ON TO VICTORY - AT BERKLEY

All-Cal Festivities Start Today At Northern Campus

With students from Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, and Davis campuses visiting the host Berkeley campus, the first annual all-university weekend starts today. This event, sponsored by the Cal Clubs of the campuses, is to attempt to bring a unity throughout the university.

Today at 11 o'clock, President Sproul will open the event with a welcome to the visiting members of the university family, and student body presidents from five of the eight campuses will speak. Tours of the Berkeley campus will follow in the afternoon.

Tonight, pajama clad students will meet at the Greek Theater to generate pre-game spirit. Yell leaders, bands, coaches, and team captains from four campuses, a jazz combo, and a special finale will make up the program. After the rally, dormitories and sororities will hold open house.

Memorial stadium will be the scene of gridiron action starting at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. Santa Barbara Gauchos are favored to whip an Aggie eleven from Davis, while the high riding Golden Bears of Berkeley are favored over the Bruins of UCLA in the afternoon Pacific Coast Conference game.

Concluding the event, an all-university dance will be held from nine to one in the men's gymnasium. The orchestras of Ray Hackett and Lenny Repposa will alternately furnish the music.

Many loyal Gaucho fans and alumni are expected to start the trek northward today by car, train, airplane, and bus. Buses and trains were arranged for by the Cal Club of this campus and will leave this morning. A charge of $1 is being made to take the place of the regular high cost ticket seats which will be taken by students for this special day. A capacity crowd of around 82,000 is expected with rooting sections of Cal and Santa Barbara sitting opposite those of UCLA and Davis.

SADIE HAWKINS DANCE SLATED

Pick out your man, gals, the big day is approaching! Now is the time to get that handsome lout because the Delta Sigma Phi's all-college Sadie Hawkins' Day is coming next Friday.

The annual Dogpatch celebration will commence at noon with the "no holds barred" race in the quad with girls from every campus organization chasing after the men of their choice. The unlucky men who are captured will have the de luxe, two-dollar wedding, Dogpatch style, performed for them by "Marryin' Sam" Cal Thacker. The whole proceedings will be broadcast by radio KIST.

In the evening the celebration will continue at the Carrillo Auditorium where the "Rocky Mountain" Stardusters will furnish the music for dancing. "Injun Pete" and "Hairless Joe" will have a vat of their famous "Kickapoo Joy Juice" on hand for the refreshments. There will be an on the spot broadcast from the floor by KIST.

Tickets for this all-college costume dance will go on sale this week. Contact members of the Delta Sigma Phi for them or buy them at the booth which will be in the quad.

Corrected Film List

The following films have been booked for the astronomy class, Math 15. All will be shown at 2 p.m. in Pine Hall.

"Earth in Motion," Fri., Nov. 12; "The Solar Family," Mon, Nov. 22; "The Moon," Wed., Dec. 15; "Exploring the Universe," Mon., Jan. 10, 1949.

Activities Control Board Submits Latest List of All 'On Campus' Organizations

Organizations which have been declared active on campus according to latest word from the Activities Control Board include the following:

Student government organizations: ACB, Finance Committee, Music Control Board, Publicity Committee, Rally Committee, Social Committee, a Women's Athletic Association, Associated Women Students, Associated Men Students.

Class organizations: Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, Senior. Department organizations: Early Childhood Education, Le Cercle Galois, CRA Ski Club, Psychology Club, Physics Club.

Social fraternities: Inter Fraternity Council, Beta Sigma Tau, Gamma Sigma Pi, Sigma Alpha Kappa, Sigma Pi, Tau Epsilon Phi, Stray Greeks, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Social sororities: Panhellenic Council, Alpha Theta Chi, Delta

National honorary organizations: Alpha Mu Gamma, Alpha Phi Gamma, Kappa Delta Pi, Chi Alpha Delta, Phi Beta, Pi Sigma.

Honorary service organizations: Alpha Phi Omega, Key and Scroll, Letterman Club, Spurs, Squires.

Phrateres: SFS, Gnomes, Las Meninas, Nani Leilani, Pu Ko How.

All these organizations and only these orgs have available the facilities of the Student Body and the University. Any group not listed here which feels that it has sufficient reason for reinstatement is instructed to submit an application for such reinstatement to "Mike" Melvin, chairman of the Activities Control Board immediately.

