A FIGHT TO THE DEATH ...

ARTHUR MILLER DRAMA AT 8:30 P.M., SUMMER RUN RATED "EXCELLENT"

by Janiece Asper

"A View From The Bridge," by Arthur Miller, now playing in the Little Theatre, is in the unusual position of having good reviews before its opening date. The play was presented this summer at the Repertory Theatre and by popular demand was held over an extra week equally impressive as the niece—a girl who has grown up in her uncle's home, thinking of him as a kind and understanding father, Bridge" stands on a par with the finest theatre provided by com-ner. Grown into an attractive young woman, she cannot understand that her very presence has become a hazard to her aunt's happiness and her uncle's peace of mind. Nor can she bring herself to the point of defying him when she finds love in the person of a young immigrant from Sicily.

Mr. Ronald Scofield, the drama critic for the S. B. News-Press, had this to say about the production.

Election Assembly Scheduled Monday

The Election Assembly to in-troduce the 29 candidates running for ASB offices will be held Monday at noon in front of the Student Union.

"This will be the only opportunity to meet the candidates before voting on Tuesday and Wednesday," stressed Carolyn Jones, chairman of the Elections Committee.

FEW TICKETS REMAIN FOR BRUBECK'S SHOW

Tickets are going fast for the Dave Brubeck Quartet's concert in modern jazz Sunday evening in the UCSB auditorium at 8:00. A few advance tickets for UCSB students are still on sale for $1.25.

Applications for all Homecom-ing events, the Galloping Gaucho Revue, Queen Contest and Parade, must be filed with the Graduate Manager's office by 4 p.m. today. Tryouts for the GGR will be Thursday, Oct. 16, at 6:30 p.m. in the campus auditorium.

Barbara Rush, 20th Century-Fox star and graduate of UCSB, will reign as grand marshall of the parade. Entrants in the parade are reminded that a limit of 12 has been placed on the number of people walking with a float in the parade. "This year's GGR promises to be an outstanding show," states Kathy Grant, Homecoming chairman. "We have a very capable director in Bruce Langshaw." The Revue will be held Oct. 23 and 24 at 8 p.m. in the campus auditorium. Tickets for GGR will be sold at the Graduate Manager's office. They will be $1 for general admission and 75 cents for students.

The Homecoming Queen Con-test assembly will be staged Oct. 17 at noon in the auditorium. There will be four finalists chosen from the contestants, and the queen will be chosen from these finalists by a vote of the men students on Oct. 22. On this day voting stations will be placed around campus.

"I urge that groups conform to size specifications mentioned in the brochure, because this year we intend to measure the floats on Friday night and tell the groups if they are too large," revealed Chairman Grant. "If they are over and still exceed the measurement Saturday, they will be eliminated from competition."

TV Star To Speak At Law Conference

Edgar Allan Jones Jr., professor of law at UCLA, who is known to thousands of television viewers in Southern California as the judge on the "Traffic Court" program, will give the keynote address at the Traffic Court and Enforcement Conference to be held on the campus tomorrow.

Student tickets can be purchased at the cashier's window in the Graduate Manager's office in the Student Union area. A few general-admission tickets will be on sale at the box office for $1.50.

Featured with Brubeck will be Paul Desmond on tenor saxophone, Norman Bates on bass and Joe Morello on drums.

Ambassadors of Jazz

The quartet has recently returned from an extensive tour for the U.S. State Department. They have played England, France and Germany while in Europe. In the past they played extensively in the Orient and have made one tour behind the Iron Curtain. Recently, Brubeck has been presenting jazz concerts at various colleges around the country. Notable among these are Whittier and Long Beach Junior College in Southern California. They have played widely in the East and through the Midwest as well as in the San Francisco area.

First Appearance

Sunday night will mark the quartet's first appearance on the Santa Barbara campus. The concert is being sponsored by the combined Sophomore and Junior Class Committee.

The Brubeck combo has been a consistent winner on the annual jazz polls of Downbeat, Metronome and Playboy.

Brubeck is a graduate of the College of the Pacific and is now the father of five children. He has gained international recognition for introducing classical themes to his jazz.

