COMPOSER HAILS BARTOK'S MUSIC

Composer-musicologist Halsey Stevens, professor of music at USC, will be the All-College lecturer today.

The lecture, under auspices of the Committee on Drama, Lectures and Music, is free to the public and will be held at 4 p.m. in the New Classroom Building lecture hall, according to Dr. Maurice Faulkner, acting chairman.

Prof. Stevens has had his music performed extensively throughout the U.S., Latin America and Europe. His growing stature as a composer is indicated by a number of commissions awarded him recently. As an author and critic in addition, he is uniquely suited to discuss his lecture topic, "The Folk Music in the Music of Bartok." His book, The Life and Music of Bela Bartok, was published in 1953 by Oxford University Press, the only full-scale study of the noted Hungarian composer.

The lecture will explore the folk music studies of Bartok, which occupied part of Bartok's lifetime musical energies and subsequently altered the entire course of Hungarian art music, influencing much European and American art music. Bartok employed folk music in his own compositions in various ways—some of his finest scores being transmutations from folk themes—which are to be demonstrated by Prof. Stevens.

ELECTION DATE NEARS; FEW CANDIDATES ENTER

by Mike Spizer

With only today and tomorrow remaining to enter the competition for student body offices, the outlook is very dim both for contested offices and candidates competing for the offices available.

At the deadline time, Friday noon, only 22 people were signed up for the 27 openings in the government. Of the total offices, 10 are without even one interested candidate. These include the important offices of men's and women's Greek reps-at-large, RHA men's and women's reps-at-large and the non-affiliated women's rep-at-large.

Under the new constitutional amendment, passed in the recent special election, six of the total 15 votes on the Legislative Council are at stake with no takers.

Sign-up for the offices closes tomorrow at noon. Application forms are in the ASB office behind the Student Union.

The offices to be filled are: ASB president, ASB vice president, ASB secretary, three women's reps-at-large, three men's reps-at-large, one sorority and one fraternity rep, one non-affiliated women's and one non-affiliated men's rep, one men's RHA and one women's RHA rep. All of these positions are voting members of Legislative Council.

The positions open which are advisory, non-voting members of Council are: Senior Class president, Junior Class president, Sophomore Class president, and Associated Men Students president.

The election will be by preferential voting. The student numbers the candidates in order of his choice when he casts his ballot. This prevents run-off elections.

All candidates are required to take the Associated Students Constitution Test, on Friday, April 25, at 3 p.m. in Bldg. 431, Rm. 101. This covers the candidates' knowledge of student government and important facets of the position for which they are running.

Mr. Roberts On Campus

by Keith Takahashi

The California Club presents the film, "Mister Roberts," Thursday, April 24, 3:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. in the Classroom Auditorium.

"Mister Roberts" is a delightful comedy about the crew of the "USS Reluctant" and its executive officer, Mister Roberts. Roberts hates his present position and despises the captain who thwarts his every attempt to transfer from the Reluctant. The entire crew of the ship is united to Roberts's cause, and guerrilla warfare is used to frustrate the captain. Rollicking satire aimed at the Navy, this film has been acclaimed as "one of the most humorous ever produced."

This film is sponsored by the California Club, an organization made up of 20 outstanding students who have been nominated by the local chapter and chosen by President Sproul.

One of the main objectives of the California Club is to promote unity between the campuses of the University of California.

Direct Pipeline

The California Club serves as a sounding board of the students and can communicate student recommendations or problems directly to the President of the University. No other organization can bypass standard University channels for direct contact with the president.

All-University Weekend also is the responsibility of Cal Club, which performs year-around organization and planning for this event.

ANNUAL 'SPRING SING' HELD TONIGHT AT BOWL

Campus Living Groups Vie for Array Of Trophies; 22 Groups Enter Songfest

by Sandra Bay

Today culminates the efforts of the living groups participating in the 10th annual Spring Sing. The event takes place tonight at 8 in the County Bowl. Lockout hours have been extended to 12:30 a.m., according to Mrs. Beth Trudeau.

The bowl, situated at the end of Milpas and Anapamu Streets, is the new setting for the event. There are two entrances available. One entrance and its adjacent parking lot is located on Milpas Street. The other parking area and entrance are above the bowl and may be reached via Alameda Padre Serra.

The choice of the new location was made because of its more adequate parking space, better seating facilities and better acoustical conditions.

According to Shelly Shapiro, participants are to sit in the seats above the general public, to avoid confusion.

