BE A BOOSTER FOR LACUMBRE

BIG TRACK MEET HERE TOMORROW

MANY STATE COLLEGES SEND MEN

The first annual intercollegiate track meet between San Diego and San Jose State Colleges and Santa Maria Junior College, Bakersfield Junior College and Southern California Polytechnic School and Santa Barbara will be held on neutral ground at Carpinteria Saturday, April 6, preliminaries at 1:30 and finals at 2:00 p. m.

This meet promises fair to become a permanent Santa Barbara affair due to its location being midway between San Diego and San Jose. Here's to the College for a general state meet for all the colleges in 1924.

San Diego is sending fifteen men and has such entrants as Harold Clearbrook, who broke their college low hurdle record. He made the distance in 27 1-3 seconds. Stahfeld tied the high hurdles mark of 16 4-5 and Metts, who holds the State College record in the mile, will be seen in action for San Diego.

San Jose is sending ten men and has a few of their last year's men entered. All reports say that they can equal the records made by San Diego.

California Polytechnic School is sending seven men and is very strong in the weights.

Santa Maria is sending seven men with Easton Laughlin in the sprints, and is sure to show up among the best. Laughlin is a former Santa Barbara Hi track man and will be remembered by local fans.

Bakersfield's report is not in

In honor of the men who are participating in the track meet to be held here tomorrow afternoon, the student body will give a Jolly-Up in the school gymnasium at eight o'clock tomorrow night.

A special entertainment, under the direction of the Social Committee will be given the first part of the evening, and the rest of the evening will be spent in dancing. Visiting track men are invited to the affair. The dance will be purely informal, and sports clothes will be the order of the evening.

SPRING VACATION

The "daily grind" will be interrupted for one short week, when the Spring vacation, April 12-20, begins next Friday. Students are looking forward to a chance to recover from the past week of mid-term exams. This is the last vacation before the Summer holidays.

NEW SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB IS FORMED

For the purpose of discussing the new movements in education, journalism, finance, politics, etc., students in the Social Science groups, under the direction of Mr. Guenther and Dean Westcott, met on Wednesday at the home of Dean Westcott, to organize a social science discussion group. It is hoped that this group will be recognized as on the same standing as the other clubs of the college—the Literary Forum, the Home Economics Club, etc., and that it will serve as a complement to these other organizations. It is to be composed of students who have done distinguished work in the social sciences.

Such an organization is a new departure for the college, and it is expected that it will serve as a much-needed outlet for discussion of all kinds on present-day questions.

H. SCHOEN MAKES REPORT AT FORUM

Opinions of the United States, from both the English and the American viewpoint, were presented to the members of The Forum at its regular meeting on Tuesday evening, April 1, which was held in the audience room at the Public Library.

A report was given during the evening, following the outline of the program for the year, which is the reading and discussion of contemporary opinion on American life. Needless to say, the Forum members have learned many new things about their own country, and several of the reports have stirred up hot discussion on the part of members, who disagreed with the author's viewpoint.

The report given at the last meeting was: "The Personality of American Cities," a recent book by Hungerford, by Harold Schoen.

The Forum is also planning some form of entertainment which is to be given later in the year.

PRESIDENT PHELPS ATTENDS MEETING

President Phelps left Wednesday to attend a joint meeting of the State Board of Education and the State Teachers College presidents which is being held today in Sacramento. President Phelps will also attend the District Alumni meeting in Sacramento tonight. He expects to be back the first of the week.

APRIL FROLIC AT ARLINGTON TONIGHT

The April Frolic, the benefit dance for "La Cumbre," will be held in the Arlington ballroom tonight at 8:15 o'clock. A ready response to the sale of admission tickets from all townspeople has been encouraging to those interested in a successful financial outcome of the affair. Anticipation for the event has been keen among students as plans have been made to make it one of the nicest social affairs of the year.

April Breeze, (whistling solo), Bertha Fuller.

Spring Whirl (toe dance), Anita Cook.

Among the patrons and patronesses for the event are: President and Mrs. Phelps, Dean Westcott, and Miss Ebbetts.

