PLAY PLANNED FOR DECEMBER SAYS DIRECTOR

Harold Jones, recently elected head of dramatics for the State College, has taken over the work which Alvetta Van Tuyle managed so successfully last year. According to Mr. Jones, prospects for the coming year look bright. With the success of last year's play still fresh in the minds of the local people, the College Players should be able to fill the Lobero for at least two or three performances. In a community such as Santa Barbara where dramatic interest is keen, everyone will be looking forward to the college play.

As an institution we are particularly fortunate in securing Harold Jones to lead the dramatic activities. He has had enough experience to realize that the situation he faces is not an easy one. The students can be sure, however, that he is perfectly able to handle it. According to the new leader he expects to present a play sometime in December. Due to business negotiations which make the choice of the play uncertain, Harold is unwilling to give out the title of the play he proposes to present.

In order to look over the dramatic material of the college, the new director held tryouts for women last Tuesday. A similar gathering for men will be held either Tuesday or Thursday of next week. The play which is under consideration has three parts for men and four for women.

BIG SURPRISE PLANNED FOR COLLEGE HOP

Hallowe'en will be celebrated by State College students with a dance at Rockwood tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock. The affair is a sports dance and will carry out the Hallowe'en motif.

A program appropriate to the season will be given during an intermission, according to Betty Procter, chairman of the social committee. The program will come as a big surprise, according to advance reports.

Members of the Los Angeles Junior College football team and Coach Schuettner have been invited to the hop. Vic Janssens' Paseo Troubadors will furnish the music.

Alpha Thetan Alumni Entertain Sorority

The Alumni Association of Alpha Theta Chi sorority entertained in honor of the active members with a pre-Hallowe'en dance at the Strollers' Club last Saturday evening. The hall was decorated in orange and black. Hallowe'en favors were given out with each dance, carrying out a carnival program. A buffet supper was served at midnight.

Those present were Zoella Gabbert, Mary Camp, Elizabeth Schauer, Molly Cheroske, Virginia Weber, Mary Ellen Chapman, Lelia Thompson, Pearl Crawford, Margaret Patrick, Nevada Roberts, Marcia Goodwin, Betty Barnes, Lua Thurmond, Walter Merriot, Llewellyn Goodfield, Sam Williams, William Pensinger, Ivan Cook, Loraine Duval, Walker Gabbert, Gordon Bailard, Charles Petler, Fred Allred, Lawrence Pollard, George Walker, and William Bryant.

VARSITY MEETS ANGELS IN TILT HERE SATURDAY

In one of their few home games this year, the Roadrunners will meet the Los Angeles Junior College Angels in Peabody Stadium tomorrow afternoon. The local lads are in a cruel state of mind over the officiating and result of the San Diego game last week, and are in just the right mood to trounce the boys from the metropolis.

Coaches Davis and Trimble have been pounding the boys through some tough scrimmages with the hard freshman squad. On defense the varsity line has been holding like a chain, and offense has been nothing to crab about. A glance at the Roadrunners in practice is sufficient to say that the seraphs of the south are going to find no heavenly delight in opposing the Olive and White.

The southerners have a strong outfit and are reported to have trounced both the Caltech and Redlands frosh teams by good scores. They have not been scored upon this year. A dangerous passing attack between Al Hunt and Jimmy Maury has been built up by Coach Schuettner. Norton, speedy little quarterback, chalked up 64 yards in four trips with the ball against the Technicians.

The visiting line will average in the neighborhood of 180 pounds. Schuettner has three sets of backs, all good, and a source of worry to any team.

The probable lineups will be:
L. A. J. C. S. B.
Allegretti L.E.R. Martin
Clarke L.T.R. Barth

ANNOUNCEMENT EQUIPMENT IS GIVEN SCHOOL

Through the efforts of Gene Harris, Major Max Fleischman, millionaire sportsman, has presented to the school public announcement equipment which will make possible loudspeaker play-by-play reports of all athletic contests on the home field. The set is being installed by J. E. Wiley, local radio dealer.

The equipment, according to Dean Charles Jacobs, was not purchasable on the coast and was specially made for the college, at a cost of $300. Mr. Wiley, says Gene Harris, is saving the college several hundred dollars by selling the equipment at cost price and installing it free.