Names for Grants Due by Month End

Nominations for next year's Woodrow Wilson Fellowships for graduate students must be made by faculty members on or before Oct. 31, says national fellowship director Hans Rosenhaupt. The Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Foundation is currently distributing a Ford Foundation grant of $25,000,000 to outstanding first-year graduate students. Fellowships provide living allow-ance of $1400 for single students, plus support for dependents and payment of tuition and fees.

Among the thousand cu benefitting from the WWFF program is UCSB grad Larry Lee Adams, now enrolled at UCLA and studying political science. Adams was last year's AMS Outstanding Student at Goleta.

munity player groups in this town in recent years—and that is a pretty high level.

"The play itself is an excellent document both as to revealing a particular and little known 'slice of life' in this country, and as to presenting credible human beings, driven by such needs, desires, fears and hates as might be shared by men and women of any period or locale, so individual in their personalities that they cannot be taken for "types" or symbols . . .

Director Stanley Glenn had the skill to weld these players into an ensemble group that could fashion an evening of theatre art as well as carry forward a compelling narrative.

Tortured Character

Walter Tibbetts as Eddie, the Italian-American longshoreman of the Brooklyn docks, played his role on a high level of professional skill. He is a dark and tortured character — a middleaged married man who feels such possessive love for his teen-age niece that he cannot endure the thought of her marrying and leaving him. And yet he cannot face the fact of this improper passion and seeks all manner of reasons to fool himself and his family.

Irene Schilling is almost 8:30 p.m.

Joan Howard has the difficult role of Eddie's wife-rather pathetic, sometimes shrewish, but devoted to her husband even as she fights him for her own sake and niece's. Her interpretation has subtilety and a kind of tremoulous intensity that contrasts well with the loud declamations of her husband.

Rodolpho, played with facility, lightness and dignity by Herb Bernau, is a handsome young bachelor ambitious to become a rich American, a personality lad who yearns for the lights of Broadway and the good things of life. It is he who woos and wins the young Catherine, and earns the monumental hatred of her uncle." "A View From The Bridge" will play Oct. 10, 11, 16, 17, 18. Tickets are on sale in the Little Theatre and the Graduate Manager's office. Curtain time is

'Yes I do. Lets try to negoticate ourselves out of this situation. Chiang, by putting his troops on those islands, is just pulling the tigers whiskers. I think that those troops on Matsu and Quemoy are provoking the situation.

How do you justify the use of the names of the president and the vice president in opposition to the right to work law in the Democratic campaign literature?

'Well, I can't comment on that. I didn't write the literature. I understand the president wrote a letter a while back saying that he had never made any statement in opposition to the right-to-work legislation. I myself have never used the name of either the president or the vice-president in referenc to this."

What means would you support for distributing the potential of the Trinity River Project?

'I am in favor of public power such as the Feather River Project. MINOR SPORTS NEED STRESS

EL GAUCHO

After speaking at length with Chancellor-elect Samuel B. Gould last Saturday El Gaucho was favorably impressed with many of the programs which he hopes to eventually establish on the Santa Barbara campus.

One such program calls for additional emphasis for the minor participant sports such as golf, swimming, and tennis. On this subject Mr. Gould remarked, "I would like to see equal emphasis given to sports which the students can play for the greater part of their lives. I do not favor doing away with the team sports such as football and basketball, but equal emphasis should be given to such sports as golf, tennis, and swimming."

Mr. Gould's point is well taken. This campus should place more stress on the so called "minor" sports. But upon examination of the athletic budget we find that much needs to be done before the Chancellor's desires become a reality.

The athletic department gets 34.8% of the total as budget.

The greatest share of the athletic funds go to support the major team sports:

Team Sports Football-$7,907 Basketball-$3,712 Baseball-$3,065 Track-$2,867

Minor Sports Golf-$300 Tennis-$1,520 Swimming—$530

Certainly Mr. Gould would not advocate giving an equal amount of money to the football and swimming teams. The cost of fielding a football team is far greater. But even considering this fact the minor sports are in need of more funds to even approach the type of program El Gaucho feels Mr. Gould would desire.

