No. 32

ELECTION TODAY & TOMORROW

MEMBERS OF the Martha Graham Dance Group enact a complicated step.

Regents Move In Loy'ly Oath Controversy

The Regents of the University of California climaxed a bitter eight-month battle with the faculty of the world's largest university when they set the deadline for the receipt of signed non-Communist loyalty oaths for April 30, 1950. They stated that any faculty member who has not signed the oath before that date will "be deemed to have severed his connection with the University as on June 30, 1950."

Up to now some 13.5 percent of the combined faculty and employees of the University have not signed the oath. The statement of the Regents was that employment will henceforth be made contingent on the execution of the oath or equivalent affirmation of such.

Affirmation

Equivalent affirmation is to state that the appointee is not a member of the Communist party or under any agreement that is in conflict with the policy of the Regents excluding Communists from the faculty of the University.

The Regents deem the oath "merely an implementation of an older policy which has prevented Communists from teaching at the University since Oct. 11, 1940."

Academic Senate

The professors' fight is led by the Academic Senate, the four-man ruling body of the faculty. This committee stated that faculty members are talking of withdrawing already signed loyalty oaths which could touch off dismissal action which would send the controversy into the courts.

Law school faculty members said it was doubtful that a "new condition of employment" such as that imposed by loyalty oaths would stand up in court. They also doubted the constitutionality of a political condition of employment.

The next regularly scheduled meeting of the northern section of the faculty which was to take place yesterday was predicted to "see some action" by the Academic Senate.

MARTHA GRAHAM AND DANCE COMPANY TO PERFORM FOR ASSOCIATED STUDENTS

Just how different traditional and modern American dancing are can be glimpsed from a comparison in organization between any traditional ballet company with its ranking stars and Martha Graham and her Dance Company, which comes here Mar. 11, for two performances, matinee and evening.

Strobel Fills All Secretariat Posts, Tells Office Hours

Many attractive young coeds have become members of the Associated Students' Secretariat since Elaine Strobel, Coordinator of Student Activities, announces that the roster of secretaries for the Associated Students office is now complete.

The Secretariat keeps the office open for business from 9 to 4 every day, Monday through Thursday and from 9 to 2 on Friday. Miss Strobel's office hours are 1 and 3 on Monday and Wednesday, 1 on Tuesday and Thursday and 9 and 10 on Friday.

All men's part-time employment, calendaring of social events and secretarial work for student body officers is handled through the Associated Students office which is located at 12 West Hall.

Coeds working in the office are Pat Grossman, Barbara Babich, Eleanor Willard, Bev Purdum, Donna Roberts, Marilyn Morris, Pat Benko, Nancy Trowbridge, Ann Welles, Mary Hawkes and Liz Harmon.

Other secretaries are Chris Warner, Marilyn Ringel, Ann Irvine, Patty Powell, Pat Hart, Lola Doshier, Claire-Marie Graham, Rhealee Hebert, Marilyn Williams, Joyce Rissit, Peggy Ward and Marty George.

DEAN HAYES CALLS MEN NAMES A TO F TO COMPLETE DATA

Dean of Men William E. Hayes announced that all college men whose last name begins with the letters A through F are requested to come to his office to complete records for the Dean's files. This should be done by Thursday of this week, Dean Hayes said.

These men are requested to bring with them pictures of themselves to be placed in the files.

The remainder of the men will be called in during the succeeding weeks.

When the curtain goes up on the performance of Miss Graham's new dance-theater pieces at the Lobero Theatre, the audience will be seeing no prima ballerinas but a young company whose work is blended into a harmonious whole.

Difficult Form

Most of Miss Graham's program is more difficult than conventional ballet. Her "Diversion of Angels," to be seen here, has been declared by critics for the New York Times and the New York Herald Tribune to be the "outstanding achievement in modern dance technique."

To be seen in the leading male roles, as for some seasons past, is Erick Hawkins, who made his mark as choreographer with Ballet Caravan before he joined the Graham company. Since then, his newer works, like "John Brown," "Stephen Acrobat" and "The Strangler," have created great interest. Hawkins will be seen here as the tragic king in "Lear," the new work created for him by Miss Graham.

Miss Graham, who is taking her troupe on a tour of America for the first time since the war, is as much of a legend in the world of dance abroad as she is at home. Although Miss Graham has never taken her group to Europe, she is regarded on the continent as the greatest influence in the dance of all countries in our day.

