

The Last Major Transition

By Wade Daniels
Staff Writer

As you may recall from the mid-'80s, there are many fringe benefits that come with graduation: parties, gifts, all the times you'll say how "this is the last exam, class session, dorm meal, etc. that I'll ever have to put up with."

There is also a formidable number of built-in annoyances. Everyone, everyone asks at least three times about what you're going to do after you graduate. And some folks, if they don't like your answer or if you don't have a job waiting somewhere, start laying in saying how "you're really not as young as you used to be and you should really start thinking seriously about blah blah...."

Others ask more diplomatically, halfway expecting a half-baked answer: "So, what kind of big plans have ya got to conquer the world? Yuk yuk." Then when you answer, they say something like "Yeah well, it'll all come together. Don't worry your pretty little head about it."

Then, on graduation day, all the dressed-up relatives and old friends who flock in start flinging all kinds of goofy colloquialisms like "Well (your name here), this is really the first day of the rest of your life."

One can certainly think about it that way, but if you're a five-year plan charter member, as it seems like most students are these days, it's really coming up on about the 8,500th day of the rest of your life. Sure it's a beginning of sorts, but it's really not that different of a step than it was going from junior high to high school, and then to college. One led to the other, and this leads to the next.

It seems like this graduation, though, is more of an inconvenience! Whereas before, the structure of the next level of school was already planned out, pressing onward now requires a great deal more improvisation.

For most near-grads, it still seems difficult to grasp that after graduation weekend, the show is really over; that when fall comes around, there will be no need to slap down a big wad of cash for a bunch of crazy, overpriced books; and you won't be running into all these nutty people whose names you don't remember asking how summer was and if you got the right classes.

The first sign of the impending endless summer came when the usual mondo stack of Fall Quarter class schedules landed in the UCen bookstore, and upon walking by came the realization that there was no need to pick one up, but nonetheless thumbing through one just because.

Then all the brochures start coming in the mail. In high school, there was a barrage of solicitous mail from Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines, Coast

RICHARD REID/Daily Nexus

Guard all urging you to do your duty to country and that if you join, they would hand over a million dollars toward college. But this time, there are oodles of letters promising the deserving graduate a "special" deal on a brand new Dodge, notes from credit card and gas station companies saying how they've "reserved" a card in your name, notices from the Peace Corp that there are only 8,764 chances left to serve humankind, and letters from Cesar Chavez offering positions in the UFW. Note the different lifestyles these mail campaigns urge the reader toward, from diving right into an indebted material-gathering pursuit to that of an occupational activist.

Then there was the mail from the UCSB Alumni Association — alumnus, graduate, ex-officio estudente, outta here-ite; it's no small word.

And concerning whatever the "next step" may be, there are cynics who have made complaints like: UCSB is nothing but an extension of high school — a five-year party — and that it doesn't really prepare people for the real world. Maybe for those people it is, but there are innumerable mind- and body-enhancing opportunities, some formal and many not.

Of course, one can get a foot wet participating in "politics" and other sorts of activism through student government and such. But some claim to have learned to deal with and "beat the system" on their own terms. This is exemplified by a letter to the editor from a couple of years ago: "Over my five years of college I have perfected the art of not doing anything and still passing a class.... It is a skill that takes years of practice, but with hard work anyone can learn to do nothing." The writer called himself the "Baron of Blow-off" and dubbed this prowess of procrastination as "astute ineptness." Although not shown in the catalog, such valuable skills can be acquired — at UCSB.

Fact is, what's cool about graduation is that we will be equipped with a hunk of lamb's hide, or paper more likely, which will allow for a much greater number of options that we may not have otherwise. And this can be used to land a big-bucks job or the grad can flip meat patties half-time and devote his or herself to reading all the books there were never time for and maybe study up for the GRE. Both paths may lead to a similar place with varying degrees of personal fulfillment.

So have a sober graduation or feel free to have a loaded graduation. This is America and we're semi-free. Rock on.

What to do...

By Jason Spievak
Staff Tour Guide

Sure, you know where to find the best happy hours in Isla Vista, and you can sniff out a pizza coupon at 200 yards ... but where do you take your parents when they come to visit? Or, better yet, where do you send your parents so you can go hit one last heavy-duty happy hour with your graduating buddies?

Let's assume, for safety's sake, you decide to keep your folks from ever seeing the rat-trap you call an apartment because you're afraid they may ask for all that rent money back, so you want to keep them out of I.V. as much as possible.

Don't panic. Even though you may find our little ghetto-by-the-sea the best place this side of Caesar's Palace, your parents probably have been dreading this for a long time and secretly wish your graduation ceremonies are held at the Red Lion. So you won't have much trouble convincing them that the best things they can do up here lie outside Isla Vista, many within walking distance of their downtown hotel.

Downtown Santa Barbara

OK, before we get into this, you need to ask yourself several basic questions:

Are your parents walkers or sitters? Artsy folk or hardcore shoppers?

