Presidential candidates discuss campus and I.V.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is an informal interview with Tom Tosdal and Castulo De La Rocha, candidates for A.S. President. Each was asked to give his views in two areas: student power in the university, and community self-governance and the problems of Isla Vista. Both candidates were present at the same time and the comments presented here were taken from a tape made of the interview.)

DE LA ROCHA: "One thing I would like to do immediately is to establish a congress of student organizations, made up of the radical, the moderate, the conservative and the apolitical organizations. This particular congress would act on issues that are current to our entire student community, as separate from the Academic Senate, since we have no access to it at the present time.

"What we have to do is concentrate our forces to move as a unit. We must support the Irvine Plan, which called for at least 1/3 student representation in the Academic Senate.

"This can be done in a number of ways. One is that a proposal be generated in the Academic Senate to incorporate such an idea. When such a proposal is put into the Senate we can maintain constant student pressure through organization."

TOSDAL: "I think there's something like that that's all ready been formed but just hasn't been implemented in the past few years, and that's the Administrative Boards Council. Every group on campus plugs into that. I don't see any need to have two groups which I know are going to come into conflict with each other.

"It's my opinion that you don't need to add bureaucracy to bureaucracy. If you want an A.S. government that's elected, you don't want an amalgam of interest groups, you want representatives of the student body at large.

"If you have students that represent the total student body feeding into a council within the Associated Students, then you can bring everyone into one body."

DE LA ROCHA: "What is crucial as far as a student senate is concerned is that we can't divide our organizations. You know for a fact that the Associated Students does not deliver organizations. (Continued on p. 15, col. 4)

HUNDREDS OF PERSONS paid tribute Wednesday to Kevin Patrick Moran and the peace he was striving for.

Council debates on park, EG

Perfect Park will not be renamed Kevin Patrick Moran Park, at least as of now. The EL GAUCHO editor will not be elected in a general student election.

These were the major decisions made at this week's Leg Council meeting, which included the appointment of Mari Brown, UCSB junior, to temporarily fill the rep-at-large seat vacated by Steve Kottmeier who was appointed last week to act as temporary administrative vice president. A non-affiliated-rep seat remains unfilled.

In contemplating the fate of Perfect Park, recreation director Joel Witherell asked that it be renamed "...as a memorial to Moran and his ideal of a peaceful community."

A.S. President Bill James told of his visit to the late Moran's parents and relayed their feeling of hope that their son's death would not be used by anyone.

Council members, citing the fact that the park is temporary, and realizing the political implications in their decision put off the issue until it can be reintroduced at a less emotional stage.

Considerable debate surrounded Phil Kohn's proposal to make EL GAUCHO editor an elected position, such as the positions of Leg Council members.

Those favoring the election explained they felt that all students should decide on the office, since it is of political importance. Their position was that anyone should be allowed to run regardless of journalistic experience.

When opponents of the proposal emphasized the necessity for the editor to have technical, journalistic expertise as well as a close relationship with the staff, others said that they felt that the new editor could "learn the ropes," as he/she went along.

This was termed ridiculous by several persons, citing their knowledge of the time it takes to "learn the ropes."

The motion was defeated, leaving the election of EL GAUCHO editor still in the hands of members of the Communications Board.

In other business, a scholarship fund in honor of Kevin Moran was agreed upon in principle, polling locations for A.S. elections were announced (see Monday's EG Special Supplement on elections), and Finance Board Chairman John McPeak reported that there now is a $13,000 increase in the available Council budget, caused by an unexpected enrollment increase this year.

Child care center may open next fall

By DENISE WOODSTOCK

A child care center for students, staff and faculty members at UCSB has been in the formulating stage since last fall, and according to Leslie Meyers, associate dean of students and dean of student activities, it is possible that the center will be realized by next fall.

Studies on need and interest for a child care center in the community have already been conducted in married student housing, on staff (through the personnel office) and on selected married couples.

Miss Meyers stated that these studies show "there is probably a need" for a center, and added, "I think it's important to get a start."

Child care centers provide a place where working mothers can share the care of their children, and talk with people trained in child development to learn about the growing needs of their youngsters.

During World War II, seven million women, many who had preschool children, entered the labor force. They were brought into defense industries to become welders, riveters and electricians.

At this time, a large number of federally subsidized child care centers were established as part of the on-going war effort.

After the war, social and economic conditions made it desirable for women to continue working outside the home, but the federal government prevented this for many women by discontinuing funds for the child care centers.

There was no longer an incentive for the government and industry to continue the program when, during the post-war period, the labor market loosened up and mothers were expected to be homemakers again.

Without federal aid, most communities found the cost of child care centers too great to bear, and many disappeared.

Today, there are far more working mothers, and child care centers are needed more now than ever before.

At one time, some people feared maternal deprivation for younger children at centers, but more recent research and experience have shown that the presence of mothering in quality day care center is more important than the presence of the actual mother.

One of the problems which women at UCSB will have to face in planning a child care center will be finding funds.

According to Miss Meyers, funds will be sought from the Associated Students, the University, and federal agencies, but the people using the center will also be expected to share the cost.

There will be a community meeting in Isla Vista within the next two weeks for persons interested in a child care center. It will be announced in EL GAUCHO at that time.

Tickets for the performances are available at the Campus Box Office, the Lobero Theatre and the Discount Record Center.

The school, organized and directed by Peter Coxhead, has a staff drawn from professional and university theatres. In addition to its acting programs, it also runs special courses in technical theatre, theatre design and playwriting. Included in the actors' training are the history of theatre, television and film techniques and related subjects. Coxhead, who has directed some 570 plays, musicals and variety shows, has operated his own theatre in London and formerly directed the Lake Lucerne Playhouse in New York.

