College Departments Waive Meetings for Dr. Cheverton Talk

Chapman College President Addresses Special Assembly as Groups Dismiss Sessions; Home Ec, Art Sections Meet

• Dr. John Cheverton, president of Chapman college in Los Angeles, spoke before a majority of the Santa Barbara State college student body yesterday during second hour. While Dr. Cheverton was scheduled to speak only to the Liberal Arts and English department, it was decided to allow the whole student body to get the benefits of his talk. Therefore most of the department meetings scheduled for that hour were dismissed in order that all could take advantage of Dr. Cheverton's lecture.

At the first meeting of the Home Economics club this semester, which was held in the music hall second hour yesterday, the new officers for this semester were introduced by president Norma Allatt. These include Gail McMillan, vice-president; Thora Lindstrom, secretary; Betty Smith, treasurer; and Emma Hutchins, in charge of publicity.

Tells of Correlation

Thora Lindstrom, next introduced, told how the home economics are correlated in the sewing classes. She cited and presented a fashion show which illustrated how inexpensively clothes can be made. Afternoon dresses, children's clothes, evening wraps and dresses were modeled. Miss Lindstrom modeled a dress of wool material which she brought from Norway last summer.

During the fashion show Gail McMillan played incidental music on the piano.

Celebrate Birthdays

The annual Home Economics Birthday party will be held on Feb. 23 in Ebbett's Hall, at which time all Home Economics women will gather to celebrate their birthdays together.

Mrs. Mary Crosswell spoke to the members of the Art department at the meeting held yesterday second hour. In her talk Mrs. Crosswell acquainted the members of the department with the art standards, regulation and procedure.

It has been planned to have a regular art meeting in two weeks.

AWS Honors New Women

• All new women on the campus were invited to the party given by the Associated Women students in the A.W.S. clubroom last night at 7:30 p.m.

Ethelrose Orloff, program chairman, organized games, provided a program of music with a vocal quartette and also some readings. The evening concluded with group singing.

Members of Crown and Scepter, Las Espuelas and the A.W.S. board acted as hostesses. Alice Boeseke, board member acted as councillor for this party and with the assistance of a committee took charge of the invitations and transportation for the guests.

Committee Declares Wharton Ineligible

• The Eligibility committee yesterday declared Tom Wharton ineligible to continue his position as editor of El Gaucho. According to the committee, Wharton had not maintained the C average required of all student body officers.

Associated Students President Doug Duckham has announced that the Publications board will meet in the near future to select a new editor.

Annual Editor Collects 575 Subscriptions

Stanley Names Capable Staff for Production of 1939 Edition of Yearbook

• Approximately 575 copies of the 1939 State college yearbook, La Cumbre, were paid for during registration last Tuesday and Wednesday, it was revealed today by Jimmie Stanley, editor.

In the assessment system used, $1 is paid during spring registration, for which a receipt is given. This receipt, with the La Cumbre stubs out of the Fall and Spring student body books, entitles the person to a copy of the annual. New students this semester are assessed $2.50, as well as seniors who graduated this February.

Weatherhead Assists

As assistant editor of the book, Stanley has chosen Roland Weatherhead, a student with experience in publications in high school. Weatherhead was editor of the Manual Arts High school yearbook in 1935. As business manager and assistant business manager are Sheldon Beeson and Gerry Hoyt, who are collecting payments for pages in the book.

All fraternities, sororities and organizations who have not paid for their pages in the annual may do so by contacting Sheldon Beeson, Gerry Hoyt or Jimmie Stanley. The prices are $25 a page and $15 a half page. Organizations may at any time now make appointments with Richard Moore, Shirley Cort or Bartel's Photo studio for their panels of portraits on their pages.

Seniors should have pictures taken as soon as possible as the deadline is rapidly approaching. It is extremely important that these sittings be finished by the time the deadline comes, as every day means a lot in the production of the La Cumbre, according to Stanley.

Issued in June

La Cumbre will be issued the first week of June, about two weeks before the close of school. Stanley promises that the book will be out promptly at that time, as all contracts have been signed and layouts and pictures are being sent in to the engravers early this year.

Bartel's handles the senior photographs and portraits; engraving is handled by Los Angeles Engraving company, covers; Sam Babcock Cover company; printing, Schauer Printing studio.

Rehearsals for Revue Await Selection of Production Staff; Deadline Moved Up to Friday

• "Casa Noche," the script written by Bert Fitzpatrick and Mildred Fabing for the 1939 edition of the Roadrunner Revue, will go into rehearsal immediately upon selection of a cast and staff, announces Jack Richards, chairman of the Rally committee. Final date for applications for staff posts has been moved up to Friday.

In order to apply for the positions open, a note should be left in Richards' box requesting an application blank. Positions not yet filled include business manager, costume chairman, make-up committee, publicity chairman, printing chairman, technician and ticket sales manager.

The dance director post was filled yesterday by Violet Glahn, while the direction of the revue will be undertaken by Carlos Bee, assisted by Jean Smith. All three of the directors have participated in drama work on the campus previously, with Bee and Miss Smith formerly associated in a vaudeville act.

Tentative dates for presentation of the annual revue have been set at May 4, 5 and 6. First tryouts have been scheduled for February 10. For the tryouts, Richards requests that no specialty acts apply but auditioning will take place for dance groups, choruses and characters for the play.

The plot of "Casa Noche" concerns itself with a night club theme, an orchestra leader and a girl singer. The story has been pronounced the finest ever to be adapted for a Roadrunner Revue. In addition to outlining the plot, Fitzpatrick wrote five songs to go with the script. For last year's revue, Fitzpatrick wrote the music and lyrics to two songs.

