Debators Clash with Friscans in Auditorium

President Phelps Calls Special Meeting of Student Body to Hear Speakers

ARGUE ON HOURS, WAGES

Lamoreaux, Card Oppose Link and Werchick of San Francisco State

All classes will be dismissed today fifth period to hear the inter-collegiate debate between San Francisco State and the Gauchos speech artists. The special assembly was called for by President Phelps late yesterday afternoon as a part of activities with San Francisco State.

The debate is based on the question "Resolved: That Congress Should Have the Power to Regulate Maximum Hours and Minimum Wages in Industry." San Francisco will take the affirmative and Santa Barbara will argue in the negative.

Two students will speak for each team. Ross Lamoreaux and Betty Card are the local speakers. Jack Werchick and Bob Link are the northern representatives. The northerners will arrive at nine o'clock in the morning by automobile.

"We ask that all students attend our debate in the auditorium during fifth period in what will be the first inter-collegiate debate of several years. With the competition that will arise in the debate, I feel that we shall be able to display a student interest in scholastic competition between schools," was the statement of Ross Lamoreaux.

Teams were chosen from the debate squads by a system of try-outs. Speeches will consist of 10 minutes in construction and five minutes of refutation.

San Francisco debators will be housed at the Beta Sig house.

Alphigam Sections Stage Convention in Southern City

With selection of Los Angeles as their convention city, more than 100 college and junior college journalists, members of Alpha Phi Gamma and Beta Phi Gamma fraternities, are making plans to attend their annual convalesce during the Thanksgiving holidays, November 27, 28 and 29. Delegates will attend from all the western chapters of the two national fraternities, coming from Colorado, Arizona, Oregon, Washington and many parts of California.

Extensive plans for the three-day sessions are being made under the chairmanship of Iola Rust, Redlands, national secretary of both organizations. On the convention committee are John Allan Smith, national president of Alpha Phi Gamma and editor of the Los Angeles School Journal; Miss Doris Coker and Miss Virginia Moon of Los Angeles, alumni members of the fraternity; and Joe Shoben, active member of Glendale Junior college.

Hotel Embassy and the Trinity auditorium adjoining the hotel will be the center of convention activities.

ROOT SPEAKS

Sidney Root spoke on his experiences in South America before the elementary department meeting, Tuesday, November 3 in room 80. Leo Butts, president of the department, was in charge.

Rally and Parade Officially Open Homecoming Activities as Gauchos Prepare for Returning Graduates

Dr. Joseph Kunz

Representing the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, Dr. Josef L. Kunz, a distinguished international lawyer will speak before the conference of International Relations clubs to be held tonight and tomorrow at Occidental college in Los Angeles.

International Relations Conference Meeting Slated in South

Two Santa Barbara State students, Christina McKellar and Alstair Anderson will attend a conference of International Relations club from the Pacific Southwest to be held at Occidental college, Los Angeles, today and tomorrow, November 6 and 7, by invitation of that college and in cooperation with the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

This conference will be known as the Pacific Southwest International Relations clubs conference. The principal guest speaker will be Dr. Josef L. Kunz, a distinguished international lawyer. Miss Amy Heminway Jones, Division Assistant of the Endowment, who is in charge of the International Relations club work, will attend and take part in the program as the Endowment's representative.

Registration will begin at 10 a. m. today and the opening session will be held at 11:30. A luncheon will follow at 1 p. m. and round tables (Continued on Page 6, Column 3)

Films of Reno Trip Are Feature of Rally

Organizations Vie for Trophies in Parade

Films of the Reno trip, shown by special permission of James McCloskey, are a special feature of the Homecoming rally to be held tonight at 8:30, in the college auditorium, on the conclusion of the parade which will begin at 7:30, according to Miss Helen Sweet, faculty advisor of the rally committee.

The parade will start promptly from the foot of State street and led by Armae Brewster and Christine McDonald on horseback, will proceed up State past the reviewing stand at Sola street. Jim Benton is in charge of car lineups for the parade, and all students wishing to enter a decorated car should see him about a position. The Western Sound system will announce the floats as they go by the reviewing stand.

During the rally, master of ceremonies, Yale Lorden, will present the awards for the prize-winning floats of the parade as decided by the judges, Dr. Elizabeth Bishop, Miss Elizabeth Schon, and Mr. Walter Cheever.

Three trophies will be awarded as prizes, Harry Harris, father of a State frosh has donated the first prize and the following organizations and fraternities have entered floats competing for the awards: Sima Alpha Kappa, Alpha Theta Chi, Frosh class, Phi Kappa Gamma, Tau Gamma Sigma, Beta Sigma Chi, Delta Zeta (Continued on Page 4, Col. 1)

Lincoln Library Gets National Recognition

National recognition has been attained by the Lincoln library of the college through the interest shown in it by the editors of "Hobbies," popular magazine for collectors of all kinds.

An article published in the Nov. 1936 issue of "Hobbies" mentions the library as having over 6,000 volumes. Given to the college by William Wyles of Santa Barbara in 1928, for the purpose of preserving the posterity writings dealing with the period of the Civil war, the collection has continued to grow to its present size.

Wilma Kiesner

Wilma Kiesner, rally committee chairman, who will be officially in charge of the Homecoming rally activities tonight in the auditorium.

Annual Dinner Honors Alumni

Ester Janssens Porter Acts As Chairman; F. Noel Is Toastmaster

Honoring alumni of Santa Barbara State, the annual Homecoming banquet will be held tomorrow evening at 5:30 p. m. in Ebbets hall.

Mrs. Ester Janssens Porter will be in charge of all arrangements, with Francis Noel, '32, as toastmaster for the dinner. The dinner will feature short speeches by President Clarence L. Phelps, Denning McArthur, student prexy, and Coach "Spud" Harder.

Dorothea Petersen Kent, Betty Proctor Beavis and Margaret Jirgerian Eaton, song leaders of former years, together with Renata Maccianti and Barbara Sharp, '36 songsters, will lead group singing. Cooperating with Harry Sloan and Jack Kitchen, Lyman "Goldy" Goldsmith and Howard Gammill, former favorites, will lead yells.

