Out on the Pampas

BRITAIN OBJECTS

While more Japanese marines are reported to have landed at Tangku, officials in London are using all possible influence to aid General Chiang Kai-Shek, Chinese national leader in opposing the formation of a separate state of North China.

It has been rumored that the autonomy move is an indirect result of the American silver purchase policy and British support given to the Chinese national government's new currency.

PEACE TALK GOES ON

In the face of possible outbreaks of war on all hands, plans for peace and armament reduction go on. December 6 will mark the opening of the five-power naval conference in London. Invitation to the conference have been accepted by all the countries involved. The acceptance of Italy yesterday followed those of the United States, Japan and France.

MUSSOLINI UNDAUNTED

Apparently undaunted by the sanction of the League, Mussolini has moved to curtail the growing of Italian crops, which have been exported and in the place of these, he has arranged that the farmers will plant crops which have been denied them by other nations. These and more extensive plans which have not been revealed will affect every one of the 3,460,000 farms in Italy. In order to supplement the ranks of the farm laborers, 100,000 soldiers will be released to aid in the production of the necessary food supplies.

COURT CHALLENGED

Yesterday, the government filed a brief with the supreme court which directly challenges the power of this court to issue a temporary injunction which would prohibit the collecting of the AAA-rice processing tax. This brief came as a result of protest by Louisiana rice milling companies, and asserts that such an injunction is contrary to certain principles of law, and is prohibited by the AAA act itself.

BUY AMERICA

When it was reported that an order of $19,000 of German steel had been placed with which to complete the steel piling of the Triborough bridge in New York, protests poured in from all over the nation, that it was only right and proper that American manufacturers and laborers should benefit from such a purchase.

UPSILON HOLDS INITIATION OF RECENT PLEDGES

Delta Phi Upsilon, national honorary child education fraternity, last Sunday held an informal initiation for Ruth Hilty and Lucille Ellis at the home of Miss Edith Leonard, head of the primary department.

The formal initiation will be held December 7th during a banquet given at the Miramar hotel. Miss Helen Grady, teaching at Taft, Miss Evelyn Johns, teaching kindergarten, first, second, and third grades at the Pacific Military academy at Culver City and the Misses Muriel Brown, Mildred Browning, and Patricia McCullagh, all graduates from the primary department, have been especially invited to attend.

Pledges were chosen by members of the fraternity through consideration of outstanding scholastic leadership and teaching ability. Pledges must have upper division standing.

Miss Leonard, who is very anxious to retain a close relationship in her department has originated a unique ten page Christmas letter which will have in it the greetings for the season and a complete resume of the progress and the personal doings of all the graduates. A copy will be sent to each former primary department student.

Council Awards Appropriation for Glee Club

Petition for Symphony Funds Refused by Student Legislative

AWARD GROUP FORMED

After Long Delay Committee Presents Amendment to Student Council

During three hours of wrangling at its meeting last night, the student council made several important decisions, one of which was the approval of a $35 appropriation by the Women's glee club. The council's vote also provided that the finance committee should find ways and means whereby the money be raised. Mrs. Helen Barnett presented the petition.

Resulting from a recommendation by the finance committee, the council disapproved the $25 petition from the symphony group. This action was taken because it was believed that money could be obtained by adding one row of one dollar tickets at the Lobero theater.

Award Committee Appointed

To work out a method whereby the awards may be handled this year, Garlyn Basham, student body president, appointed an awards committee, chairmanned by Joe Robinson and composed of Don Follett, Shirley Warner, Barry Simmons, chairman of speech arts, Eddie Cole and Tommy Merrill. The work of this board will be presentment of an amendment.

After a prolonged delay, the amendment committee presented its work last night, which provides that all faculty members pay five dollars a year dues. This fee will entitle them to one general admission to all athletic, oratorical and debating events sponsored by the college and one general admission to all dramatic productions, except the Roadrunner Revue. The faculty will have the privileges of special students, which will be outlined by a later amendment.

Varsity Cancels Post-Season Game With Tempe State

A post-season game with Tempe State College of Arizona was turned down by members of the varsity football team at a meeting Tuesday afternoon. The game was offered as a home and home agreement, this year's game to be played here on Thanksgiving day.

The game was complicated by the fact that the local high school plays a game here on the same day, and the competition in attendance would not warrant another game here in town.

Believing that they had just completed a successful season, the team as a whole felt that a post-season game would be harmful on the results of the season.

