A color portrait of Nanci Browning, 18, a sophomore at UCSB, was seen across the nation on the cover of Newsweek magazine last week.

Nanci, daughter of UCSB associate professor of music Lloyd Browning, was selected from a dozen girls interviewed on the campus by Simon Boergen, Los Angeles bureau chief of Newsweek. The pretty blonde with a flashing smile is engaged to Ron Robertson, who is transferring to Santa Barbara this semester from UCLA.

A graduate of Santa Barbara High School, Nanci is a native Santa Barbaran and is majoring in psychology while at UCSB.

The cover picture of the Santa Barbara lass, plus a capsule interview inside, are part of a special education report in Newsweek on "The Coed Rush in Our Colleges."

"I still can't believe this is happening to me," said Nanci after receiving a copy of the magazine bearing her picture on the cover. "I am very excited by it. The phone has been ringing a lot. I only bought one magazine myself, but I think Mother went out and got quite a few of them."

COVER GIRL Nanci Browning checks latest issue of Newsweek magazine. The national magazine portrays Nanci's charming smile on its cover as well as a capsule article on the SBC coed.

PLANS FOR NEW RELIGIOUS GROUP UNDER WAY AS SEMESTER STARTS

A co-ordinated new program of religious activities to serve the students at Santa Barbara College will be inaugurated this semester at the University Religious Conference center near the UCSB campus in Isla Vista, it was announced by Dr. Lyle G. Reynolds, Dean of Students.

This activity will be located at 781 Embarcadero del Mar, two blocks west of the campus. The building, which is being loaned to the religious conference, was formerly used as the residence and chapel for Episcopal student work.

Programs will be carried out by each of the denominations under the direction of their own advisers, as well as interdenomnational activities open to all students at UCSB. An Interfaith Council has already been organized with Don Longenecker, senior and resident assistant at Juniper Hall, as chairman. This council will co-ordinate the denominational activities, organize interdenominational events and sponsor programs on campus.

Dr. Adaline Guenther, executive secretary of the UCLA Religious Conference, will supervise the conference here for the first year. Local activities will be directed by Mr. Sam Thomsen, 26-year-old army veteran and graduate of UCLA. While at UCLA Thomsen participated in many campus activities, was a member of California Club and Gold Key, as well as president of his fraternity and chairman of Religion in Life Week and Project India sponsored by the URC.

The purpose of the conference, according to Thomsen, is to promote "our common faith in God . . . a keener appreciation of the values inherent in our religions . . . harmony and friendly understanding among peoples of varying religious faiths."

Catholic, Jewish, Congregational, Episcopal, Church of Christ, Presbyterian, Methodist and Lutheran student groups will be represented in the religious conference, concluded Thomsen.

Forensics Group To Hold First Meeting

The Gaucho debate squad will hold its first meeting of the year this Thursday, Sept. 26, at 3 p.m. in Bldg. 417, Rm. 110.

At this time planning will start for the coming intercollegiate forensic activities. Speaking events include discussion, interpretive reading, extemporaneous speaking and impromptu, as well as the traditional debate.

Pres. Sproul To Visit College Campus for Students Reception

Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, president of the University of California, will greet new students of Santa Barbara College at a reception and dance in Santa Rosa Hall at 8 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 26.

This year marks President Sproul's final reception for new students after heading the nation's largest university for 27 years. He has announced his intention to retire on July 1, 1958.

New students received invitations to the affair at registration, along with a name tag to be worn while attending. Students are asked to attend the reception at the time indicated on the invitation to avoid a long line waiting to see Dr. Sproul.

Besides Dr. Sproul, new students will also be greeted by Dr. Elmer R. Noble, acting provost at Santa Barbara College, and Mrs. Noble. Student leaders will also be present.

In charge of the reception is Lloyd Browning, associate professor of music at UCSB, and chairman of the Public Ceremonies Committee. Department heads, administrative officers, and several student groups will also assist in welcoming new students.

