Miss Schon Writes and Directs 'Once on a Broad Highway'

"Once on a Broad Highway," a pageant written by Miss Elizabeth Schon, will be presented as the annual May Day program next Tuesday, May 4, in the college quad. The entire student body is invited to attend.

The crowning of the May Queen will open the pageant. The five highest women remaining in the contest are Millicent Lincoln, Jean McArthur, Betty Palmaymesa, Elinor Stewart and Evelyn Warner, who will head the cast of characters as the court of honor.

Original Story

The story is based on the day's experiences of an adventurer, played by Olive De Motte, who, finding himself penniless and hungry, disguises himself as a blind beggar and begs from passers-by on the Broad Highway. First come the peasants, then the water girls, the merchant group, the robbers and the lovers. He is successful and continues on his way. May pole dances and revels complete the program.

Members of the cast include Veree Church, Jane Goslin, Kay MacLeish, Rosalind Rawicz, Miriam Turton, Mary Tucker, Vivian Patterson, Alice Boeseke, Lyndell Brundige, Jean McSkimming, Janice Westwick, court members; Theda Call, Jesse Lady, Rena Sacconaghi, Violet Barnett, Clare Call, Geraldine Croshong, Jane White, Sharielen Horner, Eleanor Larkin, Hanna Pelch, water girls; Ethel Clennennen, Harriet Wilson, Irene Benedict, Ruth Patchett, Alice Graham, Lucille Ormonde and

I. E. Dept. Heads Issue Annual Bulletin

Bulletins of the industrial education department have been recently issued by the state college print shop. The book, an annual production, is written by executives of the department.

The book contains 16 pages and is bound with a colored cover. The covers are seal and corn colors with red and blue inks on the seal and brown and green on the corn.

Content of the book includes a greeting from President C. L. Phelps, and statements by William Rust, E. E. Ericson, Louie Taylor, Florence W. Lyans, Fred L. Griffin, S. O. Werner. Also there is a list of placements made last year and notes of the various departmental divisions.

Earlier in the year the print shop turned out the student handbooks and elementary bulletins. Bulletins for the summer session are still being finished.

FARLEYING

The great foreseer, "Sunny Jim" Farley hasn't been hitting on all of his cylinders lately. Famous because of his election forecast, Farley predicted an easy passage of his chief's court bill through the senate judiciary committee. However, the news has leaked out that many of the rookie Democratic senators are not lining up the way the machine would have them do. Among the dissenters is Senator Burke of Nebraska, and reports are that he is confident of his

Talent Scout Sees Play Here

Theda Call, Bill Hoyt Take
Lead Roles in 'The Late
Christopher Bean'

SET FOR MAY 6

Rehearsals See Development of Local Talent in Comic Drama

Solly Baiano, of the casting office of Warner Brothers Pictures, incorporated at Burbank, will be present at the Players club production, "The Late Christopher Bean," next Thursday night, May 6, to scout talent, according to a letter received by Mrs. Marie June Davis, director.

Theda Call as Abby, the maid, and Bill Hoyt, as Dr. Haggett, will take the leads in the Sidney Howard play.

A short synopsis of the drama discloses the basis of the plot to be a few dirty canvases left by a painter, one Christopher Bean, to a country doctor in a New England village, in payment for his efforts to heal Doctor Haggett and his family register surprise as several old friends of Bean continue to drop in and pay his bill, expressing intense interest in the paintings. A bigger surprise is the arrival of a great New York art critic, as he pays his respects to the memory of the departed artist.

The true value of the paintings are discovered, and the mad scramble that ensues brings the play to a full-of-action climax, with Abby an example of lovable simplicity, who continues to regard Chris Bean as an unmercenary memory of distant happiness.

With many prominent campus students in the supporting cast, Mrs. Marie June Davis is directing the production.

ESTUDIANTINA PLANS MOVE FORWARD

Announcement of a freshman-sophomore tug of war, one hundred yard swimming races for both men and women, swimming relays for fraternity and sorority entries, and novelty beach relays for individuals and group teams, came from planners of the annual Estudiantina beach playday, following a meeting Monday afternoon.

Noble's Boys Give Gym Jinx

Tumbling Class Climaxes
Weeks of Practice for Program

MANY NOVELTIES

Trapeze Artists, Piano
Selections, Singing
Are Presented

Climaxing several week of strenuous practice and diligent work, members of the gym class, under the supervision of Dr. Elmer Noble, science professor, will present their first Gym Jinx in the college auditorium at 8:15 p. m. tonight.

