Associated Student Body Votes on Constitutional Revision after Vacation

Council Recommends Plan for Prexy's Appointment of Director of Assemblies; Executives Urge Finish of Parking Lot

Council members voted last night to recommend an amendment to the constitution of Santa Barbara State college whereby there will be appointed each year a student to arrange and oversee all assemblies for the coming year, which will be voted upon at a special student body meeting Thursday, November 28.

The motion reads: "Recommended that the constitution be amended to include a director of assemblies as a non-voting member of the council, appointed by the president-elect, and by consent of the council-elect, each spring."

RICHARDS PRESIDES

Associated students president Jack Richards will preside at the lunch hour meeting in the auditorium, when student body members will discuss and vote on the issue. In order to be passed, the measure must receive a two-thirds affirmative vote of the students present at the meeting.

Don Estey, who has acted in this capacity this semester, presented the suggestion to council. He stressed the need of such an officer who can schedule the assembly programs during the summer, thus assuring the student body of interesting entertainment during the assembly periods.

Art Chauvel, Howard Eckles and Willard May were named by Richards as a committee to investigate what rooms are available for studying during the day, other than the library. This action resulted from a complaint concerning the noise in the library.

APPROVE MINUTES

Syd Cohen, editor of La Cumbre, read the minutes of the Press Control board, noting the changes in photography contracts and page prices. The council accepted the board's recommendations.

Action was taken to empower the secretary, Grace Williams, to write a letter to Franklin Berry, comptroller, urging speedier work for completion of the parking lot below the administration building. This area will furnish parking space for all student cars, relieving campus traffic.

The council voted to allocate to the rally committee $25 from the net profit of the Galloping Gaucho revue, on recommendation of the finance committee.

Students Dance After Game

Tonight's grid fracas with La Verne college will be culminated in an after game dance at Rockwood with Fourth Estate, Santa Barbara State college journalistic society, sponsoring the informal hop.

Spotlighting the Watsons, Richie and Bob, Tom Bosley's orchestra will play from 10 p.m. until 1 a.m. Refreshments will be available for the dancers during the evening.

Patrons and patronesses for the event, at which a charge of 25 cents per person will be made, include Mr. and Mrs. Harrington Wells, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Porter and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice E. Faulkner.

Clinic Instigates Posture Culture

Second in the series of new posture clinics will be offered to all students today during second hour by Margaret DeHaan, physical education department instructor.

The posture clinic, which was introduced to the campus for the first time recently, will be held every other Friday, second hour, for the rest of the semester.

Purpose is to demonstrate good posture and to teach students how to carry themselves well, according to Miss De Haan.

What? Again?

Gauchos Begin Another Siesta

State college students, with little more than a week of classes held since the last vacation, prepare to begin another next Wednesday, this time celebrating Thanksgiving Day, November 21.

Classes will close at noon, and will re-convene Monday, November 25, according to President Clarence L. Phelps.

AWS, AMS Sponsor Joint Meet Tuesday

Magician Trent Bessent, Tumbling Team Perform For First Annual Affair

Meeting together Tuesday during fourth hour, members of both the Associated Men Students and Associated Women Students will be shown a preview of the Christmas program outlined by the A.W.S. The program is designed to educate the students to the need for the welfare work done by the women students every year before Christmas vacation.

Miss Laura McKeen, executive secretary for the Neighborhood House, city relief organization, will be introduced by Faye Thompson who is in charge of the Christmas work, and will give a short address.

Featured on the entertainment side of the program will be Trent Bessent, master entertainer, magician and ventriloquist. Bessent was scheduled to present his acts at the last A.M.S. meeting, but the program was called off because of poor attendance. Tumbler from the college gym team will also put on a short exhibition.

"It is hoped that the joint assembly will become an annual event so that the Christmas welfare work can be done more efficiently and on a larger scale," stated Gordon Gray, A.M.S. social chairman, who is in charge of the entertainment.

This is the first time the two organizations have ever given a joint assembly. If the program is successful, plans will be laid immediately for the continuation of the work started so that bigger and better assemblies may be held next year. Members of both cabinets ask that the students support them in this work because of its worthiness.

Group Hears Harvard Dean

"Nazism is the foe of free thinking, vision and philosophy and therefore threatens all education" opened a speech given by Dr. Henry W. Holmes of Harvard university at a gathering of members of the city school system in the State college auditorium last evening. His topic was "If Education should become our Battle-stave."

Dr. Holmes is chairman of the Harvard committee on educational relations and was formerly dean of the school of education.

His speech was devoted to two parts, one on determining education as an issue in the present war and the second as the part American schools should play in regards to readiness for war.

