Report Delays Student Union

A private study of prospects for raising funds to build the proposed UCSB student union shows that the project will have to be delayed, perhaps for two years. The study, conducted by the Cumerford Corp. this summer at a cost to the students of approximately $3,000, was called "disappointing" by Dean Reynolds. The report contacted 84 potential contributors in Santa Barbara, uncovered only lukewarm support of the new SU.

The graduated fee, scheduled to start this semester to help raise funds for the new SU, will not be put into effect until next year, reports Dean of Students Lyle Reynolds. The fee, assessing each Gaucho one dollar the first year, two dollars the second and so on to a maximum of five dollars, was delayed while Chancellor Gould studies the fund-raising report.

Get It Eventually

"The Cumerford report is disappointing in that it definitely indicates a delay," says Reynolds. "However, the report does show that the students will have their student union eventually."

"Naturally, I would like to see the students get the graduated fee going as soon as possible despite this delay," he continued. "The fee requires the Regents' approval; then I would like to see it start immediately."

Self-Imposed

The student body imposed this fee on itself last year in a constitutional amendment. The vote on the amendment was overwhelmingly in favor of the fee. Some opposition was voiced on the grounds that the plans for the SU are too ambitious.

"One thing that the report clearly shows," says Reynolds, "Continued on page six"

Regents OK Library Extension For UCSB in Meeting Here

The Regents, meeting at UCSB last Friday, approved the expenditure of $704,100 additional funds for the new addition to the campus library and the start of the new classroom building.

The library addition will be built on the west and north sides of the present section and will more than double its capacity. It is expected that ground breaking will begin some time this winter.

Only the office wing of the new classroom building will be started this year. The classrooms will be completed at a later date when they are more urgently needed.

The $704,100 was added to previous funds made available, making the total $2,112,600 for new projects.

In other action the Regents approved a new master plan for UCSB which will supersede the old plan for only 3,500 students. The new plan will accommodate 10,000 students at UCSB.

The plan was presented to the Regents by Chancellor Samuel Gould and Charles Luckman, supervising architect for the campus. The new plan calls for 25 new buildings and residence-hall accommodation for 2,000 students.

Society 'Poachers,' Says Gould in Talk

by Jerry Bradley

Chancellor Samuel B. Gould lashed out at modern society, saying it is a "poacher on life," and called for a new morality to make up our "failure," in his inaugural address in the new gym Friday.

"The secret of our failure," said Chancellor Gould, "is that we have been poachers on life, seizing what we can for the immediate gain or security to us it may afford, but giving nothing of ourselves in return. We take and take endlessly of all that lies around us, and in the taking we substitute comfort for character, acquisitiveness for aspiration, greed for gratitude and cunning for courage."

Striking a hopeful note, he continued: "All this would be unrelieved tragedy except for two circumstances; first, that we know these things to be true, Continued on page six"

BROWN TWO, GAUCHOS 0

Among the many illustrious visitors to UCSB for Chancellor Gould's inauguration in the new gym Friday was one celebrity conspicuous by his absence. Governor Edmund Brown, scheduled to speak at the ceremony, did not show.

Gaucho public information officer George Obern reports that Gov. Brown's plane was unable to take off in Sacramento. The governor's last appearance at UCSB—a press conference with El Gaucho last spring—was called off when Brown's plane was unable to land at Goleta.

Well, the third time's the charm.

Hearst Gives School Free 'Aida' Tickets

Free tickets for a very elaborate production of "Aida," to be presented in the Hearst Greek Theater on the Berkeley campus Sunday afternoon, Oct. 6, have been made available to students of UCSB by the Hearst Foundation.

Santa Barbara received only 35 of these free tickets and so they will go on a first-come-first-served basis. They can be obtained in the Graduate Business Manager's office by showing your AS reg card.

The Hearst Foundation, in conjunction with the Berkeley Faculty Committee on Arts and Lectures is presenting the opera. It will be sung by the San Francisco Opera Company and will star mezzo-soprano Leontyne Price in the title role; Irene Dalis, soprano; Jock Vickers, tenor; George London, bass, and Giorgio Tozzi, bass.

California Club at Berkeley will provide a place to stay for anyone needing it. Students taking advantage of this offer must leave their name, address and telephone number at the GBM office when picking up their tickets.