Participants have planned many varied themes in the novelty section. As usual, there is no admission charge, but Chimes will sell refreshments during the intermission.

Spring Sing began as a Greek Sing with competition between the fraternities and sororities only. The first Greek Sing, in 1948, was held in the quad of the Riviera campus with 10 entries, each singing their own organizational song.

As other organizations came into existence and took part in this event, it came to be known as the All-School Spring Sing. As the number of participants and spectators increased, the setting was changed to the Sunken Garden of the Courthouse in Santa Barbara.

Over the years Spring Sing has grown in size from 10 to 22 entries.

The five divisions of competition are: RHA women, RHA men, sorority, fraternity and the popular novelty. There has been a change in judging procedures from those announced in the brochure. This year less emphasis is being placed on appearance of the groups.

Greek Week Acclaimed a Great Success; Mayor Applauds Greek Organizations

The recently concluded Greek Week at UCSB was termed a "huge success" by chairman Dick Lorden. Not only did the Mayor of the City of Santa Barbara express his own personal congratulations for the civic efforts of the fraternities and sororities, but the thanks of the city as well.

The Greek organizations applied the power to paint the Laguna Ballpark and the planters along State Street.

In his letter to Lorden, Mayor Floyd Bohnett commented:

"I want you and all of the students of Santa Barbara College who participated in the activities of Greek Week to know how deeply the City appreciates your splendid efforts in the improvement of our grandstands, etc., at Laguna Park last Saturday.

"The intrinsic worth of your services was very important and of real value to the City, but what I believe is of much greater importance to our community is the fact that we have among us a group of young people who will suggest and carry out a project of this kind. You are all to be congratulated upon your wonderful sense of community service."

"Again let me say in behalf of myself, as well as the City of Santa Barbara, 'Thank you! . . .'"

Lorden also leveled praise on the merchants who contributed food for the noon fish-fry following the "paint party." He included the following firms: Chris Prip Catering Service, George V. Castagnola Seafoods, Farallone Fisheries, Jordanos', Inc., Sanchez Bakery, Arden Farms, Golden State Dairy, Channel Paper Co., Irene Davis Pastry Shop, Coastal Lemon Co., Coca-Cola Bottling Co., 7-Up Bottling Co. and Mission Ice Co.

It's Easy, Try It . . .

Why don't you run for a Student Body office? It's really very easy: all you have to do is put your name on the ballot. You probably won't have to campaign or put up publicity posters, because there isn't likely to be any competition for your office.

If you should be so unlucky as to have to compete against some other candidate, then go out and get 50 votes from your friends because with that number of aye ballots you should make a clean sweep of the election.

This spring has become a far cry from the goals originally intended during the previous pre-summer season. At that time there was a hotly contested issue of a constitutional amendment allowing more and closer representation for the "interested" students on campus.

This spring, just a few short weeks ago, the student body approved a constitutional amendment, designed to give just this service of more and closer representation, by an overwhelming 5-1 majority. Now, the present student government can't even get people to campaign for the very offices they demanded be created.

This is student government at Santa Barbara. This is indicative of the "interest and concern" the student body takes in handling its own affairs. This is disgusting.

This is not condonable by any line of thought. The frustrating lack of any sign of life among the students is not only disheartening to the present elected officers but to any potential candidates as well.

Santa Barbara's student government has a great deal of autonomy compared with many other colleges of the same size. The students currently in office have added to the reasons why this state should exist and perhaps increase in scope. Short of running for the offices themselves, what more can they do?

The entire problem, at this point, lies with the students.

You have to express a desire to see this autonomous state continued. You have to show that you are interested in spending your own money, in administering your own affairs.

In short, you have to compete for an office, or actively support a candidate, and then continue this support while he holds office.

Let's quit being "typical, disgusting examples of the younger generation." Let's quit being guilty of some of the violations of which the "older" elements accuse us. It may sound naive but let's start being "student citizens."

Letter to the Editor

Editor, El Gaucho:

I presume that I speak for other students as well as myself when I say that letters regarding the bookstore issue are first of all much too lengthy for those of us who are busy; and secondly, there is too much hair-splitting on one side and white-washing on the other.

Evidence at this point amply indicates:

- A. we're getting robbed
- B. nothing is going to be done about it

Anyone interested may check with the Santa Barbara Junior College bookstore and find that their prices are lower and that during the past few months of operation, on a scale much smaller than ours, their manager was able to turn over some $2,000 to the Student Body Fund.