Las Meninas Plans Rites

• With a discussion of plans for initiation and installation of new members, Las Meninas, campus social club under the sponsorship of the Associated Women Students held its first meeting of the semester Monday night at the home of Dr. Katherine Kinsel, sponsor.

Jean Thias, president of last semester's group, headed the first half of the meeting and turned the gavel over to Carol McQuiddy, president for this semester.

Tentative induction plans call for the ceremony to take place later this month at El Cortijo. Discussion of a cabin party also took place at the meeting.

Scoutcraft Class Meets at C.C. Tonight

• Scoutcraft, P.E. 109 will meet at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium tonight at 7:30 instead of room 43 at the college as scheduled, according to Theo Harder, physical education instructor.

Student Body Officers Prepare For Settlement of Deficit in 1940 with Emergency Program

Scalapino, Sloan Arrive For Tourney

Two Students Represent College in Forensic Progression in Denver

• DENVER, COLO., Feb. 8 (special to El Gaucho)—Arriving at dawn in Denver today Robert Scalapino and Harry Sloan were greeted as the first representatives from Santa Barbara State to attend the Rocky Mountain Speech conference on the University of Denver campus. The Santa Barbara delegates were accompanied by W. Charles Redding, director of forensics, who was formerly graduate manager of forensics at Denver.

Plans for today call for the Santa Barbara team to attend the classes of Dr. Elwood Murray, internationally known speech expert. According to Redding, arrangements were made so that the team could attend classes and observe the classroom and clinic procedures under Dr. Murray.

Scalapino and Sloan were selected as delegates to the conference after a six month forensics program and a series of individual tryouts. In the outstanding campus activity of intramural debate Scalapino and Sloan were opponents on the first and second teams respectively.

The Santa Barbarans left their home town Monday morning at 5:19 a.m. where the temperature was above 60 and arrived in Denver during a cold spell that brought the thermometer down to nearly 10 degrees above. They traveled by way of Williams, Arizona, and Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Thursday morning Scalapino and Sloan will join the panel discussions in the forensic progression while Redding will be added to the list of judging critics. Subject of the progression is "Control of the Business Cycle."

In addition to the forensic progression, the Golden Staters are to compete in the extemporaneous program. They will not compete in the oratory contest at this conference.

The conference will continue through Saturday and the team will depart in time to reach home for their Wednesday classes.

TGS Honors Betty Allen

• Tau Gamma Sigma sorority gave a miscellaneous shower Thursday evening for Betty Allen who was married Sunday afternoon to Bob Kindred, graduate of June '38. The shower which was given at the home of Shirley Moore, 1733 Loma street, was in the form of a surprise, and the gifts were brought in following a short business meeting.

The couple plan to live in Lancaster where they are both teaching.

Bickerdike Leads Seminar

• Dr. Ernest L. Bickerdike, geology instructor, will lead the Faculty Science seminar to be held Tuesday afternoon, February 14, in room 52.

Discussing the papers in the physical sciences that were presented at the meetings of the American Association for the Advancement of Science at Richmond, Virginia, Dr. Bickerdike, who attended those meetings, will emphasize geology.

Tea will be served at the seminar and all are invited to attend.

Office Calls In Registration Books Today

Total Enrollment Hits 1246 as Students Enter From Southern Institutions

• Today at 4:30 p.m. is the deadline for turning in registration books, states Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham. The books must be correct in all details and must be signed by all instructors, according to the registrar, and a fine of $1 will be charged if the books are turned in late.

Within 100 of the all-time high registration mark reached last September, a total of 1264 students were enrolled in the college yesterday. 1200 student books have been sold thus far, 80 less than were sold last semester, according to Graduate Manager Don Follett.

Of the students registered, 1226 considered regular students while 38 are in the limited classification and are not subject to the purchase of an Associated Student book. Due to the fact that Los Angeles schools and other southern institutions were not dismissed from the fall semester until last Friday, a heavy registration took place on Monday.

After today, all program changes must be made by petition, Mrs. Abraham states.

Reasons given for the lower number of students enrolled this semester include transferring of former State students to other institutions, elimination through disqualification and mid-year graduation. Before the semester opened, indications pointed to a record enrollment of over 1400, according to Follett.

Previous enrollments for the past five years had shown steady increase, with 25 per cent increases coming for the past two years.

Kappa Deltas Hear Rogers

• Dr. David Banks Rogers, eminent authority on Indian Life in the Santa Barbara area, will speak before a meeting of Kappa Delta Pi tomorrow night in the AWS clubroom.

Members of the honorary education society will gather at 7:15 p.m. to discuss plans for the new semester.

Dr. Rogers, former curator of the Santa Barbara museum, and nationally famed for his knowledge on Indian life will speak at 8 p.m. All men and women interested are invited to attend the program.

The society's new officers are president, Christina MacKellar; vice-president, Elna Peterson; recording secretary, Elizabeth Tagg; corresponding secretary, Margaret Ellerton. S. O. Werner is faculty advisor for the group.

P.E. Fraternity Meets Monday

• First meeting of the semester for Phi Delta Pi, honorary women's physical education fraternity was held Monday in the A.W.S. clubroom and was presided over by Ethel Clendennen who will head the organization this semester.

After a talk on Founder's day by Miss Clendennen, the fraternity elected Mary Alice Murray to the office of historian. Plans were made for the semester while the group decided to hold the next meeting February 20 at the home of Lois Ar-when the student council voted to curtail expenditures of certain campus activities.

