Large Student Assembly Hear Girl Violinist

Miss Jacqueline Duke Gives Excellent Program; Shows Superb Technique

VARIETY OF SELECTIONS

Acclaimed Youngster Shows No Nervousness Before Interviewer

By NAT HALES and BOB MOORE

Playing before a large and very receptive, appreciative student audience, Jacqueline Duke, 13 year old violin prodigy, this morning won the hearts of her listeners with superb tone quality and skill far beyond her years.

With a variety of selection including "La Folia" by Corelli, "Anioso" by Bach, "The Round of the Goblins" by Bazzini, and "Scotch Poem" by McDowell, the talented young artist will leave a memory and an example of poise and naturalness long to be remembered.

Mrs. Helen M. Barnett, head of the music department, was responsible for the appearance of Miss Duke before the assembly, making the necessary arrangements with Mr. James Grey, manager for the child.

"No, I am not nervous when playing before large audiences or when I am playing anywhere," said Jacqueline Duke, comfortably seating herself on a lounge chair before she presented her program this morning.

Jacqueline acclaimed by critics as one of the outstanding child violinists of today, began playing when she was four years old. When asked as how she happened to select the violin she replied, "Well, you see there was a girl named Lucille Rich staying at our house who played the violin. I used to listen to her play and I followed her around quite a bit and then—well, my parents bought me a violin and I learned to play. I love music and well, I just like to play."

Jacqueline has never attended the public schools but has had a private tutor, and at present is being tutored by her mother. She likes to tour because, "I get to see everything and meet a great many people and well, I just like everything."

NETTLES SPEAKS ON DUCE'S ARMY

Dr. H. E. Nettles outlined the progress of Mussolini's army in Ethiopia at a meeting of members of the local Italian colony, gathered to celebrate the Italian World War Armistice last Friday night.

Dr. Nettles explained that it would be necessary for Mussolini to begin a drive to capture important cities soon, in order to be firmly established before the beginning of the fall rains. He also said that England is opposing Italy because she fears that the latter may come to dominate the Mediterranean and to endanger British control of Egypt. He then cited English political factors behind the situation.

Cav. Dr. Ernest Arlighi, royal Italian vice-consul, gave the major address of the evening.

Jane M. Abraham Has New Offices

Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham's, registrar, office, in the administration building, is being made over into two separate offices. The inner office will be used by Mrs. Abraham, giving her more privacy than in the past. The outer one will continue to operate as before under the direction of Miss Wilhelmina Menken, secretary to the registrar.

Deadline for 'Lab.' Fees November 12

"Laboratory and library fees must be paid by November 12, or students will not be allowed to attend classes until the same are paid," stated Wilma Lowley, financial secretary.

This is the last and final warning and we caution the students that absolutely no leniency will be shown to anyone in this matter until $1.00 a unit is paid for laboratory fees and $3.00 for library fees.

"We hope the students will be cooperative in this matter and save the school as well as themselves any embarrassment."

Digest Offers Cash for Prize Student Photos

All students owning a camera of any description will be interested to know that the Collegiate Digest has set up a new photo payment policy, in that the usual rate of $3.00 given by the regular news photo agency for all photos accepted for publication will be paid by the Digest upon acceptance of pictures and not on publication as in the past.

"This policy offers an opportunity for amateur photographers to make considerable money during the school year from the sale of pictures to the Collegiate Digest and we are anxious to have students bring their pictures in to the office so that the school will get a little publicity as the Collegiate Digest publication goes to colleges throughout the nation," stated Bill Hoyt, editor in chief of El Gaucho.

Action photos, informal shots of events on the campus and candid camera (Leica) photos are particularly desired at the present time. They must be glossy prints although any size picture will be accepted.

N. Y. A. WORKERS TO RECEIVE PAY

Distribution of NYA checks, which were delayed, started today at the office of Fred Allred, student controller. As soon as possible all students should get their checks since after three days, all checks uncalled for are to be returned to the treasury department.

