Chuckles, laughs and smiles abounded at the college auditorium Wednesday evening when the college players presented P. G. Wodehouse's hilarious comedy, "Good Morning, Bill," as its first production of the school year.

Patti Popham and Howard Gammill, playing the parts of Lottie and Lord Tidmouth, were responsible for much of the humor and for many of the amusing situations. Mary Costa and Don Follett, as Dr. Sally Smith and Bill, furnish the love interest. Boyd Hammack as Sir Hugo Drake, Ruth Dillman as Marie, the maid, and William Ogle as the page-boy completed the cast.

The play tells of the struggles of Bill, a young Englishman, trying to win the love of Dr. Sally Smith, a very efficient but very likeable doctor. Bill is also faced with the necessity of getting rid of Lottie, who rebels greatly at being cast off "like an old tube of toothpaste." Lord Tidmouth and Sir Hugo Drake, although they have good intentions, only add to the complications of the situations.

The stage crew, under the leadership of Jack Murray, should receive much credit for the mechanical success of the play. Starting with practically no equipment, they managed to build two very acceptable sets. Frank Machado, Dan DeReign, Julius Defosset, and John Beagle ably assisted Murray in this work.

The first scene was a suite in the Esplanade hotel at Marius Beach in Sussex. The action took place at five o'clock on an April afternoon. For the second act, the stage crew, rapidly changing the scene, presented a room in Bill's country home, Willow Jersey. The action in this act took place at night, two weeks later than that of the first act. The setting in the third act was the same as that in the second; the time, the next morning.

Dean William Ashworth, sponsor of the college players, directed the play, assisted by James Murray and Betty Durfee. The entire personnel of the Players' club was utilized in completing the arrangements for the production.

The College Players wish to acknowledge the kindness and generosity of Peterson's studio, Roger's furniture company, T. W. Eads and Weeds, Trenwith's Eisenberg's, Laura Figg, the Lobero theatre, St. Vincent's day nursery, The Santa Barbara, The Morning Press, The Daily News, The Roadrunner, the Samarkand hotel, Colin Campbell Cooper, and Mrs. Robert E. Lewis.

In addition to whole-hearted cooperation in furnishing properties, last night's full house attested to the high regard in which college dramatic productions are held by the townspeople. Players club officials announced.

TOM CRAWFORD WILL INSTRUCT FIRST AID CLASS

Tom Crawford has been selected to instruct a class in Red Cross first aid at the "Y," according to an announcement made by J. C. Lewis, director of physical education at the Y.M.C.A.

The first meeting will be Friday at 7:30, at which time a schedule for the following meetings will be discussed. The course is open to men and women of the college; there will be no charge connected with it.

A certificate will be awarded on completion of the course. "A Red Cross first aid certificate is invaluable to teacher when applying for a position," says Coach Hal Davis.

Books on Engineering Presented to Library

Mrs. F. B. Edwards of Mission Ridge road last week presented the college library with several books on engineering, according to Miss Katharine Ball, librarian. This collection is from her late husband's library and includes books on radio, engineering, surveying and several handbooks on building and mechanical engineering. They are ready for student use and may be secured from either at any time.

C.C.C. Campers Guests at Play and Grid Game

About 120 boys from the San Marcos C.C.C. camp attended the play, "Good Morning, Bill," which was presented in the auditorium yesterday evening. The entire balcony was reserved for the corps, which was admitted free.

This is a part of a cooperative plan worked out by a college committee consisting of Dr. William E. Ellison, Mrs. Helen M. Barnett and E. E. Ericson, who are working with Lieutenant Bamberger, commander in charge of the San Marcos camps, to bring more entertainment to members of the Civilian Conservation Corps. Last week several hundred of the boys attended the football game in Pershing park.

A piano, belonging to a local group, but which has not been used for some time is being reconditioned and will be donated to the camp. College groups are expected to visit the camp several times during the year and will furnish entertainment.

Lieutenant Bamberger visited Santa Barbara last week and met with the committee to discuss the possibility of members of the camp attending college functions. As 120 is the largest number allowed to leave the camp at one time, the boys will attend in groups. Last Friday's game and the play presented last night are the first of a series of such functions thrown open to camp members.

Great appreciation has been already expressed by the boys, according to Mr. Ericson, and they are now rooting for Santa Barbara State.

It is hoped that this work may later be extended to other camps.

Program Plans Formulated by Hosts at Meet

While most of the students are at home for their Thanksgiving dinner, some 75 delegates of Alpha Phi Gamma, national journalistic fraternity, will meet in Santa Barbara for a national convention. Delegates are expected from most of the 20 chapters scattered throughout the United States and will convene here for a three day meet.

Delegates will be greeted and registered Thursday afternoon in the Men's and Women's club rooms and be shown about the campus. They will then go over to El Encanto for a Thanksgiving dinner. Friday and Saturday mornings they will have breakfast at Johnson's followed by business meetings in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

Friday noon luncheon will be served at Sabella's followed by a sightseeing tour of Santa Barbara's many points of interest.

Before the dinner dance at Vista Mar Monte a model initiation will be performed in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

Saturday luncheon is to be at the Ship Cafe with the afternoon devoted to a boat ride while the delegates of the junior college division hold their business meeting.

The closing convention dinner at the Plantation will be followed by a theatre party at the Fox Arlington.

Paul Hylton as president of the host chapter, is convention chairman, with Phoebe Steer acting as his first assistant. Ben Palmer is in charge of registration and housing; Mary Tomlinson, Lowell Washburn, and Clare Wise, decorations and musical programs; Barbara Clark, convention picture; Inez Cash, campus tour.

Hoy Dia Distributed on Campus this Week

The second issue of Hoy Dia, alumni monthly, was distributed on the campus this week.