Guests of honor at the dinner will be graduates of State who have become brides and grooms (Continued on Page 4, Column 5)

Officials Plan Stadium, Field on College Site

Stewart Heads Committee to Handle Construction on State Bowl

PLAN TO SEAT 12,000

Civic Leaders Form Corporation to Finance Project on Leadbetter

Construction of a $50,000 stadium and athletic plant for the State college on a tract of land adjoining the new college site on the Mesa will come one great step nearer reality tonight as a volunteer committee of prominent businessmen, civic leaders and college officials meet at Pine Hall to organize "The Santa Barbara Stadium association."

Called by Coleman Stewart, prominent Santa Barbara attorney and long a State booster, the meeting will hear reports by volunteer committeemen on the proposed stadium site, estimated construction costs and the proposed financing method.

It is planned to build the stadium with a seating capacity of 12,400 people, but one which could easily and inexpensively be enlarged to accommodate 20,000 people. The proposed site affords ample parking space for 6,000 automobiles, and with city cooperation, existing roads leading to and from the site could be improved to handle traffic without congestion.

The favored plan of financing the stadium would embrace the sale of ten-year box seats at graduation (Continued on Page 6, Col. 1)

After-Game Dance Honors Alumni and Northern Visitors

College alumni and students of San Francisco State college will be honored at the Homecoming dance at Rockwood to be held after the game Saturday, November 7.

Sycamore Hall, a smaller Rockwood room, will be the scene of an alumni reception to follow the game. Fred Lambourne and his Collegians will play for dancing from 10:30 until 1:00. Sport attire will be in order.

Patrons and patronesses invited include President and Mrs. Clarence L. Phelps, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Abraham, Miss Hazel Severy and Miss Winifred Frye.

The social committee has planned a program of novelty numbers for the intermission. The committee is composed of Dot Riche, chairman, Bill McKenzie, Josephine Denman, Margaret Eastwood, and Harry Sloan.

Provision for additional dancing space will be made by using the raised platform on the north side of the ballroom.

Phelps and Abraham Go North on Monday

President Clarence L. Phelps and Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham, registrar, will leave Monday, November 9, for San Francisco to attend the meeting of the Pacific Coast association at the Sir Francis Drake hotel, November 9 and 10.

Mrs. Ednah Rich Morse, president emeritus of Santa Barbara State will be the guest of Mrs. Abraham during the session. President Phelps is to be a dinner speaker at the banquet on Monday evening which will initiate the activities.

El Gaucho First Formulated as El Aguila States Initial Newspaper Starts As Mimeographed Sheet

It was the night of April 20, 1922. Alone in his room, after midnight, pecking away at a portable typewriter, the editor of "La Aguila," first weekly newspaper of Santa Barbara State college, finally ceased his labors, laid out two mimeograph stencils, the product of his night's labor, and sought his rest.

The nightmares of his night's labor however, were as nothing to grade that he received in Spanish the next day when Miss Ramelli politely but bluntly reminded him that the paper should have been "El" Aguila instead of "La" Aguila.

Early on the morning of April 21, with the aid of the school mimeograph, the half illegible first of what purported to be news edition was run. It contained 20 items. The staff, who alternately "pointed with pride" and "viewed with alarm," their editorial offspring, was composed of Everett Gamage, editor; Junius Smith, Frances Jones and Bobby Armstrong, reporters; Nancy Hill and Dorothy Wilbur, typists.

Finally, having corrected our Spanish grammar, in the name of the publication, issue 2 came out, neither better nor worse for journalism, but carrying out at least one tradition, that of regular publication.

There was much good natured razzing of the staff on the contents (or lack of it), and upon the physical appearance of the sheet. But it filled one purpose if no other: It was the cornerstone upon which the present college newspaper has been built.

A Hearty Welcome

With Santa Barbara State's 1936 Homecoming week-end upon us, we wish to extend our sincere welcome to alumni of the college who will return to visit our mutual campus and city.

Former graduates will find the stamp of progress this year on State, as the enrollment has mounted to one thousand. Students from distant states and far-away sections of California have made their ways to the Hilltop to enroll in various courses of study suitable to their needs.

Taking its place in the inter-collegiate sports circle, the '36 Gaucho eleven retains a coveted spot as one of the two undefeated and untied teams on the Pacific coast.

As out-of-town visitors and townspeople are turned away by the hundreds each night at Pershing Park, the need of an adequate playing field for athletics, football in particular, has been put before the citizens of Santa Barbara and students of State college. As civic leaders meet tonight in one of State's newest classrooms, Pine hall, the realization of a $50,000 stadium comes closer.

Progress and change, a record to be proud of, greets you on every side, but the students and the college itself are still the same. A college cannot go upward without the continual backing of its alumni. That you have given us.

Thus, graduates, we offer salutations! From the beginning of the festivities, the parade and rally tonight, to the termination of your stay, we ask nothing more than that you join with us in the traditional spirit and gaiety that prevades the campus at this time. Alumni, we welcome you!

Yesterday and Today

By EVERETT GAMAGE,
Editor, "El Aguila", First State Newspaper

Yesterday—thirteen years ago at Santa Barbara State college. An enrollment of only a comparative handful of students, mostly girls in training in the teachers college department. A football team that "also ran" and usually "ran out" of substitutes by the time that all fifteen boys on the squad had been in and out of the game a half dozen times each half. A baseball team that fared better with seventeen out. A college orchestra of eight members who gave "concerts" at neighboring high schools in spite of which the enrollment at State college grew. Long lines of hungry students waiting each noon in line at the cafeteria which is now the music building. A music building that would go into one corner of the present room with space to walk around.

Today—a modern college, granting a full fledged degree to its graduates. A football squad on the road to a conference championship. Modern buildings on the still lovely hilltop. Wild ideas of yesterday grown into the college traditions of today.

We old timers, of over a decade ago, are proud of you, Santa Barbara. We are watching your growth with pride. And may your Green and White banner be still more proudly floating when another decade has rolled around.

