Leg Council to settle on La Raza and MECHA...

By DAVE CARLSON

One of the three important issues headlining tonight's A.S. Leg Council meeting will be the deliverance of the much heralded recommendations on the La Raza Libre/MECHA funding dispute. The report will be presented in spite of the fact that the committee asked for and was denied an additional week to investigate the dispute.

The Special Committee has met three times this week to investigate the dispute between MECHA and La Raza Libre, two rival Chicano groups. The committee will recommend the future disposition of over $21,000 presently allocated to MECHA for various community programs. La Raza is trying to secure half of these funds on the grounds that over half the members in MECHA last spring have allegedly defected to La Raza.

La Raza has charged that MECHA's leaders were guilty of "elitism" and that they have been a "destructive force" in the community programs in which they have been involved. MECHA leaders have vigorously denied the charges.

The report will be six or seven pages in length and it represents the unanimous opinion of the committee of five.

According to Chairman Bob Hosack, the conclusions reached after two weeks of investigation were "obvious to everyone" on the committee. He declined to state which position the report would substantiate.

Hosack expects Leg Council to decide the issue of the funds once and for all tonight. Funds have been frozen by Leg Council, denying MECHA access to their budgeted amount. Last week the council denied Hosack an extra week in which to conduct the investigation on the grounds that the programs would suffer if the funds remained frozen for over the allotted two weeks. "On the same grounds," said Hosack, "the committee should decide the issue on Wednesday."

The investigation has been marked with emotional outbursts and bitter accusations throughout. The decision by Leg Council is expected to be controversial no matter what happens to the funds.

V.P. CANDIDATE PULLEY:

Nixon and McGovern alike

By STEVE BELTON

Approximately 100 people gathered in Campbell Hall Monday afternoon to hear Andrew Pulley, the Socialist Worker's Party candidate for vice president in 1972. Pulley spoke on four main issues: the Attica prison riots; the Wage-Price freeze; Nixon's proposed visit to China and the Pentagon Papers.

These events, the speaker proposed, were "major developments that will have tremendous repercussions ... they will come back to haunt the oppressors."

Pulley accused Edmund Muskie of "arrogance" for the latter's much-publicized statement that he did not think a Black vice president was electable. Decrying this confidence in the racist nature of our society, Pulley insisted that a Black vice president was electable — himself.

DONATIONS

The main speaker was introduced by Robert Mattson, the UCSB campus organizer for the Young Socialist Alliance. Mattson, after Pulley's speech, asked for donations to finance the campaign, saying that, unlike other candidates, "We can't go to Standard Oil for money."

In his speech, Pulley said that in the U.S. we are not really given a choice, but are, in the words of Cambodia's head of state,

S.B. County sues state for I.V. riots

By MIKE PASINI

Santa Barbara County has initiated a class action suit on behalf of the county tax payers against the state for damages suffered in the Isla Vista riots of 1970.

Donald Vickers of the County Counsel Office said the suit is based on two points: first, under state statutes the state should reimburse the county for extraordinary expenses, which would include the overtime payments of the County Sheriff's Department and equipment damage; second, the county maintains that the suppression of riots is a matter of statewide concern and therefore it is a violation of equal protection laws to burden the tax payers of this county alone with the costs incurred by the riots.

Also playing a part are the facts that the riot started on the UCSB campus, which is state property, then spilled over onto county property and that the county insurance carrier will not cover the claims against the county for police brutality and other abuse.

The county is calling for a reimbursement of approximately $1.5 million with the provision that this figure may be adjusted upon the attainment of more information. Should this amount be awarded to the county, it will produce indirect benefits to the tax payers, as the costs have already been paid for in county funds. If reimbursement is not granted, it will be county tax payers who pick up the tab for suppressing the Isla Vista riots.

The action was filed in Los Angeles Superior Court specifically against the state, Governor Reagan and State Finance Director Vern Orr. After the state has been served the action, which has not yet been done, they will have 30 days in which to file in regards to the suit. If the state refuses to reimburse the county, the matter will have to be resolved in court.

Reaction to the suit from Sacramento was supplied by Orr, who felt the action had no legal basis. Permissible reimbursement is allowed only under certain conditions which were not met in this case, he said. In order to receive reimbursement from the state, the chancellor of the university would have had to call upon the state for such reimbursement at the outset of the riot situation.

This was not done, according to Orr. He also questioned the county's contention that the suppression of riots is a statewide concern. Since the community receives numerous benefits from the presence of such an institution, it must also take the responsibility to adequately police the institution, he argued.

Hearing first about the suit on television, Stephen S. Goodspeed, Vice-chancellor of student affairs, said the county action "comes as quite a surprise." Declining to comment further in the event of an ensuing court case, he stated that he had not expected the county to take this route. It was known, however, that the county was seeking state reimbursement for the riot expenses.

