Phelps Announces First Work on New College

Excavation Starts Monday on Athletic Field and Stadium to Adjoin Cliff of Leadbetter Mesa Tract

State college students were thrilled this week with a confirmation of rumors by President Clarence L. Phelps that a new athletic field and stadium would be started on the Leadbetter hill site, where a proposed new Santa Barbara State college has been delayed regardless of all local efforts made for state grants for the institution. The new stadium marks what is hoped to be the opening signal for the building of the new school.

The first project for the new Santa Barbara State college on the Leadbetter site will start Monday morning with the beginning of work on a college athletic field and stadium, on the beach adjoining the mesa tract, President Clarence L. Phelps announced earlier this week. Phelps said that contract for removing 20,000 cubic yards of dirt from Leadbetter cliff had been let to the Western Motors Transfer company of Santa Barbara, with the latter company starting its work Monday, to complete the initial step in three weeks.

Rushing the project in order that it may be ready for use next season, the removal of the 20,000 cubic yards of earth will provide a good foundation of the college stadium. The earth will be used as the base for the athletic field, covering the sand region below the cliff. Installation of a water system will follow the excavation work immediately, in order that a turf may be planted in time to provide a good gridiron for the coming fall season. With the water system in, and the turf planted, construction will get underway on the stadium building.

Money Ready

The college has a fund of $40,000 set aside for the project with more funds being expected to complete the work. Actual work was delayed until recently to ascertain ownership of the beach land, with present arrangements giving the college the land through state lease from the city for 99 years at one dollar per year. The stadium is planned to hold 10,000 persons being built of concrete foundations with wood seats and framework on the back side of the oval, with temporary bleachers being used until further allotments are made to make an enclosed stadium.

It is believed that with the start of the first unit of the new college, construction of a $500,000 college plant on the mesa site, which is planned as the beginning development of a complete new campus on the Leadbetter site will not be delayed for many years.

Roadrunner Revue Open Intensive Play Practices

With only three weeks off until the production dates of May 11, 12, the cast of the Roadrunner Revue's presentation of the original story and play "Molly," by Captain Paul Jones and Harry Nethery, began work with a vengeance this week in order to whip the show into final shape.

Dance chorus rehearsals which have lagged a little to date will be accelerated to almost double speed during this coming week, according to Harry Sloan, dance director, and complete show rehearsals will begin the week after next.

Specialty numbers for the college life comedy-farce will be rehearsed with the acts promising to be the finest in the history of the Revue, according to Director "Petie" McKinney.

Walt Bradbury, publicity chairman for the show, has announced the beginning of an extensive campaign for ticket sales which will start next week with a window in the College box-office open and a station downtown for sales.

Most of the work of the revue director from now on will be to coordinate and set continuity for the entire show, as the cast of principles are set in their action, it was reported by the Revue committee which met in executive session last Tuesday afternoon in the Student Body office.

NOTED WRITER SPEAKS

Ramon J. Sender, termed by David Lloyd George "the most distinguished of all modern Spanish writers," will arrive in Santa Barbara Sunday, April 24 and will speak in Recreation Center that evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. Sender, although in his early thirties, has already achieved a world-wide reputation as a novelist and essayist. His latest work to be published in American is the novel "Counter Attack in Spain."

Duckham Wins Office for Next Year

President-Elect Commences Outline of His Program for Appointing Aides

Doug Duckham, sophomore candidate for the student body presidency, maintained his lead in the opening election voting of April 6, to defeat David Jones by a count of 41 votes to 246 votes in the April 8 reelection to become the head of extracurricular affairs at Santa Barbara State college for the 1938-39 session. This week, president-elect Duckham is calling for all persons who wish to apply for committee offices for the coming year, to submit written applications to him immediately. The appointments to include the heads of the various standing committees of the student body will be made before the end of the semester and approved by the legislative council.

Past records of the winner show that he was president of his student body at Woodrow Wilson high, going to U.C.L.A., from where he transferred to Santa Barbara. Since he has been here, he has been instrumental in the organizing of the Speech Arts Bureau and is a member of the Gaucho baseball team. Working with Duckham next year will be Jean McArthur, vice-president; Eleanor Benham, secretary; with elective council members including Grace Williams, Ellen Seymour, Christina MacKellar, Tom Wharton, Frank Meredith, and Marcellus Jones.

In order that he may acquaint himself with the duties of the position, the student council, in its last meeting, voted to send the president-elect and Danny D'Alfonso, A.S.B. prexy, to represent Santa Barbara State at the Far Western conference of student body presidents, being held in May at Seattle, Washington. Tommy Hart, State boxer of fame, acted as campaign manager for Duckham in the two elections.

Remodeling Music Hall Surprises Many Students

When music majors and students of music returned to classes in the Music hall this week an almost unfamiliar sight met their eyes.

