

INTER-FRAT COUNCIL MEETING MAY SET PRECEDENT

IFC Meets Tomorrow to Decide Alleged Rushing Violation

By Judy Cook

When Inter-Fraternity Council meets tomorrow night there will probably be a discussion of rush rules and alleged violations of them, according to many prominent Council members.

The chief bone of contention is whether the rushing schedule presented to IFC at the meeting of February 7 is to be followed as a standing IFC rule with regard to the matter of whether the Standing Rules adopted at the meeting January 10 are to be referred to, according to Dean of Men Lyle Reynolds.

Standing Rules

In the Standing Rules adopted at the January 10 meeting, Section C (1) states: Rushing, involving formal and informal activities designed to acquaint the members with a prospective pledge or the prospect with the fraternity, is permitted at all times.

The schedule for rushing and bidding announced at the February 7 meeting has this to say: Monday, February 19—Rushing ends at 12 noon when fraternities turn in bid lists to the office of the Dean of Men.

The latest development in the situation as it now stands, according to Dean Reynolds, is that the alleged violation of rushing rules by Sigma Alpha Epsilon, who are charged with holding a rush party after rushing was over, is not a violation of the rush contract, per se, but a violation of an IFC agreement.

In that case, if the Council should find Sigma Alpha Epsilon guilty, Reynolds pointed out, any punishment given would probably be less harsh.

Jim Mulick, Chairman of the Rushing Rules Revision Committee of the Council, has written to the Inter-Fraternity Councils in other California universities for information on how alleged violations are handled and punished. He hopes this information will be useful to the Council in adopting specific rules for future use.

Reynolds' Statement

A week ago yesterday Dean Reynolds stated: "Since the function of this office is to enforce regulations adopted by IFC, this office will stand behind whatever IFC decides."

At that same time the Dean emphasized the fact that it is not the business of his office to determine whether or not a group should be punished, or how they should be punished. He feels that such matters should be left up to Inter-Fraternity Council.

The story in Friday's edition of El Gaucho was written by the Editor after a personal interview with Dean Reynolds. After the story was written it was submitted to Reynolds for his perusal, since he was quoted so much in it.

Personally returning the story to the Gaucho Office, Reynolds gave the Editor permission to publish it exactly as it was written with no changes to be made.

Cafeteria Prices Up As Food Costs Rise

Prices in the cafeteria have risen in response to the rise of wholesale food prices.

According to Manager J. A. D. Muncy, the price increase was made only after a complete review of cafeteria costs. Wages of cafeteria employees were boosted also.

Sandwiches Raised

Price rises lifted sandwiches from 15c to 20c and from 20c to 25c. Some will not be affected, such as minced ham, cheese and peanut butter. Pie is up two cents to 14c per cut. Gaucho Luncheons are up from 60c to 67c.

$4.75 Tickets

Use of meal tickets insures students of considerable savings and assists the cafeteria in its sales volume.

These tickets cost $4.75 and have a purchase value of $5.25. They are honored on both the Riviera Campus and the Mesa Campus snack bars as well as the cafeteria.

Parasol Prom at 'Fabulous Casino'

SPRING FORMAL AT CORAL CASINO WILL FEATURE ALL-FLOWER PARASOLS

"Parasol Prom," the big social affair of the semester, will be held at the Coral Casino Saturday, March 10. The tickets are on sale at $2.50 per couple at the Graduate Manager's Office.

Several features make this one of the outstanding dances of the year. With the setting of the beautiful Coral Casino, the dance is sure to be a success. Added to the scenery, the social committee is featuring a buffet table which will certainly provide an additional attraction.

The decorations will follow a spring theme with flowers and flower parasols — the latter contributed by the unique parasol contest.

If the weather permits, there will be dancing in the patio under the stars. The music will be furnished

PALMER ANNOUNCES COLLEGE LECTURES

Authoritative speakers on a wide variety of subjects have been engaged for the All-College lecture series scheduled for the spring semester, according to Upton S. Palmer.

The series, given at 4 pm Wednesday afternoons in Pine Hall 100, will present distinguished members of the College as well as two guest lecturers.

Two lectures have been designated as Provost's Lectures. They are Edgar Johnson Goodspeed, professor emeritus of University of Chicago, noted author of religious subjects, who will display old and rare Bibles. The other Provost's lecture will be by Dr. Curt Stern, professor of zoology at Berkeley.