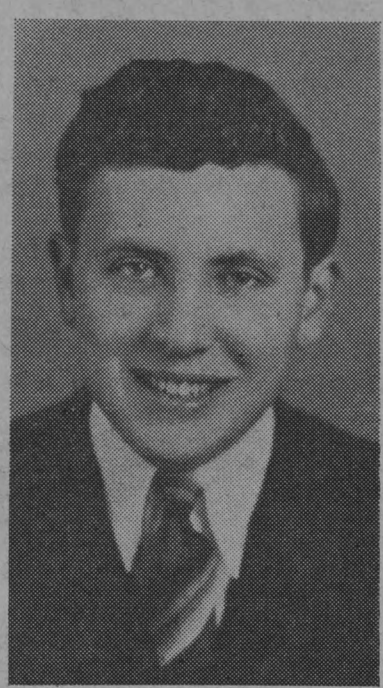

Bringing an optimistic view into the talk Dr. Holmes stated, "Eclipse is not defeat. As long as youth retains vision the world is safe. But it is the part of education to keep this desire for free thinking in the minds of youth."

Five Footers Hold Formal Induction

A tea honoring new pledges to the Five Footers, campus club for women five feet in height or under, was held yesterday at the home of President Marie Zappone.

Formal candlelight ceremonies initiated the new pledges, Edwina Thompson, Alita de Hoyas, Patty Rogers, Marilynne Engalls and Esther Walters.

Actives present were Frances McKown, Pat Slater, Beryl Davidson, Dorothy Loudenclos and Miss Zappone. Also attending were Mary Kunhardt, business manager and Mrs. F. P. O'Reilly, patroness.

SYD COHEN, yearbook editor, last night announced several changes which will appear in the 1940-41 issue of La Cumbre.

Annual Editor Lists Changes In Yearbook

Portrait photography for the 1941 edition of La Cumbre, college yearbook will be handled by a newly-organized photo studio under the visual education department. Recommendation of the Press control board to open the studio was passed upon by the Associated students council last night.

Under the direction of Dana M. Barnes, instructor of visual education, the college studio, located in the industrial education building, will begin individual photography directly after the Christmas holidays, according to La Cumbre editor Syd Cohen. Printing of the book will be done on the new off-set press which was installed last semester.

Four sittings for photographs, which will be taken by Bill Guidinger and a staff of proficient student employees, will be offered for a $1 charge, whereas six will cost $1.50. Additional prints of the pose, for use in the yearbook, will be free of charge, while 25 cents will purchase different shots of the person. Advantage of this feature, it is pointed out, is to furnish a variety of pictures of the individual in his separate activities.

No half pages will be sold for the 1941 book; neither will organizations with back debts be allowed space until payment is made, it is emphasized by Cohen. $20 will be charged for a single page and $40 for a double sheet layout.

In turn, La Cumbre's price to students will be $1.50 per copy with fall and spring semester student body cards. Only one card necessitates a $3 charge per copy, with the sales campaign beginning at spring registration.

Hobby Exhibit Opens Tonight

With the Santa Barbara hobby show opening today for a three day run, Mrs. Ferdinand Davis, mother-in-law of Dean William A. Ashworth, seemed sure to be the oldest entrant in the affair. Mrs. Davis, 94 years old, and bedridden for a number of years, will exhibit a collection of quilts which she has made, while being confined.

The show which, is being sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, national scouting fraternity, will open tonight with exhibits in the National Guard armory, Cabrillo pavilion, Faulkner art gallery, chamber of commerce building and the Flying A studio at State and Mission streets.

Admission to all exhibits will be free, with the exception of the Model railroad display in the chamber of commerce building.

Regular monthly meeting of Crown and Scepter took place Wednesday morning at a breakfast in Ebbets hall where plans were completed for a Christmas party on December 15 which will be held at the home of Dean Lois M. Santa Barbara Businessmen Solicit Assistance of College in Santa Claus Welcome Parade

Organizations, departments and classes of the college were issued a special invitation this week to participate in the annual "Santa Claus Welcome" parade, Saturday evening, November 30, inaugurating the Christmas season and sponsored by the Retail Merchants' Association of Santa Barbara.

At a recent meeting of the sponsoring group, the reputation of the college for staging spectacular homecoming parades was cited, with the suggestion that college entries in the annual Christmas affair enhance the attractiveness of that exhibition.

Any group or organization may enter a float and compete for prizes offered by the sponsors. Floats need not be large or expensive, but should be closely adapted to the theme of the parade, which is "Mother Goose." Characters, scenes and stories from Mother Goose tales should be worked out in the design of the floats. If possible, the committee in charge of the parade would like some comic entries.

The procession will start at Sola street early in the evening, November 30, and will proceed to Gutierrez street. Santa Claus and his reindeer, equipped in the modern manner, with a public address system for addressing the assembled children along the route, will lead the march.

Alpha Theta Chi, social sorority, has signified intentions of entering a float in the parade and several other campus organizations are considering participation, awaiting only approval of the membership before taking any definite steps, according to Bradbury.

All organizations or individuals interested in entering floats, should secure entry blanks and complete instructions immediately from Walt Bradbury, in the public relations office in the Quad.

Committee Sets Final Campus Rally Today

Gauchos, engendering football spirit for the game tonight with La Verne college, will gather in front of the gym at 12:30 today for the last on-campus rally of the season.

Master of ceremonies John Kellner, acting chairman of the rally committee in the absence of Warren Dorn, will introduce a six act vaudeville show composed of State college talent. The college band, directed by Maurice Faulkner will play and yells will be offered by leaders Dick and Bill Vanderhoof with Lew Bedell.