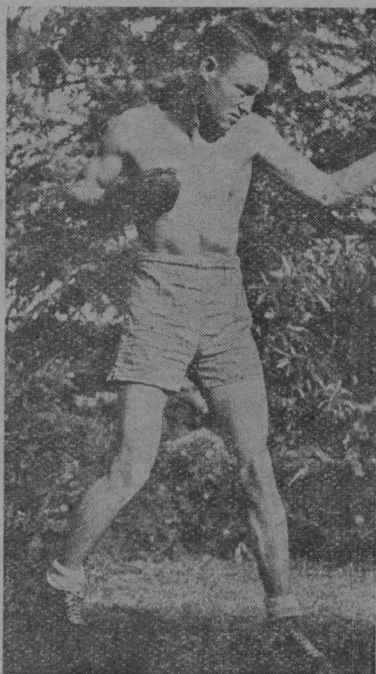

Views from the Neutral 'Rosin' Corner; Two State Co-eds Recount Highlights of Tourney

From in the neutral "rosin" corner, watching the Gaucha glove toppers, in action, the exhibition of good sportsmanship and tricky boxing proved to be an evening of good entertainment. One slight drawback to the ringside seats was the difficulty in keeping the slug artists off our laps.

We were under the impression that boxers were rough and tough individuals devoid of manners and etiquette in the ring, but imagine our surprise to hear "Smokey" Clemmons say "Pardon me" when he hit Jacky "Joe Louis" Smith a little too hard.

The highlight of the evening for the ringsiders and the audience came when Roy Voorhees landed a terrific wallop, cooling off his op-

Winner of last night's main event, Johnny Varner, Golden Gloves runner-up of '34, managed the boxing show as well as coached State's pugilists.

1200 Hear R.M. Hutchins Talk

Eastern University Prexy Explains New Types of Teaching

An audience of 1200 people heard Dr. Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, denounce the unit measure of credit as employed by our educational systems in his talk on "The Rising Generation" at the high school Wednesday night.

Hutchins, in his own university, has introduced several revolutionary methods of teaching which have startled the entire educational field. In his speech, he said that students, at the end of their first year, may receive a degree if they pass an examination for it. The president holds that required attendance at classes is an unnecessary and obsolete custom. Student regulations have been abolished at the University of Chicago, because students paid no attention to them anyhow, he said.

Teachers, as American citizens, are entitled to express their opinions in the classrooms, Hutchins said.

Gauchos Receive New Annual Appointment

Appointments for La Cumbre photographs are being put in the mail boxes. These photographs must be taken at Bartel's studio, 740 State street, in order to preserve uniformity. A special Christmas rate of four sittings for a dollar is being made. If students are unable to keep appointments, they are to see Jean Kandjounzeff, La Cumbre photography editor.

Gaucha Boxers Win Five Fights from Los Amigos

More Than 700 Spectators Watch State Mittmen Triumph Over Local Club in Auditorium Last Night

Santa Barbara State college boxing club scored an overwhelming victory over the Los Amigos "mittmen" by taking five out of six of the scheduled bouts presented in the college auditorium last night and witnessed by more than seven hundred people, composed of students and townspeople.

The highlight of the evening was a knockout scored by Roy Voorhies of the State college over Sol Medina of the Los Amigos boy's club in the second round. Both boys came out of their corners fighting and were "mixing" it in the center of the ring when Voorhies whipped over two hard rights to Medina's jaw which floored him.

Students Will Visit Famous Arts Library

Thirty-Five Leave Campus This Morning for All-Day Excursion

Leaving the campus at nine o'clock this morning some thirty-five students departed for the Huntington library, at Pasadena for an all day excursion. The trip is under the sponsorship of the English department.

Dean William Ashworth head of the English department, and Dr. William Maxwell, English instructor are accompanying the excursion to act as guides, pointing out items of interest. Transportation arrangements were made by Bill Hunt and Armae Brewster.

Industrial Group Visits Hollywood Picture Studios

Four men of the industrial education department visited the Warner Brothers studio in Los Angeles last Thursday to study set construction and to see the stars at work.

The group, including Elbert Phelps, Allen Crews, Paul Westbury and Bob Paden had the privilege of watching Dick Powell and Ruby Keeler work on their new picture. Of particular interest were the giant and miniature sets used in the production of "Captain Blood." The large sets consisted of two ships one hundred and fifty feet long that were used for most of the scenes. One of these was stationary and the other was mounted on tracks.

After Medina was fixed up for the second round, the two 180 pound boys met in the center of the ring and clinched, at which time the referee, Billy Danley, broke them up. Tearing in again Voorhies ended the fight by scoring a terrific left and right to Medina's chin which "cooled" him for the next twenty minutes.

