JUNIOR CLASS MEETS

The junior classmen will meet with their president Jack Hayner in room 91 for their election and to also make plans for the forthcoming junior-senior prom.

Sorely missed on both the home front and the academic front are the nineteen State College men who this week began their training at Northwestern university's midshipman school following their call to the colors under the Navy V-7 reserve program during the Easter vacation.

Among the local college reservists called to training on the eastern campus where many of the student body leaders, John Falxa, president of the student body and Dick O'Brien, vice-president, were included in the call.

Others were Bill Leveille, star basketball player and vice-president of Sigma Alpha Kappa fraternity; Ernie Saenz, football, captain in 1941 and conference boxing champ, 1941-42; Don MacKenzie, acting captain of the Gauche baseball squad and president of Sigma Alpha Kappa; George James, stellar football and baseball player as well as president of Blue Key; Cornie Maaskant, president of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity and baseball manager.

Alex MacGillivray, president of Beta Sigma Chi fraternity and former president of the A.M.S.; Jim Graves, president of the junior high department; Frank Bradley, baseball player and member of Sigma Tau Gamma; Bob Stetler, former president of Gamma Sigma Pi fraternity and president of the local reservists club; John Dawley, vice president of Beta Sigma Chi fraternity; John Ceccarelli, veteran baseball player and secretary of Gamma Sigma Chi fraternity; Bob Sherman, another basketball star; Alfred Grossman, Charles Glotzbach, Maurice McDermott, George Ritchie, and Walter Hoover.

Upon completion of their training at the Northwestern training center the men will receive enlistment commissions.

Due to the large number of executive council members taken in the recent call, plans where underway earlier this week to have the newly elected officers for the 1943-44 year take charge of student activities for the remainder of the semester.

Make-up tests for those students who have failed in any part of the proficiency examinations will be given in the auditorium Tuesday, May 4 starting at 3 p.m., according to Charles L. Jacobs, dean of upper division.

Students deficient in any section of any division of the test must retake the entire division, and will be held responsible for any part taken whether passed formerly or not. No new examinations will be given.

There is a charge of fifty cents for the first make-up test and one dollar for each test thereafter. Receipt must be presented for admission to the examination.

College Enters Science Exhibit

"Science and the War" will mark the theme of the annual science exhibition to be given at the Santa Barbara Museum of Natural History Sunday, May 9 from 1 until 6 p.m.

Presented by the combined personnel of the museum and State College science department, the afternoon's program will include exhibits and discussion groups concerning natural camouflage, applied camouflage, the history of weapons, living parasites and tropical diseases, use of the X-ray, petroleum and its products, pre-historic warfare, steel and iron alloys, organic substances used in war, wartime disease control, plastics, natural rubber preparation, carrier pigeons, victory gardens, science education, and conservation education.

Students Attend Novel Dance

Gaucholand's traditional "Puppy Love" prom will be held this Saturday night in the college cafeteria as members of the freshman and sophomore classes host the student body at their annual costume affair.

According to Bill Starr, frosh president, dancing will be held from 9 until 12 p.m. with the music furnished by the college recording machine.

Aiding in planning the affair are Shirley Rogers, Jack Erickson, sophomore president, Fred Lincoln, Carolyn Hunter, and Rosalie Osborne.

Admission will be free to underclassmen while a charge of 25 cents a couple will be made to outsiders.

Wilf Seaman, senior industrial education major, was the recipient of a distinctive honor this week as Gaucholand voters unanimously approved his abilities to lead the college activities as president during the 1943-44 year.

Seaman gained victory over his opponent Eleanor (Jackie) Morrissey, La Cumbre editor, by a very slim margin, as the final votes were tallied following the election on Friday preceeding the Easter vacation.

Jack Porter Leaves For Army Training

State College lost another of its instructors this week to the need of national defense as Jack Porter, mainstay of the various college publications left the campus Monday for officers training in the U. S. Army.