Moviegoers, nature lovers or sidewalk cafe wine drinkers? Actually, none of these things really mean anything because we both know the first place you're going to take (send) them is State Street.

State Street encompasses everything Santa Barbara stands for. It's got Spanish-tile rooftops, hole-in-the-wall cafes, obscure, expensive little shops, cozy bookstores, and lots and lots of homeless.

Whatever your folks are looking for, they'll find it on The Street. You can let them loose around State and Mission in the morning and then meet them for a Santa Barbara-style dinner at Alex's many, many hours later.

Also, if your parents are lucky enough to grace our town on a Sunday, you'd be wise to take them to the harbor downtown. The miles of grass along the beach are lined with street artists and other crafts folk just dying to sell your parents a hand-painted porcelain light-switch cover or a silk-screened pillowcase with long-haired unicorns. In other words, the sheer volume of stuff will keep them occupied for most of a Sunday afternoon while you sip the suds with your buds at Sam's and watch your last overdose of beautiful people ride by.

If your folks are the cultural types or you feel the need to show them something other than beer, beer restaurants, beer trucks and liquor stores, try the Santa Barbara Mission. Yes, that's right, the mission. So what if you've never been there yourself? Just tell your parents to go straight up Mission Street until they see the signs. If you're not sure where it is, tell them it's a little tricky to find, but worth it. All the historical information will be there for them, so you don't even have to know a thing about it. Besides, the extra time it will take them actually to find it is bonus hours for you and your buddies.

Santa Barbara also boasts one of the finest zoos in the entire county. No kidding. It's really easy to find; you don't even have to go with them. Just tell them to hop on the freeway and get off at Zoo Drive. They'll see the best collection of non-indigenous animals one could hope for in Santa Barbara. Meanwhile, you're back at Giovanni's, pounding beers and watching game 3. What could be better?

Goleta

Ah, Goleta. A throwback town, even to our friends from northern California. A stroll down Hollister Avenue in downtown Goleta is a trip to the small-town complacency of the late '50s. If your folks are bowlers, pool sharks or Monster Truck Madness fans, Goleta could theoretically keep them occupied forever, as it does for many of its residents. If not, this sleepy city is host to a wide variety of restaurants and even some first-run movie theaters.

One of the best things about Goleta, besides the impeccable used-car selection, is the Sunday swap meet. Just off the 217 into campus, it's a bargain hunter's paradise. Whether your parents are looking for Rambo knives or hard-to-find Arlo Guthrie albums, it's at the Goleta swap meet. But unfortunately, your folks will have to get there pretty early Sunday — about 7 a.m. — giving you plenty of time to sleep off that Saturday night hangover.

Santa Barbara County and Surrounding Areas

If your parents are interested in a scenic drive and a breathtaking top-of-the-sky panorama, a drive up San Marcos Pass and lunch or dinner at the Cold Springs Tavern might be right up their alley. The Tavern also serves a variety of beers and wine drinks if your folks enjoy the delicate balance of alcohol and long, winding mountain highways.

And finally, there's the little-touch-of-Denmark right in our own backyard. Solvang, just up the 101 and across the 210, is to the land of windmills what Venice, Calif. is to the land of the canals. We'll leave it at that.

Graduation Expectations

By Jay Bennert
Staff Guy

Well, the big moment has finally arrived. As you turn the family station wagon onto Ward Memorial Boulevard, you already have "pomp and circumstance" running through your head. Your precious bundle of joy is finally graduating!

After four-plus years and unbelievable chunks of dough — my God! Just how much do textbooks cost these days? And since when do you buy them at a place called "Six-pak Shop"? — your son or daughter now will have a bright, fresh new college degree with which to earn a nice five-figure salary and hopefully pay back some of that money you mortgaged the house for!

Every time you drive through campus, you think how lovely it is. With a campus this nice, how could you ever think of staying at the Biltmore, like your off-spring suggested? Isla Vista can't be anything but as beautiful as the campus, so why not stay at their apartment? It might be kind of fun to live like a college student for a couple of nights; it'll take you back to those happy, hippy days of your youth (when Paul McCartney could rock and Dan Quayle was still just a National Guardsman with an attitude).

The apartment is everything you have come to expect from your precious little dickens (was that a freaking couch burning on the front porch?!). The room you're spending the night in is a little cramped but you couldn't have expected a palace.

Your child wants to cook you a meal at his or her home and show you how well he or she has adjusted to adult life. You politely decline (you expect me to eat something in that house? When I came in, somebody was using the microwave to nuke 100 cockroaches and see if they would explode!) and suggest going to someplace in I.V. So you park somewhere off Pardall Road (park is not the right word at all; it's more like leaving your poor, helpless auto at the mercy of these alcoholic savages) and head over to that culinary marvel, Giovanni's Pizza.

The pizza is one of the best in Santa Barbara and well worth the crowded conditions.