Slated to appear on the pep program will be singers Tony Graves, Dick Miller, and Ruth Travis; Norma Yauney playing the accordion; Dr. Elmer R. Noble and his tumbler in a gymnastic exhibition. Captain Bus Brown, sponsor of the annual gym jinx, has charge of the tumbling display.

Following the rally a dance will be held.

Tonight during the half-time of the game, the Arroyo Grande high school band will perform. It is hoped that in succeeding years a high school band night may be held with representatives from the tri-county area participating.

Science Instructor Lists Grant Plans

Plans for using a $400 grant received from Sigma Xi, national scientific research society, for continuation of his study in the field of plant physiology were disclosed this week by Dr. Fredrick T. Addicott, State college science instructor.

The instructor plans to use the greater amount of the fund to provide himself with a paid laboratory assistant and the remainder for the purchase of necessary materials for the program of research he is planning to carry on.

Dr. Addicott, with Dr. Ernest L. Bickerdike, was awarded full membership in Sigma Xi recently, bringing the total State college representation in the organization to nine. Dr. Addicott as affiliated with the Stanford chapter while Dr. Bickerdike is affiliated with the chapter at the University of Southern California.

Thrill Listeners in Classical Program

Ina Souez, soprano, and John T. de Blois Wack, baritone, were featured soloists Wednesday evening at the first of a series of musicales to be held under the sponsorship of the music department. Accompaniment was by Lloyd Browning, State college music instructor.

Famous selections from the International Mozart festival rendered by Miss Souez included "Alleluja" and an aria from "Casi Fan Tutte" called "Come Scio." From "Don Giovanni" Miss Souez and de Blois sang a duet entitled "La ci darem la mano."

Charmingly different was Miss Souez' perception of "Have you seen but a Whyte Lillie Grow," a selection in old English which was reminiscent of the eighteenth century.

Given as a vocal duet by the guest soloists, "Dou de L'Oasis" from "Thais" by Massenet, culminated the concert.

Miss Souez has made only one other appearance in the United States. Following the college concert, the soloist will fulfill an engagement in New York.

A resident of Montecito for many years and a singer already having made several appearances in the Santa Barbara bowl, du Blois Wack was presented this week for the first time to a State college audience.

Official Speaks To Classes, Dramatists

Dr. Lee Norvell, head of the speech department of the University of Indiana, an official in the National theater alliance, was a guest on the State college campus Wednesday at the invitation of Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary drama society, of which he is national president.

Dr. Norvell spoke before speech classes fourth, fifth, and sixth hours Wednesday and addressed an exclusive luncheon group of TAP members in the faculty dining hall during lunch hour.

He discussed a proposed program for the theater of United States during conscription time which would establish a personnel division in the training camps for the purpose of presenting dramatic shows and entertainments of a suitable nature for the draftees. This activity as organized by many national theatrical leaders is being fostered by Dr. Norvell, Paul Green, Daryl F. Zanuck and many others.

The speaker predicted a new organization within the National theater alliance for drawing new and better playwrights from the general public by means of a free reading service and competition which would place the winning scripts at the disposal of non-professional groups, little theaters and educational theaters before given to professional groups for production use.

Theta Alpha Phi has its "baby" chapter on this campus it was established last semester under the authorship of Frederic W. Hile and W. Charles Redding.

Workshop Cast Delights With Three Plays

Miss Sweet, Bettie
Schwankovsky Give
Sterling Portrayals

Dramatic capabilities of seventeen embryo State college thespians were displayed to an audience of delighted students and townspeople Wednesday night in room 80 Pine hall in three one-act plays comprising the first workshop presentation of the semester.

The three plays included "Hyacinths," by Tacie Hanna Rew; "The Happy Journey," by Thornton Wilder and "Twentieth Century Lullaby," by Cedric Mount. The first production was directed by Janine Rupertus and the others by Ted Hanley, graduate assistant in speech and dramatics.

TWO OUTSTANDING

Interpreting roles of sustained emotional force, Bettie Schwankovsky and Virginia Sweet gave promise of future success in major campus dramatic productions.

Miss Schwankovsky portrayed the role of Jane, the middle-aged daughter of an exceedingly thrifty widow, in "Hyacinths." In the play, it is Jane's frustrated desire to visit New York which finally makes possible fulfillment of the same desire held by her younger sister, Lucille, played by Nicki Smith. The role of Mrs. Brown, the thrifty mother of the girls, was taken by Shirley Middleton.

Miss Sweet's performance was that of the mother who forges a mocking world awaiting the maturity of her infant son with lies, cheating and bloodshed in "Twentieth Century Lullaby."

In this play, a deeply moving dramatic sketch, competent performances were also presented by Walker Hardesty, the realistic, frank schoolmaster; John Hickok, the clergyman; Richard Garcia, the glib-voiced announcer; Leo Hinchcliff, a hardened, profit-mad business executive; Lynn Walters, a "typical" twentieth century bride; Max Russell, the politician and Doris dal Pozzo, as the comforting Madonna.

