UCSBC CELEBRATES CHARTER DAY

Campaigns Climaxed in Today's Election As Women Ballot for New Officers And Men Decide Constitutional Amendment

Elections are being held today and tomorrow, March 21 and 22, for next year's AWS officers and a change in the AMS constitution. A bean supper was held yesterday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:00 pm for all women students to introduce the AWS candidates. Dinner in the cafeteria was preceded by games on the women's athletic field.

Campaigning for AWS offices began on Tuesday of last week, while stunts were staged on campus on Friday, March 17. Various appeals were made to the voters through the use of candy, cookies, pencils, sandwich-board signs, and a brass band.

A special appeal is being made to all women students to participate in the election, and thus assure themselves of having competent AWS officers next year, according to Mary Ann Zane, AWS president.

Mary Ann Zane

Constitution Change

The purpose of the AMS election is to submit an amendment to the voters which would amend the AMS constitution so that it would conform to the AS constitution regarding the eligibility of AMS officers, according to Walt Stone, AMS president.

The time of the AMS elections would be changed to April so the persons not elected to AMS offices would have a chance to run for student body offices.

The Proposed Amendment

Article V (Election Code)

Section 1. Eligibility for office shall be limited to men who have attended UCSBC for one semester and have met the scholastic requirements for an Associated Student Body office.

Section 2. Candidates must file their names in the graduate manager's office twelve (12) school days previous to the election.

Section 3. Between the time his eligibility is established and a petition is issued, each candidate will have successfully passed an examination on the constitution and by-laws of the Associated Men Students. Failure to pass said examination will result in the disqualification of the nominee.

Section 4. Each eligible candidate will obtain from the vice-

IA PROJECTS ORDER OF THE DAY ON MESA CAMPUS

Each year, the Industrial Arts department has a project contest in which majors construct and enter school, shop and home projects to compete for prizes in ten divisions.

This year, May 29 is the final deadline for entries, according to Chester Troudy, contest chairman.

Goals in the contest are good design, workmanship and an understanding between students and faculty. The judging of projects will be based on originality, utility, design, and workmanship.

The ten divisions for which thirty-five prizes will be awarded are: Auto, Crafts, Drafting, Electricity, Metal Shop, Photography, Printing, Boatbuilding, Furniture and Hand Wood.

CAMPUS AUDITORIUM SCENE OF OPERA SOLOS TOMORROW

Advanced vocal students will be heard in Italian and French opera solos and duets in the first sprang concert of the Music Department tomorrow night, March 22, at 8:15 pm in the Riviera Auditorium.

Mr. Elias Theros, a new member of the Music Department staff, has been coaching the students. The concert is being presented by the Committee on Drama, Lectures and Music.

Mr. Theros has a rich background of study in foreign language, reading and vocal music, having studied in Italy with the renowned teachers Sadero and Stracciari of the Conservatory of Rome.

Well Known Soloists

Most students appearing on the program are well known for their performances in Gershwin's "Of Thee I Sing," and other Music Department programs.

To be heard in vocal solos and duets are sopranos Shirley Newlin and Gloria Nygard Harrison; mezzo-soprano Dolores Dahl; tenors Vincent DiFiore and Dale Emde; baritones David Swain, Alfred Jensen, and Sam Simons, and bass Bruce Stewart.

Featured vocal selections will be from the works of Mozart, Debussy, Donizetti, Verdi, Massenet and others. Brahms' Sonata in F Minor will be presented by Edward Harris, clarinet, and Mary Reiss, piano.

Accompanists for the evening are Jean Davies, June Davies, Irving Easley and Miriam Hanlon.

Freak Shows and 'Ball Throws Make Barbary Best in Years

The campus will take on the aspect and flavor of post-Gold Rush days in early California next Saturday night (Mar. 25) when the Associated Students present their annual benefit carnival "Santa Barbary Coast."

Presented every spring for the past fifteen years, the carnival has become a high point of the school year. All the festivities are open to the public.

Benefit

Some worthy cause has always received a share of the carnival's profits. This year, the World Student Service Fund and the College Student Union fund will be the beneficiaries.

The campus Quad pool will double for Frisco Bay and the Barbary district will include the Men's Gym Lawn.

Planning of the carnival is being handled by the Associated Students' Special Events Committee, which also directed this year's Santa Barbara College homecoming. Gloria Steers and Ken Trevey, co-chairmen of the committee, announced that this year's carnival will have 26 carnival booths in operation and more entertainment than any previous year.

