AMS Sponsors Thanksgiving Dance Tuesday

Harry Chanson's Band Plays for Rockwood Affair

Jack-o-lanterns and scarecrows will dominate the scene when Associated Men students and their guests turn out for the Pre-Thanksgiving Day dance next Tuesday night at Rockwood.

Harry Chanson and his El Paso orchestra will be featured, and dancing will continue from 9 to 12 p.m. Chanson will also contribute a number of acts, starring his singers.

Highlight of the evening is tentatively planned to be a quiz show, under the direction of Don McKenzie. The latter stated that if the act went over as hoped, similar ones would be featured at later dates.

This is to be the first big event put on by the A.M.S. and prexy Harry Redoglia commented, "We sincerely want as many students as possible to attend this dance. There will be plenty of entertainment and refreshments and although it is on a week day, it'll be our last affair before Thanksgiving vacation." Redoglia also mentioned for the men not to forget the A.M.S. smoker, which is to be held in the near future.

Patrons and patronesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Jack Porter, Dean and Mrs. A. Russell Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Woodhouse. Admission is free to all A.M.S. and their guests, and students are asked to wear sports clothes.

Holiday Jobs

Deans Clarify Vacation Leaves

At a recent meeting of the heads of departments and deans it was decided that any student who has obtained Christmas work and has employer's statement to verify such employment may get a leave of absence for the week of December 14 to 18 only, provided the leave is obtained in advance so that he can notify each instructor of his proposed absence. Only students in good and regular standing may obtain these leaves. Student teachers will not be excused from their teaching assignments.

It is expected that a student will not ask for a permit to work unless he needs the employment to help with current school expenses, or unless local labor shortage requires employment of school people.

These leaves do not excuse students from their work missed during the absence; nor do they guarantee that students can make up all work missed during lecture and laboratory periods.

The deans will not issue signed absence reports occasioned by transportation difficulties immediately before or after vacation periods. Therefore, students who plan to leave Santa Barbara during the Thanksgiving or Christmas vacations should arrange transportation so that they will miss no time at either end of the vacation.

DZD Sorority Holds Annual Fashion Revue

With "pre-ration" days as the keynote, 1942 fashions will take the spotlight at the twentieth semi-annual supper-fashion show and dance, presented by the Delta Zeta Delta alumnae association starting at 6:30 tonight at El Paseo.

Stressing the "Good Old Days," guests are urged to wear "gay nineties" costumes and join in the spirit of the theme. Gay nineties songs, songs of World War I and of this war will be led, following the dinner, by Maurice Faulkner and John Porter.

With the Jack Rose shop presenting the women's fashions, Roy E. Gammill, the men's wear, and shoes furnished by Rodenbeck's, members of the active chapter will combine with the alumnae members to serve as models. Active members slated for modeling include Roberta Lamon, Erma Lambrecht, Gerry Cockins, Connie Gill, Jackie Pound, Carolyn Hunter, Edie Van Meter, Margaret Reid, Mary Tenny, Ruthe Suggs and Ruth Bandy.

Due to the lack of help this year, the show will be limited to 250 people, and will be the last show for the "duration." Proceeds from the event will go to the sororities war service fund.

Stork Knocks at Faculty Door

Old massa' stork has been hovering around the homes of State college faculty members and has been dropping little bundles from heaven with increasing frequency during the past year.

Glancing at the vital statistics for the faculty it is noted that the instructors have a total of 80 children. Since there are 80 professors and members of the administration included in the count it should add up to one offspring apiece. Actually only 47 of the 80 are proud parents at present.

Passing cigars is now becoming a common occurrence among members of the male faculty contingent. Those who have handed out the stogies most recently are Dr. MacKenzie Brown, Dr. Stanley Rauch, and Frederick W. Hile. This trio all received their felicitations on the births of baby girls.

Girls are by far the most pop-

Globe Trotter Talks at Third Hour Assembly

Bruce Thomas Discusses Experiences with Allies

Bruce Thomas, noted foreign correspondent, news analyst and adventurer will be the speaker in a special assembly scheduled for 9:50 a.m. this morning in the college auditorium. All classes are excused for the meeting, and students are urged to be prompt in their attendance.