Varner in Main Event

The main event was the next biggest feature of the battle card, which had Johnnie Varner, boxing for the Gauchos, matched against young Arizmendi of the "downtown" aggregation. Both boys began the first round by hitting evenly, with little damage being done to either, but the second round saw the two "leather-throwers" swinging hard fast lefts and rights to the body and they were still fighting in close when the bell rung.

Beginning the third and last round, Varner went to work on Arizmendi, swinging hard consistent rights and lefts to the body and kidneys; knocking the Los Amigos entry down twice and having him on the run, after jabbing two hard rights to his chin. The bell rang ending the bout, giving Varner a decisive victory over his opponent.

Fosdick Opens Bouts

Bobby Fosdick of State and "Shorty" Ramirez started the festivities by fighting fairly even the first round, but the second round saw Ramirez take the aggressive and followed it up in the third to win by a popular decision. Clemmons and Smith both of State college appeared in an exhibition bout and demonstrated the manly art of self defense.

R. Perez and Freddie Monson of the hilltop, two 170 pounders, fought a clean fight with Monson outpointing.

NEW YORK PAPER PRINTS ARTICLE ON DATE BUREAU

The Santa Barbara State college is gaining national publicity, for a story regarding its date bureau was printed in a recent issue of the New York Herald Tribune. The article reads as follows:

"A 'date' bureau to promote better acquaintanceship between men and women students is in full operation at Santa Barbara State college. The bureau, manned by six students under faculty sanction, conducts negotiations for engagements for such affairs as dances or 'movie' shows.

"Registration costs a nickel, and such data as age, ownership of an automobile, ability at bridge, sports and dancing and even preference for blonde or brunette partners are filed."

A feature story from which the story above was derived appeared some time ago in the Sunday morning edition of the local paper. The story was given to Tom Cameron, local reporter, by "Petie" McKinney, Gaucha reporter, and was released through the Associated Press facilities.

"Goldie" Goldsmith, who administers the activity, Dorothy Darrow, Alistair Anderson, Nat Hales, Denny McArthur, and "Petie" McKinney are the students in charge of the bureau.

State's Loan Fund

In order to clarify recent misunderstandings and improper interpretations of the Santa Barbara Educational Loan fund, we wish to present information concerning its administration, back-ground and ownership.

The fund was originated by William Wyles in 1923 for the purpose of loaning funds to upper-classmen needing small sums to complete their courses at this college. The loans carry but a small interest rate and are expected to be repaid by the borrower at the earliest convenience, usually with his or her first job following the school term. Since its beginning, over twenty-five other donors including local citizens clubs, and campus organizations interested in the welfare of State college students, have contributed to the fund.

The First National Trust and Savings Bank of Santa Barbara was named as trustee of the fund, with its officers acting as administrators without charge. It is not owned by that institution or by the associated student body.

Student applications are made through the office of President C. L. Phelps and are open to all members of the student body excepting freshmen. A limit of $100 has been set. With the approval of the dean of women or the dean of men, and President Phelps, a recommendation is sent to the bank, which then considers the loan. Officers of the bank have depended largely upon these recommendations and have always been very lenient in making the loans and in collecting interest on them. Approximately 100 students have been aided this last year.

Students should remember that the fund is created for a worthy purpose and should be respected as such. Payment of all loans and interest carry a moral as well as a legal obligation.

Our Civilized World

On Sunday last the Daily News-Morning Press reported the activity of one man from Georgia in obtaining two million signatures for a petition, to be presented to Governor Talmadge of that state, asking for executive clemency for a negro convicted to serve 18 to 20 years in a Georgia chain gang.

We who live in another part of the nation can hardly appreciate the significance of such a sentence. We may well wonder what to believe the existing conditions may be when, on one hand, Governor Talmadge publicly declares that men prefer the chain gang to prison because it provides them with a change of scene and a chance to see people, and when on the other hand, we read of a captured fugitive from such a gang, a hardened criminal praying, "Please, God, strike me dead before they take me back."

We all no doubt cringe with terror when we read within the daily papers of the bitter persecution of certain races and creeds carried on in Europe. We have been taught in school how superior is civilization today compared to that when galley slaves sweated and labored in the holds of merchant ships. When we see movies such as "Les Miserables" displaying prisoners stretched on racks, left practically starving in damp dismal prisons, we thank our lucky stars that we are living here and now.

But when we hear directly of men chained together in a group of 20 by spiked iron bands about the neck or ankles; of floggings; of "sweat boxes"; and "stretching," then we begin to wonder and ask, "just what is civilization?"

