HEAVIEST BEAN CROP IN YEARS IS HARVESTED; GROWERS EXPECTING NEARLY $150,000 FOR DRIED LIMAS

YIELD AND PRICES BETTER THAN 1932

Green Beans Hit $6.00 On Eastern Market; Walnut Crop Light And Unprofitable; 8 Cars Of Lemons This Week

HARVESTING of well over $150,000 worth of Carpinteria dried lima beans will be practically completed this week, as local ranchers finish threshing more than 700 tons of beans that this year will bring an average of eleven cents per pound. The yield exceeds that of last year by nearly 500 tons, and growers will receive an average of two cents per pound more for their beans than in 1932.

Approximately 22 cars, or 220 tons of beans that were originally planted to be threshed dry have been picked green and shipped east to supply an unprecedented demand that arose when climatic and political conditions in other producing areas combined to give this region almost an exclusive market for several weeks.

Besides the men employed on the three threshing crews that handled the valley's dried beans, work has been afforded more than 100 people in grading and shipping the dried beans. Fish Seed company have employed 70 since the early part of October, and will maintain their help until the first of the year. The S. P. Milling company has required the services of 30 men and women, about two-thirds of whom will be let go next month as the peak of the season is passed.

Contrary to earlier general opinion, the brief rainstorm that occurred during the latter part of October caused some slight damage to the beans which were cut at the time, local shippers have found. On the whole, however, this year's crop is a vast improvement over any of the past few years, and growers are well pleased with the yield and the current prices.

Green beans reached a new high on the eastern market Monday when more than a carload of Carpinteria shipments sold for as high as $6.00 per 35-pound crate. Though later prices did not maintain that level the average for the week has been better than $5.00. The Cooperative Grow-

Warriors Wind Up Grid Schedule By Losing To Lompoc

THE SCORE WAS 43-0!

Locals Won 7 Out Of 13 Games This Year

CARPINTERIA High's Warriors wound up their current football schedule Saturday in a blaze of touchdowns—but they were all made by the opposition.

A fast, heavy and deceptive Lompoc eleven passed, plunged and punted its way to a decisive 43-0 win over Dimmy Mather's hopefuls who were outweighed at least 16 pounds to the man. It was just another case of a good big man defeating a good little man, for the locals took it like veterans and rared up with a scoring threat in the last quarter which, though it failed to materialize, showed the customers that "the flag was still there."

Lompoc, nosed out, 13-12, earlier in the season by Santa Maria's perennially successful gridsters, has been rounding into form slowly, until, as their coach expressed it Saturday, "we're at our peak right now and I think we could trim Santa Maria." Their Armistice Day performance here supports his assertion, for the Northerners seemed to have whatever it takes to manufacture touchdowns.

During the first and fourth quarters the Warriors gave almost as good as they received, but the second and third sections developed into scoring sprees for those great big men from the North, who lateralled, bucked, plunged, passed, and went wherever the spirit moved them during the two middle quarters for five of their six touchdowns. The sixth was dished out to them by a couple of temporarily dizzy and be-dazzled Warrior half-backs.

Saturday's game concluded Carpinteria's current schedule, but Coach Mather added a postscript yes.

STANLEY HELTMAN DIES FROM AUTO CRASH IN JURIES

JUNITA VERNER INJURED

Accident Takes Life Of Young Carpinterian

FATAL injuries sustained Saturday evening in a collision with a large sedan near Mando's, on the Coast highway, just north of Ventura, resulted in the death, Monday morning, of Stanley Heltman, well-known Carpinterian.

Miss Junita Verner, Santa Paula, who was riding with him at the time of the accident suffered severe cuts and lacerations about the face and head, and is in the Foster Memorial hospital in Ventura. She was reported to be out of danger and recovering nicely yesterday afternoon.

Both cars were completely demolished by the force of the impact, but the occupants of the sedan received only minor injuries.

Mr. Heltman was 23 years old, and had spent the greater part of his life in Carpinteria Valley, having been born in Goleta. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Heltman, a sister, Margaret, and two brothers, Bruce and Harold.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Holland Funeral Chapel followed by interment in the Santa Barbara cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. Leon Kirkes and James A. Lewis.

Pallbearers were Charles Catlin, Oscar Williams, Virgil Gillum, Jack Morris, Gilbert Martin, and West Tobey.

Music, Movies And Lecture Features Of Program Tonite

AND IT'S ALL FREE!