Dean Lois Bennink asks that all time cards be turned in at the earliest possible date as one late card will detain the entire group. The recent delay was caused by the sending of only three out of five signatures required for the issuance of checks by the National Youth Administration.

Council Will Hear Reading of Amendment

Student Council Will Meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Men's Club Room

MISS W. FRYE WILL TALK

Student 'Co-op' Committee Report Will Be Topic of Discussion

The amendment to the constitution which has been drawn up by a committee chairmanned by "Goldy" Goldsmith will be read to the student council meeting Thursday night in the Men's club room. Others on the committee, which was appointed over a month ago are Don Follet and Denny McArthur. The clauses of the amendment have been effective since it was passed by the council although they have never been put in writing and decided upon.

No basketball representative will be present since the team is to be on a trip. Expectation that this department would ask for a large appropriation was cancelled when it was learned that the date of the council meeting could not be changed to Thursday afternoon.

Another detail that will come before the student group is the report of the student "Co-op" store committee which was appointed by President Basham at a recent council meeting. Much discussion is expected to follow this report and a short talk by Miss Winifred M. Frye on the "Activities of the Co-op Store." This discussion marks the outgrowth of the questions by many students as to the real owner of the store.

Students Meet at Conference

Accompanied by their sponsor, Raymond G. McKelvey, six members of the International Relations club journeyed to Claremont to attend a conference of foreign relations clubs representing many colleges and universities in southwestern United States, held last Friday and Saturday on the campus of Pomona and Scripps colleges. The group also witnessed the Santa Barbara-Occidental football game at Patterson field on Saturday afternoon.

Dr. Cornelius G. S. Villiers, a distinguished lecturer from the University of Stellenbosch, South Africa, who is spending some months in the United States as a visiting Carnegie professor, was the main speaker of the conference.

Gauchos Defeat Oxy 6 to 0 in Close Game

Twenty-Yard Pass From H. Sanderson to F. Voorhies in Second Period Nets Only Score in Entire Fracas

After holding Occidental on the 4 yard line early in the first quarter, Coach "Spud" Harders' galloping Gauchos came back in the second period to beat the Tigers at their own game as Harold Sanderson flipped a 20 yard pass to Frank Voorhies to score the only six points of the game. The contest was played on the Tiger's home grounds in Eagle Rock Saturday afternoon before a small crowd.

'Cooperative' Spirit Sends Band to Oxy

As a result of the "send the band to Oxy" campaign, in the form of selling ten-cent booster tags on the campus, which was sponsored by the rally committee and Fred Allred last Thursday and Friday, Cliff Leedy's Gaucho band attended the Santa Barbara-Oxy football game at Occidental Saturday afternoon, making an excellent showing.

"Song of El Gaucho," State's new fight song was initiated at the game. Copies of the song were passed through the rooting section in order that all students might participate in putting the new number over.

The band also played "Tiger Roar," Occidental's new fight song, which was sung by both Occidental's rooting section, by whom the rendition was enthusiastically received, and by State's band.

A Greyhound bus was chartered for the trip. Thirty-six members of the band went in the bus, which left at nine o'clock and returned immediately after the game. This was the band's first trip of the season.

CLERBOIS GROUP TO GIVE CONCERT

Conducted by Roger Clerbois, the Santa Barbara Concerto Orchestra will present a concert tonight at 8:30 at the Lobero theater. This is the first concert to be given by the orchestra which is composed of student, semi-professional, and professional musicians.

State college students who are members of the orchestra are Bradford Tozier, Catherine Phelps, Betty Nordyke, Bob Gamage, Pearl Smead, and Frances Irwin. Two soloists from the college are Eleanor Mellinger, harpist, who will play solos by Debussy and Zabel, and Bruce Tomlinson who will play "Symphonic Variations for Cello and Orchestra," by L. Boellman.