During the Easter vacation period workmen had completed the interior remodeling of the room, converting it from little more than an unfinished "glorified barn," according to an unmentionable music department personage, into a nice-looking music studio rehearsal room as it should be.

In fact, although only whispered about, the students were beginning to refer to their classes as being in "the barn" when certain courses were presented in this room.

Now with the new fireproof, asbestos siding and general structural improvement of the room, it will be referred to only as the melody studio.

Much elated over the long desired improvement were Mrs. Anita Priest, music instructor; and Robert L. Barron, orchestra and instrumental instructor.

"Macbeth" Matinee Seats to Be Sold

A few seats will be sold to Student body members for this afternoon's matinee performance of "Macbeth," layers' club presentation, at 2:30 p.m.

These seats will be sold only to those students who are unable to attend the Saturday evening performance as most of the afternoon's seats will be held for some 750 high school students. Admission will be the regular 49 cents, and tickets may be secured at the College box-office.

Relations Club Speaks on Air

KTMS Series Presents State Students in Discussion of Isolation

"Isolation or Collective Action: A Policy to Keep America Out of War" was the subject of the special Gaucho hour radio broadcast last night over the News-Press station, KTMS. The program under the direction of the International Relations club was one in the series of broadcasts by the various college departments.

Speeches explaining each policy were given by Frank Douglas on isolation and Jack Alderman on collective action. Following the talks a discussion period was carried on in which Bill Pambrum, Christina MacKellar and Margaret Wilson participated as well as the two main speakers. Presiding over the speeches and discussion was Robert Scalapino while Elbert Phelps acted as announcer for the program. Dr. Harry Girvetz acted as adviser to the group.

Douglas Speaks

Opening with an explanation of the gravity of the subject by Scalapino a plea was made for an answer to the dilemma of America in the present world of chaos. In his talk on isolation Douglas put forward the opinion that the only way for America to keep out of war was to maintain a distance between the political affairs of Europe and America. He explained how the Western hemisphere might care for itself in case of war.

Following Douglas, Alderman made a plea that America adopt a responsibility for world peace. He put forward the belief that if America did not act now in cooperation with the democratic nations of the world that the world could not be saved from war.

In the discussion Pambrum, MacKellar, and Wilson put forward their queries of both policies and attempted to aid in creating a better understanding of difficulties that might stand in the way of either action or isolation.

The club will present a radio program over the State college half hour on KTMS April 21. A topic of discussion will be "Isolation versus Collective Action." Students participating in this will meet at the home of Christina MacKellar for conference Wednesday, April 13.

Clendenen Wins Phi Delta Pi Election for Presidency

In the regular meeting of Phi Delta Pi, honorary women's physical education fraternity, Ethel Clendenen was named to the presidency at the meeting held Monday evening in the A.W.S. clubroom, with Rena Sacconaghi, president, presiding. Other officers chosen in the election included Jessie Lady, secretary; Pym Lucas, treasurer; and Rena Sacconaghi, editor and historian.

The honorary group also voted to sponsor a candy sale on May Day, May 5th on the campus. Interesting talks on Camp Fire Girls were given by pledges with Lois Arthur speaking on "The Organization of the Camp Fire Girls" and Eunice Mohri talking on "The Way the Camp Fire Girl Spends Leisure Time." Members attending the meeting included Mrs. Winifred Hodgins, Miss Gladys Van Fossen, Rena Sacconaghi, Ethel Clendenen, Francis Jane Miller, Jessie Lady, Pym Lucas, and pledges Lois Arthur and Eunice Mohre.

Officers Enforce Parking Rules

With the continued violations of established parking rules on the local campus including reckless and fast driving, blocking of entrances, double parking, and student cars in faculty reserved places, the administration announced yesterday, that enforcement by law officers of the city and state will begin next week. Due to refusal of students to cooperate with the welfare requests, the entire matter has been turned over to local police, who will begin regular duty on the campus on Monday, April 25, issuing tickets to offenders. No violators will be warned, first offenses will call or a citation in court, similar to any other traffic violation in the city.

The action is taken under a section of the California Vehicle code which states that all state school grounds are subject to law enforcement by state officers. The new system will be completed with the placing of red "no parking" zones, yellow 20-minute loading zones, and other warning signs. All student's cars found in faculty and individually designated parking places will be issued court citations. In addition to this action, the near future will also see a police checkup on all cars on the campus for proper licensing, brakes, lights, windshield wipers, horns, mufflers, etc.

'Macbeth' Opens in College Auditorium

Hile Outstanding in Lead Role with Theda Call, Jorgensen Receiving Plaudits of 'First Nighters'

By NORMAN PHILLIPS

Opening night for "Macbeth," the first Shakespearean drama attempted by the State College Players' club, was heralded with the success given only to the unusual performance. The professional portrayal of Macbeth by Frederic Hile was matched by the natural dramatic ability of Theda Call as Lady Macbeth.