Students were asked to please make sure they are going before they take a ticket which someone else could have used.

Friday's Fete Canceled by Dean's Office; Injury Could Result in Funds Suspension

A new law on college hazing has caused the cancellation of the scheduled Frosh-Soph mud brawl, UCSB's dean of students' office announces.

The new law makes "any pastime or amusement . . . which causes or is likely to cause bodily danger to any student" and "any act that injures, degrades, or disgraces . . . any student" punishable by fine and imprisonment.

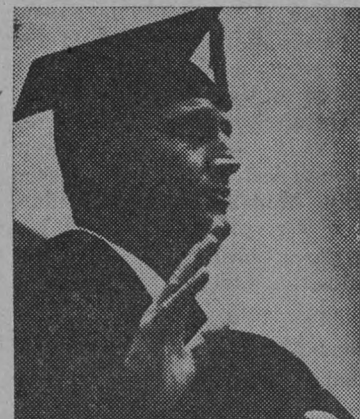

GARDNER SCORES U.S. EASY LIVING

by Phyllis Fisher

"Can we as a people, despite the narcotic of easy living and the endless distractions of a well-heeled society, respond with vigor and courage and dedication to the demand of the times?" asked Dr. John W. Gardner in his address on "The University and the Nation" during the Gould inauguration last Friday.

Gardner, president of the Carnegie Corp. of New York, was the featured speaker of the inauguration ceremony.

"The long-range challenge to the United States is nothing less than a challenge to our sense of purpose and our vitality as a people," he said. "If we are incapable of meeting the challenge at that level, the political stratagems of the moment will not save us."

Blessedly Comfortable

"One of our difficulties is that the challenge comes at a time when we are blessedly comfortable. And the fateful question remains open: Can we as a people, despite the narcotic of easy living and the endless distractions of a well-heeled society, respond with vigor and courage and dedication to the demands of the times?"

"Some of the nations that figure most portentously in our future exhibit not only abundant vigor but a blinding determination to get what they want. In the long run, vitality and firmness of purpose may prove more decisive than armaments or economics or ideologies."

Belief in Education

"In so far as the challenge of the times leads us back to education, it leads us back to something which is at the heart of our own system of values. Americans have always believed in education. We have not always believed in it for the best of reasons, and we have not always

Honor Grad Newby Gets First Fulbright

Miss Jacqueline L. Newby has been awarded a Fulbright grant to continue studies at the University of Cambridge this year. "This honor is the first of its kind to be given to a UCSB student," reports Prof. Hugh Kenner, chairman of the English Department.

Miss Newby had almost a straight "A" average during five years of undergraduate and graduate work in the department of English at UCSB. She received her MA last June.

She will study under Dr. Donald Davie, internationally known poet-critic who served as visiting associate professor of English here during the 1957-58 academic year.

Loss of Funds

Also, a State-supported school involved in a hazing incident is subject to suspension of public funds. Dean of Students Lyle Reynolds states, "The recent incident at USC (where a fraternity rushee died in a hazing stunt) was one of the factors in the decision to suspend the mud brawl."

"The author of the new law has called for the prosecution of the students involved in the USC incident," he pointed out. "Here at UCSB, we would be subject to the loss of State funds as well as prosecution of individuals."

Death at USC

University Vice President Stanley McCaffrey said, "The University would be very reluctant to permit any activity about which there could be any question of legality—especially in light of the recent incident at USC." In that incident, the victim choked to death when required to swallow a piece of raw liver.

"Dean Bowers and Sophomore President Tim Naegele are working on a substitute for the mud brawl," reports Reynolds. "It's a shame the traditional event has to be dropped, but if anything unfortunate should happen every-one stands to lose."

Illegal Since '48

Hazing has been illegal in California since 1948. The new law redefines the term, and makes the penalty more explicit. While the mud brawl would probably not have been considered hazing under the original law, the amended law leaves some doubt—so the Dean of Students office decided to drop the event.

Individual penalties consist of a fine of up to $500, or up to six months in jail, or both. Also, any State-supported school involved in a hazing incident could "forfeit any entitlement to public funds, scholarships or awards . . . and shall be deprived of any sanction or approval granted by any public educational institution or agency."

Insurance Plan for Gauchos Available; $12 for All Year

Accident insurance for Gauchos—a year's worth for $12—is available at the business manager's office. Seven hundred students enrolled in this program in its first year last year, and claims as high as $1,584 were paid.