The schedule is as follows:

Feb. 28, Ransom T. Taylor, "Germany in the Post-War World."

Mar. 7, Douwe Stuurman, "The Haunted House of Literature."

March 14, Donald J. Bear, "Current Aspects of American and British Painting."

March 21, Lt. Col. Richard W. Mabee, "Military Science and the College Man."

March 28, Joseph Foladare, "Boswell's Journals."

April 4, Provost's Lecture, Edgar Johnson Goodspeed, "Current Movements of Bible Translation."

April 11, Alice V. Bradley, "Nutritional Patterns and Modes of Living Here and Abroad."

April 18, Harold J. Plous, "The Economics of the British Labor Party."

May 2, Provost's Lecture, Curt Stern, subject to be announced.

May 9, Norman E. Gabel, "The Vanished Indians of Santa Barbara." (Illustrated.)

May 16, Kermit A. Seefield, "Industrial Design."

May 23, Edmond E. Masson, "Some Considerations of the Russian Problem."

NILES IS ELECTED CHIEF BULL-SLINGER

Monetary votes for the campus Bull-Slinger Contest netted a total of $125.32 to the World Student Service Fund, announced Nancy Barker, chairman, Friday. This is compared to a goal of $600 set for the entire year.

Chief bull-slinger is Wendell Niles of Sigma Phi Epsilon, who received a vote of $44.51. Runner-up is Dick Bucaro, Alpha Phi Omega, with $36.33.

In fourth place was Sue Small, Sigma Kappa, $25.90, while fifth place was captured by Carl Aimes, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, $9.99.

Trailing into sixth place was Jiggs Pierson, Kappa Sigma, $5.98 while Twila Berkeley of Phrateres brought up the rear with $2.61.

by Chas. Copeland and will feature several names in the local limelight.

UCSBC's crooner, Vince DiFiore and the ever popular Claire Maher will sing. Added attractions will be Ann Irvine and Larry Schilling.

ADRAN ADAMS

Adran Adams Named Spring Commander

Adran Adams, a distinguished military student, has been named Cadet Battalion Commander for the Spring semester, according to the Department of Military Science and Tactics.

A senior physical education major from Pasadena, Adran simultaneously was promoted to the rank of cadet Lt. Colonel. This is the highest ranking cadet officer grade that is given here.

Football Star

Adran, a football star for the Gauchos, has been active in campus activities. This past summer he distinguished himself at the ROTC summer camp.

This June he will receive his gold bars as a second lieutenant in the Infantry. Army life will not be a new experience for him. His schooling was interrupted in 1946 when he joined the Army for 18 months. He served in Japan as a paratrooper of the 11th Airborne Division.

Pasadena CC Grad

Upon discharge from the Army he graduated from Pasadena City College and enrolled in UCSBC where he became active in the ROTC. In his first semester he was an assistant platoon sergeant and later platoon leader. Last semester he attained the rank of captain and was also commander of Company "A."

Adran's other activities include membership in Block "C", Blue Key, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Scabbard and Blade, honorary ROTC society.

GLEE CLUB TO SING

The Men's Glee Club, under the direction of Dr. Walter Buchanan, will present a varied program of A Capella selections Wednesday morning, March 7, when the group will journey to Ventura Junior College.

Numbers will range from sixteenth century antiphonal music to light humorous selections. Syncopated Justice, an act from "Hit and Run," will be included.

'ALL MY SONS' EMPLOYS MODERN CENTER STAGING

"All My Sons" by Arthur Miller, will be the forthcoming stage production of Santa Barbara College's drama department, directed by Mr. Robert Clark, and will be presented on the Riviera campus for a six-day run. The dates are March 29, 30, 31 and April 5, 6, and 7.

The play, which sets forth the results of a man's ruthless desire to make money in a war industry, will be center staged in the modern fashion.

Central Staging

In the central staging, the audience is brought close to the action by seating them around the stage instead of in front. This type of staging will limit the audience size to about 100 persons at each performance.

The part of Joe Kellar, the industrialist, will be played by Ken Kellogg, veteran of many campus productions. Kellar's son, Chris, will be portrayed by Fred Goerner. Beverly Benedict is cast as Kellar's wife and mother of Chris.

Other Cast Members

Other members of the cast are Gordon Stafford as George Deever, John Robey as Frank Luby, Dick Weston as Jim Bayliss, Claire Maher as Ann Deever, Mary Jane Mistretta as Lydia Luby, and Nancy Chmilowski as Sue Bayliss.