Woman's Club Offers Entertainment

THE Carpinteria Woman's Club will play host to the general public tonight when Captain Allen G. Hancock, president of the Hancock Oil company presents a program which will include music, motion pictures and a lecture of unusual interest by Chief Chas. W. Swett, at 7:30 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

Music rendered by the Valero ensemble, consisting of violin, cello, flute and piano, will comprise the first half of the evening's entertainment, and will be followed by motion pictures and a lecture on "The Galapagos Islands" by Chief Swett.

Captain Hancock, well known aviation enthusiast, traveller and philanthropist, is the sponsor of annual trips to out-of-the-way places, where movies are taken and material for travel talks is gathered. The Valero ensemble goes along on these trips and spends most of its time in rehearsing for concerts which accompany the lecture tour upon the party's return.

On the last of these trips the expedition encountered, on Charles Island, one of the smallest of the Galapagos group, a couple who have gone back to nature and have lived on the island alone for the past three years. They are Doctor Ritter, formerly of Berlin, and Dora Korwin, a German girl. This couple landed on the island with no firearms and only the barest necessities.

County Officials To Address Group Tomorrow Night

"CARPINTERIANS" MEET

To Hear Problems Of District Discussed

SUPERVISOR Tom Dinsmore and County Forester Frank Dunne will be the speakers of the evening at tomorrow night's meeting of the "Carpinterians," local business men's organization. Dinsmore will speak on "The Business of This Supervisorial District," while Dunne's subject will be "The Carpinteria Beach, Fire Protection, and Forest Problems of this District."

Both speakers are well qualified and their views and comments should prove of interest to every Carpinterian.

Hereafter the organization's meetings will be held but once a month instead of twice, as formerly, it was announced Tuesday following the director's regular meeting. Meetings will be on the third Friday of each month.

What virtually amounts to an annual frame-work for the activities contemplated was effected by the directors Tuesday when the following committees and chairmen were decided upon: Pier Committee, Chas. Batsch, chairman, to investigate and work on the possibility of an extension of the old pier or the construction of a new one.

Merchants Problem Committee, Frank Smith, chairman; Highway Beautiful Committee, Marc Latham, chairman; Committee to Lay Plans for the celebration on the opening of the Casitas Pass-Maricopa Road, Paulsen Visel, chairman.

Other business included the passing of a resolution that the secretary be instructed to write a letter to the American Legion offering the organization's assistance in obtaining a Legion lease on Cerca del Mar.

Heart Attack Fatal To Summerland Man

James Kirkwood, member of one of Summerland's oldest families, died suddenly of heart failure Tuesday while at work on the county rock crusher in Toro Canyon.

Other workers at the crusher stated that when Kirkwood came to work he complained of not feeling well, and sat down to rest. A few minutes later he collapsed. He was rushed to Carpinteria in a truck, but was pronounced dead when he reached Dr. Shorkley's office.

He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Ada Kirkwood, a daughter, Rowena Kirkwood, member of last year's graduating class of the Carpinteria High School, and two sons, Maynard and Carl.

Deceased had lived in Summerland for more than twenty-five years.

Bazaar & Dinner At Community Church

Plans for the annual bazaar and dinner given by the ladies of the Community church are complete, it was announced this week by those in charge of the affair.

In addition to the articles on sale an exhibit of old and modern quilts is being arranged by Miss Caroline Braley, Mrs. Katherine Runyon and Mrs. John C. Furby.

The bazaar will be held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning and dinner will be served at 5:30 p. m.

Mrs. J. E. Jones will be in charge of fancy work and aprons; Mrs. L. F. Thompson, novelties; Mrs. J. H. Hendy, candy.

Mrs. John Hudson will have charge of the dinner.

DINSMORE SAYS PRESIDENT'S NEW UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF PLAN WILL PUT ALL LOCAL JOBLESS TO WORK

TO BRING NEW MONEY INTO COMMUNITY

Announced Federal Program Will Give Full Time Employment To 2600 In S. B. County; Cerca del Mar Park To Be Improved

A LOCAL payroll of nearly $8,000 a month, work for every unemployed man in this district, and the improving of Cerca del Mar park are among the possible benefits Carpinteria may derive from President Roosevelt's new Federal Relief program which was announced this week, according to Supervisor Tom Dinsmore.