Unique Occasion Celebrated in All-Cal Weekend: Sproul

The following is a statement issued by President Robert G. Sproul concerning the all-university weekend, Nov. 6.

"The occasion we are celebrating this weekend is unique. Never before in the history of American universities, so far as I know, have our divisions of a single institution met in keen but friendly competition on the football field. And never before have such large groups of students from the many campuses of the University of California joined together in a family reunion. This reunion, if enjoyed in the right spirit, can give strength and meaning to the ideal of One University, for it is by personal meetings and the sharing of common experiences that understanding is achieved and friendships are formed.

Chenoweth Cites Teacher Shortage

The shortage of teachers in California is still a critical problem. Not only are teacher-training institutions in this state receiving more requests than they can handle from local schools, but they have even received pleas for 200 teachers in Hawaii.

Chenoweth supplemented an 8-month report to Acting Provost J. Harold Williams with observations on the proceedings at a recent conference in Long Beach of teacher placement directors from all parts of the state.

In his report, Chenoweth listed 1,044 calls for teachers during the period from Jan. 1 to Sept. 30 of this year, against only 161 placements.

This parallels a situation at the state reflected in the fact that although there are now 52,000 teachers registered through the State Department of Education, 10,000 emergency credentials have been issued.

Poor pay and the rapidly increasing school population are two of the factors which contribute to the present shortage, Chenoweth stated, although the crisis has been going in the making and must be stemmed on a combination of circumstances rather than on any one.

"I welcome all true Californians to the first annual All-University weekend and hope that each one will enjoy a wholesome good time, will make many friends among students from the other campuses, and above all will practice the generous sportsmanship one shows when competing with members of his own family. The real victory to be won this weekend will not be counted in points on the scoreboard. It will be measured in increased respect, admiration, and devotion to the great University of California.

Robert G. Sproul

Clark at Conference

Dr. Jerry H. Clark, registrar, leaves this Sunday to attend the annual convention of the Pacific Coast Association of Collegiate Registrars. The conference is to be held in Riverside, Nov. 7-10, with a number of meetings held at the Mission Inn.

RULES SET FOR EXTRA-BUDGET FUND REQUESTS

Any group conducting an activity authorized by the Associated Students, and requiring either additional funds beyond those provided in the annual budget, or a new allocation of funds within the budget, is earnestly requested to comply with the following procedure which is specified in the Constitution of the Associated Students.

1st. Submit the request to the Finance Committee, in writing. The proposal should contain a detailed itemization of the manner in which the additional funds or new allocation would be spent if granted, and should also contain a statement of all circumstances and facts which would appear to justify the request. Please include a duplicate copy which Finance Committee can give to Pre-Audit Committee as detailed below. The written request can reach the Finance Committee either by leaving it in the office of the Registrar or by mail.

Psych Test Set
All new students (freshmen and transfers) who did not take the psychology examination administered on the 13th and 14th of September, 1948, are required to be in the Auditorium Saturday, November 13th. Testing will begin at nine. All students who have incomplete tests should also appear at that time.

Jerry H. Clark, Registrar

Loaded with fight and form driven by the will to win, the Gaucho gridsters are taking off for Berkeley to meet the Cal Aggies tomorrow in the grid stadium at the northern campus. Displaying their old fight in the grid montage above, the local hilltoppers are out to end their three-game losing streak by tromping all over the Aggie eleven. ### Faulkner to Serve On Panel at Music Meet Maurice E. Faulkner, associate professor of music at the University of California, Santa Barbara College, will serve on a special "adjudication" panel at a meeting of the California School Band and Orchestra Association in Los Angeles Saturday, Nov. 6.

The various aspects of judging will be discussed by panel members. Mr. Faulkner will deal with the problems of judging brass instruments in solo, ensemble, band and orchestra.

Other participants in the program will be Fred Ohlendorf, Long Beach; Ralph Rush, University of Southern California; Alex Zimmerman, San Diego.

Mr. Faulkner is a member of the board of directors of the association.

Senior Fete Success

"With some 175 students in attendance," Don Melone, senior class prexy, revealed to a Gaucho reporter, "the senior class Hayride and Barn Dance was a roaring success."

The group left the campus on hay-laden trucks last Saturday night and rode out to Le Vay's barn in Goleta for the event. The dance lasted till 12:30, when the group left for town again.

