The pre-Thanksgiving Vesper, previously announced as "for girls only," has been changed to accommodate all faculty, students, and friends due to complaints by UC SBC girls fearing to leave their men unwatched.

Vesper services, for many years a Gauchito tradition, died out in the last few years. The 1949 Pre-Thanksgiving Vesper will mean the re-establishment of the tradition. This year's service will be titled "Gratefully to Remember, but Earnestly to Strive."

Perigord Speaks

Featured speaker at the all-school affair will be Dr. Paul Perigord of the Foreign Language Department. His talk will concern the power of ideals. A Thanksgiving reading will be offered by a representative from the Speech Department.

"Sunrise" by Scott and "A Netherlands Prayer of Thanksgiving" will be the titles of the vocal offerings of the 20-girl ensemble directed by Mrs. Helen Barnett of the Music Department. Musical sections of the program will also contain appropriate selections by the organ and group music.

Following the candlelight service, refreshments will be served at a reception for the public in the AWS Lounge.

Wells Appointed To Cancer Board

Harrington Wells, Associate Professor of Science Education at Santa Barbara College, has been appointed to the California State Board of Directors of the American Cancer Society, it was reported today.

He has also been named to the State Education Committee of the board and will attend a meeting of this group in San Francisco on December 8. Composed of medical and educational leaders from all parts of the state, the committee will lay plans for a program regarding cancer education for students as well as for the public at large.

Greek Organizations Band Together Tonight to Present Benefit Bond-Fire Bounce at Goleta; Proceeds to Pay Alpha Theta Chi Truck Damages

This affair is being sponsored jointly by Panhellenic and Interfraternity Council at the request of

Aztec Game Ends Bookstore Contest

The winner for the book store chance on the football score of the week was Bill Kelly, with the absurd score of Gauchos 0, Cal Poly 22. The flash of the week is the fact that the two Chesterfield representatives on campus are adding an additional spur for the "arm-chair quarterbacks" in the form of a carton of Chesterfields to the winner of each week's contest.

This incentive was added the week starting November 4 to 11, and will be continued for the last game of the season with San Diego to be played on November 24. Forms may be turned in at the bookstore 'til closing time—4:15, Friday, November 24.

Classic Ballet Comes to Lobero

"Harlot's House," a ballet version of "Pagliacci" will be presented by the First Negro Classic Ballet at the Lobero Theatre Saturday night, November 19, under the sponsorship of Irwin Parnes.

Works of the classic composers are represented in the program by "Variations Classique" by Johann Sebastian Bach, "Trois Etudes de Danse" by Frederick Chopin, and "Symphonic Etudes" by Robert Schumann. In a lighter humor, the company will present the story of "A Little China Figure," written by the poet Franco Leoni to the music of Saint-Saens. "Landscape" by the contemporary Russian composer, Alexander Gretchaninoff, completes the program.

In Future Parades Floats Must Be OK'd By City Fire Marshal

Rough sketches and a list of all materials used on future Homecoming floats must be presented to the office of the Fire Marshal seventy-two hours previous to the day of the parade, according to correspondence received by Provost J. Harold Williams.

"Floats used in this year's Homecoming parade were made of combustible material on which participants were riding, and this is in violation of City Ordinance No. 995," stated Marshal Saunders.

The recent flare-up from the office of the Fire Marshal was precipitated by the Alpha Theta Chi mishap when their "Cal Heaven" float burned outside La Playa Stadium.

"Plenty of fireproof materials are on the market at the present time for the decoration of floats," continued Saunders, "and we must insist on the cooperation of all interested parties."

Provost Williams responded to the letter with this explanation: "The regulations you propose to enforce with respect to future parades meet with my approval. I offer the suggestion that in future events of this sort, no float be permitted by your officials to join the parade unless it meets the requirements of your department."

many Greek organizations for the benefit of Alpha Theta Chi sorority. This group suffered large monetary losses on their Homecoming float which burned to the ground shortly after the Homecoming parade. The truck on which the float, titled "Cal Heaven," was built was rented from a local company and must have extensive repairs.