"Col. Charles Wing, chief of the division of state parks, and S. A. Nash-Boulden, supervisor of the Santa Barbara National Forest, have informed me that they will be able to utilize all the unemployed in this district on park improvements for Cerca del Mar and in clearing and building fire-breaks back of Carpinteria and Montecito," Dinsmore said yesterday.

Carpinteria Red Cross Nets $230 In Brief Drive

OVER 200 LOCAL MEMBERS

Signed Up By Workers In 3-Day Canvass

TWO hundred and ten Carpinterians gave a total of $230 to the annual Red Cross Roll Call which ended Friday, it was announced yesterday by Miss Ariana Moore, advisory member of the committee.

The enrollment is the largest in several years, workers stated, and in view of general economic conditions, the local response is most gratifying.

This year's campaign was conducted entirely by a house-to-house canvass in Carpinteria, and there was no street drive nor downtown subscription table, as has formerly been the practice.

The following were in charge of the Carpinteria committees this year: Mrs. George Bliss, Mrs. A. G. Wood, Mrs. J. H. Hendy and Mrs. Clarence Cadwell.

Mrs. A. C. Cummings Injured In Bad Fall

Mrs. A. C. Cummings fractured several ribs last week when she fell from a chair on which she was standing while fixing a chandelier. She has been confined to her bed for the past few days but is now up and about again.

Tom Ramey trying to say "corroborate."

"As I understand it, the men will be put on 5 six-hour days a week at 45 cents an hour, or $13.50 per week. We now have about 90 unemployed in this district, but as the harvest season ends that number will be increased to 150 or 160. The President's new plan will mean work for all these men at $13.50 a week, a total payroll of more than $8,000 per month for this district. It will also mean that Cerca del Mar will be improved, leveled, cleaned up and put in A-1 condition.

"El Camino Cielo will be widened into a two-way road, and other road improvements will be made," he continued. "Santa Barbara county's share of the 4,000,000 jobs to be created by the new plan will be work for 2600 men, who will be paid from the Federal fund of 400 million dollars set aside for the purpose. The government stipulates that money spent on projects put through under this set-up shall be divided so that 65 percent goes to labor, 35 percent to supervision. Supervision includes such overhead expenses as sharpening tools and fuel for equipment used, but the greater part of the money is to go directly as wages to men now out of work.

"The jobs thus created will start not later than the middle of December and last until April. Besides the improvements this district will receive from work done by the men hired, the increased payroll will mean a good many thousand dollars monthly of "new" money for circulation in local business channels."

Dinsmore stated that, as he understands it, the only part of the expense to be born by this district will be that of providing transportation to and from work for the laborers, and that there is a possibility that the work will start as early as December first.

St. Andrews Auxiliary Will Hold Food Sale

Members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the St. Andrews church will hold a cooked food sale on the lawn of the bank from 10 until 12:30 a. m. Saturday.

"SIXTEEN MORE PAYMENTS AND IT'S OURS"

ECONOMISTS and financial "experts" (the quotes have become popular since the crash) tell us that a large part of the trouble the world now finds itself in has been brought about by an excess of dealing in futurities—that is, trading in possibilities that later failed to develop. It's the Wall Street term for betting on the wrong horse.

But if buying on margin and futurities that failed are what's ailing Big Business, the little man, during those inflated days, wandered just as deeply into a wilderness of his own—the Installment Plan.

Radios, automobiles, babies, trips abroad, washing machines, books, furniture, clothing, operations—all are offered for so much down and so much a week. And your shortsighted little man finds before he realizes it, that it requires only a few dollar-a-week payments to knock the family budget for a row of cocked hats.

The system itself is typical of the era that engendered it. The speed of living increased so rapidly and became so bewildering that a large part of the middle and lower classes are living today on what they hope to earn next month or next year. The traffic problem would be solved if drivers were required to own their cars before operating them. But the unemployment problem would much worse—think how the total would mount if all the collectors were thrown out of work!

It's true that installment buying has raised our standard of living by offering thousands of people things they could not otherwise own for years. But it's become so general and happened so fast that people's ideas of values have suffered. A lot of us think we're entitled to some luxury we haven't earned the right to simply because we have the price of the first payment.

It is beginning to look as though Success and Happiness can not be purchased on the installment plan. Slowly it's dawning on your little man that there are some things that must be earned and paid for before they can be enjoyed.

The installment plan really received its greatest impetus when automobiles were put on the market. Old Dobbin was paid for, as a rule, before he was very old. He didn't move so fast, perhaps, neither did he require a pink slip or a change of oil every thousand miles. His owner didn't see so much of the world, it's true, but he owned more and owed less on what he did see.