Sigma Phi Epsilon Open House

Monday, Nov. 1, occasioned an open house for all Greek letter sororities. The Santa Barbara chapter of the Sigma Phi Epsilon took this opportunity to open their new house at 700 West Canon Perdidio to over 300 guests. Refreshments were served and bridge, dancing, volleyball and ping-pong provided entertainment.

Delta Sigma Epsilon

Delta Sigma Epsilon held its Halloween party last Friday night at the sorority house. Refreshments were candied apples, cider, sandwiches and cupcakes. Decorations consisted of crepe paper, pumpkins, cats and cobwebs. Social and folk dancing along with various games were the entertainment. At the meeting Monday night the sorority discussed the plans for a joint meeting to be held with the Sig Tau's Nov. 8.

Delta Sigma Phi

Twenty-eight new men were welcomed into pledgeship by the members of the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity Sunday evening with the formal pledge ceremony followed by a banquet at Kerry's.

Kappa Sigma

Site and general chairman of the "Man of the Year" award dinner to be held Friday, December 10, by Kappa Sigma, national social fraternity, were announced today by National President Harold P. Huls, who formerly was city attorney for Pasadena and now is a member of the Public Utilities Commission for the State of California.

Beta Sigma Tau

Sigma Pi

Last Saturday members of Sigma Pi had a Halloween party at the chapter house. It was a costume affair which provided quite a variety of "guess who's."

Hilltop Happenings

by GLORIA DEALEY

Time for the big All Campus Weekend and most Hilltoppers have put themselves into the mood for it by filling the past few days with fun and excitement.

Dr. Knock had several well attended sessions. We saw Susie Hamilton there, looking mighty pretty on the arm of Bill Procter. Nobody could miss Pat Palumbo, who was feeling fine and wanted the whole audience to know it.

The French Club held a most unbusiness-like meeting, in which Johnnot Rody quizzed away the cobwebby box of chocolates which was club mascot last year. Lucky winner, Sam-Pierce Pinkerton, greedily refused pieces to Ynez Foxen, Helen Heitfeld, Ugo Pezzi, Janis Wilson and George Dorsey. Confided later that it was meant for humor magazine editor, Phyl Pittroff.

Just got news that Alpha Theta alumnus Carol Watell is joining forces with Frank Nau on the twentieth. Congratulations to them both!

Kerry's is so crowded lately that it discourages all but the most hardy malt seekers. In this category fall Delta Zete Ardis Adler and Kewpie Guess, Pat Livingston-Jerry Larson, Maggie and Paul Landry, who made it the other night when people were turning away in droves.

Can't help but wonder if all the Cal bound jalopies, busses and trains will make it up there, but 'twould be a far better fate to break down half way than to shed those big salty tears here at home.

The College Recreation Association is a rapidly growing organization on the Santa Barbara campus that offers the student an opportunity for a good time and a chance to make new friends. The CRA project is not comprised of one large group but divided into various recreational interest groups with a program designed to please everybody.

The CRA was started in the spring of 1946 and is a new trend in college recreation. Any group on campus that is interested in some activity and would like to organize into a club is welcome to come under the sponsorship of CRA.

Some of the future activities that are being planned for are an outing club which will go on hikes, boating trips and horseback rides, golf club, bowling, and riding. Also on the agenda are plans for noon activities including volleyball and table tennis.

There is a Co-Rec night sponsored by CRA which is held at the YMCA and all their facilities are available to the students. Activities are co-recreational and married vets and their wives are cordially invited.

Recently elected officers of the club are Dorothy Runde, president; Fletcher Aleong, vice president; Dick Roth, secretary; Bonnie Jo Sly, publicity Francis Guess, treasurer; Larry Howell, Ski Club; Helen Weis, tennis; Marilyn Cooper, badminton; Nancy Chmilowski, dance, and Elizabeth James, WAA.

With election over thoughts once again turn to the All-University weekend to be held at Berkeley this Saturday and Sunday.

The weekend promises a varied program to include two football games, parties, dances, rallies, breakfasts, ad inifinitum.

Especial credit for Santa Barbara's representation at Berkeley will have to go to Junemarie Davidson, who went to much trouble to secure transportation, living accommodations, and a warm welcome for Gauchos visiting the northern campus.