MA KIRBY GOOD

"Happy Journey," presenting just one of the everyday experiences of a New Jersey family of simple folk, was brightened especially by the performance of Marjorie Low, portraying the subtly dominant Ma Kirby, guiding the destinies of "her husband and her children."

Characters in this production were played by Tom Loeffler, the station manager; Boyd Garrigan, Arthur, the son; Elizabeth O'Reilly, Caroline, high schoolish daughter; William Paul, Pa Kirby and Gwendie Spaulding, Beulah, the married daughter whose home is the end of the journey.

Technical staff of the workshop productions included Ruthie Suggs, Georgia Mae Krebs, Richard Watson, Clara Roy, Clifford Hale and Bob Gwynn. W. M.

Holiday Wreck Proves Fatal To Collegienne

One State college student was killed and five others injured when their car overturned near Malibu while driving home for the Armistice holiday. Joan de Guevara, freshman art major from San Ysidro, was fatally wounded.

Three others, Wilma Jeffries, Laura June Herrick and Marie Trueb were badly hurt. Jean Hixon is back on campus today and Frances Rice has been dismissed from the hospital to recuperate at her home.

Dean of Women Lois M. Bennink reports that the three still confined to the hospital are doing as well as could be expected and that no further complications are feared.

The six students were driving home on the coast route when their car struck a soft shoulder and overturned. Eye-witnesses from State college report that they were not driving at an excessive speed. They missed the single line of pavement through a section under construction and ploughed into the soft dirt at the side of the road throwing their car off balance. It slid along its top for several feet before finally stopping, when it was almost a complete wreck, according to persons who arrived on the scene immediately after the accident.

Miss de Guevara's death is the seventh fatality among Santa Barbara students resulting from automobile wrecks.

Frosh Begin Big Game Fire Preparations

Mack Toner Asks
Aid of 'Greenies'
For Annual Blaze

Flames will leap skyward while students chant and cheer in a frenzied effort to appease the gods of the gridiron with a fiery offering Tuesday at 8 p.m. on La Playa field. A gigantic bonfire will be ignited to warm up the spirit for the traditional Santa Barbara-San Diego football game to be held Saturday afternoon, November 23, at 2:30.

Work on what promises to be the biggest blaze in the history of some huge conflagrations is being started today under the direction of freshman president Mack Toner, who is taking all precautions that the firing will not be premature.

INTERFERERS WARNED

"Anyone who interferes with our little party will get his fingers burned," declared Toner when told there were rumors of unwelcome participation in the affair. Last year's fire became ignited the day preceding the date set but no traces of sabotage were discovered.

Materials for the inferno are being obtained from the construction of the new buildings on Leadbetter mesa and oil is being solicited from several local gas stations. An appeal for scrap lumber and boxes is to be made by Bob Payne in a radio broadcast.

Telephone poles will form the base for the pyre and the other materials will be added to that. Building of the bonfire will be done by freshmen and other men interested.

NEED INSPIRATION

"The men working on the fire will be served coffee and sandwiches by beautiful co-eds of the Frosh class, since besides the food, we need the inspiration and moral support of the women," Toner declared.

All women interested in serving the college and their class are asked to help in the serving. They should report to Barbara Tallant. Men who want to help should report to La Playa field Saturday night with their sleeping bags and canvases to guard the results of their labors.

All Freshmen, whether or not they have been contacted personally, are asked to participate in building and guarding the bonfire. It is the largest of all the Freshman enterprises and should be supported by everyone, men and women alike.

Beta Sigs Set Bonfire Dance

As a climax to the annual bonfire rally, staged this year before the "big game" with San Diego, members of Beta Sigma Chi fraternity will sponsor an after bonfire dance Tuesday night at Samarkand hotel.

Art Porter, assisted by Jim Widman and Stan Darrow, is in charge of arrangements for the sports affair to be held in the Jade room and main lobby.

Music, furnished by Harry Chan-son's Paseo orchestra, will continue until 11 p.m. Guest cards may be obtained from Dean of Women Lois M. Bennink's office. Charge for the dance is 25 cents per person.

the Mar Monte hotel.

Before the Tuesday meeting Areta Gamma members enjoyed a bowling tournament with the Alpha Theta Chi sorority. The meeting was held at the home of Mary K. Lane on Micheltorena street and business included the planning of an at-home tea which will take place November 26. Edith Stark is in charge of decorations and Miriam Kircher will head the refreshment committee. Models chosen to represent the sorority in the Gamma Delta Chi sponsored fashion show to take place December 8 were Frances Doubeck and Miss Kircher.

Alumni members expected to attend the dance are Sally Entz from Mercedes, Audrey Oliver from Los Angeles, Jerry Groshong and Betty Westcott from Chino, Alice Goss of Burbank and Lorraine Morrell Burke and Thelma George, Santa Barbara. Mrs. Florence Webberdorfer, housemother, will also be present.

Other business consisted of a review of plans for a faculty tea with arrangements to be made by Alice Benson. In charge of the open house tea which was held last Thursday was Raina Chancey.

DELTA ZETA DELTA

Plans for the annual Delta Zeta Delta fashion show to be held in December at El Paseo were made at a box supper meeting held Tuesday evening at the home of Virginia Wait, 205 Calle Granada.