This month's issue contains news of Home Coming week and plans for future alumni activities, including the alumni section meetings.

Valuable Etching Is Given to Prexy

William Wyles, donator of the Lincoln library to the college, this week presented President Clarence L. Phelps with an etching of Santa Barbara's waterfront as it looked 50 years ago. The picture is the work of Henry Chapman Ford.

President Phelps stated that anyone interested in the picture was invited to come to his office and view the sketch.

New Transfers Jump Increase to 60 Percent

According to enrollment figures released by President Clarence Phelps this week, the number of students transferring to this college from other colleges and universities has increased 60 per cent over that of last year.

The largest number of transfers came from the State universities of Los Angeles and Berkeley. Nineteen junior colleges, three state colleges and every other university and college in California are represented by the transfers. The majority of transfers enter the upper division classes.

Fifty per cent of the transfers are from Santa Barbara county while those from Los Angeles represent about 18 per cent of the transferring students. Twenty counties are represented by these transfers, the majority coming from Orange, Kern, Ventura, San Diego and San Bernardino.

"Specialized departments are attracting an increasing number of upper division students to the campus," President Phelps commented. "These students come here to continue work toward the B.A. degree, remaining two or three years."

"Due to the large number of transfers the sophomore enrollment has exceeded the freshman enrollment for the past two years, which is the reversal of the conditions in most colleges," he said.

REPRESENTATIVE OF LIONS' CLUB MEET ON CAMPUS

Representatives of the Lions club and members of the faculty met at a joint publicity committee for the college in President Clarence Phelps' office on Monday evening to discuss the future publicity activities pertaining to college functions.

Reports were made on the success of Home Coming week, merchants' window displays, band tags sold and the organization of a campus news bureau. Work with the men at the civilian conservation camp was discussed and it was decided to send student entertainers out there in exchange for an assembly from them.

Roadrunner Staff to Go South for Picnic

Roadrunner and Ventura Junior college Pirate staff members will meet in Ventura Friday afternoon for a picnic. Following the picnic the group will attend the Junior college dance. The local staff will leave for Ventura about 4:00 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Those who have decided to make the trip are Merle McGowan, Margaret Mellenger, Georgia Scott, Mildred Jones, Wilda Simone, Doris Coker, Miriam Perkins, Francis Schrieber, Fred Hendrixson, Ralph Porter, Jack Porter, Jerry L. Bennett, Art Dakan, Fritz Muegenburg, Don Follett, Clarke George and Paul Woods.

Term in Hospital Is Sentenced to Daykin

Due to complications of an appendicitis operation, Jimmy Daykin, a member of Beta Sigma Chi and a writer for the Roadrunner, will not be able to leave the Cottage hospital until November 30. Mr. Daykin will be at home to friends after that date at the Gregson hotel, room 202.

He was taken suddenly ill last Monday night and was removed to the hospital immediately.

Picture Contract Awarded

Individual Photos
Will Be Taken
By Wicart

Cooperation Urged

Editor Reports Rapid Progress on Annual

Ward Wicart, Santa Barbara photographer, was awarded the contract last Thursday for taking the individual and most of the group pictures for the La Cumbre, college year book, according to Miss Barbara Clark, editor of the annual. With the awarding of the contract, which had been tied up by NRA code difficulties, and for which there was spirited bidding by many of the city photographers, the taking of individual photos will get under way shortly, under the direction of Marjorie Williams, photo editor of the annual, Miss Clark stated.

All students are urged to cooperate in keeping their appointments promptly so as to avoid delays and the last minute rush. A one dollar fee will be charged for individual pictures, this price covering the cost of making one print for the La Cumbre. Additional prints and enlarged photos may be obtained at a special price to college students.

Miss Clark, editor, will be assisted in her editorial work by Miss Phoebe Steer, who will be first assistant editor. Miss Steer has had several years of experience on previous La Cumbre staffs.

Work on the La Cumbre is progressing rapidly, according to Miss Clark, with material of completed events being edited. While the size of the book will of necessity be cut forty pages because of a reduced budget, the annual will contain many photographs and features which should be of interest to students on the campus.

Wells to Edit First Issue of State Bulletin

Plans are being formulated this week for the initial edition of a monthly bulletin on phases of elementary science by Harrington Wells, instructor in biology at the State Teacher's college, following a conference of teacher's college instructors at Hotel Californian, in Fresno over the week-end of November 18 and 19. Miss Helen Hefnerman, chief of California rural and elementary education, called the conference for the purpose of formulating plans for the publication to be issued by the state department of education to each grade teacher.

The need for such a publication has been apparent for some time, according to Mr. Wells, in view of national trends in procedure. "Teachers in the field in many cases lack sufficient supplementary material with which to illustrate the units outlined," commented Mr. Wells. "Therefore we plan this monthly publication as a direct practical aid to the grade instructor in presenting subject matter of this nature. Each teacher's college will be responsible for one issue, adjusting content material for each of the grades and according to seasonal changes, as well as varying environmental conditions throughout the state. A glossary of those scientific terms necessary will be included, as will a bibliography for instructor and pupils, climaxed with suggested activities for each grade level from the kindergarten through the eighth grade."

The group decided that the bulletin be issued monthly, being sent directly to each grade teacher, urban and rural, in the state. Articles contained in the bulletin, tentatively designed as a 16 page illustrated publication, will be edited by each of the representatives in turn before going to Sacramento for publication. Hence the first bulletin will not be issued until August 1934.

HELP FOLD ROADRUNNERS

Those who folded the Roadrunner last Thursday morning were Bill Ogle, Bob Serbian, Durant Moseley, Barney Casner, Roy Davis and Sebastian Tortorolo.

Flunk Notes Cause Mail Box Rushing

Perhaps more notes reached their proper sources during the week than during many weeks past. Certainly the dense half-circle of heads about the mail boxes speaks of some interest in the mail which students expect to receive.