This low-cost group plan supplements the Student Health Center, which provides free medical attention on campus but won't pick up the bill for off-campus treatment.

The insurance program provides up to $2,500 hospital fees and $100 for a doctor's-office call that doesn't require hospitalization. Coverage is for the entire year, no matter where you are.

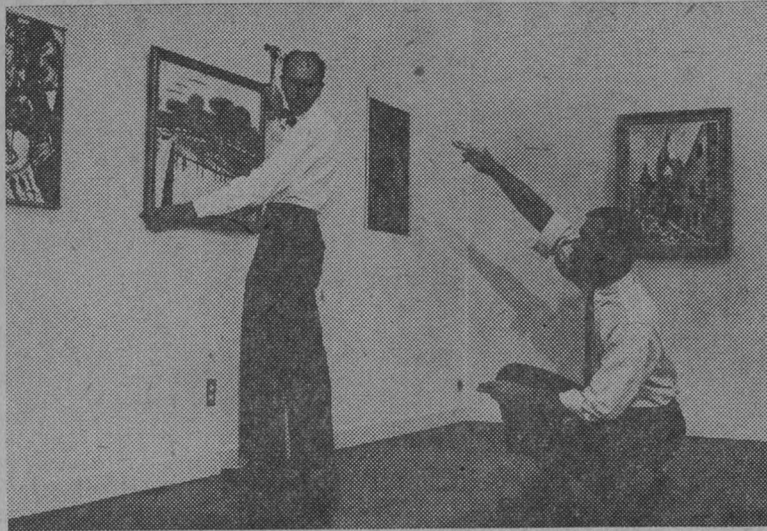

Forms and further information are available at the business manager's office. Policies will be available for about one more month. Business Manager Bob Lorden says, "This insurance program, combined with the regular student health service, gives the student good all-around protection. I recommend it to everyone."

ROBERTSON GYM was officially dedicated in this ceremony Friday. University President Clark Kerr presided, with Lt. Gov. Glenn Anderson formally presenting the gym and UCSB Chancellor Samuel Gould accepting. The gym is named for Alfred W. Robertson, author of the legislation that made UCSB part of the University. Mr. Robertson studied at Occidental, Dartmouth and Stanford, was elected to the Occidental Track Hall of Fame. He practiced law in Santa Barbara for 11 years before entering the State Legislature. The University at Santa Barbara was always one of his special interests and benefited greatly from his legislative work. He passed away in Santa Barbara early last year. —Photo by Bob Quittner

Gaucha Meeting

A meeting will be held tomorrow at 4 p.m. in the El Gaucha office for the staff and all those applying for positions on the paper.

by Kathy Williams

Bold and brooding, Max Beckmann stares somberly from "Self Portrait with Horn" in the current exhibit of his work in the new UCSB Art Gallery.

Expressing the same strength and individualism for which the late German expressionist is noted, the self portrait, one of 39 works from the collection of Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Lackner of Santa Barbara, seems to bear out Beckmann's statement that painting was his "way of expressing ego."

Perfect Setting

The quiet and beautiful atmosphere of the new gallery in the recently opened art building, with its excellent lighting and garden-patio, is an ideal background for the forceful and straightforward style of the artist.

Using color, dimension and perspective in a dramatic and original way, Beckmann has created penetrating studies of form and idea whether his subject matter be interior, exterior, landscape or mythological.

Lackner Portrait

Most outstanding of his allegorical canvases is "Brother and Sister," a large oil picturing the reclining figures as if seen from above.

Also in the exhibit is a portrait of Dr. Lackner, friend of the late artist as well as owner of the collection for 25 years, and several lithographs.

Teacher-Painter

Dr. Lackner commented that Beckmann, who taught both at Mills College and the Brooklyn Institute of Art, would have liked to have had his paintings on display where students could study and enjoy them.

The Beckmann exhibit opened Sept. 16 and will continue through Oct. 6 and can be seen daily, Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Art Department Chairman William Dole states that other exhibits will be scheduled throughout the year. The next show tentatively being planned is a display of Japanese prints.

English Majors

All English majors taking English Comprehensive 198A have been requested by the English Department to check the bulletin board outside the department office today. A notice will be posted assigning these majors to their various "comp" classes.