But graduation day has quickly arrived (yeah, but along with it comes an abomination known as the 10-kegger; half the populace of southern California must have been next door last night. And that music! You've got a steel horse Jon Bon Jovi can ride).

Fortunately, graduation is held at one of the most picturesque sites on campus: the lagoon (are you blind? It's disgusting. You can't even see the water through all that green muck). The chancellor and honored guests are there along with all the other parents and of course, the graduates.

After the ceremony and the required pictures, all that's left are the goodbyes as you return home and your child remains behind with promises to follow very soon (probably just in time to rob you for another couple of grands for a trip to Europe. Europe! When you graduated from college, all you got was a trip to the goddamn DMZ courtesy of Uncle Sugar).

As you get on 101 and UCSB slowly fades into the background, you can't help but feel a sense of satisfaction at seeing another fledgling leave the nest.

By Ben Sullivan
Ph.D.

Many is the time I've tried to explain to family or friends just where exactly it is that I live.

Sure, I go to school at UC Santa Barbara, but other than a few nights crashed on the couch in the Nexus office, I don't actually live at UCSB. But I don't really live in Santa Barbara either. After all, Santa Barbara is that place downtown where all the cool movie theaters and restaurants and things are. So where is it that I live?

I live in Isla Vista.

"Oh really? I've never heard of that before."

Yeah, it's kind of like this little island of land controlled by Santa Barbara County, but separated from it by about 10 miles. You'll probably recognize it by the broken glass in the streets and the 20,000 people living in half a square mile.

"It's on the beach? That must be great."

Yeah, it's all right. Except the water is too cold most of the year to go swimming, unless you have a wet suit, and wearing a wet suit is pretty ridiculous if you just want to swim and hang out. And there's always a bunch of black, oily tar on the sand. That's kind of a bummer when you go home and realize your feet look like they're suffering from toxic shock syndrome. Also, you have to watch out for drunk idiots falling off the cliffs, or else one is liable to land on you.

"So what do you do there for fun?"

Well, mostly I try to avoid angry drunk people on weekends, which is a phenomenon that seems to have mushroomed over the last couple of years. It seems like every week, another guy has gotten beaten, kicked, stomped or in some other way mauled by a bunch of young drunk morons coming here to have fun. Yeah, some fun. When I'm not avoiding them, I usually try to stay out of the way of the police, who occasionally go on mini-rampages of their own. Other than that, I like to watch greeks get drunk in front of local sandwich shops and yell disparaging comments to passersby.

"UCSB is such a party school. How do you ever get any work done?"

I guess I don't really.

"Well, I'm coming up for graduation. What should I do while I'm there?"

Which brings me to the real point of this article. What out-of-town guests can do for fun while visiting our sleepy little hamlet over graduation weekend.

If the activities mentioned above don't appeal to you, rest assured that there exists a plethora of things to fill your schedule with when you're not watching Joe or Jane Gaucho accept their sheep's skin, which they undoubtedly struggled long and hard for through many a late night at the library.

First, why not take a cruise down I.V.'s main thoroughfare, also known as Pardall Road. Be sure to stop at one of the many fine eating establishments located every 10 feet for your convenience. A wide range of foods can be found, including pizza, Chinese food, burgers, pizza, ice cream and pizza.

Next, drop in at one of the beach shops that dot the street. Everything from overpriced Big Dog (registered trademark) sweatshirts to Gotcha! (registered trademark) shorts can be found for the visitor who is a surfer or who just wants to look like one.

Feeling kind of sluggish? How about a quick cup of cappuccino to get the old juices flowing? Well, there are at least two places I know of that offer coffee specialties, often for less than $2 a cup. Sure it's a little steep, but think of all the people dressed in black that you can snicker at under your breath.

Finally, take a swing by the video entertainment center, conveniently located near the police station. While there, you'll see more skate rats than you can shake a stick at and you'll get to try your luck at the latest in microchip madness.

"Well, Ben," you may say, "you sure do sound bitter." Yes, slightly. But I guess that's just because I'm jealous of all the people who four years ago started school with me and are now graduating, while I must face another year of this.

I guess things could be worse; I could be a student at San Diego State.

Undergraduate Research Publication

Undergraduates doing original research and writing projects are invited to submit papers for possible publication in DISCOVERY — UCSB Journal of Undergraduate Research. Interested students should come to the Mathematics Department office in South Hall 6607 to obtain the basic information and guidelines concerning publication and to leave information about themselves and their work.

Papers should be analytical, involving critical reasoning. Examples of publishable work are research papers in the natural and social sciences and critical essays in the arts and humanities. Creative or impressionistic writing will generally not qualify, nor will work which is basically a review of a subject. The deadline for submission of manuscript copy is Friday, June 23, 1989. Students intending to submit a paper but needing more time may be allowed to submit after this date provided they make their intentions known prior to the deadline.
