S.F. State Strike Renewal Demanded

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Black Student Union leaders threw San Francisco State College into new turmoil yesterday, demanding that all classes be shut down immediately and calling for the renewal of the strike they began November 6. Violence and vandalism by the small group of strikers caused President Robert D. Smith to close the campus last week, but it was reopened Wednesday on orders of the State College Trustees.

Today, at the second session of a "crisis convocation" called by the faculty to discuss the school's problems, the Negro leaders and members of the Third World Liberation Front demanded that Smith close all classes at once.

MINORITY OF FACULTY
Smith replied that this was "an effort by a minority of faculty and students to get the President to enforce a general strike."* Larry Goodwin, leader of the Black Student Union, interrupted saying, "I want a yes or no answer." Goodwin then walked off the auditorium stage with about a dozen non-white students.

Jules Grossman, psychology professor and moderator of the convention, announced a recess until the afternoon.

Quickly Black Student Union leaders called an outdoor rally of about 500 persons and announced, "The strike is on." They waved signs reading, "On Strike" and "Get R. D. Out!"

Most students attended the all-day discussion meeting or watched it on closed circuit televisions in classrooms.

P.E. ATTENDANCE BEST
Today, as the talking went on, Smith said best attendance was in the physical education and the business departments, but he had no figures. Other sources described attendance as spotty.

Smith said the Academic Senate had asked him to suspend classes during the discussions, but he refused and responded with his request for a vote of confidence.

He urged students to attend the convocation between classes.

The campus was crowded but quiet.

The campus disorders begin when State College Chancellor Glenn Danke ordered Smith to suspend教师 and Black Punter, George Murphy for allegedly enforcing black students to bring weapons on campus to defend themselves. After a short hesitation, Smith acceded, leading to the BSU strike on Nov. 6.

Increasing political awareness and maturity on the part of 18-year-olds, the increased power of all levels of government on all levels to legally recognize this fact, has resulted in the formation of the Santa Barbara Committee to Lower the Voting Age, a non-partisan group.

According to chairman Bob Watson, the Santa Barbara Committee will be the focal point and communication center for this voter drive. It will be the leading force behind the formation of branch committees throughout the state, many on other college campuses, Watson emphasized that there has to be a voter drive. "Our meeting with them the day before, the third time, was encouraging and they made some number of suggestions as to ways we might take in pursuing this matter and putting it before the California voters on the ballot," said Watson.

The exact content of the letter has not been disclosed at this time. When asked if the conference was a success, Crenshaw replied, "We consider it to be a success. Whether the proposals are a success depends on their implementation." Council is still seeking a more complete financial breakdown of the conference, as the Associated Students allocated $450 to the BSU to cover the cost of feeding the delegations. Leg Council voted to join the National Student Association, discussed considering membership during previous sessions raised some argument because the NSA has taken political action.

In the midst of bursting "Blue Rock" and Hickory-smoked salmon, UCSB's newly innovated Fowl, Fin and Antler Club completed its third outdoor event this quarter with a combination clay-bird trap shoot and salmon barbecue, November 17, at Tecolote (Owl) Canyon.

Attempting to comply with one of their basic goals of hunting and fishing as often as possible, Gaucho hunting and fishing enthusiasts have already participated in a local bounty and bottom fishing expedition off Naples Reef and were found hunting quail on November 3 near Gorman.

Bob Reed, club president, stated that upcoming events include additional local hunting and fishing ventures and a duck hunt near the Oregon border over Christmas vacation, December 11–20.

Presently in the planning stages is a clay-sponsorship "clay-dropping" competition against UCLA's hunting and fishing club at Pismo Beach, California. Reed concluded by urging all interested outdoorsmen to attend the next Fowl, Fin and Antler Club meeting to be held on Monday, November 25, at 7:00 p.m. in building 414-128.

'The Odd Couple' Returns to the LOBO Theatre Tonight and will be repeated Saturday night. This hilarious comedy, which ran for eight sell-out performances last year, is being presented with essentially the same cast. All of the six men, Larry B. Williams, Alex Sanger, Frank Cox as Felix, and Arthur W. (Hank) Underwood, Leigh Whitney, Bob Barber and James Bottoms, as the poker players, are from last year's show. The new members are June Leedham and May Smith as the English Pipean sisters.

