

INFRINGEMENTS OF IFC RULES DISCLOSED IN INQUIRY

Fraternity rushing drew to a close recently and now many men on campus are sporting Greek pledge pins which they received in various ceremonies. Pledge lists will be published in next week's Gauche.

In place of the "open warfare" methods heretofore used by fraternities to get new members a more specific contract of rush rules was drawn up and incorporated into the Inter-Fraternity Council constitution, according to

Dean of Men Lyle Reynolds.

Under the new system, as described by IFC President Dick Bowen, each rushee was to visit each house. However, it was found in actual practice that rushees had a difficult time getting around to all the houses.

Complaints against the manner in which rushees received their bids this time have been voiced by several prominent fraternity men. They expressed the opinion that rushees have more of a chance to gang up and go into the organizations in groups under the present set-up, which allows two days for receiving bids.

One of the most widely discussed subjects on campus has been the violation of the new rush contract by Sigma Alpha Epsilon when they gave a rush party after the bids had been turned in to the Dean of Men's Office. Most of the other groups consider this party illegal since Inter-Fraternity Council made a ruling that no parties were to be held after the bids were in. Last night the Judicial Committee of the IFC met to draw up the charges, if any, against SAE, to be presented at the next Council meeting next Wednesday evening.

"Since the function of this office is to enforce regulations adopted by IFC, this office will stand behind whatever IFC decides," stated Dean Reynolds in regard to the matter.

When asked if he could predict the severity or type of punishment to be meted out to the erring group by IFC, Dean Reynolds said he did not know. He stated that it could be light or alternatively heavy, depending upon the feeling of the Council.

Some of the types of punishment which may be meted out by the Council, according to Dean Reynolds, range from overlooking the matter (since it was the first time this contract was in effect), through taking away all pledges, charging the group a fine, putting the group on social probation for a certain length of time, both fining them and putting them on social probation, to throwing the organization off campus for a certain length of time.

However, Dean Reynolds emphasized the fact that it is not the business of his office to determine whether or not a group should be punished, or how they should be punished. He feels that such matters should be left up to Inter-Fraternity Council.

Loyalty Oath Resolution

Whereas, the students of the University of California, Santa Barbara College, have been concerned with matters pertaining to the loyalty oath, and,

Whereas, the Legislative Council of the Associated Students has consistently expressed its confidence in the faculty and its position as stated by both academic senates, and,

Whereas, certain members of the faculty are not now teaching in the University because of personal objections to a compulsory oath, and,

Whereas, all students of the University, regardless of their attitude toward the oath, respect these faculty members who find it impossible to compromise their principles regardless of personal hardships which inevitably result; therefore,

RESOLVED, that the Legislative Council, on behalf of the Associated Students of the University of California, Santa Barbara College, re-express unqualified support of the stand taken by the faculty, and unqualified confidence in all the non-signers, and,

RESOLVED, that in order to properly manifest our confidence in and appreciation for Dr. John O'Gorman, the single remaining UCSBC non-signer, the Loyalty Oath Committee be directed to make plans for the awarding of a suitable symbol which will portray our lasting gratitude to this faculty member, and,

RESOLVED, that this committee shall not, without authorization of this council, incur debts in this respect, and,

RESOLVED, that this committee is hereby authorized to raise funds not exceeding fifty dollars in a manner in accordance with University and student body regulations.

Council Reverses Loyalty Oath Policy in Gift Controversy

The Legislative Council turned thumbs down on a loyalty oath resolution which was intended to "re-express the unqualified stand taken by the faculty, and unqualified confidence in all the non-signers," at Tuesday's meeting.

Unprecedented Reversal

The unprecedented reversal of policy, which is bound to draw far more publicity than any other action the council has taken, appeared to be a complete switch from their original anti-oath position.