Delta Sigma Epsilon Sorority Holds Tea

Delta Sigma Epsilon, Pi chapter, held a tea at Rosamond Young's home on Prospect Avenue, Sunday, October 20, from 4:00 until 6:00. Rosamond Young and Jean Wood were joint hostesses. Those present were: Mrs. Clarence Phelps, Jo Bolton, Helen Clark, Miss Elsie Pond, Margaret Burke, Doris Eldridge, Laura Lou Houghton, Alice Izant, Mary Hill, Dorothea M. Peterson, Helen Numan, Feda Jones, and the hostesses, Jean Wood and Rosamond Young.

Phi Omicron Iota To Stage Pledge Party

Phi Omicron Iota is giving a Hallowe'en party on November 2 in the new dining room of the home economics building for members of the department and in honor of the new members.

Those in charge of the party are Jennie Lind, Dorothy Curtis, Marie Stiber, Mary Wheeler, Martha Larson, Elizabeth Johnson and Hattie Mae Harper.

DEDICATION TO MARK RENAMING OF NEW FIELD

A huge dedicatory service will be held in the near future to rename the old State College athletic field, Phelps Field, according to a statement issued last Monday by Llewellyn Goodfield, student body president.

An editorial campaign carried on by the Eagle for the past few weeks resulted in the motion being put before the council. There it was passed by a unanimous vote, and carried to the student body, who also gave it their undivided support; everyone feeling that it would be only fitting to thus honor President Phelps. It was only through his untiring efforts that the new field was made possible.

New Field Larger

The new Phelps Field will be almost twice as long as was the old field, for they are filling up the girls' athletic field which before was directly to the east and slightly below the boys' field. When this fill is completed it will be on a level with what last year was the main athletic field. The new field will also be wider as steam shovels are cutting away part of the hill, the dirt being used for the fill.

Yesterday a committee was appointed by Mr. Goodfield, whose business it will be to look into the matter of selecting a stone on which to place a plaque which this same committee will also select.

According to Goodfield the plans for the dedicatory program are also well underway, and as soon as the plaque is chosen and a suitable place found to put it, the program will be given.

When this program is given it will be a gala day in the history of the college, for it will mark another step forward. Thus, with the completion of the field Santa Barbara State College will have one of the most beautiful athletic playgrounds in the whole state. Surrounded as it is in a natural bowl it will be extremely easy to build grandstands.

Night Games?

President Phelps mentioned the other day that they may even install lights on the new field so that it will be possible to play night football, which is becoming so popular in the southland this year. President Phelps believes that it would bring larger crowds to our football games, and in a short time adequately repay the college.

The new field will be surrounded.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Freshmen, are you still high school students or are you students of Santa Barbara State? Are you outsiders who are just using this college because you cannot continue your studies in high school? Do you still prefer to be classed as high school students when you are now attending college?

IF SO, YOU ARE TRAITORS TO SANTA BARBARA STATE!

Many of our freshmen are graduates from the local high school. Because the local high school football team is meeting its old and traditional enemy, Santa Maria, our freshmen are getting out their Olive and Gold caps and pom-poms and hotfooting it to Santa Maria.

On the same day Santa Barbara State meets the Los Angeles Junior College Angels in our second home game this season. To the freshmen this is but a minor contest, but it is one of the few opportunities that local followers will have of seeing the Roadrunners at home.

Of course, we know that the game with Santa Maria is going to be one of the best games between the two schools. We know that both elevens are undefeated so far this year, and that both are practically winners in their respective leagues. We know that thrills, parades, violent cheering, and perhaps fights will all go to make the day one long to remain in the memory.

We, too, are from Santa Barbara High School, and follow the fortunes of the football team with as much interest as anyone. We too, would like to see the game even as much as the spectacular combat between U. S. C. and Stanford at Palo Alto. But—WE ARE GOING TO SEE THE ROADRUNNERS PLAY THE ANGELS!

Our college team is fighting desperately for a place in the Southern Conference.

THE ENTIRE COLLEGE SHOULD BE FIGHTING FOR A PLACE IN THE SOUTHERN CONFERENCE!