Oxy took charge of things on the first play of the game when they executed a short-kick on the kick-off and recovered the pigskin on the Gaucho 40 yard line. State held the Southerners for downs and Cosby, Oxy quarterback, kicked out on bounds on the hill-toppers' 12 yard line. Sanderson from behind his own goal line kicked out to mid-field to Cosby who made a beautiful run-back to the Gaucho 30 yard marker. Here Oxy opened up with its famous passing attack and a series of shovel passes netted Oxy two first downs and placed the ball on the 4 yard line; first down and goal to go.

Gauchos Prove Stubborn
In the shadow of their goal posts the Gauchos presented a rugged defense and stopped the highly-touted Tigers' running and passing attack dead in its tracks for four straight downs. State took the ball on downs and Sanderson booted out of danger.

State scored in the second period after Cosby had kicked out of bounds on his own 23 yard line. Taking advantage of the situation Los Gauchos dug in with a strong determination of score or else—Sanderson picked up 3 yards on a spinner on the first play. With a score in sight "Spud" Harder sent Yeager into the game. On the next play Pollock made a yard through the center and then Yeager added two more over his own left tackle.

Sanderson to Voorhies Scores
On the fourth down Sanderson faded back and flipped a 20 yard pass to "Skeeter" Voorhies who was standing in the clear over the goal line thus scoring the only 6 points of the game. A wet spot

E. POND LEAVES TO VISIT GRADS

Miss Elsie M. Pond, head of the junior high department, will leave Wednesday morning to visit all schools between here and San Francisco. The purpose of the trip is to interview graduates of State college who are now teaching in various educational institution along the coastal region.

In the interest of the college and of under-graduates, Miss Pond will question the former graduates concerning the adaptability of their college preparation to their work. Suggestions for making teacher training courses more effective will be asked of both the graduates and of the school superintendents. Curriculum for the next summer session will be adapted to the needs revealed by the questionnaire.

Classes of the department heads will meet as usual with assignments pre-arranged, until her return early next week.

College 'Y' to Stage Banquet at Y.M.C.A.

The College "Y" is giving a banquet at its monthly stag social this evening at 6:30 o'clock in the YMCA building on the corner of Carillo and Chapala streets. The banquet, with Lorne Olson in charge of the entertainment and food, is open to College "Y" members and their guests.

Hallowe'en Imps Relegated to Limbo; Pranks Are Depicted as Aids in World Intrigue

The wicked imps of Hallowe'en have been relegated to limbo for another year. (Time out, while we crack the Webster's) Yes, that's what they relegate such things to. It's all over now except for window-washing and the public and private expenditures for repairing the damage. A careful check on Friday morning revealed that the imps had left the campus and the buildings intact, but the rest of the city was less fortunate; street lights were broken, palm trees were burned, and a profusion of undesirable vegetables littered the streets. Dr. Ellison recounts with pride that he shared the misfortune of the city by intercepting a tomato on his way home from a party. No, it was on his coat.

Anyhow, we still wonder why anyone should heave a tomato at the prof. barring the possibility that some member of his "econ." class was the jaculator. (Lay off the word ed. Let 'em look it up, like we did.) Why for that matter, should anyone cut the rope on a fifty dollar street light and let it crash to the pavement? Or why steal a truckload of fruit and splash the town red?

We don't know the answers (we're hardly smart enough to get by in "econ") but we might help you out a little by carrying the idea a step further. That boy throwing stones becomes a soldier propelling chunks of lead. That one dropping the street light is a pilot, dropping a bomb on a million-dollar railway terminal. This one making tomato juice in the gutter is a statesman, restoring the balance of our economic machinery. That one running away from the fire-alarm box is an oil producer, watching the country's resources go to waste. That's what the children remind us of.

It is cheering to know that children, at least, can celebrate in some other way. We know of three junior high boys who went out unarmed the other night and had a swell time asking householders for soap to mark up their windows. We're sure that most boys would get more fun out of something like that than they would out of dynamiting the courthouse or killing a policeman. The only problem is to get the idea into their heads and of course parents and teachers can do that. Well, that's all settled and if you promise never to mention the Hallowe'en we got put in jail we'll figure out some more of the world's problems for you sometime.