Dick Docter, loyalty oath committee chairman, presented the resolution, stating that it was "perfectly in harmony with existing policies, and could do a lot of good and absolutely no harm." He

GAUCHO STAFF MEETING

An important meeting of the Gauche staff will be held at 11 am Tuesday, March 7, in the Gauche office, Elm Hall 104. Attendance is required.

continued, "We do not wish to reopen any old wounds, but merely to express our confidence in all non-signers, re-state the long standing anti-oath policy of the Associated Students, and specifically to offer a lasting symbol of gratitude to our own Dr. John O'Gorman, who has refused to compromise his principles."

This "symbol of gratitude" provoked criticism from Bob Christofferson, Bill Norton,leanor Conte, Pete Burgher and others, who held that the presentation of a gift was at this time impractical and in bad taste.

AS President Frank Goodall handed the gavel over to Vice-Presy Elaine Strobel and personally fought for the resolution. He said, "Academic freedom is more easily lost than won. We have no right to deprive the student body of a chance to make up its mind on this resolution. If you vote against this resolution, you are doing just that."

Many council members who voted against the resolution expressed their approval of the entire document with the exception of that portion dealing with the presentation of a "lasting symbol of gratitude" to Dr. O'Gorman.

Docter issued the following statement on Wednesday, "The Legislative Council has failed to give a vote of confidence to the non-signers. This places us in a peculiar position, because it was widely assumed that a large majority of the Council and Student Body favored the existing anti-oath policy."

"I will gladly defend the right of each individual council member to make up his own mind, just as I hope we will defend the right of each non-signer to retain his personal objections to the oath, but it is extremely disappointing to be faced with what can only be construed as a complete change in oath policy."

"I am almost certain that the council will rescind its action of Tuesday night, iron out the differences in this resolution, and thereafter follow what seems to be the only rational course, that of re-adopting a firm anti-oath policy."

MARCIA CHANDLER TAKES OVER DUTIES IN OFFICE OF CAMPUS COORDINATOR

Marcia Chandler, new campus coordinator, has taken over her duties at the Associated Student Office, after being appointed by the AS Council last Tuesday night. She hails from Seattle, Washington, and is majoring in French.

Talented

Musically talented, she slides a trombone in the band and is a member of the brass choir.

Three summers' work as secretary fitted Marcia for her journalistic activities as publicity director for Chi Omega and El Gauche reporter.

Enjoys Job

She is enjoying her new job tremendously—the only drawback is lack of help. Marcia can't understand why more girls haven't applied for duties in the secretariat because, as she puts it, "It's just loads of fun and you get to meet (gasp) Frank Goodall!"

BUDGET CUTS PROPOSED TO STUDENT COUNCIL DUE TO $1313.10 DEFICIT

Due to the fact that there is a net deficit of $1313.10 in current budgeted operation for 1950-51, a list of proposed budget cuts has been submitted by Associated Students President Frank Goodall.

The list of the proposed cuts has been approved by the Pre-Audit Committee, tabled by the Finance Committee, and went before the Student Council meeting last Tuesday night.

The reason for the budget being

Freshmen Eligible For Colonel's Coeds

Five freshmen women will be selected to fill vacancies in the ranks of the Colonel's Coeds, it was announced today by Joel Williams, chairman of the ROTC Election Committee.

The positions are open to any freshman girl who has completed one or more semesters at Santa Barbara College. Candidates will be chosen on the basis of their school records, participation in student body or social activities, and their appearance. Each girl will be given a commission as honorary lieutenant.

Application blanks may be obtained from the office of the Dean of Women, and candidates should submit their completed applications to the Dean of Women no later than March 2. All of the cadets will choose five of the candidates at that time.

The Colonel's Coeds were organized last year for the purpose of sponsoring activities for the ROTC cadets. These girls help to promote a better understanding of and interest in the ROTC program.

The following girls are now members of the Colonel's Coeds: Colonels—Betty Braden, Dorothy Davis, Sally Woolsey, Grace Pope and Jo Glee Bradley.

Majors—Elinor Denholm, Clair D. Maher, Joy Ritter, Marie Allen and Suzanne Smith.