The program presented will include all types of novelty acts, singing, tumbling and several sensational wire and ladder acts. A number of the stars of the Road-runner Revue will also add their talents to the program.

Piano Selections

Among the numbers will be piano selections by Jimmy Stanley; singing by Norman Thompson; and mat tumbling by Edna Arnold. Other feminine headliners include Betty Ewart, and Marion, "the mystery woman."

Several well-known tumblers will perform on the mats and rings, and include Jimmy Monson, Douglas Oldershaw, Dr. Noble, and Norman Thompson. The program will be given in two acts with an intermission and finale.

Novelty Acts

Novelty acts, such as Carlos Lozano as "Rolanda, the Dancing Divinity" and balancing and flying trapeze acts will hold the audience in suspense. For comedy, there will be a bar-bell, weight lifting exhibition and some groan-and-grunt wrestling. Pyramids, triple, double, and single stunts on the mats and apparatus will complete tonight's entertainment.

For the small price of 15 cents, all this exhibition will be given to the public, and a large attendance is expected.

Sig Alphas Stage Fashion Show and Tea

A benefit bridge-tea and fashion show will be given by alumni and active members of Sigma Alpha Kappa, social fraternity, this afternoon at 2:30 at the home of Harry Nethery, 1620 Grand avenue.

Six social sororities have chosen representatives for the fashion show which will be judged by Miss Florence Clark, home economics teacher; Mrs. Sexton, buyer for a down-town shop; and Mr. John Porter, printing instructor. They will judge the girls on the style and appropriateness of the garments worn. The winner of the event will reign as queen of the annual Sig Alpha spring formal which will be held this year on May 15, at the Montecito Country club.

Sororities Participate

Those selected to represent the participating sororities are: Alice Lamb and Mary Alice Halferty, Alpha Theta Chi; Virginia Rogers and Norma Bassi, Delta Sigma Epsilon; Joan Drennen and Elinor Stewart, Delta Zeta Delta; Lillian Shanahan and Helen Andrews, Gamma Delta Chi; Scharleen Hornor and Doris DeAy, Phi Kappa Gamma; and Lyndell Brundige and Jean McArthur, Tau Gamma Sigma.

The afternoon's activities will be enlivened by the music of Fred Lambourne's Collegians. There will be prizes for high scores in bridge and "500," as well as several door prizes for lucky ticket holders. Refreshments will be served at the close of the festivities.

Price for the tickets is 35 cents. It is expected to be one of the most successful functions of its kind for the season as close to the limit of 100 tickets have already been sold.

BEARDED BOYS BROWSE BY BRISTLES

Staters Develop Hairy Jowls for Hobo Brawl

Eleven days the beards have grown
And I watch, hopeful, night and day
For a sign of whiskers of my own.
Will hirsute glory come my way?
But not a bristle do I see,
So quoting Shakespeare's "Woe is me!"
I'll write an editorial
About conditions tonsorial,
And say that on earth there is nothing more weird
Or insane than deliberately growing a beard.
In derogation I also will write
The following poem, which I shall cite:

"Harking back to the ancient days
Ohen dinosauri trod the ways,
When men were few
And never knew
For sure that life
Was safe (or wife)
Back to the age when men were very Much like brutes and quite as hairy."
But with modern males in smug pursuit
Of decorations hirsute
And most of the men in our own
State college Embraced by an outgrowth of

whiskery foliage,
Just what good will come from thus speaking in spite?
To do so is really moronic.
So I shall sneak off in the dark of the night
And commune with a beard growing tonic.

(Editor's note: This poem was deleted from the Long Beach
Junior College Viking, and revised to suit our needs. It seems to fit the beard-growing men on our campus, brought on by the annual Hobo Brawl.)

The Whiskerino

The annual whisker contest at present causing much comment among students and faculty, has really developed into a campus-wide activity, with at least 50 percent of the male students taking active part.

It is really a pleasure and satisfaction to see the whole-hearted support which has been given the Men's club, and the Whiskerino committee, composed of Dave Pollock, Ed Cole and Danny D'Alfonso, in the annual battle to see who is the hairiest man on the campus. This year the fraternities have aided the situation in persuading their pledges to join in the fun, and the whole campus is awaiting the net result.

The "Hobo Brawl," is an annual function of the Men's club, which is anticipated with satisfaction by every red-blooded man on the campus. It is the one "stag" affair which is sponsored by the men, expressly for their own pleasure.