The plot concerns two divorced men who share an apartment. One is very sloppy and the other is extra neat. Their effect on each other and on their friends provides the laughs.

Dr. Frank Fowler is directing for Val Verde, Santa Barbara Productions, Ed Layport, who appeared in "Gallows Humor" and "The Crucible" on campus while a student here, is producing stage manager.

No kidding. That's what Frank has titled his newest Budweiser TV special. (Would an Old Scout tell you a falsehood?)

And Sinatra's thing, as always, is excitement. See him. Hear him. Tune in . . .

Five Years: Have We Learned Anything?

Reflections on Seale
By Tibor Machan

Bobby Seale spoke here last Tuesday, though I can't say that Bobby Seale said very much that hasn't been said much better by others before him.

The point I am trying to make, and the point most important about the fact that he spoke here, is that this is evident to someone who has lived under conditions Seale claims the United States suffers from today. He told us that he doesn't like it here, and that this country's political institutions and representatives are driving him to defend himself not only through the ballot but also with bullet

We have, therefore, learned Bobby Seale's point of view: all those who do not see matters his way are his enemies without further discussion of the matter. Since there is no legitimate political authority in existence in the US, those who are with him may use all means to defend themselves against others. This may entail minor disturbances or mass slaughter.

Mr. Seale cannot afford to enter into discussion -- his case has no basis in justice, morality, or law, as presented, and since all these are matters commonly handled in discussion, Seale cannot afford to discuss them. His tactic is to define for himself what he is entitled to, and if he isn't getting all it, that justifies his taking what he wants as "defensive" or "retribution" action -- not aggression. If Bobby Seale demands half of California, his move to take it is thus considered a defensive move.

The tragedy of it all is that almost half of what Seale was talking about was true. Some of his historical points, some of his indictment of America's culture, and some of his remarks concerning the subtleties of prejudice were, of course, to the point. Yet all was lost in pointless denouncements, unjustified accusations, name-calling, and the general tenor of irrationality.

It was a waste of valuable time, saved only by the end to which the money collected is to contribute. One would hope that Nira can be saved without having to go through the ravings of a smart but slightly ossified rhetorician.

Our Sympathies

In the light of your belated recognition of certain minority groups my wife and I feel somewhat slighted by the lack of coverage of our group's activities. As a member of the minority group of married students on this campus we deplore the inattention of the EL GAUCHO to such happenings as: bridge games, teas, anniversaries, Dames meetings, and babysitting.

Last January the Santa Barbara News-Press covered the birth of our son, Peter, while the EL GAUCHO neglected to even mention the whole blessed event, though in the married community it held particular significance and for this reason should have been mentioned in a paper which we feel support.

If this affront against our group continues, we will be forced to request that the part of our fees which supports EL GAUCHO be channeled into a fund handled in discussion, Seale cannot afford to discuss them. Procedural Plagues

In recent weeks it has become the habit of certain advertising agencies on campus to distribute (read litter) their literature around classrooms and lecture halls early in the morning, to be found by prospective buyers.

Most people find this practice to be quite obnoxious; however, they have so far not struck back. Almost always, the cards wind up spread all over the floor to the tremendous enjoyment of the maintenance personnel and janitors.

I would like to suggest that those who object to this practice gather up as many of these cards as possible, write some message showing your annoyance with these indiscriminate advertisers, and return them to the agency indicated. Most of these cards are of the general variety, requiring no stamp and costing the receiver for postage.

If several hundred such cards were received and this would be quite easy, it is very likely that we would no longer be plagued by these objectionable advertising procedures.

We Want Clancy

When will LV, get its own "Clancy?" Having a cop-on-the-beat might not sound exciting to those who might find themselves assigned the task of walking for eight hours; but being able to talk to students, being able to watch for bicycle (and even more serious) thieves or apartment-entrers certainly is worth some Students made a lot of noise last year to get a traffic light put in at El Colegio / Los Camarones. This year we have that light. Maybe the students's will had nothing to do with that occurrence, but maybe it did.

If we want police who will protect us, rather than just drive around all night, MAYBE we can get that too.

Confused Cloaks

Regarding the EL GAUCHO editorial, November 14, 1968, "An Honorable Alternative?"