Captains—Gloria Brittain, Barbara Davis, Nancy Lee Trowbridge, Barbara J. York and Barbara J. Curtis.

Mulick Says Snack Bar Should Remain Open During Week of Finals

"Snack Shack facilities should be available to students all during finals," was the view presented by Jim Mulick, Representative-at-Large, at the Associated Student Council meeting of February 13.

A motion was made and passed that the Business Manager and manager of the College Bookstore be informed of the need for more facilities for students during finals.

Requests to be made by the Associated Student Council are that the Snack Shack be open from 7:30 am to 4:15 pm on all finals days, and that the Bookstore provide a table or other dispensing facility for the sale of Blue Books, pencils, and ink on the Saturday of finals.

in excess of the income is due to the fact that the enrollment shows an unexpected decrease for the spring semester. The spring registration shows a total enrollment of 1,717 while the fall enrollment was 1,963.

The total income from student body fees for 1950-51 was $36,800, less $1,000 for refunds (based on refunds for 1949-50), giving a net income of $35,800.

The amount of money budgeted for 1950-51 was $35,934. There was $1,179.10 of appropriations not budgeted. This gives a total of $37,113.10 budgeted and appropriated, while the total income from student body fees was only $35,800. This leaves a net deficit of $1313.10 in the current budgeted operation for 1950-51.

The following budgetary cuts were offered by Goodall:

Administration, $100; Activities Control Board, $10; Assembly Committee, $60; Awards Committee, $150; Board of Athletic Control, $200; College Recreation Association, $30; Coordinator of Student Activities, $25; Student Publicity Committee, $40; Rally Committee, $125; Social Committee, $375; Speech Control Board, $150; and Music Control Board, $100.

This proposed budget cut would leave $51.90 unappropriated. This, plus an expected income of $200 from the Roadrunner Review, would make a total of $251.90 unappropriated to cover any unexpected expenses in the spring semester, according to Goodall.

Crisis in Inter-Fraternity Relations . . .

A crisis has come. How strong is Inter-Fraternity Council? This question will be answered soon by whether or not the Council takes action against a group violating the rush contract set up by it, and also by what type of action the IFC takes. Unless the IFC can stand behind the rules it has set up, in this case or in any case, respect for its rulings will not be shown by the member organizations.

To keep its strength on campus and to maintain the purpose of its existence IFC must take some form of punitive action against the erring group in order to set a precedent for future violators of the rules it has made. It has been argued that the action was unintentional; many times a basketball player, for example, makes a foul which is equally unintentional, but the opposing team is awarded a free throw, nevertheless. Whether IFC will take action remains to be seen, but it should not let such flagrant violation of rules go by unnoticed.

JOHN AND MARSHA EXCHANGE VOWS IN CANDLELIGHT CEREMONIES . . .

(Ed Note—This article was adapted from a — shall we say paper — from a small school to the north called San Jose State or some such, which we think was in turn stolen from the Shelbyville Daily Union, Shelbyville, Illinois.)

(Ed. Note—This Ed Note was stolen from the first Ed Note of said paper—Every day, day in, day out, we print wedding stories rapturously describing the bride, what her great grandmother wore to the ceremonies, ad infinitum. Today, just to be real different, and to keep men from feeling too left out of things, we are going to print a marriage story rapturously describing the bridegroom.)

John S. Smith became the bridegroom of Marsha Jones at a lovely candlelight ceremony conducted in the parlor of the Gaviota home of the benedict's father, Mr. Paul Smith. The Rev. James Smith (no relation to the bridegroom) officiated at the Friday evening rites.

John was radiant in ankle length striped morning trousers topped by a swallow-tailed black jacket. For his lapel he chose a boutonniere of pearl-white bouvardia.

The benedict's sole jewelry was matching pearl cuff links and stick pin, gifts of the bride. John's "something old" was the pearl gray ascot he wore, the property of his grandfather. A white nylon shirt and matching undies completed the benedict's ensemble.

