SIXTH YEAR

SANTA BARBARA, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, MAY 6, 1927

Vol. VI—No. 31

Students To Choose New Officials Today

New Fraternity Is Organized On Campus; Twelve Men To Start

To Be Third Organization Of Type; To Choose Name At Meeting Next Week

Permission for establishment of a third Greek letter fraternity on the local campus was granted last Wednesday by the administration, and organization proceedings are taking place this week.

Twelve men expressed a desire for the fraternity. The list is headed by Robert Smith, '30, who started the movement. Other men in the group are Edwin Dundas, '29, Franklin Anderson, '30, Alfred Tomlinson, '29, Phil Horner, '29, Harold Morehead, '27, Gene Conklin, '27, Clayton Sheesley, '28, James Dinwiddie, '28, William Peel, '29, James Peel, '28, and Michael Abbott, '29.

The name of the new fraternity will probably be chosen early next week, and a constitution will be adopted at that time. Scholarship standings of the charter members were verified Wednesday.

Institutional regulations for fraternities, with which the new organization must comply, provide that members complete at least one semester on the campus satisfactorily and that the scholarship be at least a 3 average. The entire group must be selected from not more than 60 per cent of any one department. No more than twenty can belong to one group.

Purpose Outlined

In the letter to the administration petitioning for a charter, the following statement was made:

"We give the following reasons for wishing to establish a new fraternity: The college is growing, as evidenced by new buildings, athletic outlook, and attraction for new students. There are six sororities and only two fraternities on the campus. A third fraternity will alleviate group strife and aid in equalizing the present situation."

The organization of the fraternity is the outcome of a movement developing for many months. Those interested point out that a third group will make possible an inter-fraternity council corresponding to the Pan-Hellenic, as well as creating a firmer balance of fraternity relations than previously experienced.

Ticket Selling Contest For Frolic; Prize To Be Given to Winning Class

Tickets for the Interclass Frolic, May 13, were placed on sale last Tuesday, opening the interclass ticket-selling contest.

The tickets were distributed to the class presidents who, in turn, gave them to the students. Cardboards not sold by 4 o'clock Thursday, May 12, will be turned in and redistributed among the classes.

A permanent prize will be given the class selling the greatest number of tickets. Last year the class bench, now in possession of the juniors, was awarded to the class of 1927.

Student co-operation is what makes Eagle advertising pay.

GLEE CLUB TO GIVE ANNUAL CONCERT TO HOME PEOPLE TONITE

Valley Program to Be Given Again; Recreation Center Tonight for Home Folks

At eight o'clock tonight the Men's Glee Club will give its home concert at Recreation Center to complete the concert season of the year. Tickets are being sold by the Club members at the Bolton and Jones Music Store on State Street, and at the High School for 35 and 50 cents, the former price being for students.

The program to be given is similar to that presented on the valley tour in March, and contains numbers added since then. In Bakersfield the program was voted the best entertainment yet given by the Club. The men scored a big success at the California Theatre while in that city. The following article appeared in the Bakersfield "Morning Press":

"Santa Barbara Teachers College Glee Club received an ovation and their concert proved one of the most delightful ever heard here. The vocalists were generous in encores and their repertoire covers an extremely wide range of selections."

Lancaster music people say that the program this year is the finest that they have ever had in that line.

EAGLE AMENDMENT IS PASSED BY STUDENTS AT MEET YESTERDAY

Unanimous Approval Given To Semester Editorship Plans by Campus Students

By almost unanimous vote, the amendment to the constitution shortening the editorship of The Eagle to one semester passed the students at the Student Body meeting yesterday. It will go into effect next year, a new editor being chosen in January.

The amendment passed just one day before the time limit expired, which would have nullified the enforcement of the change next year, as the election tomorrow would have placed the editor in office for one year, according to the Constitution.

A special election at mid-year to choose the spring semester editor is provided by the amendment, this election taking place at least 10 days before the end of the fall semester. Nomination procedure shall take place as provided in the general May election.