Cooperation with the First National Bank of Santa Barbara has led to a program of retrenchment by which the status of student finances could be strengthened. According to present plans the bank officials will extend a loan of $7500 in the place of the present loan of $9000 which was recently made with the consent of the student council.

Balance Sheet Published

Don Follett, graduate manager, has prepared the balance sheet which appears in this issue of El Gaucho to present to the bank for consideration next week. The balance sheet will be accepted in consideration of the financial status of the student body.

Indicated in the report are assets including sums of $7600 for bank balance, $15,000 for equipment inventory, $2900 for equipment supplies and several other items totaling to $29,401.96. As liabilities are listed accounts payable to the extent of $6000 and loans payable $9000. Total liabilities are $16,568.96.

Cites Cooperation

Describing the action taken by the finance committee Don Follett stated: "The current efforts of the Finance committee to reduce the student body indebtedness have met with such whole-hearted cooperation from all individuals as to merit the appreciation of all concerned. It is my prediction that the Associated Students will not only be out of debt within the next year and a half but will have a reserve fund established."

"This year's student council has done a remarkable job in putting the Associated Students on a good sound financial footing. Our current financial difficulties are the result of nine years of operating unbalanced budgets—it is time this was stopped."

Pledges Give Actives Dinner

The News in Brief

• WASHINGTON, Feb. 7—Asking "immediate consideration" of an additional appropriation of $150,000,000 for WPA for the next five years, President Roosevelt told congress today an "emergency" existed in relief.

The $150,000,000 represents the cut made in the President's request for $875,000,000 to carry WPA from February to June. The $725,000,000 bill passed by Congress last week was believed to have been signed by the President.

PERPIGNAN, France, Feb. 7—With reports that the Loyalist government was yielding to Rebel demands, an end to the war in Spain seemed imminent today. Fighting in northern Spain appeared to be over as Insurgent General Francisco Franco checked the pace of his armies marching through the northeastern province of Catalonia toward the French frontier while columns of defeated government troops and refugees withdrew into France.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 7—New worries assailed flood victims in isolated sections of eastern and southeastern Kentucky today as disease began to work in. 12 cases of spinal meningitis, two of typhoid fever and numerous influenza cases were reported in mountain flood regions as state health board doctors worked feverishly to check an epidemic.

Dr. A. T. McCormack, director of the state health board, stated that he has appealed to Washington for aid.

Like the woman who won't buy one of the more gruesomely attractive feminine chapeaux that might be out of fashion in two weeks, private utility holders have awaited settlement of the Tennessee Valley Authority problem before they spent money on industries that might go out of style. At least that's the argument advanced by many of the Nation's leading economists and financiers.

TVA-Utility Peace May Boom Business

Settlement of the long waged war between utilities and the TVA brought forth great predictions from leading capitalist executives that the spending by public utilities, privately owned would soon cause a major spurt in American business circles. This argument has been advanced by money-leaders in the Nation for years but for the most part Administration fathers have sort of giggled their way out of believing it would have any effect on business or the financial conditions of the country. It still remains to be seen if they are right or wrong.

However, the logic seems to be with them. Wendell L. Wilkie, president of Commonwealth and Southern corporation, stated that the long due armistice between the two forces would cause the allocation of upwards to $1,000,000,000 for improvements and additions to companies throughout the U.S. who have been awaiting to see if the style change was going to take effect. Stimulation of heavy industry would have very broad, general effects on the business of the Nation as a whole.

The greatest amount of stimulation will naturally be found in the copper mines, freight car production, increase in outputs of companies like General Electric, Westinghouse and Allis-Chalmers. This would not only be reflected in increased production but also in increased employment.

Finance Crisis Cites Necessity For Interest

During the past week there has appeared in El Gaucho a number of financial reports of various A.S.B. activities. Among these have been a graph to indicate in what manner the student's payment into the A.S.B. funds were expended and an outline of proposed cut of student body allotments in order to meet a growing deficit in student funds.

The specific moves made recently by the council have come in the form of the realization of the financial status of the college and in curbing immediate and future expenditures in order to meet a deficit that has arisen. In order to meet this deficit it was necessary to empower the finance committee with the right to revise the funds granted to certain activities. The list in El Gaucho last Friday presented certain suggestions for these limitations. Obviously these were but general limitations indicating how the power delegated to the finance committee might be employed.

It has been forcefully suggested that we cease to speak of a "deficit" and begin to talk in terms of "indebtedness." However, we do not feel that the term is of as great moment as the attempt to get rid of the deficit or indebtedness. A rose by any other name might smell as sweetly but a deficit is still something of undesirable qualities.

For the present the only stand we have to take is that every possible step should be taken to extricate ourselves from present difficulties and to keep out of future ones. The political responsibilities of everyone concerned is very grave and should be guarded with care. To give a sound political base the members of the A.S.B. should take advantage of their political rights to control their representatives on the student council. (This editorial written by Frank C. Douglas does not necessarily express the opinion of El Gaucho.)

Canary Propaganda . . .

Mathew Woll, a vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, was singing this week about certain unnecessary things like "harmonicas, bird cages and canaries" which have been dumped in the United States by Adolf's foreign tradesmen in return for certain other commodities like cotton, copper and scrap-iron. These last to Mister Woll are very important to war material production. We wonder if he wants to let the hill-billies suffer without their harmonicas, the American-born canaries, without their Swastika cages and the "poor canary brown-breasts," without the freedom of the American cages, so that maybe we can keep some of the war supplies on hand just in case there is some more trouble with the AFL-tabbed, CIO "Reds."

Unemployment Solved . . .