OUTING CLUB PLANS FOR REST OF YEAR

The Outing Club program for the rest of the year contains many fine trips, in fact, the cream of the trips is yet to come. The coming of spring weather suggests many fishing trips, week-end camping trips, moonlight hikes and boatrides. The many rains of the past few weeks should put the country in fine shape for hikers. Trout streams have been replenished, springs are again running, all the great outdoors begins to call to hikers. The Outing Club will take advantage of the fine weather that is almost sure to follow. The program for the next three months is as follows:

April 25—Moonlight boatride along the coast of Santa Barbara. 6:00 to 11:00 p. m. (Outing Club members only.)

May 2, 3, 4—Three day hike to the Cabin. Trout fishing and hiking. (Outing Club members only.)

May 30, 31 and June 1—Three day trip to Santa Cruz island. (Outing Club members and guests.)

Tentative hikes to the Gibraltar dam and Painted Cave. April and May.

Members will be admitted to the Club previous to the moonlight boatride in April. After that time it will be impossible to care for any new people on any of the trips. A meeting will be held early next week to receive new members and give old members a chance to pay their dues.

Mr. C. L. Jacobs, head of the Community Mechanics department, spoke in Carpinteria last week on the subject of "Does Education Pay?"

On April 3rd the regular General Professional Meeting will be held when some important business will be brought up.

LA CUMBRE PLANS AROUSE INTEREST

MANY NEW FEATURES FOR ANNUAL

This year's La Cumbre bids fair to excel any attempt yet made by the State College in the way of annuals. The management promises a book almost twice as large as last year's La Cumbre, bound in stiff leather covers of an attractive design. But the worth of the book will be better judged by its contents. An increased number of pages permits more extensive write-ups and a larger number of pictures.

The photographic end of La Cumbre will undoubtedly prove the most interesting and worthwhile feature of the book, if present plans under consideration are made possible by sufficient finances. Following is a list of some of the pictures that are sure to be included: (1) eight full page views of the campus; (2) five half-page views of the school; (3) between twenty and thirty pictures of the activities of the student body; (4) six athletic teams; (5) both Glee Clubs; (6) individual pictures of all organization and class officers, as well as individual pictures of all graduates; and (7) about five views of the town, among them an aerial view of the campus. In addition there will be the regular snap-shots and illustrations.

There will also be several clever short stories, artistically illustrated with pen and ink sketches, that should raise the standard of the book. The editor, Eleanor Zerby, promises a book of superior quality, an annual that everyone will be proud to own, that will always be kept for the pleasant memories that it holds of the days that you, the student body, spent at the State College.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB PLANS WEEK'S TOUR

The Men's Glee Club will leave here for a week's tour on April 27. The club plans to go up the coast and cross over to Bakersfield. Three concerts have been scheduled in the San Joaquin valley. Lancaster is included in the tour, and the club will come back through Ventura. The Glee Club which numbers about twenty-five men have worked up a superior program under the direction of Mrs. Barnett. Merton Harlow, president of the club, and Fred Seegert, manager, are arranging all details.

The Men's Glee Club also has another date with Santa Ynez on April 25 and a tentative date with Carpinteria April 11.

Dean Westcott attended the Ventura County Parent Teachers convention held last week in Santa Paula. She spoke at the afternoon session.

OUR EDUCATION

Education is an expensive thing, and the higher it goes the more expensive it becomes.

The cost of operating an educational institution such as the Santa Barbara College is no small figure. Faculty salaries, supplies, the maintenance of grounds and buildings, operations of laboratories and shops, each add to the overhead, making the net cost to the state a large figure.

It is easy to say, "We should worry, the State pays for this", but the fact that the State only pays out of the funds that it gathers in large and small amounts from the people, gives the debt a distinctly personal angle.

Our parents, our relatives, our friends, and countless thousands of whom we have never heard are daily paying their share in order that we may be given the educational advantages that we are daily enjoying.

Is this advantage to be for our sole benefit—if it is we have failed altogether to gain the largest advantage of education, that of trying to help the world in its progress.

We appreciate our advantages, but unless that appreciation takes an animated form in urging us on to a point where we are worth so much more to the state for the fact that the people of the state have seen fit to give us the advantages of education we have no right to call ourselves educated, but merely "college graduates."

IS IT NEEDED?

"Breathes there a man with soul so dead" that he never has dreamed of sitting in the shade of a palm tree while the tinkle of ukeleles falls softly upon his ears.