Those students who were new last year and unable to meet President Sproul are invited to attend this year. They may obtain an invitation at the Graduate Manager's office by noon Wednesday.

Dress for the reception will be informal—coats and ties for men, semi-formal dresses for women. Refreshments will be served.

NEW BUILDINGS UNDERGO WORK

Construction is moving ahead on three fronts at this campus. The three buildings which are now in progress are the Dining Commons, the Physical Education Building and the Arts Building.

The highlight of the building program this coming academic year will be the completion of the new Dining Commons in January. This structure, with its picture windows overlooking the campus lagoon, will be the sixth permanent building. Designed by Pereira and Luckman, this functional building will serve meals to the 890 campus resident students, replacing the present Casitas Dining Hall which was converted from a military building.

Work is progressing also on the largest building planned on the campus for several years to come. The Arts Building, with more than 100,000 square feet, has the outside foundation laid.

This building will house both the fine arts and industrial arts departments. Its completion will enable the industrial arts department to move to the main campus, uniting the college on one site for the first time in 18 years.

The Arts Building will actually consist of two separate pairs of units, one pair for each department and connected by covered walkways. Most of the building will be two stories, although some portions will be three. A section of the building extends over the edge of the bluff which borders the lagoon.

Bids were opened for the $1,800,000 PE Building with a gymnasium seating 3,900 persons.

Greeks Hold Open House For 250 New Rushees

With approximately 200 men participating, fraternity rushing is in full swing on the UCSB campus, according to Bo Williams, IFC president.

Open house was held at the four fraternities in the Goleta area Friday night, and was repeated Saturday night in the houses in Santa Barbara. A round of "get acquainted" parties at the various houses is now progressing, and will continue through Thursday. Invitations group.

"Most fraternities look for people who can develop, are capable of student leadership, and are good social mixers," Williams said. "In other words, if you feel you could take a man home to visit your parents, he'd probably make a good fraternity brother." According to Williams, most of the 200 men rushing can be reasonably confident of being asked to pledge a fraternity before the rushing is over.

At the open houses held last Friday and Saturday, each fraternity president gave a short talk on the history of the group, what it costs to pledge, and activities planned by the fraternities for the coming school year. Rushees were then taken on a tour of the house, with members answering questions. Details of rush week were worked out last week by the Inter-Fraternity Council, made up of representatives of the eight campus fraternities.

"Becoming a fraternity man is a mark of distinction and it is an honor that is not distributed freely. You will get as much out of a fraternity as you put in, so don't look at fraternity life from just the standpoint of what it will do for you individually. Find out what you can do for it and you will gain experience that will be invaluable in your later life," Williams said in conclusion.

Dr. Bacon To Get Education Citation

THIS EXAMPLE of last year's mud brawl shows the fun had by all. Unfortunately, girls are excluded this year.

Mud Flies Between Soph and Frosh Classes As Freshmen Attempt Shedding of Beanies

Sophomore Council members Mike Oster and Sue Swift report that the field separating the Student Union and gym will be the proper consistency for excavating when the shout, "Here's mud in your eye!" heralds the annual Men's Mud Brawl next Saturday at 3 p.m.

This is the Freshman's chance to rid himself of the distinguishing green beany and hurl back a little mud at his Soph superiors. The brawl will determine whether the Frosh appear minor or plus the greenery for the next week. Only fellows take part in the muddy melee and it is advised that good clothes be saved for some day other than mud brawl!

Women Compete Also

By the time the male portion of the two classes has blended nicely into the landscape on one side of the gym, the female population will be taking battle stations on the other. Rough, but cleaner, the Women's Water Fight begins in the field across the street from the gym at 3:45 p.m.

Freshman girls will be out to free their locks from the confines of the green felt hats and dispute actively the Sophomore girls who disagree.

The event is open to all lower classmen. Comments and applause will be accepted from upper classmen in the grandstand "observer status."

