Being an artist, what advantages does the Artist Response Gallery offer you? First, the manager is almost always present and eager to talk over any problem. This may range from ordering art supplies, framing supplies, actual framing work, discussing marketability of art work to displaying artwork to actually arranging a show.

Being able to order paints, brushes, and paper wholesale; being able to order mats, glass, and frames wholesale; being able to market one's artwork on consignment all at the Artist Response Gallery — all add up to the fact that the Artist Response is one art connection worth checking into.

The manager is an artist as well as a framer as well as gallery owner. Along with the Alternative Art Co-op, the manager is a marketing agent in design companies, interior decorators, galleries, and wholesalers and distributors of all forms of artwork.