Marsha wore white.

S. John Smith, brother of the benedict, waited with him at the chancel rail. Robert White and William Brown seated the guests. The trio of groomsmen were identically suited in black ties and tails. Boutonnieres of white carnations accented the dramatic black and white of their ensembles.

Preceding Marsha down the aisle were Jane Smith, the benedict's sister; Mary White, sister of one of the ushers; and Prudence Brown, sister of the other usher. They wore pink.

The benedict's mother, Mrs. Arnold Smith of Hollywood, attended her son's wedding attired in gold lame. Her accessories were pale green and she pinned on a green orchid corsage. The bride's mother, Mrs. Ralph Jones, wore blue.

John greeted guests after the wedding at the Gaviota Men's Club. He served groom's cake from a table bedecked with bronze candelabra shaped like Winchester '76s. The traditional cigars were distributed by John before he and Marsha left for their South African honeymoon.

John was graduated from University of California, Santa Barbara College in June of 1939. While on campus he was affiliated with Sigma Tau Gamma, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Beta Sigma Tau, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Delta Sigma Phi, Sigma Pi, Delta Tau Delta, Lambda Chi Alpha, Kappa Sigma, and Delta Gamma.

Before coming to UCSBC, John attended schools in Hollywood, Reno, Hollywood, Las Vegas, Hollywood, Carson City, and Hollywood. He is now employed as a life guard at Hendry's Beach.

Marsha also went to schol.

A Day with Judith:

Following our busy editor, Judy Cook, through a usual-unusual day, your wandering columnist has compiled the following uninteresting data concerning the casual intimate daily routine. Proceed at your own risk.

Her daily existence is covered by the thesis that "a girl must regulate her own life."

Here is a time-table of her daily activities. Rising at 7:18, she is inspired from 10:43 to 11:47. She lunches at 12:11, and leaves the table at 12:14. A healthy ride on horseback around her grounds follows from 1:19 to 2:53. Another bout of inspiration from 3:12 to 4:07. From 5:00 to 6:47, various occupations (fencing, reflection, immobility, Yogism, contemplation, dexterity, etc.) Dinner is served at 7:15, and she finishes it at 7:20. From 8:09 to 9:59 journalistic readings (open to public).

Her only nourishment consists of fod that is white: eggs, sugar, milk of magnesia, shredded bones, the fat of dead animals, salt, coconuts, mold, rice, turnips, camphorated sausages, pastry, white cheese, cotton salad, essence de bicarbonate. She boils her wine and drinks it cold, mixed with the juice of fuchsia. She always chokes while eating.

She breathes carefully (a little at a time) in little short pants. When she walks she holds her ribs and looks steadily behind her. Her expression is very serious; when she laughs it is very unintentional and she apologizes profusely when relaxing.

She sleeps very profoundly with one eye open. Her bed is round, facilitating rising. Every hour a servant takes her temperature and gives her another. She is a subscriber to an old fashion journal. She wears a white cap, white socks, and a white waste coat.

Reading this viscous cycle of daily activities should acquaint the reader with the necessity of making allowances when perusing the journalistic contributions of said editor.

How do you think the parking situation on the campus can be improved?

Louis Renga: The parking situation could be improved by removing some of the "No Parking" signs around the area and painting out some of the red zones.

Margaret Marsh and Mary Ellis: We believe that the parking situation at present can be improved by marking T's for the parking spaces on Mission Ridge Road. Many people are greedy and take up two spaces. Tickets should be issued to all those not parking within the specified areas.

Jim Wooden: Move to Goleta. Pat Alexander: Level off the field to the left of Las Tunas Road, as you enter, pave it and mark off spaces; the whole field could easily accommodate over 100 cars.

King Hiebert: Level off the parking place in back of the school to provide additional parking facilities.

Sandy White: Install parking meters.

Norma Anderson: Pave and level the lot behind Ebbets Hall.