The band will also attend in an effort to out-play and out-manuever the larger organizations of the other campuses.

The All-University weekend is destined to become a tradition of the University of California and plans have been made to hold it at Los Angeles next year.

When I read Doctor Knock it did not impress me as a worthwhile play to produce but the presentation of this play last Friday and Saturday in our auditorium found the audience and me laughing continuously at the ridiculous power exercised by Doctor Knock, played by Gerald Larson.

Due to the many ingenious devices employed in the first act, attention was drawn away from the actors. The movement of the scenery across the stage to give the illusion of motion was interesting but detracted from the dialogue.

The antics of Jean, the chauffeur, with his wrenches and his other tools were also distracting. Despite the fact Jean had but a few words to say, he took the first act home with him in his tool box.

By act II the players got the tempo of the comedy.

Gerry Larson, as Doctor Knock, made a very bombastic, entertaining doctor after he achieved the timing he was seeking.

Mark Borgatta deserved and received a hand for the fine characterization he gave of the Town Crier. He presented an interesting and amusing personality to which the audience responded immediately.

The interpretations given by Nancy Wensly as Madame Pons and Tom Keen as Bernard, the school master, were given their share of approval by the applause they received from the audience.

The scenery for the second and third-acts enhanced the atmosphere of the play and the designer, George Stone, and the executors may assure they contributed a vital art to this production.

Before the curtain rose and during the first act, the audience was entertained by an inebriated psychology major whose activities even broke down the reserve of an elderly spectator seated near him.

(He winked at her.) However, he was lost to the audience when he became confused during the long lapse of time between the first and second acts. Thinking it was the intermission he wandered out never to return. This I consider his misfortune as he missed a very enjoyable play.

report from europe

(Ed. note: The letter below was written to one of the editors by Tom Padden, an SBC student who has taken a year's leave of absence to attend the University of Zurich in Switzerland. Sections of it are herein printed because of the importance it holds to those interested in the present situation in Europe.)

Zurich, October 27

I have traveled much since I came to Europe, and I have found that bad as our position looked from America, it is in reality much worse when viewed from Europe. Therefore, you must expect some reporting which will not make pleasant reading. In fact some of it will be rather shocking, I am afraid. There are bright spots, of course, but they are greatly overshadowed by the more ominous areas of rather black hopelessness up to the present time.

In general, our plans for Europe are becoming more realistic; it is now a question of how much time we have to apply them. Morally, we have practically no good position left in Europe, except that we are anti-Communist—if that can be called a moral position. In Germany we are faced with the unhappy results of a policy which never should have been; only those who believe that — come what may — Germany must be kept on the ground are satisfied. However, most of Europe does not ascribe to that belief, for it sees nothing but the will of Russia between national independence and Soviet hegemony.

Of all the peoples of the West, only the Americans go on in blissful ignorance of the seething forces boil under the surface, and it is American policy which preserves that surface.

Europe has two principal forces which hold its action in check: dependency on America and fear of Russia.

I have a very definite 11th hour feeling about the whole business which is a feeling common to all people in Europe. If the Americans have a great amount of time to ponder over whether they shall or shall not decide to begin considering the advisability of starting to prefer the initiative of an embryonic commencement of gradual approach to a projected desire of inspiring—not a sudden—but an ultimate broaching of the ques-

"The Pearl," a lesser known work by John Steinbeck, filmed by a Mexican company and recently shown to American audiences, is another example of the quality of foreign movies.

It's only recently that the foreign productions have in any way challenged the supremacy of the one and only Hollywood. With that notorious capital still grinding them out a dime a dozen over a common pattern, it is a refreshing change to witness the naturalness and intelligent simplicity evident in non-Hollywood pictures. The photography is excellent.

The scenes of the wild Mexican landscape, the beauty and rhythm of the folk dances, are magnificently captured in celluloid. The actors are unaffected and charmingly devoid of heavy make-up. They depend on facial expression and pantomime more than mere dialogue to carry the story.

Since the advent of the sound track, excessive emphasis has been placed on clever repartee to help along a weak and unsustaining theme. Too often American movies are a hash of non-connected scenes: a song, a dance, a badly woven plot—it leaves the audience flat and confused. They are beginning to clamour for the obviously superior foreign productions—perhaps our neighbors to the south and in Europe assume a metnal age slightly above the high grade moron at which level Hollywood aims its movies.