Tribunal Follows

Saturday evening the Tribunal and dance gets under way at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium. Dancing, coronation of the Frosh Queen and removal of green beanies—if the Frosh have proved victorious in the afternoon's activities—will highlight the evening.

Five Fields Offer Masters Program

The Master of Arts degree at Santa Barbara College is now offered in five major fields of study with the addition of the M.A. in Physics to be offered this fall and in English during the fall of 1958.

The advanced degree has been offered in economics, history, political science and psychology since 1954. Dr. Elmer R. Noble, acting provost, also explained that three more graduate programs are being prepared for the near future in biology, chemistry and physical education.

The new programs follow the policy set by the UC Regents whereby a fifth-year program is to be developed gradually and on a modest scale. It is integrated closely with the undergraduate work and the general structure of the college is to remain an undergraduate institution.

Only a few students are expected in the new graduate program. Library and laboratory facilities are adequate and the graduate instruction will be handled by the present teaching staff.

Since the graduate program began four years ago at Santa Barbara, nine M.A. degrees have been granted, five in psychology, three in political science and one in history.

GAUCHO NOTICES

Legislative Council meets tonight at 7:30 in the Huddle. All interested students are invited to attend.

All students interested in any phase of dramatic production are invited to attend an informal meeting on Wednesday, Sept. 25, at 4 p.m. in the Little Theater when plans and projects for the year will be discussed.

Bob Kieding, Junior Class president, announced the class will meet Wednesday, 4 p.m., in the Huddle to form a council. All interested persons are asked to attend.

The Alpha Rho chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, the national honor society for education, will hold a get-acquainted meeting Tuesday, Sept. 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the Associated Students Conference Room.

There will be an Election Committee meeting in the ASB Conference Room this Thursday at 12 noon.

Lost articles found on campus should be turned in without delay to the University Police Department, Bldg. 427. The department operates the college lost-and-found service, according to Capt. Floyd Bernard, captain of police.

Students who have lost or misplaced belongings should check as soon as possible with the police office.

Afghan Conference Held on SB. Campus

Although Santa Barbara's sunny coastline compares but vaguely to Middle Eastern topography, the inhabitants of Afghanistan, who have breathed western air, have found Santa Barbara to their liking, so much so that many Afghanistan exchange students in the United States are transferring to our sandy shores.

This fact was revealed by Dean Lyle Reynolds during an interview with El Gauchito on the current conference held on our campus by the Associated Students of Afghanistan in America.

Students present at the week-long conference are studying at campuses throughout the country and were sent here to study Western skills and ideas and to probe contemporary problems as well as possibilities for development in their country. These were among discussion topics.

A Quaker organization, American Friends of the Middle East, responsible for many relations between the U.S. and the Middle East, sponsored the conference on our campus and helps in the entire student-exchange program. However, the students' sojourn in the U.S. is co-ordinated through State Department channels.

Government Decree

A student from Afghanistan is told by his government what course of study to pursue over here, regardless of his own choice of curricula. This is sometimes to his disadvantage, points out Dean Reynolds, but satisfies his country's academic requirements. However, the student does have his choice of colleges and universities.

Last year Santa Barbara was host to three Afghanistan students. A fourth student has already graduated and is working for his master's degree at San Francisco State College.

Generally students will enroll for one or two years at a smaller school to become adjusted to Western ways and to master customs and language, then move on to larger schools for more specialized work.

There is one Santa Barbara faculty member who recently returned from Afghanistan. He is Dr. Theodore Harder.

The presence of exchange students on our campus should indicate a deepening of the school's liberal arts policy.

No reciprocal arrangement, as such, exists between the U.S. and Afghanistan; however, our students do reach foreign soil on similar programs. The difficulty in getting our students to Asia is in the fact that they must finance a great portion of their trip, whereas, it was mentioned, American aid to Afghanistan helps finance their scholars.