Elemeds

All elementary-education majors are invited to attend the Elemed Club beach party tomorrow on the campus beach at 5 p.m. Singing, skits and dinner provide an informal evening of fun. Free to all members, 75c for non-members.

New Teachers Join S.B. Staff

A total of 41 new UCSB faculty members have been announced for the fall semester by Dr. Samuel B. Gould, chancellor.

The new faculty appointees include personnel needed to replace instructors on sabbatical leave as well as additions to meet the needs of increased student enrollment. An approximate 10 per cent increase in student enrollment is expected for the fall term.

El Gaucho will feature a series of articles on new faculty members in each department. Today's issue spotlights the new faculty for the history and social sciences departments.

Latin Historian

Donald M. Dozer joins the department of history at UCSB this fall as an associate professor. A specialist in modern Latin American history and inter-American relations, Dozer has been associated with various governmental agencies in Washington, D.C., including the Department of State.

The new member of the history department had taught previously at Harvard University, Radcliffe College, Boston University, University of Maryland, Brookings Institution, American University and Montgomery Junior College. A graduate of the College of Wooster in Ohio, Dozer earned his MA in history at Harvard University, also studying languages at George Washington University and the Department of Agriculture Graduate School.

Approximately 40 articles and reviews have been published in professional research magazines under Dozer's name. His new book, dealing with inter-American relations over the past quarter century, soon will be off the press.

Taught in China

Dr. Immanuel C. Y. Hsu also joins the faculty of the department of history this fall as an assistant professor. Dr. Hsu earned his BA degree at Yenching University in Peking, China, and holds a master's degree in political science from the University of Minnesota. His PhD in history and Far Eastern languages comes from Harvard University.

Formerly on the faculties at the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy of Tufts University, Harvard University, UC Berkeley and Washington University, Dr. Hsu has written two books and numerous articles dealing with Far Eastern affairs. His "China's Entry into the Family of Nations, 1858-80," is being published by Harvard University.

Slough View

by Jerry Bradley

Santa Rosa's welcome-home to its boarders is a brand-new phone system, replacing the individual room numbers with intercom boxes and hall phones scattered sparsely through the building. A lot of Little Tehachapi residents are going to miss the long evening phone calls reclining on the bed. Now they'll have to recline on the hall floor.

Anacapa has the same system, instead of the promised room phones. Reason for the switch is the new phone rates, considerably higher than anticipated. However, I've talked to a lot of long-time campus residents, and all agree they would rather pay a little more and have a phone.

Some girls call this the last straw, saying some of the hall administrators have a belligerent attitude toward the students, as if they resented their presence. Why put up with that, they ask, for the sake of second-rate facilities?

I have heard that the phones will be returned if the students petition for them and agree to pay for them. This is just hearsay, but it's worth an RA's meeting to look into it.

Signups for Elections Open; Veep Vacant

Signups opened yesterday for candidates for AS vice president, women's council rep-at-large, men's RHA rep and freshman class offices, reports AS President Kitty Joyce.

Also, the post of Publicity Committee chairman is available. Applications for these offices are available in the AS office behind the student union.

At least one Associated Women Students office remains open. Elections are set for Oct. 8-9.

Miss Joyce announces the appointment (subject to council approval tonight) of Al Dexter and Jan Bartlett as Special Events co-chairmen.

Applications are also available for junior class committee chairmanships. Committees are Publicity, Junior-Senior Prom, Student-Faculty Relations, Activities and Finance.

Memberships are available on all AS committees. Meetings will begin next week.

Some people who notice this sort of thing tell me that the "Prometheus Bound" section of the new student union mural—showing Prometheus glaring defiantly at his captors—bears a striking resemblance to Chancellor Gould.

"The question is," one of my bearded informants said, "whether this is a significant resemblance."

Pat Hanson reports that John Fiscalini spent the summer working in a —natch— gas station.

The ROTC will be relieved to learn that ex-El Gaucho columnist Stan Aspttle is leaving the country. Stan leaves around Christmas for the Mediterranean, later Spain and France, for at least a year of research on a new novel.

That "Southern Cal" home game on your football schedule is not USC, no matter what anybody has told you. It is Southern California College. This is their first year of football. It's also their first year under that name—they have always been Southern California Bible College.