Last year a strong attempt to reduce the appropriations to athletics was made on the floor of the Legislative Council. Those advocating the cut-back did not specify where the reduction should be made. This was the major weakness of their proposal. It was pointed out by factions opposing the reduction that a reduction in athletic funds would cripple the minor sports programs.

Another attempt to reduce the athletic budget is not impossible this year. Many individuals who felt strongly about the issue last year are still active. When and if such an attempt is made it is hoped that consideration will be given the minor sports, which cannot afford a reduction from their already strained budgets.

As Mr. Gould stated, "These sports (referring again to tennis, swimming, and golf) can be enjoyed after graduation. You don't play football after you graduate unless of course you turn pro." Something should be done this year to initiate the type of athletic program Mr. Gould has in mind.

KLIENMAN FOR PRESIDENTIAL AIDE

Apparently every President deserves an aide. Just as President Eisenhower felt he needed Sherman Adams, so must AS President Stan McGinley feel the need for an advisor after Tuesday's rather confusing council meeting.

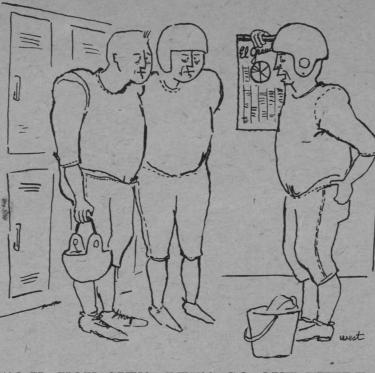

The perplexing situation arose when the Charities Committee requested that funds raised by the committee be used for the proposed Student Union building. Temporary Non Affiliated Men's Rep Neil Klienman immediately rose to a point of order, declaring that according to the AS Constitution the Charities Committee can only donate proceeds to a charitable purpose. (obviously not including Student Union buildings.)

Klienman then quoted the appropriate section of the Constitution, Article V, Section 1, item C which states:

(1) Charities Committee shall have supervision of the collection of all Associated Student monies raised for charitable purposes. (2) Charities committee may conduct each semester a campaign to raise money for charities which may apply to the Associated Students for aid.

President McGinley considered Klienman's point and then declared, "your point is well taken." To almost everyone in the room with an elementary knowledge of parlimentary procedure, this meant Klienman was correct, and the committee proposal was unconstitutional.

However after further studying the constitution McGinley stated that Klienman's point was not accepted, thereby making the Charities Committee's proposed action constitutional once again.

"O.K. YOU GUYS, LET'S GO OUT THERE AND GIVE THEM THEIR 34.8% WORTH"

Fortunately face was temporarily saved when, largely through the efforts of Klienman, the proposal was referred back to the committee for further study. Here it is assumed that it will be reviewed as being constitutional in accordance with the President' latest ruling.

Unfortunately for student government on this campus Klienman will serve for only one more meeting before his temporary seat is filled in the coming elections. As was pointed out in an earlier editorial, this year's Council sorely lacks informed floor leaders. Klienman gives evidence of being capable of filling this Void.

Had his advice been heeded Tuesday President McGinley would not find himself in the embarrassing situation of either having to explain how the Student Union can in some way be construed to be a charitable project, or possibly reverse his decision for a third time.

Perhaps rather than allowing him to leave student government, the Council should urge Klienman to stay on as Chief Presidential Aide. It is certainly apparent that the loss of his vast knowledge of student government and parlimentary procedure will be greatly felt.

SIX POINTS! Gaucho Fullback Ned Permenter bucks across the goal line from the two for six SIX POINTS! Gaucho Fullback Ned Permenter bucks across the goat the from the two for six points in second-quarter action against the Fresno State Bulldogs last Saturday. State, Gaucho fans will be looking for a repeat performance. —Photo by Sam Shimizu

In Retrospect and Prospective . . .