Some scientists recently reported that the "last frontier of the world" is the bottom of the ocean. Surprising amounts of valuable ores and metals were recently found by such men as Dr. F. P. Shepard of the University of Illinois, and Charles Snowden Piggot, of the Carnegie institution. Gold, oil, bromine, radium accumulations ten times that of land, supplies, selenium, manganese, etc., etc. make the ocean a possible Eureka of the future. If only propaganda is dished out enough to all the tramps and other unemployed persons in strong enough servings maybe they will all dash "out west" into the cool, peaceful waters of the Pacific. The human limitation of life under water is much less than five-minutes.

FLUX de BOUCHE

We have an axiom to grind! An open letter to the Friday edition Flux de Boucher who will never die of a broken brain: just this, "Judge not lest ye be judged."

This semester we will miss Jennie Nordli and Ted Joham is going to enlist in a flying school, and we welcome back Winnie Snazdell. Then there is quite a field of nuggets and we overhear queries about the new girls like this, "Who is that babe with the blue mascara on her eyes?" More truth than poetry was disclosed when somebody tried to sell a book to a bunch of nuggets who looked like a gang from across the tracks. They answered in chorus, "Naw, we can't read."

Harold Eastham is on the list of missed persons this semester, also, much to the dismay of diminutive Barbara Littleham. By the way our pleasant little telephone operator, Mrs. Miller, has been appointed

Cupid's Janitor

By SALLY LAWRENCE

Sally, My dear:
 I have a girl friend upon whom I shower gifts, take everywhere, never deny her smallest desire, always lend her my Lincoln-Zephyr, always do her studies for her, in fact I love her so much that I would commit murder at her slightest request. You see, it is all very simple for me because I am very wealthy and have plenty of time to spend with her.

She ignores me completely, always accepts my gifts without a thank you, goes out with other guys in my car and on my money, won't let me so much as put my arm around her, always insults me in front of her friends, never answers the phone when I call and does everything possible to make me miserable and out of place. Do you suppose she doesn't love me? (Or is she just a typical woman, reacting to the prize "chump" set-up of the year?)

A Woe-Begone Millionaire and all I Want is Love.

Dear,
 I just love millionaires; it seems to me that you answered your own question—at least you know that you're a chump. What you need is a good vacation and someone who understands you.
 Stop around and see me some time and we'll fix up an itinerary. If you want to commit murder, there's always the City Editor.
 Where'd you say you lived?
 Sally.

Best quotation of the week comes from football's famed Whizzer White, just arrived in England to attend Oxford university on a Rhodes scholarship: "I guess I'm going to study law. But I'm a funny guy, and I'm gonna wait until I get up there before deciding. I think I'll like it over here, because I'm just a country boy and I'm not very used to modern conveniences anyway."

Men's Ties Enter Clothes Feud Field

Can you tie that?

Women's hats and other portions of her wardrobe have been subjected to much criticism in these columns during the past few centuries and it's about time that something was said about men's apparel.

Ties are things that go around a guy's neck, occasionally. Not as tight as could be around certain necks that I have in mind. Present company, expected. (Darn those linotypers!) There are many, many colors, both harmonious and very uncomplimentary, represented in ties. The latter being the most common combination. Stripes, zigzags, circles, squares, designs of every sort, figures that Pythagoras never dreamed of—that's the sort of thing men compose their neck-pieces. One could very easily take the Army's Alpha test without even so much as approaching a military camp or a psychologist.

One finds ties that drape down to the knees, others that hug the shoulder line and then the so-called-not found type of tie that hangs like Buddha contemplating his navel. Ties can be classed into three groups: Christmas ties, birthday ties, and ties.

The Christmas tie cannot be worn without the aid of a crew-neck or rough-neck sweater because this type must never be seen with the naked eye because of its blinding effect or dizzying conflict of color and figures. The easiest way to observe it is through a piece of glass that has previously been smoked over an oil-burner for two days.

The birthday tie may be worn with a vest where it can only be seen just above the vest. This tie is given to match the personality of the wearer and if you can coax a fellow to take off the covering you can find out many things about the guy that you didn't know before. For instance, what he had for dinner, what perfume his girl-friend uses, what perfume he uses and just lots of little things like that.

The last type of neck-cloth is the kind that one sees in a store window and in a weaker moment rushes in to purchase. Once and only once does the young man ambitious of being the best-dressed man, wear this monstrosity and then it hangs dormant on the tie rack and falls to the floor everytime he pulls out another one to wear. It's one of life's ironies, ties that one spends dollars on and never uses but which keep obviously in sight by falling all over closets and bedrooms.

Of course, we mustn't forget some of the valuable assets of ties. They are extremely helpful in gagging average raisers that always know their lessons and for warding off over-ambitious suitors under the stars by strangulation. This has gone far enough, it's reverted to sex.

Negro Rise Recalled by Writer Drundo

This is Negro History week in Santa Barbara and it will be observed by several meetings, programs and ceremonies. Center of the activities will be a program on Sunday night at the Santa Barbara Public library.

The history of the Negro race is an interesting and varied one. A story that reflects a swifter advance culturally and socially than any single race of mankind. Less than two hundred years ago when English "shanghaier" interrupted the peaceful, barbarous life of the African natives, the short recorded history of the race began.

Since then various infiltrations into the original race, advanced modes of living and development of a unique culture have made the Negro race one of the fastest rising races in the World. Literature of the Negro has come to place under the sun where it is recognized along with the great masters of the ages. Negro music has been sung by Americans for over a century and the music has been put into many of the modern classics.