If "Frenchy" and "Puchie" and "Cece" and "Army" and Ray and "Gabby" and "Gibby" and "Walt" and the rest of the warriors of the gridiron see a lot of blank stands and realize that the students are at that moment wildly cheering a high school team in a town eighty miles to the north, they are going to feel it badly, and well they might. A college would be incomplete, in our estimation, without a football team. And, too, we hazard a guess, in the estimation of the rest of the students. Yet when we have a football team, a team that startled Southern California by holding Occidental to two touchdowns, the freshmen sling away their Olive and White banners, take up their Olive and Gold pom-poms, and head northward.

We wish the high school Vagueros the best of fortune, BUT WE GIVE OUR SUPPORT TO THE ROADRUNNERS!

GENTLEMEN OF THE GRIDIRON

MORE AND MORE our athletic teams are establishing an enviable reputation for gentlemanly behavior when they are visiting in other cities. So often have athletic teams of various schools been a great nuisance in the hotels in which they stayed, that many hotel managers of late are somewhat reluctant to take in a group of athletes.

The conduct of the college football squad this season is more than fine. First a letter was received from Pasadena complimenting the boys on their behavior, and now comes another letter from San Diego saying that they are the most gentlemanly group that the manager of the Maryland Hotel has ever seen during his long experience in the hotel business.

The manager writes Mr. Phelps that he hopes other college teams would emulate the conduct of the Roadrunners.

LITTLE CAMPUS CONTROVERSIES

WE WERE surprised this week to see one of our prominent students leaping into a class room via the window. The effect was startling and somewhat disappointing.

There have been several complaints of late concerning the parking of cars. Many times, we have been told, cars have been parked across walks on the campus, and even on the sidewalks. Students hurrying to class are delayed when they have to rush around these cars, and there is plenty of space, besides, for student conveyances.

Although we do not believe entirely with Mr. A. Whifflebird in regards to the looks of our women students, we do agree with him in regard to dance regulations. If outside women are banned from our student body dances, then surely our coeds should not be allowed to bring outside men. Women have argued the point with us, but still our statement stands. An interesting and perhaps benefiting discussion on this subject can be carried on by the students through the student opinion column. Letters must be signed, but names will be withheld if so desired.

We have given our support to a petition being circulated requesting the return of the benches to the quadrangle. There have been a few benches left facing the driveway, but they are in the sun and will be in the rain when the wet season arrives. Doctors will tell us that we should be in the sun, but the past two or three days of excessive heat have cured us of thoughts of robust cheeks and healthy smiles. We wanted shade, and where was it? In the quad, but there were no seats. Complaints have been made in the past that chattering students have disturbed classes. Last year we had nine hours of studies each week in rooms bordering on the quad and can not recall ever being bothered. The benches, too, serve as barriers against intrusions on the grass, while now the students wander freely to and fro across the turf. It will soon be trampled down.

We heartily support the movement to restore the benches.

Quality Always Wins!

In the long run it is better to pay a little more for a good suit which will wear and satisfy than to pay too little for some other suit whose only recommendation is low price.

COMPARISON DETERMINES VALUE

The Great Wardrobe

Quality Since 1886

at the Theatres

We went to see the "Gold-Diggers of Broadway" and although we were pleased and amused tremendously, we came to the conclusion that somebody put one over on somebody by giving it too much publicity.

"Say It With Songs"

We aren't going to say much about this picture, but if there are some who haven't already seen it, want an opinion of the picture which is, at the same time, an opinion we all agree to, come to the Eagle office any time today and read what Whitney says about it.

"Two Black Crows"

And the title of their picture is "Why Bring That Up?" The action starts with them in white-face, takes them through every thing you have heard on the phonograph records and then some. Everybody roars with laughter, however, just to hear the Two Black Crows speak, consequently, don't miss this one if you want to laugh till your sides hurt.

Remember the theatrical producer in "Close Harmony," the one with foreign tendencies? His name is Harry Green, in case you have forgotten, and he has just about the same part in this picture. He is enough for a whole evening's entertainment. Evelyn Brent is the leading feminine player and a lovely one, too.