Having turned in my draft card seven months ago I find that my idea of what I'm doing is very different from yours, I didn't see then that a C.O. deferment was an honorable (or responsible) alternative. I didn't see then the basis of your editorial how a C.O. deferment differs significantly from any other deferment such as a H-S.

My argument is not with your characterization of the draft-board -- military -- establishment complex but with your mis-statement of the view expressed by the Resistance organizations and your resulting confusion in stating the actual position of the C.O. This confusion is a result mainly of your having failed to see where the issue is.

You leave the position of the Resistance organizations on C.O.'s, view, which is to criticize the C.O. for cooperating with the Selective Service System, the resistee, by staying in the draft, by taking a jail term, is not abandoning the system conceived as the entire government or society. A better way of seeing the issue between the C.O. and the resister is in terms of complicity versus non-cooperation with Selective Service.

A C.O. is engaged in complicity with Selective Service. His claim to be "working from within to change Selective Service is on the same shaky ground as the H-S holder. His claim to be "working from within" to change the U.S. government or society is undermined by his complicity with Selective Service.

This is of course a problem for many resistee: whether or not to and to what degree non-cooperation should extend to the entire complex of courts and prisons.

Once again, the issue between the C.O. and the resistee is not over working within or abandoning the system conceived as the entire government or society; the issue is over complicity with Selective Service, and with regard to this the holder of a C.O. deferment is in the same boat with the holder of a H-S deferment.

The mantle of honor you have conferred on the holder of a C.O. deferment turns out to be the cloak of confusion.

Two Interpretations: BSU’s ‘Gold Power’

By DONALD PRICE

Hard-hitting, forceful, these are but a few accolades for Cecil Rhodes’ dynamic play “Gold Power,” subtitled “Once Upon A Time There Were Three Black Brothers,” Rhodes, a contemporary playwright from Los Angeles, has put together a play of such stark realism that all the action becomes more and more.

The play centers around the dialogue of three young black men, sons of Martin Luther King, who most four years after his death. The three men represent three different ideological viewpoints.

There’s Leon, the Christian, who believes in America and its people; then there’s Troy, the disenchanted, who has been a Muslim but now has cut himself off from the Muslim cult and started another group. And finally Mark, the man of mystery, a supposed Communist who has returned to the western world to inform his brothers of impending danger.

As the story begins, we first meet Troy who comes on stage panting about his surroundings (a deserted cabin). He inspect the place, inspects his gun, and wanders about the place.

With a storm raging in the background, Leon makes his appearance. After the customary curtailment, Leon and Troy embark upon a meaningful dialogue that points out both the similarities and differences of their two movements. Leon claims that all the things are sanctioned by God; Troy retaliates that Allah is responsible for all.

We now get a more meaningful look at these two, each claiming that he has found the correct and only way for the black man to go. Leon wants integration, Troy separation. They argue the relative merits of each system but both hold on to their beliefs. It is at this point that Leon suggests that the two brothers pray. After some hesitation Troy agrees, and both fall upon their knees saying “Thank you, Jesus.” “Thank you, Allah.”

This is where Mark makes his entrance, ridiculing both men for their behavior. Overwhelmed at the sight of the two, each claiming that he has found the correct and only way for the black man to go, Leon wants integration, Troy separation. They argue the relative merits of each system but both hold on to their beliefs. It is at this point that Leon suggests that the two brothers pray. After some hesitation Troy agrees, and both fall upon their knees saying “Thank you, Jesus.” “Thank you, Allah.”

Mark, however, sees that now in the time for revolution, that revolution is the only answer, and to accomplish this he says “by any means possible.” This neither Leon nor Troy are willing to go. As a result they try to stop Mark, but Mark pulls a gun and the shooting starts.

As the play progresses toward its climax we are shown the similarities and differences of each system but both hold on to their beliefs. It is at this point that Leon suggests that the two brothers pray. After some hesitation Troy agrees, and both fall upon their knees saying “Thank you, Jesus.” “Thank you, Allah.”

The work merits congratulations for saying many things that need to be said. It shows that even though the blacks in their lives, then follows a shoot-out, resulting in the unfortunate death of all three brothers.

Before the work began, we were told that the setting was Canada, 1972; the Vietnam war was still in full swing, and these brothers were all sons of Dr. Martin Luther King. I could not, for the life of me see what relevance this last point had to the entire production, as the characters could conceivably be the sons of any man, but that’s just a thought to passing.

