YOUR DAILY HOROSCOPE

By Linda C. Black

Today's Birthday (Feb. 23). You're much stronger this year, and more sensitive, too. Rise above past problems in March. Jump a hurdle to attain the prize in April. Heed a neighbor's expert advice in May. Give thanks for the abundance in June. You're attracted to your soul mate and vice versa in July. Do the work in August and let the partnership develop in September. Take on the thing you fear most in December. It looks scary, but you have magical powers. Old wounds are healed next February.

To get the advantage, check the day's rating: 10 is the easiest day, 0 the most challenging.

Aries (March 21-April 19) - Today is a 6 - Is your conscience bugging you to clean up a mess, even though nobody else knows where it is, or how it happened? If it's still bothering you, it's still bothering somebody else, too. Come clean and you'll feel much better.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) - Today is a 6 - You want to help friends who are doing good work, but don't dip into your savings. Offer your expertise instead. They need that more than they need the money, anyway.

Gemini (May 21-June 21) - Today is a 6 - There's an opportunity for advancement, but you might have to make big changes. Don't say yes or no until you think carefully. If you'll be giving up a bad habit, say yes. If you have to take one on, say no.

Cancer (June 22-July 22) - Today is a 7 - Travel is very appealing, and you might even get out of town. But there is a chore that must be done, so don't forget it. Do it before you leave, instead of while you're on the road. Make sure the car's had an oil change and a tune-up, for example.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22) - Today is a 6 - Have you checked lately to make sure you have all the insurance you need? That's a tedious chore, but this is as good a day to do it. You're almost interested in your future security now. Don't bet on getting by on good looks alone.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) - Today is a 5 - A loved one has what they think is a great idea, so get involved. This person may do something of which you don't approve, such as knock out a wall or something. Make sure it's the wall you want knocked out.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct 22) - Today is a 5 - Your assignment is to take care of somebody else. The first thing you try might not work. Don't focus your attention on yourself. If you can focus on the other person, it may be enough. Be a good listener.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) - Today is a 7 - Your sweetheart or a child wants to spend too much of your money. Don't let them talk you out of your checkbook or credit card. Instead, think of a way to cut costs. If you don't, you'll be paying for this way too long.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) - Today is a 6 - There's something going on at your house that's not the way you want it. You can have a fit, but that probably won't help. Control your temper and don't break anything. The other person may be right this time.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) - Today is a 6 - Study, practice and learn, but don't trust your new skills yet. Make a few prototypes before you start using the expensive materials. It's OK if the first try has to be thrown out.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) - Today is a 6 - An outing with friends will be wonderful, and you may be excited about it. But keep your wits about you and your wallet in your pocket. Don't buy a round of drinks for everybody in the house; it could be more expensive than you expected.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20) - Today is a 6 - You're strong, and you'll have to lay down the law. One of your parents or your boss could have a hissy fit, but that's OK. You've made your point before, no need to argue about it. Let them figure you out for a change.

Too Much House Music Is Bad for the Biorhythms

I was armed with a will to drink and my pen and notebook. Anywhere else, I might not have been able to get the information possible to complete this write-up, but at The Press Room, things were different.

Just by walking into this bar located on Ortega, off of State Street, I could tell I would like this place. Unlike all the other bars, The Press Room was not blaring the latest dance or hip hop music. I was greeted with The Who's "Teenage Wasteland" when I walked in. The walls are adorned with posters of English notoriety, the Beatles, Sid Vicious and Mick Jagger to name a few. There is a jukebox that allows people to choose their own music. This bar was simply a people's bar.

The bartender, Kevin, also known as "Pickle," was very nice to my two buddies and me. He told us stories of crazy things that have gone on in the bar. But mostly his stories revolved around the regulars that frequent the place. There are pictures of most of them on the walls, and it has a sort of "Cheers" feel where everyone knows your name.

Pickle told us of how a couple who got married had their reception at the bar because they were always there. "I see some people five times a week when they come in after work," he said. "You can sit down next to someone and strike up a conversation."

We have anything from plumbers to millionaires come in here."

The Press Room is also the recipient of Guinness' Perfect Pour Award. The testers from England came in and graded on temperature, the correct pour and the taste. I got one for myself, and it was the best glass of beer that I have ever had.

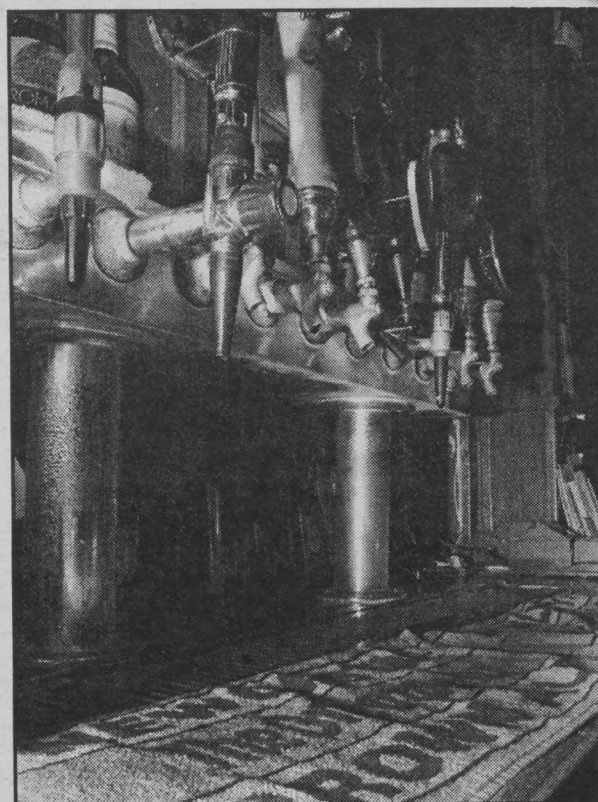

The bathroom walls are adorned with cool posters and in the women's room, there is a chair that represents the slogan of the bar: "The Best to Get Shagged." It's that kind of place where everyone has fun, and you can make life-long friends.