The wording of the amendment follows, To Article V, a second section shall be added, to read: "The term of office for the officers named in Section 1 shall be for one college year, except that of Editor-in-Chief of The Eagle, who shall be elected for one semester." To Article X a fourth section shall be added, to read: "Mid-year election by ballot to choose the Editor-in-Chief of The Eagle shall take place at least ten days before the close of the fall semester, installation taking place at the end of the semester. Nominations shall take place as provided in Article X, Section 1."

Polls Open Today from 7:45 To 4:20 o'Clock; Count To Be Finished by 6 P. M.

Today is election day.

With fifteen candidates running for eight offices, one of the closest elections in the history of the College is predicted. All offices are contested except the editorship of The Eagle.

Polls opened today at 7:45 o'clock and will close this afternoon at 4:20 o'clock. Immediately following the close of the voting the student council will meet to count votes, the final count being completed by 6 o'clock. The results of the election will be posted on the student bulletin board immediately.

A new precedent in voting methods will start by marking ballots in a booth instead of in the open as heretofore. A list of all eligible voters will be at the polls, the names being checked as the students vote, the voter also signing his name by the check mark. Students will then go to the booth, returning and depositing his ballot.

The officers elected will partly compose the student council next year.

Faculty Considers Plan To Stop Cheating

Faculty approval of only part of the proposed plan to eliminate cheating as submitted by the joint student and faculty committee last week took place at a recent meeting. The provision for method of punishment of infraction was passed, this calling for a grade of five in the course of the first offense and definite and final expulsion from the College for a second offense.

Alternate seating and question provisions were left optional, as it is believed by some instructors that such a method is impracticable owing to the fact that often the ground to be covered by an examination permits only a limited number of questions. Over-crowding of rooms also prevents alternate seating.

Belief was expressed by the faculty that the best honor system is that based on a spirit rather than rules, but that provisions for punishment are necessary. Though the faculty does not intend to establish any type of system for the students, it aims to co-operate with the students to develop a moral sense, eliminating the necessity of later faculty interference.

Play Day Postponed; Dates of Guests Conflict

The W. W. A. play-day which was to be held this month, was postponed because of conflicting events in the schedules of eleven of the twelve high schools invited to attend the event.

The play-day, which was being planned by the women's physical education department, proposed to acquaint the senior girls of the twelve high schools with the campus and with the activities of the physical education department. The physical education classes were planning for all day entertainment in the form of athletic events.

COLLEGE APPLIES FOR LETTERS AND SCIENCE A. B. DEGREE AWARDS

Plan Expands Study Courses To Curricula Outside of Teaching and Education

Permission to grant A. B. degrees in science, history, English, mathematics, and foreign languages at Santa Barbara State, thus making possible four year degree courses in letters and science, was petitioned for by President Phelps this week to Will John Cooper, superintendent of the State public schools. The movement is a natural expansion of the campus, resulting from increased facilities.

If permission is granted, the courses of study here will broaden outside of the strictly educational field, opening the College to larger expansion than would be possible under solely educational courses.

"I believe there is no legal barrier in granting this petition," said President Phelps, "but if it does receive the approval of Mr. Cooper and the board we do not expect all the majors to be added to the list of degrees at once."

"These degrees and our new buildings would bring great prosperity to our College and all other Teachers' colleges in the state. Up to this time they have been limited in granting degrees."

"There would be no necessity in leaving Santa Barbara for other colleges, except by choice, as we would be able to offer unusual opportunities to all students except those specializing in technical fields."

It has been pointed out by instructors on the campus that at present there are sufficient courses in some lines, as chemistry, for a major and A. B. degrees, 25 units being necessary for a major. It will also result in sharper specialization of instruction, caused by the increased demand for such subjects.

Alumni Association Meets Tomorrow in Northern City

Six from Santa Barbara State will go, this Saturday, to the Alumni Association meeting of the San Francisco district. Those who are attending the High Tea, which will be held in the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco, are President and Mrs. Phelps, Dean Ashworth, Miss Bishop, Mrs. Steele, and Mrs. Miller.