Surely the students of the College are no exception to the average, but the palm leaves on the pergola of the cafeteria are a poor substitute for the tropics, especially in inclement weather, and the absence of the pulsating tropical music destroys the last vestige of romance that even the wildest dreamer might conjure up.

It would not appear utterly impossible at this time, when the buildings of the college group are being resurfaced, that some more adequate shelter be placed over the pergola than the cluster of palm leaves that now bedeck it.

Human Anatomy Charts Presented to School

A set of human anatomy charts has been presented to the school by William G. Young, local optician. The charts are a valuable piece of equipment for the psychology and physical education departments. The school extends its appreciation to Mr. Young and to the Community Mechanics men who have framed them so that they may be preserved.

Frederick Horridge, former head of the Community Mechanics department, gave a presentation address last Tuesday at dedication of Haviland Hall, the new home of the University of California's School of Education.

INTELLIGENCE TESTS SHOW HIGH AVERAGE

The student body of the college has an average intelligence of 110 as opposed to the standard average of 100 for unselected groups, according to the results of the Terman Test of Mental Ability which was given to every student. The results of the test have been compiled by Dr. Stockton and in the near future individual records will be given to the student concerned upon request.

The following letter which will accompany statements of individual records gives an idea of the importance of the tests to the students and the use to which the information received should be put:

"Complying with your personal request we are handing you herewith a statement of your standing in the intelligence tests. Such an individual statement is never given out by the college publicly or privately except to the person concerned. Moreover, the college believe that you, yourself, should not give to other students the information herein contained. The reasons for this are obvious whether the grade be high or low.

"You will recall that you took two intelligence tests. If you made a better record in one of these tests than in the other you have been credited with the higher grade. It is possible that neither of these tests caught you at your highest capacity. It is probable, however, that in most cases the grade is fully reliable; but it should not in any case be considered infallible, since our measuring instruments, valuable as they are, are still imperfect.

"In considering this grade do not forget that intelligence is only one of the factors necessary to a useful and successful life. Persistence, concentration, personality, high ideals, and other similar characteristics always play their part. A person of high intelligence lacking such qualities may make a failure of life; a person of lower intelligence possessing some such compensating characteristics and making the most of them, could go beyond his more intelligent competitor.

"There are in our college persons of high intelligence who will squander that intelligence and who will therefore be surpassed by those who use a lower intelligence to better advantage. Your responsibility lies in the well-directed and efficient use of whatever resources you have."

The Collegian, a small but well written weekly, published by the students of the Chico State College, appeared on the editors' desk this week.

BE SURE OF YOUR ANNUAL!

As the time for the publication of La Cumbre draws near, it naturally becomes the desire of every student to possess a copy. The constitution of the student body gives every student who holds two term slips a copy of the annual FREE, in return for which the magazine receives an appropriation from the student body council. Those students who hold but one semester's student body ticket are obliged to pay any amount for their annuals that the management sees fit. This amount has been fixed for this year at the figure of two dollars ($2), half the price of the copies that are sold. The actual cost of this year's La Cumbre will exceed $4.50 per copy on the first 400 copies, consequently it can be seen that four dollars for a copy is reasonable if not cheap.

These students who have but the one semester's student body slip should make arrangements for the purchase of their copies immediately, for the supply is limited, and after the 20th of this month can not be increased. So everyone who wants a copy had better see the manager at once. After the above mentioned date those people who have failed to make arrangements for the purchase of their copies will in all probability have to go without one. So get busy and see the manager before it is too late.

G. P. DEPARTMENT

Because of the changeable weather which we had last week, the "Weenie Bake" to be given by the General Professional Department was postponed until better weather.

A number in the General Professional Department turned out to support their representative Edmund O'Reilly, who won the hundred yard dash in the track meet held Friday afternoon.

Laura Spect Price, head of the General Professional Department, spoke March 25 at the Teachers' Meeting. Her talk was about "The Cooperative System of the School Management."

Mina Ellis, who has been ill for some time, has returned to her studies.

We are glad to learn that Alma Larson, who was struck by an automobile while changing buses, is able to leave the Cottage Hospital.

Leona Bowers, who has been ill the past week, has returned to her studies again.