"Commandos—Prelude to Invasion," is the subject on which he will speak, but the talk will be wrapped around President Roosevelt's recent statement, "This generation of Americans has a rendezvous with destiny." Thomas is noted for being a speaker who does not "pull the punches," and in discussing this topic, he speaks from actual experiences, as he was engaged in commando raids from the tip of Norway to the Atlantic coast of France, and has accompanied many ocean convoys to Russia and England.

Thomas's lectures have been indorsed by such famous writers as George Putnam, Walter Winchell, Emil Ludwig and many others. After speaking before the New York Adventurer's club of his many escapades on R.A.F. bomber and fighter missions, and of commando raids, he was acclaimed by the members as the best and most interesting speaker on World War II affairs yet heard.

Honor Society Inducts Fifteen

Alpha Mu Gamma, national honorary foreign language society, held its initiation ceremonies Friday night at the Neighborhood house. Following the candlelight ceremony was a quiz program arranged and presided over by Frederick Sigerist, faculty sponsor.

New regular members pledged include Evangeline Brown, Owen Lease and Phyllis Nelson. Also pledged were the following associate members: Marian Cunningham, Richard Diblee, Hazel Edwards, Monica Fell, Mildred Forward, Paul Kliss, Roberta Lamon, Lucille Day, Esther de Leon, Wilhelmina Menken, Bonnie Jean Rutherford and Patricia Scott.

From the services of State college to the service of war-occupied Uncle Sam will go Bill Russell whose leave of absence from the graduate manager's post was granted by the Legislative council meeting in short session last night.

Russell leaves Thursday for Washington D.C. where he will train for a position in the American Red Cross.

BILL RUSSELL
 Leaves for War Duties

Harold Martin, director of public relations, was named acting graduate manager upon advice of the college president and sanction of the council. During the current year Martin has served in the capacity of publicity director, including advertising and business management of El Gaucho and numerous photographic duties. He came to Santa Barbara in fall, 1941 from San Francisco State where he was employed in a similar capacity for nine years.

A graduate in 1940, Russell had been a popular and active student. He excelled in basketball and baseball on campus and town teams. Additional extra-curricular activities included chairmanship of the Welfare committee, chairman of the Finance committee, president of Beta Sigma Chi, president of Interfraternity council, member of the Associated Men Students executive board, and Board of Athletic Control. Russell won the A.M.S. award in 1940 for the outstanding man student.

Appointed graduate manager in August, 1941, Russell has distinguished himself with students and faculty alike and has been instrumental in putting the student body on a sound financial status.

After a training period in the capitol city, Russell may return to the Pacific coast for additional work and a later date will be sent overseas as an assistant field director for the Red Cross.

With completion of the resignation approval, councilmen adjourned early for the Eliejo-Maudelle dance concert.

A small party in honor of the departing graduate manager was held following the business session, with student legislators offering him felicitations and serving a large cake decorated with "Good Luck, Bill."

Debaters Leave For Annual State Tourney

Lou Sarracino, president of the Speech department, and Tom Loeffler, student body finance chairman, will represent Santa Barbara State at the Western Association of Teachers of Speech Tournament at San Jose. The contest begins Sunday and will continue for three days.

Sarracino, in addition to debate will take part in oratory and extemporaneous speaking. Loeffler also will enter into progesion, extemporaneous, and impromptu speaking.

Previous tournament experience has been had by both men. Sarracino attended tournaments at Pomona, Los Angeles City College, and Pepperdine, where he finished as a finalist in impromptu speaking. Loeffler too finished in the upper brackets at the Pepperdine college tournament.

Approximately twenty colleges will be represented in the San Jose contest, contributing many outstanding collegiate speakers.

Dr. Albert O. Mitchell will also attend the tournament, and will act as a judge. This year's forensics activities are being directed by Frederic Hile, director of the division of speech.

Students Brush-Up On Algebra, Trig

Announcement was made yesterday by Dr. Hazel Severy of the science department of the opening of a non-credit brush-up course in algebra beginning Monday third hour under the supervision of James Graves, student teacher, in room 41.

This course will be held each Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and is open to all students who wish to review the fundamentals of algebra and trigonometry before entering the classes next semester and for those students who need aid in their present course.

Gas Rationing

Campus Board Set Up by OPA

By federal request, a transportation committee to pass upon supplementary gasoline requirements has been established at this college. All students, student teachers, etc., who have urgent need for more gasoline than provided by the "A" ration books must present these supplementary forms, properly filled out, to the chairman of the local college committee. NOT THE RATION BOARD. All applications must be passed upon here before they are sent to the city rationing board. This is a compulsory requirement of the OPA. The supplementary forms are obtained at the school where the student receives the "A" book.

