

1500 ENROLL FOR SPRING TERM

New Registration System Inaugurated

Approximately 100 new students will register this week, Acting Registrar L. F. Walton announced today. With allowances made for the 141 spring graduates and the normal drop in enrollment in the spring, the total registration figure is expected to reach 1500, a drop of 150 from the fall semester.

Rather than indicating an alarming drop in enrollment, this figure indicates that registration totals are tending to level off. The lush post war days and the heavy draft calls of more recent years were both abnormal periods and officials are of the opinion that enrollment has reached its normal figure.

A new registration procedure will see its inception this semester. The new system is designed to relieve congestion and facilitate the registration chore for both students and faculty.

Most important change in the registration procedure is the centralized enrollment in classes. By this system a student may sign up for classes by departments. Each department will have a station at which a student may enroll in all classes in that department without the tedious process of visiting each individual instructor. Information as to the location of the departmental stations is posted in the quad.

To aid in avoiding congestion, a dagger has been placed in the class schedule to inform students of the classes in which enrollment on Feb. 15 is required. The absence of a dagger opposite a class in the schedule indicates a departmental agreement to accept all students for enrollment on the first meeting of that class.

Mr. Walton pointed out that it is not necessary to register and pay fees before consulting advisors. He urged all students to consult advisors on Wednesday and Thursday before embarking on the registration procedure. An advising card must be turned in for each student. The advisors' recommendations are not compulsory, but if the student wishes to deviate from the recommended program he must file a signed statement with the Registrar's Office accepting full responsibility.

An information desk, maintained by the Associated Women Students, will be placed on the lawn in front of the Men's Gym during registration on Thursday. This table will be moved to the head of the stairs in the Quad during class enrollment on Friday.

The new registration system is the result of many consultations between the Registrar and faculty and student officers. It is hoped that the process of registration, so often a source of confusion and fatigue in the past, will thus be made easier.

'Madwoman of Chaillot' Next Drama Offering

The next dramatic production of the Associated Students will be "The Madwoman of Chaillot." An outstanding hit on Broadway two seasons ago, Giradoux's comedy has already established itself as a solid favorite on college campuses. Last year more than twenty productions were given in college theatres.

The Santa Barbara production, to be given at the Lobero Theatre April 3, 4, 5, will tax local facilities and personnel to a maximum since there are nearly forty people in the cast. Director Theodore Hatlen is especially anxious to uncover new talent for this play. Reading tryouts will be held at the end of February and are open to all students of the college. Scripts are available at the present time in the Speech office—Oak Hall 4.

DR. WILBUR R. JACOBS
Acting Dean of Men

Dr. Jacobs Appointed Acting Dean of Men

Dr. Wilbur R. Jacobs, assistant professor of history, has been named acting Dean of Men at the college, it was announced recently by Provost J. Harold Williams.

In filling this position, in addition to his academic program of conducting classes, Dr. Jacobs is handling the work of Dean Lyle G. Reynolds, who has been granted a sabbatical leave to work on his doctorate at Stanford University. The appointment of Dr. Jacobs was approved at a meeting of the Regents in San Francisco.

Dr. Jacobs, who has for some time assisted in counseling in the Dean of Men's Office, has been on the staff of Santa Barbara College since July, 1949.

A specialist in early American History, he has written numerous articles and books on research which he has conducted in the Colonial and the American Revolutionary period.

TIPS FOR VETERANS

1. All veterans under benefits will register on Thursday, Feb. 14, in the Auditorium between 8:00 and 12:00 a.m.

2. New or transferring veterans must present proper authorization certificates in registration line, unless these papers have been filed in the Office of the Dean of Men. If veterans do not have these certificates, they must pay fees and be reimbursed later.

3. Veterans under P. L. 346 and P. L. 16 should purchase all required books and supplies at the beginning of the semester, even though these may not be needed until late in the semester. If books are not available at this time, students should check with the Bookstore frequently in order to procure them as soon as they are received. The deadline for purchases is March 14.

4. It is necessary to show your identification card at the Bookstore to make purchases, so be sure to have it with you at all times.

Draft Deferments Harder to Get Now

Students may have to work harder than ever to obtain draft deferments, according to the Dean of Men's Office. Normally, draft boards require that a student carry a full load before they will consider him for deferment. University officials consider 12 units to be a minimum full-time program, but it appears that some Selective Service boards will not give consideration to deferment requests based on a 12 unit program.