No other state or university official was available for comment on the issue.

The next step is the state's formal response to the suit which would lead to court action if they do not comply with the county's demands.

...and discuss Finance

By DAVE CARLSON

In addition to consideration of the La Raza/MECHA dispute, Leg Council will hear two proposals, one by Finance Chairman Judy McClellan and another by Sam Overton, a volunteer worker involved in the Student Lobby Annex.

McClellan is asking Leg Council to change the by-laws to "reflect the ethnic minority composition of the campus on Finance Board by adding two more at-large members (for a total of five at-large members) which would include one Black, one Chicano, one Native American, one Asian American and one woman.

McClellan stated that this proposal was needed to "make sure that UCSB always has an ethnic composition on Finance Board." She said that this would guarantee that minorities would not be discriminated against if A.S. ever turned conservative.

In addition to this proposal, the fraternity and sorority representatives, Fergus Thornton and Jeanette Kaji, are asking for an amendment to McClellan's proposal which would require that a representative from a

Candidate petitions still out in IVCC election districts

By CATHY COGGINS

Elections Committee Chairman Bob Leland of IVCC revealed at Monday's council meeting that at present some precincts have produced no candidates for the upcoming IVCC election.

However, there are 10 or 15 outstanding petitions so Leland doesn't "know whether or not to be disappointed by the turnout." Other aspects of the meeting included the by-law ruling on campaign donations.

The IVCC By-Laws state that a candidate may not spend in excess of $25 on his campaign. This includes the donation of campaign materials which would retail in excess of $25. Debate was raised concerning the donation of labor needed in the production of campaign material.

Finally the interpretation of this by-law was agreed upon. If the donation is not available to all candidates, it is to be viewed as a campaign expense.

Leland indicated that he would not investigate any expenditures unless there was an enormous and unseemly flood of campaign materials created by a candidate. He also stated that there would be much free publicity, including a NEXUS supplement, a KCSB

What is a 'full time student'?

—BY ATTORNEY MARK A. PETERSON—

Previous articles discussed who should apply for a 2S deferment. This article deals with how to keep a 2S and what you can expect if you lose that deferment.

"NORMAL PROGRESS"

To keep a 2S deferment you must be younger than 24 years old and a "full time" student making "normal progress." Your school defines how many credits you must take to be a full time student, usually several credits less than the average credits you need to take each quarter (or semester) in order to graduate on time.

At UCSB this is 12 credits, but check with your registrar if you have any questions. If you drop below a full time credit load at any time, the school will inform your draft board and you will lose your 2S.

"Normal progress" requires that each year you complete at least 1/4 of the credits you would need to graduate in four years. You should have completed 1/4 of the credits needed to graduate if you are a second year student, 1/2 of the credits if you are a third year student, and 3/4 of the credits if you are a fourth year student.

Even if you are not now eligible for a student deferment because you are not making normal progress you may be eligible next quarter or semester. For example, if you are 5 credits short of being a junior but you are taking 12 credits this quarter, by winter quarter you will be classified as a junior by your school. During winter quarter you should have your school send a Selective Service form 109 to your draft board stating that you are classified as a third year student and also you are in your third year of studies. The draft board will conclude that you are making "normal progress" and will give you a 2S.

The elimination of student deferments will not prevent your receiving a 2S deferment next quarter even if you lose your 2S now. If you first entered school before this school year, you will be eligible for a 2S at any time that you meet the requirements of normal progress and full time student.

1-SC NOT VALID

If you are not eligible for a 2S, do not rely on receiving a 1-SC deferment to avoid the draft. The 1-SC has been abolished. Some draft boards have erroneously been advising students to wait until they receive an induction order, at which time the board says it will give the man a 1-SC deferment.

Since the 1-SC has been abolished, the fact that you are a student will only postpone your induction until the end of your current quarter (or until the end of the school year if you are in your last year of school). Your induction order will not be canceled and you will have to rely on being found physically unacceptable at the time of induction.

If you are not eligible for a student deferment you must try to avoid receiving an induction order. You should use the appeal process, which will be discussed in next week's issue, to gain time to use in getting a physical or hardship deferment or classification as a conscientious objector.

MECHA RESPONDS

For the past several months members of a supposedly new student organization known as "La Raza Libre" have been making numerous allegations and charges against MECHA at UCSB — for the purpose of seizing Associated Students resources allocated to MECHA that support Centro and Escuela Tiburcio Vasquez programs in the Santa Barbara community — which has led to a situation both on campus and in the community of confusion and controversy.