The all-student production is sponsored by the Associated Students in cooperation with the Committee on Drama, Lectures and Music.

Willson Reads Poetry Of Cummings Today

Dr. Lawrence Willson will read from the contemporary poet E. E. Cummings this afternoon at 4 in the AWS Room.

All poetry readings and lectures will be held at 4, contrary to previous announcements. Interested students and faculty members are invited.

Improvements Needed in Faculty-Student Relations

Faculty-student relations—a very nice sounding title but many times a rather useless one. In general, faculty members are either very cooperative or completely indifferent to student life outside the classroom.

Then again students at this campus are sometimes prone to "overlook" the faculty. Either they are so careless as to not even notice them, or they deliberately ignore them as such.

Then the crux of the situation seems to be that if you wanted to find someone or something to blame, you could make charges and counter-charges with nothing accomplished whatsoever. Basically the faculty's purpose is to inform the students and the student's purpose is to learn. It seems to me that this relationship, while primarily intended for the classroom, should be extended to every phase of college life. Everyone who has been in an organization knows the value of a good faculty sponsor and what he can do to guide the energy of the group in a more fruitful fashion.

Presently Santa Barbara College is in dire need of a larger student body—our enrollment being so low that perhaps some of the newer members of the faculty will not return. Then here is a common project for the faculty and students to work together on and perhaps break the ice between them.

There are about 10 students to every faculty member so it should be an ideal situation to really make an effort to better faculty-student relations.

Let's try it!

Men Lead Women 983 to 804, Spring Enrollment Shows

"For every man there's a woman," so the saying goes, but on this campus for every 1.154 men there's one woman. Figures released by the Registrar's Office show the Spring enrollment consists of 938 men and 804 women.

Seniors show the greatest difference; there are 420 men and 218 women. Practically two men to every woman. The freshman class also has a two-to-one difference, but in the opposite direction. There are 80 men and 168 women. Juniors have 275 men and 218 women, while sophomores have 133 men and 188 women. For those math-conscious people who can't make these figures total 1742, there are 40 post-graduates and two unclassified students.

More IA Majors

The Industrial Arts Department claims the most majors, 304 men and only two of the weaker sex. Elementary Education is second with 26 men and 209 women for a total of 235. Philosophy has the fewest majors, only three men.

With the statistics, women need not worry about their date life. (So what if you are sitting home Friday night and Saturday night, too.)

Wednesday Lecture To Concern Classics

Assistant Professor of English Douwe Stuurman will speak Wednesday, March 7, at 4 pm in Room 100, Pine Hall. The All-college lecture is titled "The Haunted House of Literature."

Mr. Stuurman explained this unusual title by saying that most classics of ancient and modern literature are representations of man's inner self. "The ramifications of inner man, with its mystery, may be likened to a vast house or even a city," he continued, into which search writers have delved behind obvious actions.

Students Give Opinions on Loyalty Oath Controversy

Bob Christofferson:

I should like to clarify the position of the members of the Legislative Council in regard to the so-called "Loyalty Oath" controversy which received considerable publicity in the last issue of El Gaucho.

To begin with, the Legislative Council has not "reversed" its policy in regard to the Loyalty Oath. I believe I speak for the majority (if not the entire council) in saying that we reaffirm our approval of the stand taken by the faculty and the minority of the regents, etc., etc.

The Loyalty Oath is not the issue; we have made our stand clear, and the entire matter is now in the hands of the courts now deciding the constitutionality of the oath. The issue is whether or not the students of UCSBC should present Dr. O'Gorman a gift for his refusal to sign the oath.

I should further like to point out that the article appearing in the last issue of El Gaucho was written by the author of the resolution which was defeated, and represented only one side of the argument. The following are a few of the points brought out by the opposition to the resolution:

1. Should Dr. O'Gorman be allowed another opportunity to sign the oath (which will probably be the case) after presentation of a gift in appreciation for his refusal to sign, he would be almost honor bound to refuse again, regardless of any changes in his own attitudes, situation, etc. This very awkward situation is just what we seek to avoid.

2. Other drives are now in progress on campus. Any more drives would probably not be warmly received by the majority of students.

3. This stirs up an issue which has long been dead on the UCSBC campus. We have declared our frame of mind. Until something new occurs, there is no reason for rubbing salt in old wounds.