In 1890 B. C. (Before Collectors) you could tell a man's station in life by the clothes he wore and the type of horses he drove. Nowadays a new suit and a shiny Pierce Arrow mean simply that they're his until the first of the month.

It's this confusion of values and living in the future that are contributing to whatever is still wrong with us. No wonder we're a restless race. We can't sit down without the fear that some installment collector will yank the chair out from under us. What this country needs is stability. Step right up folks, first class stability for a dollah down anna dollah a week!

Governmental Glances

BY ASSEMBLYMAN GEORGE R. BLISS

11—Central Valley Water Project

LAST week I briefly outlined the provisions of the law passed last summer providing for the Central Valley Water Project, which is up for referendum vote by the people December 19. Herewith are the main arguments for and against the project as presented by its proponents and opponents.

FOR

1. Flood control will be effected in the Sacramento Valley, eliminating the present expenditure of millions of dollars by the State and Federal governments along the Sacramento River for levees, etc.
2. The Sacramento River will be navigable from Sacramento to Red Bluff.
3. Salinity of the lower Sacramento River and Suisun Bay will be eliminated, making possible the use of this water for irrigation, industrial and domestic purposes.
4. Cheap electric power will be made available in enormous quantities to the northern and central portions of the State.
5. Irrigation water will be supplied to the Suisun Bay region, the San Joaquin Delta, and the San Joaquin Valley southward to the Tehachapi mountains.
6. 25,000 men will be employed for three years and a lesser number for another two years of the construction period and a large maintenance force will have permanent employment.

AGAINST

1. The revenues will never pay the cost of construction and maintenance. The law provides that the State or any smaller governmental subdivision may contribute to the cost and maintenance. This means continual raids on the State Treasury to make up the deficit. To which proponents reply that no State Treasury money can constitutionally be appropriated without act of the Legislature and as the Central Valley has only a few votes in the legislature, there is no chance of such appropriations being made.
2. The employment figures are greatly exaggerated. Only 10,000 men will be put to work instead of 25,000.
3. While the bonds to be sold to finance the work are not backed by State credit, but are revenue bonds, to be offered to the United States Government, it is not at all certain that the Government of the United States will buy them, or will contribute 30% of the cost, $51,000,000, as the proponents claim. If the Federal government does not finance the project, these revenue bonds will be sold to other parties a little at a time, and the piece meal project will be strung over many years and possibly never completed.

4. The water and electricity is to be sold in part to government subdivisions, when contracts are agreed upon, and the governing bodies will be tempted to enter into such contracts. Under the Project law, all property within the subdivision will be liable for the performance of the contract, and assessments against the property owners will bankrupt them. To which the proponents reply, that the governing bodies will not have to enter into any uneconomic contracts such as to compel assessments.

5. The law gives preference to government-owned public utilities in buying electricity, if bids are the same, and provides that a contract for sale of current to a privately owned utility may be cancelled on five year's notice if later, a publicly owned utility wants to buy the same electricity. The opponents say that privately owned utilities will not be able to stand up against the competition of this cheaply produced government electricity, and that the provisions of his bill are very unfair to private industry

There is no question of the need of the project. The engineers, and government officials can decide how and when to proceed and may be trusted to abandon the project as this law permits them to do, if finances are not forthcoming or if reliable contracts for sale of water and electricity can not be made.

The real issue is government vs. private ownership of public utilities, which is too big a question to be argued here. The Central Valley Water Project will handicap privately owned utilities in the central part of the state. That they can compete with untaxed publicly owned utilities, and still make the profits they have been making, is hardly possible. Proponents of the Project claim that current must be sold if the Project is to be self-supporting, and the only way to insure its sale, is to encourage the formation of new publicly owned utilities and to strengthen existing ones.

If you favor government owned utilities you will most certainly vote "yes." If you are opposed to them, but feel that the building up of a great section of California is of more importance than the interests of the P. G. and E. and other private utilities of California, you will still vote "yes." If, as are many persons, you are strongly opposed to government owned utilities on principle, you will almost certainly vote "No."

The cramming and studying at the high school came to an abrupt ending last Friday when the quarterly grades were issued. However, no sooner had the cramming ceased than the oh's and groans commenced. But then it's the same thing after every quarter so why worry about it.

