Dean of Men Releases Frats' Grade List

The highest overall grade average in recent years was achieved by active members of social fraternities during the Spring semester of this year.

The combined average of all ten campus fraternities was 1.48 according to figures compiled by the Interfraternity Council and released by the office of Will Hayes, Acting Dean of Men.

For the second consecutive semester, Beta Sigma Tau led the list, making an average of 1.71.

Four other fraternities scored an average of 1.50 or better. They are: Kappa Sigma, 1.56; Delta Tau Delta, 1.53; Sigma Pi, 1.51; and Sigma Tau Gamma, 1.50.

The remaining averages were Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 1.47; Lambda Chi Alpha, 1.45; Tau Epsilon Phi, 1.42; Delta Sigma Phi, 1.41; and Sigma Phi Epsilon, 1.26.

AMS Board Serves Steak at Annual Festivities

A man's meal of steak, beans, salad, French bread and a "beverage" is in store next Sunday for all members of the Associated Men Students. Any men who are not yet members of AMS can buy their cards for one buck at the Steak Fry.

Pete Reid, AMS president, has announced that volleyball practice will start at 11 a. m. with an Open Tournament for Org and Indie teams will begin at noon.

Steak will be "on" at 2 p. m. with members of the AMS Board serving.

RAYMOND SWING TO LECTURE THURSDAY

Raymond Swing, distinguished news analyst and radio personality, will lecture in Santa Barbara on Thursday night, at 8 p. m., in the Santa Barbara Junior High School under the auspices of the United World Federalists and the Woman's Club.

Mr. Swing is a veteran of two decades as a foreign correspondent and is one of radio's most commanding personalities. He is a winner of both the Dupont and Peabody broadcasting awards.

Tickets for the lecture are $1.20.

Job of University Theater Is Defined

An important function of the university theater is to give a "cultural lift" to the entire student body as well as the university.

To do this effectively it must develop its productions to "such a point of excellence and excitement that students cannot resist going to see them."

These were the assertions of Ralph Freud, yesterday, in a lecture at Santa Barbara College of the University of California. Prof. Freud, who is head of the Theater Division of the Department of Theater Arts at U. C. L. A., spoke on "The Responsibilities of the University Theater," part of the All-College Lecture Series.

Prof. Freud pointed out that three different approaches to theater education were used in the University of California, with the Berkeley campus emphasizing literature, Santa Barbara College tying its program in with the Speech Department, and Los Angeles conducting a professional school.

Characteristics Discussed

He then discussed the four characteristics which any professional field must have for recognition and acceptance. In the theater, these are:

It has a continuous record of development—a history.

It has a body of literature, including not only drama but also many works about different aspects of the theater itself.

It has a marked degree of universality, which often enables theater people to overcome barriers of language.

The professional school of theater arts, Prof. Freud said, should aim to contribute to the education of other students besides those specializing in this field. He considered this could be done better through actual productions than through the offering of general courses.

The next lecture in the All-College Series will be given in Pine Hall 100 on Wednesday, December 7, at 4 p. m. by Joseph Sayovitz, assistant professor of industrial arts. He will speak on "The Geiger Counter."

Engineering Exam. Scheduled for Saturday On Riviera Campus

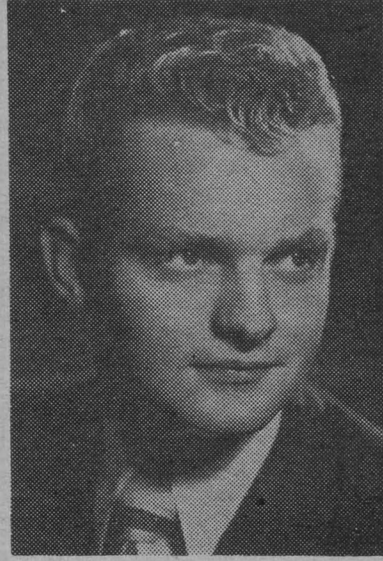

Qualifying examinations for admission to the Engineering Colleges of the University of California at Berkeley and Los Angeles will be held at Santa Barbara College on Saturday, December 10, Dr. Jerry H. Clark, Registrar, announced today.