ALL NEXT WEEK IS SNAP-SHOT WEEK

NEWS IS RECEIVED FROM MRS. COOK

Miss Ebbets of the Home Economics department has just received a most interesting letter from Mrs. Ethel Cook, former student of the H. E. Dept., in which she describes the experiences of herself and husband during their visit in the Hawaiian Islands. Mrs. Cook was met on arrival by Jennie Beatie who decorated the two travelers with the well known native wreaths, the lais, made of beautiful natural flowers, not the kind made of paper, usually bestowed on guests leaving the islands.

Having their car with them they were able to take many interesting trips into beautiful country often accompanied by several of our former students who occupy teaching positions over there. Mrs. Cook reports they are most successful in their work.

The description of the trip to the big volcano was especially fine. The Cooks are doing light housekeeping in a furnished apartment, and find living about as expensive as in Santa Barbara, but the food more varied and unique. The natives have a convincing love for flowers, wearing them on all occasions, even the men wearing wreaths about the neck. Orientals are numerous and always in evidence.

There are to be many vacancies in the school department this year but as there are many hundreds of applications on hand there does not seem to be much hope for our students securing positions over there in the near future.

To discourage absence and tardiness at the Fresno State College, the executive committee has passed a law to deduct from the final grade of a pupil, part of the grade for a given number of unexcused absence and tardiness.

Miss Pierce, vice-principal, is very happy over the fact that the San Pedro High School Student Body has adopted the merit system and has great hope for its success.

Mr. Blodgett's construction class has completed about half of the garage building for Dr. Evans and surely deserve credit for the admirable way in which they have handled this very difficult problem of hillside construction. MR. WOLF SENDS INTERESTING LETTER

Papeete, Tahiti,
March 8, 1924.

To the Eagle—

Dear Eagle and the College Eaglets large and small.

The voyage to the South Seas was one of the most perfect in the memory of the skipper, as the sailors called their captain. Unusually calm and not the intense heat that one encounters near the Equator, for the North-east Trade winds were with us all the way.

Father Neptune, his wife and child, with their court, performed the ceremonies of crossing the line, and I stood there sketching the others being lathered, shaved and ducked, when I heard Father Neptune sing out "I do not like the looks of that man, bring him here." So with good grace I heard the charges and being found guilty, I was lathered with a two foot brush and shaved with a still larger razor and soused with gallons of water and mind you, I was fully dressed. But water and a little horse-play are all in the game. I received the following credentials—

"To our brother, Mr. Hamilton Wolf, Son of the Sea.

"I, Father Neptune, King of the Sea, do hereby present this token of esteem to our loyal and faithful friend, Mr. Hamilton Wolf, who so bravely faced the elements of wind, water and the best shaving soap. The Queen and I, also my staff, have the greatest honor to proclaim you—'Son of the Sea.'

"The criminal offense with which you were charged was as follows:

1st—With eating soup with your knife.

4th—With being a boot-legger."

Never have I dreamed that paradise was to be found on earth, but here it is, on this island in the South Seas. Its mountains rise high into the skies, with the shore lined by great trees, rich and beautiful in their tropical verdure. Beneath them grow smaller trees and bushes laden down with bright red and snow white flowers.

This land has not only the beauty of flowers and mountains and sea, but the people who live here are gentle folk who greet you in their naive way and one enjoys a hospitality that the outsider knows nowhere else in the world. If ever gentility and refinement was to be found, here it is. The girls and the women, no matter how aged they may be, carry themselves with a grace that is queenly.

They love flowers beyond all else and they express their friendship through them. The first night I was here, I sat dining with some friends from the ship and before long we were garlanded with a crown of flowers and treated as though we had been members of the family returned from a long voyage.

Speaking of dining at the famous Tiare Hotel, which is mentioned in all the tales of the South Seas, let me tell the cost of a few things. A franc here is worth four cents in American money. I will take the menu and write it in the order mentioned. Cantelope glace, one franc; pate de foie, two francs and a half, poulet (chicken) roti, four francs, and so on. Can you imagine getting an enormous portion of tender chicken roasted as only the French can do this, and garnished with lettuce and cress for sixteen cents, anywhere else? I cannot.

I invited two guests for dinner and the bill for a complete dinner for three was thirty-two francs or one dollar twenty-eight cents and may a very circum-spect college proff. divulge that this included a large bottle of vin rouge.