And with his leaving the Santa Barbara News-Press, with which he was associated before beginning his work at the local college, published the following article giving proper recognition to the man who has built a College Press unequaled on the Pacific coast.

"The man who was an instructor at State College before garnering his A.B. there is going into the Army."

"Jack Porter, a former printer on the Morning Press who graduated from State last June, has volunteered as an officer candidate and left Monday for Fort MacArthur."

"For Porter, this will be but one more rung in the ladder to mount. He's used to climbing, for he's been doing it since he was 12 years old—the hard way."

"At that youthful age, Porter went to work part time in a Nevada print shop and decided printing was 'right up his alley.' Consequently he took a full-time job before finishing high school, and got his education through what he read in type—before it even got into the papers."

"From Nevada it was Sacramento, Woodland, Portland, Boise, Bakersfield, Los Angeles, Ojai and other print shops too numerous to remember, before Porter decided in 1929 that Santa Barbara would be a nice place to live."

By that time, Porter had the reputation in newspaper back shops of "a guy who knows his business," and he came to the Morning Press as assistant foreman. From there he stepped up a rung to the post of printing (Continued on Page Four)

Run-off election for the secretarial post will be held today from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m., as students go to the polls for a final vote on runoff candidates Joan Patten, Alpha Theta Chi, and Beatrice Terres, Tau Gamma Sigma; Phyllis De Pew, having been eliminated in the first balloting.

Also selected to aid in supervising student activities during the coming year are Gloria Gherini, senior women's representative; Shirley Rogers and Hartford Archibald, junior class representatives; and Billye Bowie, sophomore women's representative.

A veteran of Compton high school and Compton Junior college, Seaman has been active on campus as chairman of the Activities Control Board and president of the Industrial education department during the past year. He is also a member of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity.

During his high school career, Seaman served as president of his student body besides being active as president of a high school fraternity and service organization.

Lantz has been associated with student affairs on this campus as president of the speech department. Before enrolling at State he attended U.C.L.A. and the University of California at Berkeley.

As a student of Hollywood High school, he was also active in dramatics, music and athletics.

Four positions in next year's student body government remain to be filled, Chairmen of the rally, social, finance committees and chairman of the Activities Control board will be appointed by the newly-elected legislators at their initial council meeting during the next two weeks.

Applications for these offices are being accepted by Dorsey Stewart, secretary of the council, beginning today.

President's Message

TO THE STUDENTS:

A. B. 956, the bill to make Santa Barbara State College a part of the University of California has passed the Assembly and the Education Committee of the Senate in the State Legislature. In a message to the faculty on Monday of this week, among other things, I stated:

"The measure will in due course come up on the floor of the senate. The vote will undoubtedly be a registration of commitments made long ago. What they are we shall know when the vote is announced—which should be within the week."

"In the meantime—and thereafter—we should continue to carry on to the best of our ability in the interest of our students, and undeviatingly for the welfare of the institution. Not matter what the outcome may be this is not time for emotionalism or fanciful speculations, or outside discussion."

"People in situations of uncertainty show to best advantage by calmly maintaining the even tenor of their ways."

What I said to them I repeat to you. If the measure should become effective there may be changes in the institution in the next few years which will alter offerings and organization to a considerable degree. Usually, changes of this kind are worked out gradually and with due regard for the interests of faculty and students. Especially is this true where there is a background of sound development and practice. For example, it would be expected that your courses would be carried out to graduation without material changes. The coming summer session and next year should be planned for as heretofore. In fact the transition might be as impossible as our regular changes have been from year to year.

(Signed) C. L. PHELPS, President.

Much Ado

By GEORGE BLUMENSON

News that the Japanese had executed some of our fliers who had participated in the raid on Tokyo was most shocking to a great majority of the American public, but not particularly shocking to this writer. He has suspected all along that the Oriental Japanese was a barbarian at heart. This merely proves it, and served to show the American public, for a few brief moments, at any rate, the type of foe our boys are up against.