From Santa Barbara

Born in Pennsylvania and reared in Santa Barbara, Miss Graham has scored some notable firsts in the dance world.

She was the first American dancer to bring the spoken word into the dance with "American Document." She was the first dancer to bring dance out of the concert hall and into the theatre.

Miss Graham was the first dancer to be given the Guggenheim award, and she has twice received it. This year she has accepted a commission from the Louisville, Kentucky, orchestra, the first dance work ever commissioned by an orchestra. William Schuman, composer of the score for "Night Journey," will do the score.

Tickets for the performance are now on sale at the Graduate Mana-

Runoff for Plurality Winners March 13; Name Choices to Appear on Second Ballot Decide If Change Wanted in Regular Vote

After the regular student election on March 8 and 9, a special runoff election will be held March 13, according to Shirle Casier, Elections Committee Chairman. The purpose of the runoff election will be to vote between the candidates who receive pluralities, but not majorities, and to submit the second part of the name-change question again if the first part is passed in the regular election.

AWS CANDIDATES GET READY FOR EARLY ELECTION

It's not too late to enter the race for next year's AWS offices. Those women wishing to run may obtain petitions and publicity regulations now from the Graduate Manager's office. The petitions, signed by 150 women students, are due back at the Graduate Manager's office on Thursday, March 9, at 4 pm. Eligibility of candidates will be checked by the same office.

The election, to be held on Tuesday, March 21, and Wednesday, March 22, is scheduled early so that the newly-elected president and one other officer may be flown to the national convention in Oklahoma City during the first week of April.

Climaxing the campaigning will be a bean supper for all women students, Monday afternoon, March 20. Details of this event will be announced later.

The AWS Nomination Committee have nominated the following women for various offices:

President, Winifred Nation and Jean Tahajian; 1st Vice-president, Gwen Ballard and Margaret Mueller; 2nd Vice-president, Lucille Hewitt and Pat Hueron; Secretary, Mary Louise Goodman, Treasurer; Georgia Briscoe and Martha Bacon, and AWS Counselor, Tanya Atum.

Officers this semester include Mary Ann Zane, president; Jean Ahajian, first vice-president; Nancy Chimilowski, Secretary, and Loualee Adair, treasurer.

WHISK'RINO NEARS; 'DOWN WITH RAZOR' STATES AMS PREXY

Walt Stone, AMS president, has announced plans for a Whiskerino beard growing contest and the annual AMS steak fry both to be held this month. Hair raising men will sign up Monday, March 13, and must present a smooth shaven face at the time of registration. Colonel McKee, PMS&T of the College ROTC unit, has given permission for all members of the unit to participate.

Prizes will be given to the most successful contestants. A "best beard" prize will be given to the man with the most prolific crop, the most colorful beard will also be given a prize as will the man who has made the best try. The last award should attract many of the smooth shaven freshmen, however women students are not invited to enter.

The winner will be judged at the Santa Barbary Coast on Saturday night, March 25th.

The steak fry, which is always a big day for the men on campus, will be held the following day, March 26th, with the time and place to be announced at a later date.

Her appearance is sponsored by the Associated Students, Santa Barbara College, in cooperation with the Committee on Drama, Lectures and Music.

'Santa Barbary' Day Coming March 25 With Quad Carnival

Cries of "step right up, take a try" will ring out across the Gaucho campus come Saturday, March 25, when the "Santa Barbary Coast" carnival hits town. Booths, the Wiskerino contest, and a dance sponsored by Blue Key will comprise the evening of fun and festivity.

The theme stems from the San Francisco waterfront honky-tonk area in the post Gold-Rush days of early California. On our campus, the Quad pool will double for the Frisco Bay, and the Barbary district will include the Men's Gym lawn.

All organizations may enter a booth in the carnival. Trophies will be awarded on the basis of originality of idea and presentation, clever construction and design, and general appeal. A fourth trophy will go to the booth judged to best follow the "Santa Barbary Coast" theme. The Associated Men Students will make several awards for beards in the Wiskerino.

A benefit event, the carnival has been presented at Santa Barbara College every spring for the past fifteen years. The World Student Service Fund and our own Student Union Fund will receive a share of the profits.