Richard Barthelmess

The title seems to mean that this picture is the same one that played at the California awhile ago—"Drag." If it is, it is a very enjoyable picture to see. You will like Dick Barthelmess more than ever, adore Lila Lee, ache to slap some sense into Alice Day and choke the in-laws.

Saturday night—oh, by the way, the picture just mentioned is at the Mission theater—Saturday night is vaudeville night. Wednesday is the time the Ralston Players come to the Mission. They are professional players who are capable of handling their lines very cleverly.

"The Unholy Night"

Said to rank with the best of mystery thrillers. Directed by Lionel Barrymore who also directed "Madame X" and the "Romeo-Juliet" scene in "Hollywood Revue." The lead is taken by Roland Young with Dorothy Sebastian as a beautiful Eurasian. By the way, you will find this picture showing at the Rose theater.

Women Students Hold Hare and Hound Race

About twenty women attended the Hare and Hound chase held by the W. A. A. last Friday afternoon. The hares left the campus at four-thirty, leaving arrows along the way to mark their trail. Half an hour later the hounds took up the scent. The trail led to Rattlesnake canyon, where the hungry hares and hounds forgot their chase and had supper around the campfire. Entertainment consisting of group singing, and songs by Merl Adams closed the evening. The hares won the prize, a box of marshmallows, by reaching the destination in the shortest time.

MORE EVENING STUDY OR LIBE WILL SHUT UP

The library will stay open this week from seven till nine, but if more students don't use the library, this special permission will be taken away.

Wednesday night is the best time to study, according to the number of pupils studying in the library during the new night hours. Twenty students were diligently at work on Wednesday, while only ten to fifteen turned out the other nights.

According to the librarian, Miss Catherine Ball, the number of students now taking advantage of the night hours does not pay for the expense incurred from using the electricity and for paying the salaries of the two girls who take care of the library.

Student Opinion

Again, as in the past, our social affairs have come to that point where it is considered wise to exclude all outside women from our dances. Or, at least, it is so considered by those few students who make up our Social Committee, with the Dean of Women as their advisor.

I would like to inquire how they get that way. Does the Social Committee think that, by preventing me from taking an outside woman to our dances, I will become docile and sacrifice my new shoes to the trampings of the A. W. S. clubfoots? Does the Social Committee and the Dean of Women think that I am getting a square deal as a paid member of the student body? Did I pay my ten dollars to enjoy the social affairs of this college without reservation? Or, was there a string attached—that I should confine my selection of a companion to the ranks of the unfair coeds?

And again I ask: How come? How come that I cannot bring an outside woman to our dances when so many of the college women themselves are escorted by outside men? In the sacred name of the A. W. S., I suppose that is a different case. But, it isn't any different to me. Let the Social Committee, the A. W. S., and the Dean of Women remember that, although the quantity of women on this campus is great, the quality is awfully poor; and we men still have some eye for female pulchritude.

If there were a law against my taking an outside woman to our dances, I would obey it. But, as it seems to be only a whim on the part of the Social Committee, a scheme to gladden the hearts of the scarecrows, I do not see why I should let it spoil my good time.

(Signed) A. Whifflebird.

THESE AND THOSE

Wall Street has been thrown into a furore by the rumor that the bottom has fallen out of "American Can." More conservative investors claim there is nothing in it.

Of what benefit to this college are our fraternities and sororities? This question comes to our mind after watching several fraternity men and sorority women walk away from the Administration Building, last Thursday, after they had been told that a football rally was in progress.

We wonder if these social butter-bugs realize that, without a good student body, there can be no social life in our college. We wonder whether or not they think they are too good, too well versed in the sophistications of life, to lower themselves in a yell for the team that is making their very existence possible.

It is too bad that these few people allow the problems of rushing and cutting each other's throats to interfere with their duties as students of Santa Barbara State. It is too bad that they do not realize that their social organizations are only matters of secondary importance.

It is good to know that the above does not refer to any particular fraternity or sorority. There are boosters and knockers alike in all of them. Incidentally, we hope that some of these eligible women who are being smiled upon by these mis-led putty-heads will affiliate themselves with those organizations which have proven their worth by interesting themselves in the affairs of the student body. We hope that their prospective pledges will realize that the important thing in college life is student interest, and not the ability to recite some risqué rhyme between puffs of a cigarette.