The owner, Raf, is a huge soccer fan and whenever there is a game on, the three televisions above the bar will be tuned in. The bar will fill up to watch the games, and Pickle told us that during the World Cup, the bar opened at 5 a.m. to allow people to watch the game, and the place was packed.

My friend, Yak, tells me that the drinks are stiff and my other buddy, Chaddock, orders another Red Bull and vodka. The drinks come in 13-14 oz. glasses instead of the piddly little 8 oz. glasses you see at the other bars. The Press Room doesn't serve food, except for a free lunch on Sunday, and the theme of the place is definitely alcohol. A lot of other bars focus on dancing, but there isn't even a dance floor at this place. It caters to the people that like to drink, meet people and have fun.

If you're into dancing and getting all sweaty with someone you don't know, go to Q's. But if you are looking for a good time and for good people to talk with, The Press Room is the place to go. Hell, it's the best place to get shagged. What more could you ask for?

The Slices are Big and the Beer Is Cheap at Giovanni's: M.'s Home Slice

Once upon a time, in the not so distant past, I was a freshman with a sour throat and a case of the munchies in the early evening on a fall night.

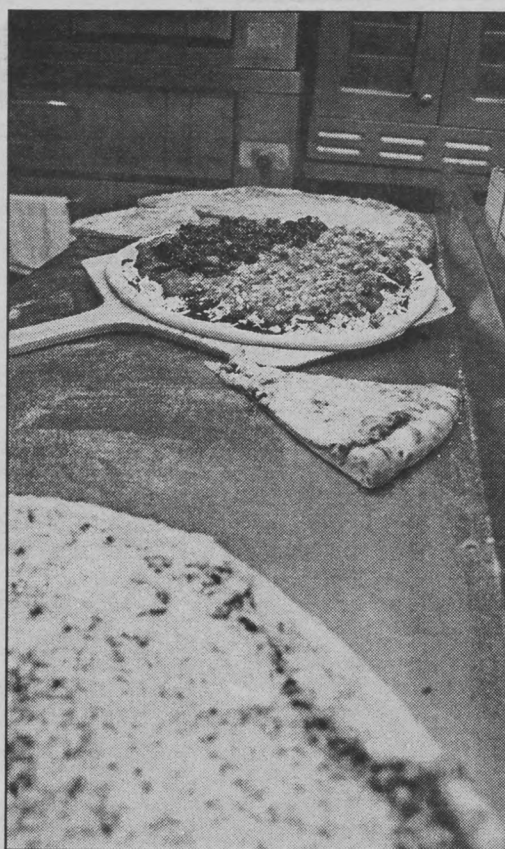

I was new to the small hamlet by the Natty keg and was unaware of many things: greek nonsense, student activists and most importantly Giovanni's. I have to admit that it was my roommate Mike who introduced me to the proprietor of munchies, to the proliferation of giant pizza slices, in short to the only pizza worth eating in I.V.: Giovanni's, or Gio's as it is known to the drunken masses. Mike, understanding my need to ingest large amounts of food at that instant, suggested that we order, as we were too lazy to actually walk anywhere, Giovanni's. He ordered a meatball sub and I, in my ignorance, ordered two slices of pepperoni pizza, unaware of the actual size of a Giovanni's slice. However, 25 minutes, $4, and two slices later, I realized that dorm food was completely unnecessary when I could eat pizza at $1.75 a slice.

So three years, two majors and one pregnancy scare later when I was offered the chance to write a restaurant review for one of my favorite jaunts, I quickly finished my beer and got to work. I am generally a slice-and-salad kind of guy, in part because it only costs $3.70, but since this one was on the Daily Nexus, I splurged and got a large garlic chicken ($14.95).

The pizza was exquisite and so was the beer. Giovanni's is equipped with Firestone, Coors and Coors Light, Bud and Bud Light, Sierra Nevada, Red Wolf, and Fosters on tap, not to mention Rolling Rock, Corona and Sam Adams in a bottle. I got a large pitcher of Sierra Nevada, only $7 during happy hour from 7-9 p.m., and followed it with a monster cup of Firestone for $3.50. With my research completed, my stomach full and my head spinning, I decided to wander from table to table in order to gauge the opinion of others.

What I found out was nobody could hear what I was asking, nor did they care, as it was 9 p.m. and time for Giovanni's weekly Rainforest Thursday concert. What I did discover, mostly from picking at leftovers from patrons who had already left, was that in addition to great pizza, Giovanni's also has the only calzone in town, an awesome selection of sandwiches and many large salads that self-conscious girls can order on first dates in place of food.

Giovanni's has free delivery from 11 a.m. until midnight seven days a week and a spaghetti special Wednesday that includes a large plate of spaghetti and garlic bread for $2.99. So if you are an ignorant freshman or otherwise and haven't stopped by the largest I.V. eatery yet, hop to it and order a beer for me, and if you say Shaun sent you, you will receive absolutely nothing extra for free.