This meeting is held annually in order to bring together once more those who have graduated from Santa Barbara State, according to President Phelps, or have been connected with it for many years.

Mrs. Miller says that she has received word that Mrs. Edna Rich Morse, president emerita, expects to also attend.

Roadrunners Apply For Coast Conference

Local Athletic Standing Raised If Conference Admits Local Athletes

Admission of Santa Barbara State into the California Coast Conference will be considered tonight by the Conference officials at the semi-annual meeting to be held at the California Polytechnic School at San Luis Obispo. A letter received from Coach Agosti of Cal Poly, the president of the organization, states that there is little doubt but that the application of Santa Barbara will be accepted.

The admission to this conference will mean that the Roadrunner institution will become a regular conference member of athletics. Membership will give the College for the first time a definite goal to work for, a conference championship.

To be in the running for a conference championship, it is necessary to play four conference games. Coach DeGroot and Ted Marshall, varsity football manager, were looking forward to entrance in the organization and they scheduled the necessary football games with San Jose State, Cal Poly and San Mateo and Bakersfield Jaysees. Coach DeGroot said that he would probably arrange another barnstorming trip for the basketball squad as far north as Chico State to take care of the required contests in that sport.

The entrance of Santa Barbara will make a total of nine schools in the conference. The other eight are San Jose State, Chico State, Cal Poly and Santa Rosa, San Mateo, Sacramento, Modesto, and Bakersfield Junior Colleges. Marin County Junior College is also being considered for admission to the Conference.

A recent survey shows that 89 per cent of the American colleges require compulsory chapel attendance.

Drastic limitations on the use of cars have been imposed by seventeen schools of higher education.

Seniors of Brigham Young University, Utah, are contributing $20 apiece to complete the university stadium.

TRACK MEN GO NORTH TO SAN LUIS OBISPO CONFERENCE MEET

Coach DeGroot and his Roadrunner track squad pulled out today for San Luis Obispo and the California Coast Conference track meet. A squad of about twenty men are making the trip.

DeGroot is fairly optimistic over the team's chances in the meet, as the two weeks since the Invitational meet have shown a great deal of improvement. The big contenders in the meet will be San Jose State and Modesto Junior College. In the Fresno meet the Jaysee finished ahead of the Teachers by several points.

The discus men have shown the greatest improvement, Denno, Furman and Gates Foss all heaving the platter better than 120 feet. Greenough and Glover are both capable of nearly 12 feet in the pole vault. The javelin will find Brubaker and Sawyers heaving the spear, both men tossing the spear better than 150 feet.

Williams, the only Santa Barbara entry in the distances, should place high in the mile, as he has been galloping off the four lap event in fast time. Vandam and Thurmond are both running the 440 in nice style. Glover and O'Reilly can be counted on to pick up a few points in the sprints.

The team will be picked from the following: dashes, O'Reilly, Glover and Smith; mile, Williams; 440, Thurmond and Vandam; hurdles, Tinkle; high jump, Vince; broad jump, Vince and Kenney; javelin, Brubaker and Sawyers; discus, Furman, Denno, G. Foss and Sawyers; shot put, Vince, Sawyers and G. Foss; pole vault, Greenough and Glover. The relay team will be selected from Vandam, Thurmond, Morehead, Williams, Glover and T. Foss. Varsity Manager, Phil Kiney, and his assistant, Alvin McIlroy, will also make the trip.

Fifty per cent of college students believe that prayers are answered, according to a recent survey of Northwestern University.

The Co-op sold out of candy, peanuts, and bluebooks last Friday. The candidates are putting up a hard race and those giving away ten cent bars of candy are conceded the edge in today's election.

We ought to have some kind of honor system at the cafeteria and make everybody stand in line. The cooks should be honor bound to put ham in ham sandwiches and the cashier should be taught not to try guessing at the prices of everything.

The honor system is all right and maybe the Elementary School children will like it. As for the college adopting it, a wise move would be for the men and women to drop school and have the faculty resign.