By DESMOND O'NEILL
 Chief Trembley and Sheriff Webster are to be commended for admitting the possibility that one of their men accidentally may have been responsible for the death of Kevin Moran. Nevertheless it should be pointed out that some of the remarks attributed to both officials are unclear and misleading, and if a white-wash is to be avoided all the details of the tragedy should be made public, an aim which I am sure both Sheriff Webster and Chief Trembley would endorse.

Sheriff Webster stated that Moran "was mortally wounded by a ricochet 30-06 caliber bullet...The recovered projectile was so deformed from the ricochet that positive identification is extremely doubtful." This statement is presumably intended to indicate (a) that the bullet was a ricochet and therefore the shooting was accidental and (b) that no conclusive evidence will ever be available to prove that it was the unfortunate police officer's weapon which did fire the bullet.

The picture published in yesterday's News-Press, showing the bullet itself in comparison with a normal slug, does not necessarily indicate a ricochet. The condition of the bullet is not inconsistent with deformation upon entry into a human body, particularly if the bullet were soft-point rather than a hard-metal point similar to military issue. A soft-point will, as any hunter or soldier knows, tend to blow up upon impact, causing a large-diameter wound. The bullet shown in the photograph seems to be deformed frontally, i.e. blown up rather than deformed laterally, which would indicate a ricochet.

In any case the behaviour of the bullets in flesh, indeed upon any impact, is unpredictable in the extreme, as anyone who has either seen battle wounds or studied the literature on the subject, knows, and even a lateral deformation would not be inconsistent with direct entry and impact on bone. Not even a powerful military rifle bullet would necessarily penetrate bone without deformation, particularly if the ammunition used were indeed soft-point.

Of rifles, slugs and Sheriffs

With respect to (b) above, the question of ballistic identification, the FBI in its investigation of the Kennedy assassination was able to satisfy both itself and the Warren Commission that one badly deformed bullet and fragments of another were fired from Oswald's 6.5 mm. Mannlicher-Carcano. The base marks at all would permit positive identification.

Chief Trembley is reported to have pointed out that, due to the officer involved wearing helmet, gas-mask, gloves and armoured vest, and the ongoing noise and confusion, it was impossible immediately to determine whether the officer's gun had discharged. This evidence is presumably intended to support the accident theory. In regard to his, it should be pointed out that the recoil of a bolt action 30-06, which I gather was the type of weapon involved, is considerable; the last time that I checked recoil tables the figure given for the recoil of such a weapon was between 25 and 30 ft. lbs. (the figure which sticks in my mind is 26 ft. lbs.)

This is heavy recoil; imagine the force exerted by a 25 lb. weight moving at one foot per second, and ask yourself whether, even encumbered with all the paraphernalia listed above, it would be possible to be unaware that one's weapon had discharged. Ask anyone who has ever fired a military-caliber rifle, or even a big shotgun — Tough, impact alone would be enough to indicate a discharge.

A part of Sheriff Webster's statement indicated that the weapon discharged accidentally as the police officer was disembarking from the dump truck in which he had been riding. This may indeed indicate an accident, but it certainly supports a criminal charge of manslaughter at the least. In order for such an accidental discharge to have occurred the officer would have had to be carrying the weapon with his finger on the trigger and the safety off, and

Political fodder

Open Letter to Steven Stumpf:
 You are, unfortunately, correct in your observation that the politicians are succeeding in making political fodder of the Kevin Moran killing.

Reagan, upon learning that a policeman may have made the fatal shot, was forced to shift from a theme that Kevin Moran was a member of the silent majority who was brutally cut down while making a stand against radical militants to one in which, "It isn't very important where the bullet came from..." it came "when a certain element in our society decided they could take the law into their own hands." (LA Times, April 22.)

However, one should not overlook similar practices by the EL GAUCHO editorials of April 20 and 21.

When a sniper was believed to have shot Kevin Moran, the Monday EG editorial stated, "it doesn't seem to matter who killed Kevin Moran," (nearly the exact words used by Reagan after the autopsy).

The editorial used this statement as a stepping-stone to a condemnation of the act and the shifting of the blame to the "system" rather than to the suspected sniper. Yet, with evidence indicating an accidental shooting by a policeman, the tone changed. The Tuesday EG editorial no longer referred to Kevin Moran with such phrases as "he was defending something—a set of principles, an ideology perhaps—"

With the new evidence in, the lofty phrases were discarded in favor of a more sensational one. He became, in the words of the editorial, a man who "was gunned down on the steps of the Bank of America"; stripped of his dignity and exploited for the cause.

It seems that the opposing sides exchange viewpoints and phrases as the need arises; each side being deaf to the stand which was formerly his own. The motives are obvious. The impact is repulsive. We plead for an end to single-mindedness and the polarization of irrational minds.

Or threats

To the Editor:

After reading another anonymous threat to EG, it would appear that one theme is quite evident in all of these irrational boasts. Apparently, certain individuals have no way to cope with truths about society other than to completely block them out. Could it be, then, that what we have been saying all the time is true: the only way the system can answer is with a repressive form of fascism?

Mayday festival of planting

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS the people of Isla Vista are caught in a cycle of violence, fear and doom, and

WHEREAS true social change can only derive from the effect of positive example, and

WHEREAS the corruption of society will disappear only when the corruption in each of us disappears, and

WHEREAS joy and hope are welcomed by all as the real reasons for why we all exist.

THEREFORE BE IT HEREBY PROCLAIMED that Saturday May 2, 1970, is a day of planting of our crops in conjunction with a great festival and feast. We shall prepare the earth around us for planting during this coming week by the sweat of our brows and the power of our own hands, so that on Mayday we can plant our food for the coming year. We shall invite the entire shire and the surrounding lands to the North and South to come to our town on Mayday bearing gifts of love and peace.

We shall dress ourselves in all the finery that our tribes can afford. We shall distribute flowers and food and the finest gifts to all around us.

Non-violence or?