The Dean pointed out that students registered with Selective Service must realize that the final decision as to whether a registrant is a full-time student rests solely with the local draft board and not with the University. The law Selective

DEAN OF WOMEN, DEAN OF MEN OFFER WELCOME

We are always happy to open our doors to new students. Our chief hope is that you will find avenues of self-development through many experiences available at this college, and that you will utilize them fully.

You will find both faculty and students friendly and helpful. Do not be shy; ask questions and you will soon find yourselves part of the college family.

We hope returning students are ready to start on a new semester with attainable goals in mind and are ready to profit further from your opportunities here. Let us know if we can help you in any way, scholastically, socially, with employment or loans, or scholarships, vocationally or personally. We are interested in each of you and are always pleased when we can listen to you and help you enjoy your college.

Helen E. Sweet,
Dean of Women

At the beginning of this new semester I am happy to extend a welcome to all Santa Barbara College students, especially the newcomers to this branch of the University of California. The University, founded in 1868 by an act of the State Legislature, is one of the most eminent educational institutions in the world. In 1944 Santa Barbara College, a former state college, was incorporated into the University family. Santa Barbara College is a branch of the state-wide institution, and it assumes the responsibility of doing its part to maintain the enviable record in scholarship and achievement set by the University as a whole. You new students are now a part of the state university, and we urge you to pursue your studies with enthusiasm and diligence.

The Dean of Men's Office extends a friendly invitation to all new men students to visit our office. We can give you accurate information concerning the numerous facilities and opportunities of the college. We would also like to assist you in finding solutions for problems you might have. We are ready to help you at any time. Do not delay in paying us a visit when you have a difficulty. On many occasions we have been able to extend real help to a student, especially when the problem is met before it grows in magnitude.

The University, by working through a special Manpower Committee and by cooperating with selective service boards, can assist in the deferment of qualified students. We can also give you aid in understanding academic requirements and University procedures. Experienced Gauchos and newcomers are urged to take advantage of our facilities. Good luck in your work at Santa Barbara College.

Wilbur R. Jacobs,
Acting Dean of Men

HOWDY DANCE SLATED FOR WEDNESDAY NITE

The spring semester's social program gets off to an early start Wednesday night with the traditional Howdy Day dance at the Carrillo Auditorium.

Social Chairman Jack Mertz announced that the dance will take place immediately after the Gaucho-Cal Poly basketball game Wednesday night and will continue for two hours.

Music will be provided by Chazz Copeland and his Orchestra. Admission is 25c per person.

La Cumbre Production Running Smoothly

In sharp contrast to the situation of exactly one year ago, the production of La Cumbre is running comparatively smoothly. Two major deadlines have been met, so that at the present time, approximately thirty per cent of the book is completed.

A major sales campaign will be held during registration week, with orders for the book being taken in the lines, as well as in the Graduate Manager's Office. The price of the book is $4.00; a student may have his copy mailed to him by paying an additional fifty cents to cover postage. During the campaign, sample copies of the cover will be on display on various parts of the campus.

The picture, however, is not entirely rosy. Although it is most likely that the book will appear in its completed state on June 1, not all of the students are giving full cooperation to the staff. Some groups have not yet turned in their copy. Organizations should remember that at least one of the editors has a rather nasty sense of humor, and that just about anything might appear in a space left blank by a forgetful group.

At this time, only 250 graduates have had their pictures taken for La Cumbre. This is also true of a few members of various organizations. The deadline for the making of these appointments (before the end of the Fall semester) will be extended only to include registration week.

The students should be aware of the fact that the staff will be able to meet both printer's and engraver's deadlines only if they receive full cooperation of the entire Student Body. If deadlines are not met, the book will of necessity be later in its completion.

Fraternities, Sororities Begin Spring Rushing Activities with Open Houses

Interfraternity Council of Santa Barbara College invites all prospective rushees for the spring semester to sign up for the rushing program at the desk provided in the registration line. During registration day, members of the Greek organizations will be on duty at the IFC table in the Dean of Men's line to answer any question, and give information on the fraternity set up here at Santa Barbara College.