The Special Events Committee of the Associated Students is planning the carnival. Co-chairmen are Gloria Steers and Ken Trevey. Their committee is composed of Eleanor Conte, Jim Mulick, Jim Stanley, and Mr. Willie Wilton, faculty sponsor.

Booth applications may be obtained from the Student Body office and must be returned by March 14 to the Special Events Committee. A $2.00 registration fee and rough sketch of the proposed booth must accompany all applications.

Social Committee Plans Dance; Theme To Be Calico Capers

Doris Humphreys, Social Committee Chairman, has announced that the next all-college dance will be held in the Goleta Campus Auditorium, Friday evening, March 10, from nine until twelve pm.

The theme of the affair is to be "Calico Capers." Both round and square dancing for beginners and experts will be featured. Calling and instruction for square dances will be given by members of the Boots and Calico Club of Santa Barbara.

There is to be no admission charge for the evening and dress is to be levi's and cottons. Music will be by recording. Members of the social committee hope that this departure from the regular college dance themes will prove successful.

The reason for submitting the second part of the name-change question, which gives three choices of name, "Grizzlies," "Cubs," and "Pandas," to be substituted for "Gauchos" if the first measure is passed, is to make sure that the new name would not be chosen by only a small number of students.

Campaign Assembly

Shirle also stated that a special campaign assembly might be arranged, but that at the time such a possibility was very "nebulous."

Another issue which will be voted on in the general election is an amendment to the AS Constitution which would make the Yell Leader an appointive instead of an elective officer. The Yell Leader would be appointed by the Legislative Council, thus fixing responsibility for the position with the Council instead of with the Yell Leader himself.

Proposed Amendment

The proposal changing Article I, Section 1 of the Associated Students' Constitution would read, "In a regular election the President, Vice-president, Secretary, and three Representatives-at-Large shall be chosen to hold office for one year. The Yell Leader shall be appointed by the Legislative Council."

The ineligibility of graduation at midyear of Legislative Council members or class officers makes necessary the election of new ones to fill the vacancies. The officers and candidates which will be voted on in the general election are the following:

Representative-at-Large: Ken Bonilla, Bob Brotherton, Ted Knudson, Clair Maher, Don Mills, and Gloria Steers.

Senior Class Vice-President: Ray Andrews, Tom Carter, Jody Dryden, Bob Lagomarsino, Mary Frances Michels, and Audrey Scott.

Sophomore Class Vice-president: Bev Abraham, Marie Allen, and Sally Sipherd.

Freshman Class President: Ted Troy, Spud Morrow, and Jere Barlow.

Freshman Class Secretary: Barbara York and Gloria Brittain.

Much Ado by Jerry Noble

This age of science and invention is beginning to get me down. Maybe it's just me, but I feel kind of uneasy over all the new contraptions that are here now or are in the making.

Have you ever sat and contemplated one of those new super juke-boxes? You put in a quarter, or if you're flush two quarters... we'll say two quarters... and you make twelve selections. The monster gears itself into action, little light click on and off, a gimmick slides back and forth along the line of records and picks out the one you want. It plays the record, puts it back, and then goes looking for the next one. It REMEMBERS the records you want... all twelve of them. It goes to each one in turn never making a mistake. Could YOU remember twelve records selected out of 100 possible choices?

So far all the machines I've run up against play the records I choose. BUT, if there ever comes a time when one of them starts playing the records IT wants to hear, I swear I'll take a beer bottle to it.

And Then

Have you ever heard about the inventor who built a mechanical man that would shoot a pistol? He built the thing so that it would stand up in front of a target, take careful aim, and knock out bulls-eyes one after another.

One day the inventor was showing off his robot before an audience. He pushed a button and the thing faced to the target and raised the pistol it clutched in its metal hand. Electronic eyes blazing, it leveled the weapon on the target. Then, for no apparent reason, it pivoted at the waist, swung around, and blew off the top of the inventor's head. The audience attacked the thing with chairs and whatever was handy and succeeded in killing it.

Some say the accident was caused by a short circuit.

Escape

Let's get away from this subject. I'm getting goose pimples.

In case you're interested, in Milwaukee some people named their twin daughters "Joyce and Re-joyce!"

I read recently that the first recorded auto accident occurred in 1904 when the only two automobiles in Kansas City collided head on.