Booths

The dance has many attractions in addition to music. Booths are being run by various Greek letter organizations, and these concessions will have the usual barkers and prizes. Prizes have been donated by Santa Barbara merchants.

Tickets for the occasion may be purchased from fraternity and sorority members at tables in the quad today. Price is sixty cents per person. It is not necessarily a date affair.

Dress

Dress will be school or sports clothes. Wearing of levi's as originally planned has been banned due to recent new restrictions on college affairs.

Music will be furnished by the "Stardusters" who are donating their time and talents.

Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity has set an example for other organizations by subscribing unanimously for two tickets per member.

Last event of the evening is a bonfire at 11:30. It is being handled by Kappa Sigma fraternity.

COOKIE SALE

Home-made cookies, "just like your mom used to make," will be on sale for hungry Gauchos today beginning at 8 a. m. outside Ebbets Hall steps and also at the Snack Shack. Price will be fifteen cents a dozen.

Responsible for this special treat is the Kappa Omicron Phi, honorary home economics sorority.

Rotary Foundation Offers Fellowships

Information concerning Rotary Foundation Fellowships for advanced study in a foreign country has been received by the Committee of Honors and Scholarships at Santa Barbara College, it was announced today by Dean Helen E. Sweet, secretary of the committee.

Those who may apply include graduates with a bachelor's degree or senior students who expect to receive a degree at the end of the current school year.

Candidates must be between 20 and 28 years old and "should have a sincere interest in, and a good working knowledge of, current affairs as pertain to matters of international significance."

Additional information may be obtained from the Dean of Women's office, 104 Administration Building, Riviera Campus.

GAUCHOS, SAN DIEGO BATTLE THURSDAY

Next Thursday afternoon in the Aztec Bowl, Santa Barbara and San Diego State will renew their annual grid rivalry by battling over the turkey bones in a Thanksgiving Day game.

In addition to being a holiday

MURRAY CALLAN has sparked the San Diego Aztecs all season with his fleet footedness from the left half position. He is second in team standings behind Jim Simmons with an average of 5.93 yards per try.

game, the pigskin festivities will also mark the Homecoming game of the year for San Diego. It will be both the Gauchos' and the Aztecs' final game of the 1949 collegiate football season.

The San Diego-Santa Barbara rivalry is one of the oldest in the CCAA conference dating back to 1923. The Aztecs have won 13 while the Channel City crew have a mere 4 victories to their credit. There was a 7-7 tie in 1935. Last year Santa Barbara nudged the Border City squad, 27-6. In past years the annual grudge game has produced a tight contest with both teams keeping the score down under three touchdowns.

By an odd coincidence two grid-ders, one from each college, will tangle with each other as they did two years ago in a similar Thanksgiving Day game between two other rival schools. In 1947, Left Half Jim Simmons, then toting the pigskin for John Muir College, crossed paths with Pasadena City College's Halfback Dick Johnson in the first annual Turkey Tussle in the Rose Bowl. San Diego's Simmons and the Gauchos' leading touchdown scorer, Johnson, will once again meet on the greensward next Thursday afternoon. Kickoff time is scheduled for 2:15 p. m.

ATTENTION!

As was revealed today by Ellen Bowers, Counselor of Women Students, any woman student whose home is not in Santa Barbara, but who plans to remain in Santa Barbara to work during the Christmas Recess, must report to the Dean of Women's office as soon as possible.

Wide Variety of Talent Available For Employment

Do you need a boat repairman, or textile chemist, or swimming instructor to work for you?

If not, how about a cook, soda jerk, meat cutter, cement worker, or baby sitter?

That gives some indication of the wide variety of talent available for part-time jobs among the Santa Barbara College students.

There are 65 such unfilled applications for work, according to Elaine Strobel, Student Affairs Coordinator, who is handling the job placement for the Associated Students. She is anxious to get listings for part-time work, even though it may amount to only occasional odd jobs.

So far this school year, 165 jobs have been filled by her office, including many steady positions. Lately, she explained, job openings have been falling off, which has resulted in a present backlog of 65 men looking for part-time work. Many of these are non-veterans and are depending on part-time work to carry them through college. Of the veterans, most of them are married and need extra money to take home to the family while they finish their education.