AND TALKING ABOUT EVERYBODY RESIGNING, WITH THE NEW LOCK COMBINATIONS ON THE HALL DOORS THREE-FOURTHS OF THE STUDENTS ARE NOW DIZZY. NOW IF WE WOULD INSTALL A COUPLE OF SWINGING DOORS, THE REMAINING ONE-FOURTH OF THE STUDENT BODY WOULD BE UNDER A COMPLETE HYPNOTIC SPELL.

Two Men Compete At West Coast Relay Meet

Two men made the trip to the West Coast Relays at Fresno last Saturday, Dick Glover and Doug Brubaker. The men paid their own expenses. Glover placed fourth in the pole vault, clearing 11 feet, 9 inches, and placed in the heats in the century. He did not run in the final due to a conflict with the vault event. Brubaker wafted the spear out 155 feet for fifth place in that event.

CAPTAINS ELECTED

Beryl Dunning and Louise Lowry were elected captains of the upper and lower division baseball teams last week. With an enthusiastic turnout, the forecast for the baseball season is favorable. Practices are being held on the field on Mondays and Thursday at 4:15.

Interclass Swimming Meet Planned Soon as Opening Campus Swimming Sport

Swimming will be added to the list of sports Wednesday afternoon, May 18, when the first interclass swimming meet in the history of College sports takes place at the Y. M. C. A. swimming pool. The meet will be under the direction of Coach DeGroot, who was a member of the Stanford swimming team while at the northern institution.

A meeting of those interested in swimming is called for Tuesday, May 10, at 12 o'clock. Opportunity for practice is offered during the fourth hour, 11 to 12 o'clock, on Mondays and Wednesdays at the Y. M. C. A. The events scheduled for the meet follow:

Forty-yard, 100-yard and 220-yard free style; 60-yard backstroke, 60-yard breast stroke, four-man 160-yard relay and fancy diving.

Negotiations are also pending for a dual swimming meet between the State College and San Mateo Junior College. Final arrangements are expected to be completed this evening at the meeting of the California Coast Conference at San Luis Obispo.

Football paid the University of Pennsylvania $214,956 in profits in the season just closed.

Oberlin College has an ordinance against student serenading after 11 o'clock.

Skating parties constitute a regular form of entertainment at San Jose State Teachers College.

PRESIDENT OFFICE SEEKERS ANNOUNCE VOTING PLATFORMS

The thing that a student body needs most is more unified co-operation. To obtain this, one has either to eliminate the "dead" organizations or bring them to par with the more active ones. The organizations cannot be brought up to par until there is better co-operation among the students.

So let's back those who want better co-operation in order to create the best spirit that Santa Barbara State has ever known.
I thank you.
WARREN H. ATWOOD.

As candidate for the presidency I wish to say that if I am elected I will perform my duty to the best of my ability, having in mind at all times the welfare and interests of the students. I will do all in my power to boost the College and will gladly support and encourage all organizations that have as one of their principles: "Better and bigger State College," or some other such boosting expression.

With the progress and growth of State College and its recognition as a leading institution of its type, a president of the Associated Students is necessary that the spirit, tradition and honor of the College may be enhanced. As far as is possible, I shall do all within my power to further these ideals if the Associated Students entrust to me the guidance of their activities for next year as president.

Sigma Alpha Kappa Plans Formal Social for Year

Sigma Alpha Kappa fraternity will hold their annual formal dinner-dance and home-coming at the Samarkand hotel tomorrow evening, dinner being at seven o'clock. Twenty-five couples are expected to attend.

High School Teacher Is Speaker at Social Science

The Social Science Club held its regular meeting Wednesday night at the library.

Miss Moss, Latin teacher at the High School, was speaker of the evening. She traced the program of the British Empire through the present time and discussed the change in policies of representation in the various countries.

Tau Gamma Sigma Holds Annual Formal Dance

What is acclaimed the best social yet given by the Greek letter societies took place last Saturday night when the Tau Gamma Sigma sorority gave the annual formal at Margaret Baylor Inn, Anacapa and Carrillo streets.