And then there was the columnist on a Kentucky newspaper who wrote "Do not forget that this column, although connected with this newspaper, is run strictly independent. I do not want it ever to drop to the level of the present state that this paper goes around in."

I think all columnists get that feeling once in awhile, but they don't hev the guts to speak out like that man in Kentucky.

Ed. Note: And then there was the editor on a Kentucky newspaper who wrote, "Do not forget that this paper, although connected with this column, is run strictly independent. I do not want it to drop to the level of the present state this column goes around it." I think all editors feel like that once in awhile, but they don't hev the guts to speak out like than man in Kentucky.

Joe Gauchó Speaks

Dear Doris,

I would appreciate your printing this apology to the members of Block "C", particularly those who won their letters in tennis.

According to the copy of the constitution I have been using, tennis is not listed as a major sport. I learn, however, that this is in error; hence my statement in last Tuesday's El Gauchó to the effect that tennis lettermen are not eligible for Block "C" membership.

While this was an error in fact, it was not in principle. For there are sports such as golf and fencing which are considered minor sports and lettermen in such activities are not eligible for Block "C" membership.

Further, I want to apologize to those members of Block "C" who felt I was criticizing them unjustly, as many of them had not been advised of the request made to the Legislative Council for reserved areas in student rooting sections. My criticism was directed at the Council itself, not uninformed members of Block "C", and it was my hope that a better understanding of our athletic sponsorship at UCSBC would lead to greater interest and participation on the part of the student body.

I wish to see more students expressing opinions regarding these policies; otherwise the Council's work will tend to be the expression of special interest groups and not the student body as a whole.

Many thanks,
Bob Hartzell

PRESTIDIGITATION

Dear Editor:

I'm sorry I can't go along with President Hartzell's "views on athletic policy." On the contrary, I do believe with all my heart and soul that our Big Block C's should have their seats permanently reserved in the Ra Ra section of our most wonderful stadium. I'm sure that this timid policy would just shower them with bundles of attention giving them feelings of prestige and security. And what more could growing boys ask for?

Furthermore, if I have added correctly the current cost of our athletic endeavors, I arrive at a figure somewhere in the neighborhood of $22,983. Now any thinking person can see that such a puny amount is practically pointless. I propose that this figure

McCutcheon Wins CCAA Scoring Crown; Gauchos Drop Cage Finale to Spartans

By Phil Jacks, Jr.

The Santa Barbara College basketball team closed out their 1949-50 season with a 79-46 loss to a fine San Jose State squad last Friday night. The Gauchos, handicapped by the illness of guards Jack Moore and Allan Jacobs, played their hearts out, but on this night were no match for the basket-happy Spartans.

The Gauchos had earlier in the season defeated this same Spartan team at the National Guard Armory, but at San Jose the home town cagers were either playing over their heads, or were as good as their season record of 21 games won and seven lost would seem to indicate.

The contest was also a personal duel between Santa Barbara's Bob McCutcheon and the Spartans' Stu Inman, both All-Conference selections last season. The goal was the conference scoring title, and Inman had to score fourteen more points than McCutcheon in the final game to win.

Inman was brilliant in scoring 26 points, 18 of them in the first half, and with less than two minutes to play he held a one point lead over McCutcheon for the season's total.

However, with the pressure on, McCutcheon dropped in a one handed push shot from ten feet out to sew up the title. McCutcheon finished CCAA competition with 151 points to Inman's 150. The Santa Barbara ace carded 13 points in the San Jose contest.

No team could have been hotter than the Spartans were on Friday night. They held a 11-4 lead at the five minute mark, increased it to 22-8 at the half-way point, and left the court at the end of the first half with a 44-16 lead. The Gauchos came back in the second half and outplayed and outscored the Spartans for the first ten minutes, but then fatigue began to set in, and a host of San Jose substitutions carried the ball game to its conclusion.

The Gauchos never gave up even when it became apparent that they could not hold San Jose in check. Gene Snyder, Hudson Scott, and Jim Schleuter, along with McCutcheon, were playing their final game for Santa Barbara, and they, along with the other players in the game, Bernie Fox, Otey Scruggs, Pat Hill, Tom Moss and Bill Kelso, were a credit to the school.