Bill Brown: If everyone sold their cars and bought motor bikes, the problem would be easily solved.

Charlotte Howell: Move to Goleta where there is room for everyone.

Bob Johnston: It doesn't appear to me that there is adequate space available in the near vicinity of the campus to do much to aid the parking situation; unless, however, the large lot north of the school could be leveled and cleared and made into a parking area.

Hello—my name is Gingle Peterson, and my new position on Campus is College Representative for the Lou Rose College Annex — the little shop behind the big tree, that has but one thought in mind — the best in new fashions for Santa Barbara's students, and revolves around the innate good taste of Mr. Lou Rose, who thinks first of the college girl and never lets her down.

Ask SUZI SMITH, Queen of the Sig Ep Hearts, where she intends to buy her new Easter Bonnet — Lou Rose, of course, and the annex is way ahead of Mr. Bunny Rabbit on those straw hats in all the new spring colors from $3.95 to $5.95. And our lovely Easter shantung suits for $22.95 have pockets just big enough for those bright colored eggs.

March 9th—the Coral Casino, and the Spring Formal. Lavender is out of this world on blondes like SALLY WOOLSEY and ELOISE BUTLER, and our designers must have pictured flaming red hair in creating two Lou Rose formals—PAULA WEBB and JUDY WARE will look beautiful in white.

And 'twon't be too long before it will be "By the Sea — By the Sea." An addition to our supply of White Stag summer-fun-clothes comes in the form of plaid pedal pushers — brown and white or blue and white sail cloth, which some of you saw on ELEANOR CONTE if you ventured into that SAE cave last Saturday night.

Well, I'll be telling you every Friday about all of our new and wonderful things — made with only you in mind, and I'll be able to show you some of the clothes on campus every Wednesday. Stop and talk — I'll be happy to know you.

Gauchos Hoopsters Will Finish Cage Season This Weekend

Sports

GOLFERS BATTLE FOR TEAM RATINGS

Preceding the actual Gaucho golf season, the diminutive Coach Irvine is putting his club-men thru their paces at the home alley of the greening pastures of the attractive Montecito Club course.

Playing a tryout tournament today the Irvinemen will battle for ratings on the squad and Montecito Club privileges which are included with team membership.

The roster includes Laird Stabler, Tom Mooney, Don Fredrickson, Les Harris, Bob Laskin, Don McIntyre and Al Allega, who may continue in the path of former successful Gaucho golf squads.

Averaging but one setback a season for the last five years, the locals have made a habit of winning golf meets and a rule about winning on the Montecito alleys. Seven matches are scheduled this season which includes a possible opener with the El Toro Marines here, with the first league match being played against the Waves at Peperdine March 1.

Matches will be played in CCAA and the Southern California Golf Tourney using a four-man playing squad and two alternates for the full traveling roster. Santa Barbara has been selected as the site for the annual Southern California Tournament, which will include many of the Southland's collegiate golf powers.

Alum Tilt Tomorrow Meets Postponed by Carter; Track Team Faces Marines Today

Putting a wet blanket on all outdoor activities, the weather forced a week's postponement of the traditional Alumni baseball game to this Saturday at 1:30 pm at the Mesa Field.

Today, meteorology permitting, the Gauchos will taste their first competitive play by traveling to Camp Cooke to take on the soldier boys in a warm-up game. Head Baseball Coach Spud Harder plans to start right hander Wynn Smallwood, a Glendale transfer hurler on the mound with Bob Corey being held for relief pitching.

Tomorrow Spud intends starting his ace of last season, Bob Johnston, against the old grads. Bob was the top flinger in the league last year posting an eleven-won and six-loss record with his portside slants contributing largely to the Gauchos' Southern Division Championship. Johnston will be followed possibly by another southpaw, Ray Rubenstein, a Pasadena transfer with a good record.

The weather has held up the conditioning of the squad somewhat, with the pitchers especially suffering from the lack of practice. On the other hand, hitting and fielding have come up to expectations as team members jockey for starting positions on the Gaucho nine.