A member of our faculty whose name I may not mention (it seems that their oath now includes loyalty to the bookstore) says that his text appeared at "our" bookstore selling for 7c higher than list price. He was unable to obtain a reasonable explanation; members of his class now order the book direct at a savings of $1.07 per copy.

Last fall the text Freehand Drawing Self-Taught by Guptill listed for $4. This semester the list price is $5. My copy purchased in "our" bookstore cost me $6, and the list price was neatly cut from the paper jacket where it had been posted by the publisher.

The University of Oregon operates a book store which, according to UCSBC faculty who recently attended that university, pays students an annual rebate which amounts to from 10%-12% of their total purchases.

When I attended the University of Washington in 1950, their bookstore paid students a 10% rebate for all purchases made that year. Their store operates in a top-rent business district and in direct competition with regular bookstores.

Again, there is more than enough smoke. Let's have some fire. The issue may well be minor for those who are unable to find ways of throwing away their money fast enough. Some of the rest of us would like to know where our bookstore dollars are going, and why.

'RAPE OF LUCRETIA' INTRODUCES MODERN OPERA TO UCSB CAMPUS

Santa Barbara will be introduced to a modern opera, Friday and Saturday of this week, which confounded many critics yet gripped the audience in its premiere performance in London.

"The Rape of Lucretia," by Benjamin Britten, will be presented under the direction of Carl Zytowski, assistant professor of music, in the campus auditorium, 8:30 p.m.

The opera's first audience, in 1946, was, as always, prepared for the mass instrumentation and voices that were traditionally characteristic of opera, including Britten's "Peter Grimes."

Instead, they heard an opera structured on austere chamber-music lines, using only 12 instrumentalists. In place of the customary large chorus were two solo voices, commenting on the action like the single chorus voices of classic Greek theater. Yet the audience's attention was gripped throughout, from the first act in which Tarquinius' jealousy of Lucretia's virtue is manifest, through the mounting wave of action from Lucretia's rape to her suicide.

The result was an innovation in modern opera which was to influence many modern composers, and which brought "The Rape of Lucretia" immediate world-wide notice.

The ensemble has been assembled by Stefan Krayk, UCSB associate professor of music and director of the chamber opera, using 12 solo instrumentalists.

Zytowski will sing the role of the Male Chorus, a part he took in the premiere U.S. performance of the work. Dorothy Westra, assistant professor of music, brings numerous experiences as an operatic performer to her role in the Female Chorus. Singing the remaining major roles will be Claire Hodgkin as Lucretia, Shirley Easley as Lucia, Betty Allen as Bianca, Dennis Lees as Tarquinius, Robert March as Collatinus and Steve Roland as Junius.

Tickets are obtainable at the Graduate Manager's office or at the box office on performance nights.

Local Scientists Speak at Meeting

The 33rd national spring meeting of the American Chemical Society, held in San Francisco last week, had two UCSB scientists as speakers. Between 7,000 and 8,000 chemists attended.

Dr. James W. Curry, assistant professor of chemistry, presented a research paper to the organic division, co-authored by George W. Harrison Jr. Harrison, now a graduate student of U. of Texas, did part of the pertinent research in a senior research project under guidance of Dr. Curry.

Dr. Glenn H. Miller, associate professor of chemistry, also presented a paper. The paper was co-authored by Dr. E. W. R. Steacie, president of the National Research Council of Canada, where Dr. Miller held a post-doctorate fellowship last year. His paper was given before the physical chemistry division.

Park-for-Pay Era Begins On Campus; July Date Set

The ills suffered by "big brother" members of the state-wide university, namely UCLA and Berkeley, have descended on Santa Barbara. The reference, of course, is to the pay-parking system, which goes into effect on July 1, 1958.

The plan was approved by the University Board of Regents in their December 13, 1957, meeting. Under this directive, the Santa Barbara, La Jolla, Riverside, Davis and Berkeley campuses are required to supply their own funds to cover the cost of decals, administration, controls, maintenance, surfacing and improvements of parking facilities.

The situation has come about because of the fact that the university may no longer provide for the maintenance and care of any parking area. A change in state regulations does not allow state funds to pay for these expenses.

In the future the university will have to provide funds for both the upkeep and establishment of new areas.

Two Systems

The actual cost to students has not yet been determined but suggested fees range from $5 to $10. Both assigned parking "slots" and zone parking systems have been suggested.