4. There is nothing to prevent a personal gift from that small group of friends who are so interested. This is not a real drive, and as such does not need approval of the Legislative Council. Informal polls seem to reveal that only a small core of students are interested in this project.

Student Opinion

5. In voting, your elected representatives attempt to echo student opinion. The eight members of Council who voted to defeat the resolution felt that it did not represent general student opinion, but rather the opinion of a small minority of students.

6. Presentation of a gift at this time smacks of a "going-away present." If Dr. O'Gorman is no longer to be with us, then this is in order; if there is any chance of his re-joining the faculty, then this is extremely undiplomatic. Let's wait until the decision is made one way or the other before we do anything which may embarrass both Dr. O'Gorman and the Student Body.

Council Reasoning

I hope that the above points will show that the reasoning of the Legislative Council is not a "complete switch from their original anti-oath position," but rather a refusal to involve the Associated Students in a venture which seems to be uncalled for, poorly timed, and bearing the earmarks of a move which might provoke unfavorable results from many sources. I should like to urge that students interested in this situation express their opinions to any member of the Legislative Council.

Roadrunner Revue Boasts Cast of 50

Ken Trevey and Pat Welsh, co-chairmen of the Roadrunner Revue, report that they now have a cast of about 50.

They can still use a few more singers and dancers and they do not have a full crew of prop and scenery-men. See Pat Welsh if you are interested in working on scenery.

Thirty acts, some of which must be eliminated, are slated for the program. There is a large variety of skits and quite a few music and dance numbers. So many acts are entered that Ken is thinking of varying the program slightly every night. Tickets will be on sale sometime next week.

Dennis McElrath:

Dear Madam Editor:

The recent action of the student council regarding the Loyalty Oath resolution was to be expected. But why did the student council act in direct opposition to precedent and, what is more important, to the prevalent feeling of the majority of the students on this campus?

Simple Answer

The answer is simple—the apathy of both the council itself and the Student Body as a whole are in a large part to blame. Perhaps the greatest offenders in this flagrant violation of responsibility were not the council members themselves. Although they made no effort, it seems, to seek out the opinion of the student body, which, for the most part, was unaware of the existence of either a Loyalty Oath Committee or of the resolution which they presented.

Real Villian

Here arises the real villian in this game of apathy. Your paper, Madame Editor, was perhaps the most apathetic. Your periodical has not only taken no strong editorial policy on the oath issue, but has not even kept the student body informed on the details of the Loyalty Oath controversy.

While the battle for academic freedom still goes on, the Daily Californian and the Daily Bruin constantly enlighten their respective student bodies, while professors are denied their right to teach and tenure, while Rome burns, Madame Editor, you fiddle!

Love and Kisses,
Dennis McElrath

Pete Burgher:

The Legislative Council has, it's true, turned the gift proposition "thumbs down," but not for the reason expressed in last Friday's issue. The council is here for the purpose of expressing and making use of student opinion. We cannot, as the resolution tries to do, authorize a document that will be used as a tool to extract money from students.

Not Legal

While we can legally promote a money-gathering drive, we cannot morally commit students to do such a thing. Our indignation over this proposition is not designed to abruptly reverse the stand on the loyalty oath but to best represent and fairly enact that and only that which the students want.

Most if not all the members of the council have taken an unwavering stand against the Regents' oath. We have nothing but respect for Dr. O'Gorman's firm standing behind his convictions, even if anybody doesn't agree with what Dr. O'Gorman believes. We have not doubt that we all admire his and all other non-signers' stand against what they believe unjust.

Meaning of Vote

This, however, is not the question concerned in the council's position against this latest scheme. Nobody can coerce or induce free people to shell out for any campaign. This is just what a positive vote on Dick Docter's plan would mean. Perhaps if Dick wishes more support for his plan he should have all of his committee turn out instead of himself alone.

Any time students want to get in touch with the members of the council on this or any other question you are urged to come to the student body office and talk to your representatives there.

Pete Burgher

West Point Cadets

To Debate Here Soon

Two top-ranking cadets from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point will meet a Santa Barbara College debating team in a battle of words scheduled for 8:30 pm Monday, March 12.

Dr. Upton S. Palmer, assistant professor of speech, who is in charge of debating at Santa Barbara College, announced that the subject for the debate will be: "Resolved, that the non-Communist nations should form a new international organization."