To the Editor:

The Monday E.G. editorial asks us to come together to find out what alternatives there are if any to violence. Why didn't it ask what alternatives there are if any to non-violence?

The death of Kevin Moran has, I think, drawn the line very clearly. There are two alternatives, and each of us must decide which is correct: 1) The death of Kevin Moran is justified, as one of the risks that must be taken, by the fact that terrorism alone will force America to come around to a sane position on Vietnam and oppression in general, or 2) His death is not justified at all; because the only effect of terrorism will be to push America into some version of Fascism—a long, dark night, for us and for the world.

So think about it carefully. Study your history and sociology and political science, if they're any help, and make up your mind. When you have done that it will be a great deal easier to determine what to do next.

Don't vote to abolish A.S. gov.

To the Editor:

Next week students at this University will be asked to bring a potential catastrophe upon themselves, probably without even being aware of it. They will be asked to approve a constitutional change making the Associated Students a voluntary organization. According to the plan, it will be up to each student to decide whether he or she wishes to pay the $11 per quarter A.S. membership fee.

If the amendment passes, there will be cheering in Sacramento, because it will not only mean that the students here will have drastically weakened the political control they have over their own affairs, but it will also set a precedent for all the other California campuses. UCSB has already become a focal point of political interest, and for such a change to occur here would make it an outstanding symbolic victory for the repressive forces in this society.

Those students who are sponsoring this amendment suffer either from naivete or duplicity, or a combination of both. Many mistakenly believe that they are enhancing the chances for democracy by calling for a voluntary government. The opposite effect is more likely, in that the existence of the only representative political organ most students have here will depend totally upon the caprice of thousands of students. The whole structure could quickly disintegrate, and the power which students already have will dissipate.

My own experience of student politics in South Africa convinces me that this change will only benefit those interested in suppression. The National Union of South African Students (27,000 student members) has consistently opposed the segregationist "apartheid" policy of the South African government.

The present prime minister, Balthazar Vorster, tried his utmost to destroy NUSAS in the 1960's by encouraging constitutional changes in the universities which would have made NUSAS a voluntary organization. He did this, he claimed, "in the interest of democratic representation," but what he really wanted was to destroy a politically irritating organization.

The Graduate Students Associated here at UCSB is another example. It suffers from the peculiar malady of being a constitutional government without any money. Last Fall, the graduates voted for a representative government, but since then they have refused to approve membership fees for the GSA. This means that the GSA finds itself with many political obligations and very few resources to meet these obligations. You can only be truly effective politically if you have sufficient financial support from your constituency.

The GSA Executive Committee would urge students to vote against this amendment. It will probably be one of the most important political decisions you will make as a student here.

CLIVE LEEMAN
GSA President

Incorporate

To the Editor:

May I suggest that the students consider getting together, retaining competent counsel and incorporating I.V. as a city?

I believe that I.V. has sufficient population to form a city either with its own charter or what is called a general law city.

As a city, I.V. would have a particular form and character of its own and would have a certain freedom to create its own law and law enforcement!

My own suggestion for it to become a great city would be simply to do away with the so-called planning and zoning rules and regulations and to permit what might be called a son of free enterprise to arise from the ashes. I believe that what the community wants is obtainable through its freedom (as a city) and through the freedom it can make available to all its citizens.

SUNDAY EVENING 7:00 P.M.
CAMPBELL HALL ADMISSION FREE

TOM TOSDAL for A.S. PRESIDENT

Throughout this week and since anyone on this campus can remember, the time donated to Associated Students elections campaigning has been more than amply filled with fanciful rhetoric of would-be politicians. If this were occurring in an inactive campus environment it might be justifiable. While some college and university campuses might still maintain such an air of apathetic inactivity, it has become quite clear that UCSB is no longer such an inactive and uninteresting place. Reflecting upon past events - North Hall to Bill Allen to Slough to Academic Senate to Isla Vista - I have found myself repulsed at seeing this entire week spent in mealy mouthed campaigning for a few extra votes. I therefore cannot allow my contribution to this campaign to remain on the level of traditional student government campaign vocabulary.

We're in trouble. 3/4 of the UCSB students live in Isla Vista, and 3/4 of the population of Isla Vista is students. Students are supposedly rational and energetic people, yet we have made relatively little progress toward making Isla Vista into an area worthy of being called a part of an Academic Community. Nobody is going to do it for us - The University, The County, the State; their traditional approach is to deal with the symptoms of the problems rather than the problems themselves. It is time to get the Associated Students off the third floor of the UCEN and into working towards the direct solution of the issues. Our window of time is growing smaller - if the Associated Students cannot act in a responsible and rational manner toward solving these questions, not only in I.V. but in the surrounding communities and on campus, then it has no justification for existence.

The events of the past week have left me with mixed emotions. I feel a little empty; campaigning amidst shootings, a death, and repression seems phony and crass. But these events have also made me angry and have strengthened my commitment to do something significant about solving the problems in our personal lives, university, community, and society. Much of A.S. government has been a game, and it might always be so, but the time for games is past.

Over the past year, A.S. Leg. Council abdicated its responsibility to the students; some of the present executive officers have led in this abdication and misrepresentation. It is incumbent upon every member of the Student body to compare the candidates' platforms, as well as past Leg. Council proposals and voting records, before he votes. This election is crucial; people are disgusted with the present A.S. leadership. If effective and responsible student leaders are not elected, the A.S. will lose its potential of advancing the solutions to the problems that plague us in our University and society. Please vote on April 27th and 28th.

Are You Against FREEDOM OF CHOICE?

"Our" A.S. Government Is!

That's why they're afraid we'll vote for the amendment to make A.S. membership voluntary (Look out, kid, they keep it all hid). They want to continue to extort $33.00 from each of us every year ($132.00 in four years!) to bankroll their special interest political power trips. 25 YEARS of forced membership is enough! Let's liberate ourselves. Let's make "student" government responsible to ALL the students. Let's turn out Monday and Tuesday and vote. For a CHANGE.