Forty attended the dinner-dance. Music, toasts, readings and feature stunts made up the entertainment. Esther Hawley, president of the sorority, was toastmistress. Dean and Mrs. Ashworth and Miss Weage, sorority sponsor, were present. Hollingsworth's three-piece orchestra played for the dance which followed the dinner.

Stanford Plans to Stop Lower Division Classes

Confirmation of reports that Stanford University's board of trustees contemplates dropping lower division work at the institution has come from President Ray Lyman Wilbur, who announced that a tentative program has been submitted to the board of trustees, whereby the freshman and sophomore classes would be eliminated gradually over a period of several years.

President Wilbur said that he had recommended to the board of trustees that a program be adopted to free the university from junior college institution. The program provides for the reduction of the number of students in the lower division by reducing the number admitted. President Wilbur believes that by January 1, 1934, that Stanford University's junior college work will be absorbed by other institutions offering such courses. The college would then place all emphasis on upper division and graduate work.

With lower division courses out of the way, Stanford expects to concentrate on the advance of education for the individual, cutting down the number of large lecture classes and organizing students into groups for discussion. There would also be greater facilities for students seeking the higher degrees, according to the program.—Quaker Campus.

A.W.S. Give Tea-Dansant For High School Women

Industrial Ed and Men's Club Plan Picnic and Feed

The Men's Club, in co-operation with the Industrial Education Department, will hold a picnic and barbecue at Paradise Camp Sunday afternoon, May 22. Chairman Oran Booth of the committee of arrangements announced last Wednesday.

The event will be a mixed affair. Baseball, horseshoes, throwing contests, other games, and swimming are on the program. The charge is 50 cents per person. Those attending are requested to bring their own cutlery.

C.E.S. HOLDS SALE

An ice-cream sale will be given today by the third grade children of the Elementary School at 10 a. m. and 12 a. m., to defray book expenses. Brick ice-cream blocks of vanilla, strawberry, and chocolate will be sold at five and ten cents.

A similar sale will take place every Friday until the end of the school year.

CLASS EXHIBITS WORK

The practice teaching class in forging at the Washington Special School, and conducted by Henry Batchelder, was the only practice class to have an exhibit in the Better Homes Exposition, held a week ago. The exhibit of the class was on display in the San Marcos Building.

INQUIRIES RECEIVED

Director E. E. Ericson of the Industrial Education Department states that he has received many inquiries from teachers of all sections of the state, wishing to renew their teaching credentials, concerning the courses to be given by the department during the summer session.

A professor at the University of Washington has been placed on probation because of the use of "What I Believe," by Bertrand Russell, in his classroom.

Psychologist Speaks to Students at Tuesday Meet

Edward Berger, famous psychology lecturer and speaker, spoke before the Student Body in the assembly held Tuesday. Mr. Berger is of German descent, although now a citizen of the United States. He received his education in German universities and under teachers of well-known seminaries.

Mr. Berger's talk was well-planned and well given, dealing specifically with the success of the teacher with his pupils. The theme he dealt upon was "Thought".

"As you thinketh, so you are," he said, cryptically. "If you think only of the money you will gain or the opportunity your position will afford you to rise in the profession you have chosen, then God pity the children. If you are teaching just because you have nothing else to do, then God pity you."

Mr. Berger is holding lectures now in Santa Barbara. Every Monday night he gives two lectures for the benefit of the working people. They are held in the Chamber of Commerce building.

OUTING CLUB NOTICE

Clayton Sheesley, president of the Outing Club, is anxious to get in touch with the students who will be able to provide for the accommodation of 30 Bakersfield people who are planning to be here for the Island trip, which will be made May 28-29. Those who are interested are urged to see him immediately.

This Week in the College World---

BY an almost unanimous vote the students this week at the University of Oregon downed a constitutional amendment placing the Emerald, the University student daily, under the publications council, whose power it was to dictate the policies of the daily to the editor.

