

NEW EDITOR NEEDED BY LA CUMBRE

La Cumbre is without an editor and must be reorganized immediately if the April deadline is to be met, according to Judy Cook, Press Control Board Chairman. Applications will be accepted by Judy in El Gaucho office and Bob Loden in the Graduate Manager's office.

Editorless

The yearbook was left editorless with the withdrawal of co-editors Chuck Missman and Jo Porter from Santa Barbara College in preparation for the former's return to service.

Louise Heitfeld of La Cumbre staff, was appointed acting editor of the publication until a new editor can be chosen. She has begun reorganization and has moved the La Cumbre office to its former location upstairs in the Administration building.

AS Investigation

Louise was appointed to the position by the Associated Students upon recommendation of Bob Christofferson, Representative-at-Large, who investigated the condition of La Cumbre.

Former co-editors Missman and Porter were in meeting with members of the Press Control Board and others interested in the book at 11 am yesterday to settle any problems to be cleared up before the new editor is given the office. Action taken at yesterday's meeting will be passed upon by the Press Control Board at its next meeting.

A lack of staff members to work on La Cumbre was reported by the acting editor. She stated that any one interested in working on the publication may leave their names in the Associated Students Office, Building D.

The La Cumbre office is now located at the north end of the Administration building in Room 202 upstairs.

'Roadrunner Revue' Try-Outs in Aud Tomorrow Night

Work is now in progress on the "Roadrunner Revue" in preparation for the opening on March 15, according to co-chairmen Ken Trevey and Pat Welsh.

New skits and acts will be tried out at the Auditorium tomorrow night, February 28, at 7:30 pm.

The Revue will feature comedy skits, dances, and songs, and will be arranged to achieve a balanced and varied program.

Accompanying the acts on two pianos will be Desmond Kincaid and Elizabeth Van Deusen.

Faculty sponsors are Mr. Leo Goodman-Malamuth of the speech department and Mr. Vic Town of the political science department. Mr. Robert Clark is the stage advisor, and Mr. Lee Theros is the vocal advisor. Susie Smith is rehearsal secretary.

As the Revue is still in the making, there are still openings for new talent and material. Individuals who can sing, who have acting ability, or who can dance, and those who have original skits or music arrangements should contact Pat or Ken or should come to the try-outs tomorrow night.

Women's PE Dept. Meets Wednesday

The first Women's Physical Education Department meeting of the semester will be held Wednesday evening (February 28, 7:30 to 10 pm, in the Women's Gym).

The speaker of the evening will be Mrs. Taylor, who will give a lecture demonstration of the Mesendieck Theory.

ATTENTION SENIORS

All non-org seniors who have not as yet had their pictures taken for La Cumbre will have their final opportunity to do so at McAllister's Studio on Friday, March 2, from 10:00 to 12:30 and from 2:00 to 4:30, and on Tuesday, March 6, from 10:00 to 12:30.

Anyone wishing to contact Louise Heitfeld, staff member in charge of photography, should do so through the student mail boxes.

SPECIAL ELECTION TOMORROW

Panel Discussion To Be Led by Kennedy And Fingarette

Richard G. Tawney's Religion and the Rise of Capitalism will be the subject of a panel discussion scheduled for March 15 at 7:30 pm in Ridge Hall 101.

Led by Dr. Herbert Fingarette, instructor in philosophy, and Dr. William F. Kennedy, assistant professor of economics, this discussion will be the second of a series sponsored by the Tutorial Committee of Santa Barbara College to familiarize students with the Tutorial Program to be instituted next semester.

Books Available

The Bookstore has procured a supply of Religion and the Rise of Capitalism in the 35c edition and the Committee is urging students interested in the program to buy a copy of the book and read it in order to be able to participate more actively in the discussion.

The Committee points out that Tawney's book has attracted the attention of scholars in the fields of history, philosophy, economics, sociology, and political science, and that its discussion on this campus will be of value to the many students in these fields.

Social Science Courses

The book is also widely used in the integrated social science courses offered in the Harvard General Education Program, as well as at Columbia University, the University of Chicago, and other institutions.

The discussion is being offered as an example of the colloquia to be used in the Tutorial program. Each colloquium will consist of two instructors and a small group of students. Next semester the instructors will be Dr. Harry Girvetz and Dr. Garrett Hardin; the following semester, Dr. Lawrence Willson and Dr. Wilbur Jacobs.