The Soap Box

By JACK SALTER

We heard the news of the election. We also heard John D. M. (doesn't mix) Hamilton on that fateful night. The election returns were coming in and were not exactly favorable to Landon who was hugging the radio in Kansas. Hamilton was asked to speak, and he mumbled some funny word. Through the sobs and tears in his voice he said, "Those early returns don't signify anything. Why back in 1916 we put Hughes to bed as president and woke up with Wilson re-elected, so you can all go to bed good Republicans and wake up Democrats" or something like that, and he further whizzed that figures didn't lie, just so long as you took his figures. And he did a little predicting, murmuring the while "30 percent increase for Landon," but we aren't sure because the tears were dripping into the microphone.

Later, Hamilton said, "We who are about to die salute you." The death took place in 1932 when the frail body of Hoover was tucked neatly in its political grave. But Hamilton doesn't keep abreast of the time. He is slow in hearing news, and it just got around to him in 1936 that the Republicans had been buried and lay smouldering in the ground these four years.

We all know that Landon was Hearst in War, Hearst in Peace, and HEARST in the hearts of his countrymen. And where does that leave Hearst? It leaves him in a Red Rage and we know Hearst won't even let a Robin Redbreast sing on his sumptuous estate, because we saw a picture of him falling in a dead faint when a Robin Redbreast flew up to San Simeon. And there was a big editorial on the front page of the Hearst papers denouncing Roosevelt for sending Robin Redbreasts up to San Simeon.

Once in awhile Hearst is right. The day before the election he blew his big fog horn in that alarming print on the front page of his sheets, and he said, "The American people cannot be fooled; they cannot be deceived; they cannot fail to realize the dangers to their country; they will elect Landon president." Well, now he was right in 75 percent in the foregoing gem, and that's a pretty good average, and he can weasel out of the last crack by saying he meant Roosevelt instead of Landon, and he was always having trouble remembering names. Yea, erily, there is gnashing of the teeth and biting of door sills in San Simeon.

We won't analyze the results, because we think that it is unnecessary since everybody in the country, with the exception of three states, already analyzed the issues pretty well before the election. However, when the sunflower boy came to California his answers to the reporters weren't exactly brilliant.

They went something like this: Reporter, "Mr. Landon, what do you propose to do about the unemployed?"

Landon, "I stand for the Constitution of the United States and this is a great and glorious nation."

Reporter, "What about the reciprocal tariff?"

Landon, "I stand for the Constitution of the United States."

Reporter, "What would be your substitution for relief?"

Landon, "I stand for the Constitution of . . ."

Reporter, "I see Gov. Landon, now is there anything else you stand for?"

Landon, "I stand for the Constitution of the United States."

And, he forgot to add that he stood defeated.

And Al Smith said the most sensible thing that has issued from his brassy throat, when informed of election returns; said the former that and that:

"I think I'll go to bed."

And politically he will go to bed and there will be no alarm clock set by the electorate to awaken him from his untroubled slumbers. In this connection we might mention that Landon was gracious in his defeat in contrast to the Hon. Al, whose rankling heart still rankles that the man who was preferred to his own charming self was re-elected by the biggest landslide in the United States.

P.S. My agents have hurried the news to me on hans and knees that the Constitution still safely reposes in Washington, despite the fact that no Republican resides at 1600 Pennsylvania avenue.

Book Chatter

By ARTHUR H. BATCHELDER

Having become almost entirely submerged by the vast amount of literature sent to me concerning S. S. Van Dine's new and thrilling murder-mystery, "The Kidnap Murder Case," I have at last succumbed and will pass on the low-down to you.

There was a large enough pre-publication sale of this mystery to place it among the best-sellers of the season. S. S. Van Dine had had 9 best-sellers in 9 years—think of it! No other author has this record. The titles have all had 6 letters . . . Benson, Canary, Kidnap, etc. This was to give a clue to his real name, which we know now to be Willard Huntington. Also the author—for mystery's sake—wished the book released to the public on Friday the 13th. And another thing . . . this is the first book in which Philo Vance during his distinguished career had need the use for fire-arms.

Clever plot, clever conversation, clever form—altogether a thoroughly clever book.

From Europe, according to Charles Scribner's Son . . . Thomas Wolfe, whose "Of Time and the River" has been recently published in Germany, has just returned from the Olympic games . . . he was especially enthusiastic about the performance of Jesse Owens at the Olympic Games in Berlin.

Stop! Look! Listen! This is the last day to enter your book review in the contest! Do it now!

Fifty people attended the Recreation Night last Wednesday night, held under the sponsorship of the Women's Athletic association. Games were played by those present. Late-comers, however, were at a disadvantage as far as making high score.

These Names Make News

A VERY BRUNDAGE made headlines long before he expelled Eleanor Holm Jarrett from the 1936 American Olympic team. In 1912, at the age of 25, he was a track star running for the United States in the Olympiad in Stockholm. He was then three years out of the University of Illinois where he had won several "I's" in track and joined Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Not a champagne drinker, Brundage acquitted himself creditably at Stockholm. Soon after he took up handball, and became one of the country's outstanding singles players, while his own construction company put up some of Chicago's flashiest apartment and office buildings.

He was chosen head of the Amateur Athletic Union in 1928 and president of the American Olympic Association in 1930. In 1934, two years before he jeopardized these titles by applying discipline to Eleanor Holm Jarrett and Jesse Owens, Avery Brundage received the James E. Sullivan medal awarded annually "to the person, irrespective of nationality, who through service furthers amateur games competition throughout the world."

NO LESS ambitious a middle-wester is Wisconsin's and Sigma Nu's Nick Grinde. Nick was a hard-working journalist and Sigma Delta Chi at Wisconsin, but his work in the Union shows there made him set his mind on one single thing, motion pictures. In 1915 Grinde cooled his heels waiting to see a famous director to ask him for a job. He gave up waiting and took to the greasepaint road as Chic Sale's publicity manager. Years later Nick was directing Joan Crawford in a picture. One of the extras was the once-famous director. Grinde is now on the Warner Brothers lot, and you may have seen his latest, Public Enemy's Wife.