MECHA has never sought to discuss internal Chicano community disagreements publicly. However, due to the actions of "La Raza Libre" in approaching not only the UCSB A.S. Legislative Council but also the UCSB Administration in order to gain support for their demands, MECHA Santa Barbara recognizes our responsibility to inform the entire Santa Barbara community — residents as well as students — of the real facts involved in this issue.

"La Raza Libre" Allegation No. 1: That 50% of MECHA'S membership has quit MECHA and now is part of "La Raza Libre."

Last year MECHA had a membership of 54 during the fall and 60 during the winter, members being students who paid dues and worked on MECHA committees. In the spring the total membership was temporarily inflated as a result of political actions against MECHA on the part of the group that now calls itself "La Raza Libre." The past, part-time treasurer of MECHA, Brown Beret Victor Gonzalez — now a member of "La Raza Libre" — disrupted MECHA's ability to conduct business by defrauding the membership records and removing them to the local chapter of the Santa Barbara Brown Berets. The purpose of these political actions was to create a voting situation whereby this group could win the elections for executive officers, reorganize MECHA, and move the Centro and Escuela de Tiburcio Vasquez away from their established location in the community into a newly organized center (Casa de la Raza) which they were spear-heading. The group known to us as "the opposition," failing in all their objectives, walked out of MECHA. This was not the first time that various individuals in the "opposition" had advocated and in fact organized into a separate group, and MECHA did not discourage them — then or now. Almost all of the regular members of MECHA have remained. Thus, there is no truth in "La Raza Libre's" allegation that 50% of MECHA's members quit.

"La Raza Libre" Allegation No. 2: That 50% of MECHA's elected officers left MECHA to join "La Raza Libre."

MECHA elects six executive officers annually — the chairman, two vice-chairmen, two secretaries, and a treasurer. One of the secretaries — a MECHA member only for the short period of conflict during the spring — refused to attend any executive board meetings and quit her MECHA position. One of the elected vice-chairmen, Nathan Lozano, took no side during the conflict (or so he said, then) but decided to resign at the end of the spring quarter for personal reasons. Lozano, in his resignation letter to the executive board, stated he was leaving entirely of his own accord and was "under no duress" to resign or leave. Hence, ONLY ONE ELECTED OFFICER left MECHA to join "La Raza Libre." It should also be noted that Roddy Clark, a spokesman for "La Raza Libre," was the opposition candidate for chairman in the MECHA elections (and had run also unsuccessfully the year before) but melodramatically withdrew at the last moment, supposedly in a "unity" move. Two weeks later he walked out of the organization and now holds a leadership position in "La Raza Libre." The situation of other "La Raza Libre" spokesmen or leaders is also revealing. Fernando Padilla and Leo Martinez never attended a MECHA meeting all of last year until the spring when — owing to the treasurer's manipulations — they "became" MECHA members for three to four meetings; then walked out. Mike Gonzalez, another "La Raza Libre" spokesman, has been a UCSB student since winter 1969, yet never involved himself in MECHA except to walk out.

"La Raza Libre" Allegation No. 3: That 75% of MECHA's committee chairmen quit MECHA and joined "La Raza Libre."

MECHA had a total of 11 committees last year. Two of the MECHA committee chairmen are now part of "La Raza Libre." They are: 1) George Corralejo, chairman of "Salsipuedes" during the winter and spring quarters and 2) Luis Lopez, chairman of the On-campus Huelga committee during the spring quarter. Thus, there is no truth in La Raza Libre's "Paper Tiger" allegation that 75% of MECHA's committee chairmen now belong to their organization. Roddy Clark (UCSB "Daily NEXUS," Oct. 22) also states, "That approximately half of the members of the (MECHA) organization went over to 'La Raza Libre,' that these members were intricately involved in the various projects funded by Legislative Council, and further, that these members helped to attain these funds from Legislative Council. For these reasons, I feel that La Raza Libre has as much a right to these funds as MECHA does." In fact, almost all the persons who went over to "La Raza Libre" belonged to the two committees chaired by members now in "La Raza Libre": "Salsipuedes" and the On-campus Huelga committee. Interestingly, the bulk of those people who "joined" — or more precisely, had been listed by the treasurer as members — did so only at the time of elections. Neither committee received or receives any A.S. funds at all. "Salsipuedes" is a political newspaper, the Huelga committee is a political activity...and therefore, NEITHER CAN RECEIVE ANY A.S. FUNDING WHATSOEVER! Neither committee chairman or their members were ever involved in writing program proposals or seeking funds from A.S. Legislative Council. "La Raza Libre's" allegations HAVE NO FACTUAL BASIS AT ALL.