The work merits congratulations for saying many things that need to be said. It shows that even though the blacks in their lives, then follows a shoot-out, resulting in the unfortunate death of all three brothers.

Basketball Starts Tuesday

Now that football season has ended, the Santa Barbara sports focus shifts to basketball, with the season slated to open Tuesday when Ralph Barkey’s varsity clashes with Ray Bosch’s Mustangs from Cal Poly San Luis Obispo.

Wednesday

A new drama production, “El Manco,” will be presented by the Inner City Cultural Center, sponsored by the UCSB Campbell Hall Wednesday, November 27, with playwright Josef Rodriguez in the title role.

In his first play to be produced professionally, the Mexican-American playwright and actor writes of a Mexican family living in lower California during the early days of the Spanish influence. An unhappy Trinity and an unusual family alliance between a fiery woman and her two alienated sons spin a young girl into a bizarre love relationship in this haunting theatrical piece.

Major roles are interpreted by Rodriguez, Nadyne Turney, Lillian Adams, Betty Keeney, Robert Krist and Lee Witherpoon. The cast is under the direction of Dave Wille, ICCC producer-director.

Rodriguez is a recipient of the Schubert Playwriting Fellowship at Occidental College and, under a Ford Foundation Grant, is writing television scripts for KCET’s Cancion de La Raza. He is ICCC’s director of the touring ensemble, director of publications and a member of the repertory company. Some of his poetry appeared in an anthology of ethnic poets published by UCLA.

Tickets for the production are available at the UCSB box office, the Lobero Theater and the Discount Record Center.

The Quicksilver, Hard Rock Sat.

Three of the “heaviest” rock sound bands to come out of the San Francisco Bay Area will be appearing tomorrow night in Robertson Gym at 8.

The Quicksilver Messenger Service, just returned from a tour of the East, will make its last appearance as the original group, for at least one member of the foursome will be leaving.

The second attraction is the Santana Blues Band, who came together early in 1966 in San Francisco. They started out playing mostly pure blues sounds but have progressed to a feeling of Afro-Latin Rock. Santana previously appeared before UCSBers at a Peace and Freedom benefit.

The Sons of Champlin are a seasoned group with an excellent Electric Flag-type sound. The Sons have recently signed a contract with Capitol Records and will be recording early this December. They have filled most of the auditoriums in San Francisco such as the Fillmore and the Avalon with their “tight, original sound.” Tickets are still on sale for this great concert in the UCen Information Booth, $2.50 in advance and $3 at the door.

Sharon Frommum in the role of Leonora and Alis Clausen as Riccardo will appear in the Italian comic opera production, “The Triumph of Honor,” by Alessandro Scarlatti, when the UCSB Opera Theater presents a new English version of the opera by Carl Zytowski. Chinese Wall Reopens

One of the few American productions of the 1920's that has staked a claim in the history of theater, "The Chinese Wall," re-opening Thursday night through the second week of its run in the UCSB Main Theatre November 21-23, demands a difficult style of "EG" Theatre. It demands Brecht's desire to term in terms of the controversial "Emission Effect" of Brecht's German Theatre.

As one critic has noted of "The Chinese Wall," "Brecht uses force to examine the value and meaning of history in relation to the contemporary world. He asks, 'Have the miseries of history been more than a distraction to Brecht is more than 'live' these moments. Davis noted, 'In some ways, this operates as a prohibiting factor, denying the actor the possibilities of exploring new methods of behavior and communication.'"

"Most of the avant gardes" theatre of today affords the actor a chance to contribute to the task of creating an historical theatre experience," Davis continued, "for example, offers an extremely difficult means, that of the actor having to be a 'naval captain' or 'secretary' of his character at the same time. Now does the actor accomplish this? 'Of course it is, it can also be an overt gesture, one of actually stepping completely out of character to make a personal comment to the audience on what you think of your character or the play.'"

"There are so many techniques involved in creating an 'EG' characteristic, ... the audience on what you think of your character or the play, ... the thought of the actor having to be too many moments. Davis concluded, 'All are involved in creating an 'EG' characteristic.'"