Auction

At 8 pm, an auction of assorted items will be held on the Quad steps, followed by a dance under the sponsorship of Blue Key, men's honorary.

Each booth will be sponsored by a campus organization, fraternity or sorority. The booths will range in attraction from freak shows to baseball throws. All booths competing for the grand prize will be decorated in the Barbary Coast theme.

Booth judging will be held at 7:00 and all participants must be in their places at that time. The trophy presentation will be on the Quad steps at 10 pm.

Provost from UCLA Speaks Tomorrow on Founding of University of California

The annual student assembly celebrating Charter Day will be held tomorrow, Wednesday, March 22, with Dr. Clarence A. Dykstra, vice-president of the University and provost at UCLA, as the main speaker. All classes will be excused for the assembly, which will be held in the Riviera Campus Auditorium at 1 pm.

Dr. Clarence A. Dykstra

Dr. Dykstra is well known for his outstanding record in the fields of education and public service. Prior to becoming provost of the Los Angeles campus in February, 1945, Dr. Dykstra was city manager of Cincinnati, Ohio, president of the University of Wisconsin, the first national director of Selective Service, and chairman of the National Defense Mediation Board. He holds degrees from sixteen major colleges and universities in the United States.

The band under the direction of Mr. Clayton Wilson will open the program by playing a medley of college songs. A trophy will then be awarded to the organization having the winning display in the Quad. It will be presented by Reno Chackel, Rally Committee chairman.

Welcome Address

Following that, AS President Bob Hartzell will give a welcoming address, after which the Glee Club will sing two numbers under the direction of Dr. Walter Buchanan. Provost J. Harold Williams will then introduce Dr. Dykstra, the main speaker for the program. The assembly will close with combined band, glee club and audience singing "Hail to California."

Charter Week Hits Peak with Campus Exhibits in Quad

Charter Day exhibit of models representing buildings on the various campuses of the University of California are on display in the Quad this week, Monday through Thursday. Lucia Edwards, Rally Committee member, is in charge of the exhibit.

The fifteen exhibits are arranged beneath a huge map of California constructed by the members of the Rally Committee and the Finance Committee. A seventeen-inch gold cup will be awarded at tomorrow's Charter Day Assembly to the winning display.

Judging will be based upon originality, craftsmanship, and ability to keep to the theme, with Mr. Renzo Fenci, Dr. Kurt Baer, and Dr. Elliot A. P. Evans acting as judges.

Exhibits

The organizations and their exhibits are: Delta Sigma Epsilon, Santa Barbara Campus; Lambda Chi Alpha, Goleta Campus; Sigma Pi, Riverside Citrus College; Sigma Phi Epsilon, Davis Campus; Kappa Alpha Theta, Campinile at Cal; Delta Tau Delta, Mt. Mamilton Observatory; Delta Sigma Phi, La Playa Stadium.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, La Jolla School of Oceanography; Kappa Sigma, Mesa Campus; Pi Beta Phi, Stadium at Cal; Alpha Delta Pi, San Francisco Medical School; Delta Gamma, Royce Hall, UCLA; Alpha Phi, Santa Barbara beach; Sigma Tau Gamma, Sather Gate at Cal; Beta Sigma Tau, Construction of UCLA Law School.

SAE'S FIRST TO COP NEW INTRAMURAL VOLLEYBALL TROPHY

The Class of '51 at Santa Barbara College has established a new precedent by donating a perpetual intramural Volleyball Championship trophy, Intrumural Director Dick Kaywood announced today.

The trophy, presented to the college by Junior Class President Dick Bowdey, will be awarded each year to the winner of the fall semester intramural volleyball tournament.

This year's champion, Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, will be the first organization to have its name engraved on the large golden trophy.

Kaywood said the intramural department now has perpetual cups for all the major tournaments: basketball, softball, swimming, and touch football.

The college intramural program. In the fall semester, touch runs off two big events each semester: football and volleyball are the major tournaments. Basketball, softball and track tourneys are held each spring.

The annual intramural basketball tournament, with 28 teams competing, should wind up in about three weeks, Kaywood said.

Best Laid Plans O' Mice and Men

There was once a group of mice who lived within the wall of our beloved administration building. This group met bi-monthly and went under the austere name of the Council of United Mice of the Administration Building. They were led by the jovial Head-Mouse a rotund fellow with large jowls and fine whiskers.