Said the little bird to the elephant, "I'll see you at the dance tonight."

It is also rumored that if Harold Polley spent as much wind on the course as he does in the locker room telling how good he is, he could clip several minutes off of Johnny Eckhart's new record.

The Frosh grid stars proved that they had the punch in chalking up their 6-0 win over S. M. J. C., a team the varsity only trimmed 18-0. They added another point for this city in the S. B.-Santa Maria football feud. The usual order of things was reversed when Pinky Greeson caught the winning pass from the hands of Greenough instead of hurling it himself.

INDUSTRIALISTS PLAN BIG DINNER

Plans are being completed by the Industrial Education Department for its annual dinner and get-together which will be held at Russell's Cafe, November 1, at 7:30 o'clock.

A varied program has been lined up, according to Eddie Dundas. E. E. Ericson, director of the department, will give a speech of welcome. Noel Misemer will explain the purposes of the Industrial Education Club.

During the dinner Miss Evelyn Eaves and Miss Helen Oliver will sing popular songs. E. H. Harlacher, vocational teacher of the local high school, will speak on some subject of his department. D. H. Schauer will talk on printing as a vocation. Dundas is seeking a speaker for a talk on aviation. Old time songs will be played by W. C. Curley on a musical saw.

The public is invited.

Cochran Is Elected Journalist Leader

Marie Cochran was elected president of Alpha Phi Gamma, national journalism fraternity, at a special meeting last week. Miss Cochran will replace Bernard Barnes, who was forced to give up the position because of a heavy program. Floyd Kenney was unanimously chosen vice-president.

At the society's monthly meeting a list of candidates for membership was drawn up. Eligibility for membership includes a year's service on either the Eagle or La Cumbre and a grade coming within the upper quartile.

ed by a cinder path on which the track men will have ample opportunity for work-outs. The field itself will be planted with a grass that will withstand, as well as can be expected, the ravages of football, baseball and track.

Sometime within the next year, it is expected, a new gym will be started on the side hill above the field. This will greatly add to the physical education department as the present gym is entirely too small.

PADDLES ONCE MORE IN VOGUE AS FRATS RUSH

Paddles are once more in vogue, and mantle-pieces will be cleared for action. Fraternity pledging has begun.

Every year the fraternities of the campus pledge certain men of the student body. Any man is eligible to become a pledge after completing one semester of college work, and getting a grade of three or better.

Pledging is done near the beginning of either semester, and after ten weeks of successful pledgship a pledge may be voted in as a member.

The Beta Sigma Chi fraternity and the Sigma Alpha Kappa fraternity have already selected their pledges, but the Tau Omega fraternity is still deliberating, and has not yet made definite choice, although a party for prospective members was held at El Cortijo last Tuesday.

Those bid by Beta Sigma Chi are: Ralph Johnson, Fred Humphrey, Charles Ritchie, Claude Yeoman, Arlo Harris, Fred Pierucci, Robert Mead, Eddie Rodman, and Lawrence Parma. Harry Denno was elected an associate member as he has already served a pledgship in the Sigma Nu fraternity at Arizona. Those bid by Sigma Alpha Kappa are: Ned Porter and John Anderson.

Public Opinion

A gas tank off Bill Dickman's roadster was lost on one of the college washboard roads last Wednesday. In attempting to keep his seat while going over a series of bumps so well known to us all, he heard a crash, stopped his car, and saw his gas tank fifty feet behind his auto.

Something should be done to improve the condition of our campus roads. Students have been complaining for the past two years on the conditions of the roads, which are not improving with constant use. The roads make a bad impression on newcomers to the campus as well as being unpopular to everyone.

Entertainment Given For College Artists

Members of the local chapter of Delta Phi Delta were entertained at dinner by Mrs Ruth Doolittle and Elizabeth Foster in their apartment at the Edgerly Court last Monday evening.

The guests were entertained during the dinner by prophecies written on the backs of the place cards. Afterwards a short business meeting was held, followed by an informal discussion on Maya art.