Grad Record Exam

The Graduate Record Examination will be administered on this campus your times this year. Application forms may be obtained from Educational Testing Service, Box 17896, Los Angeles 27, Calif. The examination dates are Nov. 21, Jan. 16, April 23 and July 9. Corresponding closing dates for application to take the examination are Nov. 6, Jan. 1, April 8 and June 24. For further information inquire at the Office of the Registrar, information window. Room assignments will be announced later.

Do not discard these cards. Necessary changes in study programs should be made before filing the official study list.

Spectrum Posts Open

All students interested in serving on the staff of Spectrum, the campus literary magazine, should come to the meeting Thursday at noon in the Spectrum office, announced Georgia Pearce, associate editor. All former staff members are expected to attend. Deadline for the Fall-issue material is Sept. 30. Student fiction, poetry and ink sketches are needed, Miss Pearce said.

Annual Needs Staff

Positions are open on La Cumbre for staff, section heads, sports editor and photography, announced Pat Downey, editor. Positions may be applied for by leaving name, address and phone number in the La Cumbre office.

Gauchos Win Close Opener

by Wils Winnek

Sophomore Jim Boyett put on a sparkling running exhibition in his Santa Barbara grid debut as the Gauchos came from behind, Friday night, to top Long Beach State, 27-19.

The 49ers didn't help their cause any, fumbling five times, of which UCSB recovered four. The game opened with Long Beach in possession of the ball on the Gaucho 47 after a successful onside kick. The visitors started a march which was momentarily halted on the 9 by UCSB's Tom Stoffel, who recovered the first of the 49ers' fumbles.

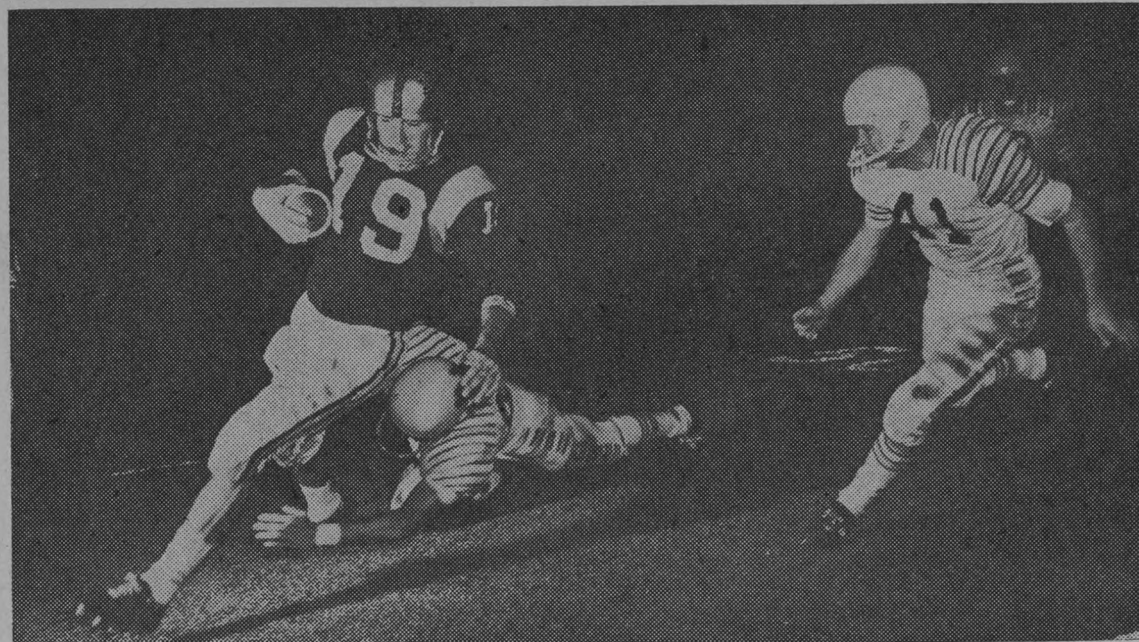

6 To 0

Unable to move the ball, the Gauchos were forced to punt. Gordy Henderson gathered in the kick on the Long Beach 46 and scooted down the south sidelines for 54 yards and the first TD of the night.

Six plays and four minutes later the Gauchos had marched 54 yards and tied the game as Boyett made his presence known. Big Jim St. Clair sneaked over from the 1 for the score. Boyett had runs of 21, 12 and 8 yards during the drive. Frank Brisslinger's attempted kick was wide and the first period ended in a 6-6 deadlock.