Sophomores

Some 25 sophomore students will be selected to participate in the program next semester. Their schedules will be regular except for the one colloquium class. In the junior year each student will be assigned to two tutors who will direct him in his independent studies and in the selection of appropriate course work.

Students will be selected by the Committee on a basis of scholastic standing and ability.

The Tutorial Committee has reported its gratification at the interest expressed by the student body in the first panel discussion which dealt with Security, Loyalty, and Science by Walter Gellhorn, and it hopes for even greater participation by the students in the second discussion.

KRIS JOHANNESSEN AIR SHOW QUEEN

Sophomore Coed Kristen Johannesen reigned as queen of the annual Tri-County Air Show, sponsored by the Civil Air Patrol at the Municipal Airport Sunday.

Queen Kris and her four attendants, Gloria Brittain, Marie Foley, Janice Macabee and Barbara Pearce, all received gifts from local merchants. Publicity of the event was covered by NBC television, newsreels, Life Magazine, Flying Magazine, and local publicity.

The main feature of the Air Show was the national championship races.

SPRING FORMAL TICKETS GO ON SALE TODAY

Tickets for the spring formal are on sale today at the Graduate Manager's office. The price of admission is $2.50 per couple.

Graham Mehaffey, social committee chairman, wishes to stress the fact that no tickets will be on sale at the door on the night of the dance.

The Coral Casino is the scene of the prom. It is situated across the street from the Biltmore Hotel. Decorations will follow the parasol and spring theme and will consist of flowers and flower parasols.

All the sororities have been asked to enter parasols and a beautiful trophy will be awarded to the sorority with the most beautiful and original parasol. The parasols are to be made up of flowers and are not to be more than four feet in diameter.

The Social Committee has planned another feature for the dance—a very large buffet table of hors d'oeuvre.

AWS ELECTIONS TO BE HELD IN MARCH

AWS elections for next year will take place March 20 and 21, according to Joan Carr, AWS Elections Chairman. Offices to be filled are president, first vice-president, second vice-president, treasurer and councillor. These offices are open to upper classmen only.

Included in the duties of the first vice-president are programs; the second vice-president will be in charge of social work and the Christmas party. The councillor will head the registration of the girls along with being "Big Sister" chairman.

Petitions for the above offices must be turned in by March 5, to the Associated Students Office.

A bean supper to introduce the new AWS officers will be held March 19 in the cafeteria at 6 pm. This supper will be sponsored by Crown and Scepter.

WOMEN JUNE GRADUATES MAY APPLY FOR ARMY COMMISSION, SAYS MABEE

Prospective women graduates of this June's class still have an opportunity to apply for Regular Army commissions in the Women's Army Corps, according to news just received from Washington, D.C., by Col. Richard Mabee, Professor of Military Science and Tactics.

Applications will be received by headquarters in San Francisco until March 15. Application blanks and detailed information are available in Elm Hall 101, at the office of Military Science. Examinations will be given at the nearest Army medical facility at no expense to the applicant.

Candidates who pass the screening test will begin basic training at Fort Lee, Virginia, in September.

New Wardrobe

Of special significance in the program is a Hattie Carnegie-designed wardrobe. Those girls who can qualify and pass the examinations will have a 250-dollar cash clothing allowance awarded at the beginning of the course next fall. The allowance will be spent on the new Hattie Carnegie uniforms recently adopted for Army women.

Items of summer wear are slated for early issue, Mabee stated, and the all-year wool uniform is ex-

Candidates Give Statements in Representative-at-Large Race

Tomorrow a special election for Women's Representative-at-Large and Freshman Class Vice-President will give student voters a chance to select the candidates of their choice, according to Elaine Strobel, elections committee chairman.

Muncy, Goodall and McCann Back From Student Union Tour

To ascertain the methods of financing the soon-to-be-built Student Union at the Davis Agricultural College and to investigate the facilities of the proposed structure, a group from UCSBC recently toured the Davis campus and have announced the accomplishment of the tour.

Members of the tour included J. A. D. Muncy, Business Manager; Frank Goodall, Student Body president; and L. E. McCann Student Union Committee chairman, who met with Mr. Ira Smith, Business Manager of the Davis campus; his assistant, Cecil Norris; Professor Walker of the Building Committee; and Roger Mea, Student Body president.