Therefore, all students who have an urgent need for additional gasoline must present the supplementary blank to one of the following members of the committee: Miss Loretta Byers, John T. Porter, Dr. J. C. Snider, Mrs. Marguerite Stebbins or Dr. I. A. Mather, chairman.

Much Ado . . .

By GEORGE BLUMENSON

Westbrook Pegler, America's number one brass check columnist, has been filling his usually worthless column with some more than usually useless vituperation during the last week. It seems as though Mr. Pegler, who is, we fear, rapidly becoming a "case," took exception to a speech made by Vice-President Henry A. Wallace in which Wallace praised the Russians.

This praise, states Mr. Pegler means that we have a c-m-u-i-st in the White House. Wallace, in one part of his speech, praised the Russians for their equality of the sexes. Pegler, with his usual flair for contradicting himself in the same column said that we here in this nation did not care for that kind of equality. Just a few paragraphs later, Pegler stated that here in the United States we have the same equality of the sexes.

Pegler has deteriorated from one of the best, most liberal columnists in America—as witnessed by his excoriation of Francisco Franco during the Spanish civil war—to one of the most petty, vicious and unreliable writers in the world—as started by his vituperous and rotten eulogy of Heywood Brown on the day of that great liberal's funeral. Pegler's feud with Mrs. Roosevelt should be on the comic pages, rather than on the editorial pages. Pegler's tirades against all unions should appear in the publications of the National Association of Manufacturers.

The news from the foreign fronts this week has been very encouraging. There is no second front in North Africa—this is merely the Americans on the march—a march which will end in Berlin just a year or two hence. This North African front is an attempt to open the Mediterranean to Allied shipping. The real second front will have to bide its time. In the meantime we should let the military leaders fight the war without any interference from a civilian congress. The African campaign will serve, for a time at any rate, as a mustard plaster on the Russian boil. It will relieve the valiant Russian armies. The actual cure will come when the major operations are begun.

Our judgments here are liable to be warped by the ranting and raving of cheap demagogues and politicians, who put personal gains above the nation's good. This can be seen by the last election returns. Had the administration so desired, it could have changed the election results by merely opening the African campaign a week earlier. But we were not ready, and the administration realized that. In the conduct of the war, neither the administration or the military are paying attention to politics.

The Willkie trip, and his subsequent cries for a second front was one of the best staged pieces of camouflage that ever deceived the Nazis. The United States is finally on the march.

Pasatiempo

By NATALIE STEWART

Next week comes that welcome respite after the rigors of mid-terms. Campus gowbuggies (those with rubber) will wheel down toward the sunny southland and Thanksgiving will be upon us.

The day may have the usual turkey and trimmings but it certainly won't have the same connotation for us as it has in former years. It's a little bit hard to count your blessings and then in the next breath take stock of the friends and relatives who are away from the family table and who may never get back.

Yes it's hard to give thanks at a time like this but we owe those men and boys our thanks. We owe them our faith in the job they are trying to finish, we owe them our belief in the outcome of their fight, we owe them this day and all the days and the years that are to follow.

We can be thankful too we live in California, U.S.A. rather than in Little Greece, Holland or Norway. We've got a lot to give thanks for if we take a little time to think it over, if we open our minds and hearts and accept the fact that we're a lot better off right here than in any other spot in the world right now.

We read the text for the first time
And scan each jumbled note,
And wonder what was in our mind
When that scrambled mess we wrote!

But we're here for education,
It's as plain as it can "B",
And our hearts sink to our toes
When we find we scored a "D".

But then we start to rationalize
As only a college student may,
And tell ourselves that next time
We'll surely crack an "A".

Author Proposes Union of Nations with Bills of Rights

In describing proposed plans for post-war peace, Donald Colross Peattie, author-naturalist, claimed the idea of a "world federation" to be feasible, logical and almost inevitable. Mr. Peattie's plan is to be given birth through the impetus of leadership, since the move must be primarily political. Nations will be represented equally in the world government, tariff barriers between nations will be abolished, an international police force will be organized for enforcing laws, and the new super-education, etc.