The fashion show is open to the public and will feature preview style showings from Jack Rose's, Rodenbeck's and Roy E. Gammill's. Flowers will be furnished by the Cagnacci House of Flowers.

Sorority members are selling tickets, the charge being 85 cents per person.

Invited to pour are Dean of Women Lois M. Bennink, Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham and various department heads. The tea is an annual affair. Arrangements for table decorations are in charge of the alumni group while Phyllis Atwood will head the committee on refreshments. Further business included the planning of an informal open house tea to take place next Wednesday at the home of Margaret Mellinger, 1816 Garden street.

PATSY SAYS:

Dear Doris:

Going to the Nani Leilani bridge tea tomorrow afternoon? From what Nelva Keifer has planned it looks to me like it will be one of those "can't miss" affairs.

Why? Well, because plus the usual tea and bridge, they have scheduled a fashion show that should be a knock-out. And instead of modeling everything from breakfast to midnight outfits, the girls will stick exclusively to "Carole King" date and campus dresses.

A smart move—and that's why I'll bet my "this Friday's outfit" against a coke that it will be the talk of the Gaucha room Monday morning.

And that's something 'cause this Indian Earth colored flannel suit with a long fitted jacket and patch pockets is a bargain win or lose. This is just one of the specially priced suits that Jack Rose is offering this week.

So until I meet you today at eleven in front of the mail boxes . . .

The acute football situation here at Santa Barbara State was finally brought to a head this week when Head Coach Spud Harder demoted four of the Gaucho varsity members and placed four others on probation because of their flagrant violation of training rules and their poor attitude in general during the current grid campaign.

Although it is rather late in the season to begin cracking down on the errant gridders, Harder evidently figured better late than never. Ordinarily, he is rather lenient in the matter of cracking down on the football team for infractions of the training rules, but when fully one-half of the squad was in no condition to play a top notch brand of ball, it was obvious that some measures had to be taken to protect the rest of the fellows on the squad who did train hard and were playing to win.

The gridders on the suspension list took an unfair advantage of Harder's leniency to contribute one of the worst seasons in Gaucho grid history. There is no hiding the fact that this year has been a terrific flop.

Losses to such powerful outfits as San Jose, Fresno and the San Diego Marines are to be expected, (although not by such overwhelming scores) but when the Gauchos lost to an inept Cal Aggie aggregation who at best is no better than a good junior college eleven, it is sufficient reason to suspect that something is wrong.

Perhaps it would be a good idea to join a junior college football league, or schedule games with the Bloomer Girls. The Gauchos certainly are not holding their own in the 2C2A conference as far as football is concerned.

As we have said more than once before, we do not believe in knocking one's own team. However, when the team deliberately performs below par, it can no longer expect bouquets from us.

When the season is written down in the record books, the few members who contributed to the debacle will not be held responsible; instead the whole team will be made the scapegoat; which to us is the most tragic aspect of the entire mess.

Tonight the Gauchos tangle with the La Verne Leopards. Harder probably will not even have two full teams to throw against the visitors. However, he will have a squad of gridders who will go all out to win.

At the beginning of the season we would have picked the Green and White aggregation to win by five touchdowns. Tonight a one touchdown victory will seem like manna from heaven to us; with which we will close the chapter on the Gauchos' 1940 football season.

Meanwhile the Gaucho cagers are busily going through their paces in preparation for the opening of the 2C2A basketball race.

Several new replacements have come up to give Coach Willie Wilton one of the best balanced fives in local history.

Outstanding among the transfers are Bill Lavelle, former Pasadena junior college forward, Scott Flannagan, ex-Long Beach junior college guard, and Walter Wood, 6'6" center from the Midwest.

These, coupled with veterans Tommy Guerrero and Paddy Caudillo, forwards, Lowell Steward, center, and Larry Brewster, guard, give the Hilltoppers a formidable aggregation for the 1940-41 cage season.

New Hilltopper Lineup Faces Leopard Aggregation at La Playa Stadium; Larsen out for Season with Pneumonia

Charged with breaking training rules and possessing a poor attitude in general throughout the 1940 football season, four varsity members were demoted and four others were placed on a probationary basis by Coach Spud Harder as an aftermath of the Cal Aggie debacle last week-end.

Squince Grids Win 'Mural Football Title

Club de Squince emerged as the first intramural champion of the 1940-41 season last Thursday by virtue of a 50-12 victory over the College Y team.

The struggle for the other spots of the standings will be decided in the big grudge duel between the Beta Sigs and the Gamma Sigs Monday.

This clash will decide the fraternity champions of the campus, and end the regular schedule. Tuesday the Gamma Sigs and the Six Hits will renew their duel in replaying their early season protested game.

The public will get a glimpse of the six man game as played in the intramural circles when the Club de Squince meets an all star team picked from the other entries as a preliminary game to the San Diego-varsity fray November 23.

Gymsters Put On Gym Jinx

This year's presentation of the annual Gym Jinx to be held on December 4, is to be augmented by the addition of several Santa College coeds in acrobatic stunts, according to Dr. Charles E. Noble, gym coach.