A problem had come before this distinguished group and had caused a great deal of head shaking and whisker twitching. It seemed that the very foundation upon which they had carefully built their institutions was rocking; their beloved Ad building was colored pink.

Pink

Ordinarily, this would have caused no consternation. Pink is a lovely color. But it seems that pink was the organizational color of a group of mice who lived behind a copper curtain in a nearby outdoor barbecue pit. These mice were subversive mice who were rumored to have developed an H-cat who could devour whole nations of other mice; they also sent out raiding parties to paint things in their national color, pink.

Therefore, Head-Mouse had called a meeting of the Council to discuss a plan of action. Some mice favored the painting of the Ad building in the colors of the Council of United Mice, lavender, yellow, and green. Others favored the development of two H-cats and the demolition of the barbecue-pit mice. One timid mouse had ventured to suggest that the Council take no stand on the matter. Head-Mouse had queried acidly, "What are you, a mouse or a man?" and the timid one sat down, squeaking under his breath.

Not Pink!

It was finally agreed that the Council would paint the Ad building in the national colors, lavender, yellow, and green. The work was started on the morrow; mice scuttled busily over the walls, transforming the surface into a resplendent reminder of the glorious colors of the Council.

And in the cold winter evenings, Head-Mouse would sit before the fire, his three hundred children at his feet, and recount moments of the glorious day when the Council painted the Ad building. But visitors to the own noted that, though the brave colors of the building shone in the rays of the westering sun, the architecture of the building was still the same.

Much Ado

By Jerry Noble

I am thinking strongly of changing the name of this "column" to Noble Versus the Editor. I'm beginning to sound like the old woman's delight, "Como se Va!" That worthy has difficulties with his editor, too. But to my knowledge Como's editor has never written remarks right into his column.

Dr. Kennedy, to change the subject, missed a class last week. He explained to his students that he didn't dare lecture because he had the "Hoff Heights Heaves." Dr. Kennedy didn't go into detail on the effects of the disease, but the name is rather indicative.

The AWS election was rather an uninspired affair. There was only one band, and a rather spastic one at that, and only one group of girls sang a song about their candidate. The Pi Phi's, a group that has done some awful weird things during the course of past election campaigns, only passed out cigarettes.

I'm beginning to think that we are withering on the vine. There are too many restrictions on campaign publicity. A few rules like . . . "No group may paint the name of their candidate in orange enamel across the Dean of Women's office door" . . . are perfectly all right. But . . . I think that all elections, for queens or for officers, should be wide open. Let the bands play, the balloons fly, and the posters plaster the walls. When the election is over each group that has sponsored a candidate can furnish three people to clean up the mess.

We have become rather famous for our rip-snorting campaigns in the past. I would like to see even bigger campaigns . . . the more razz-ma-tazz the better. You can tell by the bare shoulders that Spring has come and Summer is fast approaching. The gals have broken out the cotton dresses and put the wool skirts in the cleaners. Those bare shoulders are somewhat distracting in class . . . but its fun to be distracted. Smile Week is over now and I didn't notice hardly any differ-

Trackmen Downed by Tigers In Southern Triangle Meet

The Santa Barbara College track team was swamped by a strong Occidental squad 104 points to 23 in Saturday's triangular meet at Eagle Rock. The third team in the event was Redlands University which scored 31 points.

Occidental dominated both the triangular and dual meets as in the dual contest they walked away from the Gauchos 111½ to 19½ and topped the Redlands squad 101 to 29½.

Bright Spot

One bright spot for the Gauchos was the performance of Willie Dancer and Del Pickarts. Dancer took first place in the high jump by clearing 6' 6½" to tie his school record. Dancer had a hard fought contest with Gene Doty of Occidental but Doty dropped out after clearing 6' 4". Dancer made one attempt to set a new record of 6' 7" but stopped when he failed to clear the bar.

Del Pickarts took first place in the javelin with a throw of 201' 10". This was far under Pickarts' best mark in other meets but this meet was his first competition of the season as he has had a bad ankle.

Scruggs Sick

The Gauchos were under a great handicap in the sprints and the 440 as Otey Scruggs was left home because of a severe cold. Ted Vick was the only Gaucho to run in the 100 and the 220 yard sprints and though he was unable to place in those events he did pick up a third place spot in the low hurdles.

