Cojo's Market

DJAMEL E. RAMOUL/Daily Nexus

Whether snacking it or stocking up, Cojo's is where you want to go!

It seems that nowadays, everybody wants to get things done fast. They drive at high speeds through I.V. streets to get home in time to watch Friends. They prepare microwavable Ramen to save precious stove-top cooking time. They take 31 units each quarter to graduate in four years or less.

If you are one of these people, then there's often no time to go to a dozen places every afternoon to fulfill those daily needs — you know, breakfast pastries, laundry detergent, beer, deli sandwiches, film, wine, frozen foods, fresh produce, hard liquor — all the essentials.

Fortunately, there's a place right here in I.V. that can provide every hard-working student with everything they need, and the price is right for everyone! Where is this mecca of daily sustenance, you ask? Cojo's Market!

Now, it may seem at first glance that Cojo's is no different from any other area market, but oh ho ho, that just ain't so! The variety of Cojo's wares go unparalleled when you look at just how many services and selections it offers.

At Cojo's you can head out in the ungodly morning hours (like, say, 8:53) and get a variety of breakfast foods made fresh daily, like croissant egg sandwiches, breakfast burritos, muffins, donuts and other fine baked goods — while simultaneously stocking up on toothpaste, oregano and garbage bags! What convenience!

Where else can you get your lunch craving satisfied with a great made-to-order deli sandwich with free macaroni or garden salad on the side and a wider beer and soda selection than any restaurant — all the while getting new shoelaces, filling your pantry with canned food and purchasing some gum from the large candy aisle to freshen your breath after ordering extra onions?

And when it gets to be about dinner time, Cojo's comes through again, providing a variety of hot foods like barbecued chicken, fajita burritos, chili and corn dogs for your quick dining pleasure — while offering a supply of pencils, flowers for that significant other, or a small flask of rotgut to take with you downtown on Bill's Bus, which coincidentally takes off on weekends from right outside the store!

So when you're in a rush, and you've got to feed your belly while shopping for your daily needs, make sure to go by Cojo's Market. But watch out — you may like it so much you'll spend hours there!

Cojo's Market is located at 915 Embarcadero Del Mar in Isla Vista. Call 968-1316 for more information.

Maikai Cafe

Isla Vista Eatery or Exotic Paradise Resort? You Decide!

DJAMEL E. RAMOUL/Daily Nexus

The common problem with Isla Vista dining is that it doesn't provide much by way of escape. Going to a restaurant, in many respects, should be like hopping on a magic flight to a faraway land, where the food is delectable and the servants bend over backward to please.

But oftentimes, eating out in I.V. is not unlike pulling over at a dusty roadhouse 38 miles outside of Laughlin, where the food is virtually flung at you as you are rushed over to the mundane tables and K-Mart poster ambiance. Where can we head for refuge?

Look no further. Isla Vista has a fine establishment with the atmosphere of the tropics and the food of the Tiki Gods. Where can you find this irresistible combination? At the Maikai Cafe!

Walking inside Maikai Cafe is not unlike stepping onto the soft sands of a Tahitian luau, without the hassles of a 12-hour flight and jet lag. A beautifully crafted mural of seaside pleasantries combined with fanning palm trees and tropical flora create an ambiance that instantly perks up the spirits and brings the thought "vacation" to mind. Bring your tanning lotion!

But what really sets Maikai apart from the usual I.V. fare is the great selection of tasty delights. Feel like a sandwich? Maikai's got 'em. Hankering for a burrito? Maikai wraps 'em fresh. In the mood for some stir fry? Maikai sizzles it like no other. Just jonesin' for a burger? Maikai flips 'em masterfully. This is but a mere sampling of their fine

For a quick lighter meal, Maikai aims to accommodate your busy lifestyle with garden-fresh salads and soups, along with an expansive menu of side dishes sure to get your taste buds jumping. Dine in, take out, or lounge for hours in the sunshine-filled comfort of Maikai's outdoor patio area, where you can people-watch on the prime corner of Embarcadero Del Norte and Pardall.

And of course, Maikai offers a great variety of refreshing soft drinks to wash down your scrumptious meal. There are few things I can think of more pleasant than reclining on the Maikai patio with a generous helping of garlic bread, enjoying the night air while satisfying your hunger. Can't you feel the warm spray of the Pacific Ocean cascading across your face?

So make a stop by Maikai Cafe the next time life is a little monotonous and you feel like a relaxing getaway. Don't forget your Bermuda shorts!

Maikai Cafe is located at 888 Embarcadero Del Norte in Isla Vista. Call 562-8484 for more information.