By ROBERT MC LEAN
Two subjects dominated the regular meeting of the Graduate Student Association Tuesday night. First on the agenda was a proposal for a Union of Teaching Assistants which would be affiliated to the AF of L - CIO, but the most emotional issue was the adoption of a motion censuring Chancellor Vernon Cheadle for his actions during the recent Isla Vista disturbances.

The motion critical of the Chancellor was introduced late in the meeting by GSA President Clive Leeman, who prefaced his reading by stating that he felt the new resolution was important as a "symbolic gesture" in the wake of what he considered serious breaches in trust committed by the Chancellor during the I.V. disturbances.

After moderate dissension to the original motion a resolution with slightly altered wording was introduced, reading "The GSA deplors the recent violence in Isla Vista. We also deplore Chancellor Cheadle's failure to protect the rights of Isla Vista residents."

The Chancellor was specifically criticised in four areas: 1) Failure to allow Rubin to speak on campus, 2) His failure to criticise "police repression" of I.V. residents, 3) His failure to censure the S.B. Sheriff's Department for "its deliberately misleading statements," (four specific examples were cited), and 4) His failure to "prevent the Santa Barbara Sheriff's suppression of KCSB News."

The statement was further critical of what was termed "the Chancellor's capitulation to repressive forces in our community..."

The revised resolution was adopted unanimously. A second motion, specifically deploring the violence on both sides was narrowly defeated.

The meeting was at peak strength of about 40 plus earlier in the evening when the proposal for a T.A. union was presented by Bill Healy of Anthropology.

It was pointed out that this union would be separate from the American Federation of Teachers Union for Professors. This was felt to be necessary because, as one member expressed it, professors and T.A.'s often have different goals.

The T.A. Union would be similar to one now operating in Berkeley and would mainly be used for collective bargaining. Since it is not likely that the Administration of UC would recognize the Union as the sole representative of the T.A.'s, the Union would operate under "Memorandums of Agreement" which according to Healey are "non-binding but always observed."

Goals of the Union would be 1) Tuition waivers for all teaching Grad. Students, 2) Improvement of teaching conditions, 3) Some degree of T.A. autonomy, with established grievance procedures, and recourse on firings for non-academic criteria and 4) Job security, possibly in the form of more than one year agreements.

Tom Long, AFT organizer, emphasized that the Union is "designed to win fights," in commenting on the value of affiliation to the national union. Examples were given of the AFT's involvement in the Wisconsin T.A.'s strike, and the present teacher strike in Los Angeles, where the national union is supplying $1,000 each (interest free) for the striking teachers.

Lang further emphasized that opposition from the Administration could be expected because "Anything that the Union has it takes from the Administration," (referring to power).

By the end of the meeting approximately twenty people had turned in cards with their names, expressing support for formation of a union. Anyone desiring further information should contact Bill Healey at 968-6250.

Gerald Dugan talks about 'The Mandrake'

Gerald Dugan doesn't look like a theatre director. He doesn't fit the image of the tyrant behind the curtain that audiences like to imagine. The only clue to his occupation is his enthusiasm in discussing his current project, "The Mandrake," by Niccolo Machiavelli which opens the Spring Quarter in UCSB's Studio Theatre May 5-9 and also plays May 12-16.

Taking a break from his busy schedule (he's presently pursuing his Ph.D. in dramatic art at UCSB's department of dramatic art) Dugan gladly discussed Machiavelli's sixteenth century comedy classic.

"It's a sunny little farce with dark edges," he said in his soft spoken eastern accent. "On one level, it's a romantic comedy, and on another a pointed satire of the church, marriage and the family, all tied up in Machiavelli's coldly ironical style."

Written in 1518, and supposedly based on an actual occurrence, a Florentine youth named Callimaco desires Lucrezia, the wife of the new Messer Nicia, a pompous old lawyer. Lucrezia is virtuous and well guarded, but on the suggestion of Ligurio, Callimaco devises a plan of seduction. He poses as a doctor, and convinces Nicia, who longs for children, that the mandrake potion given to his wife will cure her of barrenness.

There is one problem, however, according to Italian legend, the first man to sleep with a woman who has taken such a potion dies. Callimaco gladly makes the sacrifice of drawing off the poison after Lucrezia's mother and Friar Timoteo convince her of the necessity and correctness of her act, after which time the Friar takes them all to church.

The staging of the production at UCSB will be in a Commedia del Arte troupe style, including a pre-show performed by the members of the troupe outside of the theatre. Once inside the theatre, the actors will perform the comedy as it might have been done for the courts in the early sixteenth century. Dugan described this forerunner of modern comedy.

"I imagine commedia at its best to be Bert Lahr, Chaplin, Keaton, Laurel and Hardy, all funny yet controlled. While it is a delightful, bawdy play, the art part of 'dell arte' cannot be forgotten. In this play there is a juxtaposition of the popular element and the sophisticated. In the commedia style, the form originated as a private theatrical event for the court, there were lots of old Roman comedy elements that formed the basis for scenarios. Machiavelli's comedy has an elegant attitude combined with the popular."

Adding to the elegance of the production, will be the Renaissance costuming and court yard setting, and musicians and singers will be on the stage throughout the performance.

Tickets for the production are available at the Arts and Lectures Ticket Office, the Lobero Theatre, and the Discount Record Center, La Cumbre Plaza. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

'Wait Until Dark' opens this week

Three UCSB students will be playing top roles in the Park Theatre production of the Broadway hit thriller, "Wait Until Dark," April 23-25 and 30, and May 1-2, at 8 p.m.

Lura J. Dolas, a freshman in the drama department, is cast in the lead role of the blind Susy Hendrix, a pretty young housewife who must pit her courage and ingenuity against the treachery of a trio of vicious criminals who invade her Greenwich Village apartment.