Tuesday afternoon the girls of the Home Economics classes prepared and served a practice breakfast. The menu consisted of bacon and eggs, orange juice, toast and jam. The object in these practice meals is to teach the girls how to prepare and serve a really balanced and nourishing diet.

The art classes have started an entirely new and interesting project during the past week. The first step taken in sketching the shadows in with white paint. Then the artist proceeds to paint in the main parts of his object in a dark color. After the white paint has been washed off, the picture left gives on the impression of a wood block print.

Miss Prey and Miss Ballard have worked out a complete basketball schedule for the class teams during the next two weeks. Each class will play every other class once, and that one with no losses will be named the winner. It seems there will be much competition between the Junior class, which captured the championship last year, and the Senior class which intends to even up this score. Freshmen and Sophomores also guarantee to provide competition for the upper classes.

The night school classes at C. U. H. S. are becoming quite popular among the residents of the valley. The commercial and women's gymnasium classes are increasing steadily and are accomplishing much. The dramatics class or Carpinteria Community Players which meet every Monday evening from seven to nine is also quite the center of interest. Work on a new play will be started before long.

At a meeting a short while ago the Girl's League decided to raise money for the high school treasury by sponsoring a paper drive. At present, every girl in the school is doing her best to secure all old newspapers and magazines possible. By selling these papers in turn to the paper house in Santa Barbara, the organization hopes to realize some small profit. This idea has been proved successful in a great many high schools.

Polly Dominguez' Carpinteria Merchants began at the beginning in Sunday's game with the Santa Barbara Unemployed, when Moreno, first man at bat, slammed out a home run. The final score was 3-1, in Carpinteria's favor, evidence that not many of his team-mates repeated to process.

The game was tight all the way, Aldrich, for the locals holding the Unemployed to 4 hits while Polly's bunch gleaned 5.

Both teams played bang-up baseball, and the size of the turnout indicated that the customers are willing to support a team that registers an occasional win.

Cy Treloar announced last week that the nine he had been managing would disband until spring.

The Carpinteria Merchants meet Goleta here Sunday at 2:15 in what should prove to be a toss-up.

Grammar School

Report cards which are taken home this week by children of the C.U.G.S. and Aliso School are of a very modern type. No actual grades appear on these cards. Instead, a short letter is written by the teacher to the parents, telling how the child is progressing, in what subjects he is weak and in what he is improving. It is surely a far cry from the card of by-gone days when children were graded by percents and figures. It is one of many educational improvements of our time.

An interesting little collection of Indian things made by the children is shown in the eighth grade room. There is a little Pueblo, and Indian bow, a tepee made as the Indians made them and a collection of clay bowls decorated in Indian designs. The Eighth grade have just finished an extensive study of Indian life in Social studies.

The Sixth grade has been studying Rome and the Romans for the past few weeks in Social studies. The work has been correlated with their English and some of the children have wished to write poems. The following was written by Marilyn Shepard in her language class:

NERO
Nero lived in ancient Rome
What a wicked man was he
His head was but an empty dome
Filled but with thought of gayety.

One night when Rome was burning
He laughed and sang with glee,
And took his fiddle from the shelf
And played quite merrily.

And so the poor old selfish king
Kept up his foolish pride
Until one day in fear of worse
He fell upon his sword and died.

Practice will begin this week on the different events in the puppet pageant, which is to be presented soon in the assembly. In this pageant written by the Eighth grade English class, Queen Elizabeth is to be seen granting permission to Columbus to take three ships, and men needed to seek a new route to the Indies; Queen Elizabeth knights Sir Francis Drake for his piracy of the seas; Balboa discovers the Pacific Ocean and Magellan, Coronado, Cortez and Hudson follow in their respective explorations. Gayly dressed puppet explorers and queens are seen in and about the Eighth grade room just now.

Plans for the Pet Show to be held at C. U. G. S., November 28th were discussed at the P.-T. A. meeting last week. Mr. Frank Wymond has been appointed chairman of the ers Association will ship 4 cars and Miller & Humphreys 3 cars this week to an eastern market which is expected to hold up until Thanksgiving.

"Cuban beans are just beginning to reach New York," said Ferly Thomas, new manager for the association yesterday. "The price depends to a great extent upon the amount of imported produce from the island. If that does not reach any large figure before Thanksgiving we can be reasonably sure of a strong market until that time."

The local walnut season will be over this week or next, according to Manager Ed Moore of the Carpinteria association, who stated yesterday that only about 40 tons of nuts are being handled through local channels this year.

