HISPANIC MEET SET

ONE ACT PLAYS JULY 25-27
OFFERED FREE ON CAMPUS

Three Mexican folk plays, "Sunday Costs Five Pesos," "The Ring of General Macias," and "Tooth or Shave," will be presented by the UCSBC Summer Theater Workshop on July 25, 26 and 27 at 8:30 p.m. in the campus Little Theater, located near Santa Rosa Hall adjoining the Home Economics building. Admission is free.

The author of the plays, Josephina Niggli, comes from northern Mexico. Her characters contain the essentials of any Mexican small town folk attitude towards life. Her one-act plays are noted for their popular, clean-cut dialogue, and innocent plot.

Two of the plays are comedies and one is a melodrama which takes place during the Mexican Revolution. The production is under the supervision of Dr. Theodore Hatlen, associate professor of speech.