U. S. - USSR Compete

Also revealed at the conference was the fact that the U.S. is in competition with the USSR in this exchange-student program. The United States has given Afghanistan some $40,000,000 at 4.5 per cent interest, to be used in buying American goods and in the use of American technicians in their country. Russia has contributed $100,000,000 to the tune of only 2 per cent interest and has made no such stipulations.

Thus the competitive situation exists, and "we can't relax in the slightest," noted Dean Reynolds. With students established on campuses like our liberal arts college, Western ideas and influences can be channeled back to the Near and Middle East.

The foreign students at UCSB have lived on campus in living groups and have taken active part in campus life and activity. Their impressions will go back with them to their homeland.

Dean Reynolds stated that a similar conference of students from Pakistan may gather on our campus next summer.

Renee Reifel

She wants to know what we did with the $401,518,000

RENE E REIFEL is a secretary in the marketing department of Union Oil. She is also —through our Employees' Incentive Plan— one of our 5,906 employees who hold shares in the firm.

This entitles her (along with over 65,000 other people who own shares in Union Oil) to a report on the 66th year of business of the 47th largest industrial company in the country.

How we spent it

In 1956 our customers paid us the record amount of $401,518,000.

We spent 72.1% of this—or $289,481,000—with over sixteen thousand other companies and individuals with whom we do business.

The more than 1000 tax collecting agencies took another 3.7% or $14,830,000. This does not include the $74,120,000 we collected from our customers as fuel taxes and turned over to governmental agencies.

Wages and other benefits for our workers and their families amounted to 15.7%, or $62,966,000 of our income.

The net profit

This left 8.5%—or $34,241,000—as net profit. Slightly more than half of these earnings—$18,261,315—were paid in cash dividends to Renee Reifel and our other 65,000 share owners. (Note that our share owners received only about three and a half million dollars more than the various tax agencies, which contributed nothing to the business.)

The balance of our net earnings—equal to 4.0% of our customers' dollars—we reinvested in the business to expand and modernize facilities.

It seems to us that this report does more than give an account of our stewardship to Renee Reifel and our other share owners.

It points up the broader base of ownership of American business. In the last four years, for example, the shareholders of all companies listed on the New York Stock Exchange increased by 33%. Union Oil did even better—41%.

This could happen only in a freely competitive economy that encourages and rewards individual effort.

Jazz Showcase To Feature Shorty Rogers, Bud Shank

Jazz enthusiasts, music lovers and students who enjoy just good entertainment will be on hand Thursday evening, Oct. 3, as the JAZZ SHOWCASE OF '58 swings onto campus. The concert will feature such all-time jazz greats as SHORTY ROGERS, BUD SHANK, the CLAUDE WILLIAMSON QUARTET and many other top artists. Sponsored by the Assembly Committee, the show will be held in the campus auditorium.

The Beard, Versatile Bud

Shorty Rogers, the bearded, soft-spoken trumpeter, is known in the field as the leader of West Coast Jazz. Artist, writer, arranger and teacher, he has done much for the jazz world on his road show from the Kenton Band to the Lighthouse and the night spots on the Pacific Coast.

There is a close tie between the three featured artists of the Jazz Showcase, as Bud Shank and Shorty were both members of the Kenton crew, and later of the Lighthouse All-Stars. Bud, who in 1956 swept all the jazz polls as the nation's most popular flutist, originally had no plans for the extensive use of the flute. He began his musical education with the clarinet, later switched to the alto sax, and since 1954 has consistently placed among the top three altoists in the national polls. It wasn't until the forming of Kenton's "Innovations" orchestra that placed Bud and his flute in a professional capacity.

Claude On the Keys

Also associated with Kenton, Claude Williamson has for the past two years been the featured member of the Quartet which accompanies Bud Shank. However, he is a recognized keyboard artist in his own right. Arriving in Hollywood in 1947, he became a member of the Charlie Barnett Band, toured the country with Red Novo, and, until 1951, accompanied and arranged for June Crispy.

Ticket information may be obtained from the Graduate Manager's office.