Miss Strobel is available for job listings each week-day from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. in the Student Body office, phone 26019.

TO THE ADMINISTRATION:

In recent weeks Santa Barbara College students have been presented with two administrative decrees. With a spirit of equanimity they have accepted these rulings.

The first official notice concerned the regulation that no costume dances would be put on by student organizations. Last week a traditionally costume dance was successfully carried through with out the need of fancy apparel. Students had complied with official regulations without protest.

Early this week Santa Barbara students received formal notice of the organization drinking regulations, which had been signed by President Sproul after extensive study by the Deans of the California campuses. This campus had been previously warned of the forthcoming rules and did not exhibit the violent protests evident on other campuses of the University.

Perhaps over-elated by the tranquil submissiveness of the student body to officialdom, the administration again exerted its influence—this time to tell the students that they could not wear their customary dress at an informal dance to be held in the comparative wilds of the Goleta campus. We feel that this is the straw that broke the camel's back.

Our advice to the administration is to renege the use of the word "costume." In our book the word, as used in the Deans' regulation, implies a "character dress of a particular period or locality, worn at fancy balls, etc." (Webster).

Objections to this most recent ruling of the administration are numerous. If we are to continue our fine student-faculty-administrative relations, we must cooperate on decisions of policy, and strive to make our policies reflect the opinion and good-will of the majority.—don mills.

Much Ado . . . by Jerry Noble

The movie "Jolson Sings Again" has established a disgusting precedent. Jolson is going to keep coming back. I can see him turning into a senile Andy Hardy rolling out two pictures a year until he just withers away.

The next picture will probably be called something like "Love Comes to Op Al Jolson." Next we might expect "The Jazz Singer Meets Dizzie Gillespie," and following that "Jolson Sings from His Wheel Chair." The thing could carry on for a horribly long time.

Speaking of movies and things like that, what ever happened to the people who won the talent contests at the Fox Arlington last year? Did they get their Hollywood screen tests? Are they climbing the ladder to fame and fortune? And while we're at it, what ever happened to that scintillating orchestra leader, Newton Perry? Patrons of the Sportsman looked up from their beer to the television screen Tuesday night and saw a very disconcerting thing. Milton Berle had a real live bear on his program that sang "Sweet Adeline." Several people swore off right then and there.

People who have real majors like Chemistry and Zoology and Business Ad. are fortunate. When they graduate they will be able to say what kind of a job they have not got. Pity the poor Group Major, what kind of a job will he be able to say he hasn't got?

On a pillar in NH 101 where Dr. Conrad holds his marriage and family lectures there is a little penciled note reading, "Nuts to marriage!"

Why doesn't some campus organization construct a bear head and costume that a little guy can wear at our sports events? We need a mascot and a bear in a Gaucho costume would fill the bill. It shouldn't be too hard to make the outfit.

To the Editor:

Recently I noticed where the N. J. loyalty oath law required of candidates and public office holders was declared unconstitutional by the appellate division of the state superior court. The court said the state constitution defined the language of an oath for public officials and the legislatures may not add or detract to or from it.

In view of this I wonder where the California loyalty oaths stand. Here also, teachers and office holders are bound by a clearly-defined constitutional oath. Our state constitution has no requirements of any additional oath, yet our University system requires additional oaths.

Why? Don't we trust our teachers? Will signing a piece of paper assure us of "loyal" teachers? In considering this problem the National Education Association had this to say: "Citizens should condemn the careless application of such words as "Red" and "Communist" to teachers and other persons who merely have views different from those of their accusers. The association, which includes Pres. Conant of Harvard and Jres. Eisenhower of Columbia, also deplored the enactment of special oaths for teachers."

Personally I think our constitutional oath is O. K. without the addition of special oaths, for I have trust in my teachers.

HARRY PANNOR.

P. S. It may interest the Gaucho staff to hear that a petition urging the rescinding of the faculty loyalty oath was sponsored by the managing editor of the Daily Bruin, and passed by the Student Council by a vote of 11 to 1, with three abstentions.