Admission will be 15 cents and will be used to provide additional equipment for the gym squad. Acrobatic stunts with a humorous touch will highlight the evening's entertainment and will include several 2C2A champions on the program, including George "high pants" Drain, tumbling king, and Henry Garcia, side horse champion.

Garcia will also act as master of ceremonies for the program.

La Verne Guns for Hilltopper Eleven

LA VERNE, Nov. 14—Word of dissension in the grid ranks of Santa Barbara State college came as good news to the La Verne Leopards who figure the Gaucho game is as good a time as any to garner their first win of the season.

Although they have lost every game this season, the Leopards feel that they can still make it a successful season if they can dump the Gauchos.

Thurman Perkins, tackle and Hanawalt, center, are La Verne's best linemen and are counted on by the Leopards to turn back the Gaucho attack.

Spartans, Bulldogs Clash for Grid Title

FRESNO, Nov. 14—One of the biggest "small college" grid clashes of the 1940 grid schedule is slated for tomorrow evening here when the San Jose and Fresno powerhouses tangle for the 1940 2C2A championship.

Bud Nygren will head the Spartan attack while Ernie "Streaky" Poore back in his old time form, will take over the Bulldog reins.

Prepping for the La Verne fracas tonight, Harder will present an entirely new lineup with the exception of the ends and the quarterback position.

The four demoted were Mose Neely, halfback; Wayne Engel and Larry Bemoll, guards; and Dave Hengsteler, tackle. Ernie Saenz, fullback; Walt Condley, halfback; George James, quarterback; and John Lavelle, guard, were placed on probation.

Already pared down to skeleton strength by injuries, the Gaucho aggregation's hopes for a win will be carried on the shoulders of the reserves.

Additional bad news hit the squad with the announcement that Ed "Doc" Larsen, veteran tackle, would be out for the rest of the season with an attack of pneumonia.

Tonight's lineup will find standbys Larry Pickens and Howard Karjala at the ends, Wolf Heinberg and Buck Weaver will take over the tackle positions, Paul Siano and Jack Sorenson will start at the guards, and Bob Tapia will replace Blynn Wilson at center.

Next week, the Green and White aggregation closes its poorest season in years against the strong San Diego State college eleven.

If reports from the bordertown are true, the Gauchos might as well not trot on the football field, for the Aztecs are gunning for revenge for last year's defeat and mean to take it out on the Gaucho hide.

Liegerot Calls For Entries

Entries in the intramural basketball competition are being called for at the present time by the intramural board. All entries should be in the office as soon as possible so that plans for carrying out the competition may be facilitated. Wednesday, November 27, has been set as the deadline for entries.

All male members of the student body are eligible for intramural competition with the exception of varsity letter winners or varsity and freshmen squad members.

Entry blanks are obtainable in the P. E. office or from intramural director G. F. Liegerot.

Aztecs Primed to Knock Over Hilltopper Eleven Next Week

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 14—Spirit was high here on the San Diego State college campus as the well drilled Aztec machine went through its paces in preparation for its "Big Game" against the hapless Santa Barbara State college Gauchos next Saturday afternoon at La Playa field.

Hanley Cops Intramural Badminton

Clair "Bud" Hanley proved his mettle as number one seeded Santa Barbara badminton player by trouncing Burl Blue, 15-1, 15-2, in the finals of the winners bracket of intramural badminton last Tuesday night.

Hanley then walloped Ralph Fletcher, winner of the consolation round, by the identical score to annex the intramural singles crown for 1940-41.

Blue went into the finals by a 15-3, 15-1 win over Morton Dewhurst. Fletcher eked out a 15-11, 15-12 set over Dave "Pappy" Morgan in the consolation finals last week.

The badminton doubles tourney entries are coming in with still another week to get into the competition it is expected that some 15 teams will sign up. The tourney is scheduled to get under way immediately after Thanksgiving.

W.A.A. Basketball Season Opens

All State college women are cordially invited to participate in Women's Athletic Association basketball, the season of which begins Monday, November 18, according to Frances Boynton, who is in charge of the association's current activity.

Bi-weekly meetings will be held on successive Mondays and Wednesdays in the gymnasium during tenth hour. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Marion Anderson, department instructor, will conduct a round-robin tournament for participants as soon as the teams are chosen.

Local Cagers Face 2C2A Campaign With No Gymnasium

Armory Denied Green and White Quintet Until January 3; Coach Wilton Forced to Cancel Tilt with U.C.L.A.

A championship basketball squad without a decent gym to work out on is the situation facing Coach Wilton Wilton and his Gaucho Cagers this season.

Last year, the Green and White quintet, playing in the new Santa Barbara Armory, drove to the 2C2A championship. However, this year the army officials declined to allow the Santa Barbara cagers use of their gymnasium until January 3.

As a result, Wilton has been forced to cancel several of his best games, including several practice games with the University of California at Los Angeles.

The local hoopsters are thus at a definite disadvantage as far as defending their 2C2A championship goes, for they will have to practice in the college crackerbox gymnasium and will probably be at a loss when playing on the regulation sized floor.