At third base, the hot corner is loaded with eligible ground-keepers trying to nail down the sack. Ray Knerr and Dick Gorrie are the most likely candidates for the starting position. At second will be George Mattias, and on the other side of the alley at short-stop will be Danny Kutch.

The initial sack is being coveted by Bob Talley and former hurler Corkey Johnson, both of whom will see considerable action tomorrow.

Fielders Alan Cox, Eddie Miller and Dave Gorrie will patrol the Mesa pastures, but a regular starting catcher is yet to be named between Roger Wilson and Ray Knerr.

Next on the Gauchos' 37-game season will be the Marines at El Toro next Friday, followed by the SC Trojans.

The former chorus girl obviously knew nothing about acting, and the Hollywood director was frantic. Finally he roared, "Can't you show me any emotion?"

"Well, I don't see how," she pouted, "when all you've been photographing is my face!"

Gauchos Try for First Division Honors in San Diego Game

First division honors in the CCAA will be at stake this Friday, March 2, when Santa Barbara College meets San Diego State in San Diego. The Gauchos finish their season the following Saturday against the San Diego Marines, a formidable opponent who has won 26 out of their 28 contests this season.

Now in third place behind champion Pepperdine and second place Cal Poly, Santa Barbara needs one win to finish conference play in third place with a five-win and five-loss record. A loss to the Aztecs would throw Santa Barbara, San Diego State and Los Angeles State into a three-way tie for third place. The Gaucho-Aztec tangle is the final game on the CCAA cage calendar.

With the two games remaining on the schedule the Gauchos have a chance to boost their season's win-loss record over the .500 mark. As of now, the Wiltonmen have posted a respectable 13 wins to 14 losses while playing some of the toughest competition on the Coast.

Jacobs, the club's leading scorer until influenza cut him down and now bothered by an injured ankle probably won't start in the weekend games. That would see Jack Moore and Ken Kesson at guards, Lloyd Haevin at center, and Otey Scruggs and Don Bradshaw at forwards.

Santa Barbara edged by an aroused Aztec quintet at the Armory 42-40 earlier in the season and expect to find the going just as tough against an improved border-city squad that has a record book bulge of 10-14 in competition with Santa Barbara teams since 1938.

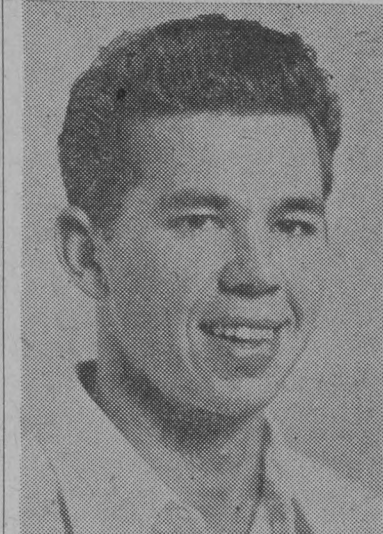

It will be the last two games in Gaucho uniform for Scruggs and Moore. Moore is 11 points behind Sophomore Lloyd Haevin in his bid for season's scoring honors. Haevin has 256 for an average of 9.5. Moore, with 245, is averaging 9.1.