The place for the debate, which will be free to the public, will be announced later.

Cadets who will represent the academy, where debating is given major attention, are John W. Grenicher of San Francisco, and John W. Seigle of Mt. Health, O. The debaters will come here after participating in a similar debate at UCLA, then head north for engagements at San Jose and San Francisco.

Peter Evans Kane, a freshman, and Arthur Petsch, a senior, will represent Santa Barbara College. Both are veterans of debating, in high school as well as in college.

The debate subject, Dr. Palmer said, has been selected to provide a blunt and direct appraisal of the weaknesses of the United Nations and seeks, through a consideration of a possible new organization, to point out ways it may be improved.

COLWELL BOOSTS PTA IN TUESDAY ADDRESS

Ways in which teachers may foster better relations between themselves and parents were sketched by Mrs. Max Colwell of Pasadena, director of college services for the California PTA Congress, in an address here Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Colwell, after tracing the growth of California PTA work, pointed out that the group has provided $180,000 in scholarships to help meet emergency teacher needs, operates a loan fund and has recently started giving scholarships in nursing.

Rider Memorial Dinner and Trophy to be Given by SAE

In memory of the late Dick Rider, all-time Santa Barbara College basketball great, Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity will present the Rider Memorial Trophy to the most valuable Gaucho basketball player Tuesday, March 6, at a dinner sponsored by the fraternity in honor of the entire team.

Selection of the recipient of the coveted award will be made by a committee composed of F. N. "Nuge" Thomas, C. J. Anderson, Francis Tuckwiler, Jim Campbell and Pete Costas.

Basis of Selection

He will be selected on the basis of individual ability, team play, sportsmanship, and attributes approaching those of Rider, and will receive an individual trophy, as well as having his name engraved on the perpetual, which bears the names of Quentin Sims (1947 and 1949), Harvey Hubler (1948), and Bob McCutcheon (1950).

Killed in Action

Rider was killed in action in 1944 while serving with the U. S. Infantry. He entered Santa Barbara College in 1940 from San Pedro High School, and played on the Freshman squad. In 1941 and 1942 he played on the varsity squad.

In his first year of varsity competition, he played the most of any member on the team, and won all-CCAA honors. In 1942 he was voted the most valuable player on the team and the best defensive player in the CCAA. He was a member of the Gaucho squad which traveled to Kansas City in 1941 to win the NIAB championship.

Praised by Wilton

Rider was noted for his cheerful disposition and even temperament. He was known as "the quietest man on the squad," and drew the highest praise from Coach Willie Wilton as "the ideal type of athlete."

Rider was initiated into Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity posthumously in 1949, when his local fraternity, then Gamma Sigma Pi, became a chapter of the national fraternity.

GAUCHOS PLACE THIRD IN CCAA BASKETBALL

Securing third place in the final California Collegiate Athletic Association basketball standings, the Santa Barbara Gauchos closed out their conference play with a 55-45 win over the Aztecs of San Diego State on the Aztecs own hardwoods. The loss sent San Diego to fifth slot in league standings with the Gauchos' five-won and five-loss conference record being topped only by champion Pepperdine and runner-up Cal Poly.

Santa Barbara bettered its two-point previous victory over the Aztecs by jumping on the border-city lads early and applying the heat throughout the tussle. Ten minutes into the first quarter showed the hustling Gauchos in the driver's seat, controlling both back-boards and maintaining a comfortable margin throughout the remainder of the game.

The Gauchos held a 24 to 17 half-time margin and twice in the second period stretched the lead to 15 points.

Seven of the nine Gaucho participants broke into the scoring column, but leading the pack and winning the club's scoring honors for the season was Forward Lloyd Haevin, who tanked 16 markers. Lloyd was followed by Teammate Jack Moore and San Diegan Bob Milke with eleven points each.

A publisher, known for his loquaciousness, returned home from a stag dinner party. "Did you have a good time?" his wife inquired. "Oh, so-so," he replied. "Who interrupted you?" she quipped.

Round-Robin Results Disclosed in First Week of Volleyball

The opening week of the round-robin Intramural Volleyball Tournament proved to be a week of "desolation" for some teams and one of "elation" for the others.

