WAAC, WAVE Appear at AWS Assembly

Servicemen Discuss Training Programs

As the concluding program of the current semester, the A.W.S. assembly scheduled for Tuesday, fourth hour in the auditorium will present to the women students a WAAC and WAVE, with Lieutenants Harriette Horak and Francis Shoup representing the respective contingents.

Lt. Horak received her training at the Des Moines headquarters, while Lt. Shoup's training period was culminated at Smith College.

"Stress is placed upon the fact that this is not an enlistment program," program chairman Edie Van Meter stated, "but merely an opportunity for the women on campus to acquaint themselves with the requirements of these organizations."

Lts. Shoup and Horak will outline the training periods, and prerequisites for admittance, and will relate personal experiences in conjunction with their training.

Following the assembly, the Associated University Women will sponsor a luncheon at El Paseo, allowing women who will be off-campus during the assembly period to acquaint themselves with the two programs. Reservations may be made not later than this afternoon through the office of the Dean of Women.

Blue Key Inducts Nine

Blue Key, men's honorary service group, will hold their formal induction of new members Sunday, at 2 p.m. in the A.W.S. clubroom.

Members are chosen from upper division men students who have actively participated in campus activities and have maintained a high scholastic average. Those to be inducted are Russell Haney, Robert Hart, Jim Lytle, Donald MacKenzie, Cornie Maaskant, Angelo Nunez, Marvin Sands, Lou Sarracino, and Wilfred Seaman. Refreshments will be served following the ceremony.

As a service project the organization will carry on used book sale during the first two weeks of the spring semester. George James, president of the group, urges all students to take advantage of this opportunity.

New Psych Course Opens

A new requirement for students of provisional and probationary status will be listed in the spring curricula as Psychology 5, it was announced this week by Dr. Glenn W. Durlinger who will be co-instructor of the course.

To be known as "college work techniques," the course will deal with diagnostic and remedial procedures in study. The outline reveals that students will concern themselves with orientation, time utilization, vocabulary increase, examination techniques, note-taking, and all-round efficiency.

Wesley Group Accepts Charter

Santa Barbara State college chapter of the Wesley foundation will be officially installed on the evening of February 7. This installation will mark the 111th chapter of the national Methodist group.

Bishop Clarence Baker, founder of the foundation movement; Rev. Herman Beimefroh, conference director; and Dr. Dewitt Baldwin of the National Board of Education, will be on hand for the ceremonies.

Knocking over the Camp Cooke and Viking quintets last week to the tune of 43-13, 33-21, respectively, the Gauchos started the 1943 season in good shape, but played poorly against their opposition. As a result, tonight's starting quintet will consist of Chuck Jones and Don Druliner at the forward spots, Paul Cooper at center, and Lloyd Thomas and Dick Rider at guards.

Jones and Druliner replace Bob Sherman and Bill Leveille, who started the season but were demoted to second-string berths early this week by Willie Wilton, Hilltopper basketball mentor.

Cooper replaces Mort Hill at the center spot, although lanky Harvey Hubler, who suffered a knee injury in practice sessions this week, will take over Cooper's duties if he is in shape by game time. Dick Rider and Lefty Thomas, who started the season, will meet the Mustangs in the guard positions.

Boasting a small and tricky outfit, the invading northerners are sparked by Bernard Goodbody, who holds the all-time scoring record at Poly. Leroy Leib and Fred Ellis, veteran Mustang athletes, add to the starting quintet along with Floyd Leiser and Bob Bard.

Coach Bab Dakan will start Lieser and Goodbody at the forward spots, Bard at center, and Ellis and Leib at guards. Dakan, prior to coming to Polytechnic, was director of athletics at San Luis Obispo Jaysee, and the 1943 season marks his initial hoop coaching for the Mustangs.

AMS Presents Sports Films

Interesting and educational sports films will be the main part of the program for the A.M.S. assembly to be held fourth hour on Tuesday, according to Harry Redoglia, A.M.S. president. The films were obtained special from Los Angeles by the A.M.S. board and were chosen because of their outstanding portrayal of the various sports.

"It is very important that all men attend the assembly," Redoglia recommended, "and the A.M.S. board assures all who come an interesting meeting."