Many a student is now adopting a studious air; many another is smiling at the world and finding out that it isn't such a cruel old place to live after all.

And all because of those valentines, those cinch notes, those flunk notices. Mid-term is always a time for renewed interest in student mail. And from the friendly chatter over who did and who didn't receive notices, we suspect it is also a time at which to renew old acquaintances.

Plan Plaque Here Honoring State Founder

Mrs. Edna R. Morse, founder and first president of Santa Barbara State college, will come from her home in San Francisco to take part in the placing of a memorial commemorating the work of Anna S. C. Blake, who conducted the school of woodwork and home economics, on November 29.

While she is in town Mrs. Morse will be the guest of Mrs. Laura J. Price. She will address the home economics department on November 28 at the regular section meeting.

The present State college grew out of the organization started by Mrs. Morse of the Anna S. C. Blake Normal school in 1908.

Mrs. Hazel Hunt Brewster, former student in the school, a graduate of the Chicago Art Institute, and a pupil of Loreda Taft, is designing the plaque which will be imbedded in a boulder taken from the present college site and placed on the former grounds of the Blake school in the 800 block of Santa Barbara street. The ceremony will take place on November 29 at 3:30 o'clock.

The memorial is to be financed by former students of the woodwork and home economics classes in the Anna S. C. Blake building.

In charge of the arrangements is James Lowley, cashier of the First National bank. He is assisted by Paul G. Sweetser, program chairman; Miss Heloise Coutouline, chairman of finances; and Miriam Edwards, chairman of the plaque committee. The plaque will be cast by Robert Westwick at the Westwick Iron works.

PHELPS INVITED TO EDUCATIONAL MEET IN SOUTH

Many topics pertaining to colleges and students are slated for discussion at the meeting of the Associated Colleges and Universities of the Pacific Southwest which will be held at the Mission Inn in Riverside, December 13, according to an invitation received by President Clarence L. Phelps this week.

President Phelps and any interested instructors from Santa Barbara State have been invited to attend the gathering. The meeting will start at three in the afternoon and continue in the evening after an 8 o'clock dinner. Discussion will be on problems of student aid, plans for vitalizing the college programs and the college product.

Following the dinner a program will be given after which the group will talk on the art museum and its aspirations as a bond on international friendship, and capitalism and planned economy.

Student Directories Should Be Sold Soon

One hundred and eighty student directories yet remain to be sold, according to Roy Davis, editor. Faculty members may buy their copies from the registrar's office. The Activities committee asked that all those students who promised to buy copies do so at once, in order that the sales campaign may end before the Thanksgiving vacation. Copies may be secured in the student body or the comptroller's office.

Thanksgiving Vesper Service Held Tuesday

The Thanksgiving Vesper service under the auspices of the Associated Women Students is to be held at the Unitarian church on Tuesday afternoon, November 28, from 4:30 to 5:00 o'clock.

The Reverend Berkeley B. Blake will give a short talk. Anita Cochran will play the organ. Elbert Cochran and Sophie Zemella, senior, will sing. All students are invited to attend.

Contact With Public Fixed by Committee

Reappointment of the Public Relations committee, instigated last year with Paul Hylton as its head, and the naming of a committee on committees are to be the main features of the student council meeting to be held tonight on the campus, it was announced this week by President Marcus Cravens.

The Public Relations board will act under recommendations of last year's group, supervising generally student contact with the public, in speeches and entertainment. The new committee on committees will assist the student body president in appointing committees, and will help keep the commissions active. It will also have the power to suggest appointments, according to President Cravens.

Last year's Public Relations group did a lot of invaluable work in collecting clippings of publicity given the college and in publicizing the school, it was stated.

General financial reports from different campus organizations are due for reading at this week's meeting, Fred Allred student body controller, announced.

A report from the constitutional revision committee will be given to the council. This board was appointed by President Cravens for the purpose of bringing all constitutions of student organizations up to date. Members of the Constitutional Revision committee are Katherine Kitley, Betty Hopkins and Ralph Porter.

Election of members of the extra curricular activities committee and an associated student body representative to the Junior Chamber of Commerce will also take place at the meeting, according to President Cravens.

Juhl Elected Councilor of A.W.S. Group

Grace Juhl was elected councilor at the last meeting of the Associated Women Students which was held Tuesday morning in the auditorium. She will take the place of Barbara Clark who was forced to resign because of her other duties, including the editorship of La Cumbre.

Louise Holden, Las Espuelas chairman of the Christmas basket committee, announced that two families were to be cared for by the A.W.S. this year and requested donations of groceries and clothing. December 14 and 15 were dates set for filling the basket, when students are to bring supplies or money to the dean's office.

The Neighborhood social center selected the two names now on the list. As donations come in additional families may be added to the list as rapidly as the committee is able to care for them. Arrangements have been made so that there will be no duplication of effort on the part of the different social service agencies this year.

After the meeting the Men's club joined the group to view a short program presented by the kindergarten-primary department. While a quartet of number of songs to the tunes of "Long Long Trail" and "It Ain't Gonna Rain no More," a number of scenes of classrooms of past, present and future times were shown. At the conclusion the quartet and members of the cast joined in singing a "K.P.D." song.

ERICSON TALKS AT INSTITUTE

E. E. Ericson, head of the industrial education department, gave the first of a series of talks on education and child study before the teachers' institute of Ventura county at Oxnard last night. Mr. Ericson also plans to speak in Ventura and Sonoma.

Unusual Pictures Sought at $1 Each

Students readers of the Roadrunner and of Collegiate Digest will be paid $1 for unusual snapshots of student and faculty activities, it was announced yesterday by Ralph Porter, editor of the Roadrunner.