Action—music—superior photography—an intelligent and sustaining plot—these the American producer can learn from his rivals.

by a Freshman About Our Campus: The spirit of friendliness exhibited by the old-timers towards the newcomers... the myriads of pretty girls around (he's male, of course)... the striking color of the Ad Building... the compactness of the campus, insuring a minimum of walking (Goleta fanciers, take note)... the completeness of the stock in the college bookstore... the thorough and entertaining lectures given by the instructors... the wonderful aromatic coffee served by the Caf (I think he has changed his mind and has switched to sauerkraut juice)... the beauty and lump-throatedness of our Alma Mater (he thinks that it would sound even more impressive if EVERY-

ONE would sing)... the attitude of the instructors toward the students (it seems that we are no longer little imbeciles struggling through high school)... and the comfortable traditionality of the Quad. Seems as tho' some of this is tinged with sarcasm—but then, one never knows; maybe...

Bibliophilic Note: It has been said by someone (darned if I know who) that books are the pleasure of the world. One of our campus coeds sewed forth on the subject in vehement tones: The guy that said that must never have read Ogburn's and Nimkoff's Sociology. (Tsk, tsk, don't be bitter, don't be bitter.)

down the street one windy, blustery day in late fall looking someone to interview. The creature in sight was a drunk panhandler reeling down the street. Since he was the only one in sight our friend Joe decided to run the risk and see what the character had to say.

As he walked up to the top Joe held out the microphone, and the drunk said, "Knock, knock."

Joe decided to play along and asked, "Who's there?"

"Argo," replied the sot.

Joe hadn't heard this one before so he asked, "Argo who?"

"Argo to hell!" countered the drunk and staggered off down the street.

Right about that time panomanium broke loose back at radio station. The program was cut off the air, the station was passed dead away, and the sponsor of the program had a nervous collapse. Needless to say, poor Joe lost his job.

But Joe had a plan. He went into seclusion for two years and read and studied, and memorized every joke ever written. What more, he specialized in "knock-knock" jokes. Just give him a key word and Joe could tell you every "knock, knock" joke ever devised.

After this Joe went back to work as old sponsor and explained what he had done. He even spent hours taking tests just to prove to his boss that he knew what he was talking about. Every test he passed without a single slip-up. The sponsor decided that such diligence wouldn't go unrewarded and gave him back his old program.

Joe went down the street the next day all set to conduct a sidewalk interview once more. It was the same kind of a day that fateful one two years ago—windy, blustery, overcast. As down the street came the same drunkard. Joe looked forward to this reunion with relish.

When Joe held up the microphone, the drunk repeated, "Knock, knock."

Joe was just a seething mass of adrenalin. His heart began to throb like a tom tom. This was just what he'd been waiting for. Now he could move in for the kill. "Who's there?" he asked.

"Sylvia," replied the alcoholic.

Joe was stumped. This one he hadn't heard. But he knew that all and figured this one was something. "Sylvia who," he asked still confident.

"Argo to hell," was the reply.

Progressives, Reactionaries; conservatives, liberals; Argo, Sylvia. I wonder if there's any difference really.

York State reprinted by the New Yorker went like this: ARMY OFFICER BECOMES FATHER WHEN WIFE HAS BABY; which the New Yorker quipped: You sure can't get ahead of the Army.

One of the outstanding events of the year will take place during off-time at the Santa Barbara College-Cal Poly football game. Members of the sororities will engage in a "Powder-Puff Bowl" football game, a game that should be replete with thrills and chills. Jerry Rose, Rally Committee chairman, will coach one of the teams and your EG sports editor will be in charge of the other. The spirit is high among the girls, so a good game is on tap. Incidentally, this goes over with the student body, a future game will be planned.

All-Americans

It's a little early for All-American teams, but I think that I will amp the gun enough to tab the backfield nominees. It wasn't too difficult to pick the outstanding backfield stars last season, but this year the experts will have to choose four men from a list that is as long as the proverbial arm. My quartet that I picked may be different from that of the final choices, but here they are: Stan Heath, University of Nevada; Jack Walker, Southern Methodist; Charles Justice, North Carolina University; Jack Jensen, University of California. If there was any doubt in my mind as to whether or not Jensen was All-American material, it was dispelled after seeing the young man's wares at the Cal-USC game. It has been a long, long time since it has been my pleasure to see as hard a running back on the west coast. Jensen does not confine his talents to running alone, as he is a very fine passer. Will be more than happy to see the grid star perform once again against the Bruins tomorrow.