Bill Bovee culminated the Beach Boys' second-period drive with a 3-yard plunge for the 49ers' second touchdown.

As the visitors continued their onside kicks, Cody's gridders took over on their own 43.

Passes to ends Gary Knecht and Shel Rosen, plus a roughing-the-passer penalty, put the Gauchos on the Long Beach 12-yard line. Phil Kirkpatrick and Boyett moved the ball to the 3 where a holding penalty pushed UCSB back to the 16.

13 To 12

On fourth down St. Clair faded to pass, hit Boyett in the corner of the end zone after the ball was deflected by a Long Beach defender. The Gauchos tried to pass for a two-point conversion but the pass fell incomplete and the 49ers held a 13-12 advantage at the half.

Late in the third period veteran fullback Dennis Vaughan capped a 57-yard drive scoring from the 2. Boyett set up the six-pointer with jaunts of 11, 17 and 9 yards. St. Clair passed to end Dwain West for the two-point conversion to put the home team in front, 20-13.

In the final period both teams traded touchdowns.

Winning TD

Charlie Coventon and Fred Tunnicliffe kept the Gauchos moving on the ground, going up the middle and slanting off tackle. St. Clair scored his second TD of the evening from the 1 after a pass to Boyett put the ball on the 2-yard line. Brisslinger kicked the extra point to complete the drive that started on the Gauchos' own 32.

The spectators were no more than seated when Jerry Nicholson took the ensuing kickoff and ran it back to the 49ers' 41-yard stripe. The next play end Bob Heberer got behind the Gaucho secondary and Nicholson hit him with a pass good for 59 yards and the third Long Beach score of the game.

Water Polo Starts; Eight Vets Return

Eight returnees from last year's Gaucho water polo team greeted Coach Frank Rohrer as practice got under way in the campus pool last week.

Headed by co-captains Eddie Nelson and Don Smith, the Gauchos face a rugged schedule that includes Redlands, San Fernando Valley State, Cal Tech, Whittier, Long Beach State and Cal Poly. Several of the matches slated for the Goleta tank are night affairs which should aid attendance.

Rohrer was most happy about the new conference rule that allows participation by freshmen, thus giving eligibility to Blair Ballard, Bob Berson and Jim Wood. Also bolstering the squad are two transfers, Walt Kaufman from Berkeley and Brad Fredrick from Cal Poly.

In addition to the newcomers six other members of the 1958 squad are on hand: Paul Hodgert, John Soth, Les Meredith, Jan Traveres, Dave Weaver and Keith Carter, along with the aforementioned Smith and Nelson.

'Tickled to Death,' Says Cody of Win

"I'm tickled to death," were Coach Ed Cody's first words to El Gaucho in the dressing room after last Friday night's hard-fought game with Long Beach State.

Cody gathered his loose coat in front with his hand and said, "I came down from 195 to 175 during practice, and I think I lost another five pounds tonight. Offensively we did o.k. We scored well. The first bunch hasn't worked much on offense yet. Boyett looked very good."

Real Surprise

Cody shook his head and said, "Long Beach was a real surprise. This is the finest 49er team I've ever seen. We won't run across many better than that. They had a big line and some big backs out there. Half the men I tried to get are on their team."

Cody said he was looking forward to the same thing next week when the Gauchos meet the Whittier Poets.

The 49er coach Don Reed said, "I don't want to take anything away from Ed's team. They outplayed us and deserved to win. Some of our good kids are hurt. Five men are out on account of injuries."

Bad Breaks

Shaking his head, he went on, "Santa Barbara's a well-drilled team." About Long Beach's showing he said, "I'd like to say we beat ourselves. We had some bad breaks, like the gun going off on an incomplete pass at the end. But I don't want to take anything away from Santa Barbara; they showed real well. I'm satisfied with our showing. We ran the ball whenever we had it."

Reed told El Gaucho the CCAA title would probably go to either Cal Poly or Fresno. "I think Fresno may have the edge, but I never like to bet against Cal Poly. Ed will fight them for it; UCSB's got great speed and a great quarterback, but I don't think Ed or I can compete."