That minority, denoted as the "mice" of the campus, can well be ashamed of their attitude. Such excuses only as a job, requiring a clean-shaven face, or a mother's boy, or Casanova, were accepted in the plea for a tag eliminating these persons from the contest.

A vote of congratulations is due those persons in charge who have combined their talents to make the whisker-growing contest a success.—I.M.

Fitting, and a Duty

As the election dust settles, and campaign bulletins go the way of all history-making literature, the campus is looking toward a month filled with activity. The May Day pageant, Estudiantina and the Players club spring presentation are all on the coming calendar.

As "The Late Christopher Bean," selection of the dramatists for May 6 production, is scheduled to take place next Thursday evening, it is deserving of our attention.

In the life of every college, dramatics play an important part, and should receive the undivided support of the student body. Students in the cast devote time and energy to producing a worthwhile evening's entertainment.

In "The Late Christopher Bean," we shall be given the opportunity to see a familiar, and well-advertised drama. We shall be given the chance to witness and compare the talent of our own college students with that of players in other institutions.

It is not only fitting that we attend in a body "The Late Christopher Bean," but a duty.

Student Council Votes on New Amendment

After meetings of the special constitutional amendment committee composed of Don Follett, Ed Cole, Johnny Twaddell and Ann Seymour, concerning athletic awards, the student council last night unanimously passed the recommendations of the group. The amendment, which concerns Article 7, sections 4 and 5 of the by-laws, will be printed in El Gaucho next week, and posted on the bulletin board for a period of one week before a secret ballot is taken in student body meeting, May 25.

The council passed a recommendation that Danny D'Alfonso, president-elect, be authorized to ask the Student Body for a loan of 25 dollars against next year's traveling expenses, in order to attend a meeting of the student body presidents of the western states, which will be held at Fresno State, May 16, 17, and 18.

Coach "Spud" Harder gave a report on the baseball schedule and was given permission to allow his budget to run into a deficit of one hundred dollars if necessary in order to finish the season.

President Denny McArthur announced that applications for the four standing committee heads, social, rally, welfare, and finance should be handed in by next week either to him or the present committee head. This also applies to the offices of editor of La Cumbre, handbook, and El Gaucho.

Gamma Sigs Meet Anacapa Club

The league leadership will be at stake Monday night when teams representing Gamma Sigma Pi fraternity and the Anacapa Club tangle in an intramural basketball game in the Community Center gym at eight o'clock.

At present both teams are tied for first place with three wins and no defeats, and are followed by the Sigma Alpha Kappa, Sophomores, Tau Omega, and Beta Sigma Chi. Intramural games, under the direction of Willie Wilton, have been played over a period of three weeks. No varsity letterman in basketball is eligible for competition.

Elementary Members Meet Tuesday

The Elementary department will hold its final meeting of the college year, Tuesday, second hour, in Pine hall, Room 30, for the purpose of electing officers.

A program has been planned, and all members are urged to attend, according to Yale Lorden, president.

NEWMANS HAVE PICNIC

The Newman Club of the Santa Barbara State College held a barbecue at the cabin of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Tone, at Paradise Camp, Sunday, April 25. The morning and afternoon were devoted to games and swimming.

ARTISTS DISPLAY WORK

The State College Art department will display work beginning Saturday at the Faulkner Art gallery. The student work will consist of designs, pencil sketching, water color, oil portraits and landscape and craftwork.

The 63-year-old freshman, Jules Lebegue, who enrolled at the University of Illinois in February, has left school to help his son on the farm. "Getting rid of the rust and putting on a little polish" is still his policy, for he is studying by correspondence.

30 More Days

That deep roaring sound hovering above the campus is not a Kansas cyclone that has drifted far from its usual haunts. No indeed, it is the sighs of relief from candidates and campaign managers that this hectic election is over. Now everyone can settle down to the last driving six weeks of the 1937 spring semester. Term papers and final exams will get all the attention they deserve and the smiling faces of happy students will be seen in deep undergraduate research. Or am I being too, too Pollyanna-ish?

Ghost of the Campus

A classified ad that appeared recently in El Gaucho brings to your columnist's mind (I said mind Gnat) the very lucrative business of a certain Mr. Smith, who operates in a good many Eastern colleges. This gentleman (?) took in around $8000 last year writing students' term papers, theses, and such like. Mr. Smith will write on any subject for a price and will do all the research necessary for a paper. For advance information this versatile ghost writer specifies that his clients inform him as to their average grades in the course for which the paper is to be written. Then Mr. Smith makes the paper conform to this average. In 'C' cases, for example, he splits an infinitive here and there and misspells a few words.