Those present included Mrs. Mary E. T. Crowell, Mrs. Isabel Fish, Miss Camp, Mrs. Ruth Doolittle, Ida Vizzolini, Elizabeth Foster, Marian Hebert, Madelaine Ambrose, Maud Robinson, Katherine Bishop and Emily Wood.

Revelettes Given Radio Engagement

Revelettes, the girls' trio, composed of three coeds on the campus, have been engaged by the local radio station, KDB, to appear every Wednesday evening on a program in conjunction with Al Clarke's orchestra, it was learned yesterday through authoritative sources.

The trio, Dorothea Peterson, Anita Cochran, and Betty Procter, is well known in musical circles and has entertained many of the local clubs and organizations, as well as the college student body since they first sang together several years ago in the Santa Barbara High School.

FINAL MINUTE SCORE GIVES AZTECS 7 TO 6 TRIUMPH OVER STATE

Taking all the breaks of the game against them, and there were plenty of them too, the Santa Barbara State College football team went down to a 7-6 defeat at the hands of San Diego State in a game played Saturday on the San Diego field.

It was a hard beating for the Roadrunners to take. They had pointed for the game and were especially anxious to win it and then after outplaying the Aztecs for the entire game, a pass was slipped over their heads in the last two minutes of play for the southerners' score.

First Half See-Saw

The first half was rather a see-saw affair with both teams making about an even number of first downs, but kicking most of the time after failing to gain. Two or three times the ball was put within scoring distance for the Olive and White and it would be discovered that a man was off-side on the play and the pigskin would have to be returned and the play go over.

Santa Barbara received at the opening of the second half and was stopped on the kick-off on about the 30-yard line. Here started a drive for the southerners' goal that was not stopped until "Army" Kessler had carried the pigskin across into pay dirt. Kessler carried the ball practically all the way down on bucks of four and five yards with the line opening nice holes for him. An attempted place-kick by Freddie Imes was missed by inches.

Strong Defense

The Roadrunners then played a strong defensive game and things looked rosy until the last few minutes of play. With the ball on the 35-yard line near the outside boundary, Wilson, the southerners' quarterback, took the ball and tossed a 15-yard pass to Allen, the San Diego left end, who ran the remaining twenty yards to tie the score. Imes, playing safety man, chased across the field at Allen and touched him with the tips of his fingers as he dived at him. A buck through the center line gave the Aztecs the point that meant victory.

"Gibby" Martin and "Gabby" McKibben played bang-up games at end for the Olive and White. Ralph Johnson, the fighting Swede, played exceptionally well in the center of the line. "Cec" Hickman showed nice generalship calling the plays and played nice defensively. Fred Pierucci, Kessler and Bert Clemore all did some nice ball-toting and Imes' punting was excellent, one kick gaining Santa Barbara nearly 80 yards.

The lineups follow:

BIRDS-I-VIEW

By Lawrence Parma

To bear out our claims that the varsity is a powerful outfit, and last year was one of the Coast's best, the following figures are offered: U. C. L. A. succeeded in beating Pomona, 39-0, after handing the Roadrunners a 19-0 defeat, consequently making State 20 points better than the Sagehens. On the other hand, Occidental could only squeeze out a 7-0 decision over their ancient rivals, giving Santa Barbara a 13 digit margin over the Tigers. Southern California's 19-0 victory over the Bengals makes the Trojans 6 points better than the Hilltoppers. But the southerners trimmed Stanford 10-0, so logically, Hal Davis' men could take the Card varsity into camp, 4-0, but to give the up-staters a break we'll call it, 3-0. As the Palo Altoans walloped the Army, 26-0, State could have turned the trick 29-0, which is equivalent to fourteen safeties, ten drop-kicks, or four converted touchdowns. Figures don't lie—much.

Today's candidate for All-America beauty honors is the dour, silent, Scot — Gabby McKibben. Mac's he-man type of masculine fairness is especially appealing to the sophisticated or clinging type of femininity. It is nothing unusual to see him surrounded by fair coeds at the proms—regaling them with wild tales of snipe hunting back in Padooka. While in Hollywood last month he received several offers to go on the stage. But the S. P. had special excursion rates that day so he came back on the train.