Swimming Schedule

The Men's PE Department announced last week that the campus pool and beach will be open for recreational swimming daily. Pool hours are 12 to 5, Monday through Friday, and 2 to 5 on Saturdays. Beach hours are 2 to 4, Monday through Saturday.

Distancers to Meet MSAJC in Opener

Possibly the strongest cross-country team in the history of UC Santa Barbara is preparing for the first meet of the season, next Saturday, at Mt. San Antonio Junior College.

Coach Nick Carter is expecting big things from this year's harrier squad, led by Captain Joe Zamora and Roland Cordobes. Also returning from last fall's team are Rosendo Castillo, Coyt Davis, Dennis Kavanaugh, Jerry Mullin and Bob Oldham.

Up from the frosh are Dick Aced, Richard Ryon, Art Walton and Jim Lyons, which gives added depth to the squad. New faces that Coach Carter is counting on are Barrett Miller and Jim McIlwain. McIlwain, a transfer from Fullerton JC, captained the Hornet harriers last year. Miller, from La Puente, is taking advantage of the new CCAA ruling which permits freshmen to compete in certain varsity sports.

Other leather-lungers include Robert Hunt, Jim Law and Gary Ogilvie. Anyone interested in cross-country should contact Coach Carter immediately.

New PE Teachers For New SB Gym

Five new teachers were added this week in the men's and women's physical education departments to go with the brand-new gym.

Miss Madge M. Phillips will have the rank of assistant professor in the department of physical education this fall. Miss Phillips has a BA in sociology from Keuka College, N.Y., and earned her master of science degree and teaching certificate at Wellesley College.

Another assistant professorship in women's physical education will be held by Miss Mary Tiffany. Miss Tiffany, a dancer and choreographer, is a graduate of Michigan State University.

She has taught dance at Mills College, Cumnook School, Marymount School, and lectured at USC.

The men's physical education department has added three staff members with the rank of junior supervisor. Samuel Adama is a graduate of UC Berkeley. He qualified for his general secondary credential at UCSB.

B. Gene Bartow is a graduate of Northeast Michigan State College. Bartow earned his MA in health and physical education at Washington University and took further graduate study at the University of Colorado.

David F. Gorrie is also a junior supervisor.

Level of Expectation

"And the key to the generation of such power lies in the level of expectation we envision for the world, for the nation, yes, and even for this community and for this campus.

"America's level of expectation today, in spite of the money and other resources it has poured into other parts of the world, seems to be that of keeping history from changing. We seem obsessed by a desire to hold the line in any competition, rather than to win.

Autos Before Schools

"Russia, in contrast, is making a fetish of such competition, whether in the development of nuclear weapons, the race to the moon, sports or whatever else.

"When we turn to the national scene, we see again how low is the level of expectation in areas that are most vital. We have the picture of a nation relegating its most important asset to the lower ranks on its priority list, so that automobiles, television sets, cosmetics, liquor and recreation all take precedence.

"Instead of expecting education to create men and women who can make a worthwhile life, we are content and even pleased if it limits itself to the task of preparing them to make a living. We are, in fact, troubled if it does otherwise, for this seems like wastefulness and impracticality.

Defeat Needed?

"Will it take some kind of ignominious and crushing defeat for us to learn that successive generations of youth accustomed to self-discipline and sensitive to the broadest philosophical concepts underlying man's quest for individual dignity are the only practical guarantees we shall ever have that this nation will prosper and fulfill its potential?

"Barbara Ward Jackson said, 'The environment of the Twentieth Century is not designed for the static, the stagnant, the complacent or the smug. It is designed for men who dare greatly and dream greatly and let their work catch up with their dreams.' As far as I am concerned, her statement may well be the motto of this campus. . . .

"Let us all be permeated, therefore, with a sense of having been inaugurated, you to your several tasks and I to mine, but all of us to a burning eagerness for daring greatly and dreaming greatly. It may then be, if God is good, that we shall indeed see our work come close to catching up with our dreams."

Report Delays . . .

"is that the University must be sold to the citizens. The community does appreciate the school, probably more so than most college towns, but they feel no personal, emotional involvement with it. Our new chancellor is just the man to create such a personal involvement."

Chancellor Gould meets with the special Student Union Committee before the end of the month to discuss the Cumerford report. Any changes in over-all plans indicated by the report will be dealt with at this time.