It was learned that the funds for the Davis Student Union were raised through the coordinated efforts of the student body and the Alumni Association, plus donations from various agricultural concerns in the Davis area. The amount raised by these groups was matched by the Regents of the University of California.

Although definite plans have not been made for the financing of the Goleta Student Union, it is proposed that the establishment of the Student Union at the Goleta campus will consist of two phases:

(1) Reconditioning of the former Marine Corps Ships' Service building located directly across the street from the auditorium. It is tentatively planned to incorporate in this structure a men's lounge, women's lounge, barber shop, beauty parlor, snack bar, and book store.

(2) The actual construction of the Student Union building sometime in the future.

Petitions for Rep-at-Large were filed in the Graduate Manager's Office Friday by Marie Allen, Pat O'Keefe and Joyce Kaufmann. Dianne West and Don Sherwin are running for Fresh Class Veep.

Run-Off Election

If a run-off election is necessary, it will be held Friday, March 2. Election publicity was to have been posted on campus yesterday and today.

Candidates were first required to pass a test on the Associated Students Constitution, after which petitions could then be filed.

Declared Vacant

The position of Representative-at-Large was declared vacant over a week ago, and according to the AS Constitution, the office must be filled within three weeks.

Marie Allen, candidate for Rep-at-Large, is a junior elementary education major from Hollister. She stated, "I realize the responsibility that such an office holds and I will endeavor to the best of my ability to see that everyone is informed concerning student affairs."

Kaufmann Statement

Joyce Kaufmann is from Burlingame and is a sophomore majoring in physical education. "I feel that it is a pleasure and an honor to be a candidate for Representative-at-Large," she said. She believes that reflective representation by the student council is essential for a successful student career. If elected to this office she will endeavor to fulfill the responsibility, she promised.

"What this student body needs is a more active participation and interest in student affairs," says Pat O'Keefe, the third candidate. "Also, more of an attempt should be made to determine student opinion before a vote is taken in Council on controversial issues. After all, the purpose of the Council is to represent the entire student body." Pat is a sophomore physical education major from Santa Monica.

HOUSING NEEDED

One hundred seventy-five high school symphony musicians need housing desperately for the All-Cal Symphony here March 2, 3 and 4, according to Bob Greenwell, general chairman.

Rooms are needed for Saturday, Sunday nights. Contact Mrs. Thurman Lautenschlagel at 2-2341 or Greenwell at the Music Department.

SECRETARIAT MEETING

The first Secretariat Meeting will be held in Building D1, the Conference Room of the Associated Students, on Wednesday, February 28 at 4:00 pm, according to Marcia Chandler, campus coordinator. It will be a short meeting. All those who have signed up in the Associated Students office for Secretariat positions and those who are interested, please attend.

Cast for 'All My Sons' is Announced

After careful consideration, Mr. Robert L. Clark, director of "All My Sons," announced the casting for the play, which will be held March 29, 30, 31, and April 5, 6, and 7.

Ken Kellogg, with acting experience in "Circle of Chalk," "Hit and Run," and "Roadrunner," will be cast as Joe Kellar. Fred Goerner will play Chris Kellar; he acted in "Antigone," "Beyond the Horizon," and "Hit and Run."

Gordon Stafford, who will play George Deaver, was in "Beyond the Horizon," and "Gentle People." "Mother" will be played by Bev Benedict, who had parts in "Antigone" and "Hit and Run."

Teading UCSBC's boards for the first time is John Robey as Frank Luby, and Dick Weston as Jim Bayliss.

With experience as the supporting lead in "Of Thee I Sing," Claire Maher will play Ann Deever. Mary Jane Mistretta will play Lidia Luby, and Nancy Chmilkowski, a former Dance Club member, will play Sue Baliss.

The cast is already hard at work and they spend the afternoons in Oak Hall feeling out and adjusting to their parts under the direction of Mr. Clark. Judging by their present progress, March 29 should find them capable of an outstanding performance.

Junior Hostesses Planning Meeting Held in Aud Wed.

Projects being handled by the newly organized Junior Hostesses were discussed at a meeting of the group last Wednesday in the Auditorium. The meeting was conducted by Jean Tahajian, AWS President.