Rooting Attitude Criticised

A great deal of criticism has fallen on students of Santa Barbara State college in their capacity as rooters for their attitude in the stands during the two most recent games. While it is not the purpose of this editorial to present a defense for such a display of, let us not say bad, but still not good, sentiment, it wishes to present the contestable point that there are undoubtedly two sides to the situation.

The rooters in the bleachers of a football game or any other athletic contest reflect very markedly the sentiment displayed on the field of play. On the gridiron if the game is exciting, the crowds cheer and show their enthusiasm by figuratively yelling their heads off; but if the game is dull, then the spectators are uninterested in accordance and remain in their seats doing a variety of things from suffering the chilling evening wind or the heat of the afternoon sun as the case may be, to making plans of what to do following the game.

If the decisions are close and they rule against the home team, the stands must show their disapproval to the apparent injustice in some manner, and booing is that safety valve. Practically all of the unfavorable cheering has been due to and can be traced to an unjust decision by an official or the ungentlemanly conduct on the part of the players. Who is to disagree that the spectators have no right to express their sentiment on a controversial point on the playing field? The football captain questions when he wishes but no means are allowed for others so, naturally adverse cheering is the result.

Perhaps if a distinction in the types of booing were discussed, it would clarify the point. The more disagreeable one of two is undoubtedly the harassing, heckling boo which includes an occasional unspellable cheer. This "Bronx" type is heard only in the more radically inclined groups and hardly ever can be attributed to people of more than average intelligence in which we, as college students, are classed.

The second type is the result of a questionable situation. It is heard at many sporting events where the officials have earned the disfavor of the observing crowds. This is true in sporting circles wherever it is that the unlucky situation arises where it falls to some one individual to make decisions that effect the destiny of a team or a participant. It is also true that often some of the teams or players do not come up to the standards expected of them, again in this case a boo is just another expression of disfavor.

In high co-relation, the antics of the rooters at the recent frosh game contained that undesirable note which too often degenerated into the same aforesaid adverse cheering. The goal post incident on the Peabody field was very regrettable for the whole affair was rather prepish and without point. Had someone earned the honor to the right to tear them down, it might have been understood.

Although booing in itself is disagreeable and something that should not be indulged in, it still may be looked upon from more than one slant. Therefore in answer to much of the criticism, we suggest, look to your reasons and find the cause, and we believe that, though loud, Santa Barbara State college students ask only fair play and good officiating.

BAND CONDUCTOR IS INTERVIEWED

The personification of rhythm on the stage, good taste and quiet intelligence off stage—that is Cab Calloway, ace orchestra leader and "hi-de-ho-er."

During the stage show early this week at a local theater, Calloway, negro impressario, impressed his audience as a most high-strung, personable man, vibrantly sensitive to the most intricate musical tones and rhythms. His vitality in the unremitting gyrations about the stage was a marvel.

Born and raised in Harlem, the band master is not only an accomplished musician but uses perfect English with a distinguished voice. His orchestra, which is composed of all-colored dance and music artists, is one of the best in the country. He left the east for the first time to appear in the movie "Big Broadcast." Now he is in the west again to appear in a movie for the Columbia Studios with Harry Richman.

On the stage or off, his generosity and complete lack of conceit were evident. He readily yielded the stage to his artists, and put on some delightful "horse-play" between acts. It is this spirit of good-fellowship toward his colleagues that enables the group to work so well. Laughing and joking with the rest of the troupe, and praising the solo members, seem to be his chief pastime when not leading his famous Cotton Club band in their incomparable rhythms. —V.H.

STUDENT'S BLOWOFF

Dear Student's Blowoff:
 Glad to see the column STEAM, allowing blowoff before explosion. Wud like to write a nice letter like that of BUD L., but there are things gripping me, so here goes:

Why can't we have a N.Y.A. student in the men's locker room all P.M. to pass out towels? As it is now, we must dry ourselves on our shirttails or unmentionables if we don't happen around while some class is showering.

