stephen Vincent Benet, is remembered in a new prize for radio plays in prose or verse, preferably on American themes; the award is fifty dollars and recommendation to radio production units.

Other awards are the Anderson prize award of one hundred dollars for verse drama, in full-length or one-act form; the Etherage award for full-length comedy, also one hundred dollars; the Gray award for dramatic criticism, which brings twenty-five dollars and recommendation to standard periodicals. The most produceable of the dramas offered for the Anderson and Etherage prize will be staged by Hillbarn Theatre, only summer repertory theatre of northern California.

You can still have photographs made for Christmas.

ZANE STUDIO
7 La Arcada Ct. 28161

You should send for registration forms and information at once; final date for the present series of competitions is March 10, 1944. Address all inquiries and contributions to Dramatists' Alliance, Box 200 Z, Stanford University, California.

No second prizes are given, but leading honors plays are sent with the winners to Samuel French, NRC offices in New York, MGM, and responsible producing units among community theatres, as part of the Alliance's effort to introduce new playwrights to the country at large. Other privileges extended to contributors include the critical review of the season's best contributions, presented first at the Dramatists' Assembly in the summer following the competitions, and issued in printed form in the association's bulletin each year; brief written critiques (two for each item) of contributions for which writers pay the nominal fee of three dollars; introduction of promising dramatists to members of the association already placed in theatre and cinema, for advice and assistance.