Questions Answered By Dr. M. V. Spleen

In this column each week Dr. Moral Vial Spleen, Q.E.D., Ph., noted smiling, hard-working advisor and public confidant, author of the best-selling do-it-yourself happiness books, Be Your Own Brain Surgeon and How To Be Joyful Though Dying, as well as many inspirational pamphlets ("How I Learned to Live with Water on the Knee," etc.) will answer your questions and solve all your problems with a few deep-thinking, hard-hitting, tender, comforting words.

Dear Dr. Spleen: My boyfriend said to me yesterday that he didn't mean to be rude or anything, but that I had the worst dandruff he had ever seen and he didn't want to be seen in public with me if I didn't mind. Other people have mentioned this to me also, and I am very worried. I get a nervous coma every time I brush my hair.

Snowy

Dear Snowy, my child: Your problem is not a unique one. Many people in this age of wrong-thinking, wrongdoing perversity have dandruff. Start being constructive about your head. Talk your worries over with friends and family. Show them the good side of dandruff, and reach a sound agreement. I will send you my pamphlet, "Dandruff can be Fun."

MVS

Dear Spleen: I got a terrible time in school. I get F's even when all the teachers try to help me and I even got a tooter but all the time I get D's and F's and I'm going to flunk out and have to go to work and my old man says he'll kick me out of the house and sell my bed if I flunk which I probly will. What can I do?

RUSHING CLIMAXED BY FALL PRESENTS

Pretty girls in cool white street-length dresses adorned the Rockwood Woman's Club, in back of the beautiful Santa Barbara Mission, last Sunday evening as each of the eight sororities at UCSBC presented their fall pledge class to the fraternities, friends and relatives beginning at seven o'clock.

Pledges Unknown

This event climaxed a week of hectic rushing by some 200 girls. The coeds who accepted bids to the sorority of their choice were unknown to the total members of Panhellenic until Sunday night.

The girls who were presented carried or wore the color of flower that symbolized their sorority.

Receiving the new pledges were Dean Helen Keener, Mrs. Summerfield, co-ordinator of Rush Week, and Pat Petri, president of the UCSBC Panhellenic Council.

The women of the Santa Barbara Panhellenic Council served refreshments to the pledges, their sisters and guests following the presentation of the new pledge classes.

No More Formals

This is the first time that there has not been a formal date dance for the new pledge class during the fall rush season. By making Fall Presents the same as Spring Presents, the sororities were able to present their new pledges much sooner than in past years.

The new additions to the sororities now can look forward to a semester of various pledge duties, playful pranks on their active sisters, and ditches with the pledges of the fraternities.

Santa Barbara After Dark

Every week in this column El Gaucho will give you tips on where to eat and what to see in Santa Barbara. It will feature tips on inexpensive places to eat, with pocket reviews of pictures and plays in Santa Barbara.

One night last week we happened on a pleasant combination of good food, atmosphere and wonderful service at Leon's Restaurant at 536 State St., where they boast, "If you have an enemy, bring him in here for dinner. We will make him your friend."

The low prices at Leon's are misleading to the person used to getting only what he pays for. For 95c, however, one can get a generous dinner of leg of lamb, potato (with Leon's special cheese sauce) and a vegetable, plus salad and a beverage.

Tommy Pertsulakes, the proprietor of Leon's, called to our attention their polenta, which is the very best and costs only a dollar. The inexpensive steaks that we had were done to a perfect turn and were so generous that we had to "take some home for the dog."

Our waiter, Hubert Heroux, was an attentive and courteous expert, never allowing a coffee cup or water glass to become empty. To our pleasure we found that he spoke French, and he was happy to help us brush up on our small talk.

ATHLETE OF THE YEAR

The Block C seems to have come out of its lethargy. For several years the club has been about as stable as humpty dumpty. In the past, its main contribution, as a service club, was selling football programs. The work was done by a few, but steak fry day looked like a national convention.