On the basis of La Raza Libre's unfounded allegations and slander, A.S. Legislative Council has denied since October 13 continued financial support to MECHA and the Centro and Escuela Tiburcio Vasquez programs. In denying these funds Legislative Council has taken arbitrary action that is unprecedented in the history of the Associated Students at UCSB. There has been no evidence presented, and there is no evidence, that shows MECHA and the Centro and Escuela have misused funds, violated or compromised any agreements made with the Associated Students or with the Mexican/Chicano community of Santa Barbara. It is a fact, however, that these arbitrary actions on the part of Legislative Council that were instigated by the slanderous charges presented to them by La Raza Libre, have obstructed and damaged the real and proven contributions of MECHA and the Centro and Escuela programs in the Santa Barbara area.

MECHA wants to make clear publicly what it has consistently stated in meetings with A.S. Legislative Council and "La Raza Libre" representatives, namely, MECHA supports the right of Chicanos and any other group to organize on this campus in accordance with their aims and objectives, the right of these groups to make concrete proposals and seek funds on that basis from A.S. Legislative Council for the purpose of financing activities on campus and in the community. Presumably, "La Raza Libre" members did precisely this in obtaining work-study jobs this summer for 20-25 of their members at the newly-organized Casa de la Raza, a non-profit corporation which is feverishly trying to raise funds anyway it can to buy a $250,000 building and whose president is Leo Martinez, a member of "La Raza Libre."

It should be understood that A.S. Legislative Council does not allocate $21,000 to MECHA for MECHA activities. Almost $17,000 of this allocation is channelled by A.S. Legislative Council THROUGH MECHA into the Centro and Escuela Tiburcio Vasquez programs (formerly the Milpas Community Center) — programs that have been in operation and received A.S. support since early 1969. The Centro and Escuela are located at 722 N. Milpas St., are open and available servicing hundreds of youth and adults of all ages in the community — and have been visited by A.S. representatives and evaluators, as well as by many other individuals, groups and organizations interested in and supportive of these organized efforts. The Escuela has been widely acclaimed as a model program for providing bilingual/bicultural alternative education to Chicanos and Chicanas who are not succeeding or being motivated in the local school system (where 35% of all schoolchildren are Chicanos) and need help. "La Raza Libre" charges MECHA with elitism and authoritarianism in the Centro and Escuela Tiburcio Vasquez programs.

DOES "LA RAZA LIBRE" SPEAK FOR THE MEXICAN/CHICANO COMMUNITY?

WAS THE CASA DE LA RAZA AUTHORIZED TO PURCHASE A $250,000 BUILDING BY THE COMMUNITY?

It should be absolutely clear that what "La Raza Libre" is seeking to do is to take funds away — not from MECHA — but from the Centro and Escuela Tiburcio Vasquez, community service programs funded by A.S. Legislative Council (and by donations because they have proven their worth and value to the people they serve. This is precisely the question that A.S. Legislative Council must deal with in deciding how to respond to the allegations and demands of "La Raza Libre." A.S. Legislative Council has supported the programs to undermine these programs in a reaction to "La Raza Libre's" wild allegations then it will have to account to the Santa Barbara community that is served by and supports these efforts as well as to the Associated Students at UCSB.

Council faces first test

Tonight Leg Council must decide the final settlement of the MECHA/La Raza dispute and the inclusion of members from all minority groups on Finance Board. Council's actions will affect the direction of Chicano programs downtown, the ethnic political make-up of campus politics and the criteria for budgetary expenditures of all A.S. organizations.

The MECHA/La Raza split has been the dominating topic of A.S. politics this year. Threats and allegations have been hurled for weeks between the two factions and Leg Council.

Clearly the only way to sift through this maze of charges and counter-charges was to appoint an investigating committee. However, Leg Council's failure to give the committee specific guidelines hampered their investigation from the start.

Instead, the council should have charged the committee to only look into the damage the split has had on the A.S. funded projects in Santa Barbara.

A.S. government is performing a valuable service in allocating nearly $21,000 to aid the Santa Barbara Chicano community. A.S.'s concern in this dispute should be the effectiveness of that commitment under MECHA's direction.

Solving the ideological differences that led to the break can only be accomplished by the groups involved. The numerous lists of membership fights over paying dues and the like are their concerns. They should enter Leg Council's deliberations only if directly tied to running the projects. Determining if the MECHA/La Raza split has compromised the projects and how they should be administered in light of the split should have been Leg Council's charge to its committee. Now it should be the basis of any decision Leg Council makes tonight.

Equally important is the composition of Finance Board. Finance Board is perhaps the single most important committee of A.S. government. Budgets and expenditures of each campus organization must pass through their hands. Their decisions on these matters often define the boundaries within which each group works.

Because of this important role the needs and demands of each major group on campus should be included in Finance Board deliberations. The proposed enlargement of the board to include representatives from all minority organizations is a step in this direction.