The organization is now sending girls to dances at Camp Cooke and Point Hueneme, dances sponsored by local organizations for servicemen, tea dances at the AWVS Service Center downtown, game and recreation parties at the Civic Recreation Center, and afternoon get-togethers at the Red Shield Service Center.

Dean of Women Ellen E. Bowers spoke first on the origin of the organization. The first call for girls to attend dances at Camp Cooke came at the beginning of Christmas Vacation.

An entire company had had their Christmas leaves cancelled, so the community had sent them a large sum of money for entertainment. The men decided to give a party and called upon the college to supply them with girls. Since then UCSBC women have been in great demand at dances for servicemen and the movement has expanded into the present set-up.

Dean Bowers announced that all requests for service should be handled through her office or the Associated Women Students, so the group can keep track of what is going on.

Each type of service is being handled by a specific chairman, who spoke at the meeting. The chairmen are: Camp Cooke dances, Lura Bowsman; Point Hueneme dances, Audrey Williams; AWVS Tea Dances, Jane Engle; Recreation Center entertainment, Lucia Edwards; Red Shield Service Center, Tanya Tatom; and the Assistance League Dance at the Carrillo Auditorium last Saturday, Ransom Hunt.

The chairman pointed out that girls must sign up in the Dean's Office or with the chairman beforehand before attending any of these events. Junior Hostess applications must also be filled out before they will be able to attend.

Willson to Read Poetry

Dr. Lawrence Willson will read from the poetry of E. E. Cummings today at 4:30 in the AWS Rom.

All interested students and faculty members are invited to this reading and to the rest of the series of lectures and poetry readings sponsored by the English Department.

Tale of Two Sexes

by Aloysius P. Scutlebutt
 "Who was out with who last weekend?" is the question most Santa Barbara College students want to be answered in the Tuesday edition of that newspaper entitled El Gaucho, I am told. At least that is what I was told when I was commissioned for this job.

Who am I, and how did I happen to come here to disturb you peacefully sleeping Gauchos, you may ask. Well, I am a little silent butler with a strange power, that of being able to automatically transplant myself to another place whenever my extra-sensitive nose tells me there is scandal in the offing.

I was formerly employed as doorman and butler for a famous Hollywood bubble dancer, but my butler's pantry became so crowded with Hollywood reporters trying to extract information from me that I was found out and forced to seek a position elsewhere. I received offers from Pravda, The Daily Worker, The Mirror, and The Chicago Tribune, but the offer made by El Gaucho topped them all, so here I am to plague you readers with the scandals I am able to unearth.

You may wonder how I get my information, so I will let you in on a secret. I can will myself to be visible or invisible, as I wish; this power enables me to procure information from any vantage point without being seen. Sometimes, however, when the occasion permits I will myself to become visible for an instant just for the enjoyment I get from the amazed expression on people's faces. So—if a little man wearing white tie and tails and carrying a notebook and pencil suddenly leans at you over the rim of your beer pitcher while you are sitting in the local pub, do not be alarmed—you are not as out of it as you may think—it is only little me.

Now for the juicy part of my new assignment. . . .
 Wednesday night seemed to be—what do you call it—oh, yes, Party City for you industrious students of this illustrious school. My nose first directed me to the Treble Ensemble Concert that evening where a certain bleary-eyed fellow endearingly called "lil' ol' Dezzy" took time out from his Hadaacol bottle to pound on an out-of-tune piano in time to the music.

Out in the audience I saw "professional" square dance caller, Paul Sund, with his pick-up for the evening, Marlene Shepard. She is a college girl he picked up from the Alpha Delta Pi house, but he usually picks up high school girls from the local roller rink. Sitting next to them was a twosome really too gruesome to mention.

The illustrious president of your fair student body, Mr. Frank Goodall gave an "open house" in some dingy Goleta tavern that evening also, but my nose sensed that it was pretty crummy, so I did not waste my time going out there.

Marcia Chandler, new COSA, Henry Use, Don Cree and Ray Hanawalt seemed to be batting it off royally on the campus greensward last week. They make such a charming foursome that it really is a shame that they can't go everywhere together!

Picnics seemed to be the order of the day on Thursday, and my nose twitched frightfully when Veep Elaine Strobel blithely dashed off on a last minute date to the Kappa Sigma affair. I followed her and almost drowned in the beer.