This offer is being made by The Roadrunner and by Collegiate Digest to foster student photography, and to give all students the opportunity of competing for publication honors in the magazine rotogravure section that is distributed weekly.

All photos should be sent to the Editor, Collegiate Digest, Madison, Wisconsin, or should be sent directly to this newspaper. All photos that are selected for publication will be paid for at the rate of $1 each, with no limitation made on the number accepted from any one student.

Funds for Buildings Obtained

Build Campus Drive

New Plant Includes Dormitories for Students

Construction of Santa Barbara State's new $1,162,000 campus on Leadbetter hill will probably begin by the first of the year if indications revealed in a telegram the first of the week are carried out, it was announced yesterday by President Clarence L. Phelps.

Andrew P. Hill, chief of the division of school house planning, wired President Phelps Monday requesting him to have local clubs and organizations pass resolutions in support of the college appropriation from the recovery fund. Money for building the new college will come from the state and federal government. The state furnishing 70 percent and the United States the remaining 30 percent, President Phelps stated.

Financing the new school has been dormant for the past several months, but with this request from Mr. Hill, President Phelps anticipates that some definite action will be forthcoming in the near future.

The resolutions asked for by the State planning head had all been forwarded to the northern part of the state Wednesday. Immediate action was taken on the matter by Mayor Nielson and the city council, the Rotary and Lions clubs and other local groups.

Plans for the new campus on the Leadbetter site were completed last year by state engineers in conjunction with local architects, and local school and civic heads. The sketches provide for an elaborate system of roadways and a large group of buildings including lecture halls, dormitories, and laboratories, with a centrally located administration building.

Early in 1933 $50,000 was appropriated for the construction of a road leading to the campus. The new drive, which has its beginning where the Plaza del Bar bath house now stands on Cabrillo boulevard, winds to the college site along the north side of the hill. Building of this new entrance to the school property has not been started as yet, it was stated.

ACTIVITY GROUP TO STAGE STUNTS AT HOOP GAMES

The Student Activity committee is making plans for varied activities during the coming basketball season, according to Inez Cash, chairman of the committee. The plans include a variety of stunts which will be staged in an effort to arouse the interest of the college students and also of the townspeople to a high stage in the basketball season of the Roadrunner aggregation.

"There will be no let down of work by the committee during the basketball season," stated Miss Cash. "We will make every effort to keep up the fine Roadrunner spirit which was well evident during the football season. It is entirely possible that we shall make plans for between half entertainment for the spectators, which would include stunts and music from the band."

Combined Glee Clubs Present State's New Victory Song at Game

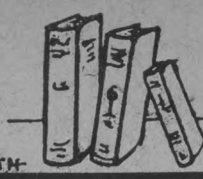

As an added attraction at the football games this season the State College band has given special stunts during the half at each game. Cliff Leedy, director, and Peter Quinn, bandmaster, worked out several unique stunts which were staged at the games. Outstanding among these was the "big bad wolf" skit, put on at the San Diego game. The band boys worked hard on these stunts, practicing nights on Phelps' field.

The Caltech game saw the appearance for the first time of the girls' and men's glee clubs with the band. The combined clubs sang State's victory march in front of the roofing section, after which they put on a drill.

Education Impaired

Education in America today is in a perilous condition. This is because of the failure of several states to modernize their machinery of government so that each state can effectively and intelligently support and control its own system of public education.

Under the present system in the United States each state determines its own method of education, its authority rests in an ability to legislate and administer.

A recent survey by the United States office of education shows that within the forty-eight states there are approximately 127,000 school districts or administrative units under the control of 424,000 school board members.

The average number of teachers per unit is seven. On some boards there are two members to one teacher, and in some states the members of the board outnumber the teachers.

In some districts the boards exercise complete and absolute jurisdiction in all matters, in others the members merely exercise the dictates of the voters.

However, the situation is in dire need of improvement; and a proposed plan entered by the eminent Dean Judd of the school of education at the University of Chicago seems to be a practical remedy and therefore should appeal to the thoughtful and progressive Americans.

"A movement to abolish school boards is in order," says Dean Judd, "and should be supported by all who believe in the simplification of government."

"Schools have become so complicated that they require administrative guidance by experts."

"It would be far better for schools in general if superintendents of schools were appointed directly by civil authorities."

"The internal administration of the schools should then be turned over in full to the superintendent."

"The superintendents, as experts, would be answerable, as they are not now, for the conduct of the schools and the civil authorities, who must always have control directly or indirectly of the financial resources of the community, would be unable to escape responsibility."

What this country needs today is more and better schools, manned by better trained and better paid teachers.

These the country cannot afford until state and local governments are simplified and the number of their officials, including school boards, drastically reduced.

An Intelligent Attitude

Worthy of comment is the negative stand that the university and college students the country over have taken on the question of warfare. The topic is no doubt one of the season's most eligible debateables.

Those claiming that the collegians attitude is not justified, advance the theory of honor, and point out that the sacrifice of lives in the past accounts in no small measure for our being alive today. They speak strongly of an obvious lack of patriotism in the younger generation, and too they go so far as to intimate a distinct shortage of courage in modern young manhood.

The student squirming under this barrage of logical fact, offers for counter-argument a powerful series of offensive thrusts. He will contend that, "progress and education have taught us the absurdity of war." Wholesale destruction of human lives seems to us a poor method whereby the settlement of a material question can be reached. In short, humanity and society have civilized us sufficiently to recognize the utter futility of previous procedure. We advocate, rather, coalition through reason, not coalition through violence.

The two conflicting factions represent two great bodies struggling with sincerity, for righteousness. But, because they represent distinctly different standards of environment and intelligence a compromise will be impossible. Both are right, the question, then remains, "which policy should be adopted for the betterment of the greatest number?"