Thursday and Friday evenings IFC will conduct a series of open house tours which will visit each of the nine fraternities on campus. Students wishing to join these open house tour groups will meet at the foot of the library steps at 6:45 p.m. on Thursday and Friday evenings. Transportation and guides will be provided. The open houses will spend a half hour at each of the fraternity houses, and members of the organization will conduct tours of their homes, and answer any questions concerning their organizations.

Fraternities play an integral part in the life of Santa Barbara College, and all students who are not members of a Greek organization are urged to investigate the advantages fraternities offer the student.

Provost, ASB Prexy Extend Welcome to UCSBC Students

As the spring semester opens, I am pleased to extend a hearty welcome to our new and returning students. This should be one of our most attractive spring seasons, after the abundant rainfall, and we may look forward to the results of that abundance. Especially may we be grateful for our beautiful location, and for the pleasant and cultural atmosphere of the Santa Barbara Community.

Santa Barbara College is still in process of evolution. Although just now we are not growing rapidly in numerical size, we are growing significantly in educational magnitude, through some of the most careful planning that has taken place in any college. Our new campus is being prepared, and all signs point to an altogether satisfactory development.

The success of a college depends largely upon the interests and attitudes of its students. Our student organization merits your support and full participation. I hope you will find in it an opportunity to do your part in building for a successful future.

J. Harold Williams,
Provost

With the opening of the Spring Semester 1952, I should like to extend a cordial welcome on behalf of the Associated Students—welcome to the many new students, and of course, "welcome home" to the old-timers.

We're looking forward to an outstanding semester, packed with plenty of fun as well as study. The calendar is already filled with the traditional Santa Barbara Coast Carnival, Spring Sing, Roadrunner Revue, Santa Barbara Relays, and many other athletic, musical, dramatic, and social events.

Full participation on the part of the student body—both in planning and supporting—will insure the success of our ambitious program.

Here's hoping that every newcomer will make himself at home at Santa Barbara College, and that the coming months will be memorable ones for all of us.

CAL CLUB CONVENES HERE FOR ANNUAL SPRING CONVENTION

Over a hundred members of California Club converged on Santa Barbara last weekend for the organization's annual spring convention. Arriving by train and automobile, the Cal Clubbers engaged in a full round of activities which began Thursday and ended Saturday.

Delegations from Los Angeles, Berkeley, Davis and San Francisco joined the Santa Barbara members in the convention.

The opening session took place at the college cafeteria at 7 p.m. Thursday. Jim Stanley, chairman of the Santa Barbara chapter, welcomed the visiting members. Chapter reports were given by Bill Kohlmoos, Davis; Carlos Cabrero, San Francisco; Sue Howell, Berkeley; Marcia Borie, Los Angeles, and Stanley.

Garff B. Wilson, state coordinator, then gave his report.

After breakfast at the cafeteria Friday morning, the members separated into seminars for the remainder of the morning. Seminars included all-university events, alumni, hospitality, inter-campus information, MacClise Fund and presidential ceremonies.

A meeting of student body presidents and vice-presidents was held in the AWS room at 3:15. The chapter advisors, Robert Allard of Davis, Herbert Johnstone of San Francisco, Garff Wilson of Berkeley and Charles Speroni of Los Angeles met at the home of Dr. Stephen Goodspeed, Santa Barbara advisor.

Saturday's activities included the general session meeting at Pine Hall 100.

A banquet was held at the Montecito Country Club. Speeches from Cal Club chairmen and presentation of keys to new members occupied the after-dinner period. A farewell party at the Sigma Pi house then took up the remainder of the evening.

A final breakfast at the Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority house concluded the convention and the delegates took off for their respective home campuses.

EL GAUCHO STAFF MEETS WEDNESDAY

There will be a meeting of all old staff members of El Gaucho in the El Gaucho office Wednesday at 12 noon. Plans for the coming semester and suggestions for improvement will be discussed.

Prospective new members are requested to meet in the El Gaucho office at 12:30 on Wednesday. No previous experience is necessary. Positions are open in all departments, including news, feature, society and sports.

El Gaucho

University of California, Santa Barbara College
BOB ALFORD, Editor

Editorial

Unlike most other college newspapers, El Gaucho's primary problem is a lack of personnel. The majority of college editors can concern themselves with questions of policy, promotions, style, and the other more absorbing facets of putting out a newspaper.