Fighting Frosh Triumph Over Amigans, 41-2

Weather Brings Cool Spell in Pershing Park, Last Night

PADILLA STARS IN LOSS

Jessup, Bill McArthur, Rossi Show Power in Battle With Los Amigos

Breaking loose with an avalanche of smashing runs and line plunges, the Frosh won their first game of the season over an inferior Los Amigos squad 41-2. Although using Stevens and Lane of the Athletic club the Friends were still no match for the Freshmen.

Stellar activity of the evening was the cold chill that descended on the field against players and spectators alike. In this weather teams tried to cuddle up against each other to keep warm with an occasional sprint to keep legs from freezing.

Starting with two touchdowns in the first quarter and one in the next, the second half saw another in the third and two more in the fourth. In addition two safeties were scored, with one on each side.

For the Frosh, Bill McArthur, Lloyd Rossi, and Jessup did the heaviest ball-carrying, while Bailey and Merlo put through the necessary amount of punishment. For the Amigans, the star was Domingo Padilla, a State freshman, who led the pack in what attempt they made to stop the Frosh. Lane was the most valuable of the men imported from the Athletic club.

Starting the game, the Los Amigans recovered a State fumble on the first play. For three plays the Friends were unable to budge the State line. When the Frosh got the ball, Rossi sprinted for a gain and began a series of Rossi-McArthur plays. When they reached the goal line Rossi blocked out the opponents and McArthur scored.

Frosh kicked off and the Amigans were held after gaining on a penalty. Rossi took the ball and displayed some more work that resulted in the second score, the quarter ending and the second string entering the game. With the second string in, Jessup showed his ability at smashing through the Friends. This resulted in the third score. Al Bine, substitute, given a chance, pushed his way through the opponents for a few plays. The second half ended with the failure of the first string to score in a three minute period.

In the next score a safety was made when Padilla intercepted a pass for the play. Following this score by a few minutes, Merlo heaved a pass to Main who received it in the clear and touched paydirt unmolested. Hard tackling by the Amigans, rejuvenated by the presence of the Athletic club men, shoved the Frosh hard. Jessup returning to the game again hit the line for consistent gains that resulted in another touchdown.

Following this was probably the play of the day when Domingo called for the ball. Shooting through the right side of the line he twisted and cut across the field without interference and sprinted for the longest Amigon run of the game.

Shortly after this run, Lane broke through the Frosh to block a kick in the end-zone and score the safety. The ball returned to the Amigon territory where Domingo stopped one attack only to have the first string return and push over the score with Merlo carrying the ball. This was the final score with Los Amigos holding the ball for the rest of the game.

Christmas Day Game Planned

Arizona Meets New Mexico for Right to Play State Gauchos

New Mexico State will meet Arizona State of Tempe in a southwestern battle Saturday to fight for the privilege of playing the now untied and unbeaten Gauchos in a Christmas Day encounter. For the past two years the New Mexicans have trimmed all border conference competition with the exception of Arizona U. Tempe has suddenly developed an unexpected opposition to their adversaries with wins over Whittier, 12-0, and over Cal-Tech, 26-0.

New Mexico is favored to win by the best experts, using a Notre Dame system that held Arizona U. to a 7-0 victory last year. Tempe is an upset team and their chief power lies in that fact. Holding Arizona U. to a nine point win one week they dropped to Flagstaff by 19 points the next. In contrast to this 19 point loss is a New Mexico win of 41-6 over the Flagstaff team.

Peabody stadium will be used for the game, if it is necessary seats for 12,000 will be provided. The game will be played under the auspices of the local Sciots.

GRID FLASHES

Here are a few items to prove why opponents dread our pair of backfield aces, Morelli and Yeager. Morelli comes first in the alphabet but that is the only place that one has the edge on the other. Together they have carried the ball more than a hundred times for over a half mile.

Player	TCB	YG	YL	A
Yeager	55	560	11	9.9
Morelli	63	432	14	6.6

Earl Fredburg

Star's Initial Year at State

Heaviest Gaucho on Team; Uses Weight at Tackle and Center Spots

Earl Fredburg, first string tackle is seeing service for the first time on the Gaucho eleven this year. At Taft High school he played three years and was on the Valley champion team in 1930. After graduating, he played for Taft Junior college two years. That team won the Central Valley junior college championship successively, the two years he was there. He alternated his job of tackle with that of center, and in his last year at jaycee he was elected as All-San Joaquin Valley center.

This year Fredburg came to State where he is playing tackle and center with equal brilliance. He is the heaviest man on the team and is a bulwark on defense. His 234 pounds of muscle are a boon to the forward line and his work is outstanding, no matter which team has the ball.

Earl is well known for his style of shoulder blocking is one of the best blockers on the team. He always gets his man and can also be depended upon to play a hard half without tiring.

Miss Sharleen Horner is the piano accompanist for the dance organization, "Orchesis." Anyone who is interested in learning modern dancing is cordially welcome, for this dance group is not an advanced class. At present, the group is learning to use the body as the instrument for means of expression.

Recreation Night proved to be a great success sponsored last Wednesday night by the Women's Athletic association. Thirty-five students participated in the games of batball, ping pong, and relays. Helen Rogers was the chairman for the evening and was assisted by Senoritas Merle Thomas, "Tiny" Garman, Nancye Clapp, and Harriett Cooper. Mr. Griffin was the faculty sponsor.

'Gaters Have Fast Backfield

Purple and Gold Troupers Have Scored Two Up-Sets to Date

Just a word as to the seasonal record of the San Francisco squad and the leading players.

San Francisco opened against the Mare Island Marines and scored a 26-0 win. Marin Junior college took the Purple and Gold 32-0. The team upset the strong San Francisco Junior college team by a 2-0 score. One week later they lost to Maramonte 31-0 and last week they upset the dope by holding Chico State to a 6-6 tie.

Bill Harkness is the backfield star on the Gater team. A triple threat man and has been averaging 40 yards on his punts. He completed approximately half of the passes tried and carries the ball on many assignments.

Bill Abbey will be due to start at quarter. Leads the interference on most of the Purple and Gold plays, and plenty good as a blocker. A former all city high school player.

Bill Ferem, freshman, will get the call at center. Six feet tall and weighing 185 pounds, plays a driving game at center, especially on defense when he backs up the line along with Bill Abbey.