The outlook appears to be for assigned slots which would be used on a yearly basis. The student would pay his fee, be assigned a "slot" and then merely park there every day.

On the other hand, if zone parking were chosen, there would most likely be zones assigned for on-campus cars and off-campus cars. No definite slots would be designated, only the general area.

RHA POLLS OPEN FOR AMENDMENT

Thursday, April 24, a constitutional amendment will be placed before the RHA voters in a special election.

The provision concerns Article IV, Section 12, and states:

"In order for each unit to be well served by its elected representatives, whenever an issue is introduced to the RHA Council which involves the expenditure of fifty dollars ($50.00) or more, there must elapse a period of seven (7) days between the time said issue is presented to the RHA Council and the time it is voted upon by the RHA Council."

This proposition was presented to the RHA Council, which went on record as opposing the amendment. However, because it was a petition with the required amount of signatures (15 per cent of RHA members) it must be placed on a ballot before the voters, according to Donna Metcalf, RHA vice president and elections chairman.

Vote Polls

Voting polls will be located at Las Casitas mailroom, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.; Laguna Dining Commons, 7 a.m. to 9 a.m., 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. to 7 p.m., and Santa Rosa Hall, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK PROCLAIMED; LEADER URGES EDUCATION

Since public schools are the foundation of America's greatness, including its high standard of living, public support of this democratic educational system is basic to the nation's well-being, declared Leo E. Anderson, Grand Master of the Masons in California.

Speaking on behalf of the 39th annual Public Schools Week in California, which is being observed this week, Anderson declared: "We could not govern ourselves and protect our American freedoms if the people did not receive the fundamental education given through our public schools. Good public schools supported by an informed public assure good citizenship."

"Support, protect, and maintain your interest in them throughout the year, particularly during Public Schools Week," concluded the head of more than 240,000 California Masons.

Kersey Speaks

The grave issues facing education in California today were pointed out by Dr. Vierling Kersey, noted educator, state chairman of public schools for 1958, and chairman of the Masons' public schools committee.

"The pressure of the tremendous increase in school-child population is increasing constantly," he said. "In addition, we are faced with demands for more years of public education for all young people who are attending junior colleges and universities in ever-increasing numbers."

Dr. Kersey also pointed out that adults, more than ever before, are demanding additional adult-education programs applicable to their employment.

Theme for this year's Public Schools Week is "Public Schools, the Foundation of American Freedom."

UCSB Thinclads Win Triangular Meet, Loom As Strong Threat For CCAA Honors

With a 67-point victory over the Cal Poly Mustangs and the Pepperdine Waves on the Cal Poly oval, the University of California, Santa Barbara Gauchos again made their bid for the leading position in CCAA track ranks. In two weeks, against such powerful combos as Fresno State and San Diego State, Coach Nick Carter's spikemen will have their big chance at the conference finals at East Los Angeles.

Gauchos Upset Los Angeles State Netters, 6-3, Even Year's Record

by Ed Saul

Coach Dick Means University of California at Santa Barbara tennis team evened its season record at 4-4 Thursday afternoon by defeating the Los Angeles State College Diablos 6-3 on the losers court. For the Gauchos it was sweet revenge as they suffered a defeat at the hands of the LA Staters in the seasons' opener.

Gene Hughes, Basketball turned netter, captured the feature match of the day over Larry Smith by default. Bernie Teitlebaum captured another big victory with his win over Roger Ward of the Diablos.

This weekend the UCSB tennis team will compete in the Ojai Valley Tennis tournament which will feature all the leading tennis players in southern California.

SAEs Show Strength In Softball Opener

Sigma Alpha Epsilon showed its strength by defeating Lambda Chi, 6-1, in first-round games of the 1958 intramural baseball season. The SAEs combined a good defense with strong hitting and adequate pitching to move into first place in the eight-team league.

Cypress Hall and Kappa Sig played the tightest game of the opening round with a 6-6 tie.

Results

Other results were: Cypress 7, Sig Pi 6; Kappa Sig 3, Sig Eps 2; Sig Pi 8, Yucca-Pine 7; Sig Eps 4, Delta Tau Delta 2.

The SAEs are in first place with Cypress and Kappa Sig tied for second with one win and one tie apiece.

Saturday's win, although not a major triumph for the field events, led by Javelin ace Don Kelliher. The Distances, under the mentorship of Bill Collins are looking up two. Collins, who has a 4:16 Mile to his name this year, will probably point to a conference win in the two-mile.