A record audience of townspeople and students came to marvel at the ability of the entire cast's mastery of the time-honored characterizations and the smoothness with which the play progressed. Theda Call carried away many additional honors for her sleep walking scene. Audience applause brought a curtain call and she was presented with a lovely bouquet of flowers. Frederic Hile also brought additional exclamation for his individual scenes. And in another which Shakespeare wrote for his principle characters, Lloyd Borstelmann as the unstable porter did his part with outstanding ability.

Excellent Cast

The supporting players were excellently cast. William Hurst taking the part of Duncan did his part well and could be heard excellently failing slightly to use his voice to advantage in expression. Clyde Cadwell turned in a talented bit of acting as Malcom. Alfred Artuso a bleeding sergeant and later one of the murderers was capable. W. L. Robertson, Don Wooten, Carl Jorgensen and Bert Fitzpatrick were noblemen who deserve much credit. Jed Blake as Banquo, a general and his son Fleance played by Bernice Shedd received much attention for their work as a faultless unit. Alice Goff as Lady Macduff and Vivien Girvetz, her son are credited with their effective dramatic scene. Charles Gifford worked efficiently as the servant of Macbeth. Norman Becchio appearing in two roles, an apparition and a messenger maintained his record of consistent performance. Anna Lou Jacobs and Margaret Busby appearing as a gentlewoman and a lady-in-waiting acted with proper smoothness. Rosalind Kelley, Winifred Nichols and Alberta Adams were the weird sisters who begin the tragedy and guide its progress. They colorfully enacted the superstition and witchery intended by Shakespeare in this modernized version.

The letters to be sent out will include a description of the program and will tell schools how to make arrangements for their representatives. Also they will enclose cards which schools coming will send back.

Dance at Vet Building

It was decided that the dance should be held during the afternoon at the Veterans' Memorial building while beach sports were on at the same time. A regular orchestra will be obtained for the dance.

Foundation for Progress

With the current school year looking down the home stretch after Easter vacation, we can not be wrong in saying that this college year has the appearance of being one of the best in our history. This week saw first announcement of a long delayed start on a new college plant on the Leadbetter site, with the beginning of the athletic field and stadium set to get underway on Monday of next week.

But the hard grind in the next seven weeks preceding finals will test each student to capacity if the campus calendar is capable of showing the future. Last night the college Thespians faced an opening night of the Shakespearean drama "Macbeth" with marked success. In the field of sports we have a tennis team, a track team, a baseball team, and a fencing team competing in intercollegiate activities with spring football in its opening days. In student body affairs, we have just completed an election which has brought out much interest in student government and which displayed a fine spirit worthy of commendation. The student council will be especially active in the next few months working on budgetary allotments for the coming year, approving new appointments also.

Other extra-curricular activities will include the annual Estudiantina playday with a possible 500 visiting high school students being expected to come to our campus for the larger part of a day. The Men's Hobo Brawl will bring the male element of the college together for their one big event of the year. The May Festival, so ably sponsored by the Women's Physical education department, is scheduled for the near future. The annual fun-fest called the Roadrunner Revue is now in rehearsal with a huge cast taking part in what promises to be a new and thrilling production.

Graduating seniors will go into their last weeks with the fullest calendar of any one group with all the prerequisite work to do to complete graduation requirements, to begin their work in finding teaching work or planning to go on to further study in graduate work. Added to their full social program of senior dinners, picnics and dances, their's promised to be the most trying and the most envied of coming activities.

Fraternities and sororities are now beginning their highlight event, the formal dinners and dances which complete the school year for these groups. All-in-all, it is apparent that studies are going to have trouble being put on the schedule of a student who fails to heed the warnings of professors. That scholastic work is the first justification of college attendance, should be a very vivid thought in the mind of each student, that he may be one of the many who fails to reach the desired goal of a diploma, and the broadening of knowledge and understanding for which it should stand. Certainly we have made progress, progress in wide steps, but no progress will stand unless it first meets with a continued improvement of scholastic attainment.

Welcome Presidents!

El Gaucho wishes to extend its welcome to the eleven visiting presidents of the Southern California Collegiate Presidents Association, who will hold their bi-monthly meeting on the local campus next Thursday, to wish that they might stay longer on the local campus, with the hope that a better relationship may be preserved among the many schools of the southland of California. To the president-elects and guests who accompany the association members, we also welcome and extend a cordial invitation to visit our campus at any time. May your short stay be of value to you, as it will be to us.

To Danny D'Alfonso a special word of congratulations for making the local conference possible, knowing that it will benefit to our school, and to our student body with the participation of State college's 1938-39 president, Doug Duckham.

Melody Stories
Feature Music
Listening Hour

Featuring an hour of melodic stories, the all-request Music-Listening hour recorded program will feature "Pacific 231" by Honegger and "The Sorcerer's Apprentice" by Paul Dukas when the fifth program of the series is presented Wednesday at 12 m. in room 61.