The native flower is the Tiare Tahiti, meaning the flower of Tahiti, a small white blossom, with a fragrance so alluring that one dreams of far away places when you hold it close. When a girl wears it over her right ear, it means that she seeks a sweetheart and when it is placed over the left, one knows that he has been found. The men wear them as well over the ear. When you are presented with one, you do the same and to be given a Tiare Tahiti is a sign of friendship.

Yesterday I went to a distant village to make sketches and down by the stream were two girls, of the pure Tahitian caste. They were beautiful as the Tiare over their ears, partly hidden by the long tresses of jet black hair, of which they are so justly proud. They all speak French, so after a salutation in the native tongue, I spoke to them in French and asked one to pose for me. They are naturally bashful and coy and so after much smiling into their hands and the coming and going of dimples, she stood there like a princess. If anyone has the impression that these girls are lacking in the refinement of womanhood, I would right here say that they carry themselves with all the dignity of a fine American girl.

I was taken to the house of their chief, and asked to stay for the night in his home, and extended the hospitality of the village. I went to the home of the girls and their parents treated me as one of the family.

About five o'clock we went to the river for the afternoon bath. I expected to see the whole family gather together at dinner but only the father and I sat down to table. It seems to be the custom, that the women never eat with the men.

The same night in their house, they were giving a dance for the young people and I have danced with many a good dancer up at college but dear Eaglettes, your Tahitian sisters may possibly be a step ahead of you. They dance to the music of an accordion and two harmonicas, and the music is different than ours but you do a very quick one step to it, with many swirlings; the more you can spin and the faster you can girate, the more they like it. I was at a loss when it came to their waltz, but after a while I did it rather poorly. They dance a very complicated lancers, which is beautiful to see.

When the dance was over at eleven o'clock, I felt like an assemblyman who had been elected. They rushed from all parts of the house to shake my hand good-night.

On Monday night they are going to do their native dances and they asked me to come back for them. I certainly will avail myself of the invitation, for they say they almost go into a frenzy of excitement.

This is but a very small part of all that has happened and what is ahead, but the ship with the mail for the States goes in a few days and as the days are not half long enough for all I want to do, I will tell more later on.

I think of you all and only wish you might have a glimpse of this Elysian field, where I have not learned a bit of the world outside for there are no sail ships with news for a month. The radio news is mainly about French events. This way I am unaware of such important doings as the events befalling Mr. Jiggs or Spark Plug.

Yours sincerely and always,
HAMILTON A. WOLF.

P. S.—Since writing the preceding, I have been to the village of Papearii, some forty miles away and ate the most delicious thing a native can offer one and that is the sea centipede. It is almost as large as a lobster and more delicious than any crab or lobster I have ever tasted. I also had poi, which is another delicacy and to eat the sauce, one puts all five fingers into the dish and licks them clean with as much noise as possible, to show complete enjoyment of the repast. If the radio was busy, I will wager, they must have picked up my vibrations and thought it some strange code.

Needless to say I will be happy to have news from you who have time to write.

It is a high, solemn, almost awful thought for every individual man that his earthly influence which has had a commencement, will never through all ages, were he the very meanest of all, have an end! What is done is done; has already blended itself with the boundless ever-living ever-working universe and will also work there, for good or for evil, openly or secretly, throughout all time.—Carlyle.

Some of the prospective teachers in the General Professional Department were interviewed regarding teaching positions in Honolulu.

The Girls' League of the Long Beach Poly High have been doing some fine work during the past year. They have adopted the uniform dress idea, have furnished a new club room for their members, have revived the Big and Little Sister Movement, voted money for milk for the Mexican Children of a local school, and then put on a Christmas Tree last Christmas for another local school. Keep up the good work, girls.

"THE EAGLET" IS NEW PUBLICATION

The children of the Riviera school have organized to publish a monthly paper, "The Eaglet," under the direction of Mrs. Johnson. Each month a prize letter will be published, among other things.

Riviera School,
Santa Barbara, California.
Marvh 6, 1924.

Dear Hazel:

I am in the sixth grade and go to the Riviera School. In Nature Study, we are making little books. We press wild flowers and mount them, writing something about each one beneath it.

The Riviera School is a practice school for the students of the Santa Barbara State Teachers' College.

I go up to the college to the Health Class. We are going to have a health play. I am going to be a milk bottle.