Other top Gaucho performers are sprinter Dave Boraker who has turned 10.1 in the 100, Bernie Weiner, who's 49.5 at San Diego rates as one of the best in the conference, and Gates Foss in the pole vault. The Santa Barbara mile relay team, consistently under 3:25, will also make its bid for a first at East L.A.

The UCSB tracksters, in winning the mile, 440, 880, two-mile, mile relay, shot put, and javelin, kept Pepperdine down to a score of 49 and Cal Poly to 46. Westmont College, which was tentatively scheduled to compete in the meet, did not show at Cal Poly.

GAUCHOS TAKE CCAA BASEBALL LEAD WITH TWIN WINS OVER L.A. STATE

The Gauchos combined a potent batting attack with excellent hurling by Bill Wetzen, Fred Warrecker and Bob Pope to completely over-power the visiting L. A. State Diablos in last Saturday's twin-win at the Santa Barbara diamond. With these wins UCSB took command of first place in the race for the CCAA baseball crown.

The hapless Diablos were limited to one meager run during the afternoon after being stopped 9-1 in the first game and shut out 3-0 in the seven inning finale of the doubleheader. The Gauchos continued their tremendous run-producing ways in the first game by jumping-off to a three-run splurge in the initial frame with the aid of two hits and a Diabolo error. Then the teams settled down for a couple of innings until the 4th, when the Gauchos erupted for another run on a single to right field by Ed Keenan which chased Ron Heusser across the plate to put UCSB ahead by four runs.

In the 5th frame the Diabolo defense fell apart as the romping Gauchos ran the basepaths almost at will while scoring another three runs on singles by Ned Permenter and Frank Stevens and a number of Diabolo miscues. At this point the starting L. A. State hurler, Nuquist, was relieved by Spratt who managed to temporarily quell the Gaucho uprising until the next inning when Permenter's single to left drove Bill Wetzel across for the 8th run of the game.

UCSB completed its scoring in the 8th inning when a trio of singles by Schmandt, Wetzel, and Inman produced the ninth run. The Diablos then came up in the top half of the 9th inning in a desperate attempt to pull the game out of the fire. They thought they were going to realize their goal when two errors by the Gaucho outfield and a single enabled the Diablos to ruin the brilliant shut-out pitching of Wetzel in the final frame by scoring their only run. The Diablos went no further as Wetzel's mastery on the mound proved to be nearly absolute.

Coach Rene Rochelle sent another of his ace pitchers, port-sider Art Warrecker, to the mound for the second game in hope of another victory. Warrecker rose to the occasion with a scintillating performance as he struck out eight Diablos before being relieved by Bob Pope in the sixth inning with the Gauchos out in front by three runs.

The L.A. State coach responded to the challenge by starting one of his left-handers and the game looked like a tight pitching duel until the Gaucho bats came to life in the 3rd inning when Dave Inman led off with a drag bunt and scored with the help of Duke Ellington's single to center and Ned Permenter's sacrifice fly to left. Ellington later came across with another marker on Ron Heusser's long drive to the centerfielder.

The first Diabolo scoring threat came in the fourth inning when Warrecker gave up two consecutive free passes and the next batter smacked a sharp single to right field. The Gaucho right fielder, Frank Stevens, rifled the ball homeward with a perfect throw to nail the runner at the plate. The Diablos came back in the fifth frame with another scoring attempt but, some sharp defensive play by the Gauchos and the strong left arm of Warrecker quickly dispelled their thoughts on the matter.

The Gauchos scored their third and last run in the 5th inning when Roger Keller singled home Permenter who had drawn a base on balls. Ellington, meanwhile, had legged out a bunt, stolen second, and was called out at third on a disputed play when he attempted to pilfer that bag also. Ellington, batting second in the Gaucho line-up, was given the go sign by Rochelle all afternoon as the speedy first-sacker continued to run the bases with abandon.

While working on the first Diabolo batter in the 6th frame, Warrecker developed a nosebleed and was replaced by Bob Pope on the mound. A long harangue followed when Coach Rochelle argued with the plate umpire that this unusual situation called for permitting Pope to have more than the customary five warm-up pitches as he was not yet ready to enter the game. The fact was borne out when Pope loaded the bases on two free passes and a wild pitch. Daryl Vaughn, the fleet center fielder for the Gauchos, saved the day when he made a diving catch of a sinking fly ball off the bat of the next Diabolo batter. Pope came back strong in the 7th inning of the game to end the Diablos hopes of salvaging at least one of the pair of games.