In the mile, which was won by Occidental's Jack Barnes, third place was taken by Don Crie. Don also placed fourth in the two mile after losing a stretch drive for third place with Bill Hamman of Occidental.

Cooper Second

John Cooper placed second in the pole vault with a vault of 12' 2". Orra McMurray of Occidental won the event with a vault 12' 8".

This Thursday the Gauchos will journey to Los Angeles where the golfers will participate in the Southern California Intercollegiate Open. This will be the first time that Santa Barbara has participated in this event, but it is expected that it will become an annual occasion for the golfers.

Following the SCI Open the team will move to Camp Pendleton where they will meet the Marines in a match on Friday.

With Phil Jacks, Jr.

I had a very interesting subject brought up to me via a note from a Post Graduate student, Maxwell Pellish. Mr. Pellish writes in part, "How about stirring up some hot interest among the student body for the Municipal golf course which is being contemplated?" All right, Max. I'll sit down now to see how much stirring I can do.

First off, let me say that I am very much in favor of a Municipal golf course of some kind. Hogan, Snead and the rest of the pros don't have to worry much about my playing, but on a good day I can whip around 18 holes in a snappy 95. The trouble is, there is no place in Santa Barbara where the average duffer can play, except the Country Club, and there a membership is a prime requisite.

Mr. Pellish uses the word "contemplated" in his little correspondence. The only trouble is that a Municipal golf course has been contemplated much in the same way as our student parking lot has been contemplated—all contemplation, and no doing. No dirty dig meant in this crack either. The Santa Barbara News-Press and my good friends Clover Cummings and Francis Tuckwhiler have in the past devoted many, many column inches to this subject, but nothing to my knowledge has ever come of it.

Frankly, I just don't see what I can do to improve the situation. Mr. Pellish suggests that all Santa Barbara College students interested in golf drop into the El Gaucho office to sign a petition indicating their support of the move. This is fine with me. The petition will be on the bulletin board. When we get enough signatures, I'll turn it in to the News-Press. Any other suggestions from you other golfers?

We might as well really hit golf this time. Coach Bill Irvine of the Varsity Golf team is a little worried about the lack of interest that is being shown in golf this semester. The only way that Bill has to build up his team is for golfers to sign up in his golf classes. If you are interested, get in touch with Mr. Irvine in the Men's Physical Education Department immediately.

Gauchos Split With Waves, Tie With Whittier Poets

Santa Barbara's slugging baseball team gained an even split in three games last weekend. Saturday the Gauchos split their 2C2A opener with Pepperdine. The Gauchos won the first game 11 to 0 and dropped the six inning nightcap 11 to 2. Friday the Whittier Poets held Coach Harder's team to three runs on ten hits in a game that was called at the end of eleven innings with the score tied at three all.

Mural Musings

The third week of Intramural Basketball play saw two of the fraternity giants topple from the ranks of the unbeaten.

Tuesday evening a strong Delta Tau Delta "A" squad handed the Sig Ep's "A" their first defeat by a score of 33 to 14. Bill Derwin was the Delt's big man with 13 points.

The Men's Gym fairly glowed from the heat generated in Thursday night's wild fracas which saw the SAE "A" team squeak by the ever-fighting Kappa Sig "A's" by a score of 32-28. SAE John Boettner enjoyed a good night with 19 points while Dick King bolstered the Kappa Sig's with 17 points.

The results of these two "games of the week" foretold the titanic struggle which is soon to take place between the Delta Tau Delta "A" and the Sigma Alpha Epsilon "A" squads.

Monday evening found the Dogger House five claiming a forfeit over the MS team, and the Dukes led by 18-point Jack Evans defeated the Tigers 28-15. Monday's final saw a red hot Foul Five squad swamp the Red Men by the score of 77-21. Gill Johnston blazed the way with a grand total of 24 markers.

Tuesday evening in addition to the Delt-Sig Ep contest saw MS 102 forfeit to the Independents, and Lambda Chi Alpha down Sigma Phi Epsilon "B's" 22-18.

Wednesday's opener found Sigma Pi with a 45-31 victory over Beta Sigma Tau despite a magnificent 21-point effort by George Lee of Beta Sigma Tau.

Arnold Funai and Malcolm Neal, with 19 and 12 points respectively, led Delta Sigma Phi to a 40-23 victory over the Sig Tau's in Wednesday's second contest.