Dear Editors:

How silly can it get? As if all this regulation hasn't had enough opposition as it is, now it has come to the point where we must wear slacks to the dance Friday night. Since when are we not allowed to wear levi's to a dance which should be completely informal? We are having the dance and bonfire afterwards. Levi's, cotton, and cords would be the best thing to wear, but, oh no, you must wear slacks. Levi's are costume now. Well, the greater part of the male student body is constantly in costume. Perhaps I have the wrong idea on this, but all this regulation seems to be going a little too far to me. I thought we all were out of HIGH SCHOOL. Why don't we all go in levi's and such as originally planned, anyway? What could happen other than the fact that we'd have no more dances, but that'd be just another regulation.

Over-Regulated Male.

SHORE 'NUFF

At a recent dance held for the student body the same crowd was present as it is for every dance. Only, this time the girls took the boys. Where were the rest of the girls? If you read the Gaucho thoroughly the past three weeks, you would have found that the dance was advertised in plenty of time. Girls, you muffed your chance! Also, those girls that did not go, are, in all probability, the ones who say the boys up at the hill are snobs. It would do those girls a lot of good, who criticize the men at school, to ask a boy out and pay the bills—monetarily, and also to see how the other shoe fits in showing someone a good time.

If those girls would get off the pedestal they think they are on and view the other side of the fence they might have dates up at school; instead of going home to the old crowd for a date. Girls, you sure muffed your chance! So, from now on, let's not criticize the boys, for you are, in reality, criticizing yourselves . . . remember, ladies, you had your chance.

Yours with turnips,

Marry'n Sam.

BELLS, BELLS, BELLS

Dear Editors:

We want to voice what we think is a gripe that a large percentage of the students in this college have. Namely, isn't there something that can be done about the professors who allow their classes to drag over as much as five or ten minutes after the bell has rung? Of course, these are the very same instructors who start taking roll before the bell to begin classes rings. Now there are two things that could be wrong: either the guilty instructors are so absorbed in their academic pursuits that they haven't heard just how long classes are supposed to last or else they are very hard of hearing. I doubt that many can use the first excuse, so that leaves them but two alternatives: buy a hearing aid or buy a loud alarm clock and set it at the beginning of each class. However, it would be much more economical to ask the students to start singing "Fight for Santa Barbara" as soon as the bell rings.

Sincerely yours,
Name Withheld.

Harriers Meet L.A. Here Tomorrow

This Saturday, the 19th, at 2:30 p.m. the Gaucho cross country team meets the powerful Los Angeles State College squad in the first competitive meet of any sort between the two schools. The meet, which will be held on our own La Playa Field course, will start the ball rolling for what we hope will be an interesting and highly competitive series of contests between the Gauchos and L. A. State.

The run will be the usual four-mile grind over the rough and tiring Santa Barbara course. The Gauchos' two "big guns," Don Crie and Walt Houtz, will be carrying most of the weight although they will be ably backed up by Louis Lively, Bob Lahey, Galen Pearce, Bob Anderson, and Erwin Gates.

By the way, fellas, don't forget that Inter-class Track and Field Meet to be held on December 8th!

Junior Rose Bowl Race Narrowing

With the championships of the three Southern California junior college conferences practically decided upon, all that stands between selection of the Western team by the Junior Rose Bowl committee is three remaining weeks of gridiron action.

After Pasadena's defeat at the hands of Compton last week, Santa Ana J. C. appears to hold the inside track to the December 10 grid contest. The Dons have only to face an unimpressive eleven from San Bernardino J. C. tonight, and then collide with their Orange Empire rivals, a mediocre Fullerton J. C. team on Thanksgiving afternoon.

East Los Angeles, the little team that has surprised everybody with an eight-game win streak, tangled with the powerful leaders of the Metropolitan league last night, and the outcome is unavailable due to publication date.

Leading the Eastern teams is Coach Stan Lambert's eleven from Lamar Junior College in Texas. Lamar sports an undefeated seasonal record in eight games played this year.

Team standings:

	Win	Lose	Tie
East Los Angeles	8	0	0
Santa Ana	7	0	1
Compton	7	1	0
Pasadena	6	1	1
San Diego	7	1	0

Archery and Tennis Head 'Mural Slate

Rain forced cancellation of most intramural events last week but with the return of good weather on Monday, archery, tennis and volley ball took their places of importance in the 'mural spotlight.