Prospects for a large crowd at Peabody Stadium tomorrow for the L. A. J. C. game seems remote. The Stanford-U. S. C. game is drawing many, while practically all of the high school and many townspeople will attend the Santa Maria-Santa Barbara High game at Santa Maria.

Nevertheless the Roadrunners should run up a big score on the Los Angeles outfit. For the first time in many a moon, the State team will not be outweighed. The inexperience and lack of real first class material for so large a school should count heavily against the Jaysees. The fact that they have a student body of over twelve hundred to pick from won't help the southern lads any

SCOUT LEADER COURSE ENROLS 13 THIS YEAR

Enrollment in the Scout leaders' training course being given in the gymnasium every Thursday night will be closed next week, Boy Scout Executive Calvin McCray announced yesterday.

There are thirteen men, a number of them college students, enrolled in the class which takes up the fundamentals of Scout work and principles of leadership. Credit is given for the work in the physical education department. At the end of the year, the leaders are given certificates and several receive assignments to active Scout troops, the Scout executive said.

Coach Hal Davis recommends the Scout leaders' course for all teachers as it gives excellent training in boys' leadership as well as in woodcraft and Scouting.

Boy Scout Executive McCray, assisted by Otto E. Kramer, conduct the class. The class was organized last year.

when Pierucci, Hickman, Kessler & Co., start hitting the line.

With the season half over, teams in the Southern Conference are showing their true ability. The championship, from the present outlook of things, will rest between Occidental and Pomona. If Occidental plays some of the usual slipshod ball that is so common to the Bengals, it would be no surprise to see Pomona romp off with the title. Whittier and Redlands seem to be on a par for third place, but Caltech could beat either one out and cause no startling upset. San Diego comes next, with La Verne chasing the other teams in, as usual. The two newcomers, Santa Barbara and Cal Christian have given good accounts of themselves, and the Roadrunners seem to be as good as any, with the exception of Oxy and Pomona.

The jinx San Diego seems to hold over SB again came to the fore Saturday. For the second time in as many games the Aztecs came from behind late in the last quarter to turn certain defeat into victory. A pass was again responsible for State's downfall. It was the kind of play you read about but seldom see.

Five Women Pledged To Kappa Omicron Phi

Kappa Omicron Phi pledged five new members last Monday at a dinner held in the dining room of the new economics building. The new pledges are Mary Camp, Jocelyn Kelly, Jennie Lind, Marie Stiber, and Mildred Wright.

A shower was given for Elizabeth Ezaki, an alumni member of the sorority whose marriage will take place next month.

Committees in charge of the pledging and dinner were Genevieve Schmidt, Elizabeth Johnston, Mary Davidson, Mary Camp, Mary Wheeler.

Women Plan Pirate Party This Evening

The W. A. A. is holding a pirate party tonight at the beach house of Mary Longawa on the Rincon. Invitations state that there is a treasure to be found, and many rollicking adventures are in store. The party is an overnight affair, the women returning Saturday noon. The gathering is being managed by a committee composed of Margaret Webster, chairman; Mary Longawa, Jean Nielson, and Peggy Downs.

ECKHART WINS SECOND CROSS COUNTRY RUN

Running the hills in true Roadrunner style, Johnny Eckhart captured the second cross country race Wednesday, in the fast time of 24 minutes, 25 seconds. Gaining a big lead on the uphill sections, Eckhart easily beat off the closing rush of Charlie Van Winkle, who took second place. Bob Imler, lanky frosh, came in third. Lovell Paggeot, running in his first competition showed plenty of fight to beat our Martin Bredstein for fourth position. Chet Tubbs, last year varsity star showed marked improvement, clipping two minutes off his previous time to lead Bissel to the tape by ten seconds, who in turned showed the way to Parma by a margin. Tad Foss and Bill McDavid also ran, with Harold Polley chasing the boys home.

Scored on a team basis, the varsity upheld the tradition, nosing out the frosh by one point, 28-27.

BECAUSE it is one place in town where I don't have to stand around and wait until everyone else in the store is waited on. I can slip thru the turnstile, grab what I want and beat it home. Mother appreciates that too, for she is generally in a hurry for what she sends me after."