Dr. Baldwin M. Woods Visit University Extension

The visit of Dr. Baldwin M. Woods, director of University Extension for the University of California, has set in operation a new organizational structure of the Extension in this area.

Mr. E. E. Ericson, assistant director in charge of the central coastal section, reported that Dr. Woods had conferred with the newly created University Extension Advisory Board Committee (central coastal section) at its first meeting.

Prior to his departure from Santa Barbara last week, Dr. Woods said that development of the Extension program in this area was discussed with the committee with satisfying results.

The committee, recently appointed by President Robert G. Broul, is comprised of faculty members of Santa Barbara College, including: Dr. William Hayes, acting dean of men; Dr. Henry M. Adams, assistant professor of history; Dr. Demorest Davenport, assistant professor of biological sciences; Mr. Maurice E. Faulkner, associate professor of music; Dr. George E. Hand, associate professor of English; Dr. Lewis F. Walton, assistant professor of mathematics.

Gauchos Enter Aggie Game Favored To Get in Win Column; Three Losses

By Geo. F. Outland

The big weekend has arrived! Tomorrow the Golden Gaucho grid machine will add to the festivities of the four-campus weekend by going forth to do battle with the University of California, College of Agriculture contingent, at Berkeley. The Gauchos, despite go into the game as 12-point favorites—favorites for the first time this year.

The Aggie team is built around all-Far Western Conference Back John Nedderman, who scored one of the Aggies' two touchdowns last season in a game which the Hilltoppers won 26 to 14. Nedderman has been reported as "better than last year," so there is bound to be a real scrap.

The Gauchos should be back at full strength, with the exception of Kenny Duddridge, after an open date last weekend.

Coach Stan Williamson has announced a new starting lineup, giving those men who shone at San Jose a chance. Starting lineup:

- 37 LeRoy Criss, 180 LE
  - 59 Max Pickarts, 215 LT
  - 25 Hook Harnden, 185 LG
  - 58 Frank Kirkland, 208 C
  - 46 Joe Rossi, 200 RG
  - Wayne Templeton, 215 RT
  - 49 Fred Lloyd, 190 RE
  - 23 Glenn Mullaney, 165 Q
  - 34 Tom Kelley, 140 LH
  - 38 Earl Engman, 190 RH
  - 22 Russ Bertell, 170 FB
- Line average, 199; backfield average, 166; team average, 187.

SIG EPS, SIG ALPHS PLAY TO TIE, GRID LEAD TO KAPPA SIGS

Sigma Phi Epsilon battled to a 6-6 tie with Sigma Alpha Kappa, and thereby passed up a golden opportunity to climb into a possible tie for the lead in the fraternity division. As it now stands, Kappa Sigma, with four games still to play, are stand-out favorites to win. They have a total of four wins and no losses.

The Sig Ep-Sig Alpha game turned out to be a hard-fought, knock-down battle, with neither team able to hold a lead. Sig Alpha scored first on a 20-yard pass from Aldridge to Hackett. Sig Ep came right back to tie the score on a pass from Stevenson to Wayer. During the last half each team had several scoring opportunities, with the ball close to the goal in each case, but neither team could capitalize on the situation.

The Muirites, battling for the lead in the club division, dropped a tough game to Dogger House, 13-6. Royce scored first for the Dogger House on a beautifully executed running play off tackle, behind the effective blocking of Kellogg, Ware and Evans. For the losers, Hanson led the way with a 50-yard run for a touchdown after intercepting a pass. Delta Sigma Phi kept the fire of victory alive by downing a fighting Beta Sigma Tau team by an 18-6 score. The combination of Perry to Tully which clicked in the last game for the winners was the deciding factor.

THE CAMPUS CORNER

Hi, Kiddies!

We come to you this Friday with many happy thoughts — some are for the past weekend and some for the future. Last Saturday night the Seniors really outdid themselves with their hay-ride and barn dance. We heard from all sources that everyone had a good time, and incidentally, the kids sure went for that game of musical chairs, "Santa Barbara fashion."