Symphony Plays Tuesday Night

Under the baton of Ronald Ondrejka, UCSB lecturer in music, the UCSB Symphony Orchestra will open its 50th season with a performance in Campbell Hall at 8 p.m., Tuesday, November 26. The 55-member ensemble will present works by Strauss, Bach, Stokowski and Mendelssohn-Musnik. Violist of Stefan Krayk, UCSB professor of music, will appear as a guest soloist with the orchestra, and Orrie Iverson will be guest conductor for one of the works. The public is invited to attend the performance without charge. Organized in 1938 by Professor Maurice Faltzke, the orchestra has become one of the most popular student performing groups on the campus, attracting a large audience from the Goleta-Santa Barbara area as well as from the campus community.

When the orchestra was organized, it was a joint campus-faculty group composed of fifty students and faculty members, all performing with the Santa Barbara Symphony.
Placement Center Part-Time, Summer

It has come to our attention that some of the students are unaware of the services rendered by the Part-Time and Summer Division of the Student and Alumni Placement Center. The office is located on the first floor of the Administration Building, open to all currently-enrolled students, their spouses and alumni.

We are endeavoring to assist these people in seeking temporary, part-time and summer positions. The part-time positions are offered both on- and off-campus, in the Santa Barbara and Goleta areas. Current students, their spouses and alumni are listed. If one is planning to seek summer employment with the federal government, it is imperative that the applications reach Washington, D.C., before December 6.

Some positions in off-campus jobs have been discontinued and students, their spouses and alumni are asked to check with the Placement Center. All applications must be filed in the Placement Center. Students who have previously filed applications for work in the Library, dining commons, offices at $2.85 per hour. There are also listed. If one is planning to travel to the social crises of our day, his so-called story, "The Autobiography of Malcolm X," has been cited as one of the world's great books by The Nation; it won an Anisfield-Wolf Award from the Saturday Review, and became a Literary Guild selection. A major movie production is in progress.

It has come to our attention that some students who have previously started our course or already have taken it, are not marking time. With 90% comprehension. With this in mind, we urge you to come by, call Nancy at 968-5300. If it is not convenient for you to come by, Nancy Clark is a graduate of the Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics Institute. IN ORDER TO KEEP YOUR CONTACT LENSES AS COMFORTABLE AND CONVENIENT AS THEY WERE MEANT TO BE, YOU HAVE TO TAKE CARE OF THEM. BUT UNTIL NOW YOU NEEDED TWO OR MORE SEPARATE SOLUTIONS TO PROPERLY PREPARE AND MAINTAIN YOUR CONTACTS. NOT WITH LENSINE. LENSINE IS THE ONE LENS SOLUTION FOR COMPLETE CONTACT LENS CARE.

Cleaning your contacts with LENSINE retards the buildup of foreign deposits on the lenses. And soaking your contacts in LENSINE overnight assures you of proper comfort for the next day. This is a sure cause of eye irritation and in some cases can endanger your vision. Bacteria cannot grow in LENSINE which is sterile, self-sanitizing, and antiseptic.

Just a drop or two of LENSINE, before you insert your lens, coats and lubricates it allowing the lens to float more freely in the eye's fluids. That's because LENSINE is an "isotonic" solution, which means that it blends with the natural fluids of the eye.

Nation's Top Water Polo Teams Here This Weekend

San Jose Heads State
In PCAA Tournament

By SCOTT SLOTTERBECK
EG Sports Writer

"We might be able to pull an upset," coach Rick Rowland of the UCSB water polo team remarked when asked about his team's chances in the Pacific Coast Athletic Association Tournament this weekend. Entered in the tournament which begins today are the first and third ranked teams in the nation, San Jose State, and Cal State Long Beach.

In the last scheduled games of the season, other than the national playoffs in December, the Gauchos will definitely have an uphill battle. The prize that goes to the top two teams in the tournament, however, is something to work for: a chance to go to the national playoffs against the top seven teams in the nation.

MAY HAVE THE MOMENTUM

With a team record of 9-7, and having won 11 out of their last 13 games, the Gauchos may have the momentum to pull a few upsets in the tournament. They'll have to get by the three other teams also entered in the tournament, San Diego State, Fresno College, and UCP. All have "fine teams" according to Rowland, so the Gauchos will have to beware.

When questioned how the team looked at a recent practice, Rowland said a few comments on how the team was shaping up.

