Companies schedule December interviews

'DONCOSSACK dancers and chorus will perform Wednesday night at 8 in Campbell Hall.
The Russian-American group is dedicated to the fight against world Communism. Founded originally in Prague, Czechoslovakia, on the vocal and dancing talents of the White Russian emigres, the group has toured six continents, including 65 countries in every hemisphere.

Under the direction of founder Nichol as Kostrukoff, the group has delivered over 7500 concerts throughout the world and 1600 in the United States alone. They have appeared in programs of Russian church music, folk legends and historical epics.

Student tickets are available at $1 in the AS ticket office.

Variety of firms seeks interested graduates

Eleven companies are coming to the UCSB campus during December to interview interested students who will be graduating in June or are now doing grad work.

Students must register with the Placement Center prior to signing up for campus interviews. Appointments for December interviews may be made with Ed Monsson or Marie Prior.

Both Placement interviewers stress the fact that opportunities through means other than the campus interviews are available to students seeking employment. Students noting that the interviewing companies do not emphasize their field of interest are invited to talk to Monsson or Miss Prior.

COMPANIES LISTED

Companies scheduled to be on campus during December are:

DEC. 3 - Pacific Telephone and Telegraph with job locations in Los Angeles, San Francisco, California, and the U.S. is looking for women to work as company representatives handling customer contact including correspondence, billing and merchandising.

DEC. 4 - J. W. Robinson Company of Los Angeles is looking for men and women liberal arts majors for their executive trainee program. Positions are open in merchandising, operating, display, personnel, and advertising.

DEC. 4 - California Packing Corporation, a food canning industry, is looking for men for their business training program in San Francisco, California, and the U.S. Positions are available in accounting, finance and office management.

DEC. 5 - Once again Pacific Telephone and Telegraph will appear on the UCSB campus. This time they are looking for men for their management trainee program in Los Angeles, San Francisco, California, and the U.S. The public utility is offering technical opportunities in data processing and communications.

FOR BANKERS

DEC. 6 - Management trainee programs in general branch banking, trust banking, and international banking are being offered to men students by the Bank of America.

DEC. 6 - Los Angeles County is looking for liberal arts majors interested in social welfare work and probation.

DEC. 9 - Union Carbide Consumer Products is offering management trainee programs in sales to men in Los Angeles and on the West Coast.

DEC. 10 - Men and women lib-

Display begins tomorrow night

An exhibition selection from private collections in southern California entitled, "The Art of Greece" will be displayed in the Art Museum tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m.

The exhibition has been organized by the Art Gallery, David Gebhard, director, with the co-operation of Mario Del Chiaro, associate professor of art.

PHASES ILLUSTRATED

According to Del Chiaro, the collection will illustrate the major phases of Greek art from the Geometric to the Hellenistic periods. The display will consist of portable objects, including a rich sampling of Greek vase-painting, a number of small bronzes, terracottas, and a selection of coins.

At the opening reception tomorrow evening sponsored by the UC Affiliates of Art, refreshments will be served between 7:30 and 9 p.m. A gallery talk by Dr. Del Chiaro will be given at 8 p.m. in conjunction with the opening.

The exhibition will continue through December 17. Gallery hours are Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. and Sundays, 1 - 5 p.m.

Leg Council establishes investigating committee

Legislative Council has established a five-member committee to investigate the possibilities of student evaluation of faculty and courses to further academic effectiveness.

A similar system aiming at "constant improvement" of course material and teaching methods is presently in effect at Berkeley.

Results of semester evaluation sheets are partially made public under the Berkeley plan but are used chiefly to aid the faculty in maintaining the highest possible standard of instruction.

Included on the sheets used at Cal are questions such as, "Does the lecturer stimulate intellectual curiosity?" which concern the instruction and general ratings of teaching assistants.

Course examinations also appear on the evaluation sheets; "Are they fair? too hard? too easy? tricky in an unfair manner? . . ." The evaluations are by secret ballot.

The committee will decide whether a student evaluation system would be desirable on this campus. If an affirmative decision emerges and is presented to Leg Council this week, plans for implementing the system for UCSB will be formulated.

Members of the committee are Al Arkush, Liz Cleaves, Tom Dooley, Bruce Shaw, and Judy Spruell.