Al Strunk, another drama student, and Tim Hayes, are cast as two of the conmen seeking a fortune in the drugs they believe the blind girl has in her possession. Tim Erickson portrays Sam Hendrix, her husband.

A recent M.A. graduate from the University, Bernardo C. Bernardo, directs the suspense melodrama. The thriller, written by Frederick Knott ("Dial M for Murder"), has featured Lee Remick and Audrey Hepburn in its Broadway and movie versions. In the Park Theatre production, the climactic duel in the dark is recreated in what promises to be the most suspense-packed moment of the performance.

'Old Films' series winds up tonight

Tonight at 8 UCSB students will be able to enjoy the great humor of the 1920's comic artists. The final sequence of "The Old Films Nite" series will be shown at the sponsorship of the UCEN Activities Committee in the UCEN Program Lounge.

There will be no admission charge. Tonight's program ends this popular series with the energetic antics and eclectic wit of such great film comedians as Buster Keaton, Laurel and Hardy and the master of comic style, W.C. Fields.

The Bank of America and its connections with the University and Agribusiness in California are examined in "Bank of Amerika: A Second Check," a study of the B of A compiled by Associated Students Intelligence Agency along with a little help from their friends.

This fifty-four page report goes into detail while uncovering the many facets of "the largest non-governmental bank in the world."

The report comes up with some surprising statistics about the bank's business transactions with the public, such as the fact that their BankAmericard is established in 49 states and 48 foreign countries.

Its interest rate is 18% per annum on extended balances with 78% of their card holders using the extended peddler, stated: "The only legitimate business in the world today is to fill the needs of the people."

The B of A's involvement with the California Water

B of A paper asks questions balance.

It also shows a direct relationship between the bank and the University in connection with Agribusiness and the exploitation of farm workers to a bank whose founder, A.P. Giannini, a former fruit and vegetable Project seems contradictory. The bank's connections with Vietnam, foreign countries, and the Federal Government also seem to violate that principle.

The Associated Students Intelligence Agency (A.S.I.A.) has uncovered many new points, including one reason for the presence of the bank in Isla Vista that has never been exposed by local officials.

The report also asks some thought provoking questions about capitalism: "capitalism had made America rich, has made America powerful-but for what? For wars in Asia, where 40,000 Americans die? "For slums that like cancer are devouring our cities? For air we cannot breathe and water we cannot drink?"

In comparing the Bank with the old morality of the Church the study concludes that in many cases the "Bank of America is guilty of the sin of omission, rather than commission."

GE fails in attempt to blacklist student papers

NEW YORK --(CPS)--Radical politics in the student press have prompted General Electric, the nation's number two war contractor and potentially a big recruiting advertiser in the campus press, to attempt to blacklist student newspapers whose editorial line has "gone off the far end," in GE's view.

The U. S. Student Press Association (USSPA) has temporarily thwarted the move, however, by persuading the National Educational Advertising Service (NEAS) to withdraw its cooperation.

National college advertising is handled exclusively by NEAS, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Reader's Digest. NEAS has been seeking an advertising contract with GE for the last six months, and when GE two weeks ago requested "an analysis of current college newspapers, including the extent to which they have become propaganda organs for radical student organizations," NEAS was quick to agree to such a study.

Fifteen editors of student newspapers from around the country telegraphed Congressman John Moss (D-Calif) April 19 asking his Freedom of Information Committee to investigate GE's threat to the editorial freedom of the student press.

NEAS, in a letter to its advisory committee the day after the GE request, outlined its cooperation with GE. NEAS General Manager Bert MacMannis said he would construct the GE analysis from copies of college newspapers on file in the checking department of his New York Office.

However, word of the analysis leaked out last week when USSPA in Washington obtained copies of GE's letter to NEAS and the NEAS memo to its advisory committee. USSPA called GE to confirm the story, and GE's Educational Communications Manager E. J. Clark readily admitted requesting an analysis by NEAS, citing GE's concern of "credibility" among readers of student newspapers.

MacMannis was surprised to learn that word of the analysis had leaked out, and he quickly agreed to USSPA's suggestion that NEAS abandon the analysis.

The student press association maintains that MacMannis's agreement to conduct in secret the survey of editorial content of the student press amounted to "bad faith" with the 900 newspapers he was contracted to represent.

MacMannis said that GE was not the first big corporation to express concern about the political content of the student press. He cited earlier objections by General Motors and IBM, and this news service reported earlier this year that Texaco pulled insertion orders from one University of California newspaper over political content.

GE had not been advertising in the college market this year due to what Clark termed "lowered personnel needs" and the recent six-month strike against GE. GE's recruiting advertising for the last year has thus been limited to less than 100 engineering school journals and magazines.

No one has to teach today's concerned college students that ecological considerations must be given top priority in community planning, or that proper community development is sorely needed.

But they do have to be taught the cost, according to Dr. James J. Sullivan, UCSB assistant professor of economics.

"There's a high price tag on achieving the ideal," he says, "and we all must learn it. For it is economically inefficient to allocate an extra dollar of resources to reduce pollution if the social benefit is less than one dollar."

He admits, though, that the price is a difficult one to compute because some items on the ledger sheet are intangibles, such as people's attitudes, or the value of green parks.

To facilitate this learning process, Dr. Sullivan is developing for his students (and anyone else) a simulation game to measure one's economic judgement in dealing with problems of community development and planning. Simultaneously, the participants learn the elements that must be considered to reach a reasoned decision and the steps in the decision process itself.

He will present a paper on his work next month to the National Gaming Council which meets in Washington, D.C.

"The game is a man-machine simulation," the young economist explains. "Various roles are assigned to the students: homeowners, developers and citizens advisory committee members."