Cal Asserts Leadership

"There are hard years ahead for American higher education—years in which enrollments will increase dramatically, placing our colleges and universities under the severest strain.

"I believe that the University of California is in as good a position as any university in the country to assert its leadership in these difficult times. I believe that California could show the nation not only how a great university may survive the difficult years ahead, but how it may contribute powerfully and continuously to the strength and forward movement of the whole community."

Press and will come out early in 1960.

Dr. Thomas W. Africa will be an instructor in the history department. Dr. Africa, a Phi Beta Kappa, earned his BA, MA and PhD degrees in history at UCLA. He is a member of the American Historical Association and British Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies.

Instructorships

Five instructorships have been announced for the department of social sciences. Dr. Elizabeth Y. Deran earned her BA degree at State College, Maryland, and then went on to get her PhD in economics at UC Berkeley. Miss Deran has been on the faculty of the Stephen F. Austin State College in Texas and served as a research assistant at UC Berkeley.

Peter Etzhorn studied organ and church music in Germany and then came to the U.S. to earn a BA degree in sociology at Ohio State University. Etzhorn received his MA from Princeton University.

Local Judge

Joseph I. Lodge, local attorney and judge in the county of Santa Barbara, joins the social sciences faculty this fall to teach a course in commercial law. Lodge has a BA degree from the University of Michigan as well as a law degree.

He has served the federal government in Michigan as clerk to the chief judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 6th District.

Anthropologist

Roger C. Owen joins the anthropology staff. Owen earned his BA degree at Michigan State University and MA in anthropology at the University of Arizona. A member of several professional organizations, the new UCSB faculty member has published numerous pieces of research in academic journals.

Miss Charlotte Zimmerman earned her BA in philosophy at Radcliffe College and an MA in sociology at Louisiana State University. Her PhD in sociology will come from St. Louis University.

Western Books Exhibit

Starting today and running through Oct. 6, the Library (second floor) will display the annual exhibit of Western books, sponsored by the Rounce & Coffin Club of Los Angeles. Since 1938, this annual show has selected and exhibited books which a host of highly qualified judges have deemed outstanding in design and craftsmanship. These exhibits are shown throughout the Far West in college and university libraries.

Rally Committee

The Rally Committee will hold a meeting tomorrow at 4 p.m. in the lounge of the Robertson Gymnasium, announced Ann Cady.

La Cumbre Starts Anew

Open Letter to the Students:

At this time, the 1960 La Cumbre is beginning its new year. This means that we have much work ahead and need the co-operation of all who come into contact with us. Through good and sincere co-operation, I can assure you that we will not only be able to give you a very good yearbook, but that we will be able to give you the best possible coverage.

If there are any of you who would like to work on La Cumbre, please contact the editor, Pat Downie, as soon as possible so that we can complete our staff and begin to work on the yearbook.

Another Infamy

Gauchos,

Another infamy has been committed, not in United States history, but in the history of the Fraternity System of our country.

In the spring of 1958 Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity disbanded due to a complete lack of interest and co-operation from their national. A letter of disbandment was written and a new sponsorship of a nucleus of three was sought.

It was found in a group of Phi Kappa Psi alumni from Santa Barbara who wanted a chapter so much they cleared up $1,500 in outstanding debts in order to get a start. Phi Psi Zeta was formed, recognized by the University and Interfraternity Council.

Things Were Better

Things were going well, a new house in Isla Vista among them, until the National Interfraternity Council met this summer. At this meeting, Sigma Tau selfishly and inconsiderately accused Phi Kappa Psi of "piracy" and demanded withdrawal of Phi Psi support. The Phi Psi national recognized the presence of Phi Psi Zeta, but was not its sponsor.

What was it to do? The only recourse, as no petition for national support had yet been filed by Phi Psi Zeta, was to send a "cease and desist" order to the Santa Barbara Alumni Assn.

Fraternalhood Weakened

Sigma Tau does not plan a re-establishment, has not contacted Phi Psi to make restitution of its debts. The Phi Psi position was legitimate, or it could never have gotten a start.

I thank Sigma Tau Gamma for setting the Santa Barbara fraternity system back 11 years, for weakening in a most serious way the very foundation of fraternalhood, for giving ammunition to the non-org's cry that "fraternities are no damn good" and for slapping the face of every fraternity and fraternity man in the United States.