Proficiency Dean Slates Make-up Tests

Make-up proficiency tests will be given on Tuesday in the college auditorium at 3 p.m. for teaching-credential candidates who have not passed parts of the tests.

A fee of fifty cents will be charged for those who took the tests for the first time on November 12. For all who have had previous make-up tests the charge will be one dollar. This fee must be paid at the business office.

Honor Code Gets Support at Activities Control Board Meet

Campus organization heads and interested students will meet with the Activities Control Board Monday at 4 p.m. in the A.W.S. clubroom to continue work on the honor code for Santa Barbara State college it was announced today by Wilf Seaman, chairman of the board.

The purpose of the meeting is to further explain the functions of the code and also to gain suggestions and constructive criticism from a greater percentage of the student body.

Under the Honor Code as set up by the board, a student, in the interest of developing honesty and character, is expected to conduct himself in accord with the highest moral standards. It is his duty to make known to members of the board or to instructors any infraction of the Code. This notice is to be strictly confidential and the reporter's name not disclosed.

In keeping with the Code of Honor, students and instructors should cooperate in the following:

1. The student should avoid any activity which might be misconstrued as cheating. Books and notes should be put aside; attention should focus on his paper.
2. The student should place and sign the following statement on all examination papers before credit is given: "I have neither given or received unpermitted aid in this examination." This signed statement is requested by students and instructors are asked to accept no papers without it.

Biological Scientists Inspect Gas Plant

On Saturday the Phi Psi, biological science group, members made a trip to the casing-head gasoline plant at Ellwood to inspect the compressor plant and the apparatus for the separation of the natural gases and gasoline.

Included in the tour was the inspection of the shell holes made by the Japanese submarine which attempted to destroy the field last year.

New Finals Schedule:---

Due to the large number of complaints issued by the students on the initial posted final examination schedule the Standards committee of the college met Thursday morning and gave approval to a revised examination schedule which is expected to ease test programs.

Much Ado

By GEORGE BLUMENSON

Whoever made up the finals schedule certainly played a dirty trick on the majority of students. The way the schedule is set up, most students have three, and some even four, exams on the same day. This semester, especially, with so many of our students taking tough courses such as algebra, trig, and many other math and science courses, pains should have been taken to give these people ample time to study.

Among the novelties of the year is the picturization of the late Thorne Smith's "The Passionate Witch." Naturally enough, with the Hays office still guarding the morals of American public, the title was changed to "I Married A Witch," but this did not detract the slightest from the entertainment value. It takes a picture like this to give us some slight measure of relief from the heavy dramas and from the war films.

Of course, if you can read, the Thorne Smith books are, to use a trite expression, completely out of this world. They are bawdy, ribald, and probably the finest escape of literature you can find anywhere. It is said that Smith used to drink himself into a mental fog, and then write down what he saw. That is supposed to be the basis for his plots, and this may well be true. Smith's humor does not depend on humorous lines in order to produce chuckles in the reader; instead, his situations produce belly-laughs from the first page to the last page of the book.

This week a jury in the sovereign state of Mississippi indicted a number of men for participating in a lynching a few months ago. This indictment was not delivered under any anti-lynch bill, but under the Federal Civil Rights statutes, bringing into play the 13th amendment and the right of all men to a jury trial. Naturally, if convicted, these men will not receive the death penalty, but they may receive a stiff jail jolt. And so, while the Southern senators resort to all sorts of infamous measures to prevent the passage of the Federal Anti-Lynch law, the State of Mississippi has shown that it wishes to clean house. Maybe it can convince its senators of that.

Peace Talk Takes Pessimistic Air As Allies Score Victories

This week is United Nations Week, and the slogan which has been pressed into use is faintly reminiscent of "All For One and One For All." We should bear in mind we are so busy drawing up plans for the peace conferences which will follow this war. The president, in his speech to Congress, practically promised fair play to all the United Nations around the conference table, but it will be interesting to see just what pressure certain groups will bring to bear at these conference tables.