The Japanese are less than 100 years removed from barbarism, feudalism and ignorance. Their scientific savants and intellectual giants can be counted on the fingers of both hands. They are a nation of expert copyists in everything but barbarity—and in this field they shine at devising new tortures and brutalities. At the time Tokyo was bombed this writer said that the Japs would devise some fiendish method of "saving face," and the execution of honorable prisoners of war was the method they devised. If one has a slight understanding of the Japanese mind, these executions were not too shocking. Every American should be made to read Homer Lea's prognostications on a war with the Japs, and the Tanaka memorial, both of which give a powerful insight to the mind of the Oriental Jap.

The term Oriental Japanese is used to differentiate him from the American citizen of Japanese ancestry.

The Hearst papers, still convinced that Russia is an enemy of the United States, came out one Saturday, with a "BIG RED COMMUNIST FIFTH COLUMN PLOT"—something, no doubt, about RED RUSSIA wishing to annex the State of California to the USSR. Frankly, all I can talk about is the headline, as I have better things to do with my time than read the dreamings of Assemblyman Tenney and a few of his colleagues on RED RUSSIA. I think I spent the time I could have spent reading the BIG RED EXPOSE sitting on the corner of State and Anapamu counting the cars that drove by on three wheels.

But seriously, something should be done about these EXPOSES. If a woman such as Ursula Parrott hides some soldier out for three days, she is tried for treason and undermining the morale of the Army. If the Hearst papers come out with articles about RED RUSSIAN PLOTS, designed for the consumption of their very gullible readers, not one word is said about it. I am firmly convinced that articles such as these are doing more to undermine the morale of the army, not to mention the civilian morale, than 100,000 fifth column individuals could do.

The attitude and complacency of the American people today is most deplorable. We say that we wish to win the war quickly so that we can have our fighting men home again. But why even bother to win the war if we are going to bring these men home to a chaotic post-war America of inflation, bread lines and unemployment? Why hasn't congress passed absolute price and wage ceilings? Why hasn't something been done about the greed in industry and in the various congressional blocs? A letter from my father informs me that Oliver Cromwell quoted the prophet

Isaiah to his son, Richard Cromwell, when the latter refused to fight. "The valiant go to battle; and they that stay at home divide the spoils." Inflation is on the march, and the Republican congressmen and senators, instead of trying to stop it, seem to be doing all in their power to speed this march. Too much valuable time was spent on the Ruml plan, which would have done quite a bit to speed inflation. This nation needs money—tax money. It must take this money from those who are making it to stop inflation. Why doesn't it take the money? Morgenthau is blocked at every step he takes by the Republicans, as is the president. It is devoutly to be hoped that this attitude of the Republicans comes home to haunt them at some future date or election. Let

AN EDITORIAL

Open Letter to Dorothy Thompson:
My Dear Miss Thompson:

Your columns of two weeks ago dealing with the educational set-up in the United States were thoroughly discussed by the students of this college, and, in the main, the students agreed with you. However, we feel that there are certain aspects of the subject with which you did not deal. You see, many of us at this college are in training to become teachers, and we feel quite keenly about matters of this kind.

First, let us look at us, the students. Students who wish to become teachers do so for two reasons. 1. They feel a certain "call," much as do ministers. They wish to go out and teach because they derive a certain satisfaction out of this work. 2. There are those students who are not too bright, but who wish a certain modicum of security—a security which the teaching profession offers.

The first group usually makes the best teachers—and these teachers go further and become the administrators of the school systems. The second group furnishes the mediocre teachers—those who become warped by their jobs.

Teachers in the State of California attend college for four years, then go out and land a teaching position. In many communities they must not drink, smoke or dance—they are expected to live in the home of a clergyman or a school board member, they should not have boy-friends or girl-friends—in short, it is not expected that a school teacher be human.