On the opening night a strong Delta Tau Delta "A" team easily overpowered the Lambda Chi Alpha aggregation. A powerful Sigma Tau Gamma blanked a hard-fighting Delta Sigma Phi "A" team, with the second game ending in a love score. The Sigma Pi "As" tasted defeat in their first game, going down to Beta Sigma Tau "A". The Sigma Phi Epsilon "As" forfeited to the Kappa Sigma "A" team in the remaining game.

Thursday night saw the "big game" of the week. A powerful Delta Tau Delta "A" team clashed, and defeated an equally strong Sigma Tau Gamma "A" team. The opening game was a nip and tuck battle, with old man time running out, the score being 13 to 8 in the Delt's favor. The second game was a carbon copy of the first with the Delta Tau Delta team finally edging out a 15 to 11 score to capture the game. The play of Don Steere and Jack Aldrich was outstanding for the winners. Their "spiking" and serving was something to see. For the losers, "Brick" Reed and Ray King played an inspiring game. In the other game, the Sigma Tau Gamma "Bs" won their opening game over the Delta Sigma Phi "B" team by a 9-15, 15-11, 15-9 score.

This week's schedule will feature 12 games with the club teams entering into the picture. All team members are urged to check the schedules for time, place and date of games.

Frosh Basketball's Letters Recommended As Season Closes

Having completed their season earlier than their varsity counterparts, the freshman basketball team has relinquished practice privileges in the Naval Armory after pursuing a tough schedule through a mediocre campaign.

The frosh casabamen who were recommended for letters for service with the team were Raoul Limon, George Ochi, Taki Asakura, Charles Lightfoot, Joe Kohler, Yaro Brozik, Bill Myers, Carl Schafer, Bob Dullea and Dan Escalera (manager), according to Dick Kaywood, mentor.

Recommended

Also recommended were Bob Holland, Harvey Robins, Doug Stewart, Bob Tafajian (now in the armed forces), and Bill Campbell, who will receive numerals.

The team suffered through ten defeats, being edged out in the final phases of three of them, but tripped up the remaining trio of their 13-game schedule to finish the season with much experience and an idea of next year's varsity candidates.

Leading Scorer

Special mention of the club's leading scorer, center Joe Kohler, is merited by his overall defensive and offensive ability demonstrated despite his lack of experience prior to this season. Admittedly he will be of use to Willie Wilton's varsity squad next year.

GAUCHOS TIE ALUMS 7-7 IN OPENER OF SEASON

Taking advantage of a break in the weather, the Santa Barbara Gauchos finally opened the 1951 baseball season with the annual Alumni game on the Mesa field last Saturday. The game had been postponed from last week and the Camp Cooke game scheduled for Friday was canceled, both because of wet grounds, and after but nine innings of playing to a 7-7 tie, both teams called it quits and went home decisionless.

The Alums didn't show up in full strength and required the presence of Clyde Francisco in order to field a starting nine. Things progressed badly for the visitors as Dale Scott, starting pitcher for the Alumni, was jumped on for three early tallies. Scott's wildness loaded the bases and varsity centerfielder Eddie Miller drove right fielder Alan Cox in for the first score of the season but was robbed of his hit by second baseman Wilson's back hand stab.

The Varsitymen scored singleton runs in four of the remaining innings, but had to come from behind to earn a tie with the old grads who found their batting eye against Ray Rubenstein. Ray took over the hurling assignments from starter Wynn Smallwood in the fifth frame. Big Wynn was nicked for a single score by Scott's pitching successor Hal Abbot who came in from short to perform on the mound and drive in the first Alumni run.

Led by the versatile three-year All-CCAA squad member Cy Williams, the Alumni batsmen scored triple tallies in the fifth and seventh frames and once enjoyed a 7-5 lead. The Gauchos came hustling back with a run in the seventh and another in the eighth in order to avert defeat.

Rubenstein cracked down in the final two frames to blank the Alumni, but Abbot struck out three men in the last of the ninth to squelch the Gauchos' last-ditch hopes.

Pinch-batter Herb Christians kept a spark alive by drawing a walk from Abbot in the final frame and thieved second base but died there as a called third strike sent everybody home.

Play on both sides improved with the progress of the game, and this year's tie score represents considerable improvement over last year's double-header loss to the Alumni.

MURAL MUSINGS

Faced with such problems as limited facilities, the diverse number of teams—23 in all—the necessity to complete the tournament by a favorable time so as to start the softball tournament, the Intramural Council met, and after a long debate, reached the following decisions affecting the volleyball tournament, according to Joe Phillips, senior Intramural Manager:

1. After four losses, the team will be eliminated. All games won by that particular team dropping out will be disregarded in the league standings.