The examinations, both at the freshman and junior levels, will be held in 101 North Hall on the Riviera campus. They will last all day, with the morning session beginning at 8 a. m.

Dr. Clark explained that anyone may take these exams, whether or not he is a student now attending Santa Barbara College, provided he intends to apply for admission to one of the Colleges of Engineering in the University of California. A $5 fee is payable at the time of taking the tests.

Organize UCSBC Yuletide Preparations Of Welfare, Decorating, Spirit Program

Yuletide preparations will dominate the UCSBC activities for the month of December according to a Christmas activities report issued by Mary Ann Zane and Lucille Hewitt, organizers of the welfare, decorating, and spirit-raising projects to be handled by various organizations on the campus.

Santa and Helpers Ask for Toys, Food

"I'm sure that I may depend on my friends at UCSBC for help," stated Santa Claus in an exclusive interview today.

Santa is in town for a brief visit to appeal to all loyal Gauchos to aid his Christmas Helpers who are staging a drive for toys and food for needy families in town.

"Due to an increased kiddie population this year, I find my sleigh very short of dolls and foot-balls and canned foods for all my Santa Barbara friends," said Santa. "My helpers, the AWS Board, Stray Greeks, Five Footers and IA Club members, will collect all gifts in the Quad until December 15th."

Food and toys will be distributed by the Santa Barbara Council of Christmas Cheer.

With a twinkle in his eye and a jolly laugh, old Santa said again, "I'm sure that I may depend on my friends at UCSBC for help!"

ATTENTION ALL MEN!

On Thursday night, December 15, beginning at 7, the Annual Blue Key All-Men's Smoker will be held in the College Cafe. The event is free to all men, and the evening will be packed with entertainment, audience participation, and fun. Several prizes will be awarded during the course of the festivities. Watch El Gauchito for further information.

TENNYSON READING

Readings from "In Memoriam" by Alfred Tennyson will be presented by Dr. Herbert J. Kramar in the third of a series of great English poems today at 4 p. m. in the AWS room.

Terrific Entertainment Seen In College Musical Production

The most ambitious stage production ever attempted at Santa Barbara College, George Gershwin's "Of Thee I Sing," will open tomorrow evening at the Riviera Campus Auditorium for a four-night run.

Program Outlined for Eliminating Cheating

The Associated Students Judiciary Committee, headed by Jack Norton, announces a ten-point program designed to eliminate cheating on campus.

The ten proposals are in essence as follows:

1. That mid-term and final examinations be placed on file in the library, with the filing of other tests to be left to the option of the professor.
2. That new tests be made each semester.
3. That proctors be made available by the Judicial Committee to be used when the instructor so requests. The committee may also ask an instructor whether they place a proctor in an examination when they feel the need to be sufficient.

Alternate Tests

4. That alternate objective tests be given so that students sitting side by side may not have the same examination.
5. That instructors stay in the room during an examination.
6. That make-up tests be different from the original.
7. That publicly posted grades have some type or key or code associated with it rather than the student's name.
8. That all books and papers brought to an examination be placed under the student's chair.
9. That readers used in the administration of an examination make a conscientious effort to keep cheating at a minimum.
10. That tests sent to the mimeographing room be delivered and received sealed in the same manner applicable to final examinations.

Cooperation Important

"It is only with the cooperation of you, the students, in reporting violations of the proposals that these recommendations can be effectively executed," stated Norton.

These proposals were first drawn up last year by the Judicial Committee and the Faculty Committee on Student Health and Welfare. They were passed by the Legislative Council at that time.

Make-Up and Hair Styling Program Planned for Dec. 8

Interesting new trends in hair styling and make-up will be demonstrated and discussed by several European experts in the field on Thursday evening, December 8, at 7:30 in P. H. 100.