The controlled factors, he says, are the presentations made by the city planner and the planning consultant, and the goals of the community. The given factors are an adaption of an actual plan and supporting documents, such as an attitude survey.

The students' decisions are fed directly into the computer from an on-line computer terminal in the classroom. The computer program of the model calculates and prints out the computed costs and benefits. Given the costs and benefits, "the economic efficiency and equity of the decisions can be assessed immediately."

As Dr. Sullivan explains his simulation game, it soon becomes evident that not only economics but elements from sociology, political science and psychology play an important role. Economic efficiency must be balanced with equity, and attitude surveys must be correctly interpreted before community goals can be established.

Students emerging from a bout with Dr. Sullivan's

UCSB economist asks: 'What price idealism?'

'Professional atmosphere' goal of new health center

By ELLEN HILLSON
Copyreader

"It's super-slow."

"Appointments are hard to get."

"I waited a long time, but otherwise it's OK."

"Extremely inefficient, but they try to help."

These complaints and comments are the most common ones given by students who visit the Health Center. However, the Health Center has its own complaints about students and about the crowded facilities the Center presently uses.

By early summer, the Student Health Service will have moved to its new location near Robertson Gym. According to Dr. Robbins, director, the purpose of the service will be the same—"to maintain the health and welfare of students here" on campus so they will be able to attend classes. But, the new building will be larger and will be able to handle patients more efficiently.

The new Health Center will have a "more professional atmosphere," Robbins added. It will be more attractive and better equipped. The building was designed so that it can expand to accommodate UCSB's projected 25,000 enrollment. By the time students number 15,000, computers will be implemented.

To eliminate the present chaos, the new building will take appointments by phone and there will be several large waiting rooms. The pharmacy and cold clinic will be housed separately from the latter. X-ray, physical therapy, psychiatry and clinical services will each have their own offices. About a year after its opening, a dental clinic will be added to the Center. Dental services will be self-supporting.

Health Center Administrator, Mr. Thacker, commented on students' complaints. The "people who demand to be seen are the ones who usually could wait. You can go downtown to a hospital and, as an emergency case, still wait several hours."

The Health Center is currently staffed by 8 full-time and 16 part-time doctors. Specialists such as orthopedics, internists, psychiatrists and gynecologists are part-time personnel who also maintain private practices in Santa Barbara. Although the Health Center budget is small (it's based on incidental fees), it can afford to offer well-qualified physicians and specialists at a minimal cost to the students.

If the new Health Center follows its intended plans, the service should be more efficient as well as a more pleasant place to work or visit.

Volleyballers travel to Los Angeles for championships

SHOWING ALL the elan, spirit and hustle of the maenad, the UCSB women's volleyball team travels to Long Beach this weekend to compete in the women's nationals. The Gauchos will face top notch competition from Long Beach, UCLA and Sul Ross in the three day tournament. Photo by Ralph Smith

By LOREN SHUMER
Staff Writer

The phone rang and, at the eleventh hour, the condemned man was reprieved.

Gauchos coach Ted Fish and his volleyballers know how it feels, as a panel of five coaches voted Santa Barbara into the NCAA championships which begin this morning at Pauley Pavilion.

UCLA is the heavy favorite despite their second place finish in the Western Regionals, as several of their starters did not play in the Bruin loss against Long Beach. The 49ers are also present, along with unknown quantity Ball State, winners of the Midwest Regionals.

The Gauchos go into today's round robin action against UCLA at 11 a.m., followed by Long Beach at 1 and Ball State at 7 p.m. The top finisher in the round robin faces the fourth place finisher at 11 a.m. tomorrow and the second and third place finishers meet at 12:30 p.m. in the semifinals.

Then Saturday night, the losers of the semifinal round battle for third at 7 and the championship game will follow directly after.

Saturday afternoon, Channel 5 will show one of the games (as yet undetermined) at 1:30 in one of the few times that volleyball has been televised.

"Mentally, we weren't prepared" is Fish's comment concerning the Gauchos disappointing showing last weekend but he feels the reprieve will help the Gauchos get psyched up for what will certainly be a difficult, challenging tournament.

GAUCHO PITCHING ACE Jeff Chancer will be on the mound today for Coach Dave Gorrie's UCSB baseballers when they meet PCAA foe San Diego State on the Aztec diamond at 2:30 p.m.

It very well may be a case of sink or swim for the UCSB baseball team this weekend in its quest for a PCAA title. The Gauchos, now 2-4 in league play, must sweep all three games from the hosting San Diego Aztecs.

Cal State L.A. suffered their first PCAA loss of the campaign, but the Diablos are still on top of the baseball standings with a 5-1 record. The Gauchos and San Diego are both trailing the pack and will fight it out with each other to see which team will escape the cellar.

GAUCHOS NOW 12-18

The locals, now 12-18 on the season, will send Jeff Chancer, Walt Rehm and Mark French to the hill this weekend in an attempt to pull the Gauchos up the PCAA ladder.

Although the Gauchos have not fared so well as a team in league play, they have been blessed with many outstanding individual performances. Four Gauchos are among the top 10 in the league batting race. Rick Dixon leads the group with a .375 average which is good enough for the fifth spot. Dave Walski, Cleo Jones and Mike Powers are all sporting .333 averages to round out the top ten.

Dixon and Bob Bussie also lead the league in two other categories. Both have six RBI's, and Dixon and Walski share the lead in triples with two each. Bussie shares the lead with 10 other PCAA members in the home run race with one each.

Chancer and Rehm are rated fifth and sixth in pitching statistics for the Gauchos. Both possess identical records of 1-1, but Chancer's ERA is 1.86 while Rehm has allowed 1.88 earned runs a game.