The center of the San Francisco line will probably prove to be a stone wall. Flanking Ferem is Ralph Kauer, running guard, and Sid Fischer.

Dave Shiller will be one of the question marks in the San Francisco backfield. If he is set to go, the Gaters will have a definite pass threat to throw against the Gauchos. Schiller is a pass catching fool. The combination of Harkness to Schiller has accounted for much yardage in the games to date.

The probable starting line-up will be: ends, Stone and Phillips; tackles, Hanrahan and Plutte; guards, Kauer and Fischer, and center, Ferem. In the backfield: quarterback, Abbey; halves, Bolander and Schiller, and fullback, Harkness.

Tennis Class Shows Noted Improvement

The tennis class under Hal Davis is rapidly improving. Most of the class have mastered the volley shot and are now devoting their time to the back hand drive. For the next two weeks they will concentrate on the service.

Much time has also been spent on practicing fundamentals of strokes and swings, footwork and timing.

Gauchos Meet Golden Tide of San Francisco

Bay Regioners Present Dark Horse Candidate on Grid Program

NORTHERNERS IMPROVED

Harder Prepares for Battle With Underdogs Ready to Spring Upset

With a nationally recognized undefeated, untied record to protect, the Big Green of Santa Barbara State meets the Golden Tide of San Francisco State at Pershing Park, Saturday night as the climax to the greatest Homecoming in Gaucho history.

The Bay Regioners, although not showing much strength by their record of games, continue to be the dark horses, as they defeated S.F.J.C., the conquerors of L.A.J.C.; one of the strongest junior colleges in Southern California.

Coach Harder has put his men through a week consisting of running plays against the Frisco system. Last year the Gauchos took the game as a "breather" and barely eked out 12-0 win, over a weaker team than this years aggregation. The Gauchos biggest obstacle in this game will be their own over confidence.

In the backfield, Pollock, will sparkplug the machine, at quarter; the "touchdown twins," Morelli and Yeager, at left and right half, respectively. Freddy Monson, the battering ram, will start at fullback. The potent pass combination of Gardenhire to Smith will see plenty of service in preparation for the gruelling conference games to come.

The scoring duel between "Scooter" Morelli and "Swivel-Hips" Howie Yeager, will provide sparkling entertainment for the spectators as these two aces are tied for West Coast high scoring honors with seven touchdowns each.

Barney Swanson, stellar quarterback replacement injured early in the season, will be back in a suit and ready to play.

Fraternity Is Host to Alums

Bob Dorn Heads Open-House Committee; Beta Sigs Enter Parade

Beta Sigma Chi, oldest fraternity on El Gaucho campus, will be hosts to over 100 of their alumni and guests at the Homecoming open-house Saturday afternoon between 12:00 noon and game time. The festivities for the Homecoming guests will center around the Beta Sig house on Cheltenham road in Misson Canyon.

A buffet luncheon and general program for the open-house are under the chairmanship of Bob Dorn who is being assisted by Thomas Lindquist.

For the Homecoming parade night, the Beta Sigma Chi fraternity which is to be held Friday evening have arranged a novel float in keeping with the theme of the activity. The float was designed and built by Lansing Stewart and Paul Westbury.

Each year the Homecoming party of the Beta Sig's is one of the outstanding activities of the campus according to Rolly Carter, president of the fraternity.

"We expect an unusually large group of the interest created by the group of alumni this year be success of our Gaucho football team," said President Carter.

Delta, Gamma Delta Chi, the Industrial Education department, Tau Omega, W.A.A., and Delta Sigma Epsilon.

Latest edition to the rally program is the frosh follies, with chorines Ferdinand Davis, Carlos Bee, Olin Russum, Walter Ullman and Paul Williams starred. To open the rally the State band will play a snappy number and will publicize the Block "S" with a novel color arrangement. Master of ceremonies Lorden will introduce Coach "Spud" Harder who will give his pros and cons on the team's chances with the Gold-Gaters.

Next on the stage will be a mas display of the Galloping Gaucho with Coach "Wee Willie" Wilton as their speaker. Songs and yells will be led by Renata Maccianti and Barbara Sharp, song leaders, an Harry Sloan and Jack Kitchen yell-kings. Dr. Elmer Noble and Freddy Monson will display their tumbling talents to the assembly. Harry Butler will then hold the spotlight by singing "Home on the Range," "We Joined the Navy," an "Ride El Gaucho, Ride." Howard Gammill and George Williams famed "apache" dancers of years back will delight the alumni with one of their ever popular presentations. Grand finale for the program will be an annual skit written by Orville Morrison propheying the outcome of tomorrow's game.

Sigma Alpha Kappa Announces Three Homecoming Fetes

Final plans for three Homecoming events were made by the members of Sigma Alpha Kappa fraternity at their regular meeting last Monday night at the home of Bill Poole, president.

The fraternity will hold open house Saturday afternoon, November 7, from one to four o'clock at 305 Toyon Road in San Roque Park. There will be facilities for badminton, and table tennis. Buffet service will be maintained all afternoon. The fraternity will also hold a breakfast Sunday morning at 10:30 at El Cortijo, honoring fraternity alumni and their guests. Entertainment during the breakfast period will be provided by the fraternity pledges.

Committees in charge of the breakfast include Harris Barkesman, social chairman, Albert Latham, corresponding secretary, and Bill Poole, fraternity president.

Plans have been completed for the fraternity float to be entered in the rally parade tonight under the tutelage of Dave Pollock, "Fuzzy" Phelps, Larry Bowlus and Lorne Olsen.

Kappa Omicron Phi Pledges Two Co-eds

Kappa Omicron Phi, National Professional Home Economics fraternity, honored new pledges Barbara Bennet and Lola Taylor with a Hallowe'en dinner on November 2, at the Delta Sigma Upsilon house.

Following the dinner a regular business meeting was held, in which plans were made for the Homecoming buffet luncheon to be held at the home of Miss Florence Clark at 2003 Alameda Padre Serra on November 7.

Those present were Miss Florence Clark, sponsor, Ruth Brickey, alumni, and active members, Catherine Caldwell, Sumy Ota, Cecelia Negus, Jean Goss, Jean Henderson, Mildred Cummings, Vealyn Ryder and Evelyn Braman.