However, the by-law change needs 10 aye votes, and with the present composition of Leg Council passage appears doubtful. Instead of abandoning the idea the supporters of this change should introduce a resolution demanding that Leg Council take the ethnic composition of campus into account when making all appointments.

This resolution could be passed tonight by a simple majority. The current vacancy on Finance Board gives these groups an opportunity to press right away for minority representation. In the future they should closely scrutinize all appointments to be sure ethnic composition is taken into account.

Tonight Leg Council faces its first real test. Council members must settle two inflammatory questions. Their actions will show the true make-up of the council and determine the alignment of campus political forces for the coming year.

Mobilize against the Marines

To the Editor:

On Oct. 28 and 29, the U.S. Marine Corps is recruiting on the UCSB campus. Not that there is anything strange about this. The U.S. Armed Forces as well as big business have always been able to use and misuse the University to further their goals of aggression and expansion around the world.

What makes the whole affair particularly revolting is the hypocrisy of the University. Chancellor Cheadle, in his commencement speech to the graduating class of 1971 acknowledged the University's role in aiding social change.

He said, "It is here that many of the social movements to improve the human condition, are conceived and advanced, and it is here that the intellectual leadership of the future is fostered ... progress and constructive change will one day come because of the University's role. This should not be surprising to anyone ... for the University provides the freest and most open climate for change." Fine words. But what do they mean in the context of the University's complicity with the war machine?

Has anything changed within the University as a result of years of debate and protest? The 1970-71 school year was totally peaceful, both on campus and in Isla Vista. Meanwhile the War continues, repression increases and people live lives of quiet desperation.

We must mobilize to struggle again. The Marine Corps is on campus Thursday and Friday of this week. No one wants them here except a few rich and powerful men who send them on their missions of death and destruction. Register your protest with the UCSB Administration in whatever form you think is appropriate.

Board chairman, cut your budget

Dear Project or Board Chairman:

Our expectant undergraduate enrollment has decreased considerably. This affects A.S. appropriations, and eliminates our inappropriate reserve.

In our Oct. 11, 1971 Finance Board meeting, we passed a policy that reads, "all requests (purchase order, programs) are subject to review by the finance chairman and opposition to her decision may be taken to Finance Board. This policy concerning

A.S. account expenditures will not be lifted until our financial situation is determined.

Another suggestion came out at this meeting asking that you suggest cuts in your budgets to help us eliminate our deficit. If not enough budget cuts are suggested, it will be necessary to make a 5 per cent cut straight across the board.

If anyone has questions contact Judith McClellan at:

Help out a fellow E.E. school

To the Editor:

Most of this nation's Black engineering students are enrolled in a few schools in the South. Typically, these schools operate with limited funding and are deficient in many of the educational facilities needed for teaching modern engineering.

UCSB's Electrical Engineering Department has relatively good facilities and is in a position to offer help in augmenting the education of these students.

Professor Ordnung of the E.E. Department is proposing a project of program enrichment for both students and faculty selected from schools in the South. The program would be financed by private foundations and would involve a cooperative venture between these schools and UCSB.

Visiting scholarships and professorships would be offered in order to bring persons from such schools to UCSB and permit them to benefit from educational facilities which are here and to mingle with the UCSB student body and faculty.

The public is invited to attend a talk by Professor Ordnung concerning this program on Wednesday, Oct. 27, at 4:30 p.m., in 1104 Engineering Building.

Justice and the environment

BY U.S. ATTORNEY GENERAL JOHN MITCHELL

By JOHN N. MITCHELL
Attorney General of the United States

Young people have played a primary role in focusing the attention of the Nation on the quality of our environment and the importance of insuring that clean air and water are available for future generations.

During the past two and one-half years, the Department of Justice has recognized the urgency of their concern and has given top priority to the enforcement of federal laws relating to environmental protection.

Our original approach was to give new emphasis to a 72-year-old law — the 1899 Refuse Act — and to use it as one of our most effective weapons against polluters. Under the Refuse Act all industries which discharge any waste into navigable waters or their tributaries must apply for a permit to do so from the Corps of Engineers, stating that the waste does not pollute the water. If a company discharges without a permit, it is in violation of the law and may be fined as much as $2,500 a day upon conviction.

Criminal actions and civil penalty actions are brought against sporadic or accidental polluters, as in the case of oil spills from ships or from shore installations. We found, however, that the penalties carried by these statutes are ineffective against major industries with continuous discharges.

Therefore, in March 1970, we adopted a second approach to stop pollution by asking the courts to issue civil injunctions. The relief requested in an injunction suit is that the company be ordered to stop discharging its wastes into the tributary or navigable water.