Ye Skule Spirite

By CASEY BEE

THE OTHER night,
AT THE football game,
I WAS sitting,
NEAR THE band,
AND THERE were,
SOME STUDENTS,
WHO WERE buying,
MANY BAGS of peanuts,
AND THEY did not seem,
TO BUY them to eat,
BECAUSE THEY kept,
THROWING THE peanuts,
TO THE band boys,
AND THE band boys,
WOULD TRY and catch them,
BUT WOULD miss,
THEIR CATCHES oftener,
THAN THEY succeeded,
SO ONE of the boys,
IN DESPERATION,
TO TRY to catch,
ANY PEANUTS,
TURNED THE bell up,
OF HIS clarinet,
AND PRETTY soon,
ALL THE horns,
WERE TURNED over,
AND UPSIDE down,
AND NEARLY all,
THE BAND instruments,

WITH HOLES in them,
WERE TURNED toward,
THE DIRECTION that,
THE PEANUTS were,
COMING FROM,
AND SUDDENLY,
THERE WAS a noise,
OF METALLIC sound,
FROM THE bass horn,
AND A PEANUT had landed,
RIGHT IN the bell,
OF ONE of those big horns,
AND I GUESS the reason,
THE BAND played,
SO LOUDLY after that,
WAS BECAUSE,
THEY WERE blowing peanuts,
OUT OF their horns,
I THANK YOU!

Social Science Club Convenes Near San Diego

International Relations club of Santa Barbara State college was represented by Mary Smiley, president, and Clarke George at the third annual Pacific Southwest conference held this year at Casa de Manana in La Jolla last Friday and Saturday, November 17 and 18.

The conference was composed of over 100 delegates from Whittier, Pomona, Redlands, Occidental, U.S.C., U.C.L.A., Arizona State, San Diego State and Santa Barbara State.

Welcoming addresses by Tom Greer, president of I.R.C. of San Diego State and by Dr. Edward L. Hardy, president of San Diego State college, opened the Friday morning session. Dr. Lewis B. Lesley of S.D.S.C. then introduced Miss Amy Hemingway Jones, executive secretary of International Relations clubs of the world, who gave a short talk and then heard reports from the delegates of the activities of the clubs on the various camps.

Dr. C. B. Leonard of the history department of San Diego State gave an address on "Aspects of Modern Dictatorships," during luncheon Friday noon. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in the round table discussions. The four round table meetings were on disarmament, international trade barriers, Latin America, and the Far East.

C. Douglas Booth, Carnegie endowment speaker, addressed the conference during dinner on "Economic Nationalism." Section meetings of the round tables occupied the first part of the evening after which there was an informal dance in the lounge of the hotel.

Short section meetings of the various round tables were held the first part of Saturday morning after which there was a caravan of all of the conference cars through San Diego out to the campus of the State college. Members of the host club conducted the visitors on a tour of the campus and buildings.

Luncheon was held in the campus cafe and featured a moving address by Ex-President General Ortiz Rubio of Mexico in which he spoke for a closer working together and understanding by the United States and Mexico for mutual benefits. After a short plenary session, held in the Little Theatre of the college, during which the conclusions of the round table discussions were read,

"E. E. Ericson, director of the industrial education department, has been asked by the State department of manual arts training to rewrite the state bulletin regulating the state credentials for teaching shop work in junior high and senior high schools. Mr. Ericson plans to propose a different credential based largely upon practical experience in trade work in addition to college training."

"Dr. William Maxwell, professor

Mr. Wells, who is the author of "A Handbook on the Teaching of Nature Study," published last June, was chosen to prepare the first edition of the series, entitled "Childhood Pets." Since the bulletin will go to every teacher in California, attention will be focused upon Santa Barbara State college at this time.

Turkey Trot Is Scene of Much Entertainment

The annual gobblers' hop, better known as Turkey Trot, was held at Rockwood, Saturday night beginning at 8:30 p. m. "Bud" Lambourne and his college orchestra furnished the music.

A dance contest was won by Helen Honigsberger and Bill McDavid. The judges for the contest were Betty Brown, Pearl Allin, Paul Woods and Art Dakan, who picked three couples. The winners were picked by popular applause.

During the orchestra intermission, Mercedes Berger, accompanied at the piano by Anita Cochran, sang a group of songs that met with popular approval.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allred, Mr. and Mrs. Ray C. Denno, Jerry Bennett and Miss Baco of Los Angeles, were patrons and patronesses. Other faculty members present included Miss Elsie Pond, Dr. William Ellison, and E. E. Ericson.

Miss Maurine Fisher Visits Campus

Maurine Fisher, former art student of Santa Barbara State, paid a visit to the campus last Friday. Miss Fisher has been attending San Jose State college for the past semester. "Things are so different at San Jose," said Miss Fisher, "I surely miss Santa Barbara State and the friendly spirit that exists on this campus."

Jester Gigolo

By ARTURO DACANO

The football season is over. That grand and glorious American pastime of watching eleven youths punch the pigskin around the field. And it had a nice wind-up. The Caltech-Stater game was plenty colorful. Lots of hurrahs, peanuts, pep, pieces of paper, sagacious crevices, (for the plebeian that last, means "wise cracks!") and music floating around thanks to the band and glee club, who between the halves passed entertainingly by. Do our fairer sex like the engineers, or, do they? About eight did the honors for as many football teamsters at the dance after the game. As far as I can see Caltech men rather rate. Anytime!

And at our "Turkey Trot menu" we all had a stepping good time. Myrna Sorenson escorted by our football hero, "Doc" Kelliher. Carol Russell and Jewel Stevens tripping the light fantastic. The devastating auburn-haired linguist, Lillian Talbot raising cain with Red Stuart. Did you see the great Paul Woods whirling and twirling little Betty Brown? One of the fairest ex-co-ed's, Mabel Horton, causing the jitters to Jack Porter and countless others. That vivacious bundle of pep, Mercedes Berger, floored us all with her songs. By the way, she came with Howard Bush, and ain't that something. Rumor has it that Sid Smith and company are friends again. Who was the girl Howard Craven seemed v-e-r-y much interested in?