Delta Sigma Epsilon Holds Informal Meet

Delta Sigma Epsilon, national social sorority, will hold an informal get-together for actives, alumnae and guests at the sorority house, 1725 Grand avenue, tonight after the rally, as its first event of the Homecoming week-end.

Thelma George, Norma Bassi and Helen Buckman are in charge of the float to be entered in the parade.

The breakfast honoring alumnae and actives will be held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock in the sorority house. Betty Westcott, social chairman, aided by Nellie Rathjain, Irene Baptiste, Thelma George, Helen Buckman, Alice Goff, Helen Patterson, Norma Bassi, Helen

Statements by the POWERS THAT BE

Pre-nursing students desiring to take the course in anatomy must see Miss Hazel Severy this week so that a schedule may be arranged. Miss Severy will be in her office 5th hour every day, and Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

All students, faculty members and alumni desiring tickets for the Homecoming dinner tomorrow night, must make reservations with Dean Lois Bennink immediately.

Junior High Majors Hear Vice Principal

"Teachers Are People" was the title of the talk given by the vice-principal and girl's advisor of the Santa Barbara Junior high school, Miss Helen Murphy, before the Junior Hi department Tuesday. In this topic, which Miss Murphy selected from a book of poems, by that name, emphasized that the students are also people, and should be treated as such.

As advisor, she has had much experience with the teen age group, described cases of delinquency among students caused largely by broken homes and poverty. She stressed the serious effect on the pupils. Home economics workers can not even work out a budget for many families, the income is so small, consequently the results of too little food and rest on the students produce serious results.

Miss Murphy answered questions of Junior Hi department members on completing her talk.

Members of the department were urged by President Bob Kindred to pay their dues in order to obtain a page in the college annual.

Anacapa Club Fetes Wilton on Birthday

A birthday party that was definitely "a surprise" was held at the Anacapa club Wednesday night in honor of Willie Wilton, popular Gaucho backfield football coach.

Walking into the main dining room of the club where some 60 house members and others, including Coach Spud Harder, were seated awaiting him. Wilton was greeted by strains of "Happy Birthday to You, Dear Willie!" as sung by 60 voices.

Ice cream and cake, contribution of Harrington "Pop" Wells, was served following the dinner. A birthday cake with 27 candles was cut by Wilton and a slice given to all house members.

Williams, Virginia Rogers and Doris Delker, will plan the event. The sorority will have open-house during the Homecoming for all visiting graduates.

Delta Zetas Meet to Complete Plans on Alumnae Events

Active and alumnae members of Delta Zeta Delta sorority held a joint meeting last Monday evening at the home of Nancy Daens on Canyon Road in San Roque Park.

Plans for the Homecoming breakfast, under the supervision of Madeline Straw, have been completed. The affair will be held at El Cortijo, Sunday morning at 10:30.

The sorority float which will be entered in the Homecoming parade was discussed by the group. Margaret Eastwood was placed in charge of arrangements.

Active members who attended the meeting include Madeline Straw, Margaret Eastwood, Darlene Hapenny, Zelva Pierce, Ann Covelli, Elinor Stewart and Elisabeth Leonard, president.

Sorority Completes Homecoming Plans

Plans have been finished for the parade float to be entered by Phi Kappa Gamma sorority in the Homecoming parade Friday night. Peggy Flynn and Doris DeAy, co-chairmen of the float committee, are in charge of decorations.

A Homecoming tea is being sponsored by the sorority for the alumnae, actives and their guests on Saturday afternoon from three to five o'clock at the home of Frances Ann Warnekros, 2528 Hollister avenue.

The annual alumnae breakfast will be held Sunday morning, at 10 o'clock, at the Mar Monte hotel. Committee heads for the breakfast are Jeanne Leive, invitations and Ruth Hooker, general chairman.

Sponsors for the Homecoming events are Mrs. Ruth Doolittle, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnstone, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Holland.

Tau Gams Complete Plans for Keek-End

Meeting at the home of Jan Goslin, Monday night, members of Tau Gamma Sigma, social sorority, culminated plans for the parade float, and Homecoming celebrations to honor alumnae members Saturday and Sunday.

Activities include a breakfast, arranged by the alumnae chapter, to be held at El Mirasol hotel, Sunday morning at 9:30 a.m.

Alphaphigams Hold Pledging

Eastwood, Kandjounzeff, Rasmussen, Hoefler Join Fraternity

Margaret Eastwood, Leona Rasmussen, Jean Kandjounzeff, and Caroline Hoefler were pledged to Alpha Phi Gamma, national journalistic fraternity at its regular meeting held last Tuesday night, November 3, at the home of Lawrence Leslie, 514 Casitas street. Invitations to pledging were also issued to Bob Paden, Gretalie Fitzgerald and Bill Murphy.

Plans were discussed for attending the Associated Collegiate Press association convention to be held in San Diego, November 20, and the western convention of Alpha Phi Gamma which will be November 26, 27 and 28 in Los Angeles.

A report was made on the Hallowe'en party given recently by the fraternity for pledges. Active members attending include Petie McKinney, Dick Waterman, Yale Lorden, Irene Minikin, Lawrence, Bob Moore, Bill Hoyt, president and Jack Porter, associate member.

Homecoming Dinner Entertains Alumni

(Continued from Page One) during the past year. They will be seated at a special table and presented with a huge wedding cake. The faculty committee for Ebbets hall decorations includes Mrs. Ruth Doolittle, art '26; Fred L. Griffen, I. E. '27; Mrs. Virginia Allred, home economics, '32; and Louie Taylor, I. E. '34. Mrs. Louise Holden Purvis, elementary '36; Mrs. Ethel McDonald, and Mrs. Mary Ida DeMotte Sands, '36, will supervise the table decorations.

Faculty Hear Educator Talk

Superintendent of Schools Talks on Work of Commission

Faculty members at their meeting, Wednesday afternoon, November 18, will hear John Sexson, superintendent of schools in Pasadena and a member of the Educational Policies Commission discuss the work of this commission.