"Pacific 231" is a musical description of the trip of a locomotive. It is popular with musical audiences as a novelty selection because of the clear-cut and structural power of the piece. "The Sorcerer's Apprentice" is the old French folk-tale of the witch's apprentice who learned how to force a broom to bring buckets of water from a well, but was not taught how to stop it. In the story the worker frets over what might happen if the sorceress does not return in time to stop the broom's deluge. At the last minute, however, she does return and stops it. The music is very transparent in depicting the story and will be pleasing to the ear and also very interesting to the listeners.

Inaugurated several weeks ago by Mrs. Anita Priest, whose aim it is to present a lasting and worthwhile series of programs for the students, the fourth concert featured Johann Strauss' "Tales from a Viennese Woods" and the 3rd and 4th movements from Dvorak's "New World Symphony."

THE

By NORMAN PHILLIPS

We thought a loud enough complaint was made last year by the male members of the student body to effect a change but the women still have a corner on the May Queen market. The custom probably dates back to the time when there was only one man and all the rest women on campus—during the last World War. Quite a bit of "caterwauling" campaigning might have been eliminated if the men chose the queen of the day as is done on nearly every other campus, except perhaps Vassar or Smith. At least there should be "man suffrage" with equal right for both sexes. The honor of being May Queen would be just that much greater. Or how about a May King elected by the men to give greater pomp and circumstance to the welcoming of spring?

Prexy D'Alfonso comes through again with another of his ideas. He suggests naming the three principle roads on campus. The purpose would be two fold for it would make it easier to direct the newcomer and the names could honor our own greats and near-greats of previous years. The names of our buildings with the exception of Ebbetts hall have also grown old without receiving appropriate titles. Who or what committee would decide upon suitable names is not definite but the choice of some honor society, student committee or the council would doubtless be acceptable to the student body.

Fashion notes: Joe College pays an average of $29.73 for a suit. But dividing total U.S. stock of men's clothes would give half a suit and one-sixth of an overcoat to each man. (Hope I get a pair of pants and the pockets of the overcoat when the time comes). Teetotalers lose ground as statistics show that more wine is consumed than before the noble experiment and California absorbs seven times more than the average for the country. War signs are on the increase. Property on war invasion routes in England have fallen in value. Tinfoil collectors are again on the increase as prices rise. United States army is now recruiting to fill swollen quotas for service in the Pacific outposts.

Elections are over for another year. Hats off to the winners and losers alike. They both have taken their lot well with an unusual show of sportsmanship. That's enough to make it worth while. Good luck to Duckham and his fellow office-holders for it looks like another good year!

Whiskers are in vogue if not in style. Three weeks to go for the fellows who stay with the ordeal but before the judging there's many a touchy date who has read the roadside ads and will put an end to a lot of noble attempts.

This world is not as bad a world As some would like to make it; Though whether god, or whether bad, Depends on how you take it.

College 'Beachcombers' Grow
Spring Attitude Distracts 'Ho-Hummers'

In spite of the fact that Spring weather is supposed to usher in a spirit of lazy inactivity for some unknown reason the campus of our fair institution is literally buzzing with life. Any student trying to be sane and gather a little relaxation is old fashioned and decidedly out of place in this hum-drum college life we lead. Of course students are still ditching class as they usually do in Spring but the old essence of "ho-hum" is missing.

The beach is still the gathering place of those who should be in class, and at all times of the day there is a generous number of students to be found "combing" the waterfront and turning "beach-rat" brown. However even at this age old sanctuary from educational persecution things are not the same. People cut classes to go to the beach and rest and invariably end up playing football, baseball and some of them have even gone so far as to go in swimming. In fact a good number of the college "nighties" have been indulging in the more strenuous sports of the beach merry-go-round and the swings and the teetertotters.

Invade Campus

But that's not all . . . Even the sanctity of our own beloved campus has been invaded. It's not even safe to sleep in a shady spot any more without running danger of being trampled in the rush. What with victims of fraternity pledging struggling through hell week, and the cast of "Macbeth" struggling through last minute rehearsals this educational emporium has been turned into a raging inferno of activity.

It just ain't legal . . . it's unorthodox . . . and almost sacrilegious that Spring should fail to induce its usual effect. All this isn't enough . . . students are even getting constructive. That is if the mess that they've made of the print shop can be called constructive. Just to add an addition of a few feet they have turned the print shop into such a mess that students are explaining their absences to a printing press and wiping surplus ink off of Porter . . . wotta life.

And now we have the whiskerino . . . the last straw, the grand finale, well anyway it's just too much. Nothing more can be done to turn the campus topsy-turvy so now they're starting in on the students. Perfectly innocent and harmless students will have to coax whiskers and beards or be mouses. Those who are able will appear to have a heck of a good time cultivating furry growths upon their pan while underneath it all they will tire of tripping on their beards and wish they had learned to squeak like respectable mouses in the first place.