And what are these super-human human beings paid for not being human? For teaching school, taking six units of graduate work every three years, conducting Sunday School classes, attending all sorts of meetings, participating in all sorts of drives? Well, Miss Thompson, in the State of California they are paid a minimum of $1380 a year. And, Miss Thompson, you'd probably be surprised to know how many school systems pay the bare minimum. Of course, we are pretty lucky here in California, because there are certain states which pay $600 a year for teachers.

Now honestly, Miss Thompson, do you think you are going to find many intelligent people who are willing to invest in a college education to earn $1380 a year? Today pick and shovel men make more than that.

So you see, Miss Thompson, we do not feel that the fault lies with the teachers, or even with the big shots in education. We are convinced that the trouble lies with the non-educators who hold the strings of the educational purse. After all, teachers have a great responsibility. They are in charge of moulding the coming generation. Perhaps here you will find a factor which contributes indirectly to your statement that American educators are not properly enthused about their jobs or are not aware of their responsibilities.

Sincerely,

GEORGE BLUMENSON

Gau-Chocase

By RUTHE SUGGS

Kiss the boys goodbye.... Chinsup, eyes reddened, the sweethearts of the ex-V-7's returned to State College's Norman's Land Tuesday following farewells in L.A. Many of our best-known couples are separated nowadays by the continent, Santa Barbara to Northwestern, and the sky trains will be flooded with mail between GERRY COCKINS and BOB STETLER, CONNIE GILL and BILL LEVEILLE, DORIS KIRSTEN and DICK O'BRIEN, HELEN MORRISON and DUTCH MAASKANT, MARGE SIMMONS and GEORGE JAMES.... naming only a few. Latter twosomes are fiancées, the ring having been placed just before the prospective ensign departed.

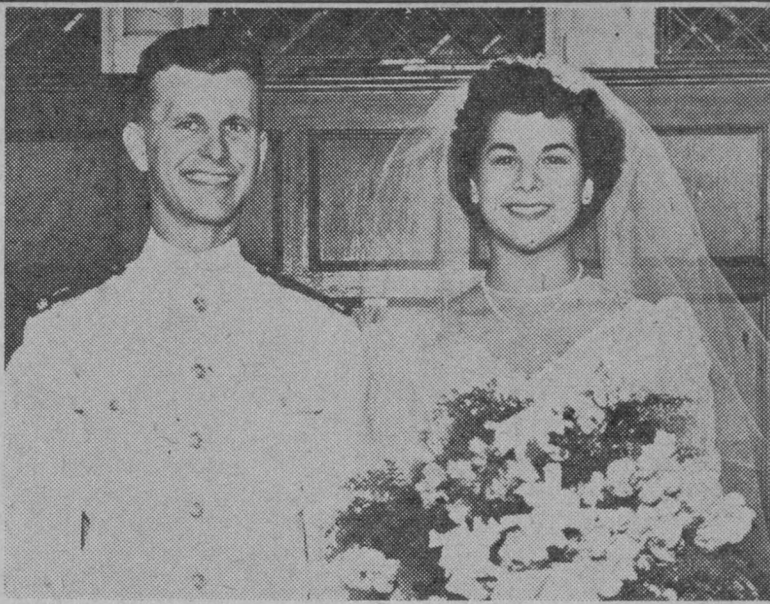

Also in the betrothal department, ERNIE GARCIA passed chocolates (honest - to - Gawd ones!) at DZD meeting. The man, a Stanfordite, is BILL ALLEN. Tau Gams, at the same time, heard the news of BILLY HEDGES' intentions. Gamma Delts ohed and ahed when WILFA FAIRFIELD pulled her hand from the "bandages" with a diamond from HOWIE ECKLES.

JEAN WILSON, senior ECE teaching major, bid the books adieu this soon to graduation and will marry an Air Cadet.

Into the Waves will go NANCY HUNGATE, languid redhead, in three weeks. Ship ahoy!