These latter considerations must necessarily become of secondary importance when the editor's time is taken up by recruiting and in persuading the few students who do show up to continue as staff members.

That, apparently, is exactly what the editor of El Gaucho has had to do, at least in more recent years.

The situation at Santa Barbara College is peculiar. Perhaps it is the influence of the city of Santa Barbara, whose tiled roofs, beautiful harbor, sunny weather and preponderance of septagenarians produce an aura of apathy. Perhaps lethargy is traditional here on the hill.

Whatever the reason, SBC students are seemingly disinterested in extra-curricular activities. They remain stoical at basketball games, ignore student politics and remain oblivious to the opportunities offered by the student publications.

But that apathy is certainly beyond censure. No one can quarrel with a student if he prefers to bypass extra-curricular activities. That is his own business. It is not within the province of the editor to castigate the disinterested student.

However, it must be stated, for the record, that the college newspaper is only as good as the people who labor at putting it out. The fewer writers, the weaker the paper.

El Gaucho has become the target for widespread criticism in recent years. The Gaucho student body has adopted a deprecating attitude toward it and considered it a logical target for abusive brickbats.

This is hardly reasonable. The student newspaper is only as good as the student body makes it and El Gaucho has been only as good as the student body deserved.

It has also become standard practice for the faculty to speak of El Gaucho in sneering tones. Without having the remotest idea of the problems involved, some members of the faculty deigned to belittle the efforts of the handful of students who gave of their time to produce the paper. They made little or no effort to encourage participation in its production.

Let it be repeated that it is not the privilege of the editor to scold either the student body or the faculty for their disinterest.

But neither is it the privilege of these same students and faculty members to vocalize their displeasure at the paper.

As it was stated above, the paper was only as good as the student body deserved.

Everyone has an opportunity to make El Gaucho a better newspaper. Students with any interest in journalism can help by doing a little work. Faculty members can help by beginning to channel talent in this direction.

Student council can help by enhancing the respect paid the newspaper and its staff by recognizing the importance of the paper. Santa Barbara College is one of the few campuses in California where the editor of the college newspaper is not a member of the student government.

At any rate, if the apathy toward student activities continues, if students continue to show no interest in improving El Gaucho, then the criticism is out of place.

There is an announcement elsewhere in this issue indicating how prospective reporters and editorial workers can apply for positions on El Gaucho. This will be the last exhortation on the part of the editor. There will be no repetition of the situation of last semester when the editor had to practically beg people to come work on El Gaucho.

But this is also a notice that the unthinking attitude which has existed heretofore will be looked upon with the contempt which it deserves.

FRATERNITY RUSHEES MEET ON THURSDAY

All men interested in fraternity rushing are invited to attend an orientation meeting for all prospective rushees which will be held in Ridge Hall 100 at 4:30 on Thursday, registration day.

Featured speakers will include Dr. Wilbur Jacobs, Dean of Men, and Dr. George Hall, a graduate fraternity member, and now rector at All Saints by the Sea church in Montecito.

GERRY COX IS CAL POLY QUEEN

Gerry Cox, Santa Barbara College coed, recently was named Cal Poly's Royal Queen to reign over the Mustangs' 20th annual "country fair" April 25-26. Miss Cox became the 18th queen of the traditional Poly spring celebration.

The five-foot, five-inch, blue-eyed blonde was Homecoming Queen at Santa Barbara College last fall. She is a junior speech major from Escondido.

Since Cal Poly is non-coeducational, the 2200-member student body asked eight small colleges to enter their homecoming queens in a special contest. Miss Cox was picked from among the eight entrants to rule over the spring festivities.

Don Perry, general superintendent of Poly Royal, presented Miss Cox to the student body at a dance February 2. A large contingent of Poly students turned out to welcome her.

133 Santa Barbara College ROTC Cadets Get Draft Deferments Under New Ruling

More than 68 per cent of the ROTC cadets at Santa Barbara College of the University of California are deferred from the draft under the new ruling by the Department of Army Deferment Agreements, Lt. Col. Richard W. Mabee, commandant of the College ROTC unit, announced last night.

Out of an enrollment of 195 cadets, 133 are deferred from induction into the Armed Forces until the completion of their College Programs.