"Either one of those teams is capable of beating Cal Poly," said Coach Bud Adams of Los Angeles State, last Saturday night, while scouting the Gauchos with two assistants for the game with UCSB tomorrow afternoon in the Rose Bowl. What he saw was a spirited Santa Barbara ball club playing its best game of the year, and one of the most exciting in many years, en route to upsetting Fresno State, 25-22. "We'll have a tough one next week" (tomorrow), continued Coach Adams . . . and later, during the second half, the frantic diagramming of the Gaucho plays by these "Three Wise Men" was to bear out their respect for Coach Ed Cody's Gauchos.

"Only five men returned from last year's squad but we've got what we feel is the best back in the country in (John) Adams (no relation). We've seen no weaknesses in Santa Barbara's team," concluded Coach Adams.

Well, while UCSB played a fine ball game, these are very gracious words, indeed.

First, consider the prospective of not seeing any weaknesses. There is without exception a weakness in every team regardless of how sound that team is. This is a basic football concept.

If it were not apparent in any other category, it was evident in the "fumbles" and "penalties" departments. UCSB was penalized 13 times for 125 yards. That's better than one-third of the yards gained in the Gauchos' total offense. Two of these penalties, both 15-yarders, had a direct bearing in two Bulldog touchdowns.

UCSB fumbled three times, lost two of them, one going for a Fresno State tally. Football is a rugged sport and infractitons of the rules are more likely to result in a close, hard-fought game as that one was, but is 125 yards justified?

Second, consider how UCSB could fare against Cal Poly. If comparative scores mean anything, and they don't, the Gauchos would be 64-point underdogs.

Cal Poly beat Colorado State, 25-6, which makes it a better team by 19 points. Colorado State defeated Brigham Young, 32-6, which

UCSB To Play In Rose Bowl! Diablos Host Afternoon Tilt

by Russ Hoyt

The UCSB Gauchos travel south tomorrow to face Los Angeles State College. The game, to be played in the world-famous Rose Bowl at Pasadena, is scheduled to begin at 2 p.m.

score of 53-0. Ouct!

Riding high after last Saturday's thrilling 25-22 upset victory over powerful Fresno State, the Gauchos hope to add the Diablos to their growing list of CCAA victims. Los Angeles State has was named to a second-team Allnever defeated the Gauchos in CCAA berth last year. seven previous attempts. Santa Barbara, currently sit-ting on top of the California Col-

Since the series began in 1951, UCSB has scored 163 points and allowed the Diablos only 58. The 1957 edition of the Gaucho varsity piled up the biggest margin of victory in the seven games with a convincing 39-0 triumph.

UCSB's Strongest Team? After last week's tremendous upset over three-touchdown-favorite Fresno State, many feel that UCSB has its strongest team in many a year. Although this may very well be true, it is very possible that a letdown against Los Angeles State could bring disastrous results. The reason for such speculation lies in the fact that the Diablos, not unlike UCSB, very likely also have one of their finest ball clubs.

The Diablos sport a 3-1 record for the still - young 1958 campaign. They soundly trounced the University of Mexico in their opener and have since defeated Sacramento State (8-6) and Pepperdine (22-6). Their only loss was by a whopping 55-0 score to the monstrous Mustangs of Cal Poly two weeks ago.

The opportunistic Cal Poly club scored several times on temporary lapses by LASC, however, and the Gauchos figure to have their hands full with a muchimproved Diablo squad tomorrow afternoon.

All-Loop Quarterback Big man in the LASC attack is 6-3, 235-pound fullback John Adams. A 10.2 sprinter, Adams is being publicized as a Little All-America fullback prospect, and, considering his superlative efforts last week against Pepperdine, he just might make it.

Quarterback Hank Lewis is the man who directs coach Bud Adams' T-formation attack. Lewis gives Colorado a 26-point edge. Fresno lost to BYU, 27-6, or by 21 digits. The Gauchos beat Fresno by 3. Combine the total winning margin of the relative teams and subtract 3, and UCSB comes out a 64-point underdog to Cal Poly.

It shows the ridiculousness of comparative scores but it demonstrates a clear concept. Cal Poly is going to be tough and every fumble and penalty could be costly. And last weekend Cal Poly (defending champions) didn't mind running up 53 points against the College of Idaho while giving none.