Congrats to Helen Honigsberger and Bill McDavid for winning the Fox-Trot contest. I hope they get enough to eat as Du Mars donated the prize. The faculty was certainly well represented. Coach Hal Davis and his wife still seem to be enjoying a dance together. Coach Jerry Bennett was there with his Los Angeles girl friend. I surely wish the gigolos would get settled this year for at every dance each one seems to be with a different girl and the mixup starts all over again. Why even our so called steady Virginia Moon came with someone new—tsh-tsh-tsh—how do you do it, Virgie? Even Tiger Kerrigan was going around in a daze. The cause—Peggy Koepf—it looks as though they both were rather thrilled. Even our delectable Doris Coker was there with a former student. It certainly was a mix-up and how! I am going to a swanky affair next weekend and I'll be seeing you.

Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham
I usually like to hear myself talk but my voice is far too noticeable in my office since the Players club has borrowed my monologue, and I have to talk instead of see. Did you notice how competently Howard Gammill used it?

President Clarence Phelps
We had a meeting with the officer in charge of the C.C.C. camp last week, which resulted in the boys attending our football game Friday, and last night 100 or more attended our play as the guests of the student body. We are planning to have members of the student body entertain them and also are hoping for an assembly from the entertainers in their ranks.

It was thrilling going through the Panama Canal. We left here on October 23 and returned November 11. We passed Admiral Byrd's ship in the canal and I took the opportunity of going aboard. It took us about eight hours to go through the canal, and I spent four days in Panama City. I thought my trip was going to be a rest, but it turned out to be exactly the opposite. I had to come home to relax.

Tau Gamma Sigma Plan Socials

At a recent meeting of Tau Gamma Sigma, held at the home Thelma Fent, 2220 Hollister avenue, plans for social events of the season were formulated.

The first of the events will be the attendance of an organ recital to be given by Anita Cochran, alumnae member, Sunday, November 26, at the Unitarian church. Following the recital active members will be hostess to the alumnae at a pot luck supper at the home of Miss Fent. Bridge will be played following the supper.

Mrs. Helen M. Barnett and Helen Honigsberger are planning a musical scheduled to take place in January.

Active members attending the meeting were Betty Ralston, Thelma Fent, Barbara Clark, Florence Stanyer, Esther Ibsen, Marjorie Williams, and Dorothy Dowling. Phyllis Cole and Audrey Moore were the alumnae present.

Bobbie Goux Host to Fraternity

Sigma Alpha Kappa, social fraternity, held a picnic at Bobbie Goux's cabin on the Painted Cave tract Sunday afternoon. The guests enjoyed hiking and cards.

Those present were Mrs. L. M. Goux, Mrs. G. Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Andrews, Betty Thompson, Wandalya Linker, Lois Cray, Rose Greenwell, Dorothy Powell, Thelma Fent, Miriam Finkins, Elsie Eckhoff, Merle McGowan, Wilma Elsenhail, Betty Roulston, Betty Greenwell, Betty Curns, Olive De Motte, Dorothy Taylor, Mercedes Berger, Larry Cudney, Bob Serbian, Bob Mason, George Harper, Stuart Thompson, Thomas Cornwall, John Westwick, Bob Foor, Ralph Porter, Don Coker, Richard Grenner, Barney Casner, Lawrence Leslie, Ralph Forsyth, Art Nisewanger, Allan Garber, Elmer Lee, and the host, Bobbie Goux.

Brubaker Hostess to Kappa Omicron Phi

Kappa Omicron Phi held its regular meeting last Monday evening at the home of Ruth Brubaker. The evening was spent in discussion of business and working on a quilt that will be sold at Christmas time. Refreshments were served by the hostess at the end of the meeting.

Members present were Jesse LeBaron, Stella Smead, Bernice Baker, Louise Lewis, Dellsie Berg, Lois Cole, Lucille Bolton, Ruth Brubaker, Laura Linn, Evelyn Steinmier, Mercedes Jewett, and Miss Clark. Alumni present were Winifred Jones, Dorothy Curtis, Mary Wheeler, Mrs. Freda Jones, and Mrs. Ardis Bordeaux.

Pu Ko How Plan for Christmas Party

Pu Ko How, social club, held a meeting at the home of Virginia McKay and Dorothy Ohsner on Monday evening. During the business meeting the date of the Christmas party was set for December 8. Due to the enforced absence of the president, Josephine Newstetter, Margaret Laing, vice-president, conducted the meeting.

Katharine Ball, Librarian
We had a gift of technical and engineering books from Mrs. F. B. Edwards. They should be of particular use to students interested in that field. It really was a splendid addition to the technical side of the library.

Don Follett
I wasn't scared Monday when we gave our skit from "Good Morning, Bill" on the radio. Not much I wasn't! My knees are knocking together yet, and I'm afraid they were in the play last night.

Art Dakan
The play was swell. If we had more plays like this one we could run them three or four nights and still have a full house. A lot of praise is due to Jim Murray and his cast.

Members of the Garden club are continuing their work in the gardens about the campus and in the quad under the direction of Edith Hawks, chairman of the group. New iris and china lilies are being set out now, while viola plants will be purchased to be planted in the quad.

Mrs. William Maxwell, wife of Dr. Maxwell of the college faculty, has donated to the Garden club a number of ferns and also some prize iris which will be planted in the near future. More ferns are needed, and any donations from students or twonspeople will be gladly received.