The Sig Alphas also came through last Saturday in their traditional fashion (oh, that word) with a Halloween party at Elmer's. Corn cob pipes were the order of the night, and gee! those green complexions!

Today is really the beginning of "the" weekend, though. Everyone who could beg, borrow, or steal enough money to get to Cal is on their way. We noticed several people crawling around campus on their knees. When we questioned them about this strange phenomenon, we were told that they had not had a hard weekend, but were merely trying to beg a ride to Cal from some lucky stiff with a car and gas money. Cal people will all think that the Gauchos suffer curvature of the spine when they see us at the game Saturday. But really our posture will be from sleeping on the floor or in "easy" (I hope) chairs.

Enough social chit-chat! Gals . . . how about blooming forth this weekend in a blue and gold plaid skirt and stole combination? You will look school spirited as far as the colors are concerned, AND you will have that fashionable look with the new stoles. These skirts are priced at $10.95 and the stoles at $5.95. Incidentally, the outfits come in other lush colors, too.

Well( we will be seeing you in the Gaucho rooting section. Bye now.

Best dressed girl of the week was Pat Hennon in a light green and blue plaid skirt with a blue cashmere.

ing it at the Graduate Manager's office or by giving it to the chairman of the Finance Committee, Mark Gallert, who has office periods at the Student Body President's office MWF 10:30-11:00 a.m.

2nd. The Finance Committee meets regularly on the Fridays following the 1st and 3rd Thursdays of each month. In case of emergency the committee will try to arrange a special meeting on an alternate Friday. The Committee considers each request for additional funds, not only in the light of the circumstances detailed in the request, but also from the standpoint of the over-all financial situation pertaining to Associated Students funds and the demands that may be made or expected during the entire year. On the basis of careful consideration, the committee decides whether to pass, modify, postpone or reject the request.

3rd. Requests for additional funds or for new allocations of funds previously budgeted, which have passed the Finance Committee, are then submitted by the Finance Committee to the Pre-Audit Committee, which meets on the Tuesday afternoon following the Finance Committee meeting. Pre-Audit Committee further scrutinizes the proposal, and has the independent right to pass, modify, postpone or reject the request.

4th. Measures which have gone through the above procedure and have been approved by the Pre-Audit Committee are submitted to the Student Council meeting that same Tuesday evening, and upon receiving a majority vote are officially approved and go into effect.

5th. The Graduate Manager cannot and will not make any disbursements not provided for in the annual budget unless such disbursements have been authorized through the foregoing procedure.

NOTE: Please submit financial requests well in advance—it is not possible to rush them through in a hurry. Recent attempts to do so have caused unnecessary complications and embarrassment for the Graduate Manager's office.

Alibi-ography For Students

What to say—
When you are given an objective test: "It doesn't let you express yourself."

When you are given an essay test: "It's so vague. You don't know what's expected."

When you are given many minor tests: "Why not have a few big ones? This keeps you on edge all the time."

When you are given a few major tests: "To much depends on each one."

When you are given no tests: "It's not fair. How can he possibly judge what we know?"

When every part of the subject is taken up in class: "Oh, he just follows the book."

When you are asked to study a part of the subject yourself: "Why, we never even discussed it!"

When the course is in lecture form: "We never get a chance to say anything!"

When the course consists of informal lecture and discussion: "He just sits there. Who wants to hear the students? They don't know how to teach the course."

When detailed material is presented: "What's the use? You forget it all after the exam anyway."

When general principles are presented: "What did we learn? We knew all that before we took the course."

Student Employees

All students, as well as all academic and non-academic personnel, who have been employed by the university during the past year and whose name and/or address has been changed during the past year are urgently requested to fill out a change of name and/or address Form No. 2194, within the next few weeks so that the proper address may be shown on all withholding tax receipts.

Change of name and/or address forms may be obtained from chairmen of departments in which employed. Unless the Form No. 2194 is completed by persons whose names and/or addresses have been changed, their withholding tax receipts, issued in January for income tax purposes, may not reach them or at best only after considerable delay.

tion of feasibility regarding the introduction of a suggestion that there should be some incipient measures undertaken for the origination of some preliminary step which could lead to the opening of a way through which the first stage might be reached by following some future course designed to guide them sooner or later to a recognition of the possibility that perhaps it were better to just face the truth, then I can only say that I am in Europe now where such time consuming, circular reasoning appears to be the class privi-