Just who owns the Santa Barbara Loan Fund—the student body or the First Nat'l Bank? It now seems that a certain Gent-ry down there considers this fund his own and if this Gent doesn't like the shape of your nose or the slant of your toupee you may as well not apply for a loan.

On the sunny side—El Gaucho is steadily improving. Steam is a much-needed column. The homecoming parade was grand, but it lacked a band.

The date bureau and the noon dance indicate right moves at S. B. State.

Steamingly yours, T. FRICK.

RAY NOBLE

It seems that this young English orchestra leader and composer of such hits as: "Goodnight Sweetheart" and "The Very Thought of You," is destined to remain on top of the heap of famous dance music interpreters. Since his arrival in this country his rise to fame has been phenomenal. After organizing an orchestra here, composed of American musicians, his music was presented to the radio audience by N.B.C. Now, beginning this week, we find his new series being released every Wednesday evening at 8:30 through C.B.S. Ray Noble will offer songs by his featured soloist, Al Bowley and have as guest singer, Connie Boswell. Listen to "Refreshment Time," as it is now called.

THE TOWN CRIER

One of the outstanding radio personalities at the present time is Alexander Wolcott. "The Town Crier" presents his program of narration mixed with music of excellent quality, from 4 to 4:30 p.m. every Sunday through C.B.S. His voice dominates the broadcast.

RAYMOND PAIGE AND K.C.B.

Those of you who like something different in the way of programs occasionally, try dialing C.B.S. at 9 p.m. on Wednesdays. You'll find Kenneth C. Beaton's narration appealing to the sentimentalist and Raymond Paige's music fitting. Beaton is professionally known as K.C.B.

 "Lemme see it. M M—that's a lousy looking job. Maybe two swats will improve your art. Straighten your bowtie—we can't have our pledges looking like a sloppy bunch of tramps."

"Yes, sir—I mean no, sir."
 "What are you doing now?"
 "Nothing, sir."
 "O.K. Go up to that blue Ford and shine it up. The stuff's under the front seat. And do a good job, see!"

"Yes, sir."
 "Scram. Pledge, were you trying to sneak past me?"
 "I didn't see you, sir."
 "Say the alphabet—come on, quick."

"Alpha—beta—"
 "That's enough. Now say it backwards."
 "I—I haven't learned it that way, sir."

"Oh, you haven't? What do you think we told you to learn it for? Learn it by next meeting or there'll be some broken paddles."
 "Yes, sir."

By BARNEY JAMESON

By the high class game shown by the Frosh and the High school Friday afternoon it appears that this contest should turn in to one of the best annual games in the city. Although Coach Cummings' offense failed to click, except in spots, the Frosh presented a strong defense which held the preps well in hand. The townspeople did not turn out in as large numbers as expected, but on the basis of the high class play shown by both teams the stadium should be full next year.

Harold Sanderson was clearly the shining light of an all-star game. His kicking brought the Gauchos out of dangerous positions time after time, and his defensive play was above reproach. "Sandy" should be in line for a berth on the All-Conference team if his work in the next two games continues to be good.

The loyal rooters who have followed the team to every out of town game, and backed them up in grand style at home deserve mention. For the first time in a number of years the student body has actually been behind the team and given them the support that they justly deserve. It means a lot to the team to know that wherever they are they have friends in the stands to back them up. The people from Santa Barbara should be included on this score too. Their support has been great—Thanks!

More of Nuthin': John Twad-del set Oxy back for a big loss the first play he was in the game Saturday—"Turkey" Clemons did a fine job in filling the shoes of Howard Yeager—The Gaicho band is the best college band in Southern California, next to U.S. C.—State should place three men on the mythical All-Conference team this year—Whittier plays two games next week—Ours is the second one—in front of the goal posts forced Sanderson to kick for the extra point from an angle and the kick was wide of the posts.