Pakistan trip viewed as useful sign up set

Ed. Note - Miss Strohm was a member of UCSB's initial Project Pakistan delegation. The following is a brief account of the group's success in furthering international understanding.

by KAREN STROHM

Seven of us from Santa Barbara entered a culture last summer completely alien to anything we had previously known, via Project Pakistan. On a two month trip to the East and West wings of Pakistan, we spent many hours meeting the proper and learning about their culture.

The narrow streets were always crowded with dark-skinned people watching us as Americans. Cries of "ma'me sabe buy this or buy that" reached our ears as each shopkeeper hoped to fool a foreigner with exorbitant prices. Beggar children pulled at our hands hoping for a tip.

HOSTILITY TO CURIOSITY

The expressions on their faces turned from hostility to curiosity, and finally to warmth and friendliness as we exchanged ideas and impressions.

Initially, there was a wide

UC Regents adopt plans

Adoption of long-range plans for the use of 200 acres acquired for enrollment expansion on the Santa Barbara campus was an important item of discussion at last week's November meeting of the Regents of the University.

The Proposals under consideration provide for innovations in the planning of recreational facilities, higher emphasis on the density of UCSB's academic core, and charted layouts of campus extension.

Dr. Stephen Goodspeed, Vice-Chancellor of Student Affairs, says "physical development is tied to the academic development of the campus." The comprehensive plan provides for a capacity of 15,000 students by the mid-1970's.

General siting of engineering departmental activities (including a cyclotron) and relocation of service facilities such as the Student Health Center and SU were among specifically discussed topics.

Future plans, which will be made available in map form early next semester, tentatively include a two-story parking area in front of Robertson Gym, more dorm space (the campus proper is anticipated to accommodate at least 50 percent of its students), and additional married students' housing.

EDITORIAL

Bicycles and old lace

No one questions the need for bicycles on the Santa Barbara campus. But like tar on the beach and Saturday classes, even the most natural campus phenomenon boasts a certain nuisance value.

Time was when a person worried about automobile accidents on the highway. But in the modern age of precise, efficient, and deadly ten-speed bicycles, injury on the mall on the way to class is the more serious concern.

Despite numerous pleas for sanity from motorists and pedestrians alike UCSB's notorious reputation for bicycle roulette continues to grow.

Let us perceive before we pedal.

Editorial tact called for

Editor's note: EL GAUCHO'S Open Forum column is a means for the expression of our readers' opinions on nearly any topic under the sun. We welcome thoughtful cogent arguments and/or criticism on issues and institutions.

by STEPHEN WHITNEY

If I am correct, the avowed purpose of an editorial is one of instruction and reform. It ideally represents a personal viewpoint based on a sound knowledge of a given situation presented to the public for consideration. It is meant to enlighten, stimulate, and if possible improve those to whom it is directed.

Unfortunately, this is merely the ideal rather than the actual case. The EL GAUCHO is one of those papers which has slipped from the ideal.

The problem is primarily one of style of presentation rather than actual content. The result is that your editorials are for the most part sadly ineffective.

SOUR GRAPES

Writing an editorial is by no means easy. Too often one slips into mere harangue. The temptation is great to squeeze one's sour grapes, to vent one's own personal disappointments and frustrations, to make the editorial a vehicle for defamation and slander.

The difficulty in writing good, effective editorials lies in the precarious balance which must be maintained between objectivity and subjectivity.

An editorial is by definition subjective—it is a personal opinion. Unfortunately, public response to obviously subjective material is never enthusiastic. People are always hesitant to accept another man's opinion unless it already agrees with their own.

Therefore if an editorial is to be effective, if it is to instruct and reform, its inherent subjectivity must of necessity be cloaked in an objective presentation.

NO EMOTION

There can be no harangues, no obvious generalities, no defamation of character. Such outbursts always betray emotion, and emotion is notoriously blind. An intelligent public does not often heed the work of a blind man.

A second objection to the obvious venting of personal grievance is that people to whom it is directed are very unlikely to reform themselves as a result.

People do not like to be told they're wrong. They will simply rebel at the slightest intimation that they are.