Statements

The Alpha Phi Omega, national honorary service fraternity, will hold a special breakfast meeting Wednesday April 27 at 7:00 a.m. in Ebbetts hall. All members are urgently requested to sign the notice on the bulletin board for reservation. Election of officers will take place and plans for the rest of the semester will be completed.

RICHARD CHATTEN,
President

There will be no meeting of the College "Y" this Wednesday, because of the special breakfast being held by Alpha Phi Omega fraternity.

MARCELLUS JONES,

There will not be a college sponsored trip to the islands. It seems impossible to conduct a satisfactory trip since no boat is available that will carry a large group. Two trips, as have been the custom recently, have not been satisfactory. The committee of the outing club feels that with the present facilities it will not encourage a college-sponsored trip.

The odd antics of a pair of Washington and Jefferson college students recently brought the eyes of the nation to rest on this 145-year old school. The students phoned the Czechoslovakian embassy in Washington late one night and offered the services of the "Thomas Jefferson Brigade" to the Czechs for the purpose of "repelling the invasion of the Huns."

They claimed to have raised 200 men and 60 horses. Needless to say, they had not. Next day they were confronted with a telegram signed by the Czechoslovakian embassy which read: "Offer greatly appreciated. Can you come here to discuss plans?" At first rather bewildered, the pair immediately went to work to

Dave Westcott, untiring stage manager, after finishing work on the Macbeth set will start on the college set for the Revue. Everything seems to be progressing rapidly for a clever and glittering stage show on May 11 and 12.

executive committee is holding frequent meetings in preparation for the annual "Day of Play," sponsored annually by the college for high school seniors in surrounding counties. This all-day celebration or Spring blow-off will be held the 13th of May and promises a program of campus entertainment and beach fun.

AT LAST THE WORK

is going to start on the new athletic field and stadium for the Gaucho grid stars to romp on next year. With an excellent football record behind them, the team is deserving of a stadium of its own and a chance to take care of a crowd in "big-time" fashion. No longer will Coach Harder have to barter with the high school over Peabody stadium or insult the visiting teams by inviting them to play on the dirt of Pershing Park. The college has come a long way, when one stops to think of it, since the three hundred extra spectators watched the Whittier-Santa Barbara game in 1935 around bonfires bordering the yard markers at Pershing.

Airwaves

Sunday marks the beginning of daylight saving time in the east and marks the beginning of the radio program mixups for the west. All of the programs that are transcontinental will be heard one hour earlier and the local or western programs will be shifted to new times and days to allow the uninterrupted broadcast of the coast to coast hookups. This, on the surface, seems strange. There are over half of the coast-to-coast programs that are broadcast the second time for the benefit of western listeners and one would think that the western edition could be broadcast at the regular time. There is, however, a good reason for this.

Most of the nation-wide broadcasts are broadcast twice the same day, one broadcast for the eastern listeners and the second broadcast for the western listeners. There is an interval of two hours between the start of each of these broadcasts (one hour in between for the hour programs) and if the western broadcasts would be continued at the regular time it would force the studio audience to sit through the same show twice and make the actors work for two hours straight. So with this in mind all the time of the program is changed.

Don't forget—all of the big programs will be one hour earlier starting Sunday.

I'll bet you didn't know that Abner Doncourt is the title by which Ken Murray's childhood-friends know him by.

Listeners need to have no fear that John Hix will ever run out of unusual facts for the "Strange As It Seems" broadcasts. He has a file of more than 103,000 unused items—all of which are arranged, written, and ready for broadcast at a moment's notice.

Don Prindle, writer of Joe Penner's weekly fun-fest, has been badly bitten by the camera bug. The recent arrival of his new daughter, Carol Ann, prompted his interest in photography and he bought a small motion picture camera with which to keep a weekly record of the youngster's progress in life. Two days later he was shooting everything from the interior decorators who are putting the finishing touches on his North Hollywood home, to the cast members of the Penner broadcasts. Before another week had passed, Don had swelled his camera equipment to include everything except sound. Now, he's planning to add a laboratory to his home so he'll have some place to put all of the apparatus, as well as to tinker with odd angles and effects.

Franciska Gaal, diminutive Hungarian actress who has been in the United States for a short time, can't quite figure curves they throw in the country. During a guest "star appearance on the Al Jolson show, Miss Gaal commented: "I try so hard to speak the American language correctly, and Parkyakarkus, who can speak English well, makes his living by distorting the language."

More than seventy miles of wire are used in the organ in the new C. B. S. studios at "Columbia Square," in Hollywood.

Martha Raye, posing for photographs with C. Aubrey Smith, tried to place one of the English actor's monocle's in her eye, but it just wouldn't stay there. After numerous futile attempts to lodge it, Martha said: "Oh boy! Guess I'll have to hold it in my mouth."