Negro schools, colleges and universities are producing scholars everyday to compete with the graduates of other American institutions. These persons have had no little part in advancing the Negro race in the eyes of the world. Negro athletes have surpassed their competitors in most of the major fields of sports, except where they are excluded. In business, the race has shown that they can be successful as is witnessed by certain successful Negro districts in large cities. Other fields have been entered with equal success.

I am not saying that they are always successful in their enterprises or activities. They have their failures same as anyone, but their advance socially and culturally is astounding and worthy of comment at this time.

And yet, even in an institution like Santa Barbara State college, I have had occasion to notice persons who still hold prejudices against a man because his skin is black. Once, maybe, there was some basis for certain prejudices but in modern America there should be none because these men and women have justified their right to be called Americans.—Drundo.

Notes in Music

In response to requests from music lovers El Gaucho is beginning in this issue a column from the department.

The music department went under full swing for the spring semester last Saturday evening. Dr. Henry Eichheim was host to the group at a Chinese dinner given at the Pekin Low cafe. Robert MacDonald, president of the group presided.

Mrs. Priest read a letter from Mrs. Barnett, with regret that she was unable to be with them. Following this, Dr. Eichheim spoke on the subject of musicians. All in all the music department will begin its season soon by the outstanding Southern California Symphony Orchestra concert, then will come the College band and orchestra concerts. Department members are wondering who will fill our beloved Mrs. Helen M. Barnett's leave of absence.

History of a Brainstorm
 Dead pans and other lifeless objects such as heads

Once upon a time a president of the Associated Students at Santa Barbara State college put his arm ingratiatingly about the shoulders of a couple of fourth estaters and said, "If you ever have any suggestions, fellows, that would benefit the students or that would help me out, why, I'd be glad to hear them. Glad to hear 'em."

We were definitely flattered, as D. Douglas Duckham is not in the habit of asking everyone on the campus for advice. That is, not everyone, but almost everyone. The two journalists, if they may pass as such, thought and thought and finally came up with a project which they thought might aid in the solution of student problems. Everyone approached liked the idea immensely, so one of the reporters wrote a column advocating the establishment of an open forum on the campus.

The day the column appeared in print, the reporter, in more or less jocular fashion, asked D. Douglas Duckham about his selection for open forum board chairman. He expected at least discussion of the idea, with an announcement to the effect that a selection would be forthcoming. D. Douglas Duckham, however, dropped his "Old man, have a cigar" attitude and stormed, "It's your idea. Let's see you do something about it. You're always criticizing. Let us see what you can do towards establishing something on this campus."

The reporter was tempted to say, "Tsk, tsk, D. Douglas. This is no way for good little student body presidents to act when offered constructive suggestions. Remember, D. Douglas, you asked for it." But the reporter bit his tongue and left the thought unuttered and decided to do something about it.

D. Douglas Duckham's attitude in the situation paves the way for a more democratic selection, in any case. If the local potentate had taken our advice and appointed a chairman, cries of favoritism might have been raised. Without his expert finger in the pie, all we can do is to call for applications for the position and for the three positions open on the board.

If we receive no applications after one week, we will take it upon ourselves to ask a certain student who has shown interest in the past in campus affairs, to take over the chair, while the two journalists who had the original brainstorm will take over positions on the board. If no legal red tape is run into, a meeting will be planned to take place within the next month. The cooperation of the forensic department is assured.

Applications should be brought to the office of El Gaucho and will be judged by the editorial board of this newspaper. And we will have an open forum. As a matter of fact, the two charter members of the board have just decided to invite D. Douglas Duckham to the first meeting to participate in discussion as a special and honored guest.

We noted, with interest, the expressions on the faces of the Associated Student councillors the other night as the late budget received mortal wounds. If the council meeting had suddenly turned into a poker game, it would have been extremely difficult to pick a winner by the relative deadness of pans. The only sign of emotion was demonstrated by Johnny Austin who muttered inarticulately at the mention of one cut.

For the rest, an explanation might be found in temporary paralysis due to shock when the proposed slashes were read. For a moment, we thought rigor mortis had set in. And then the thought struck us that perhaps rigor mortis had not just set in.—S.C.

Late last night, long after the rest of the type in this column had cooled, Duckham appointed Bill Russell as temporary chairman of the open forum and scheduled a meeting for the evening of February 22. The meeting is open to all students of the college including us, Duckham says.

Crown Jewels vs. Crime Barons . . .

A brave report from London by the Sunday Express says that the King and Queen (long may they reign) of England, will bring the crown jewels across the Atlantic for the first time when they visit the United States and Canada soon. Naturally, the gems will be locked in a steel clamped box and guarded by a crew of British regulars; but we're mighty proud of our American gangsters and their ability to "pull a job". Well, even if they don't get the jewels, you can almost bet that Hollywood and several magazines will be able to get to work on "stuff" that will tell the country how it could have been done.

After A Fashion

By ROSALIND BRADBURY

• Hello? ... Clara Mae? ... I'm glad you called. The registration rush has proven to be quite trying, but we nevertheless managed to get a few fashion notes in passing. What? New co-eds? There appears to be a great number of them, but we have yet to be sure of their respective names.

However, CAROL LOVE is one of our new girls that makes an attractive addition to our campus, and her brown wool dress with gold-beige fleck and a gold zipper that fastened the front looked very trim. ELEANOR BRAUNS looked exceptionally nice in a beige and rose cashmere wool ensemble this week. The closely woven skirt and jacket sweater were in a honey-colored beige, while her short sleeved blouse sweater was a soft shade of rose.