Two students will be selected from the audience for complete demonstration of make-up and hair styling. The hair stylists are M. Henri Condon from the French Riviera, Southern France, and Mr. Stanley of the Court of St. James, London, England. Miss Vera Foster, make-up artist, will make up two girls from the audience, one for daytime and one for formal affairs.

The Home Economics Club is sponsoring this special program for women students. Donna Welch is in charge of the program.

Almost 130 students are involved in this musical comedy staging, including singers, actors, chorus, orchestra, set designers, costumers, stage hands, in addition to several of the theater-arts faculty members who are directing the show. Play Involves Wintergreen's Campaign

This play is a parody on the American political scene and follows John P. Wintergreen's campaign for President through until his triumphant election on the slogan "Put Love in the White House." The Wintergreen campaign committee picked this slogan basing it on their own political truism: "What you need for an issue is something that everybody can get excited about and yet something that does not really make any difference."

It is decided that candidate Wintergreen shall marry the winner of a beauty contest after proposing to her in every state in the Union. Wintergreen, instead, falls in love with the pretty and demure Mary Turner because she makes delicious corn muffins. All this causes international complications.

The comedy is provided by the interweaving adventures of Alexander Throttlebottom, the new Vice-President, seeking recognition.

The show originally opened in the 1931 season in New York City with Victor Moore, William Gaxton and George Murphy among the leads. It was later awarded the Pulitzer Prize, not usually made to a musical comedy.

The following is a summary of the cast with experience:

Diana Devereaux (beauty contest winner)—taken by Dolores Dahl and Barbara York. Miss Dahl is a music major and has made many appearances in Santa Barbara. Miss York, another music major, played several leads in high school.

Mary Turner (Wintergreen's wife)—taken by Shirley Newlin and Claire Maher. Miss Newlin appeared in the college production of the Gondoliers two years ago and sung at the El Paseo during the last Fiesta. Miss Maher is a music major at the college.

Wintergreen (President)—taken by Bob Parr and Dave Swain. Parr is a speech major, a transfer

EDITORIAL

Student council meets every Tuesday night in Ridge Hall 101 at 7:30 p. m. to hear reports from committee and board chairmen and to consider current matters affecting the student body. All members of the student body can attend and should, occasionally, attend these meetings.

Such items as President Sproul's regulations, the name change issue, and controversy over student publications have been discussed in recent weeks. These are questions directly affecting the members of the student body, yet how many members of that group were present to contribute their suggestions to their council, or even to learn what was going on in their government? Very few.

Students, who pay their student body fee every semester, often complain that they have no idea of how such money is used by their elected leaders. Such questions should find their answer in attendance at a student council meeting.

Toom any of us say we have no hand in our student government, yet we pass up the opportunity to find out about its workings and to offer any suggestions which we might have to the persons who can put them into effect.

It is our privilege to attend the council meetings. If we have any complaints or questions it becomes our duty to attend.

Dear Ed:

Gads! What is this business? Should we change the name of the school teams to the Ruptured Reptiles? No! If they are dead set on becoming like Papa Bear, let's dress up a bear like a Gauchos. We have a reputation and let's not lose it!

Laurin Woodruff.

Pandas?

Dear Don and Doris,

The Rally Committee poll interests me a great deal. Along with a very considerable portion of our student body and alumni, as well as Dr. Sproul, I favor changing the name of our student body from Gauchos to something more bear-like.

The last time we voted on this matter, I stuck to Gauchos because I wanted to preserve our individualism in the University system. After having thought it over, I feel such a stand was unnecessary; we have quite a few factors that no other branch of the system could possibly have, such as our location, enrollment, scholastic rating, CC AA membership, traditions, constitution, etc. I might as well say that, aside from administrative considerations, we have very little in common with the other branches of U. C.