FEET HURT

An editorial can effectively cause reform only when it proceeds indirectly against those upon whom it wishes to be effective. One can step on people's toes, but they can't be aware that toes have been stepped on. They must be made to merely feel that their feet hurt.

The basic problem which has faced the EL GAUCHO editorial staff, then, is primarily one of tact. The editorials often have much to say which needs hearing. It is unfortunate that inefficient presentation must negate any effectiveness they might otherwise have had.

An established UCSB sport gains momentum.

Editor's Mail Box

A laughing matter?

Editor:

Last night I had the displeasure of attending one of UCSB's "cultural-intellectual" events, a panel discussion on "Excellence at UCSB".

The four men on the panel sat for an hour in front of the audience excreting the same foul-smelling platitudes and promises which fill the UCSB General Catalogue. They spouted the same pedantic panaceas that have been hurled at me since the barbagey pep talks at Frosh Camp.

One of them had the nerve to assert that students at UCSB should wait for "excellence" to develop; intellectual evolution takes time, he said, and the students will have to wait for it. I know one thing for sure, I did not come here to wait for a bunch of high school phonies to "get cultured".

The panel discussion was surrounded in an aura of hilarity which I couldn't quite understand. The whole controversy over whether or not UCSB is an intellectual hoax was a smiling matter to both panel and audience, a matter over which they might exchange personal anecdotes.

I don't think UCSB is a laughing matter, I think it's a crime concealed in a facade of pseudo-intellectual double-talk.

If UCSB has any "intellectual atmosphere" at all, why then do its students steal bikes, why is a piece of trash like "Spectrum" passed off as a college level literary collection, why is 99 percent of the student body of like racial, religious and economic backgrounds and why are the standards of dress so very important?

These things bother me now but shortly I will forget them, for the smiling faces of those short-haired, virgin-minded, lettuce farmers in the audience last night was so repulsive - as was the attitude of the ivory - flashing pedants on the stage - that I'm getting out of this four year high school as soon as I can.

DAVID GALE

Another problem

Editor:

Haven't we had just about enough of this intellectual famine business? Somebody wears bermudas to Upton Sinclair's lecture and automatically some rabble-rouser named Smith says UCSB is a bunch of dumb clods or something to that effect. Personally, I had the great pleasure of not reading Mr. Smith's editorial...

It seems that no one has stated a clear definition of what an intellect actually is. According to a Webster's dictionary, an intellect has a larger power of perception than average human beings.

There is nothing that says an intellect has to wear a suit or act sophisticated. It might be courteous to dress nicely for a speaker's lecture, but that has little to do with being an intellect.

Hasn't the EL GAUCHO wasted enough space on this issue? I'd like to bring up a new problem. In Ortega dining commons there is a very interesting mural, and I hear it was painted by one of UCSB's teachers to be the story of the Odyssey.

But then I was told that the mural cost about $5,000. Will the Administrators go cheapskate by making six man rooms in San Miguel, and then spend that much money on one picture? I know art is glorious and enjoyable (by the intellectuals), and for modern art, that particular mural is very intriguing.

I do think though, that the residents eating in Ortega don't receive $5,000 worth of pleasure from it. Did the mural really cost that much?

TERRY OLSON

Editor's note: Last Friday's EL GAUCHO carried a story on the Warshaw mural (page 3) answering Mr. Olson's inquiry. It was written by reporter Richard Clemmer.

POTSHOTS

It appears that the art of rain dancing has been honed to a fine edge by bewildered Sue Bogardus, Social Committee Chairman.

All she has to do to saturate the campus is to schedule an outdoor TGIF dance. She might consider pool parties instead?

THIS MESSAGE IS FROM

Representatives here Wednesday

Federal Career Day will be held Wednesday from 9-4 in the patio area between the library and South Hall.

The staff for the day will consist of representatives from various branches of federal employment in the area. Chairmen are Mr. Fred Baker of the Port Hueneme Naval Construction Battalion Center and Mr. Glenn Franklin of the Social Security Administration of Santa Barbara.

Discussions with individual students will stress government employment through the "Federal Service Entrance Examination." They are also designed to be informative sessions to show the students the diverse types of work available through the federal government.

Information will also be available regarding overseas and summer employment under the government and special career offerings in law enforcement and intelligence will be covered.