Noticed PATSY BASS in a neat outfit consisting of a dark brown wool skirt and beige fitted jacket that buttoned up the front with the dark brown buttons. With this PATSY wore dark brown tie shoes. SALLY LAWRENCE was wearing an outstanding skirt and tailored jacket. The skirt was in a blue-green shade and the jacket was of a rather loose weave with broad strips of wine, blue-green, and off blue-grey tones. This color combination was lovely, and with this she wore wine colored sport oxfords.

Today's dresses are still taking us all back to the days when our mothers were very young girls. One of the best-looking and most amusing examples of this I have seen recently was a black taffeta with the top made exactly like an old-fashioned corset with a white organdie blouse over that, and a frou-frou down the front.

The most outstanding gown that I have seen during the short duration of this new year was an evening gown. It was an emerald green chiffon skirt that measured 20 yards around the bottom, and an embroidered emerald-studded tight-fitting jacket worn over it that made up the waist. Have been seeing a lot of green lately. One little sports outfit noticed would be perfect for campus or ordinary day time wear. It was a full circular skirt with tight-fitting waist that had tiny buttons all the way up the front and was belted with a wide belt and huge buckle. The material of this outfit was suede and the shade of green was a bright Kelly green.

Well, I must finish up some work that I have to do. I'll call you later ... Bye.

Rumor Reveals Acting Ability Of Football Coach Spud Harder

• Maybe it's the result of years of "turning it on" in between-halves pep talks, or maybe it's just natural. In any event, a rumor is drifting around the campus that Head Coach Theo Harder is one of the best actors ever to face the footlights in the campus theater.

Coach Theo, is currently emoting as "Patrick Murphy" in the Little theater production of "Abie's Irish Rose," now in rehearsal for presentation one night only, Thursday, March 2. The character of Patrick Murphy is supposed to be a rollicking and lusty Irishman, and "Spud" has taken to the part like a veteran actor, according to those favored to view early rehearsals.

Other members of the all-faculty cast include Don Follett and Rea McPeak in the lead roles of Abie Levy and Rose Mary Murphy, who provide the romance angle of the famous comedy. Follett has also impressed witnesses with his talent in dramatics, although the campus in general is more familiar with his stage work since he took the leads in several plays as an undergraduate. In fact, between budget items, the graduate manager admitted recently that he was quite an actor at Richmond Union high school before he came to the Gauchos campus.

Director Frederic W. Hile scored a masterful bit of casting when he named Jack Porter and Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham as Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Cohen. The two are billed as a "loveable Jewish couple," and provide most of the comedy in the play. Aply supporting the players mentioned are Dean William Ashworth, veteran of many college dramatic appearances, as Solomon Levy, Dr. William Ellison as the Catholic priest, Father Whelan and Louie Taylor as Rabbi Samuels.

Rehearsals for the comedy have progressed smoothly, and early predictions are that the production will be the most entertaining to date in the Little theater.

The faculty staff in charge of the play are working at present on a new arrangement for ticket prices, and will attempt to set a lower figure in response to campus demand. Definite prices will be announced Friday in El Gauchos.

Plans for attending the inter-fraternity formal dance which is to take place in the near future were made.

SIGMA ALPHA KAPPA

Alumni Ed Cole, former pledge captain and Jack Manson were guests at the Sigma Alpha Kappa meeting Monday night at the home of Captain Paul Jones, fraternity administrator.

Manson has been attending University of Southern California and Cole is at Claremont college.

Bill Lambourne presided over the meeting. It was decided that the fraternity dance would be held May 27, but the location is indefinite. Arrangements for participation in the intramural basketball tournament were discussed also.

TAU OMEGA

Tau Omega open house will be given February 1 at the home of Floyd Johnson. This is the first event of second semester fraternity rushing.

Tentative plans for a formal dance on May 27 were discussed at the fraternity meeting Monday night at the home of Dr. Walter Pruess, 7 East Valerio. Conway Edwards is in charge of planning the dance.

GAMMA SIGMA PI

Open house plans were discussed at the Gamma Sigma Pi meeting Monday night, but were not definitely arranged. Andy McIntyre, social chairman is in charge.

Reinhardt's 'Sister Beatrice' Opens Tomorrow Night at Lobero With Cast of Fifty

• Famed European producer Max Reinhardt brings his "Sister Beatrice" to Santa Barbara tomorrow night for a three performance run.

• Max Reinhardt's exquisite production of Maurice Maeterlack's "Sister Beatrice" will have a gala opening tomorrow night at Santa Barbara's Lobero theater. A cast of fifty, headed by Helen Thimig (Mrs. Max Reinhardt), celebrated European actress who is making her first appearance in America, and a chorus of singers will repeat the performance on Friday evening and Saturday afternoon.

"Sister Beatrice" is a mystic drama with intensely gripping climaxes. One of the great scenes of the play occurs at the moment when a statue of the Madonna, played by Mrs. Reinhardt, miraculously comes to life in the convent chapel to take the place of Beatrice, a nun who has succumbed to worldly temptation and escapes the convent walls.

Unlike the great spectacles for which Dr. Reinhardt is so famous in America and Europe, "Sister Beatrice" is presented in the technique of the "intimate" theater. American playgoers know Reinhardt's "The Miracle" and "A Midsummer Night's Dream" but few are acquainted with his successes at Salzburg, Berlin, and Vienna in the drama written for the intimate stage. In "Sister Beatrice" Pacific coast theater-goers will have their first opportunity of observing another phase of the Reinhardt genius.

The chorus is under the personal direction of Isaac Van Grove, a favorite of audiences at the Santa Barbara County bowl where he directed the symphony orchestra of the Summer Festival series.

The Lobero announces that it has established popular prices for the Reinhardt production of "Sister Beatrice" with special student rates at 83 cents.