I am advised by Davis students that they are contemplating a similar name change and they are being quite practical about it. There are certain benefits to be derived from closer relationship with the Bear and Bruin campuses such as the services of the Cal Bureau of Occupations, Rose Bowl seats, All-Cal treatment, etc.

So, without defending or attacking the name "Gauchos" except to point out that it is out of harmony with bear symbols of the University of California, let's consider an alternate choice.

Panda Bears—now here we have something worth thinking about. The fighter squadron with the highest bag of enemy planes shot down per day during our late war with Japan was called the Panda Bears, under the command of Chennault in China. Most of the pilots were Californians who adopted the symbol because pandas live in that area of China closely resembling California. In addition, pandas are peaceful critters, mind their own business, are full of rollicking fun, but, when disturbed or hurt, they are dynamite to fool with. It is the smartest of the bear family and definitely the most difficult to capture alive.

Much Ado

There is definitely something lacking in Santa Barbara as a college town. There is no dive for students.

There should be a place here, preferably in a cellar, where students could gather to drink vino, eat bread sticks and calami, and intellectualize.

There would be a phonograph and a stack of records running from Bop to Beethoven . . . nothing loud, the sort of thing you could listen to or not, and you'd want to listen.

There would be some fiery-eyed liberals, maybe even communists, who would give speeches and try to persuade the crowd to join the party.

The place would be a little damp and the walls would be whitewashed and covered with charcoal sketches not altogether nice.

The people would discuss existentialism and sex and psychology, and read poetry.

That's the way a college hang-out is in novels.

There's a blind fellow on campus who is doing a wonderful job getting around with his trained dog. However, there are some people, who without realizing it, are liable to cut down the efficiency of that highly trained animal and cause our fellow student some trouble.

People aren't supposed to pamper a seeing-eye dog. He has one master that he is supposed to be completely devoted to. Many people just can't resist petting a well-mannered dog and may be feeding it a bit of candy and talking to it. Eventually, the dog will begin to look for the guy or gal that scratches his ear and slips him sweets. Maybe some day he will see the friend walking across campus and turn to look when he is leading his master down a flight of stairs. It could cause an accident.

The agencies that train seeing-eye dogs ask the public not to pet the animals. Our blind friend is

SAN JOSE has a novel pre-Thanksgiving turkey race called the Turkey Trot. Contestants cover a distance of 3.3 miles. The winner of the race gets a turkey, the runner-up a goose, and the man who comes in last is presented with a can of chicken soup. Interesting sidelight of this year's race was the disqualification of a number of runners for taking a short cut through a house being moved down Seventh Street.

THE BAKERSFIELD College paper recently had a banner headline which read, "Bird Resigns Position at BC."

UCLA's "Great Lover Ball," the junior class prom, is to be quite an affair. Bid holders will Fleming picture, "The Great Lover," the night before the dance. Bob Hope will crown the junior class queen at the dance which will be held on the Paramount lot. A "great lover" contest has grown out of the event. According to the personal opinion of one of the members of the publicity committee the winner of the contest "should be a smooth, shy, and bashful boy, with a Pepsodent smile, cashmere sweater and saddle shoes."

SIX CAL STUDENTS sent the following song in to the "Letters

Right back where we started from,
Where poses and roses are coming our way,
That morning at dawning we will be there to say . . .
That sun-kissed Oski won't be late,
We'll be there to celebrate;

THE CAMPUS CORNER

Claire Maher

Well gals, it's time to take another inventory at the campus corner to keep you posted on the newest arrivals.

Once again a good stock of seamless hose is available. It is so nice not to worry about whether or not your seams are running up the proper side of your leg.

Those pert separate collars are here again. These will make wonderful Christmas gifts.

Another suggestion while we are on the subject of gifts is the new indelible non-smear lipstick "Guitar," which comes in a good variety of colors. And, by the way, it really works.

There are loads of interesting items at Jack Rose that really merit your attention.

Come in and see how easy your Christmas shopping can be.