MURAL MUSINGS

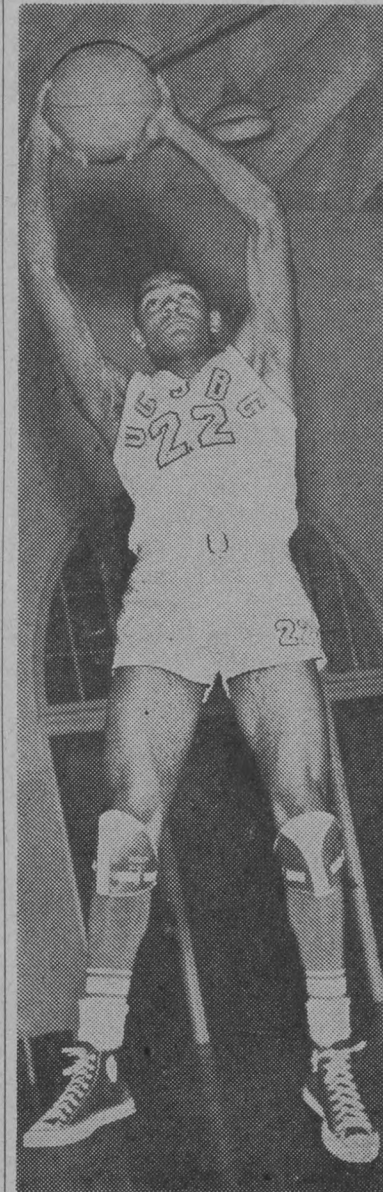

Track Meet Postponed
Fate again struck its lethal blow as Nick Carter's scheduled Intramural Track Meet, set for last Wednesday, was rained out. It seems as though each time Nick schedules a meet, it rains!

The meet will be held, pending further unavoidable delay from the weatherman, next Tuesday, March 6. One favorable aspect of this unfortunate delay will be the extended time for practice and conditioning. Wonder how many records will fall?

Volleyball Tournament
Volleyball is dominating the intramural program as play got underway last Tuesday. A surprisingly large turn-out in clubs and fraternity teams has made it necessary to divide the tournament into three divisions. Thus, this round-robin tournament will include the fraternity "A" division, a fraternity "B" division, and the club division.

OVER WHERE

Last to be hit by the call-to-arms was La Cumbre with the reinduction of co-editor Chuck Missman into the Air Force. Chuck reported to Hamilton Field, near San Francisco, for four days of processing at which time he received his physical and brought his records up to date. At present he has returned to Santa Barbara, but will return to Hamilton Field on March 14, and will go from there to Colville, Washington. At Colville he will be assigned to the Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron which maintains a 24-hour radar net along the West Coast.

At UCSBC he was Chairman of the Publicity Control Board, Chairman of the Press Control Board, co-editor of La Cumbre during the Fall semester, treasurer of Sigma Pi. During World War II Chuck was stationed at March Field.

Joe Fink, who recently transferred from UCSBC to UCLA, went up for a physical with the Air Force during the past two weeks, passed, and has now been sent to Lackland Field, Texas, for training.

Joe is a local boy and while attending UCSBC majored in Business Administration. He was a member of Delta Sigma Phi.

With the U. S. Army way down south is Pvt. Chuck Hanawalt. He is an acting corporal in the artillery at Fort Benning, Georgia. At present Chuck is teaching and working in surveying.

Chuck, a member of Sigma Tau Gamma, entered the Army in October, was sent to Fort Ord for a while, and then went to Fort Benning.

Address: Pvt. Charles Hanawalt, US 56068835, B Battery 29th FA Battalion, 4th Div., Fort Benning, Georgia.

From units to uniforms is the problem of a few of the UCSBC ex-faculty. Among the group of faculty lucky enough to return to the land of potato peelings and paring knives are Dr. Rolph Linn, Mr. Stanley Williamson, and Dr. Jerry H. Clark.

Dr. Linn has been spared from "finals pains" for some time, having returned to duty September 11. He is a captain in the Military Intelligence Reserve and is Commanding Officer of the 394th Military Intelligence Interpreter Detachment at Fort Meade, Maryland. He has been instructing German at Santa Barbara for three years.

Coach Williamson may merely switch from coaching Gauchos to coaching little men in blue and white, or . . . who knows in the Navy? At any rate he left last Friday for San Diego where he took on the rank of Lieutenant Commander. His family is staying on in Santa Barbara.

Dr. Clark is engaged in psychiatric work with the Army at Fort Ord, California. Changing him from Registrar to Psychiatric Consultant, on the part of the Army, sounds a little like an insult to the mental condition of loyal Santa Barbarans, but what can we do besides refuse to be drafted. Captain Clark's address is 6th Infantry Division, Mental Hygiene Consultation Service, Fort Ord, California.