Generally, an attempt is made to negotiate a settlement which specifies treatment facilities to render the wastes harmless to the receiving waters. In the event a settlement cannot be reached, the Court is asked to totally stop the discharge.

Since the beginning of 1969, the Justice Department has filed more than 300 criminal cases seeking fines against polluters. In addition, we have filed more than 65 civil actions for injunctions.

The first civil injunction suit brought under the Refuse Act to abate pollution was filed against the Florida Power and Light Company to halt the discharge of heated water from its power generating plants into Biscayne Bay.

After the federal judge ruled that the discharge of thermal waste is a violation of the Refuse Act, the utility company agreed to undertake a $30 million construction program to lower the temperature of its water discharge to a biologically acceptable level.

This case has resulted in voluntary compliance by promises of additional improvements to many power plants in operation or to be built throughout the United States.

In mid-1970, the Justice Department filed 10 civil injunction cases to halt mercury pollution. Some of the companies sued were dumping as much as 300 pounds of mercury a day into rivers. One of the plants sued closed down and the other nine immediately reduced their mercury discharge to less than half a pound a day. Forty other plants discharging mercury voluntarily cut back their emissions to a fraction of a pound.

Thus, in a period of about six months, we virtually eliminated the hazard that faced the country from the continual dumping of mercury into bodies of water. We have not eliminated the problem caused by the mercury already in the water, but we have brought to a virtual halt any additional pollution.

We have also vigorously enforced the Refuse Act against companies that discharge toxic and hazardous substances such as cyanide, phenol, chromes and lead into rivers and streams. The first case to go to trial involving such discharges was against the Armco Steel Corporation on the Houston Ship Channel in Texas. In that case the District Court held, in September, 1971, that the Company's toxic discharges should be stopped forthwith.

The three United States Attorneys whose districts cover the New York waterfront are also using the Refuse Act to clean up the New York Harbor and other waterways in their areas.

Of special interest to citizens is the provision of the Refuse Act authorizing payment of half of the fines imposed on polluters to persons who provide information leading to a conviction. Courts have authorized such payments in recent years.

And through the use of still another federal law, the Justice Department prosecuted several oil companies for failing to install safety devices on wells located in the Gulf of Mexico, which resulted in the leakage of thousands of barrels of oil off the coast of Louisiana. The companies paid fines totaling more than $2.25 million.

The Department of Justice will continue and intensify its efforts to enforce federal anti-pollution laws, but every segment of our society must share in the responsibility for improving the quality of our water and air.

The full resources of states and localities must be brought to bear on this problem. And, in a nation where governmental power is conferred by the people, the interest and enthusiasm of young people will continue to be a primary factor in our campaign for a clean environment.

Harriers go to Fresno for meet with Rams

A well-balanced and statistically awesome Fresno State harrier squad stands between the fulfillment of a yet untapped potential this Saturday in Fresno as UCSB attempts to shake off last week's dismal performance against Cal and UCLA.

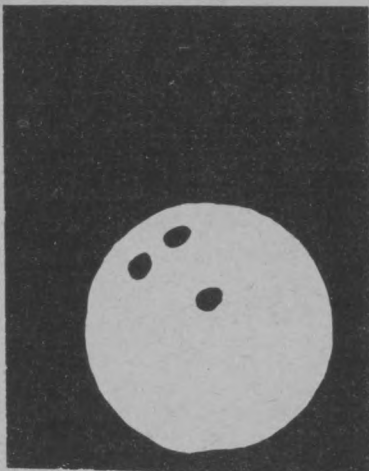

The Rams, still undefeated in dual meet competition and coming off with an impressive second place finish in a 14 team invitational last Saturday, are, as far as Gauch coach Sam Adams can ascertain from skimpy result sheets, a team whose strength is in its depth and not in any individual superstars.

For the Santa Barbarans are also a team which boasts of depth, making Saturday's confrontation a real chance to either realize a potential which

Coach Adams feels is still unfulfilled or to sink into the doldrums of defeat. "We're a better team than we've shown," promises Adams, "The quarter system puts us at a disadvantage (semester schools have three more weeks of training), but we have the material to do much better."

In preparation Adams is allowing his charges to peak slightly for Fresno with two easy workouts prior to Saturday. He has been steadily replacing the background quantity emphasis of early season with speed and quality as the conference meet of Nov. 12 draws closer.

Last week a "flat" Gauch team ran into two powerful teams which turned out to be even stronger than expected as they were trounced by UCLA and Cal 24 to 33 to 70, respectively.

Even despite the one-sidedness of the score, Coach Adams explained that his team had fared better than in past years. "They have some pretty good people," understated the veteran mentor.