Coach Willie Wilton of the Gauchos in a statement said, "This season's basketball team has as much, if not more team spirit, fight and morale as any that I have ever coached. I would like at this time to thank each and every member of the team for their co-operation and participation. It has been a great personal pleasure for me to have coached such a fine squad."

Gaucha Diamondmen Shape Up, Take Two

Santa Barbara College's 1950 baseball team continues to shape up as winning material as they scored two wins over the weekend. On Thursday Westmont College fell 3-0 on the Gaucha's new Mesa field, and Friday the Gauchos journeyed to Camp Cooke where they swamped the Army nine 23-4.

At Camp Cooke, the Gauchos showed their hitting ability by blasting out 23 hits for 23 runs against the Army pitchers. Nearly every member of the squad got his chance as Coach Theo (Spud) Harder used two complete teams in the rout. The Gauchos were leading 7-1 going into the sixth frame and then they really broke loose to club out 11 runs and when the dust had cleared the score was 13-1. For good measure the squad added five more runs in the seventh to really sew it up.

Bob Johnston pitched the first five innings of the game and allowed only one run although the soldiers tapped him for six hits. Corky Johnson finished out the game and allowed three runs.

In Thursday's game with Westmont the heavy slugging Gauchos were held to one run until the sixth inning when they clinched the game with a pair of tallies. In this game left hander Thad Picketts teamed up with Bill French to hurl a no-hit shutout for the Gauchos.

The pitching, which gave Coach Harder some bad moments in the first few weeks of practice, appears to be holding up to any competition thus far encountered. Most of the pitching duties have been divided between Johnson, Johnston, Picketts and French.

Reynolds' Racketeers Split Southern Sets With Waves, Cal Tech

Coach Lyle Reynolds' Santa Barbara College tennis team split a pair of matches which were played down south this weekend.

The Gaucha netmen defeated Cal Tech at Pasadena on Saturday, seven matches to two, but on Friday they went down before a highly rated Pepperdine College team by a seven to two margin.

Against the Engineers the Gauchos took five of their six singles matches and two of their doubles contests. The feature match was won by Santa Barbara's Don Tully over Jack Martin 7-5, 6-2.

Friday's matches saw the Gauchos take only two. Arnold Funai came up with a 6-4, 6-1 victory over Pepperdine's Bob Doran in a singles contest, and the Gauchos' third doubles team of Cal Cory and Hilbert Lee edged Doran and Dan Lewis 7-9, 6-4, 6-0.

In the feature match, Don Tully lost to Marsh Miller 1-6, 4-6.

Block C Adopts Plan For Aid to Athletes; Schedules Initiation

Plans for the Spring semester were discussed at a recent meeting of Block C, the varsity lettermen organization, with President Joe Rossi presiding.

The main orders of business at the meeting were preparations for the initiation of new members and a discussion of Rossi's plans for aiding athletes.

A committee of four members, Glenn Mullaney, Warren Vinton, Bob Woolridge and Wayne Templeton, was appointed to plan and organize the initiation ceremonies which will be held Wednesday, March 15. It was announced that all holders of varsity letters in the major sports, football, baseball, basketball, track, tennis and boxing are eligible to join Block C.

In regards to Rossi's aid to athletes plan, all members expressed a willingness to cooperate. The main feature of the plan would be a student tutoring service for all men who compete in school sports. The plan was whole heartedly endorsed by all those present.

Rossi expressed the belief that Block C should push his program through the necessary channels and that measures should be taken to "sell" the plan to the faculty and the student body at large.

FRATERNITY TEAMS OPEN INTRAMURAL HOOP TOURNAMENT

The 1950 Intramural Basketball Tournament got off to a fast start last Wednesday with five games being played, all at the Men's Gym.

Kappa Sigma took the opening game by a 23-14 margin over Delta Sigma Phi. During the first three quarters both teams were evenly matched but the Kappa Sigs, under the leadership of Frank Nau and Vic McCarty, pulled out in front by means of an excellent fast break. Arnold Funai was the mainstay of the Delta Sig squad.

In the second game of the evening, Sigma Alpha Epsilon swamped Beta Sigma Tau by a 54-7 count. Rollie Brice was high point man for SAE with 18 points.

Final of Day
Wednesday's final game went to Delta Tau Delta which downed Sigma Tau Gamma 61-26 in a very hard fought contest. Dan Craviotti and John Bassler were the high point men for the Deltas with 19 and 15 points respectively. Brick Reed was the top scorer for the Sig Taus with 10 tallies.