New snap dragons were planted last week, which were grown from seed and cared for by C. C. Cash, father of Inez Cash, Garden club chairman last year, who spent two months in developing the plants to the stage of growth where they could be set out. Iris bulbs have been planted in the bulb gardens which was started last summer by members of the Garden club.

Working hours for club members are Tuesday morning and Friday afternoon. Membership is open to any college students interested in the work. The membership of the Garden club at present includes Edith Hawks, chairman, Barbara Tracy, Margaret Whitford, Margaret Mellinger, Sue Kellogg, and Isaac Santos.

Regular Meeting Is Held by Hui Eleu

Hui Eleu, social club, held its regular meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Arlette Parma, 2519 Chapala street. Division of the theatre tickets won in the parade by the club float was discussed and plans were made for a dance to be given January 12.

Members present were Georgia Baldwin, Margaret Beddome, Lucille Bolton, Barbara Boyd, Winifred Creighton, Betty Hopkins, Fern Johnson, Marguerite Lambert, Evelyn MacNeil, Evelyn Maitland, Arlette Parma, Dorothy Phelps, Eloise and Alma Stadtmiller, Edith Tranberg, Sara Viles, Charlotte Webb, and Lorraine Wilkerson.

Pond has Dinner and Theatre Party

Miss Elsie Pond gave a dinner and theatre party last night in honor of Roy P. Eichelberger, principal of the Santa Barbara Junior High school. The dinner was held in the faculty room of the school cafeteria at 6:30 o'clock. After the dinner, the guests attended the play, "Good Morning, Bill."

The guests of Miss Pond were Mr. and Mrs. Eichelberger, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richie, Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, Mr. and Miss Ball, and Mrs. Pond.

Departments Plan Social Event

Members of the home economics and industrial education departments will hold a social Saturday evening at 8:00 o'clock in the college dining hall. Carroll Corbaley and his band will furnish music for dancing. Refreshments will be served. Bridge and other games will be played.

Social chairman Durant Moseley and Jessie Le Baron of the industrial education and home economics departments will be in charge of the affair.

Alumni Groups Plan To Assist College Studies

During the year 1933-34, each section of the Santa Barbara State college Alumni association will be asked to sponsor a departmental or freshman scholarship, according to Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham, secretary of the alumni group, who will present the plan at the meeting in Bakersfield, November 27, at Santa Barbara December 18, at Los Angeles December 20, and at San Francisco and Sacramento in the spring.

The San Joaquin section meeting will be held in the El Tejon hotel, Bakersfield, November 27. President and Mrs. Clarence L. Phelps will be honor guests. Breakfast will be served at 8:30 a.m. December 20 at the Rosslyn hotel in Los Angeles for the southern section. Mercedes Berger, campus blues singer, and Meryl Adams, ballad vocalist, are both on the program for the breakfast. The Santa Barbara section meeting will be held in the Gold Room of El Paseo at noon, December 18.

Faculty members planning to attend the San Joaquin valley meeting are President and Mrs. Clarence L. Phelps, Mrs. Laura S. Price, Mrs. Abraham, Dean Lois Bennink, Miss Hazel Severy, Miss Edith M. Leonard, Miss Margaret M. Burke, Miss Winifred M. Frye and Dean William Ashworth.

The meeting is being held during Kern county institute week in order that graduates may attend without incurring extra traveling expenses. Copies of the Roadrunner will be distributed at the meeting.

From the looks of things I believe a few of the boys underrated the Engineers. These boys charged harder and had more scrap than any outfit the Roadrunners have met all season.

That boy Stockel played his usual game always battling till the last whistle. If I don't miss my guess "Our Ralph" will make All-Conference halfback. Stockel has played with a fracturebone in his foot since mid-season.

After a rough and tumble hockey season the women have started basketball practice. A new system of play is to be installed. The pregame dance give the seniors the top-notch place in the tournament.

"Ray Denno played an outstanding game for the Nationals and rung up eight points." Morning Press—Coach Denno is going to give some of his greatness to our boys this season on our court. Let's hope we have a few outstanding men who can score eight points each game.

Hoop Season Begins for Women Students

Basketball season for women students opened November 20 under the direction of Virginia Slicton, manager, under the supervision of Miss Gladys Van Fossen. Two-court basketball will be played this year, it was announced. All girls interested in basketball are urged to report on Monday and Wednesday or on Tuesday and Thursday at 4 o'clock in the gym, Miss Van Fossen stated.

MEET FRIDAY MORNING

The Woman's Athletic association is having a breakfast Friday morning, November 24, at seven o'clock in the college cafeteria. A program has been planned under the direction of Marion Ek.

Campus Coffee Cup Capers!

Denny Baylor did an exhibition tango in the display window after the game, Friday night. Not to be outdone, Don Stuart and a quiet sophisticated lass, did an artistic Apache dance.

The Campus Coffee Cup is rapidly becoming a social institution where entertainment is supplied as well as the usual victuals.

Bud Gammill and Georgie Williams created an inferno on the floor that would do credit to any campfire boy. No Arson charges filed.

Headwaiter Mahoney almost went to L. A. last week to visit his fiancée. Ask Red the details. Almost every night "Slip Stick Louie" (Alf. Zapf) can be seen sipping a cup of coffee and working intricate problems with his ever faithful Slide Rule.

How pleased your young lady friend will be if you present her with a beautiful bouquet.

Roadrunners Drop Final Contest to Cal Tech Engineers, 7 to 0

CALTECH DOWNS OLIVE AND WHITE IN FINAL CONFERENCE ENCOUNTER

Engineers Outplay Roadrunner Line

By BEN PALMER

Playing their last conference game the Roadrunners fell before the force of the Caltech Engineers last Friday night by a score of 7-0. The locals were clearly outplayed throughout the game, upsetting the predicted hope of an even game.