2. The winner of the tournament will be decided by having the champions of each league ("A," "B," and Clubs) in a play-off. The victor will thus be the champion of the tournament. The winner of the fraternity "A" division will play the winner of the "B" division for the fraternity championship. The champion of this game will play the club champion for the school championship.

Team members are requested to check the schedules for date and location of games. A deep appreciation is extended to Malcolm Neal, newly appointed volleyball manager, and Paul Sund, publicity reporter, and all intramural managers for their fine work in keeping the tournament in full stride.

The children were in the midst of a free-for-all. "Richard, who started this?" asked the father as he came into the room.

"Well, it all started when David hit me back."

The Roustabout . . .

This past week presented all sorts of fun and joy.

The presentation of "The Barber of Seville" came to our fair community Tuesday. Early that evening, my beloved date knocked down the portal to my homey abode and informed me that we were going. I insisted that we weren't and that I had arranged for a party with the boys.

The opera was very noble. Everybody was straining to do his best. The leading lady strained a little too much on a high note and had to be led from the stage babbling something about changing her brand to one that was milder on the nose and throat.

There were many characters at the Fox Arlington that night. Professors were widely dispersed in the audience. In fact, their shining bald heads out-sparked the stars on the ceiling of the theatre.

Winter Sports

We staggered from the opera into a cold blistery night that was well suited for winter sports. Thru the blizzardous snow we saw the gleaming lights of Kerry's. That's the place where you drink lousy coffee and wait hours for it, fight with the waitresses, and can spend much time catching up on all the little goodies of gossip that prevail in our pedagogical society.

A search for Frank Goodall and Susie Smith, seen there together Monday night, proved fruitless. Was the romance a failure, short-lived?

Friday afternoon, I disguised myself as a girl and went to a party at the Delta Gamma house. Dressed in the typical D G costume of pink scarf, purple bobby-socks, green short skirt, and red cashmere sweater, I watched the new D G initiates entertain the rest of the sorority.

Spanish Motif

The party followed a Spanish motif; Betty Slater was chewing on an enchilada crammed full of onions. Betty Ross was muttering sounds that would have made any Spanish instructor cringe. I learned too late that the dress for the event was Spanish. The cashmere sweater gave me away. Bev Blivins and Jody Weston discovered

RECENT GRADUATE BECOMES STEWARDESS

Jeanne Malicord, a graduate of Santa Barbara College last year, recently won her wings at the stewardess school of United Air Lines in Cheyenne, Wyoming.

While attending the college, Jeanne was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, Alpha Mu Gamma honorary society, was a member of the Student Council, Assembly Chairman, and vice-chairman of the Rally Committee.

my secret, caught me, shaved my head, and threw me into the cold street.

Considering the onion breath and the shaven head, I accepted an invite to a poker game being held by a few of the local boys. Friday was my bad day, indigestion, no hair, aces full beaten by four deuces, an "F" in my first exam, and worst of all, my 20 proof Hadacol ran out. Malcolm Neal made the haul of the evening. I wouldn't say the game wasn't honest, but Malcolm did have on rather long sleeves.

Degenerated

The game degenerated into "acie deucie," "spit in the ocean," and "one-eyed jacks wild." As a last resort to break up the game I suggested a trip to the Spigot. An unanimous decision followed. I got trampled by Mike Trujillo in his haste to get to the door first.

Later that night the enchiladas I had eaten declared war on the liquid refreshments. I was meekly led to my little hacienda where I immediately hit the sack, and where I stayed until Sunday morning with my own private version of "Battleground" going on in my stomach.

Sunday morning I was ready to go again. With thoughts of a picnic and the two of us all alone in a big park, I asked my date if she would like to go. She did.

We decided that Oak Park would be the quietest spot so we found a place there and settled ourselves for a great day. Our hopes soon went to pot when the Sigma Pis and Chi Omegas came bounding in to the park to hold a joint.

Shot Solitude

Our solitude was really shot when some of the boys decided to break forth into song. I won't say how musical it was, but Don Fredrickson, John Aston, Rodger Boedeker really polished off some rare verses of "Santa Barbara Sandy Shore." Barbara Topham and Kay Ryan were the athletes of the day, at least when dancing started. I saw Dick Roth trying to lure the innocent Chi O pledges into the wilderness.