The Pencil Pushers and the IVCF really mixed it up in the Finale with the final tally reading 28-27 in favor of IVCF. Jack Kidder and Dick Kaywood of the Pencil Pushers and Jim Crose and Bob Schoffstall of the IVCF all tied for point honors with 8 each.

The Robots started Thursday evening's festivities off with a bang and a 66 to 37 victory over the Shamrocks. Clyde Francisco of the Robots racked up 24 points in the process. The result of the SAE-Kappa Sigma fray can be found elsewhere in the column, and Thursday's last contest didn't come off as the MS 101 squad forfeited to Dogger House.

This week's things are really tightening up and when the smoke clears it will be all over except for the do or die playoffs.

In Saturday's first game Bob Johnston threw a fine five hit shut-out that completely baffled the Wave batters. The Gauchos banged out three runs in the first inning to sew up the game. Dan Kutch slugged a home run in the fourth inning to lengthen the lead. A six run ninth inning showed the spectators proof of the Santa Barbara power.

Johnson Falters

The second game was a different story with Pepperdine bent on revenge for the previous rout. Corky Johnson was used against the Poets and could not muster enough to stop the Wave batters. Tom Dailey's relief attempt was unable to stop the rally with the home team going on to win.

In Whittier on Friday the Gauchos pounded out ten hits to Whittier's five. The Santa Barbara attack was not strong enough to defeat the Poets. That Pickarts and Johnson combined on a five hit masterpiece, however the use of Johnson proved costly to the Gauchos in the second Pepperdine game. Kutch got two hits in three times at bat and Bill Davis' three for five to pace the Santa Barbara batters.

Batting Keynote

Batting power continues to be the keynote of the 1950 baseballers. In dropping only two games in the young season the team has shown itself to be at least two deep in most positions with fine stickers. The failure of Paddy Hill to come around in time for Whittier further weakened the shaky mound staff. Paddy, after turning out late due to basketball, has been sporting a bad cold the last week but should soon be in shape.

Tennis Schedule

Revised for Season

Coach Lyle Reynolds has announced a revised varsity tennis schedule which consists of a slate of 11 games. Six of these games will be played at home.

The team also has a number of open dates which will probably be filled as the season progresses. The next scheduled match will be with Cal Poly on Friday, March 31.

The schedule is as follows:

- March 31—Cal Poly at Santa Barbara.
- April 1—Loyola at Los Angeles.
- April 7—Open.
- April 8—Cal Tech at Santa Barbara.
- April 12—Koury's All-Stars at Santa Barbara.

From Cal Campuses . .

CAL

Highlight of Cal's social weekend was "Prelude to Spring," the annual Junior Prom, held Saturday night at the Mount Diablo Country Club.

"Glass Menagerie," a University theatre production, will be given Friday and Saturday, March 24 and 25, in Wheeler Auditorium.

A two-man team from Scotch universities tangled with Cal debaters last Thursday. University debaters also met a West Point contingent that day.

DAVIS

Plans are now being made whereby the Davis campus will take a stand similar to that recently taken by Santa Barbara, and will honor student body cards from all branches of the University.

The Davis campus was recently the scene of a College Club Workshop sponsored by the American Home Economics Association.

UCLA

Warren H. Austin, former senator from Vermont and chief United States delegate to the United Nations, will speak to UCLA students on Friday, March 24, as part of the Charter Day Anniversary ceremonies.

Musical artists Maja Sergeant, soprano, and Dawn Adams, violinist, presented music by Beethoven and Brahms at UCLA on Tuesday, March 14.

received on our campus. El Gaucho, in contrast to the student publication at Berkeley and Los Angeles, has dedicated little more than an article or two and one editorial to the question.

Frankly, I have not been able to discover enough information regarding the nature of the oath, our faculty's stand in regard to it, and the issues involved to understand what little discussion of the oath I have heard on this campus.

If we are striving for an informed student body, and if we think at all about the future of our university, this is one subject which should be presented to the students with much more clarity than it has been. And it is my contention that a complete review of the issues and the nature of the loyalty oath and the actions which have been taken should somehow be presented to the student body. What do you think?

Joann Kocher

Dear Editor:

Although I enjoyed for the most part the Roadrunner Revue, I thought the use of the false noses in the Shoe Store scene was in poor taste. The general reaction of the audience was one of disgust. Many hissed and booed. I hope that future Revues will not carelessly play upon symbols of prejudice for amusement.