This seemed to upset Mr. Smith. As he left the studio he took a top coat belonging to Parkyakarkus, leaving his own behind. "Now I'll have to C. Aubrey Smith again before he sails for England," Parky commented, "and I'll wish him bum voyage."

Hollywood's most historic corner received a new label March 18 when a sign reading "Columbia Square" was officially installed on the northwest corner of Sunset Boulevard and Gower St., famous as the site of Hollywood's first motion picture studio and now entering a new era with completion of Columbia Broadcasting System's new $2,000,000 studios and offices.

With the CBS studios located on the northwest corner of the intersection, and Columbia Pictures Studios on the southeast corner, the site was officially named "Columbia Square" by the Los Angeles Board of Public Works. The Automobile Club of Southern California erected the identifying sign under official orders, with the assistance of five young CBS starlets, Mary Lou Cook, Gay Seabrook, Lurene Tuttle, Rosemary DeCamp, and Mary Rossetti.

Saturday, April 30, has been set for the opening date of the new five-story CBS structure which will house both studios and offices of the network's western headquarters. The building is located on the spot where David Horsley built Hollywood's first film studio in October of 1911. Dorothy Davenport, Harold Lockwood, Hoot Gibson, Jack Conway, Betty Compton, Wallace Reid and many other stars of silent films performed before cameras in the Horsley studios.

Since that time, many of Hollywood's now-famous actors and directors have been associated with various film enterprises quartered at "Columbia Square."

Varsity Wins Six Games in Easter Battles

State Tops Opponents on Barnstorm Tour

Harder Sees Men Defeat Fresno, Compton, Santa Monica, Oxy; Poets Triumph Twice After First Loss

Starting out with Fresno State and finishing up with Whittier the Gauchos varsity baseball squad experienced a show of strength that brought supporters of the team more than ever to its defense as the best varsity squad in college history. In the string of eight games the Gauchos won six and dropped two, which is a good standing for baseball teams.

Opening with games Friday and Saturday April 8 and 9 against Fresno State in Pershing Park the Gauchos under the direction of "Colonel Jake" Follett won the first game six to one and the second three to one. In the first game Don Ripsch had his foot spiked after playing a good game at first. In the second game Murray scored a home run.

Beat Compton
Traveling into the southland the Gauchos first beat Compton eight to five. Russell starred in this game with three hits for four attempts. The following day the Staters beat Santa Monica jaysee 19 to 4. In this game there apparently were no stars as Coach Harder let anybody that wanted to get in the game do his dirt.

After loafing Wednesday the varsity moved into Eagle Rock and beat Occidental by a score of six to two. In this game Lee collected two runs while Merlo, Gardenhire, Murray and Erhard collected the rest.

Opening the final series of the trip the Gauchos defeated Whittier eight to four. With Duckham and McNeice pitching the Staters held the Poets to eight hits while they collected 15 themselves. Saturday the good dame Fortune turned against State and the poets won two games by scores of two to one and three to two. The first game went to Whittier when Kruger knocked a homer and brought in a second run in the final inning. The second game also came in the final inning when two runs came on a two-bagger.

Gauchos pitchers, Erhard, McNeice, and Gardenhire, all were accredited with wins during the tour.

SPORT SHORTS

By WALDO PHELPS

Coach Willie Wilton is a busy man these days, even busier than usual, as now is the time when he begins work laying foundations for two equally famous Santa Barbara sports offerings: the Gauchito foot ball team and the Annual Open Track and Field Meet, which is sponsored jointly by the college and the local chamber of commerce.

Football fans in Santa Barbara, in fact throughout the wide area of western states where the Gauchos are scheduled to appear, will watch with special interest the developments of the spring practice which has gotten underway on the local campus. For this is the year that other schools have been working for—1940, when Coaches Spud Harder and Willie Wilton call roll and find eight men who have been first string players for two years missing. Many schools who played Santa Barbara State during this period are now laying plans for revenge and other schools quietly waited for the year when El Gauchito was not supposed to be quite as strong due to the heavy losses from graduation.

And the losses were just about as severe as they could be. We remember from last year what happened when Yeager, Oldershaw, or Mulock were out of the lineup, but this season will find in addition to these players Hart, Morelli, Young, Hayman and Pollock watching the Gauchos from the sidelines. So while Coach Harder is keeping the Gauchito baseball team on the winning side of the scoreboard, Willie Wilton will open drills on Phelps field to build the Big Green team up to cope with the schedule which is laid out for next fall.

All reports indicate that Willie is promoting the finest open track and field meet which Santa Barbara has ever seen. He has cut out the Junior high school and high school events, which really had no place in the meet, and has attempted to bring the west's outstanding performers to Santa Barbara for the competition. With the entry of U. S. C., U. C. L. A., and the San Francisco Olympic club, the entry list will boast of many track men that most of us have wanted to see in action for a long time.