What was shown by the election is that when an editor at Oregon is elected, he is put in office with the intention that the daily be an independent campus activity, dependent for policies upon neither the student council, a publications board, or any other force. The editor is free to say what he wishes; if his actions are disliked, the students may easily remove him from office.

Such a plan as Oregon has and which was again endorsed by the students is a strong incentive to a clean-cut and active paper. In the past the Oregon Emerald has been a powerful force on the campus, fostering many reforms and movements. Just this year the Emerald was mainly responsible for a general revision of the courses of study.

It was possible the activity of the Emerald which worried some students, the student body president included, and who attempted to muzzle the paper through the medium of a publication council.

THE advisability of starting a co-op store under student management is being debated at the University of Kansas. Objections to such a student management is based on the failures of many such stores.

Many of the stores which are successful have been so because of the employment of a full time and experienced manager, working under a combined student and faculty committee.

However, figures have been compiled, showing that out of 150 representative stores, 99 have been operating successfully under student management for periods from five to twenty years.

The students will vote on the question soon.

LIBERALISM shown by the Liberal Club of the West Chester State Normal School was recently suppressed by the administration of the institution. They had criticised the Coolidge-Kellogg Nicaraguan policy, and the American Legion of West Chester followed by condemning them for lack of patriotism and socialistic tendencies.

The Legion feels that a movement spreading among the American colleges today is linked with Soviet Russia, and believing the Liberal Club to be connected, objection was promptly made.

Students involved in the Liberal Club have flatly defied the faculty, basing their argument on the Constitutional freedom of speech. The meetings of the Club were then promptly stopped by the administration, "not as a request but as a demand". Two professors who defended the position of the Club have been dismissed for unknown reasons. So with excitement at high heat the conflict is continuing.

Outside factions and organizations are defending the position of the Club, and the topic is widely discussed. What the outcome will be is undecided, but chances are that the Liberal Club will be withheld from the campus in the future.

A census of Princeton Commons shows that 25 per cent of its students never eat breakfast.

Requisites for Good Yell Leading Are Outlined

(By New Student)

"What the college needs is a real good cheer leader." Students are saying this at the present time when new campus leaders of all sorts are being chosen for the coming year.

"Catch them young and train them well" is the motto of the University of Southern California, where the second annual school for cheer leaders is being attended by high school students from all parts of the state. The delegates are being shown "the best way of leading yells," and are being instructed "in the controlling of a rooting section at large gatherings." The methods emphasized are those for bringing out the "best spirit" in the rooters.

"We are not looking for just a cheer leader, the Student Council of the University of Colorado announces apropos the coming student election. "If the University of Colorado is to make a creditable comeback in athletics next year, it will be necessary to have student support of a high calibre and much of this will depend on the marshal." Perhaps the University of Kansas has the men Colorado wants, as a candidate for the office advertises himself in The Kansan thusly:

"The election of Joe Ellis for cheer leader would assure the student body of no more embarrassing flops in the cheering at basketball games in the future." His rival is also a capable man, if his political blurb is to be credited: "experience! experience! EXPERIENCE! EXPERIENCE! EXPERIENCE! EXPERIENCE!"

Thomas Arkle Clark, Dean of Men at the University of Illinois, has made a list of things he would do if he had to go through college again. Were Dean Clark to begin his college days anew, he would:

1. Develop concentration—work harder but not so long.
2. Learn to work while others are around.
3. Put more stress on learning how to get information than upon the information itself.
4. Find more difficult tasks to do.
5. Learn to do one line of work particularly well.
6. Get better acquainted with his instructors.
7. Take fewer courses which are strictly practical.
8. Have an avocation which would bring him into close touch with men.—Stanford Daily.

Editor, Sir:

Lately there has been a great deal of discussion concerning cheating and its standards. Just how much of it has been for the purpose of facilitating the work of the institution and how much has been for the purpose of making it easier for some instructor to evade certain issues, I do not venture to guess.