Condolence and get-well wishes to HARRY REDOGLIA, popular senior who is confined to the will of pill-pushers at a local hospital. His induction into the Navy (he is also a V-7) was postponed for a clearing of pneumonia.

Easter-week guests of DUCKY DRURY from Hometown Bakersfield and UCLA were "fixed up" with keyholders of ATC. PEGGY LOU ANDERSON was there along with JEAN BORNHURST and ROWENA MARTINSEN.

Sororities Schedule Spring Dances, Parties

With rushing, pledging, and initiation over, Greek organizations for women are busy with plans for the Panhellenic formal, and preceeding social events. The formal spring dance will be held on Saturday, May 16, at Rockwood Womens' club. Sorority members and their guests will attend.

CHI DELTA CHI

Replacing the regular business meeting, a surprise shower was held on Monday evening in honor of the recently married Doris Cruz Adams. The wedding of Miss Cruz and Ensign Burke Adams took place in Santa Barbara on April 18. The shower was held at the home of Mrs. Sibil Chenoweth, and was carried out in a nautical theme.

TAU GAMMA SITMA

Regular Monday night meeting was held at the home of Dwala Ray. Plans were discussed for the Panhellenic formal, and for the sorority dinner at Samarkand which will preceed it.

Billye Hedge, newly initiated member, passed the traditional box of chocolates to announce her engagement to Frank Lennon, of the U. S. Navy, now stationed at San Diego.

ALPHA THETA CHI

During the Easter holidays the Alpha Thetas met for lunch. Alums Shirley Snyder, now attending UCLA, and Eleanor Lawrence, now doing secretarial work in the Edison company were both present.

Two weeks ago president Peggy Lou Anderson surprised sorority sisters by passing chocolates to announce her engagement to Aviation Cadet Jack Hodgins, now training in Texas.

At the regular business meeting on Monday night it was decided to call off the Victory Fair, due to an already over-crowded calendar. The sorority formal has been set for Friday, May 7, and will be held at the University club.

GAMMA DELTA CHI

The regular meeting was held at the sorority house on Monday evening, as plans were made for the Pan-Hellenic formal, and a party for sorority members and guests which will be held (Continued on Page Four)

Fraternities Suffer Loss To Service

Their ranks depleted by eleven men now at Northwestern's Naval midshipmen's school, campus fraternities met Monday evening to complete plans for their social activities for the remainder of the semester.

BETA SIGMA CHI

Scheduled for May 8, the Beta Sigs annual spring formal will be held at the Montecito Country club. The often postponed Beachcombers Ball will take place May 28. Location for the dance is as yet undecided.

To take the place of Alex MacGillivray, Marvin Sands has been elected president; Ed Roeth takes over the vice-president's post left vacant by John Dawley. Both MacGillivray and Dawley left Monday with the Naval reserves.

All members are participating in the victory garden campaign by planting and caring for a garden in back of the Beta Sig house on Alameda Padre Serra.

GAMMA SIGMA PI

A joint meeting was held Monday evening with the Alpha Thetas at the Gamma Sig house. The spring formal will be held at Montecito Country club May 21.

Harold Johnson was selected to take the place of John Ceccarelli, secretary, now in Chicago with the reserves.

Gamma Sigs have entered a team in the city twilight softball league.

Bob Stetler, John Falka, and Ceccarelli all left Monday evening with the Naval V-7 for Northwestern University.

SIGMA ALPHA KAPPA

Bob Shelley was elected Monday evening to take over the Sig Alph presidency vacated by Don MacKenzie, V-7 man. Jim Lytle will act as vice-president, taking the office of Bill Leveille, also in the Naval Reserve, now called to active duty.

Dick O'Brien and Ed Doty also were called to active duty at Northwestern with the Reserves.

A dinner-dance is scheduled for May 29 tentatively at El Paseo restaurant. Plans were made for a beach party to be held Sunday May 2.