THIS and THAT
Congratulations are in order for both varsity and freshmen baseball teams, which completed extensive trips during Easter vacation with almost perfect records

Bengal Squad Plays State Here Today

Look Out Peru!

Gauchito Squad
Tiger Squad Enters As Underdog Against

After a successful barnstorming tour down south last week, the State college horsehiders return to the diamond wars tomorrow when they battle Occidental in a double header at Pershing park. The first game starts at 1:30.

Gauchos Favored

Santa Barbara will enter the game odds on favorites, due to their 6-2 victory over the Tigers last week and their decisive wins over La Verne, the team that tripped Oxy, 2-1. The invaders have two good twirlers in Oscar Riedel and Bill Blaylock, sophomores, but lack of hitting punch has held them back throughout the entire season. However, with the team at full strength for the first time, they might find their batting eyes and give the Hardermen a lot of trouble.

Last Home Games

Unless Coach Harder schedules some post season contests these games will afford the local fans the last chance to see the Gauchos in action, as next week the big series with San Diego on the latter's diamond is on tap. The Gauchos have only lost three games this year, so be on hand to cheer State on to another pair of victories. Admission is 10 cents with a student body activities' book.

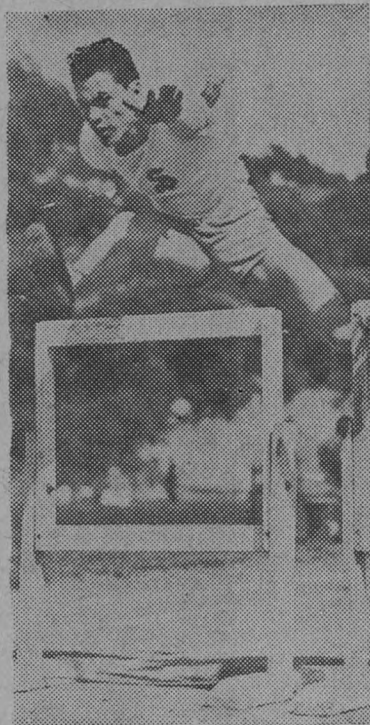

Having lost only two games this season, Jimmie Van Meter's freshmen baseball team will attempt to continue its winning streak tomorrow at the expense of Bakersfield junior college on Cabrillo field at 2:15 p.m. The Gauchos defeated the Oilers 6-1 in a game played last week.

Fencers Trek to Pasadena for Meet

Santa Barbara State college fencers will travel south today to meet Pasadena junior college in a fencing tourney. The meet will consist of three three-man events. These are the sabre with Nelson, Gross, Hart or Mansfield in the foil; Hurst, Gross, Foulston or Nelson in the epee and the sabre. Captain Paul Jones will accompany the team.

The Staters are the favorites in the meet which will start at noon before the entire Pasadena student body. Marlin Nelson, captain and coach, acted as an official in the meet recently when the junior college met the local high school when the high school won. Later Nelson led his men in a tie match with the high school. The fencers will be the guests of the Pasadenaans at a dinner in the evening.

Jack Gross recently took second place in the junior division of the Pacific Coast finals of the sabre tourney.

When Bill Gray hit his mark of 15 seconds for the 120 high hurdles in the meet with Cal Tech and Compton jaysee he not only collected a point or first place but also secured a place as coach in Peru for a year from Nick Carter, former State coach, who is now coach of the Peruvian Olympic team.

State Netters Beat U. S. F.

Allen, Peres, Kakimoto,
Dorrance Win; Koury,
Jackson Lose

Victory once more came to Santa Barbara State's freshman tennis team Saturday, April 9, when the University of San Francisco furnished the victims in the form of their supposedly unmatched varsity. The tourney was conducted on a match play basis and had six singles and three doubles. Of the nine matches State men won six and San Francisco captured three.

Winning matches for the Gauchos were Leslie Allen, Jack Peres, Tommy Kakimoto, and Earl Dorrance. Mike Koury and Bob Jackson lost their matches. In the doubles Allen and Koury won, as did Jackson and Dorrance. Kakimoto and Peres lost.

Saturday the freshmen will play at Taft junior college there. This team will be the identical group as the San Francisco meet. On April 28-30 the Ojai tourney will take place.

Frosh Capture Four Wins in Valley Tour

Van Meter Directs Men in Victories Over
All Opponents

Bringing home the bacon continued to be the job of the frosh baseball team could handle without much trouble when they swept all four opponents in their valley barnstorming attack over the Easter vacation. Victims for the frosh were Taft jaysee, Bakersfield jaysee, Tulare high, and Delano high.

Starting with the Taft game Jim Fitzgerald handled the pitching assignment and allowed four hits. Meanwhile the Gauchito batsmen collected ten runs to win, 10-1. Against Bakersfield Wrightson struck out 14 and allowed 3 hits. Markham had a home run in this game with the score ending, 6-1.