Students signing up are deferred from the draft in exchange for agreeing to serve, if called, as an officer for two years after graduation and to remain in the reserve for six years.

The deferment agreement enables the student to complete his education, qualify for a commission, and, if called, go on active duty as an officer instead of a private, Col. Mabee said.

It was pointed out that under the new Universal Military Training and Service Act, the requirement of two years active duty followed by six years on reserve status is applicable to all able bodied men between the ages of 18½ and 26. It is not a requirement placed on ROTC students only.

Before being permitted to sign a deferment agreement, a student must fulfill all physical, mental, and character standards for the ROTC Advanced Course, and for eventual commission. If he satisfies these requirements, his academic and other qualifications are further weighed by a board of three faculty members, two of which are on the ROTC staff.

TRAVEL-WEARY GAUCHOS MEET POLY WEDNESDAY

Santa Barbara College's battle-weary basketball team takes the court of the Santa Barbara High School gym Wednesday night to play the Cal Poly Mustangs in a CCAA game. Game time is 8 p.m.

The Gauchos returned to Santa Barbara Saturday after a wearisome five-game invasion of the midwest. Coach Hop Findlay's cagers dropped four of the five games against the midwesterners and showed signs of fatigue toward the end of the trek.

The Santa Barbarans started out the intersectional battles by absorbing a 94-53 trouncing at the hands of the flashy Beloit Indians in Beloit, Wisc. The Gauchos showed the effects of their long plane trip as they faded in the last half after holding the hosts within striking distance during the first two quarters.

The next stop on the trip was at Lake Forest, Ill., where the Gauchos hooked up with Lake Forest College in a thriller. The Santa Barbarans suffered a heartbreaking 58-57 defeat when Lake Forest Guard Norm Berglund potted a free throw with a little over a minute left in the game. The loss was all the more disappointing because the Gauchos had come back from a third quarter deficit of 51-43 to put on a stirring last period rally, sparked by Lloyd Heavin. But it was all for nothing as the hosts broke the tie and froze the ball in the final minute.

The Gauchos played what Findlay termed "the game of the year" in the third game, against Concordia in St. Louis only to lose once more, 65-58. It was again a story of a late Gauchito rally falling short. Don Bradshaw led the losers with a 16-point performance in that game. Marv Dennis had 15.

The travelling Gauchos finally broke into the winning column the next night when they saddled the Emporia (Kan.) Teachers with a 69-65 defeat. With Heavin and Allan Jacobs setting the pace the Gauchos drew out to a 36-21 lead at the end of the first half. But the Kansans put on a rally in the third quarter and pulled to within 10 points of the tiring Gauchos midway through the fourth period. But the Santa Barbarans held on and won the victory. Heavin led the Gauchito scoring with 19 points, followed by Jacobs with 14 and Bradshaw with 13.

Then on Thursday night the Gauchos moved to Ft. Hays, Kan., for a game with Ft. Hays State College and received for their fourth defeat of the tour, 71-50. By this time the Gauchos were dead tired and ran out of gas in the final quarter. They were within four points of the foe at 34-30 in the third quarter, but fell back under a rally put on by the hosts. Jacobs, with 13 points, and Dennis, with 10, led the losing Gauchito cause.

LLOYD HEAVIN will lead the Gauchito basketball team in search of their first CCAA victory against Cal Poly Wednesday night at the Santa Barbara High School gym. Heavin is the leading Gauchito scorer.

DIABLO'S GREEN LEADS CCAA CAGE SCORERS

Los Angeles State's Dick Green led scorers in the CCAA basketball race, official statistics revealed.

The big Diablos' center, a second-year man, has netted 68 points in four games for an average of 17 per game.

Dick Alvord, Pepperdine's veteran forward, jumped into second place recently by virtue of a big weekend against Cal Poly and San Diego State. He potted 30 points against the Mustangs and followed it up with a 19-point performance against the Aztecs. That gives him 67 points in four games for a 16.7 average.

Top scorer in CCAA games for the Gauchos is Marv Dennis, who has scored 31 points in three conference games for an average of 10.3.

Carter Takes Part In Coaches Clinic

Nick Carter, Santa Barbara College track coach, joined a group of fellow mentors in a series of panel discussions at Mt. San Antonio College on Feb. 4. Carter participated in the panels which were a part of the annual MSAC mid-winter track and field coaches clinic.