On other fronts in the conference reports emanating from San Diego way indicate that the southerners are definitely out for the Gaucho scalp. They have been working out since early September and have several reinforcements besides having the redoubtable "Milky" Phelys return for another year.

Fresno also has been working out since September and is going so far as to send its basketball squad to Hawaii for its workouts during Christmas vacation.

San Jose State has been the most active quintet in the loop, having already played several practice games in its spacious gymnasium and appears headed for its best season in recent years.

However, despite the many setbacks, the local basketball quintet is far from disheartened. It has been working out three nights a week for several weeks, and should it secure a decent basketball floor, will prove to be the greatest team in local caba history.

Cal Trips Gauchos

WOODLAND, Nov. 14—Santa Barbara State college lost its third straight game here last Friday night when a game Cal Aggie eleven scored twice in the first half and stopped the Gauchos cold in the last half to win, 14-6.

had it last year, but is in no mood to repeat; which bodes no good for the Gauchos when the two squads 2C2A cellar for 1940. San Diego meet.

All Stars Face Colored Giant Nine Sunday

Riding on the crest of three straight wins, Captain Don Ripsch's Gaucho All-Stars run up against their stiffest opposition of the winter baseball season Sunday afternoon when they meet the Colored Giants at Pershing park. Game time is set for 2:15 p.m.

Jim Fitzgerald or Cliff Wrightson, the Gaucho's All Conference hurlers, will take the mound against the Los Angeles nine while Big Shanty Stansbury will do the catching.

The infield will line up as usual with Bud Tyreman, transfer from Fullerton Junior College where he won all conference honors handling first base, Eddie Markham, second base, Jack Fitzgerald, short stop, and Ripsch at third base.

An all veteran trio will form the All Stars outfield, with Bill Adamson in left field, Joe Blake in center field and Dave Morgan in right field.

The Gaucho All Star nine has won six out of seven games played thus far this season, its only loss being at the hands of the Goleta Merchants.

Editorially Speaking . . .

Freshman 'Valentines' Traced To Extra-Curricular Activities

Although the calendar belies the fact, Tuesday will be "Valentine Day" for a large percentage of Santa Barbara State college students. No celebrations will take place; rather a number of consolation gatherings will be held, with students comparing the number of "valentines" received.

For when a Gauchos student speaks of "valentines," he means a failure notice, a warning that he is not doing satisfactory work in a course.

When "cinch" notices appear, the mortality rate for lower classmen, freshmen specifically, will be appalling. The reason, in the opinion of many college administrators is that freshmen, making a complete re-adjustment, are involved in too many other activities to have time for study.

When a freshman enters college, he finds many alluring outlets for his energies. Many engage in athletics, some become involved in social engagements and others spend time in looking for that elusive quantity known as "college life." These extra-curricular activities, which can be undertaken without limit under the present system provide a serious handicap to study.

The point, then, is to limit the number of activities in which a freshman may engage, deleting certain ones if necessary. Freshman athletes, for example, may prove of value to the college in future years, but if he has no time to study, his scholastic standing will be such that he will never have an opportunity to prove his worth. As for social organizations, these can be easily entered in the period after the new student has become accustomed to his surroundings.

The mid-term warning, too is the first indication to many students of failure to comply with requirements, and intrenchment has set in so deeply by this time, it is too late to start pulling out. More frequent notices, conferences between instructor and student and a re-evaluation of the worth of the really unimportant extras may provide the solution to the problem of the high failure rate.—S.C.

Armistice Day Mockery in Europe; U. S. Only Observer

November 11 has come and gone, and, as it has for the past 21 years, this nation observed Armistice Day. America paid tribute to her war dead, but, somehow, the feeling behind the tribute was shallow. True, unknown bodies were honored, parades were held, festivities given, highways were crowded and even on this campus the great American tradition of accidents brought home the fact that it was a holiday.

As a real holiday it was a farce. And from more than one voice we heard the mockery with which America celebrated. On the street corners, in street cars and in the editorials of the daily press our "right" to observe November 11 as a national holiday was questioned. With the rest of the world engaged in war, many are of the opinion that we could well forget the Armistice, and erase it from our holiday calendar.

We object to this.

Armistice, as defined in our dictionaries, is a temporary cessation of hostilities. At first thought, it seems silly that we, and the rest of the world, have observed the armistice, and not the end of the war. But a little further study of history (both of mankind and of other organisms) will show that life has always been a constant struggle; nations have fought, relaxed and fought again. Few of us are idealists enough to believe that the same condition will not continue for a long time into the future.

Next week, when we celebrate Thanksgiving Day the most sincere thanks that we can give will be our appreciation, that for us, the breathing spell still lasts; that we were still able to observe November 11 as a national holiday.—J.L.

Just for fun . . .

War isn't very funny. Neither is it something to laugh about. But the picture of kilted, pointed shoed, peasants chasing Musso the Muscles' bad men all over Grecian real estate is downright humorous.

Those Italian Heels from the Boot are armed with everything from automatic spaghetti makers to Parthenon cutters. Yet they haven't been far enough into Greece to smell hash browns cooking at Acropolis No. 1.