Bruce LeClair Takes Position At Center

• Bruce Le Clair, former student teacher at State college, is now employed under Earl Plescia, supervisor, at the Community center as a director of recreation. An open invitation to the center is available to all students to play table tennis, archery, and badminton. In addition there are bridge classes, leather tooling, ship building, model railroad construction, chess and checkers.

A class in riding is instructed by Cyril Hannason, a State college student who is working for his B.A. Hannason knows the subject as he was born in Egypt and his father was a major in the British army there, serving under Kitchener in the Khartoum campaign.

Hannason gives some of the philosophy of riding. There are two groups, beginning and advanced. They meet each Sunday morning at the center and decide on the stable and ride for the morning. Fees are nominal for the ride. Two or more instructors are always with the groups. Later barbecues are planned for the riders.

By BERT POWERS

• Announcement that the Santa Barbara 20-30 club is getting behind the Gauchos casabateers is the latest of a number of encouraging items that have come pouring in to aid the cause of athletics in Gaucholand. The affair looks like a really well organized and well publicized effort to give Wee Willie's outfit a strong helping hand.

This isn't the only outfit that has been looking out for the well-being of the local musclemen. As was announced Friday a group of businessmen of the city have formulated plans for what we shall tentatively call the "Nugget Club." Its main function is to help the Hilltoppers in every way possible. It might be a good idea for students to show their appreciation by doing the same as these men are doing, support the teams. As a first step let's take in the program the 20-30 club has arranged for Saturday evening.

Two of the most outstanding football nuggets to check in this registration were Ernie Saenz and John Chadwick. These boys formed the greatest J.C. pass combination in the state, and were the backbone of Santa Monica's outfit. Incidentally, that outfit co-championed the western division of the J.C. league this year.

Another boy who looks plenty good is Balfour Gland, the star end from Los Angeles City college. Gland has had plenty of experience at pass snatching, and if he and Pickens hold down the end positions with Chadwick and Saenz in the backfield, it might mean the formation of a club that will bring home the bacon next fall.

Too bad the Gauchos had to drop the hoop battle with the Panthers. That makes the seventh of a series of games that the Wiltonmen have lost by a 2 point margin. No alibis intended but that small court certainly didn't help the Hilltopper passing and floor work.

Marlin Nelson's placing third in the duelling sword meet Friday night was really sumpin'. It qualifies him for the Pacific coast championships, which, by the way, will be plenty tough. Not that Friday's tournament was easy by any means. We know.

This intramural sport program should prove good entertainment these Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights. Willie Wilton and DeWitt Trehwitt seem to have lined up a nice schedule with plenty of competition. It will be worth following.

20-30 Club Sponsors Sport Fest

Cal Poly Meets Varsity; Frosh Plays City Stars

• Wee Willie Wilton's casabamen tangle with the Mustangs from Cal Poly Saturday night in the Flying A gym, topping a sports benefit program starting with Howie Yeager's frosh cage team meeting an all star congregation from the city league.

Sponsored by the Santa Barbara 20-30 club, the proceeds from the game will be split in half, one half to go to a basketball scholarship fund, and the remaining half to sponsor the annual boy scout swim meet to be held in the municipal pool in June. Bill Sears, varsity cager, is handling the campus sale. Admission will be 25 cents for students and 50 for adults, and following the last game, the floor will be cleared for dancing.

Two jackets will be offered by the 20-30 club, one to the best offensive and best defensive floor man. Both varsity and frosh squads will be eligible for these awards.

"This is the first time the club has got behind the school in an athletic event, and if student interest evidences enough appreciation, we will sponsor other programs of a similar nature," states R. K. Kaime, vice president of the organization and former director of public relations at State. "The idea of two games followed by the dance is an attempt to give Santa Barbara sports fans a full evening of entertainment under one roof."

Finder Seeks Owner Of Fraternity Pin

• An unknown Good Samaritan reports the finding of a fraternity or sorority pin off campus yesterday.

Unable to decipher the greek letters on the face of the emblem, the finder found the only distinguishing feature to be the initials K.P. on the back.

The pin may be recovered at 1336 Garden street, Apartment 5.

GaUCHO Ball Club Plays Tracy Squad

Baseballers Show Their Stuff in Pre-season Tilt at Cabrillo Field

• Pre-season preview of the boys likely to perform for the State baseball club will get underway Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. when the Gauchos All-Stars take on a strong Tracy's All-Star outfit on the Cabrillo diamond.

Coach Spud Harder, Gauchos mentor, will field a squad composed of Mickey Berman, first base; Eddie Markham, second; Don Ripsch, third; Jackie Fitzgerald, shortstop; Chuck Lugo, Jack Westfall, and Bob Stansbury, outfielders; Doc Wilson behind the bat, and either Gurdy "the great" Gardenhire, or Cliff Wrightson on the mound.

Berman Hurt

Lynn Graham, big boy from Compton J.C. has been playing the first sack in practice, and may be in there if port-sider Mickey Berman's injured hand does not respond to treatment.

Gene and Bill Lillard, famous ball-playing brothers, who have been keeping in shape by working out with the locals announced the Green team to be in fine fettle and ready to give any club a battle.

The Tracy All-Stars will feature many of Santa Barbara's popular horsehiders and promise a strong outfit.

Admittance to the game will be free of charge and a good crowd is expected to attend.

Akron university students have a new rating for their professor—h.p. h. (harumphs per hour). They've given their leather medal to Prof. Ross Stagner, for his record of 107 h.p.h. and 16 sniffs in one one-hour lecture.