Jim Lennon, now with the army, was given a party in his honor preceeding Easter vacation.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA

A joint meeting was held with the Delta Sigs Monday evening. Plans were made for the formal to be held April 30 at the Montecito Country club with Doug Hoag's orchestra.

Sal Jimenez is acting as president due to the calling of Cornie Maaskant into active duty with the Navy. Frank Bradley also was called with the V-7 men.

instructor at State College. Porter, who had never graduated from high school, was a member of a college faculty."

"But he decided to 'kill' that story right then, for he bought some books, studied and passed his high school examinations. Then he started college as a freshman, where for six years ending last June he combined studies and classes with teaching duties."

"Even that didn't keep the printer's ink in Porter's blood flowing serenely—he had to get his fingers into something else. It was as director of the press for State's Associated Students publishing El Gaucho, La Cumbre and a number of books and pamphlets."

"There activities, along with practice teaching at La Cumbre Junior high under a teacher who himself was a student in Porter's offset printing class at State, made Porter's college day about 18 hours long. He took a day off for graduation, then plunged right back into type."

"And now Porter's writing '30'—temporarily, at least, to his days as instructor at State to head for the Army."

WAA Slates Tournament

Thursday, April 29, marked the opening of the official elimination tournament in women's intramural basketball. Y.W.C.A. played the non-org team, in the gym at 7 p.m. This was the first in a series of five games which are to be the official tournament.

Previous to Easter vacation a round-robin practice tournament was played in order to accustom teams to the players they would meet.

The following women's organizations have entered teams in the competition. Chi Delta Chi, Delta Sigma Epsilon, Delta Zeta Delta, Sigma Delta Phi, Y.W.C.A. and a group of non-organization players.

The next game will be played in the gym on Tuesday, May 4, at 7 p.m., when Delta Sigma Epsilon will meet Delta Zeta Delta.

Santa Barbara State's waning athletic program was given a deadly blow this week as a number of local athletes left campus to report at Northwestern University for naval officers training.

State's baseball team has been forced to cancel all of its games for the remainder of the season. Four members of the Gaucho team are among those reporting for officer's training.

The quartet of baseball players includes Don MacKenzie, catcher and acting captain; John Ceccarelli, veteran first baseman; Frank Bradley, second sacker; and George James, outfielder. James was also first string quarterback on the Gaucho grid team for two seasons.

A total of 19 State College men, all of whom were enlisted in the Navy V-7 reserve program, left the local campus Saturday. Besides the baseball players, several other men who have been outstanding in sports were included in this group.

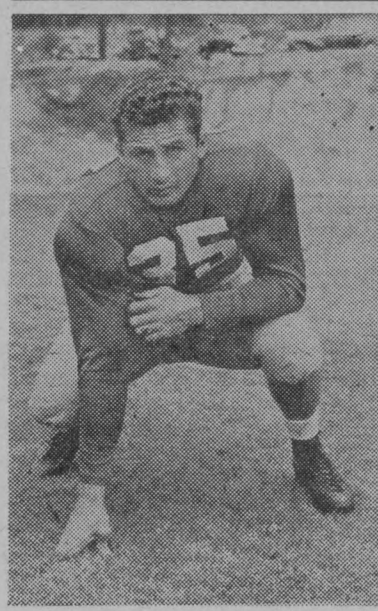

Topping this list is Ernie Saenz, one of the brightest stars in Gaucho history. Saenz was captain and full back on the 1941 football team as well as heavyweight boxing champion of the California Collegiate Athletic Association for two years.

Bill Leveille, stellar first string forward on the State College basketball team for the past two seasons, and Bob Sherman, forward, are among those reporting for Navy training.

Gauchos Vote For Class Heads

Members of the various classes will meet Tuesday, fourth hour, to elect officers for the coming year.

Freshman class members will meet in the auditorium under the direction of Bill Starr, president. Sophomores will meet in room 80 with Jack Erickson in charge of the meeting.