'Bye now.

DONATIONS

By Don Humphreys
Sports Editor

Feeling that it was now safe to make a showing after having written all those caustic remarks on losing Gaucha football during the past grid season, I sauntered forth from my hideout and dropped in on Coach Roy Engle the other day and actually received a cordial greeting from the amiable pigskin mentor.

Although I had been writing a great deal of the follow-up stories on football, my most able assistant, Bob Brady, had been writing the pre-game stories and was in contact with Roy much more than I; so I found that it had been a couple of months since I had last talked with Mr. Engle.

We Discuss Honor Teams

Roy said that each of his four boys, Criss, Dominguez, Bertell, and Moropoulos, justly deserve the honors bestowed upon them in various all-coast and all-conference squads recently issued. He went on to say, however, that the polling was purely a hythical thing and that there was no real way to decide the best players except by an all-opponent rating.

Engle rated Adran Adams and Criss on an equal par, and said that the latter probably got the nod due to some excellent playing in the Fresno game, in which case the Fresnoans no doubt named him as outstanding. It was in that game, if you remember, that LeRoy was all over the Bulldog passers and probably kept the game from ending in a tie by his superior tactics. Dominguez played good ball all year but Dick Bowdey was equally important in the Gaucha line, according to Engle.

Praises Mike and Russ

I couldn't help feeling that Engle was more impressed with the honorable mention status given to Mike Moropoulos and Russ Bertell, however. "Mike showed great promise and should be one of the best centers in the 2C2A next year, with his good size and his speed," stated Engle.

Russ Bertell should have had even more recognition had he not been forced to miss three games of the nine played. Out with injuries for three weeks, the driving fullback still led the Gauchos in total offense when the final statistics were released this week.

So, when all's said and done, honor teams really don't mean much, and, though it is nice to see your name in print, I think the whole job of compiling these which sports writers fill in a slack period.

The fact still remains, however, that these men must have favorably impressed somebody enough to receive the honors; and that is a hard enough thing to do when you are playing on a team that won but two of nine starts. So, no matter what Engle, Cummings, or Humphreys say, congratulations to you four for getting the laurels and congratulations to the rest of the team for trying just as hard to get them.

MURAL MUSINGS

Playoffs in the intramural volleyball tournament will get under way next week with fifteen games being scheduled. The top three teams in each league will meet in these playoffs.

As of last week Sigma Tau Gamma was on the top of the heap in League "A" with four wins and no losses. The Delta Tau Delta "A" squad and SAE each had a record of three and one. In the "B" league Beta Sigma Tau was first with two and zero followed by the Footballers who have a one and zero record.

Intramural tennis playoffs enter the semi-finals next week and two semi-final matches will be played. Last week Joe Karat defeated Jack Evans 6-4, 6-1 in a semi-final match. In the quarter finals Don Humphreys defeated Don Anderson and Ray King defeated Don Iverson 6-0, 10-8.

In the doubles tournament Huntsinger and Talley defeated McGee and Mathew 7-5, 6-4 and Bill French and Bernie Paulson defeated Bob Baker and Dick Gorrie 6-3, 0-6, 6-2. In another match Joe Karat and Walt Ratcliff defeated Tom Kelly and LeRoy Criss 6-4, 6-4.

WAYNE TEMPLETON

Wayne Templeton, athlete of the week, gave his swan song to the Santa Barbara football crew this year, thus ending his four years of collegiate eligibility on the gridiron.

Wayne is a family man and in addition to lettering for the Gauchos last year also was honorably mentioned in CCAA standings. He tips the scales at 195 pounds, stands 6 feet 1 inch, is 25 years old, and hails from Riverside, California. So long number 47, we'll really be missing you on the right side of the Gaucha line next fall!

Harriers Victorious

Saturday, November 19th, proved to be a red letter day when the Gaucha leather-lungers defeated a strong L. A. State College in an interschool cross country meet by a score of 40-16.