SAE Winners
Thursday night's opener saw the SAE "B" team come out victorious over the Sigma Phi Epsilon "B" squad by a 32-20 margin. The second game of the evening saw the Delta Tau Delta "B" team follow in the footsteps of the Delta "A" team as the "B" team defeated a Lambda Chi Alpha "B" quintet 44-25.

The week's final game, scheduled between the Sigma Phi Epsilon and Tau Epsilon Phi teams, was awarded to the Sig Ep squad by virtue of a forfeit.

UCLA Offers Trips Abroad for Summer

Would you like to spend five weeks in England or France—and earn up to five academic credits for it?

You can do so by attending the UCLA Summer Session Abroad—a unique plan in its second year which permits college students to combine foreign travel with work toward a college degree.

Two separate groups are planned for July and August, 1950—one of which will make its headquarters in London, the other in Paris. A faculty member of the University of California will accompany each group.

To qualify, you must (1) have junior, senior or graduate standing, (2) make acceptable plans with the department in which you are majoring, (3) have a speaking knowledge of French if you plan to join the Paris group, and (4) have written consent of your parents if you are under 21.

What will it cost? Approximately $600 for round trip transportation from New York, including board and lodging during five weeks in Europe, plus $64 for the regular UCLA Summer Session tuition. An additional two weeks of travel in Europe and personal expenses are extra.

Individual study projects must be filed with the UCLA department in which you wish to earn academic credit before March 15. Applications for admission must be filed before April 15.

For further information, write or telephone to the Office of the Summer Session, 405 Hilgard Avenue, Los Angeles 24, Calif., BR-26161 or AR 30971.

Feature That!

The so-called "human" foot found near East Cabrillo Boulevard last week is "undoubtedly not human, but more closely resembles a bear's foot."

That was the identification placed on it by Dr. Donald M. Wooton, Instructor in Zoology at Santa Barbara College after inspection yesterday in the college zoology laboratory.

Dr. Wooton was at a loss to explain how a bear's foot would find its way to East Beach.

Did someone have a bear-meat barbecue on the beach and leave a foot lying around? Did it wash down from the mountains? Was it the cache of a bone-hiding dog who got it from goodness knows where? Did some bear hunter lose his souvenir?

Those were some of the speculations on the mystery of the bear's paw on East Beach. After the Oklahoma City leopard incident no one even dared to speculate if a bear had been foraging the area and had somehow lost a foot in the process!

The object was turned over to the college experts by Dr. John P. Blanchard, County Pathologist, for positive identification after x-rays had been taken.

"The size of the foot is approximately the same size as a human, ape or bear foot," Dr. Wooton said. The large toe is not prehensile—that is, adapted for grasping, he explained, and therefore not belonging to an ape.

At any rate, the foot has now been added to the collection of comparative anatomy material at Santa Barbara College.

Grin and Beret

If you're one of the people who have morning classes every day, you may be depriving yourself of a most valuable insight into the lives of Americana, the soap opera. All you need do is flick the dial on your radio and you'll find a wealth of drama, suspense, and intrigue.

Let us examine the first facet of the sob opera, the scintillating dialogue. Listen as this excerpt unwinds in all its breath-taking cleverness, its inspiring witticisms:

"John!"
"Yes, Mary?"
"You can't leave me, John!"
"Why not, Mary?"
"Because I lahve you, John!"
"Is that all, Mary?"
"Yes, John!"
"Goodby, Mary."

Announcer: We have just brought you another episode in the lives of Max and Gertrude*. Tune in tomorrow, same time, same station, same drivel.