He joined Payton Jordan, Occidental; Ducky Drake, UCLA; Jack O'Brien, Los Angeles Dorsey High School; Walter Smith, Compton College on the panel.

Jess Mortenson, USC, discussed the sprints and quarter mile and Jack Weirhauser, Stanford, led the discussion on the broad jump and high jump.

Jack Mashin, Grossmont High School, spoke on the problems of the beginning shotputter.

More than 200 coaches took part in the clinic.

BUCK-A-MONTH CLUB COMMITTEE PICKS ALL-TIME GAUCHO FOOTBALL ELEVEN

Gauchito Buck-A-Month Club recently announced its all-time Santa Barbara College football team, selected from the gridiron stars who played for the Gauchos from 1922 to 1941.

The all-star selections were made by a committee of 15 long-time Gauchito fans selected by the Buck-A-Month Club.

Post-war football greats were not considered because the Club was fearful fading memories would favor players who played most recently.

Dominating the dream squad were nine members of the powerful 1935 and 1936 teams which are conceded to be the best in Santa Barbara College history.

At ends on the mythical eleven were big Dan Mulock and Al (Jung) Young. Mulock was one of the greatest defensive wingmen ever to play for the Gauchos. Young, a 6 ft. 5 in. giant, won the nomination chiefly for his brilliance as a pass receiver.

At tackles were 215-pound Willis (Tiny) McCullough and Marvin (King Kong) Palmer. Both were powerful, fundamentally strong linemen with terrific charges. Palmer was killed in action during World War II in the Burma theater. He was an Army Air Corps pilot.

There was virtually no disagreement on the choice for guards.

Doug Oldershaw and George (Greek) Valos are both remembered as perfect prototypes of Rockne-type "watch-charm guards." Oldershaw won Little All-American honors twice and went on to a professional gridiron career with the New York Giants. He made the National League All-Pro team his first year out.

Don (Donk) Hart, a legendary campus personality, as well as an outstanding football player, won the nod for the center position on a line that averages 212 pounds. Hart was best known for his blocking and line-backing abilities.

The backfield is one any major league coach would give his last scholarship for.

Dave Pollack, now a Navy Commander aboard the USS Valley Forge, was selected as team quarterback. A heady, cocksure youngster when he reported to Coach Spud Harder in 1935, he had played guard in high school. Harder sized him up, liked his confident air, and Pollack became a brilliant sophomore quarterback.

The much disputed halfback posts went to fabulous Howard Yeager and little Bob (Scooter) Morelli. Teammates on the 1935-36-37 Gauchito elevens, they were unstoppable running out of Harder's double-wing offense.

As a sophomore, rubber-legged Yeager won honorable mention on Grantland Rice's All-American team and twice was named to the Little All-American first team. In 1936, perhaps his greatest year, he averaged 10.7 yards per carry and scored 78 points to become the highest scorer on the Pacific Coast.

Morelli, now head of the physical education department at Santa Barbara's Catholic High, was a virtual jack rabbit. He got the name of "Scooter" because he seemed to run half the time with one hand touching the ground. His three-point balance looked like a youngster riding a scooter.

At fullback was Harold Sanderson, whose knock-kneed stride was very like Kenny Washington, the former UCLA star. Sanderson was, in Harder's opinion, one of the best punters ever to play for the Gauchos.

Unaccountably, he used to be able to quick kick farther than he could given time and protection. His longest kick, still a UCSBC record, was in 1935 against Occidental. The Oxy Tigers had been stopped on the Gauchito 12-yard-line and Sandy was booting from his own goal line. The ball went out of bounds on the Oxy 12, a kick of 88 yards.

The Buck-A-Monthers' second team is as filled with talent and anecdotes as the first string. In many cases, first team selection was by the narrow margin of one or two votes.

At ends were Al Sprague, a strong defensive and offensive player, and Larry Pickens, one of the College's best scholar-athletes. A 6 ft. 3 in. 204-pounder, Pickens could run the 100 yard dash in 10.1.

Earl Fredburg and Ed (Doc) Larson won out in the tackle voting. A 240-pound giant, Fredburg was a vicious defensive player. Larson was only 210 but equally rugged and a punishing opponent.