The Flamingo Room was the place my nose directed me to on Friday night, and believe me it was jumping, as you might say. There was a journalism convention holding its sessions there, and lots of personalities mentioned in this column were also milling around. As I entered the place Marie Allen, Nancy Chmilowski, and (censored) were leaving the "jert" with three young men attired in khaki.

Irene Johnson and Barbara Drake were seen wandering around the establishment, but they were not together. Romantic twosome Sally Carter and Norm Willis were both there, but they were not together, either!

Ex-Gauchos Doris Spotts—spelled with two "t's," she told me—and Ken Trevey were just about ready to make it a date, when she left him bereft in that sea of music. (Thank you both for supplying me with what you used to call "hot copy.")

Closer to town at the Tyrol another convention was holding its sessions, but Gauchos Jan Jones and Hal Leon managed to squeeze in between all the Republicans. I was not able to discover their political leanings.

The timely question I have to offer after these lengthy remarks is this: Are Clair Maher and Fred Goerner pinned? I read in past editions of this classic newspaper an announcement of such an occurrence, but I have seen evidence to the contrary, so I am wondering.

The demanding editor of this publication requested that I add this parting note: To Nancy, Yvonne and Mary—Billis will be only too thrilled to have your company on his trips home!

Home Economics Club Meets Tomorrow Night

Members of the Home Economics Club and guests will meet Wednesday, February 28, at 7:30 pm at Hunt's China Shop to hear Mr. LeRoy Hunt speak on glassware, chinaware and silverware.

Presiding at the meeting will be the newly elected officers: Liz Hawkins, president; Irene Johnson, vice-president; Virginia McQuown, recording secretary; Carolyn Godwin, corresponding secretary; and Jo Silva Gomes, treasurer.

European "Hot Spot" Will Be Discussed By Taylor in Lecture

Germany, the "hot spot" in Europe, will be discussed Wednesday by a Santa Barbara College faculty member who was born in Germany and spent most of his life there.

Ransom T. Taylor, lecturer in German at the college, will speak on "Germany in the Post-war World" in the All-College lecture series, sponsored by University of California Extension and the Committee on Drama, Lectures and Music, in Pine Hall 100 at 4 pm on the Riviera Campus.

Taylor, who believes Germany is the turntable of Europe in a "cold war growing warmer," was born in Munich of American parents. He was graduated from the Realgymnasium in Munich in 1934 and received a Lic. Oec, equivalent to an American MS, in Switzerland, in 1939. Last year he was awarded an MA in UCLA. He has served four years in the American Army.

New on the faculty this year, Taylor is in a position, from firsthand observation, to trace current events in Germany up to the present East-West struggle.

Orgs, Independents Compete in Intramural Meet Today

Odds 'n Ins . . .

Speaking of track and who isn't, the second annual intramural track meet is being held this afternoon, and, weather permitting, it should be well-attended . . . especially since it won't cost anything and will run beyond afternoon classes for those who have them . . . Track meet—that's an open air equivalent of modern dance with male-men running around in loose tights . . . A note of warning to the Greeks—the independents are running as a team and appear to have taken their conditioning seriously . . . Some of Nick Carter's regular swifties will be displaying their talents for the first time, those who haven't lettered . . .

The "Old Pro" Willie Dancer is playing more basketball than conditioning for his specialty, the high jump, but is a potential CC-AA champion again this year along with Del Pickarts in the javelin, and Alberto Traulzi, who has turned in a 13.9 equivalent time in the high sticks . . . Berto might not be eligible, but it looks like Brick Reed has the green light at last and has been bouncing the discus pretty close to Mel Patton's record of 150' lately . . . Don Margate, sprintster, needs a little training, but according to past marks he is capable of becoming a Gaucho pointmaker . . .

Track Manager Bob Rabkin has enlisted Bob Rolf as his assistant; much to Rabkin's relief . . . Paul Sund is also assisting the sports world by becoming part of the power behind the Gauchos' ambitious intramural activities . . .

Consolation Department: Leroy Criss, end man on the football squad, was nailed to the cross by an alert guardian of the peace whom he led through four red lights from Hoff Heights to the campus . . . Jean Chauvel's credible showing in the Hamilton Air Base game has been made his swan song in basketball for this semester, anyway, by ineligibility . . . Intramural Manager Joe Phillips went off the deep end on Washington's birthday and got married to a Down-Souther . . .