Seven points were scored in the second quarter when Don Rooke took the ball over the goal line, and Sid Barnes kicked the extra digit for Caltech.

Caltech kicked off the ball to the Roadrunners, and Stockel took the leather on the 10 yard line, running it back to the 27 yard marker. Rezonico kicked back to the Caltech 40 where the Southerners took the ball and pounded down to the Santa Barbara 3 yard line before being halted. Rezonico punted to the 35 cross-line where the Beavers passed on the second down. Mahoney snagged the pass and raced back to the 29 yard marker. Rezonico on two plays, and Stockel in a final plunge made a first down for State, the only one of the first quarter for the locals. Kelliher fumbled on the 42 and the Engineers recovered and were forced to punt into the end zone. State punted out of bounds on the 50 yard stripe and after a few plays, during which time the Beavers made one down, the quarter ended.

Beaver Drive

A drive had begun that could not be stopped, for the visitors marched straight down the field to a touchdown, with one pass being completed from Sharp to Dietrich good for 18 yards. The kick over the goal posts was good, and the score 7-0.

For a time State fought desperately after receiving the kick-off, with Captain Kerrigan showing up well by snagging short passes and a good gain on an around end play. Nothing spectacular occurred during the remainder of this quarter with neither team threatening the opponents goal line. The half ended with the ball in mid-field.

During the second half the Roadrunners fought the Caltech men out of scoring territory until the last few plays of the game when Dietrich intercepted one of Stockel's passes. After several running plays and a long pass the Beavers were in a scoring position on the State fourth yard line. On three plays the invaders lost 20 yards as the gun ended the game.

State to Lose Men

State college will lose only five of her varsity next year; however, these men will be greatly missed next season as they have proved to be some of the most valuable men this season. Captain "Tiger"

I am glad that we were given the opportunity to hear the views of Major C. Douglas Booth on "Economic Nationalism."

We should recognize and encourage all efforts toward international cooperation and organization. It is long past time for man to demonstrate his ability to effect a state of world harmony. All exaggerated forms of nationalism must be dragged into the light and confined or destroyed.

My appreciative thanks to those whose efforts provided the speaker's presence.

—LOREN MEIGS

Kerrigan, George Shultz, "Tuffy" Treloar, George Harper, and Bob Main will be those among the missing.

Coach Ted Beckett will have most of this year's men back with him next season. With these experienced men, with the new material that will come in, and with the same methods of coaching State should look forward to a good season in 1934. State college improved throughout this season, having a team that matched well with any in the conference as the scores will show.

Stockel Stars

Friday night Ralph Stockel looked as good as any man on the field. His never dying effort throughout the season has aided the Roadrunners in scoring much of their success. Kelliher, Rezonico and Mahoney also played bang up games. It is hard to pick any outstanding men from the line. Ralph Forsyth has dynamite for small size. Rooke and Dietrich are among the outstanding southern players with Hart and Donohue turning in good games.

Statistics of the game show that State was outplayed in most phases of the game. Out of 18 passes attempted five were successful for the Roadrunners. Caltech made 15 first downs as compared to State's five.

Quick Kicks

Tigers 12—Aztecs 0

In the annual home-coming contest at Patterson field the Occidental Tigers turned back the Red Devils 12-0 in a hectic contest.

Making only one first down to 12 for their opponents, but capitalizing on the play of the Aztecs the Tigers won by a good margin. Marsh Beebe, Tiger end, and Bill Bailey, brilliant San Diego fullback were the outstanding men on the field.

Laverne 6—Whittier 0

With a completed pass in the final three minutes of play the Leopards spoiled the Poets chances for another Conference championship. Montgomery to Elder upset the dope. The Leopards completely outplayed the Whittier team from the open kickoff and threatened the goal on several occasions, win by Laverne gives the Redland Bulldog the Southern Conference title.

Redlands 7—Riverside J. C. 6

A non-conference game almost meant defeat for the Bulldogs when the J. C. outfit held the big Red team 6-0 till the first minute of the fourth quarter. Bandy scored on a plunge from the one-yard line. Again the passing attack which the Bulldogs feature pulled the "game out of the fire." Riverside out-gained the Bulldogs two to one in yardage and out-played them on the defense.

Mae West Guardian Angel to New Actors

"I'm No Angel" may be the title of Mae West's latest picture—but don't take it too literally—the guardian angel, fairy godmother—or what have you—two talented young Hollywood actors.

They are Gertrude Michael and Kent Taylor, both of whom get their first real chance in Mae West's latest starring picture for Paramount, "I'm No Angel," now playing at the Fox Arlington.

Both were selected by her for important parts in the production. Miss Michael, a tall young brunette from the New York stage, had one important "bit" part to date. That was in Maurice Chevalier's "A Bedtime Story." In Miss West's picture she will play the role of the siren's rival for the affections of Taylor.

Successful Season Terminates in Festivity

The women's hockey season ended November 16 with the annual get-together in the college dining hall. About 60 W.A.A. women were welcomed by President Kathryn Kitley. A quartet composed of Margaret Beddome, Edith Hawkes, Barbara Lingenfelter, and Lorraine Koehly entertained the group. Meryl Adams, last year's president of the W.A.A., sang and accompanied herself on the guitar. After the dinner the newly initiated members cleared the tables for the playing of buncle, cootie, and animal.

Among the guests were the following alumni: Miss Adams, Ella Cornwall, Leona McCubry, Mildred Silva, and Margaret Webster. According to Lorraine Koehly, hockey manager, a very successful season ended with the seniors carrying off the honors. Under Captain Longawa the seniors won two of the three games played and tied the third. The juniors, with Margaret Rodriguez as captain, took second place with two games won and one lost. The freshmen beat the sophomores, with one tie to their credit. At a meeting of the class captains, hockey manager, athletic manager, and one elected representative from each team, a team will be chosen.