Drawing an analogy to the American Revolution and consequent formation of a federal union from the 13 colonies, Mr. Peattie declared this plan to be essentially the same maneuver politically, except on a much larger scale.

But departing from his federal ideal, Mr. Peattie pitched his tent in the capitalistic camp by declaring that the union would consist of France, the British Commonwealth, America (excluding South America) the Scandinavian countries, Poland and Canada. These nations since they all purported to guarantee to their subjects that which is essentially our Bill of Rights, and since they have much more in common than in disagreement. This entente would then organize and maintain the union, their union, after which the other nations would either cede to the central power by agreement or by force.

This concept of the formulation of the union is not compatible with the liberal sense in which it is conceived, since it will in effect be nothing more than a grander nationalism which will foster exploitation and quite probably lead to Fascism.

Why should one group of nations, claiming to be "God's of world-wide brotherhood and then go on and describe the Chosen People" declare that they are 100% behind this idea of brotherhood in their own selfish terms? Certainly there is no advance toward world peace through world federation in such a move.

Mr. Peattie then declared that this concept was by no means original or new, and that there were two such plans already in an embryonic state, namely Russia's Communism and Germany's Nazism.

Is it not foolish then to agree that both these plans are working toward the same end, and then propose the formulation of a third plan which will exclude both the others?

Every thinking man is for world peace, and if such peace may be obtained by federation, for federation. But why federate half the world only? Why organize the federation for your benefit alone and then naively state that it is for the world's benefit?

World wide federation is such an immense task that only with the combined and whole-hearted efforts of all nations in the world could it ever be put into operation. Therefore, if the move is to be toward federation, let it be just what the name implies world-brotherhood, not local particularism. L.O.

Gau-chocase

By RUTHE SUGGS

Ceiling unlimited . . . this week we see the ravages of semi-annual fraternity pledging. Activities of this year's Hell Week have been somewhat limited as necessitated by dimout regulations, et al. But indoors: inferno. Some of the milder forms of physical cruelty and mental fun has been the forced consumption of certain delicacies on the Black Supper menu (GSP), adhesive-ripping from hairy legs (SAK), bathrobe wearing and suitcase toting (TO). Pledges of BEX have been occupied with scouring and re-decorating the new frat house.

Also getting attention have been the intricacies of gas rationing and tire registration. Everyone has a different tale to tell of the sign-for-what-you're-gonna-get procedure. Conflicting opinions are rampant on student teacher possibilities for extra ethel, but the real answer will be issued by the College Transportation committee (on campus) which judges the plea and refers preferred cases to the Gasoline Ration board (downtown). Securing an "A" card is the first step, Doc Mather says.

Old news now: the marriage of JACKIE POUND and BILL MORRISSEY. And we're still kicking ourselves for holding the scoop last issue . . . it was known then that the bride had petitioned for a license in answer to long-distance calls from Chicago.

Father of an 8-pounder: LARRY BEMOLL, ex-grid star.

Dating last week: BARBARA SALLOWAY and NINO DINO. (Dear Frank Jones, en route to V-7 training at South Bend . . . Absence does make the heart grow fonder, but "While the cat's away, the mice will . . .")

Sincere congratulations to BILL LEVEILLE who recently ventured onto the dance floor. Congratulations more rightly should go to Girlfriend CONNIE GILL. Showing tonight: Style. It's the 20th semi-annual DZD fashion show amplified by a turkey dinner, dancing and the Big Time which has made it famous these many years.

Fraternities Turn Efforts To Hell Week

Back from last year's varsity and ready for action this season are veterans Bill Leveille, Dick Rider, Bob Sherman and Ray Acevedo, around whom Coach Wilton will form the new squad.

"Prospects look very bright for a successful season" Wilton announced, "and we have four men who stand over 6' 3". Howard Holt, Paul Copper, Ed Routh and Harvey Hubler. All of these boys are good ball handlers and look good in the practice workouts."

Games are definitely slated with Loyola University, Pepperdine college, San Jose State and San Francisco State, while other games are tentatively set with San Diego State, Occidental, Whittier college, Redlands college, Chapman college and Pomona.

The Gauchos this year will play practically the same schedule as past year with the exception of Fresno, and Wilton is attempting to arrange games with the University of Southern California and UCLA. In addition, for the benefit of practice and on-lookers' enjoyment, the Hill-toppers will play numerous games with service clubs.