State Subdues Occidental in Southern Tilt

Sanderson, Morelli Stand Out for Gauchos in Backfield; Voorhies Scores

Oxy received the kick-off and filled the air with its famous passes during the rest of the half. Oxy took the ball on the Gaicho 27 yard line after a pass receiver had been interfered with and moved to the 20 but here State's defense tightened and stopped the southerners' scoring threat as the Gauchos took the ball on downs. This was the last serious scoring threat that the Tigers made.

State Threatens Again

State made the only serious scoring threat during the second half when Jack David recovered an Oxy attempted lateral on the Tigers 45 yard line. Here the Gauchos began to move as Sanderson drove through to the Oxy 33 and Pollock sneaked through the center of the line for a first down on the Oxy 15 yard stripe. With Sanderson carrying the pigskin on three straight attempts the ball was advanced to the 7 yard line. Here the Bengal forward wall tightened and stopped Pollock to take the ball on downs ending the last scoring attempt of the game.

Every man on the Gaicho squad who saw action during the game played his best ball of the season. The kicking and strong defensive play of Harold Sanderson, State fullback, made him the outstanding back on either team. Doug Oldershaw, hard-hitting State tackle, lead the Gaicho line and broke up many plays behind the line of scrimmage. Voorhies and Mullock, State ends, played their usual heads up game.

Sid Gardner was another shining light in the forward wall and along with Miller and Poole held down line positions in great style. Clemons, who had the task of filling Yeager's shoes, Morelli, and Pollock were all outstanding in every department of the game.

First Hockey Game Staged Yesterday

Playing the first after-school hockey game yesterday afternoon, the freshmen and seniors competed with the sophomores. This afternoon the sophomores and juniors will play, and tomorrow the juniors will compete with the freshmen and seniors.

Team captains are Helen Harper, freshmen and senior; Mary Tone, sophomore, and Clara Ross, junior. A hockey spread will follow the last game tomorrow night. Girls are asked to sign up in the gym for their contribution in the way of food.

GAUCHITA SPORT GAB

By ARMAE BREWSTER

This week marks the end of the hockey season for the year. Monday afternoon, during tenth hour, Captain Mary Tone of the sophomore team and Helen Harper, frosh-senior captain, staged a thrilling battle on the field below the gymnasium.

A tenseness spread over all as the referee placed the whistle to her lips; a pause—then an ear-splitting scream rent the air—the teams went wild—and seethed toward each other. Get that ball! Stop it! Over here!—Hey, she touched the ball!—Whirrrr (the whistle)—Do not let her get it—block that punt!—again that fatal whirrr and the game is ended. To the showers, gals, and home for supper—great game, Mary—nice going, Helen—you're surely good sports.

This afternoon, the sophomores will clash with the juniors. It promises to be one grand game, kids—Let's turn out for it—and root for our team!

Portraying different phases of sports, women athletes from the State college entertained at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon held in El Paseo, Monday noon.

The two girls from State who participated in the pageant were Dorothy Allen, who gave a demonstration of archery, and Lucille Garman, representing the riding class.

ROBERTSON GIVES CUP FOR TRACK

A decathlon cup has been given to the college by Mr. Alfred W. Robertson, chairman of the State College committee in the State Assembly and Santa Barbara State Assemblyman.

The purpose of the cup is to stimulate interest in track and field events, and will be given to the boy who makes the largest number of points in ten out of sixteen possible events. Thirty men are competing in the contest.

Scores are based on the school records: If a man equals the records he is given 1,000 points, and if he rates higher or lower, the number of points varies accordingly.

Six events have been staged to date, with ten yet to follow. Virgil Hooper is in the lead; however, there are 30 men competing and due to the wide range of choice, the winner will not be known until after the last event.

Mr. Robertson, who is interested in the college from a personal standpoint as well as from a legislative, hopes that the awarding of this cup will make track one of the outstanding sports in our school.

Other women taking part in the stunt were from the City Recreation department.