"The team looks good. We're hoping we can play this well in the tournament." He also had special praise for the goalies, saying "We have three of the best goalies around in John Steckel, Bruce Montgomery, and freshman Bill Bites.

ACTION BEGINS TODAY

All the action gets underway at noon today in the UCSB pool when the Gauchos host Fresno State College. Assuming UCSB can beat Fresno State, their next game will be at 3 this afternoon as they meet Cal State Long Beach.

Depending on how well they fare against Long Beach, the Gauchos are the first and third ranked teams in the nation, San Jose State, and Cal State Long Beach.

Wrestlers Preparing for Interesting Season Ahead

By YUMON KWOCK
EG Sports Writer

The squad so far has had a small turn-out of wrestlers, but Hammer is expecting the team to grow bigger and to improve as the wrestling matches get rolling. He also stressed that "we are not a big team, league-wise, but as the season gets under way our individual performances will be seen."

SPENSER RETURNS

Leading the Gauchos into the '68-'69 season will be team captain and returning letterman Mike Spensko, wrestling inside the 152 lb. category. Another asset to the team could very well depend on heavyweight Bruce Oslari who showed a lot of promise during practices, if he doesn't get injured."

Other returning lettermen are Tim Yoshino at 123, Bruce Hart at 135, Dan Thomas at 145, Bruce McCampbell at 160, and Tim Long at 197.

C.J. TRANSFERS HELP

Other members of the grappling squad are composed of C.J. transfers, Kit Laver from DeAnza College will be in at the 197 level; Manuel Valdez at 152 is from Rio Hondo J.C. and from Moorpark College is Ron Jackson at 167.

Even with pre-season warm-ups, a few injuries have struck the team. Returning letterman Todd Hammer suffered an injured arm, but is confident that it will heal before any pre-season matches with other schools get under way. Oslari is also injured and will be a doubtful starter in the opening matches.

UCLA NEXT WEEK

With their first match only a week away, against UCLA, the wrestling workouts have intensified toward that opening meet. The frosh team this year is comparatively smaller than in years past, and so far the team has no league-wise matches to speak of. Coach Hammer is hoping that other freshmen come out for the team, for they would be a great asset to the frosh team.

By ANDY LIBERMAN
EG Sports Writer

"Without a doubt, this freshman team of 1968 is the most talented, position for position, that I have ever coached," declared assistant varsity coach, and this year's frosh coach, Ray Bosch.

If not the most expert, Santa Barbara's frosh will at least be the tallest squad ever, with an average player height of 6'5" among the starting five. "Rick Dole, 6'6", Karl Frazier, 6'5", and John Tschogl, 6'6", will give us the rebounding strength we need," revealed Bosch, "and Ron Allen, 6'5", and Bob Schacter, 6'4", will fill out the back court."

Four of the five starters are L.A. products, and Tschogl is a recruit from San Diego.

Other members of the grappling squad are composed of J.C. transfers. Sig Eps Topple Lambda Chi Again; Both Teams Battle in Playoffs Today

By CLAY KALLAM
EG Sports Staff

Mike Mathews' running, Craig Rubenstein's scrambling and Tom Schaefer's rushing combined Wednesday with a highly feisty coaching bunch to give the Sig Eps a 19-12 victory over Lambda Chi.

This game had no effect on the teams entering the playoffs except that the Sig Eps are now in the bracket with Sigma Chi, the Lords, and the Deltas. These latter four teams will all be in action this afternoon against dorm competition in the first round of the playoffs.

However, one game did have quite an effect on the playoffs. Phi Kappa Psi has now captured the "Phi" championship as yesterday they knocked off Sigma Chi, 27-12, and Tom Schaefer invite all students to join "the Sig Eps" tournament. Having also defeated Lambda Chi, the team only has to win one more game to capture the championship.

The Sig Eps were favored by 20 points and led 13-3 at the half. However, they were penalized 45 yards, which the Lambda Chi team capitalized on.

With under five minutes to go and a seven point lead, the Sig Eps moved downfield through a gutty Lambda Chi defense. With a field goal on the five, Tom Schaefer ran the ball out of his hands, legal, to foil the try. The extra point was no good.

Against Pacific, UCSB was plainly eaten alive. A valiant comeback effort fall short, and with the last hopes for a bid to the Panamena Bowl, then came the classic flip against Cal Poly, which does have a very good football team, but not one that should have beat us.