Trehwitt Signs Ten Teams For Tournament

• First of the series of intramural cage playoffs to be held in the college gym will take place Tuesday, February 14, at 7 p.m., according to student manager DeWitt Trehwitt. Two games will be played every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday night from then on until the schedule is finished, which will take about five weeks. Teams will be given fifteen minutes from starting time to show up, after which their game will be declared forfeit.

Although registration for the event was declared closed Friday afternoon, if enough new teams signify their intention to register, a complete new schedule may be drawn up, according to Willie Wilton, varsity casaba coach and supervisor of the intramural program. Any team of six or more members is eligible to compete, provided that none of the players is a varsity or frosh award winner. If enough interest is shown, a trophy may be given the team winning the championships.

Ten teams have entered the competition so far, including Sigma Alpha Kappa, Beta Sigma Chi, Tau Omega, Gamma Sigma Pi, The Org, Weldwold, the frosh class and the soph class.

All officiating, timekeeping and scoring will be done by students of the advanced physical education classes. These games mark the start of what is hoped to be a comprehensive program embracing every field of sports, including boxing, fencing, track, badminton, touch football, ping pong and baseball. Although such a program was once in effect on this campus, interest for the past few years has been dormant.

According to Wilton, these activities are valuable in that they allow every man in the college to engage in athletic competition rather than the select few who find it possible to make the varsities. They also promote a greater interest in sports as a whole, strengthening and supporting the school teams far better than is otherwise possible.

Panthers Take Gauchos in Return Tilt

• Nosed out in a finish stolen from Sam Goldwyn, Santa Barbara State Gauchos basketballers dropped a 48-47 thriller to the Chapman Panthers Friday night on the winner's floor.

Leading at half-time, 27-23, the local boys were pointed for revenge of an earlier Chapman victory, when the Vermont avenue sharpshooters started sinking them from the center of the court, and the game see-sawed on even terms until the battle reached a climax in the last 20 seconds of play.

With Chapman holding a lead of one point, Paddy Caudillo, State forward, poised himself for a shot from mid-court while time-keeper raised his gun to fire. Gauchos fans held their breaths as Caudillo let fly with a looping toss that spun around the rim for endless moments and dropped out as the game ended.

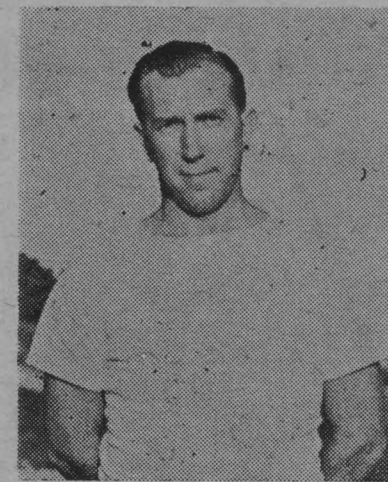

Lanky Joe Gendron, Panther forward, was high-point man with 15 points to his credit, while Larry Brewster, local center, closely followed with 13.

Sears, Gray, Hallen, Bailey, Russell and Guererro were other State men who saw action.

The Drake university student newspaper is having a lot of fun with its new "Foundation for Absent-Minded Professors." Qualifications for membership are something like this one pulled by Drake professor: He lectured for one hour to his senior domestic relations class on "evidence", a junior class subject.

They also promote a greater interest in sports as a whole, strengthening and supporting the school teams far better than is otherwise possible.

Happy . . . .

Gym Team to Meet San Jose Squad March 7

• Captain Don Brown takes his newly organized gym team to San Jose March 7 to compete for its first intercollegiate meet.

Although a gym club was organized last year, this will be the first competition, and Dr. Elmer Noble, gym mentor, has a good looking squad lined up. Brown and Redman "Beetle" Beatley, will be the mainstays of the outfit, both men competing on the parallel bars, horizontal bar, rings and tumbling, and also form the double man team.

Among the other men seeing action will be Jack Richards, tumbler, Bob Hall, rings, and Bert Stienen, parallel bars. Encouraging material is found in six new men reporting this semester who have worked around in the south for some time.

Anyone interested in gymnastics is urged to sign up for P.E. 160, gymnastics. The course will be taught by Brown under the supervision of Hal Davis, head of the physical education department, and will give a half unit of credit.

Meets Set For GaUCHO Tracksters

Locals to Tangle With Outstanding Coast Outfits

By JACK NEWMAN

• Candidates for Coach Irving Mather's varsity track aggregation peeled off their sweat suits and began initial workouts in preparation for the first track-fest to be held with Cal Tech March 11.

With present season schedule calling for meets with San Francisco, San Jose, San Diego and Fresno State, and plans in the fire for tussles with Compton J.C., Loyola and Pepperdine college, the Mathermen are taking their early workouts seriously and intend to be on the big end of the score in those battles.

Burt Price, Burdette Gandy, Bill McArthur, Bill Morgan, and Bill Peters have been lined up for the century, Bill Mosk and Larry Pickens will be good bets for top places in the 220, while fast times are expected of Mosk and Gandy in the 440 gallop.

Leatherlungers Bill Jessup, Russel Ericson, Ossie Walton and Larry Brewster look good for the half-mile, while George Soule, Fred Beckman and Bill Moody are set to step the mile.

Soule and Moody will also trudge the weary double mile along with Claus Pfitzner who has shown well in past performances.

High hurdle material is plentiful with Hal Fortress and Clyde Frishholz leading the way while Bill Cahill stands alone in the low hurdle spot.

Al Sprague, who holds the school record of 184 feet 10 inches in the javelin will have to look to his honors as Cahill is set for this event also.