Despite the necessary secrecy attending such a business, on one or two occasions college authorities have gotten wind of transactions with students in their sacred halls and have attempted to put a stop to this highly refined racket. So far they have been unsuccessful, but the recent threat of a federal district attorney to institute fraud proceedings has Mr. Smith worried. His one ray of sunshine is that if he were prosecuted, think of what would happen to numberless public officials who hire their own private ghost writers.

Driftwood

Emperor Hiro Hito of Japan, in celebrating his thirty-sixth birthday, presented medals to nine distinguished Japanese scientists, artists and authors. A similar event in this country would probably seem the awards presented to box-fighters, hurdlers, halfbacks and parachute-jumpers. Herewith Wind'ard acknowledges the truth of Gnat's statement on Wednesday that he is not both deaf and dumb. I freely admit that he is not deaf.

Radio Ranglings

Here are some keyhole notes . . . this Friday's Hollywood Hotel will have as its guest stars Janet Gaynor and Fredric March in scenes from their picture "A Star is Born". This picture is supposed to follow Miss Gaynor's own rise to fame rather closely through the first half of the film anyway. Also on the program will be Gracie Fields, the English actress and comedienne. Miss Fields has been in Hollywood during the last few weeks being given a work-over by make-up artists. She will leave for the Coronation and then return to start her picture. Shirley Ross is still replacing Frances Langford who is recovering from an appendectomy . . .

Also on Hollywood Hotel, this week is supposed to be Fred MacMurray's last Hollywood Hotel program. He will be replaced by Jerry Cooper . . . tomorrow be sure to listen to the Saturday night Swing Club at 3 p.m. over Columbia, Grace Moore with Vincent Lopez over the same network at 5 p.m. and Your Hit Parade at 6 p.m. Another program worth listening to is that of Arthur Godfrey. It is a called "Professor Quiz" and comes on at 4 p.m. over Columbia . . .

Monday, Lux Radio Theater will have as its stars Claudette Colbert and Joel McCrea in "Hands Across the Table". We can hope that they make this comedy as delightful over the air as Carole Lombard and Fred MacMurray made it on the screen . . . Tuesday night Jack Oakie will have as his guest professor Everett Edward Horton. Mr. Horton is always good for a laugh, especially in Ronald Colman's "Lost Horizon".

Judy Garland who has been singing for the program for some weeks has been given an extension choice because of the favorable mail which he has been getting. More determined than ever, administration leaders plan to push the court bill through the senate, even if the committee registers disapproval. Holding the mighty club of patronage over everyone's head, Roosevelt may yet be able to swing the undemocratic court-packing bill into his lap.

STOCKS CRASH

News is made when one man's word is enough to cause the whole world market to waver and U. S. stocks and bonds to tumble from $1 to $7 per share. After Roosevelt's severe fall in price has occurred velt's warning against speculation, which may be the omen of another collapse. Babson has predicted a boom year for Uncle Sam, but trading, the thermometer of business, will have to pick up if this year is to bring back the ever elusive prosperity.

Santa Barbara Open Sees Champions

Annual Meet Attracts Record Holders to Peabody Stadium Tomorrow; Kelliher Manages Event

By WALDO PHELPS

The outstanding track and field event of the year is scheduled for Peabody Stadium tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock when the first event gets underway in the Seventh Annual Santa Barbara Open. The annual meet attracts one of the most outstanding fields of panty-waisted athletes, in a large gathering, which brings coast-wide attention to Santa Barbara. This year's meet under the guidance of the Gauchos' "Doc" Kelliher, has an entry list which is well over any of part years.

Heading the list of invading athletes are men from San Diego, Occidental, Redlands, Whittier, U.C. L.A., U.S.C. and members of the Olympic club of San Francisco.

Olympic Stars Entered

Members of Uncle Sam's 1936 Olympic team which competed in Berlin last summer who will appear on the local oval are, Louis Zamperini, U.S.C. freshman who will run the mile, Kenneth Carpenter, winner of the discus and world record holder, and Dusky Mack Robinson, Pasadena J.C. dash man, who also competes in the broad jump. He recently won the Drake relays broad jump by going out well over 25 feet.

A renewal of the famous Walter Marty-Corny Johnston high jumping feud will also take place in one of the major high lights of the day. Two of the outstanding stars of the S.F. Olympic club, Norman Bright, one of the nation's outstanding distance men and Elroy Robinson, former Fresno State college 880 man have announced their intention of competing.