Consideration of the human element is predominant in most affairs and there is necessity for comprehending it in school affairs as much as in any other place. Those who do not understand and practice the art of controlling the human element necessarily will fail to obtain the best results in the classroom.

The human element remains, as it has ever been, the determining factor. Curricula may be expanded and changed, but the people who use them will determine success or failure. The psychology of people is a definite quality. It cannot be changed. To be used, it must be understood and taken as it is fixed by nature. The qualities of morale, efficiency, loyalty, etc., are only the evidences of the degree to which some leader has directed the psychology of his followers.

A student does not study for fear or material reward. He studies for pride in himself and his group. Pride is a basic element of human nature. There is no being wholly devoid of self-respect. The student is especially sensitive by reason of his subordination, and once his pride is aroused, he preserves it in the same way he becomes loyal to his instructors, fellow students, and school. His richest reward is recognition by his leaders.

On the contrary, censure or blame arouses the equally elemental quality of self-preservation, leading to the "anything-to-get-by" spirit. Students want and admire firmness, but regulations must be so indorsed as to leave no personal sting. True discipline comes from pride and not from fear. Arbitrary and harsh measures may be easier to adopt, but they will multiply troubles out of all proportion to the gain.

EXPANSION OF CURRICULA

With the application this week to the State Board of Education for the expansion of scope of the A. B. degree here to include such majors as English, history, economics, etc., another big forward stride looms. New buildings are being obtained rapidly, increasing facilities to accommodate larger numbers of students, and with this move in the attempt to expand the four year curricula beyond the single field of education to other branches of study.

Thus, if the approval of the State can be obtained, the College will expand its junior college department to include the two years which follow the certificate. The wider choice of curricula thus offered would be a strong factor in bringing more students to the campus, as well as attracting other types and rounding out the student body more completely.

The attempt being made by the local administration is a pioneer movement which other state colleges may follow. President Phelps is the originator of the plan and proposes to establish it here. He deserves congratulations for broadening the courses of study and posting up an attractive drawing card for new students.

Five scholarships are being offered to American men by the Ministry of Education of Hungary. These are available for 1927-1928 in the University of Budapest, the University Faculty of Economic Science, the Polytechnic High School, the Veterinary College, and the Music Academy, at Budapest. Scholarships are offered in the following fields, philosophy, letters and sciences, law, medicine, veterinary science, economics, technology, music.—Stanford Daily.

A group of students at Northeastern University, Boston, have agreed to participate in no future wars.

An all-campus bridge, chess, and checker tournament is held annually at the University of Michigan.

VOTES TODAY FELT NEXT YEAR

Today is election day!

The success of campus activities next year depends upon the way in which the students respond today to the election call. The type of administration this college will have next year depends entirely upon the consideration given each candidate in choices cast today.

Some candidates are better than others for some positions, and it is up to the student body to find that one and put him in. Pep is what is needed; pep and ability must be candidates' qualifications or next year will be a repetition of the years that have passed. Originality, enthusiasm, initiative, ability! Look for these four qualities in the man and then the man for the position will be found.

At the other campus elections, about two-thirds of the student body have turned out. Take, for instance, the beauty contest. After the results had been shown through The Eagle, there were cries of derision and amazed surprise that certain women had been selected. Yet, after rock bottom was reached, these opinions were found to have come from those who never voted.

If the man desired is to get into office, THAT MAN MUST BE VOTED FOR. This week notices were distributed about town which read: "Vote as you please, but VOTE!" That notice should be placed conspicuously in the corridors, for when one votes independently it is for the best interests of student welfare.

Personal friendship is fine, but votes for a personal friend, just because he is one, is wrong. Put the best man in, no matter if he is classified as "the worst enemy." He will, at least, make more of a success of his position. As one famous statesman said, "Your success in life depends on the number of enemies you have." That should not always be taken literally, but the man who has enemies is the man who makes others sit up and take notice.

Again, today is election day, and the future life of Santa Barbara State College depends on the way and the spirit of the voting today.