Cal Tech Defeats Gaucho Racketmen

A lack of practice and experience proved to be the downfall of Coach Reynolds' racket men this week as they lost to Cal Tech, five matches to four on the winners' courts in Pasadena Saturday, February 17.

All was not gloom however, as a primarily green team showed promise of developing into a well-balanced squad with a few more weeks of practice.

Batting right down the wire with most of the matches going three sets, the Engineers barely managed to win. Hilbert Lee, one of two returning lettermen, looked very sharp in defeating Jack Martin in the feature match of the day 6-0, 6-0. Cal Cory, the other returning letterman, lost his No. 2 singles match to Palmer Smith 5-7, 6-2, 6-3.

STUDENT TRACKSTERS RUN IN INTRAMURAL

One of the sports highlights of the year will take place on La Playa track and field this afternoon with events scheduled to begin at 3:00 pm. The meet is a highly contested one put on by and for the students of this college.

Other scores were: Joe Zoller of Santa Barbara defeated Roger Baier 5-7, 6-2, 6-3; Berk Welsh of Cal Tech defeated Wendel Niles 6-4, 7-5; Ed Eyer of Cal Tech defeated John Chatfield 2-6, 6-3, 5-7; and Milan Thompson of Santa Barbara defeated Tom Emory 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

The next net play will feature Koury's All-Stars meeting the Gauchos at the Montecito Club Courts March 2.

Gauchos Lose Second Place. Rip Bulldogs

Taking one on the chin last Friday evening, the Santa Barbara Gauchos bowed 47-69 before Cal Poly, who clinched second place with the victory, leaving the locals battling to hold on to third place. The following evening the Wiltonmen redeemed themselves in the eyes of Gaucho fans by finishing their home basketball schedule by trimming the Fresno Bulldogs 64-56, avenging a previous loss to the Bulldogs.

In the Cal Poly debacle, the Gauchos were consistently out-manned and out-gunned by a superior Mustang congregation. Doug Strathern, Cal Poly center and one of the leading scorers of the league, was the game's high scorer, bucketing 14 points while dominating the back-board and contributing greatly to his team's over-all advantage.

Guard Jack Moore topped the Santa Barbarans with 11 points, and reserve forward Lionel Purcell contributed eight more to the cause, all of them in the second half.

Fresno Tilt

Playing on home hardwoods in the friendly confines of the Armory, and liking the level of competition offered by the Fresno Bulldogs, the Gauchos turned on their 26-29 tormenters of last week and put the skids under the visitors to the tune of 64-56.

The Bulldogs were allowed the first blood but the Gauchos came back fast and threatened to run away with the game, then spastically frittered away playing time and were tied at 20-all eleven minutes into the fray.

The affair turned into a spectators game, and after some loose play on both sides the Gauchos managed to lead the Bulldogs to a 34-29 half-time score.

The second half was a duplicate of the first with the Bulldogs managing to head the Gauchos early in the period, but the locals forged a comfortable lead which they maintained throughout the remainder of the fracas.

Jack Moore hit consistently for 20 markers to lead the scorers. Sonny-boy Bradshaw plunked for 14 points to deadlock with Fresnoian Fred Bartels for runner-up honors.

Much of the bench saw action in the game besides the starting line-up of Kesson, Bradshaw, Scruggs, Moore and Haevin. The reserves managed to carry the game to the visitors and Lionel Purcell even pushed through six points while Louis Bortz, Dick Prigge and in and out Tom Moss showed up well.

Student Boners: Socrates died from an overdose of wedlock. Wordsworth had many fast friends the fastest being his sister Dorothy.

Women's Intramural Basketball Begins Soon

Linnea Soske, women's intramural chairman, has announced that women's intramural basketball will start Wednesday night, February 28.

To date, 10 teams have entered. They are Alpha Phi, Chi Omega, Kappa Alpha Theta, Hoagies Poagies, Riviera Apartments, Alpha Delta Phi, Delta Sigma Epsilon, Crookman's House, Whitney's, and Delta Gamma.