Talks set disciplines. Jobs are located in Washington, D.C., and overseas.

DEC. 12 - International Business Machines Corporation is looking for men and women economic majors to work in the Southern California area. Jobs involve sales and systems of operator orientated machines.

DEC. 12 - Women willing to accept world-wide mobility are being sought by the American National Red Cross for positions in recreation over seas and field work at military installations.

Students are reminded that the deadline for application for January 18 Federal Service Entrance Exam is Dec. 19. On January 3, the University of Southern California Graduate School of Business will interview students interested in the MBA program.

"Hit and Run" auditions today

Tryouts for Mask and Scroll's "Hit and Run" will be conducted today in Campbell Hall.

Skit performers will be auditioned from 3 to 5 p.m. and all others from 7-10 p.m. Singers should bring own music to the audition.

"Hit and Run," a collection of songs, skits, dances and specialty numbers, will be staged January 10, 11, and 12 in Campbell Hall.

Theodore Hatlen, chairman of the speech and drama department, will direct the performance.

Skits will be centered around a number of styles of production satirizing the works of Shakepeare, Faulkner, Hemingway, Victor Hubert, and the absurdists.

All regular students, regardless of their majors or experience, are invited to audition for "Hit and Run."

Peters to talk on theater

Rolo Peters, famed star of the stage in the '20's and '30's, will reflect on his "Reminiscences of the Theatre" tomorrow in Campbell Hall at 4 p.m.

Peters made his stage debut in 1917 with the original Provincetown Players of New York. Since then he has starred in such stage productions as "The Varying Shore," with Elsie Ferguson; "Romeo," "Pelleas and Antony," "Stolen Fruit", with Ann Harding; and "The Age of Innocence" with Katherine Cornell.

He is now living in Monterey where he presents lecture series and directs a drama festival. He is listed in "Who's Who in the Theatre," "American Theatre" and a number of similar publications.

The actor will discuss acting, directing and designing, as well as the economics of the theatre and the history of theatre buildings from ancient times.

Centers Abroad opening today

Formal openings of the new University of California Education Abroad Centers at the George August University in Goettingen, Germany, and at the University of Padua, Italy are today and Friday.

UC President Clark Kerr and Chancellor Vernon I. Cheadle of the Santa Barbara campus will participate in opening ceremonies at Goettingen today and at Padua Friday.

Other university dignitaries to be on hand include Regents Philip L. Boyd and Donald H. McLaughlin, vice president Harry R. Wellman, Dr. A. Russell Buchanan, vice chancellor of the Santa Barbara campus, and Education Abroad Director, Dr. William H. Allaway.

University delegates will also visit the Bordeaux Center where almost 100 UC students from the Berkeley, Davis, Los Angeles, Riverside and Santa Barbara campuses are studying. This is the second year that the Education Abroad Center in France has been in operation.

Students taking academic work in the foreign study centers were selected by faculty committees on the basis of excellent academic records, language proficiency, and promise of adaptability to a new environment.

Full academic credit is afforded to those successfully completing courses at the foreign universities. Credits are applicable toward the undergraduate degree at the various UC campuses.

SHOULD AULD ACQUAINTANCE AND JAZZ LIKE THAT

I am now an elderly gentleman, full of years and aches, but my thoughts keep ever turning to my undergraduate days. This is called "arrested development."

But I cannot stop the healing tide of nostalgia that washes over me as I recall those golden campus days, those ivy-covered buildings (actually, at my college, there was only ivy: no bricks), those pulse-tingling lectures on John Dryden and Cotton Mather, the many friends I made, the many deans I bit.

I know some of you are already dreading the day when you graduate and lose touch with all your merry classmates. It is my pleasant task today to assure you that it need not be so; all you have to do is join the Alumni Association and every year you will receive a bright, newsy, chatty bulletin, chock-full of tidings about your old buddies.

Oh, what a red-letter day it is at my house, the day the Alumni Bulletin arrives! I cancel all my engagements, take the phone off the hook, dismiss my resident osteopath, put the cheetah outside, and settle down for an evening of pure pleasure with the Bulletin and (need I add?) a good supply of Marlboro Cigarettes.