This past spring the club began to reorganize. They elected an enthusiastic president, Dave Iman, and chose Mr. Stan Williamson, of the P.E. Dept., and Dr. Theodore Hatlin, of the speech department, as their advisors. In several months they have come a long way, from a place to eat your lunch to a club that is an honor to belong to.

The organization has initiated a system for picking an athlete of the year. The method they have devised is the most objective I've ever seen for giving a top athlete award. The system is based on points; points are given for making a team, lettering in each sport, captaincy or most valuable player, being selected as all league, etc. More points are given for additional honors; the coaches and Block C nomination carries a certain number of points. When all points are added, out pops a trophy with winners name inscribed.

The annual award is to be given at the first home football game. The 1956-57 Athlete of The Year will be named this Friday night at half time of the Whittier Santa Barbara game.

Looking over the candidates it seems to be a toss up among three great athletes: Pete Walski, 1956 1st string Q.B., All C.C.A.A. and 2nd string All Coast 3rd baseman; John Morris, this years football captain who led the team in scoring and placed fourth in the 100 yard dash in C.C.A.A. finals and John Osborne, captain of the basketball team and All C.C.A.A. 2nd baseman.

WANTED — ONE FOOTBALL GAME

The Gauchos have only eight games scheduled since they were forced to cancel their game with Mexico Poly. Santa Barbara has an open date Nov. 22 or 23, which they are trying to fill with a team from a California school. There is a possibility that the open date will be filled by a service team.

Ed Cody Outstanding Fullback in Big Ten

Ed. note—this is the second in a series of articles on head Football coach Ed Cody.

The first time Ed Cody wore a football uniform was at New Britain Senior High School where he immediately became starting fullback and in 1938 led his team to an undefeated season and on to the National Scholastic Championship game in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans.