When we hear of poison gases, new projectiles that carry germs, ruthless strike breakers, chain gangs and the like we are prone to believe that civilization is a mythical idealistic goal which exists, more often than not, in the minds of men with visions of a world far more peaceful than our own.

Women Prefer Men To Be Athletes, Six Feet, 190 Pounds

Well, fellows, here's your chance to find out what a few of our campus coeds admire in you. Last week the girls were given this opportunity, and they liked it, so here goes.

Arlene Tweedy, that cute gal with the dimples, likes her men six feet tall, weighing 185 pounds and having dark hair and eyes. He must be a good dancer and have a good looking car. Sport pants (with pleats) and sweaters are the type of clothes Arlene likes to see them wear to school.

Now the California usherette, Mary Louise Dunbar, brings out another important factor. She prefers them intelligent, if that isn't asking too much. She likes the athletic type, six feet one, 190 pounds with black curly hair and brown eyes. A nice car and some money sorta goes over too with Mary Louise.

That smilin' coed, Betty Wells, above all things doesn't like "whiskers" or "freckles." She can't stand impatient fellows but she likes 'em somewhat literary. She's not a bit particular about hair and eyes, but oh yeah, here's a hint, she does not like cords and she does not like fellows over six feet tall.

Another gal what likes 'em six feet two and 190 pounds is Maurine Fisher, that A number one art student. She's not particular about hair and eyes, but she does like to see them neat in appearance and of the athletic type. Good dancers are especially recognized by Maurine.

I just can not imagine why Helen Harper prefers red hair and pretty blue eyes, maybe her boy friend would know! He must be five feet eleven and weigh 180 pounds and by all means be an athlete. A good cook suits her to perfection!

Armae Brewster likes 'em high, with a shoulder-spread of two feet. Blue eyes are ver', ver' nice, but brown will do in an emergency! An all-round athlete with the ability to laugh and ride horse-back is tops, but some degree of intelligence should be present. However, most certainly no "timid soul." Raven-black or golden-blond tresses with a natural wave and gloss are much in order. Pomade, axle-grease and ten cent perfume to excess, on the other hand, is definitely out.

By BARBARA SEWARD

We feel a bit column-struck (as in stage-struck), but here we go skimming the printed matter, interspersing not too dainty morsels of pensivity and such—if there is a SUCH.

Robert Nathan's neat little satire on the furore over the funeral of Rudolph Valentino (screen lover of our distant childhood), called "Death in the Stadium."

And that reminds us for inobvious reasons of "Death in the Afternoon," Ernest Hemingway, and "Death in the Woods," Sherwood Anderson.

Though it isn't a common philosophy, this little quatrain of Edna St. Vincent Millay's trips from tongue to tongue:

"I burn my candle at both ends
 It will not last the night;
 But oh my foes, and oh my friends,
 It gives a lovely light."

Often people who seem COMPLEX to themselves, are SIMPLE to others—and should we add, transparent as crystal.

Eugene Field disposed of a would-be poet who had submitted a verse entitled, "Why Do I Live?" by writing on the rejection slip: "Because you sent your poem by mail." And such is often the case.

"Conceit is God's gift to little men," Bruce Badton.

Climate Is Butt of Criticism, and It's Unjust, Says Scribe

The vicissitudes of climatic phenomena have frequently been subjected to unwarranted and extravagant disapprobation, without the slightest discernment of their rationale. But let us proscribe this ponderous, pedantic, and circumlocutory verbosity. Can we relax now?

We just said we're stickin' up for the weather. Everybody picks on the poor stuff, and nobody ever says a kind word for it, except maybe in some meteorologist's handbook or something. It gets blamed for the postponement of everything, the electricity in your hair, and the bad shape the marihuana's in. But did you ever stop to realize that it's just the victim of unfortunate circumstances?

Now take at a convention, frinstance. The hot air goes up, causing a low pressure area there. First thing off, it rains, and the weather gets blamed for it! See the injustice of it? What could you do if you were under the weather at a convention? Don't tell us. Better see your lawyer.

Or take when a Big Storm is Sweeping Down the Coast, and it comes in on the south wind when it gets here. What happens then? Most people say the weather is screwy. But really the rain comes down the coast with a low pressure area, and of course the wind always blows at one of those, which is north until it gets here. What can the poor mute weather do to explain that? Nothing but shed warm, bitter tears of despair, and perhaps store up wrath agin the day of judgment—whatever that means.

Now this storing up of wrath agin the d. of j. looks serious. What if the weather should become completely discouraged and quit on us? To that maligned stuff, in atonement, we dedicate this little poem:

Please try not to grumble about it—
 The weather—whatever it be,
 'Cause we'd be a lot worse off without it
 At MINUS 273!