Second string guard posts went to Mel Dennis, another scholar-athlete, and John (Pudgy) Twadell. In addition to his pigskin prowess, Dennis is remembered as a boy who could speak five languages and as a hot trumpet player. Both Twadell and Dennis were unerring tacklers.

Barely nosed out by Hart for first-string center was Blynn Wilson, one of the Gauchos' all-time great linebackers. He was an outstanding student and is now completing work for a doctor's degree at USC.

At quarterback the votes went to Lorenzo (Pinky) Greeson, who played on the 1931 and 1932 teams. A foxy field general, Greeson is now Chief of Police in Reno, Nevada.

Jim Anderson and Bill McArthur were the top halfbacks on this team. Anderson, who played in 1924-25-26, earned 15 letters out of a possible 16. He also held the school 100-yard dash record of 9.9 and used that speed smartly on the football field. McArthur played with the Chicago Rockets professional team following the war.

Fullback was Forrest Gardenhire, who came to Santa Barbara from Lindsay, California. Harder still remembers watching Gardenhire scoring 77 points in one high school game. He was a great passer and kicker as well as a line buckler.

Student Council Communique

The Associated Students constitution is now in the last stages of proposed revision in preparation for the general student body vote in the first week of March.

The reasons for this revision have been due to numerous student requests and the opinion of the Legislative Council that the many inconsistencies, misconceptions, and grammatical errors need changing. So it is with these points in mind that the Constitution Revision Committee has set forth to correct these blinding errors.

In the Spring of 1949 practically a whole new constitution was formed, since the school government was becoming more complex. It was thought that the constitution would suffice for future years, but in the haste to include new ideas and policies, many ambiguities and inconsistencies resulted. And so we find that times have again changed a little with emphasis of student government upon different phases than before.

For the past two months the Legislative Council has passed upon various policies that are desired for inclusion into the revised constitution. These policies were set in order that the Constitution Revision Committee be able to facilitate the progress on the revisions by knowing the basic opinions of the Legislative Council. And by the end of this week, the policies will have been presented, debated, and either passed or failed, according to the views of the majority of the Legislative Council.

After the basic reformulation of the constitution has been completed, the form will be presented to a faculty member of the Political Science Department so that any possible inconsistencies or errors will be detected before the completed revision is presented to the Associated Students for voting.

During the week of Registration of the Spring Semester, the Legislative Council, voting and non-voting members, will go into seclusion for a day of final hashing and voting upon the final draft of the revised constitution.

The purpose of this general summary of the activities that have taken place on the constitution revision is to make all students and faculty aware of just what has taken place and what will take place on this much-needed change in the Associated Students Constitution. It is with the thought that everyone on this campus realize that the Legislative Council is endeavoring to create a constitution that will be lasting in its effectiveness.

Spurs, National Soph Women's Honorary, Celebrates Thirtieth Birthday This Week

Spurs, national sophomore women's honorary organization, celebrates its thirtieth birthday Thursday.

On February 14, 1922, the women in Mortar Board at Montana State College saw the need for such an organization, and thus founded Spurs.

These first members were selected on a basis of activities and school spirit. From its beginning Spurs has grown in national scope and strength until it now has spread its service to eleven states and includes 23 schools.

The purpose of the organization is to promote school spirit and support all activities in which the student body participates, to foster among the women of the college a spirit of loyalty and helpfulness, and to uphold all the traditions of the college. The Spurs motto is "At Your Service."

The emblem is the spur, which refers to an ancient custom in conferring the accolade. This was done by giving a slight stroke of the sword upon the head or shoulder of the kneeling suppliant. Golden spurs were then presented to the knights as an emblem of knighthood. This was an exceedingly high honor, which could be won only through years of earnest endeavor, or by some great deed of service to mankind.

The Spurs chapter at Santa Barbara became a part of the national organization in February, 1948, when the girls were initiated at Redlands University. The group had formerly been Las Espuelas, a local sophomore honorary. The name was Spanish for "The Spurs," and was patterned after the national organization.

Qualifications for membership in Spurs include interest and participation in college activities, dependability, and a 1.5 grade average. Members are chosen at the close of the Spring semester each year.

In commemoration of Founders Day this year the Spurs have set up a display in the Quad, showing highpoints in the history of the organization.