It will be interesting to see what will happen to Russia, to China, and to the Netherlands. It will be interesting to see what, in spite of the Four Freedoms, will happen to the "White Man's Burden," which has, of late years, been becoming increasingly heavy. It will be interesting to see what will happen to India, to Poland, to Czechoslovakia and to the other little nations which have felt the Nazi terror and which have been resisting it to the utmost.

Now that the war seems to be in the bag—the European war, at any rate—already certain over-confident newspapers and magazines are beginning a subtle anti-Russian campaign. The poor heathen Chinese are coming in for their share of the propaganda also, inasmuch as they are barbarians.

It seems that in the future we should let these people go along as they please—in regards to the Four Freedoms. No foreign missionaries should be allowed to go out proselyting—the Chinese have been pretty happy with their centuries old religion—the Russians seem to be getting along—with or without religion. Those people who really need the missionaries are the Christian People of Germany. If the Chinese or the Russians wish to embrace religion, they will do so of their own volition.

We Americans have found out that whatever is forced down our throats is distasteful to us. At the close of the war both Russia and China should be given equal voices in the conference, and then should be let alone—as far as their internal policies affairs go. We have enough to do in cleaning our own house before we go meddling—and when we have cleaned our own house, perhaps we will have learned our lesson.

Sororities Prepare Pre-Dance Festivities

The flow of chocolates seems to have kept up in spite of approaching finals, rush plans, Pan Hellenic formal, and all the other activities of sororities and their members.

Open house teas are nearly over and sororities are now looking ahead to formal rushing.

ALPHA THETA CHI

Last Monday evening members of ATC held their regular meeting at the home of Eleanor Laurence. Plans were discussed for the first rush affair of next semester, which will be the traditional Raggedy Ann Party.

Miss Eleanor Jacobs, a former sorority member and now a Sigma Kappa at UCLA, passed chocolates announcing her engagement to Leland Winder.

Final plans were completed for the last rush tea of the year, which will be held today at 2007 Las Tunas road. The meeting was adjourned to the Town House.

SIGMA DELTA PHI

A regular business meeting was held on Monday evening at the SDP house on Grand avenue. Final plans were made for the traditional Rose and Silver Tea which was held on Thursday, January 14.

Arrangements were discussed for the buffet supper which is planned for members of the sorority and their guest to precede the Pan Hellenic formal, being held this Saturday at Rockwood.

DELTA SIGMA EPSILON

The regular meeting of DSE was held on Monday night at the home of Evelyn McDonald. Business discussed was dominated by the final open house of the year which was held on Thursday.

The sororities contribution to the Pan Hellenic formal was discussed, and it was decided that members and their guests will meet at the home of Lt. and Mrs. Ralph Hand preceding the dance.

Following the business meeting a shower was held for Jean Arthur Gier, at which she was Clatter on the Grecian front this week comes to its climax tomorrow evenin' at the Pan Hell ball. Tong women, in best bid and with best beau, will be all-out for glamour at the annual formal. Uniformed escorts will be in equal number with tux.

From the Delta Zeta clan, HELEN MITCHELL will be on the arm of CARL FISHER, Beta Sig. Also, EDITH VAN METER with HENRY SCHAEFER, the steady, and RUTH BANDY with Fiance BILL REEDER from Pomona college.

With a corner on service men, Sigma Delta Phi members MARTHA ADCOCK drags Lt. DON CHRISTY, MARY ROBERTS, Lt. EARNEST WORLEY.

Chi Delts include DOROTHY SAUL with regular VINCE

Credit to JEAN AUSMAN, spunky frosh, who stepped into the singer's berth at the class Gay Nineties assembly. A walk out on the part of a tempermental "star" allowed her 10 minutes preparation with which she did a notable job. Incidentally, bouquets to the entire cast for a catchy show.

Another engagement this week, that of VIONA RUSH, PKG, to GEORGE WEAVER, navy radio man.

It was a field day for the Western Union when the TO's went national. Twenty-six messages from that many chapters of Sigma Tau Gamma found their way to the induction ceremonies last Monday.

Some call it revenge, the accident which blacked HARRY REDOGLIA's eye while he and Gamma Sig brother BOB ETCHART "played." Harry used to kick Bob's crutches.

Weekend visitor was LEE CHEVRNAK, would-be senior, who is with the air corps engineers at Hammer field.