After the game between the juniors and the frosh-seniors tomorrow at 4:00 o'clock, the rival squads will recuperate at a pot-luck supper in the gym. All participants in the tournament have been invited to attend the supper. Committees have been appointed to take charge of the refreshments, and if you gals don't get enough to eat you'll know who to blame!

Renata Maccañti, who was last year's table tennis champion, is still serving a mean one to all who challenge her. We wouldn't be at all surprised to find her in the lime-light again this year, but there are still some discouragingly high hurdles to jump before Renata can slice off her share of victory, namely, Violet Barnett and Clara Ross. Co-eds in the lead for doubles are Clara Ross and Harriett Cooper. The Barnett-Stray vs. Harper-Rogers match hasn't come off as yet but we'll let you know just as soon as we get the results.

Rival Elevens Battle on Even Terms Throughout Game; Dons Outgained

Battling on even terms throughout the four periods of their initial game, the Santa Barbara High Dons and State College frosh ended hostilities for this season just as they started, 0 to 0. Defensive play predominated as both forward walls held the opposing backs in check.

At the outset of the battle, it became evident that either team's opportunity to score would come as the result of a break. Both squads were fired up and tackles were hard and sure.

First Downs Few

The Schuttemen outgained the Gauchitos on the ground, but the frosh offset this by rolling up considerable yardage in the air. Many times during the spirited fray, the ball-carrier found himself down behind the line of scrimmage. Only six first downs were made during the game, four by the Cummingsmen and two by the Vaqueros.

Co-captain Korngiebel and Cassidy turned in fine performances for the Dons, with co-captain Rosie and Garcia taking the honors in the backfield. Garcia's great defensive game aided the Schuttemen no little in stopping the Gauchito running attack.

Riparetti Stars

The three former local high school stars, acting captain Romero, Riparetti, and Campbell were outstanding in the line for the Cummings' squad. Gilkerson played his usual bang-up game at tackle. "Powerhouse" Gardenhire starred in the backfield for the frosh with an exceptional punting and passing exhibition. "Rip" Riparetti was particularly outstanding on the line. Charging and fighting his way into the Don backfield, "Rip" spilled the Vaqueros for several losses.

The frosh-high school tilt will probably become an annual affair, and if the opener is any indication, the series should be an interesting one.

TENNIS MATCHES IN FINAL ROUND OF TOURNAMENT

With the majority of matches played intramural tennis is now entering the quarter-final plays.

Quarter-final matches now scheduled are: J. Bortolazzo vs. winner of Ogle-McNeill; B. Ballin vs. O. Fenzi, and W. Harris vs. winner of M. Miller-D. Underwood match.

Result of third round play is as follows: J. Bortolazzo defeated O. O'Neill, 6-0, 6-2; B. Ballin defeated Thomas, 6-3, 6-2; J. McSkimming defeated H. Holoubek, 6-1, 6-1; and B. Kindred defeated L. Scofield, 6-3, 6-0.

Second round matches yet to be played are Dorn vs. B. Tozier and M. Miller vs. D. Underwood.

School Avoids Ineligibility

Students Required to Follow Activity Regulations

"Students must be proven eligible before they can take part in any activity connected with the college. Sports, plays, delegations, etc., can not be participated in by students found unacceptable by the eligibility committee. The regulations were constructed by the committee in order to have a way of determining who should represent the college on occasions when the college is represented before the public," stated Dr. C. L. Jacobs, chairman of the faculty eligibility committee.

The eligibility procedure, as approved by President Clarence L. Phelps last year, is still in effect. Eligibility for any activities in which students represent the college before the public shall be passed upon by the committee. Determination of eligibility is made before assignments to an activity are announced. Proposals for eligibility shall be made by the faculty sponsor, teacher, or coach connected with the activity. The list of proposed candidates must be presented at least two weeks prior to the time the public appearance will be made.

A student once declared eligible shall continue so for that specific activity and for that particular oc-

Fraternity Sends Representatives to Fresno Campus

At the meeting of the Alpha Phi Gamma, journalism fraternity, tomorrow night, a delegate will be elected to accompany Paul Woods, president, to the Western Section meeting of the Alpha Phi Gamma and Beta Phi Gamma fraternities at Fresno State college from November 8-10. The meeting of the local chapter will be held at Della Haverland's house in Goleta.