Whenever I am having fun, a Marlboro makes the fun even more fun. That filter, that flavor, that yielding soft pack, that firm Flip Top box, never fails to heighten my pleasure whether I am playing Double Canfield or watching the radio or knitting an afghan or enjoying any other diverting pursuit you might name—except, of course, spear fishing. But then, how much spear fishing does one do in Clovis, New Mexico, where I live?

But I digress. Let us return to my Alumni Bulletin and the fascinating news about my old friends and classmates. I quote from the current issue:

"Well, fellow alums, it certainly has been a wing-dinger of a year for us old grads! Remember Mildred Cheddar and Harry Camembert, those crazy kids who always held hands in Econ II? Well, they're married now and living in Clovis, New Mexico, where Harry rents spear-fishing equipment, and Mildred has just given birth to a lovely 28-pound daughter, her second in four months. Nice going, Mildred and Harry!

"Remember Jethro Brie, the man we voted most likely to succeed? Well, old Jethro is still gathering laurels! Last week he was voted 'Motorman of the Year' by his fellow workers in the Duluth streetcar system. 'I owe it all to my brakeman,' said Jethro in a characteristically modest acceptance speech. Same old Jethro!

"Probably the most glamorous time had by any of us old alums was had by Francis Macomber last year. He went on a big game hunting safari all the way to Africa! We received many interesting post cards from Francis until he was, alas, accidentally shot and killed by his wife and white hunter. Tough luck, Francis!

"Wilametta 'Deadeye' Macomber, widow of the late beloved Francis Macomber, was married yesterday to Fred 'Sureshot' Sigafos, white hunter, in a simple double-ring ceremony in Nairobi. Many happy returns, Wilametta and Fred!

"Well, alums, that just about wraps it up for this year. Buy bonds!"

© 1963 Max Shulman

Old grads, new grads, undergrads, and non-grads all agree: that good Richmond tobacco recipe, that clean Selectrate filter, have turned all fifty states of the Union into Marlboro Country. Won't you join the throng?

Survey shows grads are continuing studies

Each year the Student and Alumni Placement Center sends a follow-up form to students receiving a degree to determine their plans for the future.

Returns from 75 percent of the 1963 graduating class show that one out of four students is continuing study on the graduate level.

Of the 575 B.A. recipients, 25 percent went directly into the teaching field. Business and industry took 13 percent and the military service called in 7 percent.

In June, 1963, UCSB conferred its first two doctoral degrees. Mrs. Georgiana Manick received one of the degrees and is now teaching history at Santa Barbara City College, Adult Division. The other degree was received by Marvin Zahniser, who is now teaching history at the University of Washington.

Of 21 M.A. recipients, 14 are teaching this year and seven are continuing toward the doctoral degree. Five of those working for their doctorates are in the second stage. Two are working in history, one in math, and two in political science. Larry Miller, a biological science major, and Donald Colton, a history major, have filed for candidacy.

US seen as one big city

(Continued from page 1) gulf between the members of Project Pakistan and the Pakistani people whom we met. We spent our summer attempting to bridge the gulf that confronted us. We made a determined effort to accept and understand their culture and to honestly answer their questions about American society.

We adjusted to the extremely hot and spicy dishes of curry, learned to appreciate Eastern music and dance, and took an interest in the distressing problems that face the students and their country today.

But most of all we let the Pakistan students know that we, as American students, were concerned about them.

At first the students with whom we spoke confronted us with openly antagonistic questions about the United States arms aid to India, and the problems of integration.

As we answered these questions, student queries turned to others concerning education, culture, social customs, dating marriage, etc. We were overwhelmed by their misconceptions.

One young student informed me that the United States was one big city from New York to California, and many others completely accepted old Elvis movies as valid commentaries on American life.

We tried to answer their questions and create new impressions of American life. In some cases we succeeded, in others we did not, but we took the first step in what we hope will become a long range project which makes a lasting contribution to mutual understanding.

TO BRIDGE THE GULF

We were sent to Pakistan under the co-sponsorship of the University Religious Conference and the United States Department of State to represent the American university student, in order that the gulf of understanding between us and the Pakistanis might be bridged.

Next year these same groups hope to sponsor a new team to supplement and to support the work begun last summer. The team of students will be chosen on their ability to work together, and the individual characteristics needed to make a representative group of American college students.