Gauchos Will Compete

Coach Ray Denno will send a host of his Gaucho cindersmen into the fray, headed by last year's low hurdle champion Howard Yeager, who will also compete in the 100-yard dash and broad jump. Ray Stalmack, local iron man, who last week set a new school record in the javelin will enter his favorite event along with both hurdle races, with Bill Gray, star State man also in the hurdles. Jim Benton will battle with Marty and Johnston in the high jump, and the rapidly improving half miler Tooley Palmer, who is cutting time off his previous efforts. Wells Gibson and Dud Shean will enter the quarter-mile and Russ Erikson will be the lone Gaucho entrant in the distance events.

Pete Weld is entered in both weight events and Neil Beat should come through with some points in the pole vault. He will be competing against a former Santa Barbara lad, Irving Howe, now of U.S.C.

Kelliher will have his Frosh spikesters out en masse, headed by touseled head Bill MacArthur who will run both dash events and broad jump. Elmo Callis, Gene Putman, Ed Kellogg and Harold Fortress should all make some headway in their favorite and respective events.

Heading the local cause will be Harder's mainstay on the mound, burly "Shires" Erhard, who will attempt yeoman's work both in the batter's box and on the hill. Earl Homan, erratic catcher, and the squad's clown who last week worked on the opposing batters for the mound will again try his luck in

COL-UM-BINE

When the seventh annual Santa Barbara Open Track and Field meet gets underway tomorrow afternoon it will show a host of champions that have conquered their respective events to perfection. Doc Kelliher has done a yeoman's job in bringing such outstanding athletes to this section. Imagine having men like Kenny Carpenter, Olympic discus champ; Louie Zamperinia, 5,000 meter runner; Gordon "Slinger" Dunn, Corny Johnson, Walt Marty and the dusky Mark Robinson all on one team. What an aggregation it would be. World beaters every one of them.

Gauchos Erhard and McNeice, ace chuckers of the local diamond performers, take a preview at the Aztecs of San Diego this afternoon when the Whittier Poets entertain the Border City lads in a fray held at Whittier. Seeing will be believing.

Bill MacArthur, frosh dash man, has proven his versatility by competing in six different track and field events, his times and distances while not sensational will give him plenty of points in the all-conference. Enough I believe to surpass the number of digits "Iron Man" Louie Trigueiro of '39 fame made last year.

SHORT SHOTS IN THE SPORTS WHIRL

It must be the fog, which accounts for the London defeats of Maxie Baer and Kingfish Levinsky by supposedly pushovers.

Fishing will come in for its share of the spotlight this week-end when trout season opens tomorrow. All anglers in the southwest will be out in full regalia, hook, line and sinker. The mad rush is on again in the major leagues, with open season on the umpires, they come in for their share of pop bottles, cushions and language that Webster didn't intend to use for public benefit.

the second game. Dale McNeice and Powell Lee will be available to throw provided they are needed.

Clifton Morris, Powell Lee, Elmo Evans and Jimmie Van Meter round out the infield for the Gauchos and the outfield garden will be taken care of by Busby, Murray and either Lindquist, Young or Smith.

Jim Putman, the Bulldog chucker, will again try his luck against the Hardermen, losing the first game, which found the Gauchos on top 5-1. He will be aided by Nicholson and possibly Jim Blaisdell, provided he is reinstated by game time, which will be one o'clock.

Coach Cunningham will put his regular infield on the diamond with Riley, McKinney, Blaisdell and Pazder.

Harder has been working his charges out plenty hard in an attempt to smooth the rough edges and polish the hitting ability of his lads. Bill Foley, regular right fielder, will not see service in the Redlands series as he is in the hospital with an attack of blood poisoning.

Provided the Gauchos get by the Redlands nine without a defeat they will meet the San Diego Aztecs in Pershing Park Thursday, Friday and Saturday in what will bring out the largest gathering ever to witness a college ball game in the local city. Harder's charges have been working all season with the Aztec games in mind with a chance for revenge for last year's gridiron loss at the hands of the Border City squad.

AZTECS PLAY HERE

The Gaucho Golf team meets the San Diego Aztecs Saturday morning, May 1, on the Montecito club course. Those who will represent the Gauchos are, Phil Turnbull, Al Anderson, Yale Lorden and Dick Saxe. Last year San Diego and Santa Barbara tied for first place in the Southern conference and tomorrow's match will prove to be the hardest. This is the first official game the team has played this year, and they are all in trim for a good season.