"The attitude was good for the first half, against Pacific, we made some early mistakes which hurt us, and then they played some good ball to beat us." That leaves talent as the final factor. In this department, the Gauchos were in virtually unanimous agreement that the only team all season which has a definite edge in talent was El Paso.

Gauchos publicist Don Bernstein reveals, "Tampa and Pacific have very fine teams, but I think that our talent is equal to theirs. In games like those two, the breaks mean so much more than in a one-sided contest."

So, after considering coaching, attitude, and talent, the whole season boils down to breaks, the way the ball bounces. A team will tie another that has much more talent, and two weeks later will lose to one with much less. A team will average 46 points a game, and then score only 15 or 16 games two, and a team will break 12 records, tie five, and narrowly miss eight others, and still wind up with a 4-4-1 season. And all anyone can do is smile, think about next year, and say, "oh well, that's the way the ball bounces,"

It was a long season, but not one without its moments. And as long as we remember only the UCSB games, it was a great season. Fortunately time fades bad memories.

The Volkswagen with the automatic stick shift.

Used to be, Volkswagens were enough to make some women give up driving altogether. Accelerator up...clutch in...shift...lurch.

Very embarrassing.

That's why we developed the lurchless Volkswagen. A bug that's equipped with an option we call the automatic stick shift.

It's an automatic because there's nothing to worry about. And because you can drive it around town all day without shifting.

It's a shift stick because it can also be taken through the gears manually, just like a real Volkswagen. (That's for you men.) And automatic because it speeds over 55 mph you can shift into a higher, overdrive-type gear to save on gas.

But the advantages aren't all practical. In the lady bug, a gal can feel more like a woman. Because the only shift she has to think about is the one she's wearing.

Old Gym Dance

Continuing in its projects of community service and liaison with Santa Barbara, the Santa Barbara Action Corps is presenting a dance in the Old Gym tonight at 6 p.m. Featuring the Defenders dance band and revue, the Defenders, a group of black musicians, are sponsored by the Black Student Service organization called The Turbans. This group gave the Defenders their first opening by sponsoring them at the Old Gym Dance.

Lower Voting Age...

(Continued from p. 1) A basic structural outline of committee activities has been established. There will be five sub-committees, two of which will handle the petitions. A third will be concerned with public relations, seeking the endorsement of such campus groups as the Associated Students, ARA, and RBU, and outside organizations such as the Lions Club, the Democratic and Republican Parties, and Kiwanis.

This sub-committee will be making contact with other campuses and relay information through the media, Le., KCSB, the Santa Barbara News-Press, and local radio stations.

The fifth sub-committee will be concerned with fund-raising activities and the dissemination of information to interested community organizations and clubs.

Decision at Delano Film Screening

"Decision at Delano," a film about the Delano waterfront owned by the Boycott Committee, is part of a continuing series of informational events sponsored by RHA on an open forum basis, film series began with the Bobby Seale lecture, and the screening of the film is the second such event. It will be shown next Sunday evening at 8 p.m. in Ortega Dining Commons, and at 8 p.m. Monday evening in Carrillo Dining Commons.

Council Votes to Join NSA

The fifth sub-committee will be oriented toward research. The Santa Barbara Committee will seek out U.S. senators and will be involved in letter-writing campaigns to state officials and national government leaders. At this time, the emphasis will be on California leading the nation rather than an over-all national drive taking priority.

Some people won't make a move without it.

The KLH Model Eleven.

One of our good customers, faced with the choice of taking his wife or KLH Model Eleven to Port Said—took his wife. Of course, we don't make silly claims about the Eleven. But we'll bet you see more KLH Model Elenes going places with people who go places than any other stereo portable on the market.

The reason is simple. The Eleven is a portable that's really portable. Just 28 pounds of solid musical performance.

It's got KLH quality throughout. There are specially designed KLH full range speakers, a distortion-free solid state amplifier, an automatic turntable custom-built for KLH by Garrard, magnetic cartridge and diamond stylus, inputs for tuner and tape recorder, and many other features.

Come down to the store. Listen to the big sound of a little Eleven. It's for sure you'll run out of the store with one. And you won't need muscles or track shoes. It's that light.

So is the price. $189.95