Bowl 'em over

A truly striking Intramural sports activity rolls into action next week: Coed Bowling.

One of newer IM pastimes, Coed Bowling offers a wide variety of entertainment and fascination. Participants must show good form, graceful movement and skilled hands. This combination often tends to provide great "insightful" fun for the spectators as well as the competitors, especially when members of both sexes are involved.

Last year's champions were sent to the All-Cal Tourney at the Davis campus in May. This spring, the victors will again have the chance to represent UCSB at this annually held sports festival.

All bowling matches will be played at the Orchid Bowl beginning next week, from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. Each team must consist of 2 guys and 2 girls. Teams will bowl 3 games on either Tuesday Nov. 2, Wednesday Nov. 3 or Thursday Nov. 4.

Second sets of three games each will be bowled on Tuesday Nov. 9, Wednesday Nov. 10 or Thursday Nov. 11. Total pins for all teams' six games will be counted, with the top teams then bowling an additional three games on Tuesday Nov. 16, to determine the champions.

The new format is designed to allow maximum participation and increased competition. By choosing a preferred day, it is hoped more students will be able to join in the activity.

Bowling will cost only $.50 a line per person — shoes will be provided free!

All entry cards are due in the Intramural office by this Friday, Oct. 29, 5:00 p.m. This is an extension of the previously released deadline.

If you do not have enough people for a complete team, call the IM office they usually can get it together for everyone.

Jogging — a 'breath taking' experience

By DEBBY OLSON

It doesn't hit you at first — then your breathing gets harder and faster, making your lungs ache a little. You can't decide which annoys you more — the jarring of your knees or the muscles straining from your Achilles tendon throughout your calf. You notice your arms and feel your face turning red and moist and your heart's pounding fast, even in your throat.

Then it's over and deep gulps of crisp fresh air rush in and out and through your body — you feel light and free, relieved and relaxed.

"I run to lose weight — it makes me feel better and wakes me up in the morning," comments Barbara Brooks, who has been jogging for the last six months, "I feel as if I've accomplished something after running."

According to Assistant P.A. Supervisor Sherman Button, jogging is the best conditioning exercise you can do. "It takes little time or equipment and you can do it individually or with a group," he observed. Track coach Sam Adams concurs, "Jogging is very definitely the best muscle toning exercise and it serves as an excellent cardio-vascular stimulant."

Jogging is instrumental in losing weight and attaining better body conditioning and control for several reasons. As you run, your pulse rate decreases and your heart performs faster and more efficiently, strengthening itself while improving your vascular system by increasing the capillary flow into the muscles. Your blood circulates faster throughout your system and in effect "cleans out" your body of its waste products.

JOGGING ON THE beach at I.V. is a spiritually rewarding experience in addition to keeping you in shape.

Recently, jogging is being used widely under doctor's supervision for the rehabilitation of heart surgery, attack or stroke patients, because of its cardio-vascular stimulation.

PSYCHOLOGICAL EFFECTS

Many enthusiasts enjoy the psychological effects of the activity — "I feel it's helped me build mental discipline because I have to really push myself to get up and do it," says sophomore James Davlin. "Sometimes it takes a lot of will power."

"It's good because it isn't a real physical strain," noted Kathy Herrero, who runs to condition herself for playing competitive basketball, "You just maintain a pace. And you really feel better after doing it because it relieves tensions and allows you to see the progress of your efforts."

Coach Adams cautions that there is a method to the exercise. "When you start to jog you should never run so far that you're putting yourself under stress. It should be a graded, progressive activity. Jog until you feel you're breathing harder and are a bit uncomfortable then stop, walk awhile and begin again. Distance and speed varies tremendously with the individual."

And me — after chasing after all the above health nuts to discover the force behind their obsession — well, perhaps I'm just a little bit sold on it too — pant! gasp!

Surfing team trials Sat.

The UCSB Surf Team will hold its team trials this Saturday morning, Oct. 30. All interested surfers are urged to meet at Sands, just north of Devereaux Point at 8 a.m.

The Saturday trials will determine the surf team for the 1971-72 school year. There will be four surfers in each twenty minute heat, and the three high point waves of each surfer will be compiled to find the contestants' overall position. The 24 surfers that have the highest point totals will qualify for this year's team. The team consists of an A and B division each having twelve surfers.

The UCSB surfers have tentatively scheduled their first intercollegiate contest against fraternity or sorority also be included on the list of minorities.

UCLA on Nov. 21 at Hollywood-by-the-Sea in Ventura. Also scheduled are contests with Golden West College on Dec. 4 and San Fernando Valley State on Jan. 8 at Campus Point.

Leg Council will also be hearing a proposal by the University of California Student Lobby for an annex project.