At this time pledge papers will be read and reports are to be made on plans for the annual conference of the All-Southern California Collegiate Press Association which is scheduled to take place here on either November 6 or 13.

The following pledges to this fraternity are to be initiated at the meeting two weeks from tomorrow: Bill Hoyt, Bob Moore, Don Follet, Bob Krause, Allan Neil, Lawrence Leslie, Mary Francis McKinney and Mary Hughes.

casation or season unless the committee later declares him ineligible and so informs the sponsor. Ineligibility in such cases shall be declared not less than two weeks prior to the time of the performance. Any deviation from this procedure must first be approved by the president of the college.

State Erects Campus Lights

With the installation of high-powered floodlights about the campus, the problem of dangerous night campus traffic has been settled, according to President C. L. Phelps. Before this improvement was made, townspeople complained that it was difficult to find their way about the college grounds.

Traffic at night was dangerous because of unlighted turns in the road around the college buildings, and there were instances where gas was stolen from parked cars. For these reasons President Clarence L. Phelps saw fit to have floodlights erected at all vital spots on the campus.

Juniors Continue State Noon Dances

Dancing, as a diversion from college routine, in the Music hall every Wednesday and Friday during the entire noon period, is sponsored by the junior class.

More students are invited to take advantage of the opportunity offered them—free of charge.

Everyone has the opportunity to dance, because all the dances are "tags." The invitation is extended especially to those students who have not yet participated, according to Chuck Liester, junior class president, for the junior class hopes to maintain the noon dances

Sororities Join in Entertaining New State Women

New girls were greeted by representatives and presidents of the campus social sororities at the Pan-Hellenic tea, Sunday afternoon, from four to six o'clock, in the college cafeteria.

As the women entered, they were presented with a name card, which enabled the new students to become acquainted with older members of the student-body. Dean Lois Benink, with the sorority presidents, formed the reception line and formally greeted the guests.

During the course of the affair, a program was presented by the various sororities. Anita Cochran represented the Tau Gamma Sigma by rendering a piano selection. Others who played the piano were; Bessie Sears, Delta Sigma Epsilon; Kay Gross, Phi Kappa Gamma and Lola Cooper, Areta.

Leister and Boeseke Receive Best-Costume Prizes

Gayety, frivolity and refreshments (excuse me for thinking of something to eat) were enjoyed by all who attended the elementary and industrial education party held last Friday night in the music hall.

The very latest in odd fashions (and people) paraded and Miss Lita Boeseke dressed in a striking (well it struck me) combination of silver evening slippers, brown riding breeches and a black velvet evening wrap took a bow for first prize for the ladies. Mr. Chuck Leister (he didn't look so Misterish) in a "most fascinating and bewitching attire" (with pink wings on his back) captured all honors from the male members present.

Events of the evening began with a "Blow and Win" peanut race. Out of the melee "Fuzzy" Phelps arrived to claim congratulations as the best "Blower" (Heh-Heh).

Other games were played, led by the perennial master of ceremonies "Goldy" Goldsmith.

*Mild and yet they Satisfy
—how do you do that?*

Well, to start with, we take tobacco from our own Southland — mild ripe tobacco with lots of natural flavor but no harshness or bitterness.

THEN AS A SECOND STEP—

We blend this home-grown tobacco with spicy, aromatic Turkish tobaccos from across the seas. These Turkish tobaccos, you may know, have a flavor and fragrance entirely different from our own.

AS A THIRD STEP—

These tobaccos are cross-blended—welded together—the best way we've found to get a more pleasing flavor and a better taste in a cigarette.

THAT'S WHY CHESTERFIELDS ARE MILD AND YET THEY SATISFY

In a single day people from ten different states visited our Chesterfield factories. 8,200 visitors during the past year saw Chesterfields made.