Don Crie, consistent Gaucha Harrier, took his first 1st-place of he season when he travelled the four-mile La Playa course in the commendable time of 21 minutes 34 seconds. Bob Lahey, Galen Pearce, and Robert Anderson took the next three places in that order. Edwin Gates and Jim Krutsinger took sixth and 10th places, respectively, which rounded out the Gaucha scoring.

INTERCLASS TRACK MEET THURSDAY

The fourth annual inter-class track and field meet will take place Thursday, December 8, at 3 p. m. on La Playa Field. Last year the class of '51 took top honors.

All students except varsity and freshmen basketball players are eligible to compete. Trophies will be presented to the winning class, as well as a trophy being presented to the top individual performer by Coach Nick Carter. Another trophy will be presented to the athlete who cops the highest number of points.

Ribbons will be presented to the first four places in each event. Two events will be changed from last year's meet. The 70-yard high hurdles have been changed to the regulation 120-yard length. The 180 lows have been increased to the regular 220-yard distance.

Outstanding performances turned in by last year's competitors are expected to be repeated by Santa Barbara's javelin artist Delf Pickarts, who holds the record at 206 feet 10 1/2 inches. High jumper Willie Dancer broke the record last year at 6 feet 2 inches. Coach Ed Grabest will be gunning to break his own record in the shot put again Thursday. Grabest is eligible since he is still studying for a degree in education.

The half mile record is held by Forrest Staffanson at 2 minutes 9 seconds. Forrest will be running again this year.

Eight records fell to the block last year and as many are expected to be broken in the fourth annual meet.

Gaucha Quintet Takes Three Straight; Champs Whip Pasadena Nazarene in Finals

Santa Barbara's sparkling basketballers won the Redlands Tournament over the week-end by disposing of Pasadena Nazarene College, 46-40, in a hard-fought battle for the crown on Saturday night. The tourney win gives the Gauchos an automatic berth in the Los Angeles Invitational December 12-16.

Led by Bob McCutcheon—voted the outstanding player—and Gene Snyder, also tabbed on the all-tournament first string, the Gauchos racked up Balboa University of San Diego, 49-39, on Thursday night to gain the semi-finals. In this game, McCutcheon netted 18 points.

Redlands Thriller

Friday night's game with Redlands University was probably the most thrilling of the three. The Gauchos threw away an eight-point lead late in the game, saw the score tied up twice, and then in game from the fire with Snyder netting the last two crucial points to win, 45-43. Snyder led the team in its now customary second half rally by bagging 12 of his 15 points in the last period. McCutcheon was again high man with 16 digits.

With Snyder, McCutcheon, and Bernie Fox hitting for 41 of their 46 points Saturday, Coach Wilton's undefeated cagers led from wire to wire but needed another last-half rally to keep ahead as Nazarene cut the Gaucha lead to 40-38 with five minutes to go. The Gauchos led 26-21 at intermission and 38-30 with ten minutes left, but saw their lead dwindle away much the same as on Friday night. Not to be denied, however, the sharpshooting cagers quickly pulled ahead again, and sparked by the great defensive play of Huddy Scott, kept the ball out of Nazarene's hands for the remainder of the game.

Redlands copped third place with a 64-50 victory over Oxy, and Cal Poly sneaked by Chapman College, 38-36, to win fourth spot in the tourney. Santa Barbara meets the Alumni this Friday night in what promises to be the biggest threat to their undefeated record to date.

JOE GAUCHO SPEAKS

Most people think of pandas as stuffed animals found in sorority house bedrooms. This is the same connotation the Brown Bear once had—popularly known as the Teddy Bear. Yet this did not stop Cal from adopting the symbol.

In real life the Panda Bear is huge. The largest in any American zoo weighs over five hundred pounds and is still growing! Although it is an animal with considerable cunning and unknown strength and endurance, the Panda lends itself very well to the sort of symbol one cannot help but regard with affection.

Sincerely,