We also go up to the college for gymnasium. We go once a week. We have a lot of fun playing on the apparatus.

Our room is going to have a paper called "The Eaglet." Different classes are going to write about different things. The best paper on a topic will be chosen and put in "The Eaglet." We call our paper "The Eaglet" because the college paper is "The Eagle."

We have a community chorus which meets twice a week at half past eight. We sing songs and meet once a month at Recreation Center to sing them with the other schools of the city.

We have a Mission in Santa Barbara which is named the Santa Barbara Mission. It was founded in 1786 by the Franciscan Fathers. It is very interesting.

Santa Barbara is right on the ocean. I go down to the beach often.

We have oranges here. We don't grow so many right here but in the Ojai, which isn't very far away, is where we get our oranges. We have a great many walnuts, though.

The poppy is our state flower. What is your state flower? We have many flowers here.

It rained yesterday. We needed the rain very much.

On clear days, we can see the islands very well. They are thirty miles away.

I am glad to be your friend,

MARGARET ARNOLD.

Interested Delegates Report Conference

An enthusiastic group of delegates returned from the fifth annual conference of the Inter-collegiate Women's association held at the University of Southern California, March 21-23. The fine feeling of welcome and the warmth of the receptions extended to all attending delegates by the U. S. C. women was much commented upon. Girls who went to Los Angeles on trains were met by a reception committee and taken immediately to the club and sorority houses; those going in autos were met at the administration building from where they were conducted to the various houses.

So lavishly were the delegates attended at the sororities that they bemoaned a return to the usual run of events.

A program was arranged in which business and social events were carefully intermingled.

ALUMNI NEWS

SACRAMENTO MEETING

The annual banquet and meeting of the Sacramento branch of the Alumni of the S.B.S.C. will be held on Friday, April 4, at the Hotel Sacramento. President Phelps will go north to attend the banquet, and will be one of the speakers.

The guest of honor for the affair will be Miss Lita Bane, who is representing the United States government in Home Economics work. Miss Amy Greenlaw will also be a guest of honor. The banquet is in charge of Miss Violet Shepherd.

Other prominent members of the association will be speakers at the gathering, and it is expected that there will be a good attendance at the affair, according to the number of reservations made. The Sacramento group is a lively organization, and a good time and happy reunion is anticipated by all. There are about twenty members of the Sacramento association.

Miss Helen Haie, the first graduate to receive a degree from this college, visited school last week. Miss Hale majored in Home Economics when here and is now teaching in the Riverside High School.

The classes of Pearl Wynes and Margaret Keayon '23 of the Casmalia school, have written two plays and are going to stage them in the school auditorium. The costumes, music, and settings are being worked out by the children as projects.

President Midkiff Interviews Graduates

President Frank Midkiff of the Kamehameha Schools in Honolulu visited the school last week. President and Mrs. Midkiff visit the state every year in an annual visit to and inspection of the schools. The main reason for his visit here was to interview several prospective graduates who are applying for teaching positions in the Kamehameha schools next year. The Kamehameha schools consist of two schools, one for boys and one for girls.

Miss Dorothy Hitchcock is considering a position as art instructor in the Honolulu schools; Miss Bess Exton a Home Economics position; and Miss Isabel Chalmers, Dorothy Williams, Ruth Belyea, and Marian French elementary school positions. Although each student received a personal interview with President Midkiff, no definite decisions will be made until after his return to Honolulu.

Since its founding the school has placed from one to five of its graduates in positions in the Kamehameha.

Girl Scouts Class Organizes Into Patrols

The class in Girl Scout activities has organized into four patrols under Miss Ferguson, instructor. Each patrol has chosen a leader. These are Misses Winifred Weage, Margaret Main, Ester Janssens and Gladys O'Shea.

At their meeting on Wednesday, Mr. Clarence Wily, assistant executive of the Forestry department, spoke to the students on the care of camp fires and use of forestry lands.

Saturday the class held its first hike. Leaving the Girl Scout clubhouse at 10 o'clock the students went to the beach, hiking toward the lighthouse and studying how to build fires.