With the current crop bringing only an average price of 20 cents, growers will receive from 8 to 10 cents for their walnuts, due to the prevalence of blight and disease.

Eight carloads of lemons leave the two local houses this week, to be sold on a central and eastern market that has sagged to $3 to $5.00 per box. The Hubbard Citrus association will ship five and the Mutual Citrus association, three cars.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

Carpinteria Methodist Church

BEGINS

SUNDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 19th

AND WILL CONTINUE UNTIL

SUNDAY NIGHT, DECEMBER 3rd, 1933

PREACHING BY

Rev. Richard J. Parker, P. E.
OF EL PASO, TEXAS

Night services will begin at 6:45. Gospel singing followed by sermon. Services will close at 8 p. m. Dr. Parker has spent 25 years in missionary fields, working with Latin speaking peoples. His is a simple gospel message. No high pressure or claptrap methods and no emotional appeal. Just God's message of salvation, as taught in the New Testament Gospel. HEAR HIM!

Special Low Winter Rates on Cottages At Motor Lodges

With President Roosevelt's new unemployment program covering the next four months several hundred people in this district will be put to work at $13.50 a week. Carpinteria Motor Lodges, in step with this movement, is offering special low winter rates, until Mar. 31, 1934, intended to fit these new family budgets.

Cottages will be rented as low as $3.00 a week, or $10.00 a month. More elaborate places with toilet, shower, modern gas stove, hot water, gas and electricity included are $5.00 a week or $18.00 a month.

Cottages with two bedrooms, all conveniences included to accommodate a family of five or six at $5.50 a week or only $20.00 a month.

All cottages have garages. There is a laundry free to all guests, and a large playground for the youngsters.

No deposit for utilities. No extras for anyone to spend. Inspect these cottages and see what your money will buy for you in the way of a real home over these next four months.

If you have friends who might be interested, please cut this out and pass it along.

Warriors End Schedule By Losing To Lompoc

terday when his "next year's varsity" won a 12-0 game from St. Claire's, of Oxnard.

The Warriors will polish off the season tomorrow when next year's varsity plays the seniors of 1932 and '33.

Starting the football season this fall with only five regulars from last year's squad and but nine out of twenty-one lettermen, Coach Mather announced that he would consider a season's record of over 500 percent as "very satisfactory." Dimmy should feel gratified at the final results, which gave the Warriors a percentage of .600, having won seven of the thirteen games played, tied one and dropped five.

Three of the five defeats were at the hands of A teams from much larger schools, for this is the first year that Carpinteria has attempted to break away from B team competition. Only two of the current season's defeats stick in the Warrior's craws, the Ojai game, which the visitors won by a score of 7-6, and the Ojai B squads win over the Carpinteria papooses, or little Warriors. Ojai's B's eked out a 13-12 victory two weeks ago after local lightweights had trimmed them 9-0 earlier in the year.

The Warriors lose but six regulars by graduation next Spring, and the 1934 season should find them a tough, seasoned aggregation with such proven reliables as Kenrick, Woods, Schuyler and Velasquez still in the harness.

Among the seniors on the squad Captain Smith and Petit stood out well in practically all the games this year. From the Junior class Kendrick, Velasquez, Schuyler, Bowen, and Graham showed great improvement and fighting while Lambert's kicking and passing gained accuracy with each game's experience. Lopez, Reid, Peterson, J. Rodriguez, Maxfield, White, and Laurence, "Sox" Smith showed promise and perseverance among lower classmen.

Warrior victories this year were at the expense of Santa Paula Reserves, Santa Barbara Sophs, Moorpark, Villanova, Ojai B's, Oxnard Reserves, and St. Claire. The locals were trimmed by Oxnard A's, Santa Paula A's, Ojai A's, Ojai B's and Lompoc A's. The Warriors were tied by the Alumni in an early season practice game.

Basketball comes next on the high school athletic calendar, with a big turnout of good material indicated.

Immunization Against Diphtheria Is Offered

The Santa Barbara County Health Department will continue immunizing children against diphtheria, and parents desiring this protection for their children may bring them to the Cold Springs school Tuesday, Nov. 21, at 8:45 a. m.; the Montecito school at 9 a. m.; the Summerland school at 9:30 a. m., and the Carpinteria Grammar school at 10 a. m.

Health authorities agree that in most cases the protection afforded by immunization lasts for life and that it should be given to every child over six months of age.

There is no charge for this treatment.