The commission is composed of 20 leading educators of the United States appointed by the National Educational association and Department of Superintendence to make a five year study of the fundamental considerations involved in a modern educational program. Only two of the members are from the western part of the United States, Dr. Sexson and Dr. Frederick Hunter, chancellor of higher education for the state of Oregon. There are 1,800 consultants chosen throughout the country and President Clarence L. Phelps is the representative for this region.

The study undertaken by this commission is financed by a grant from the General Education Board, a private organization. This commission was organized in January of 1936 and already a number of checked lists have been sent to the consultants to get their opinions.

"It is expected Dr. Sexson's presentation here will give the faculty a lot of significant material concerning this new study," stated President Phelps.

Art Majors Convene to Plan Dinner-Meet

The art department, at their first meeting, made plans for a dinner to be held at El Cortijo, at which Miss Jean Anglemyer major in art will tell of her stay in Japan. Miss Angemyer lived in that country 18 months. Further plans for the dinner, to be made by all majors and minors in the department, will be made by the social committee.

The department, under the direction of Mrs. Mary E. T. Crosswell, is busy putting an exhibit up this week for the benefit of old students during Homecoming.

TEAM HONORED

The members of the victorious Gaucho football squad were the guests of Warner Brothers Granada theater last night to see "The Big Game," a football picture. The team was also entertained yesterday noon at lunch by the Lions club, a local service organization.

Library Acquires List of New Books on Special Fields

Among the numerous books being acquired every week by State college library are many dealing with specialized subjects, and leading along definite paths of learning which are well worth noting.

Among the latest of these acquisitions are: in the realms of social science, Common, History of Labor in the United States; Cambridge, Shorter History of India; Earle, Outline of Modern History; Bemis, Guide to Diplomatic History of the United States; Gunther, Inside Europe; Slosson, Europe Since 1870.

For Home Ec's, the following will prove of interest: ten volumes of the President's Conference on Home-Building: Nystrom, Economics of consumption; Smith, Recipes and Menus for Fifty; Hadwen, Handy Book of Recipes for Twenty-five; Daul, Restaurant Management; Borsodi, Flight from the City; Hambridge, Enchanted Acre; and Luske, Nutrition.

Science students will be appreciative of the value of Humphrey, Advanced Mathematics; Hilton, Plane Algebraic Curves; Fisk, Modern Alchemy; Park, Pathogenetic Microorganisms.

Majors in the field of education will profit by reading Knudson, Introduction to Teaching; Jordan, Extra Classroom Activities; Hart, Adult Education; Symonds, Education and Psychology of Thinking; Wallin, Personality Maladjustments; and Preston, High School Science Teacher.

Kindergarten Group Holds Recent Meet

The kindergarten-primary department held a meeting recently at the home of Rosalind Rawicz, Mary Wilson and Darlene Hapenny on Alameda Padre Serra to discuss plans for the Thanksgiving program to be given by the group in assembly.

Refreshment were served with individual cakes lighted by candles in honor of Miss Edith Leona, department head, birthday. "Happy Birthday" was sung by the group at the conclusion of the meeting.

Betty Townsend, president of the department, was in charge of the meeting. She was aided by Betty Wells, social chairman.

Committee Arranges Float, Open-House

Plans for the Homecoming float and open house to be held tomorrow were discussed at the regular meeting of the Tau Omega fraternity last Monday night.

The group will hold open house Saturday at 1814 Olive street, in honor of returning alumni and their guests.

Remember When

By EVERETT GAMMAGE

Just in case some of the alumni happen to read El Gaucho, how many of you remember when:

Upperclassmen used an army rifle to remove the freshman banner from the top of a eucalyptus tree in the patio.

State won its first athletic contest by beating Santa Barbara High school at baseball, 9-7.

Old Bones, the janitor's horse, was painted up as the "Only Living Ornithineus" in captivity, for the college carnival.

Students used to run in between classes to listen to a radio set, in the physics laboratory, one of the few in town.

A person or persons unknown literally obeyed President Phelps' instructions to have the court full for graduation, by plugging the drain pipes and turning on the water in the pool. It was full all right.

Two dozen students wondered which was worse, exhaust smoke or the "strange" odor of guano on Capt. Bob Ord's boat, on a trip to the islands. Everybody "enjoyed ill health."

The Spanish class "kidnap" Miss Ramelli to prevent an exam for which they were not prepared and it took a box of candy square themselves.

The unexpected inter-class "water fight" with fire hoses in the court. Some pacifist turned off the water and nearly blew up the heater in the cafeteria.

Dr. Thomas used to haul about 20 students up the hill to school every morning.

Somebody showed somebody else how to open the back door of a one-man street car, and half the load used to ride free.

Dean of Women Dr. Regina Westcott bested several of the men students in a pie-eating contest without tools.

A candy sale netted 26 dollars to finance football season.

Gamma Delts Stage 'Pajama Breakfast'

At the special meeting which Gamma Delta Chi, social sorority of Santa Barbara State college, held Tuesday evening, November 3, final plans were made for the Homecoming week-end. Costumes to be worn on the float to be entered in the parade Friday evening were made and the "pajama breakfast" to be held Sunday November 8, were discussed.

Nancye Clapp has general charge of the breakfast and Dorothy Watson, social chairman is in charge of the float.

Exhibit of metals and semi-precious stones in the library is being made by Louie S. Taylor, college instructor of metal work. While none of the stones are in the qualification of precious stones there are a few used in jewelry work.

Radio Ranglings

Hollywood Hotel tonight will have as its guest stars, Joan Blondell, Frank McHugh and Guy Kibee in scenes from, "Three Men on a Horse." This is Miss Blondell's first radio appearance since her return to Hollywood from her honeymoon with her husband Dick Powell.

President Roosevelt will speak from the White House, Gerard Swope will speak from Cleveland and the Philadelphia Orchestra under the direction of Leopold Stokowski will give a concert performance from Philadelphia in the opening program on behalf of the 1936 Mobilization for Human Needs on both the Columbia and National systems. The time is 7:00 to 7:30 p.m. tonight.

Stanley Baldwin, British prime minister, is expected to make an important statement on British arms policy in his address to the Lord Mayor's Inaugural Day Banquet in London, Monday. The address will be relayed to the Columbia network from 1:20 to 1:55 p.m. over Columbia.