Applications can be obtained in the El Gaucho office or at the University Religious Conference on El Greco Road between Nov. 18 and 27.

MEETINGS

History Club

The History Club is holding an organizational meeting tonight at 8 p.m. in the Santa Rosa Formal Lounge.

All students are invited to attend the meeting, according to Dr. H.A. Barton, sponsor.

Kappa Delta Pi

Kappa Delta Pi will hold a meeting tomorrow evening at 8 p.m. in the Santa Cruz Lounge.

According to President Julie Jensen, the agenda will feature a guest speaker.

Students are reminded that membership fees for the educational honorary are due.

Refreshments will be served.

British speaker

"Britain in Turmoil" is the topic of discussion in the Santa Rosa Formal Lounge this afternoon at 4.

Basil Bleck, of the British Consulate General in L.A., will be the featured speaker at the meet sponsored by the International Relations Club.

Areas to be covered include the future of the common market, NATO, security problems and the British position on Malaysia.

American and foreign students who could help with the International Dinner December 8 should contact Ann Grogan, 82748, or sign up in the AS office posthaste.

Numismatists

Students with numismatic tendencies should plan to attend the second meeting of the Campus Coin Club, 5654 Armitos, tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m.

Pearce Larson, advisor for the interest group, says the Coin Club will elect officers and draw up an application for AS charter.

Model UN

Model United Nations buffs should plan to attend the meeting in the Huddle Thursday at 4 p.m.

The structure of the United Nations will be discussed, and plans will be made for the Model United Nations session in Washington next April.

Student wives

A coffee and dessert meeting of a new student wives group is slated for 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Isla Vista School Auditorium.

Similar to the "Dames Group" on other campuses, plan to conduct style shows, pot luck suppers, a furniture and book exchange, bridge playing, and a baby-sitting co-op.

WHAT STUDENTS SHOULD KNOW ABOUT LOVE

Warenskjold impressive in symphony appearance

by DENIS DUTTON
Staff Reviewer

Soprano Dorothy Warenskjold's lovely voice highlighted this season's second concert of the Santa Barbara Symphony Orchestra. The concert, held in the Granada Theatre Thursday night was conducted by UCSB's Dr. Erno Daniel.

STRENGTH AND CLARITY

Miss Warenskjold's vocal art was characterized by an uncommon strength and clarity. Always dead on pitch, her rendition of three Puccini arias was authoritative but never excessive.

In "Un bel Di" from "Madame Butterfly", Miss Warenskjold's interpretation was notable for its wonderfully smooth dynamic variation. In "Vissi d'arte" from "Tosca" and "Quando men vo" from "La Boheme" she showed herself to be an artist of the very first rank. Her phrasing and enunciation were well-nigh perfect.

So pleased was the audience with her distinguished musicianship that the "Boheme" aria had to be repeated.

The orchestra too, seemed to be in the best of form. If Gustav Mahler's Fourth Symphony, which opened the program, was something less than thrilling the blame lies with the composer, not with the performers.

Mahler today enjoys an almost universal popularity and yet this listener cannot help feeling that he is often ponderous and banal, always long-winded and wearisome.

SYMPATHETIC APPROACH

Still, the Fourth Symphony has some beautiful moments and Dr. Daniel's obviously sympathetic approach helped to make the experience less tedious than it might have been. Miss Warenskjold provided a fine solo assist in the last movement.

Perhaps the orchestra's playing at this season's first concert lacked vitality, but that shortcoming was entirely made up for at Thursday's performance.

From the beginning of Gounod's "Faust" ballet music right up to the whirlwind finale, the technical proficiency of the orchestra was outstanding.

The overture to Weber's "Der Freischutz" which closed the program, was equally as good, though it was a bit anticlimactic when compared with the arias that immediately preceded it.

Best marks bettered by Gaucho harriers

by MIKE IVERSEN

For the first time in Gaucho history the cross country team placed five men under ten minutes in the two mile run.

The race was held on Wednesday and the results show: Jack Roach-9:42, Jim Allen-9:42.8, Steve Haynes-9:59.3, Bob Russell- 9:55.8, and Rollie Cavalletto-9:59.5.