Team spirit and unity will be paramount objectives for the Gauchos to be title contenders-"the desire to pursue and destroy." If the team progresses with each game they'll have the necessary "rope" to tame the Mustang. But first things first . . . and tomorrow's game in the Rose Bowl is the next obstacle.

The Diablos are what could be called a "sleeper" team. And if awakened? . . . it would be the Grizzly Bear out of hibernation . . .

"Ray Schaack is the best straight-ahead blocker I've seen in college ball, and an outstanding all-around tackle," said Coach Cody recently. Should make an interesting contest tomorrow when Schaack meets Adams or lineman meets fullback. What will the outcome be?

It'll take combined efforts of the Gauchos to contain Adams and the Diablos tomorrow. . . . And, Mr. Bud Adams, maybe fans will see if UCSB is capable of beating Cal Poly ... the team that left the Diablos whirling with a 55-0 defeat.

The Great Migration is under way-out of crowded metropolitan centers, into the areas General Telephone serves.

In suburban and rural America, populations are swelling at five times the big city rate. Industry is expanding at three times the national rate.

And that's where Gen Tel is installing new phones at the rate of over 15,000 each month.

That's where we're meeting the future with investments which-in new construction alone-will run $190 million in 1958.

Result: we are the nation's second largest telephone system.

America is on the move. And Gen Tel is moving with it -moving up!

Strong Water Polo Crew Opens Today

water polo crew, boasting a 24man veteran-sprinkled roster, lifts the curtain on the 1958 season this afternoon.

Cal Tech is scheduled to invade the local waters for the 4:15 p.m. lid lifter, kicking off Santa Barbara's second season of competition.

The UCSB squad is scheduled to remain at home tomorrow to host Occidental at 4:30 p.m. in the second half of a weekend doubleheader.

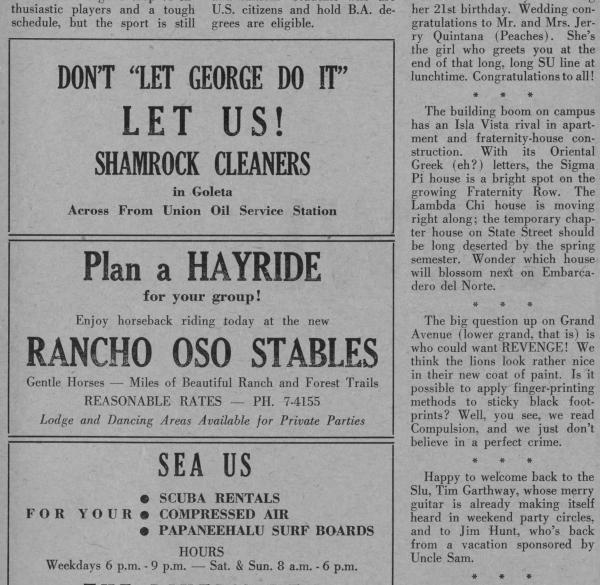

Today's match will launch a ten game slate for the Gauchos, which will run through November and include six home appearances.

Co-captains Ron Wilmot and Bill Bryson, the only experienced performers in this year's lineup, will form the nucleus from which Rohter must build his squad.

Five other tankmen have been named by Rohter to join Wilmot and Bryson in the starting circle today, including Don Smith, Eddie Nelson, Rich Gunner, Paul Hodgert, and Bill Soth.

Some of Southern California's top water powers have been signed for this season's schedule, hoping to get the sport firmly cemented in Santa Barbara's athletic program.

"We have a good crop of enthusiastic players and a tough Coach Frank Rohter's Gaucho young here at Santa Barbara. We want to create interest this season, in hopes that soon we will be able to hold our own against our more experienced oppo-nents," commented Rohter.

Dear Ann:

Exactly how much money is a teen-ager supposed to get as a weekly allowance? My folks don't know how embarrassing it is to be flat broke when the gang wants to get a soda or a hunk of pizza. Growing children must eat several times a day to keep their energy up.