Metaxas' men must be tougher than the meat in a drive-in sandwich. News agencies reported that the British sank several Italian gunboats. Mussolini isn't worried though. He's already putting the latest naval equipment on some of Primo Carnera's old shoes.

Greeks have been shoving back invaders ever since the Persians tried to blitzkrieg 'em at Marathon. That was really a battle. The boys from Athens thought up a new formation that nearly ruined coach Xerxes. The Romans borrowed it years later. They were nice about it however.

They sent over a note that said "Phalanx for the memories."

Which reminds me of an item seldom mentioned in history. When the Greeks shoved the Persians into the water they heard a voice that said, "Watch out what you're doing—I'm getting too old for this kind of stuff." So one of the soldiers yelled back into the waves, "What makes you think you're getting old?" And the voice hollered "I dunno—must be 'cause I'm Aegean—Sea!"

I STUMBLED OVER THIS . . .

Barbara Whitmore and Don Campbell announcing their engagement . . . Kay Demaree and Louis Triguero announcing their marriage . . . Mary Tucker and Jack Cornwall being married for months with nobody knowing . . . Jim Widman has not missed a Gauchos football game in three years . . . Dave Jones is in the air corps . . . So are Buck Bailey and Gibby Martin . . . Scoop Douglas is back on the campus conducting some kind of a survey to be included in his master's thesis. Scoop will be remembered for diving head first into a swimming pool that didn't have any water in it. Saw Wanda McAdams and Gail Squires at the Palladium last Friday night. Also June Evans plus Bedell and Frances McKown with Merle Campbell . . . Far be it from me to complain, but Dorsey doesn't play the most danceable rhythms there are. Marvelous to listen to, but difficult more than occasionally to stay on the team when dancing. Course it could be my dancing. Who screamed "whadda ya mean—could be?" . . .

Telephonic Nickelodeons Send Hep-Cats and Boost Disc Sales

Strictly off the record, Rover with his ear glued to an old fashioned gramophone has nothing on the present day juke box addicts who sit in their favorite bar, restaurant, or hamburger joint and feed good old American buffaloes into the contraption that gives them Dorsey, Kyser, Goodman, or Ellington on the half disk.

A far cry from Bell's original telephone and Edison's initial phonograph is the modern day version of "canned" music via the mechanical organ grinder. Nickel goes in slot, operator queries "number please", customer chooses selection from a field of nearly a thousand records, and the telephone machine does the rest.

Santa Barbara introduced the first set of these telephonic juke boxes requiring the services of an operator stationed at a central office. Said office being at State and Haley streets and owned by Fred Trevillian.

Locally the Maestros are parked in ten of the town's leading eateries and drinkeries. Three operators work from eight to two a.m. in supplying the cash customers with a motley selection of tangos, fox trots, rhumbas, congas, and what have you. Popularity rests with the current ten on the weekly hit parade.

Do you remember very clearly . . .

the registration scene in last semester's Roadrunner Revue? The one in which one of the lovely young ladies with the receipt books collected three dollars "to hire a woman to yell 'QUIET!!' in the library?"

We're reminded of this gag line by the miniature bedlam being maintained in the library by just a few forgetful State college students. Notice we say "forgetful"; we are still naive enough to believe that people don't deliberately create a disturbance when they know that others are trying to take advantage of whatever quiet atmosphere there might be in the library.

Several suggestions . . .

have been offered for the disposal of the three dollar library fee collected from each student every semester, but it seems that the suggestion heard in the Revue, while offered in a joking vein, will prove, by far, the most valuable and practical.

And the most necessary, while we're about it. We accidentally found ourselves in there the other day and, while we aren't certain of just who or what we were looking for, we were so impressed by the hilarity and noise-making that we're looking for a man with a lot of money who wants to turn it into a night club.

An appropriate gesture . . .

and one which has been especially conspicuous by its absence on other occasions is the displaying of the United States flag at half-mast in front of the Quad this week. We feel that the loss of a student whose graciousness and thoughtfulness toward her fellows have endeared her to us is worthy of the sort of tribute paid by the lowering of "Old Glory". To the family of Joan de Guevara we extend the heartfelt sympathies of the entire student body and faculty of Santa Barbara State college.

We beg permission . . .

to discuss a little personal sidelight on the football game with La Verne college which takes place tonight at La Playa field. We have a very good friend who is one of the first string tackles on the Leopard squad and also editor-in-chief of the La Verne campus newspaper and we haven't seen him for almost two years. So, in addition to deriving a great deal of pleasure from seeing the Gauchos get back in the winning column at the expense of the visiting team, we can also look forward to reminiscing over old times with an old friend, Thurman Perkins.

While speaking of football . . .

we hope especially that student support of the Gauchos eleven tonight will be the most boisterous of the entire season. Our boys haven't tasted the sweet meats of victory for some time, having lost a few tiffs which we won't go into, but tonight we predict a different story. The Green and White squad should be favored, but, according to our luck of recent weeks, will have to "upset" La Verne to wind up on top. So we'll see you at La Playa about 8 tonight. We hope.