The CRA-Intramural archery meet for men and women was scheduled for yesterday, weather permitting, but results will not be available until Tuesday's publication.

First round tennis matches to be played off by this afternoon are as follows: Bob Smith-Cecil Mahon; Cliff Comstock-Bob Alumbaugh; Bill Anderson-Don Cambern; Don Humphreys-Clay Hatch; George Smith-John Hackett; Bill Cunningham-Meredith McGee; Don Iverson-Al Hardy; Ray King-Roger Herzog; Herb Bulen-Ralph Sherfey.

Results of early play showed that Glen Vaughn was leading the pack after having drawn a bye and then disposing of Tad Suzuki, 6-0, 6-0. Strangely enough, all listed scores were straight set, 6-0, triumphs, by the following men: Cal Corey, Bill Swain, Raoul Munoz, Joe Karat, and Bruce Reh-woldt.

Volleyball got off to a slow start with the following teams posting Tuesday afternoon victories: Sigma Tau Gamma defeated Lambda Chi Alpha, 15-4, 8-15, and 15-3. Kappa Sigma took the measure of Sigma Phi Epsilon in the first game, 16-14, but lost the second, 17-15, before darkness called a halt to the fracas. The remaining game will be scheduled for a later date. The Hot Shots failed to show up, defaulting to the Pencil Pushers. The Footballers, composed of JV gridmen, were salted to play the Delta Tau Delta Bees but the game was put off due to a football scrimmage with the varsity that kept the JV out of action.

From the Exchanges Big Games; Campanile

At SAN JOSE STATE College the Registrar's office got a letter from Winona, Minnesota, addressed to "Sanhossay State College, Sanhossay, California."

CAL'S FAMOUS CAMPANILE is in danger of being torn down before it tumbles down, unless an estimated $300,000 can be raised to pay for refacing the famous landmark. The state public works board recently voted $15,000 to finance a study of how to put the tower back together.

The architect who designed the new Cal library annex feared that the architectural styles of the old library and the new building will clash, so he left an 18-inch gap between them.

THE UNIVERSITY of California at Davis remains the only California campus to maintain the honor system. All offenders of the system are reported to a welfare council who then tries the cases. Possible reason why the system is so effective is that students may be expelled from school for more than one violation.

TOMORROW IS THE DAY of the Big Game for both Cal and UCLA. Cal will do battle with Stanford for the axe and UCLA will try and get the victory bell away from Southern Cal. This past week, and especially tonight, are legend at both campuses as a time when pre-game spirit, rivalry, and football enthusiasm reach a colossal pitch.

In anticipation of Big Game "antics," Berkeley police and fire department officials met with living group presidents and other students last week to discuss "their mutual problems." On the agenda for discussion were such mutual problems as overturned streetcars, bonfires at main intersections, and general disturbing of ye olde peace.

At UCLA the pre-game problem was handled more subtly by Provost Dykstra. In a fatherly letter published last Friday in the Daily Bruin, Dykstra said, "I am unusually proud of the conduct of our students at football games this year. Win or lose, the sportsmanship . . . has been impressive. I am looking forward to the same high level of sportsmanship for the Southern California game and the week preceding it. . . Again, my congratulations for your mature, sound good sense."

Reminds one of the time a convict's father wrote and commended his son on his good prison behavior just as said son was contemplating murdering the warden that night and making a break for it.

Cabinet Searching for New Grad Manager

The Santa Barbara College Associated Students Executive Cabinet yesterday took steps to find a successor for William W. Russell, Graduate Manager, who will resign January 31 to take a position as assistant to the CIF Commissioner, Southern Division.

The cabinet is now drawing up a form to be filled out by each applicant to standardize the information needed for the selection. Qualifications for the position require both promotional and business experience. The Associated Students Constitution limits the position to graduates of Santa Barbara College.

Six applications have been filed thus far, according to Bob Hartzell, Student Body President.

The Student Executive Cabinet, who will recommend the selection to the Student Council, consists of the chairmen of student committees and boards augmented by the Provost, Dean of Women, Dean of Men and Business Manager.