Against Tulare Fitzgerald again allowed four hits with Wilson collecting two for three. With a crowd of 600 watching the frosh won 8-1. Finishing against Delano the frosh had their toughest game winning 3-1. Going into the ninth the score was tied at 1-1 when Wilson doubled and scored Fitzgerald and Morgan. At this game a crowd of 1200 turned out. Another game with Delano was promised the frosh for next year.

Frosh Tracksters Trim Two Teams

While San Francisco State was trimming the varsity on Phelps field the freshmen were victors over a combined team of San Luis Obispo junior college and Santa Maria junior college by a score of 70-61 Saturday, April 9.

High scoring honors went to Jack Frisholtz, Gauchito weight tosser and high jumper, who took fifteen points. He accomplished this feat of victory by winning the javelin with a toss of 142 feet, the discus with the distance of 118 feet 8 inches, and the high jump at 6 feet.

Kilroy Wins
Other firsts for the Gauchitos were taken by Kilroy in the 120 yard high hurdles with a time of 15.4, Joham in the shot put with a throw of 37 feet 5 1/2 inches, Kilroy in the 220 yard low hurdles, and Jones in the 2 mile run.

Gauchito Thinclads Bow to Compton, Cal Tech

Two College Records Fall As Captain Gray Runs High Sticks in 15 Flat, Wells Gibson Dashes 440 Race in 50.3 at South Meet

Facing one of the strongest of the Southern California track teams the Gauchos found they had more than their equal when Compton junior college captured a three way meet with Cal Tech second and State third. Point total for the meet was 87 for Compton, 39 1/2 for Cal Tech and 31 1/2 for State. However because several men were unable to make the trip south the Gauchos were not represented at their full strength.

Gauchos Meet Oxy Here

Bengal Tracksters Invade
Peabody Stadium for Night Contest

Gauchito track fans will have an opportunity of watching one of the best track squads in Southern California when Occidental college meets our own Gauchos in Peabody stadium Saturday night. The fact that Claude Kilday will not compete is little consolation, for without him Occidental should still take nearly all the first places.

Santa Barbara's hopes for points faded somewhat when it was announced that Howard Yeager would not compete. Sprague in the javelin seems to have about the best chance for a first over the Oxy team. McArthur may garner some points in the sprints where he will duel a former school-mate, Howard Hedges, both attended Wilson High in Long Beach. Gibson, if he duplicates his performance of last week, may win the 440. Frisholtz, if he can jump 6'1" may cop the high jump. This meet will also mark the first work out of the relay team to be sent to the Fresno Relays, Bill Gray and Bill McArthur will run two of the laps.

Gray Runs
Probably the best and closest race of the evening will be the high hurdles in which Oxy has two top performers and Santa Barbara Bill Gray, Clyde Frisholtz and Fortress. Fortress is returning to competition after a two week lay-off. In the half-mile Oxy will have no opposition as Bowlus has been transferred to Holding attention of all local fans was Captain Bill Gray who took the 120 yard high hurdles in 15 seconds and by doing so won his trip to Peru. This trip has been promised to him by Coach Nick Carter who is now in charge of the Peruvian Olympic team if he should make the mark of 15 seconds.

Al Sprague heaved the javelin 176 feet 6 inches to win this event. While this was not his best throw of the season it was still one of the best tosses by State college spear throwers for quite a while. Bill Cahill won the second place in this event.

Sets Record

Wells Gibson finished second in the 440 but nevertheless set a new school record of 50.2 seconds. Other Santa Barbarans placing in the meet were Bill McArthur in the century, Frisholtz in the high jump and the 120 high hurdles, Bowlus in the 880, Cahill in the broad jump, Beeson in the two mile, Cahill in the 220 yard low hurdles, and Saxe in the discus.

In a special event the 300 meter Wilbur Miller attempted to break the world's record. However with a time of 33.5 seconds he failed of making the time by three-tenths of a second.

A week previously State dropped a meet to San Francisco State by a score of 86-45. In this meet Gray hit 15.1 and Gibson did the 440 yard dash in 50.7 seconds to break the record for the first time.

the 440 in an attempt to gather as many points as possible. In the mile and 2 mile Oxy has four fine performers and it will be a battle not to win but to keep them from a clean sweep. In the field events Oxy seems to be almost a cinch in all but the javelin. The strength in the field events last week was a big factor in the win over Redlands and Whittier. Middleton in the broad-jump seems to be in a class by himself.

Gamma Delta Chi's Plan Formal Hop

• A meeting of Gamma Delta Chi was held Monday evening at the home of Marion Dredge, 1808 Loma. A five pound box of candy presented to the group by Jean Rench served as an announcement of her engagement to Ralph Zellers of Whittier College.

Plans were made for the sorority spring formal to be held at the La Cumbre Country club on April 30 from 9 to 12 p.m.