Roach's time tied the two mile record set in 1959 by Jim Carroll. Allen's time set a new unofficial frosh record. The previous best frosh time was 9:53.6 set by Jon Brower last year.

RACE CANCELLED

A handicap race scheduled for Friday was called off due to rain. In this race Roach would run with no handicap, while the first runner would start out four minutes and six seconds ahead of him.

"Next week will be one of hard workouts," said coach Sam Adams. "We will ease off the Monday and Tuesday before the meet."

Today the team will hold a four mile run which will give the men a chance to run the same distance allotted for the NCAA regional meet according to Adams.

"We hope to build up our self-confidence," Adams said. "Our runners tend to slack off too soon towards the end of the race," he added.

Basketball drills advancing rapidly

"We are farther along in drills this year than at the same time last year," commented head basketball coach Art Gallon.

"Part of this is due to the fact that we have seven returning letterman," he added. "They know our style, and we have been able to pick up where we left off last year."

Players who have shown real potential are: John Conroy, who should see a lot of action at forward; Tommy Lee, all-league guard last year; Hal Murdoch, top scorer and guard last year; John Petersen, stellar guard from the freshman team, and Bob Yahne, expected to form one of top substitute teams with Petersen.

"We have the potential to be a very good team", Gallon added.

"The attitude of the men has been excellent and has helped us to move so quickly in our drills," he observed.

"We employ a tough defense and a ball control offense in our style of play because we feel that it best suits the men we have to work with," Gallon added.

Continuing, the head coach opined, "If the players use their intelligence we will be able to progress fast and play to the best of our ability."

"On November 26 we will introduce our players on the varsity and freshman teams in the 'Hall of Fame Game'."

NO MORE OF THIS -- Gaucho footballers no longer have to face scenes like the above.

The team completed its season last Saturday with a 14-12 loss to Cal Poly at San Luis Obispo. It finished with a 4-5 record in one of the most successful and promising seasons for a Gaucho football squad in years. Basketball now takes the spotlight in UCSB sports. Coach Art Gallon's team has their first game at UCSB on Nov. 30.

Gaucho tankmen sink Cerritos JC 8-7

The UCSB's water polo team took an overtime decision from the Cerritos Junior College water polo team, 8-7, Saturday on campus.

The regulation game ended with the score at 6-6.

Don Roth scored two goals in the overtime period while Dave Kelley scored Cerrito's overtime goal.

Dave Beveridge scored the only second quarter goal and Cerritos led at halftime, 2-1.

At this point, no one had fouled out of a game in which five Gauchos left via the foul route and one was ejected on a major infraction.

Cerritos had eight of its men leave due to fouls. UCSB had 37 fouls called against it, while Cerritos incurred 41.

UCSB stormed back in the third period with three goals as Schiesel, Will Winn, and Jeff Saley each scored. Cerritos added two as Wayne Fairbanks made two of his three goals.

With the score 4-4 Roth and Mike Goodwin scored for UCSB and Fairbanks and Dave Rossi scored for Cerritos to make it 6-6.

Cerritos was rated a slight favorite going into the game and constantly pressed the Gauchos who were however, equal to the task and ended their season with five wins and six losses.

It was the final game of the year. UCSB cheers for John Banker, Schiesel, and Winn.

It was the final game of their UCSB careers for John Banker, Schiesel, and Winn.

Goalie Banker has played on Gaucho water polo teams for four years, and this year was named to the All-Cal all-star team.

Schiesel has been captain of the team for the past three years. He was leading scorer last year

Hex persists--Poly defeats bedeviled UCSB 14-12

by WAYNE REESE
Sports Writer

An inspired Cal Poly football team and the number 13 proved too much for a completely jinxed UCSB eleven as the Gauchos lost a 14-12 decision to the Mustangs at San Luis Obispo last Saturday. Going into the game, UCSB had not beaten Cal Poly in 12 years, and Cal Poly was determined to make it 13 before a spirited homecoming crowd.

The contest was an important one for both ball clubs. UCSB having one of its best seasons in many years, under the reins of first-year coach Jack Curtice hoped to add another victory to its 4-4 record and come out with a winning season.

Cal Poly on the other hand, went into the game with only one win in eight outings and needed a victory over its traditional rival to salvage something from an otherwise disastrous season.