WESTMONT TRIPS GAUCHOS

With only four weeks left in the season, the Gaucho hopes of evening up their record for the season is rapidly waning away. Their latest loss came Tuesday at the hands of cross-town rivals, Westmont, by a 4-1 score. The locals could only muster three hits off of the offerings of Warrior ace Bruce Alkire. The season series now stands 2-1 in favor of Westmont with one more game left between the two in the 1970 campaign.

Adams' Army heads for Walnut to tackle toughies in Mt. SAC Relays

By JOHN R. PETTMAN
Part Time Buffalo
Staff Writer

UCSB's track and field team takes time out from dual meet competition this weekend as the Gauchos head for Walnut where they'll compete in the annual Mt. SAC Relays.

Coach Sam Adams announced that a full contingent has been entered in the two day carnival including five field performers and four relay teams.

Despite their 97-21 setback to the Air Force Academy last Saturday in Colorado Springs where the Gauchos only managed two first places, there nevertheless were a handful of improved performances turned in by a spirited, if not outmanned UCSB squad.

Jumpers Jim Randolph (24-0) and Jeb Burgess (46-8) came up with lifetime bests and each will be out to better those marks in Walnut, while pole vaulters Bill Broadhead and Bob Nygaard each cleared the bar at 14 feet for their top efforts of the year.

Freshman Wayne Snyder turned in his lifetime best of 48.7 in the quarter-mile and sprinters Sunny Hatten and Dan Madden each came up with 9.8 hundreds.

Hatten and Madden will be seeing plenty of action at the Mt. SAC Relays as both are entered in the 440 and 880 yard relay teams along with James Tolbert and either Randolph or Carey Williams in the 440 foursome and Roger Vignocchi along with Williams or Snyder in the 880 quartet.

UCSB's mile relay team will consist of Snyder, Jim LaVelle, Phil Gonzalez and Vignocchi (3:18.6) while the Gauchos' distance medley relay team will be comprised of Snyder, Brian Castleman, Bill Word and Ted Bechtel (nt).

Vignocchi (54.6) and LaVelle (54.7) will be entered in the intermediate hurdles while Williams (14.7) and Tolbert (14.8) will compete in the highs.

In addition to Randolph and Burgess in the field, John Tobin will throw the javelin (227-6); Gary Dilley will high jump (6-4½) and Steve Leonard will heave the discus (154-10).

Two new Chevelles at two new lower prices.

Chevelle 4-Door Sedan

than our previous lowest priced 4-door.

Chevelle Sport Coupe

than our previous lowest priced hardtop.

Now it's America's lowest priced mid-size hardtop.

We took America's best selling mid-size car. Then, added two new lower priced models, including a Sport Coupe that's priced less than any other mid-size hardtop you can buy.

Still, they both have Chevelle's smart new grille for 1970. And Chevelle's newly styled Body by Fisher. And Chevelle's Full Coil suspension with custom fitted springs at each wheel. And Chevelle's wide-stance chassis design, side-guard beams in the doors, cargo-guard luggage compartment, bias belted ply tires.

Lower priced they are, by as much as $148. But lower priced looking and feeling they aren't.

Which will get us no love notes from the competition. But maybe it will from you.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

*Based on manufacturer's suggested retail prices, including federal excise tax and suggested dealer new car preparation charges.

Marking the most successful road trip of the season, UCSB's varsity tennis team defeated three out of four opponents in dual match competition last weekend, appearing to gather the necessary momentum to capture top league honors. Santa Barbara is now in a three-way tie for first place in the PCAA along with Cal State Long Beach and San Jose State.

Starting off their 800 mile journey with a victory, the Gauchos edged tough Fresno State 5-4 on Thursday before traveling north the next day to San Jose State where the Spartan powerhouse handed UCSB a 9-0 loss. On Saturday, Coach Doty's netters bounced back to crush the University of Pacific with an identical 9-0 scores, not giving up a set throughout the entire match. On Sunday the team returned to the South coast for a non-league match, nipping Cal Poly San Luis Obispo, 5-4, by taking two out of three doubles matches.

An individual standout for the Gauchos was number five man Brooks Barthels, a junior from Monterey Park, who won five of his eight matches over the weekend.

Today, UCSB's number one doubles team of Bill Steiner and Eric Lewis will travel south for their first round matches in the Ojai Invitational, annually one of the biggest intercollegiate tennis tournaments in the nation. Dual match action returns this weekend as the Gauchos again meet rival Cal Poly at 2 p.m. Sunday on the Stadium Courts.

GaUCHO fencer makes Nationals

By GERALD NEECE
Sports Editor

Certainly one of the high points in any athlete's career is the opportunity to represent his country in international competition. And that is the chance a girl fencer here at UCSB might possibly receive.

Martia Bennett, a foreign language student, received funds Wednesday night from Leg Council to attend the NCAA National Fencing Tournament this weekend in South Bend, Indiana, at Notre Dame University. The finals will be used as a qualifier for the World University Games in Turin, Italy, to be held from August 22 - September 8 of this year.

Miss Bennett was one of four college students from the Western United States chosen to go to Notre Dame for the Nationals this weekend. She was one of the top finishers in the 72 woman field at the Western Regionals at San Francisco State two weeks ago.

"It's kind of exciting especially since I enjoy fencing so much," said the petite senior from Hawthorne, California. "This is the first time they will be holding the World Games as such and it would be great to be a part of it."

Miss Bennett has been fencing now for eight years and credits her coach, Zoltan Von Somogyi with helping her style a great deal.

"Miss Bennett is a hard worker, very disciplined, an intelligent fencer and a real lady," said Von Somogyi. "She's highly qualified to represent our University and the West in the National Championship and the World Games."

Bowlers host Invitational

This weekend is slated to be a big one for GaUCHO bowlers. The first annual UCSB Invitational Bowling Tournament is scheduled for Sunday, April 26 at San Marcos Lanes.