GREEN MAKES SPECIAL OFFER

Elsewhere in this issue there will be found an advertisement by Greene the photographer. Read it! For twenty-five cents he will make you a picture, 3 by 4 inches, in an attractive folder. Mr. Greene had previously made an offer to the College students in which he proposed to make the pictures free, but the offer was looked upon with suspicion, some catch was feared. Therefore he has inserted the twenty-five cents clause in the present ad to remove suspicion.

MISS MAY CRISTAL SPEAKS TO STUDENTS

Miss May Cristal entertained the fifth period Spanish class last week with an entertaining account of her visit to the Mallorca Islands off the coast of Spain. Miss Cristal, who traveled with Miss Ramelli, head of the language department, has just returned from a trip to Mexico and Washington, and she gave a delightful talk. She spent last week here visiting with Miss Ramelli and has returned to her home in Berkeley.

WILL ELECT NEW S. B. OFFICERS SOON

Election of next year's student body officers will take place soon after Easter vacation. New officers are installed one month before school closes in order to acquaint themselves with their positions before the officers of the present year leave. Since it is necessary to hold the election one week prior to the installation, petitions will be out the week following vacation. Petitions will be posted on the bulletin board and must be signed by at least ten per cent of the student body in order to nominate any given student.

The election will probably be held May 6 and officers installed May 13 according to President Keeler, who urges students to start thinking of possible candidates now. In speaking of the coming election Keeler states that he hopes the students will "realize the responsibility entailed in the choice of candidates and act accordingly."

Children of the health class presented a health play in the cafeteria, last Monday afternoon under the direction of Miss Bradley and the girls of the malnutrition class. Members of the health class represented different vegetables, cereals, and other foods.

Trophy and medals will be awarded at the Jolly Up to be held in the College Gym at 7:30 p. m. The trophy becomes a possession for the college winning it three years in succession. Failure of a college to compete forfeits the right to a cup. The cup goes to the winning school and remains there until won by another. Here's hoping that the trophy will never leave the campus!

Coach Gilliland was well pleased with the results of the inter-departmental meet held at Pershing Park Friday, March 28. The score was: J. C. 61; C. M., 57; G. P., 8.

The tennis match scheduled for Saturday, March 29, at the Y.M.C.A. courts between Loyola and Santa Barbara State College was called off due to death in the Loyola captain's family and sickness of another player.

GLEE CLUB SINGS AT REC. CENTER

The Men's Glee Club sang at Recreation Center Thursday, March 27, at the Nurses' graduation exercises of the Cottage Hospital. For the first time the men appeared in the full uniform of the club. The uniform consists of tuxedos, black patent leather shoes, white shirts with a strip of olive green across the white.

The Women's Glee Club is working on songs for College Night and will have an important part in the program. The women are also planning to give a program in assembly in the near future.

J. C. NOTES

Different well known individuals of the Junior College are feeling very well set up this week. The cause is perhaps not very well known by many uninformed individuals. Those must read about the track meet which was held last Sat.

Lorna Roe has been forced to stop school until after Easter vacation, because of a nervous breakdown.

S. B. SEC. LEAVES FOR STANFORD

Frances Dearborn, a prominent member of the student body of the Santa Barbara State College, left Santa Barbara on March 30 for Stanford University, to begin her studies there with the Spring quarter.

Miss Dearborn was a member of the S.B.S.C. for the past year and a half, and took a prominent part in student body affairs. She acted as Chairman of the Social Committee during her first year, and as Secretary of the student body this year until her resignation a few weeks ago, because of withdrawal from the college.

Miss Lydia Miratti can't let car stay out of the shop. Two weeks ago she ran the car into a Ford on Micheltorena and Bath streets, taking off the Ford's back wheel and bending the steering rod and removing some of the fresh paint on her's. Be more careful, Lydia.

The Itappa Keggs are planning a short mountain hike and picnic for next Sunday. Nuff said.

DEAN WESTCOTT IS HONORED BY I. W. A.

Dean Westcott was elected by the Intercollegiate Women's Association to serve as the permanent member of the executive board of the organization and to act as advisor to student officials. It was in this capacity that Dean Westcott served as chairman of the round-table of Deans in which college problems were discussed and subjects for presentation at next year's conference were outlined.

It was especially gratifying to our women that the proposal that Dean Westcott act as permanent advisor, came from Occidental College. Santa Barbara visiting delegates were pleased at the warmth of the reception accorded Dean Westcott by women of all the other colleges that were represented at the conference last year.