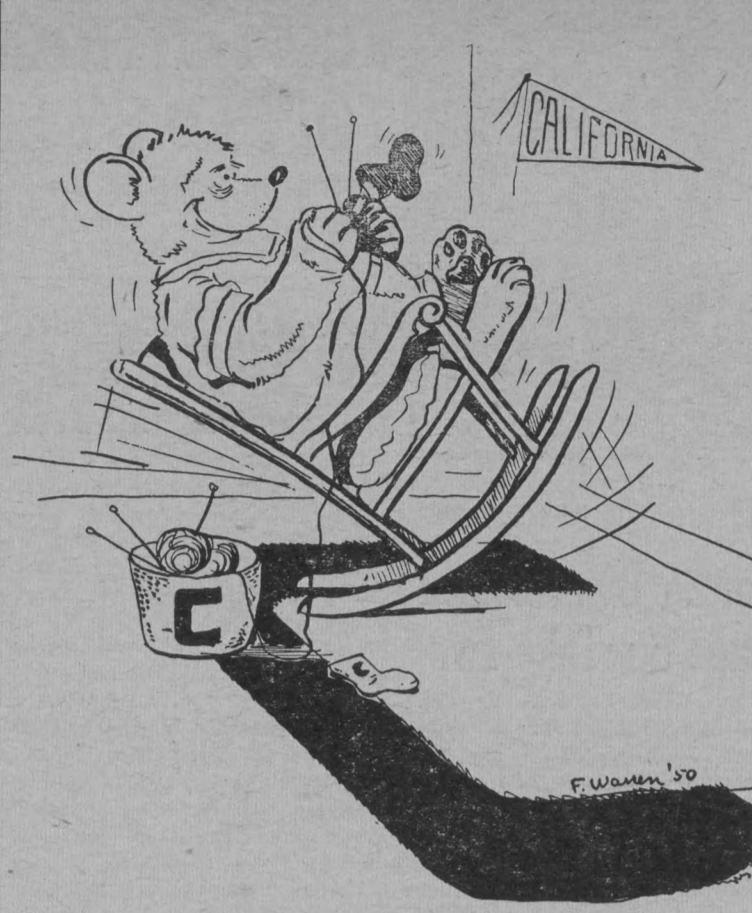

Carlton Remorse

Let us now analyze a typical example of the sap opera, "One Man's Felony," sponsored by Splub, the breakfast cereal that does everything but deoderize. The anouncer first intones the usual blurb:

"Ladies, get Splub for the kiddies. Splub stays in the little mouths all day, cleansing and freshening breath as it nourishes the little bodies.

"And now, 'One Man's Felony,' the story of an every-day burglar who might be your next door neighbor."

As a guitarist plucks out "Home Sweet Home," the announcer unwinds a complicated plot. It seems our hero, Rod Pendergast, has been paroled and arrives home only to find that his wife has run off with the District Attorney, that his son has narrowly escaped death when the detention school burned down, and is now missing, obviously an amnesia victim. As our hero sinks into a chair, his daughter, Amanda, bursts in to tell him of her elopement with Elijah Shnook, the village drunkard. In the scene that follows, our hero irately stamps his foot, set-should be increased in order to insure the continued success of our athletic program, for I know of nothing better than money to guarantee the success of such undertakings. I recommend we spent at least $22,983.02, the program is certainly worth that additional amount.

The "privileged section" policy passed by the student council leaves me breathless and excited. I simply can't wait for the day when I along with hundreds of other Gauchos will awe as our Blig Block fellows file by with pomp and pompons on the way to their PERMANENTLY RESERVED SEATS.

THE PANDA

Dear Editor:

I am sure a lot of students would appreciate your running a picture of a real Panda Bear. It would help dispense with the synonym of the stuffed toy.

Since most people, from President Sproul to our own Student Body President, want us to adopt a more bear-like name, Panda Bears should fill the bill.

I saw two Pandas at the St. Louis Zoo and, believe me, they were anything but stuffed toys. Although they had unique marking which would make a Panda cub look "cute", these animals were bigger than any other bears in the zoo and about ten times as rugged!

A person who sneers at the name Panda Bears is merely showing his ignorance, but it is an understandable ignorance, since Pandas have proven too tough to catch. So if you could run a photo or a drawing of one, I am sure the name will bet much support.

Thanks kindly, Ed Morton

ting off his secret dynamite cache in the basement.

The whole thing seems very much up in the air. Will our hero's insurance cover the damage? Will his wife return, his son be found? We'll certainly want to hear tomorrow's episode, won't we?

But let's not turn the radio off; "Little Awful Annie" is on next and after her comes "The Romance of Helen Spent," the tale of how love comes to a woman of 65. And we won't want to miss Jack Headstrong, the all-American boob" at five o'clock. Can you see now what a wealth of human interest lies at the flick of a dial? *This is a take-off on a burlesque on a parody by Milton Berle. He didn't get a laugh, either.