Blood pressure mounted drastically among several air men in the hospital at Castle Air Force Base at Merced with the arrival of Lois Kramer, RN. Miss Kramer, previous to her recall to duty, had been working at the Health Cottage UCSBC, in the laboratory and with X-ray. She is a captain with the Air Force Nurses Corps and served during the last war in the air evacuation of the wounded from the South Pacific.

APO RE-ROOF CABIN; IA CLUB SPRING FORMAL MARCH 16

By Al Phelps
Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity on the Industrial Arts campus, has taken it upon themselves this semester to put a new roof on the college cabin.

This might seem quite a task, but the men are used to it. You see, last semester a porch was added to the cabin under the supervision of this fraternity, and so far it seems to be more than holding its own. So, thanks a lot Alpha Phi Omega, the whole college will benefit by your work.

Qualifications for membership are previous training in Scouting and the desire to render service to the student body, faculty and community. Membership does not in any way prohibit your belonging to a social fraternity.

The Industrial Arts Club closed Spring Formal will be held this year at the Mar Monte Hotel on Friday, March 16, from 9:00 to 12:00. Those IA men and their dates who attend will be greeted by the beautiful strains of music coming from the instruments of Chas. Copeland's orchestra. The price for IA Club members is 50¢ per couple.

Rushee to fraternity man: "It was a swell party, Fred. I'm sick as a dog."

DRASTIC SPEED-UP NOT JUSTIFIED, ACCORDING TO FACULTY LEADERS

College faculty leaders today expressed the opinion that the manpower emergency at present does not justify a drastic acceleration in the academic schedule.

The opinions were expressed by departmental chairmen at a meeting called by Dr. J. Harold Williams, provost, in response to a survey being made by the American Council on Education.

The national survey was prompted by growing manpower needs of military service and industry, particularly as they apply to college trained men and women.

"Most departmental chairmen," said Dr. Williams, "seemed to agree that Santa Barbara College already has the facilities for a speeded up program, if the student so desires and is capable. By use of summer sessions, as well as the fall and spring semesters, it is virtually possible to complete the degree requirements in three years."

Russian Course Popular With Students, Faculty

The newly-formed Russian language class at Santa Barbara College is proving to be popular, with a student enrollment of 18 and an enrollment of five faculty members.

The instructor is Dr. Edmond Masson, who was born in Moscow of French parents.

The course was put in after students petitioned for it. They thought an understanding of the Russian language would look good on their records when they are inducted into service. Some of the instructors are taking the course because of translations they are making or expect to make of Russian works desired by the government.

Conversation between two coeds "Certainly was a cute fellow you were with. Where'd he hail from?" "A 1950 convertible."

Carrying out the travel theme were displays of objects from Mexico, China and Hawaii, and travel posters loaned by the Santa Barbara Travel Bureau.

Jack Carroll and Jim Guillet, local delegates to the Western Division conference of Delta Tau Delta fraternity, returned recently from the 3100-mile trip to the conference.

Beta Kappa chapter of DTD at Colorado University, Boulder, was the gathering place where 23 chapters were represented by approximately 55 delegates.

The two day conference included reports from all the chapters and panel discussions on pertinent fraternity topics. Of special interest was the discussion on the relation of the world situation to American colleges.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 12...THE MOURNING DOVE

"Some of them are pretty sad!"

Melancholy and dejected, this gloomy miss found little to titillate her in the recent deluge of quick-trick cigarette tests! She was not enthralled by the idea of judging cigarette mildness with just a fast puff or a single sniff. But, joy of joys! . . . happiness came to her when she discovered one test that left no doubt in her mind.

It was the sensible test! . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as a steady smoke — on a pack after pack, day after day basis. No snap judgments needed. After you've enjoyed Camels — and only Camels — for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) we believe you'll know why . . .

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!