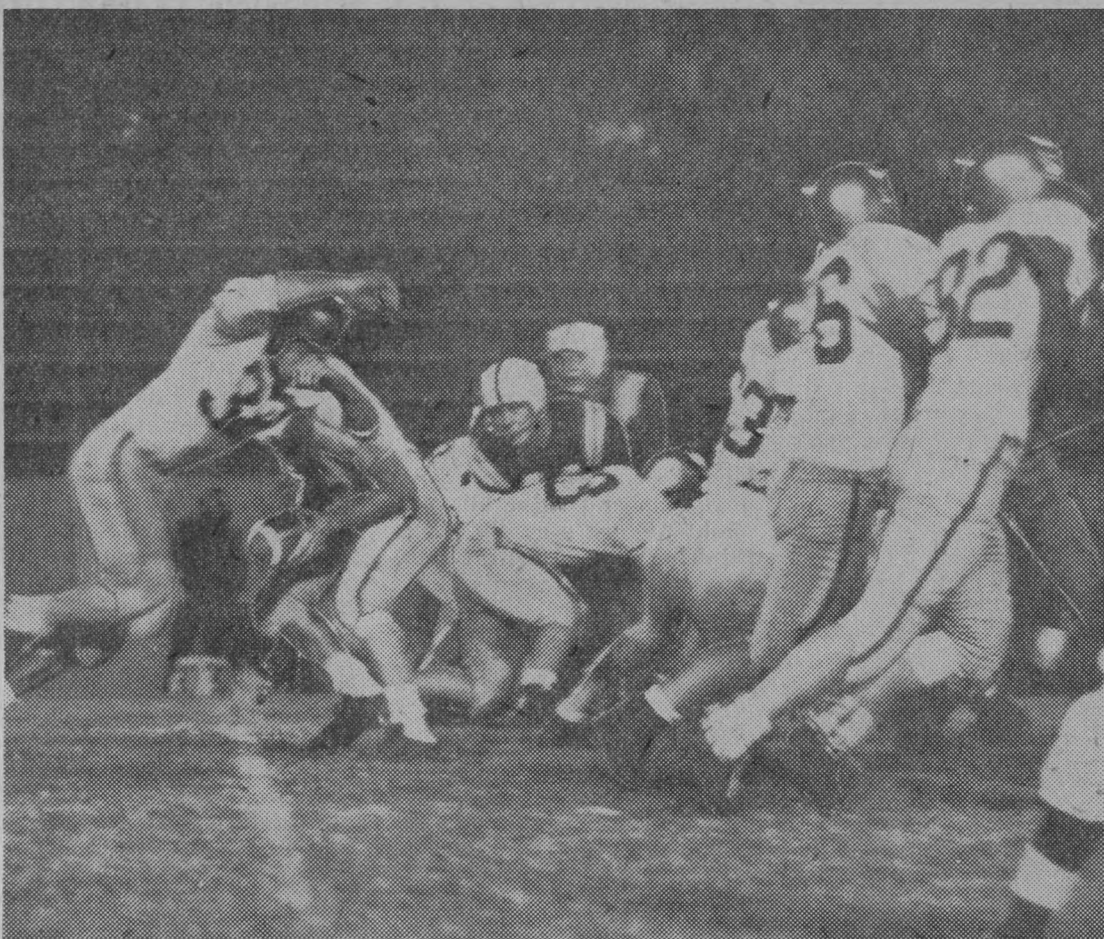

From Connecticut it was on to Massachusetts where he entered Boston College, and as a freshman found himself in the starting halfback spot in the Orange Bowl against Alabama in 1942.

After his discharge from the Army in 1944, Cody went on to continue his education and set new records on the gridiron at Purdue. It was here that Cody staked his famous battle with Doc Blanchard of Army for All-American fullback honors. Elected team captain in his junior year, Cody went on to run roughshod in the Big Ten, leading that conference and the entire midwest in rushing yardage and scoring.

His most memorable game was actually two games over a two-year period against always powerful Ohio State. In 1945, both teams were undefeated with Ohio State given the role of slight favorite. Cody scored four of the Boilermakers' five touchdowns in their upset 35-19 victory. The following year found a weaker Purdue team up against a veteran Buckeye squad.

State was supposed to sew the game up in the early minutes. Cody again was the thorn in Ohio's side as he scored both Purdue touchdowns in a 14-14 tie, one on a 79 yard run. It was at this time that a Columbus newspaper started a campaign to "get Cody graduated from Purdue."

GAUCHOS STRESS SCORING PUNCH

Saturday marked the last scrimmage for the Santa Barbara gridders before the game this Friday night against Whittier.

Hal Fink, Roger Whalen and Tom Mullican stood out in the drill in which offensive blocking was stressed; the control scrimmage consisted of running plays the entire time, against seven defensive men.

Several of the experienced backs, Tony Baca, Mike De George, Bruce Varner and John Morris ran well as did newcomer Gates Foss. Morris not only ran well to the outside but was on the receiving end of several beautiful passes thrown by quarterback Don Trauthen.

Trauthen was hitting his receivers exceptionally well as he completed nearly all his passes. Fink, a real fundamentalist, teamed with Whalen on the right side of the line to provide the running room for the backs.

End Herb Williamson was limited to limbering up since he's still bothered by a rib injury; Jack Lyons also sat out the scrimmage with a bad knee. Both boys are expected to be ready for action Friday night.

Gates Foss has established himself as "the most likely to receive punting chores" as he has been kicking well over 50 yards.

The Gaucha coaching staff will spend time next week defending the Whittier tight formation offense.

Mr. Funk & Mr. Wagnalls

"In re this matter of Good Taste," said Mr. Funk to his secretary, "take a definition."
"Taste: sensations . . . excited . . . by the . . . action of the gustatory nerves . . ."
"And add this," put in Mr. Wagnalls. "Taste: the faculty of . . . appreciating the beautiful . . ."
"That," said Mr. Funk, "wraps it up. Mr. Wagnalls, will you join me in a Coca-Cola?"
"So good in taste . . ."
"And . . . in such good taste!"