Gaucha Gab

By BARNEY JAMESON

Many columns of type have been written about our Gaucha football warriors this season, but some of the hardest working members of the squad have been forgotten. You will not find the names of these men mentioned in the newspapers. The fellows I am referring to are the ones who have reported for practice faithfully every day of the week, but who have not been seen on the field very much on game day. These men are the ones who give the varsity practice against opponents formations, etc. During a game these men sit on the bench and pray for a chance to play. It is not hard to play when you are receiving credit, but it is tough without it. Let us doff our hats to the men behind the scenes who take it without a squawk.

After the Whittier game the varsity squad held an election in their dressing room. At this time Mert Miller was elected honorary captain, and Doug Oldershaw was voted the most valuable player of the 1935 season. Mert, a home grown Santa Barbara product, closed his collegiate football career by turning in his best season out of three years of varsity competition. Mert, who is known as the "little iron man," surely earned a right to his handle by playing close to sixty minutes of every game. Miller refused to be handicapped by his light weight, and although forced to play against heavier opponents he was never removed from a game this season because of an injury.

Doug, one of Bakersfield's popular sons, stood out on the field not only as a great player, but as a leader. Oldershaw gave inspiration to the team which undoubtedly helped it toward its success. Refusing to let an injured shoulder keep him out of the last game. Doug played most of the Whittier contest, although he was hardly able to raise his arm from his side. You will see a lot of this fellow on the gridiron in the next two years, he is tops now, but he is headed even higher.

The intramural basketball teams will play preliminary games before the varsity games in the Flying A studio this winter. As Nick Carter finishes the decathlon intramural track will begin. Tennis, badminton, and horseshoe participants are urged to complete their schedules before the Thanksgiving holidays.

Gaucha Staff Selects 1935 League Team

Scribes Place Three Staters
on Mythical Loop Eleven;
Several Men Repeat

The time is now at hand when the news sheets will be filled with selections for all-American, all-conference and all-what have you teams. Following is the all-southern conference team selected by the Gaucha sport staff.

Center: Hunt, Whittier. Due to his great work against California, Hunt has been picked as one of the outstanding pivot men on the Pacific coast. On defense Hunt backed up the line and took great care in preventing the opposition from going beyond the line of scrimmage. Honorable mention goes to Miller of Santa Barbara. Guards: Butler, San Diego and Rusk, Whittier. Butler was picked on last year's honorary eleven and repeated this season by making it a habit of playing in the opponent's backfield. He, too, is a repeat from last year's all-conference eleven. Lee of Santa Barbara was right in there with the boys.

Oldershaw Picked

Tackles: Oldershaw, Santa Barbara and Dahlitz, Whittier. Oldershaw was a tower of strength in the Gaucha line and his bruising tackles occurred with great regularity. He is a sophomore. Dahlitz, who was plenty tough in the Poet line. Possessed with a pair of large hands, he used them to a good advantage. Honorable mention goes to Gemmel of Occidental.

Ends: Tebbs, Whittier and Nicholson, Redlands. Tebbs was by far the best end in the conference. The other wing position was given to Nicholson by a close vote of 4 to 3 by the Gaucha staff over Voorhies of Santa Barbara. It was decided on Nicholson's better record as a pass receiver.

Quarterback: Hutchinson, Whittier. Known as the "Red Oak Express" Hutch was Whittier's greatest offensive threat. This young man did everything remarkably well. Although a half back he was moved to quarterback to master mind the honorary team. Cosby of Occidental was his closest rival.

State Backs Place

Halfbacks: Yeager, Santa Barbara and Blaisdell, Redlands. Yeager, sensational sophomore speed burner, is the best open field runner in the conference. Blaisdell was the spark plug of the Redlands team and showed up exceptionally well

HOOPSTERS WILL BEGIN PRACTICE IN ARMORY GYM

The State college "hoopsters" will begin basketball practice next Monday, November 25, in the National Guard Armory at 4:00 p.m., under the direction of Coach Hal Davis. Many of last year's lettermen are back in school this year and the prospect for a successful season is already evidenced by the many men who are planning to turn out.

So far the council has not passed the budget submitted by Coach Davis but an excellent schedule has been arranged for the varsity, junior varsity and the freshmen.

All basketball men will have to bring their own shoes, socks, etc., as the school will only be able to furnish uniforms.

The varsity schedule is full, and the first game will be played December 7, while the freshmen have a tentative schedule of eight games. The junior varsity will play downtown in the city open league with about fifteen games rounding out their season.