Overton, who will present the proposal, is asking for $1,200 as what he called an "ideal budget." However, Overton, a former Finance Board member, does not expect complete funding from A.S. because of the extreme lack of funds this year. Overton stated that the Student Lobby Annex would try to raise its own funding.

The Lobby will be asking, however, that the annex be incorporated into the A.S. By-laws. A steering committee would then be formed which would serve as a liaison between students at UCSB and the Lobby offices in Sacramento. The Annex will have an office on the third floor of the UCen, next to the A.S. Office.

There, the Lobby hopes to maintain files on bills in the State Legislature and will keep a chart plotting the progress of key issues which are under consideration.

Proposals for annexes will be made at each of the nine campuses of the University. Said

Harvey Levin, a volunteer in the Lobby who specialized in consumer protection, "We want as many people as possible involved in what's going on in Sacramento."

The annex will have three purposes, according to Levin:

- It will channel research being done at UCSB into Sacramento where the Lobby hopes to influence committee hearings;

- It will supply experience and training for those who are interested in legislative advocacy;

- It will coordinate communication between the Lobby and the students.

Levin stated that communication with the students is crucial. "We think it is important," he said, "that the Lobby doesn't degenerate into an elitist group dictating to the students what their legislative policy is."

Among other programs the annex is planning is a referendum of student opinion in early December. The referendum would include up to 50 issues which could conceivably be considered by the state legislature next session.

The Lobby is currently being headed by two former UCSB A.S. vice presidents, Kati Perry and which is a "basic aspect of capitalist society." The U.S. must have a totally new economic system, for the present one is geared to do nothing but what it is now doing, and as Eugene V. Debs was quoted by Pulley, "A chicken can't lay duck eggs."

The Attica prison riots were an example of the racism in our society, Pulley contended, and were covered up by typically racist lies, the most notable of which were the untrue rumors that Black prisoners had castrated White hostages.

Rockefeller, who is, to Pulley's way of thinking, "fairly dumb, when you come to think of it," refused to negotiate with the rioters at Attica because this would not be the "fair and impartial application of the law."

But Pulley finds fault with this attitude, for Rockefeller, in his opinion, is wrong about the Paul Gassaway. The Lobby has been gaining respect among the state legislature and has found itself influential on many issues, including graduate tuition, student voting on campuses, the EOP program and faculty pay raises.

fairness of the law: "The law is fair to Rockefeller, who is White and rich, and owns half of Venezuela."

"The laws in this country are not made to protect the people.

They are made to protect the property of the rich," in Pulley's opinion.

Pulley told the audience that he was pleased that there is a growing awareness that the Socialist Party has been right all along, in that capitalist society is run by a handful of men for their own benefit.

Candidate petitions still out interview with each candidate and a sample ballot distributed by the Initiative.

Time limit parking was another major topic of discussion. Captain Drollette of the California Highway Patrol spoke briefly on the fact that the CHP cannot be used to enforce local ordinances except on a complaint basis. "Our purpose is the prevention of accidents," according to Drollette. The CHP representative in I.V. has been writing many warnings to discourage students from parking in the red zones on Pardall.

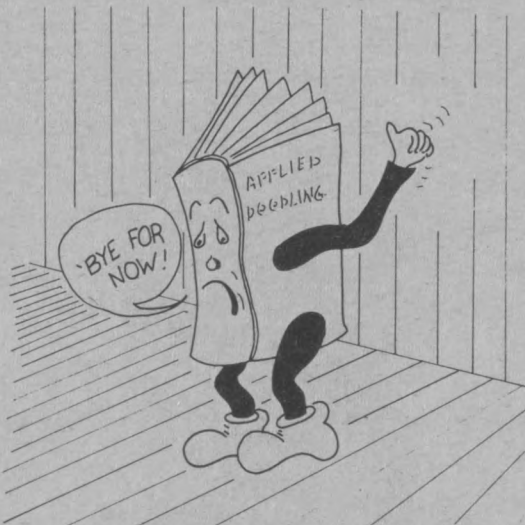

Another report to the council was made by Dale Desmond concerning the arrest of several Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW) for their participation in Monday's Veterans Day Parade in Santa Barbara.

IVCC passed a resolution concerning this incident which states that "IVCC goes on record denouncing today's arrest of VVAW members as an act unconstitutional and symbolic with a growing trend to suspend the Bill of Rights in Santa Barbara County." This resolution was passed unanimously.

Another resolution concerning support of Assembly Bill 1471 was passed. AB 1471 is an ecology oriented bill creating a master plan for the California coastline and a commission to regulate the plan. For the most part it will regulate the use of coast land from three miles to sea to the peak of the nearest mountain. It is hoped this plan will be more effective than those of most municipalities in the preservation of the California coast.