The fired up Mustangs forced UCSB into mistake after mistake, while making relatively few of their own. UCSB fumbled several times and Cal Poly turned one into the first TD of the game.

Other fumbles, intercepted passes, and short punts stymied the Gauchos on a number of potential scoring drives.

The first score of the game came when UCSB fullback Al

Reynolds fumbled on the nine yard line and Cal Poly recovered. After one play, a pass interference call on the Gauchos gave the Mustangs a first-and goal at the five.

Fullback Jack Clark scored when he recovered his own fumble in the end zone. Bill Crow kicked the PAT for Cal Poly and the score was 7-0.

In the second quarter, UCSB finally got on the scoreboard after Doug Bowman set up the TD on a 52-yard punt return that ended on the Cal Poly 17. Soon after the Gauchos scored on a razzle-dazzle pass play.

Robert Heys lateraled to end Max Hand, who in turn threw a pass to Larry Scott in the end zone.

Chris Dawson tried to go for two points after the TD but was stopped short of the goal and the score stood at 7-6 in favor of Cal Poly.

On the following kickoff, Mustang halfback Gary Walker added what was to be the winning margin when he returned for 90 yards and a Cal Poly touchdown. Again Crow made the extra point and increased the lead to 14-6.

Neither team was able to score again in the first half and Cal Poly went into halftime with the 14-6 lead.

The halftime statistics, despite Cal Poly point domination of the first half, showed both teams to be almost even, with the single UCSB fumble as the dominating factor.

If UCSB fans were hoping for a second half revival, they were disappointed. UCSB made more mistakes in the second half than in the first. The only difference was that Cal Poly failed to capitalize on the errors. UCSB lost two fumbles and had two passes intercepted at key times to stop potential scoring drives.

The only TD of the second half came in the third period when QB Robert Heys connected with and Tony Goehring on a 38 yard scoring pass.

Once more UCSB made a try for two points to tie the game, but again the attempt failed. The game ended with no further scoring at 14-12 in favor of Cal Poly.

Gorrie praises Frosh coaching, players

"We have accomplished our freshmen football objectives", said frosh football coach Dave Gorrie.

Objectives are: to indoctrinate frosh football players with the Gaucho football style, find out the abilities of frosh football players, and get the frosh players off to a good start in university life.

COACHING PRAISED

"Thanks to the coaching of Brent Carder, Bob Cook, and Dan Epsom I think we have contributed greatly to these players' football experience," Gorrie added.

"Rather than single out players, I think we should let the statistics speak", said Gorrie.

Statistics show that Jim Habib led the rushers in total yardage with 223 yards. Art Mori had the highest average with 185 yards in 39 carries for a 4.7 average.

Bob Fischer led the passing yardage and average statistics. He had 17 completions in 29 attempts for 171 yards and a .586 average. Joe Jahn passed for 164 yards, and Phil Olwin passed for 146 in the last two games.

INTERCEPTIONS

The Gauchos intercepted nine enemy passes while opponents picked off seven Gaucho aerials.

Habib led the total offense statistics with 223 yards. Jan was second with 210 yards, while Fischer was third with 199. Jan had the best average as he passed and ran 50 times at 4.2 yards a try.

Fischer led the punting with 19 for 624 yards and a 32.8 average. He kicked a 67 yard punt in the Cal Poly game. Tom Turner also punted four times for 133 yards and a 33.3 average.

Lee Rice led the receivers with 11 catches for 167 yards and one touchdown. Ric Aboud was second with four for 74 yards and Chuck Holdren placed third with four for 52 yards. Aboud also scored the other Gaucho aerial touchdown.

TOP THREE

Mori led the scoring with five touchdowns for 30 points. Jim Habib was second with three touchdowns for 18 points. Mark Scholl booted all ten of his points after touchdown tries for ten points, for a perfect record.

UCSB scored 84 points to their opponents' 43. They gained 1196 yards to the opposition's 812. Nine of 15 fumbles were lost and penalties amounted to 65.2 yards per game.

In establishing the team's, linemen were a key asset and "they should help make for a successful spring practice," according to Gorrie.

"This will be our most successful year in terms of men sent on to try for varsity positions," Gorrie concluded.