Owen Wayman and a couple of cohorts kept casting leering looks towards my girl so I smuggled her out of the park and headed towards the Blue Onion.

It was still early so I suggested we go down to West Beach and sit in the car and watch the ocean, it being so nice to watch from the car. My girl was one way about the whole idea and said she had to go home and study. Neither the hammer lock or the Japanese sleeper would change her mind, so I took her home.

Frustrated and thoroughly bitter I crawled back to my hole. Another week ahead. Bah!

ALLEN WINS REP-AT-LARGE POST IN SPECIAL ELECTION CONTEST

Marie Allen has been elected to the office of Women's Representative-at-Large, it was announced yesterday by Elaine Strobel, elections committee chairman.

Duties of the Women's Rep-at-Large will be to attend Student Council meetings, represent the students, particularly women, at these meetings, be available for assignments to special committees, and take student opinions on controversial matters brought before the council.

Marie, a junior elementary education major, hails from Hollister. Other candidates for this office were Joyce Kaufmann and Pat O'Keefe.

Don Sherwin was elected to the office of Freshman class vice-president in the special election. Other candidate for the office was Diane West.

The special election was necessary due to the disqualification of one of the three women's rep-at-large. The constitution states that a new representative must be elected within three weeks after the office has been vacated.

ROMAN PARTY MON.

"Party-time will be coming to this campus next Monday, March 12," Corky Strandburg, president of the Romans, announced today.

The Romans (non-Greeks) are planning a big get-acquainted dance for that time, probably to be held in the Women's Gym. Good dance music is promised.

KOP Meeting, EbH 204, 7:30
Roadrunner Revue Rehearsal, Riviera Aud., 7:00
Phrateres and APO May Dance Committee Meeting, Pine Hall 101, 6:30-9:00
- March 7
Roadrunner Revue Rehearsal, Riviera Aud., 7:00
Phrateres Meeting, AWS Room, 7:30-9:30

The affair is free and open to all Gauchos. Clothing should be the regular school wear.

History Club Meeting Features Discussion

"European Imperialism versus the Native Independence Movement in Southwest Asia" will be the subject of discussion at a meeting of the History Club, Wednesday evening, March 7, at 7:30 in the AWS room.

Feature of the discussion will be a five-member discussion team consisting of Anna Heness, Phil Staniford, Frank Gifford, Dean Moor, and Jerry de Runtz. Each team member will present a different phase.

In the role of moderator, Dr. Henry Adams will recap the different phases as well as perform his other duties.

This is the first of a series of historical subjects to be given members of the club. Other lectures will be given on Russia, the Middle East, China, Japan, Central Europe (Early and Modern Periods), in addition to a number of special events which will be announced later.

Newly elected officers are Alan Collins, president; Don Maerton, vice-president; open, secretary-treasurer; Phil Staniford, program committee chairman; and Bob Hemmig, publicity.

The reason so many of us can go broke is that it requires so little financial backing.

Girl Need Stressed As Service Dance Increase is Shown

Servicemen programs are progressing rapidly and the various projects are gaining in popularity. Besides the regular weekly affairs—Camp Cooke dance on Friday night, A.W.K.V.S. Center from 6-9 on Saturday and 5-8 on Sunday, Red Shield Information Center on Saturday, and Recreation Center from 2-5 on Sunday—there are two special dances within the next two weeks.

The Assistance League of Santa Barbara is again sponsoring a dance at the Cabrillo Auditorium on Saturday, March 10, from 8-10. Fifty girls are needed.

The other affair is another dance to be held at Port Hueneme. This will be held on March 16, and busses will leave the campus at 6 pm on that night.

buyer beware!

Beware the Hart Schaffner & Marx suit at Silverwoods. It is priced deceptively low, the man at The News-Press often calls up to make sure it's not a typographical error.

If you try it on, you will buy it—and when you wear it you'll walk with such buoyant vim your employer will raise you into a higher bracket. That's awful.

Your neighbors will speak in whispers about your sudden show of prosperity, and the grand jury may send a man around to look at your checkbook. Beautiful women will want you to autograph things for them, and the advertising people will urge their bartender to get your photograph. You'll have little time for the simpler things of life.

You may get pretty tired of all this fame, so if you're not up to wearing a Hart Schaffner & Marx suit from Silverwoods, we just don't know what to recommend.