Any other teams or single participants who are interested in playing should contact Linnea Soske, phone 23717, or Jo Day, phone 7708. These girls also can be contacted through the student mail boxes. Officials are also needed, so if you are interested contact the same girls.

Competition will be spurred to greater heights in the coming volleyball season by the donation of a beautiful ump-teen inch high trophy which will go to the winner. The trophy donor is the Class of '51, whose sponsor is Dick Kaywod, director of intramural activities.

Kaywod has been surprised at the large number of teams which have been entered. Eighteen teams have signed up so far with many fraternities entering two teams. Their "B" teams will play in the club division and playoffs will decide the schol championship after the regular season which should end prior to softball season.

Scheduling will be completed and posted soon at the men's gym, but teams may still be entered. Teams entered are requested to provide referees for other games.

The Roustabout . . .

The birthday of some guy named George Washington afforded us the opportunity for a very gay weekend.

Wednesday evening, my date and I went to see "Bitter Rice." From that torrid picture, we stumbled to Frank Goodall's openhouse at La Vey's in Goleta. I wouldn't say that it was quiet, but even the mice were sleeping. We left in hopes of finding a more gayous affair, but it seems that only student body presidents have time to live on week nights.

Friday night, I was dragged from a game of bridge. My date had arranged for a gathering of the clan at the Tyrol. That's the place where they have the Bohemian atmosphere and pour a big one for $1.25.

Strange people were muttering wierd sounds and making all sorts of contortionistic movements. After an hour of watching these people, I inquired as to what they were doing. Folk dancing, they said. To me, they seemed to be nowhere. Being that I wanted to be somewhere and not there, we left. Upon leaving, we saw Pete Hales and Bonita Mitchell, pinned, bouncing from wall to wall. Strange as it seems, being pinned and all, they were having a good time.

It had been rumored that Chuck Francis was going to dance with every old hen at the 2nd Intercollegiate Press Convention being held this weekend. We carefully mounted our Siberian Camel and headed for the El Paseo, headquarters for the convention's festivities.

The meeting was indeed wonderful. We listened to speakers speak, ate a $2.80 bowl of soup, and listened to the water drip into pans as it fell through holes in the ceiling. Enough said, we took the next Anapamu trolley car that was directed our way and headed for home wondering whether or not El Paseo would float away during the evening.

Come Saturday night, I was completely exhausted but, in adherence with the old code of Santa Barbara Party Timing, I buttoned my ears and sprung into the cold night seeking adventure. The first stop was the Sportsman where I talked with my old friend Lyle. Why did he remodel?

Upon leaving there, I truddled to my girl's house and made myself very conspicuous by leaning on the horn. She bounded out of the house only an hour late. We took off for a party at the Sigma Tau Gamma house.

The party was lovely. Bruce Monroe was playing bridge with one hand while the other hand was stroking the chartreuse hair of Cathy Cox, his date for the night. Bob Sheppard bounded from person to person telling of sadistic plans that had been made for the Spring pledges. Alberta Myers, his date, being the kindly type, shuddered and shook every time Bob related those horrid contrivances for making pledges live one long nightmare.

After lengthly philosophizing, we left the Sig Tau house much enlightened by the happy crowd. Being that I was on a health jag, we decided that the basketball game would give me much healthful inspiration. At the Fresno State Santa Barbara game, I decided that you can carry this health business too far. That game of basketball is rugged and being that I am not, we again left for greener pastures.

At the corner of State and Anapamu, we heard sounds of a party emanating from Arthur Murray's dance studio. Being a good friend of Arthur, I decided that he would not mind our barging in on his party. The Greek letters above the door told me that a fraternity was somewhere abouts. Arthur wasn't a member of Delta Sigma Phi. I was confronted with a mystery until I opened the door and was greeted by the friendly salutations of many people having a great time. It seems that the Delta Sigs are living at the old studio of Arthur Murray.

We spent a few hours dancing and being friendly to everyone that came into view. Every now and then we would burst into a gay song about Flaming Mamie or some innocent young coed, whose mother never told her.

Before we left, we pulled Dick Krupp and Louise Reisner, his date, from atop of the piano where they were doing a can-can. After rescuing Juanita Gebb, Bob Brotherton's date, from the clutches of two stag men, we left the party and went home wondering what strange and foreboding things would happen to us next week.