Beginning at 9:30 a.m. with the team event and following with singles and doubles which roll off at 1 p.m. the Gauchos expect to have quite a match ahead for them. Heavily favored are Cal State L.A. and UCLA. Each has won a major tournament this year and thus pose a real problem. Other entries include San Bernardino Valley College, Cal State Long Beach and Claremont Colleges.

The Gauchos, who have the potential, have been plagued by inconsistency this past season. If they can overcome this obstacle, spectators may be in for a real upset.

First team will consist of five of the six top UCSB bowlers: Ric Armstrong, Phil Buchanan, Dave Barnes, Bob Lessin, Jim Muller, Bob Newton.

SESPA - anti-war research

By WENDY LANDAU
 "I pledge that I will not participate in war research or weapons production. I further pledge to counsel my students and urge my colleagues to do the same."

This statement appears on a petition presently being circulated by two UCSB seniors in physics, Greg Cain and Martin Vanderlaan, who hope to get enough signatures to put an end to war research on this campus.

The circulation of this petition is the first activity of Scientists and Engineers for Social and Political Action (SESPA), an organization which Cain and Vanderlaan are trying to establish at UCSB. Chapters already exist at Stanford, MIT and Berkeley.

Petitions will be posted in the offices of the science and engineering departments and professors, students and graduate students are urged to sign.

Asked what they will do with the signatures, Cain and Vanderlaan said that they will publish the results in EL GAUCHO, whatever they may be. Even if only a small number of signatures are secured, this will still serve as an indication of public feeling.

The circulation of this petition is only the first SESPA activity planned by Cain and Vanderlaan. Further activities will be planned when memberships have been established. Signers of this petition will, in effect, become SESPA members.

Anyone interested in circulating petitions should contact Cain or Vanderlaan at 968-8569.

A.S. election information

 the two proposed constitutional amendments and locations of student voting booths.

3. The elections will take place next Monday and Tuesday with runoffs being held on Thursday. Voting on the amendments will take place Monday and Tuesday also, with each requiring a two-thirds "yes" vote of the total voting number in order to pass. The amendments concern mandatory fees and eligibility qualifications for candidates.

5. Polls will be set up at the UCen, in front of the Library, at the Old Student Union, in front of Campbell Hall and near the SAE underpass to campus.

6. There are a total of 32 candidates running for A.S. office, including 13 persons vieing for the four rep-at-large seats and five vieing for the four non-affiliated rep seats.

Of slugs, rifles

 with a live round in the chamber. An accidental discharge is impossible otherwise.

If that was indeed the case, why was the officer carrying his weapon in such a fashion? Nobody familiar with elementary weapons safety, much less that particular weapon, would jump out of a dump truck with his weapon in such a condition - The weapon should be carried with the chamber empty, safety in the "on" position and finger off the trigger. Even if this is an accident the officer concerned acted with incredible carelessness, certainly enough to justify manslaughter charges. If he wasn't aware of how to use his weapon, why was he entrusted with it, and by whom? Is it common practice to carry weapons in this condition? If so, the possibility of further such accidents, tragedies, becomes a probability.

In fairness to all concerned, and to avoid charges of a "white-wash," further explanation is required. I hope that it will be provided.

Candidates...

By deliver organizations, I mean deliver their student constituency.

"I would also like to see student-faculty review boards set up to review cases such as that of Bill Allen."

TOSDAL: "The county and the University in working in Isla Vista have approached the symptoms rather than the problems. I think A.S. should take its manpower and money to I.V. I have several plans for the development of the community and I think we should try to culminate the plans that have been going on for a long time.

"I'd like to see the formation of a township type of government. Incorporation into a total city entity is nearly totally unfeasible because of the low tax base and because it takes a motion by the property owners. In no way are they going to tax themselves, and college students would wind up paying for it anyway.

"What a township involves is that I.V. would have its own self-government, would have local control of police and fire and services such as water, electricity and sewage.

"People have to get to know each other in I.V. Community affairs on a regular thematic basis would be one way. There should be a formation of a tenant's union on the Berkeley model."

DE LA ROCHA: "I've heard several times that incorporation is unfeasible. What I.D like to do is hire a group of two or three urban development experts to work with students in I.V. I think its advantageous to incorporate and I recognize the problems of taxation.

"If the university wants to take an active role in helping I.V., I don't see why university police cannot help out in the activities of our own community, nor the fire department, for example."

Notes

Persons who witnessed arrests or vandalism by police during the I.V. riots are asked to go to the ASIA Office and fill out a report form.

H.L.T. Taswell, South African Ambassador to the U.S. will be speaking today at 10:30 a.m. and noon at the Miramar Hotel. Bishop Edward Crowther has asked students who oppose the apartheid policies of the South African government to join with him in confronting Taswell on the policies practiced by his government.

EL GAUCHO mistakenly reported that PILL runs abortion clinics in I.V. Actually, the clinics are birth control clinics, and they are located at the University Methodist Church on Monday nights and at the Episcopal Church on Thursday nights.

JAMES' ENDORSEMENTS

Many students have asked me who I will vote for and why? My greatest concern is for a good sound executive team, so of the candidates I will vote for Tom Tosdal for president. Tom Tosdal, because he is the most capable and hard working person running who will try to represent all students. Kati Perry, is an excellent choice for Exec. V.P. as she will help make up a good team with Tosdal as President; she is very strong and capable herself. Paul Gassaway is the man to finish out the team as Admin. V.P. to work with Tosdal.

Some people whom I think will make good reps. are: Mary Vail, Ralph Smith, Mando, Dalton Nezey, Phil Gardiner, Steve Arnold and John Evjen. I will write in Joe Flower for Non-Aff. Rep.

I will vote to retain mandatory A.S. fees as there are so many services that students take for granted that the fee provides. Believe me, you need that fee! UC Davis voted to keep theirs and so should you. This campus would go crazy without it at this time, as we need it for so much.

Regardless of how you vote, remember—please vote!