Pat O'Brien is to star in "Alias Jimmy Valentine" on the Lux Radio Theatre Monday.

Greenies Build State Bonfire

Prexy Jones Requests More Materials; Trucks Are Hauling Wood

Frosh men are now working on the annual bonfire under the leadership of David Jones, class president. The fire will be built on the beach about 200 yards east of Stearn's wharf and the torch will be applied at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, November 12.

Any persons who have wood that might be used in the bonfire should make arrangements with Jones. More trucks have been asked for to haul the wood. Fuel for the fire is being provided by the City Contracting Co. Merchants are supplying boxes for the fire.

"We appreciate all of the help that has been given us but so far only a few enterprising men have been doing the work. All men of the freshman class are expected to assist but I have not received aid from the great majority. I would like to see more freshmen taking part in this work. They are need since only a little more than a week is left in which to build the bonfire. Here is an opportunity to show your class spirit—and the girls are going to serve good eats, boys," such was the statement of the Frosh prexy in his urge for additional aid.

Frye Speaks Before Body on Hawaii Trip

Miss Winifred Frye, clothing instructor in the home economics department, spoke on her recent trip to Hawaii before the home economics students, Tuesday, November 3, second hour in the cafeteria.

On her tour of the Islands, Miss Frye met many of the graduates of Santa Barbara State who have obtained instructing positions there. Mrs. June Mare Davis read a poem to the group.

The meeting was under the supervision of Dorothy Allen, vice-president of the home economics department.

with racoon fur collar

They enter the field . . . cross the line . . . and score a touchdown for all around wear!

Smart young women wear them as they are . . . or switch the coat to other costumes. Furred swagger in tweedy mixture has the "swing" fever . . . and the suit is tailored to perfection.

Officials Plan Stadium, Field

Committee Provides for Student Body Possession in Ten Years

ated prices. Each seat purchased for the ten-year period would be equivalent to a share of stock in the operating corporation, which itself would be completely separate from the college or state. Eventually the stadium would become the exclusive property of the college, by state purchase, or if the student body by outright purchase of the athletic field by the student organization.

The student body, it is pointed out, would sign a ten-year "preferential lease" contract with the stadium corporation, which in effect give the college the right to use the field as it wishes for no other cost than maintenance and upkeep expense. The corporation would have the right, however, to rent the field to outside interests at any time the stadium is not in use by the college.

By creating a "stadium purchase fund," it is said, the student body, alumni and athletic council could buy the stadium from the corporation with 10 years. The corporation would agree to sell to the student body or state at actual construction cost of the stadium, plus whatever the purchase price

Merchants Award All-American Robe at Student Rally

An official All-American Board blanket, with the seal of the board in the center will be presented to the student body tonight at the Homecoming rally by Ben Ashley and Jack Westlund of a downtown sports store.

The blanket is made of pure red wool with a blue and white felt border and is six feet square. In each corner in white felt letters various sports, football, basketball, baseball and track.

Each year at the conclusion of the different seasons the players will elect their most valuable teammate and his name will be placed under the name of the sport in its respective corners.

This blanket has been given as a good will gesture of the land will be.

Tonight's meeting at Pine Hall will bring together many civic and business leaders who will hear the plan explained by Attorney Stewart. A permanent committee and board of directors for purposes of incorporating the stadium association will be named next week, and it is expected actual financing work for the field will be underway within 15 days.

Present plans call for the stadium to be first used for the opening game of the 1937 football season, at which time, probably, the University of Nevada team will invade the home of the Gauchos.

'Relations Clubs to Meet at Oxy Today

at 2 p.m. Those will be on "The Crisis in International Organization," which is the general theme of the conference.

The round table discussion theme will be divided into these subjects, "The Colonial New Deal" and "The Storm Over Asia" in which San Diego State college and the University of Southern California will lead; "The Control of International Economic Relations" which Chapman college will lead; "Competing Internationales" led by Whittier college; "The New Pan-Americanism" led by Santa Ana Junior college, and "Implementing International Organization" led by the University of California at Los Angeles.

State Students Get Corsages, 'Gratis'

Alpha Florists will present a corsage each week to some fortunate Stater. The name will be printed in the florists' ad each Friday. To obtain the corsage the lucky individual must take the paper and his student body card.

In exchange the florists will give a receipt that can be exchanged for a corsage at any time. The receipt must be claimed by the Tuesday following the date of publication.

Society Announces Student Contest on 'Immunization'

The Santa Barbara Medical society and its Woman's Auxiliary are jointly sponsoring an essay contest for college and high school students in Santa Barbara county which will close on November 20.

The subject of the contest is "Immunization, Its Theory, Practice and Results," and must be written in not more than 1,500 words and not less than 1,000. The rules stipulate that any college or high school student in Santa Barbara county is eligible to compete in this contest, except members and employees of medical doctors' families. All entries must be accompanied by the contestant's full name, address, school attending and class year. The judges will be selected by the sponsors of the contest, and their decisions will be final.

Prizes for college students are $20 for first prize, $10 for second and $5 for third place. No correspondence can be entered into with any contestant and no entries will be returned.

Ed Wynn is going to return to radio after all. The new show will make its debut on November 14 over NBC. A cigarette producer, or company, will sponsor. We wonder what he will be this year. An appropriate name, in our estimation, would be "Babe in Toyland."

Group Expendes Trip Finances

Girls Glee Club Journeys South to Sing Over Network

Money was appropriated last night by the student council at its regular meeting held last night in room 80 in Pine hall to send the Girl's Glee club to Los Angeles to sing over the National Broadcasting Company in a schools' program.

It was also decided by the group to instruct the welfare committee to erect a bill board printed in celluloid letters in the quad. This board will be used for student body notices and will be erected for the use of the students.

Mr. Eaves of a downtown jewelry store presented the council with a bronze cup which will be one of the trophies to be presented to the prize-winning floats in tonight's parade.

The Women's Athletic association was appropriated funds to be used in the annual football banquet to be held December 2, at the conclusion of the season, honoring the gridiron squad.

Denning McArthur, student body president, presided over the group.