Governor Warren began a political address thus: "Ladies and gentlemen, I'm pleased to see this dense crowd here tonight." A voice from the back shouted, "Don't be too pleased. We ain't all dense!"

MUSIC DEPARTMENT PREPARES FOR ALL-CAL HIGH SCHOOL SYMPHONY

"Everyone in the Music Department is really working hard on the All-Cal High School Symphony and will be until the night of March 5," states Bob Greenwell, manager.

This organization, dedicated to making the three-day period a memorable one for students, visitors, and townspeople, is divided into committees headed by members of the student staff.

Henry Use is Finance Coordinator and will handle all expenditures. Miriam Hanlon is in charge of housing.

Dot Carrell heads the ticket committee, assisted by Bobbie Griffith, Else Jensen, Enid Goodman, Lucia Edwards, Beth Lang, Nelda Johanknight, Dick Ozenghar, Desmond Kincaid, Alphonse Reide, Peter Swanson and Ethel Wilson.

The secretariat committee, headed by Ila Greenwell, is composed of Donnie Shepherd, Suzie Tamura, Joyce Sader, Marcia Chandler, Ann Havekorst, Jean Johnson and Gwen Toll.

The responsibility of fitting 175 students with equipment goes to the staging committee headed by Al Cavalli. Other members are Peter Swanson, Leroy Hooge, Jim McBride, Carl Schaffer, Don Wilson, Dan Clark and Desmond Kincaid.

Nancy Ambler is in charge of publicity, Clair Maher is historian and Lee Statom is in charge of programs. Dave Swain heads the transportation committee.

The library committee will take care of storing instruments and copying manuscripts. Pat Sheerin, is chairman, with Pat McDormatt, Jim Fozard, Nancy Ambler and theory students as members.

Faculty advisors for the enterprise are Maurice Faulkner, chairman of the music department; Clayton Wilson, assistant professor of music, and Stefan Krayk, assistant professor of music.

CSTA MEETS THIS THURSDAY AT 7:30

The forthcoming open meeting of the Santa Barbara College chapter of the California Student Teacher's Association should be of interest to all education majors on the campus.

This meeting will be held Thursday, March 1, at 7:30 in Music Hall 100.

Miss Elsie A. Pond, assistant professor of education, who recently returned from her sabbatical in England, and Miss Mary Ball, assistant secretary of the California Teacher's Association, will discuss the exchange teacher program and its opportunities. This program enables American and European teachers to exchange positions for a period of one year.

Questions from the audience will be welcomed. Everyone is urged to attend and become acquainted with CSTA. Refreshments will be served.

PHRATERES TO HOLD WILD WEST PARTY

Jeans and plaid shirts will be the order of the evening tomorrow night at Phrateres' semi-annual Wild West Party. Games and refreshments will be offered at the party, held in the cafeteria at 7:30.

According to Catherine Stuart, president, all women are invited, even if they were unable to attend the tea held last Sunday. Those interested are requested to sign up in the office of the Dean of Women today.

Committee members making plans for the party are Agnes Kieling, invitations; Shirley Kent, Mae Hogue and Elaine Einfeld, refreshments; Nancy Barker, Marilyn Mahan, Twila Berkeley and Claire Podger, decorations, and Doreen Deppler, entertainment.

the women's jaegers

Impartial surveys show that 5 out of 6 Silverwoods stores have fine Women's Shops. Some people don't realize that and some others, who've never had occasion to stop in, simply assume that we just have beautifully tailored Hart Schaffner & Marx suits and coats for women. We got other things, too. Wow! Jaegers, for example. Jaegers, such as are sold at Silverwoods, are wonderful—if you haven't worn 'em you haven't lived. Jaegers come in cashmere or lambswool; they are soft, fleecy, woolly and warm. We have the kind you pull on and the kind you button up. Some of them are styled to show your figure off to whatever degree you feel is important, others are frankly droopy for easy-going, roomy comfort. They're all imported from London, of course, and they come in a variety of beautiful colors which can make quite a splash, in case you're not wearing anything over them.

Yes, Jaegers is about the oldest and best respected British name in the sweater business—and Silverwoods Women's Shop have as fine a collection of genuine imported Jaegers sweaters as you'll find this side of the Atlantic. And if you thought we were talking about jaegers (as in "The Bishop's Jaegers")—that's an entirely different subject.
