Junior Class To Stage Gala Swim Events

Entertainment, excitement and fun will highlight the Junior Class Swim Party, scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 13, in the campus pool. The event lasts from 1 to 4 p.m.

Admission will be by class card and refreshments will be served, according to Junior Class President Bob Kieding.

Climaxing the afternoon will be the Polynesian Trophy Dash, which will see Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity pitted against the men of Delta Tau Delta. This event is a relay in which two-man rafts are maneuvered up and down the length of the pool.

Other entertainment will include a synchronized swimming exhibition by Artie Deutermann and comic diving stunts by Phil Rowe, Bruce Langshaw and Bill Bryson.

Juniors who have not yet purchased their class cards may do so at the Graduate Manager's office. "We are trying to give the juniors maximum benefits for their class cards," reports Kieding.

Coming activities for the Junior Class include the Junior-Senior Barbecue on Nov. 17, All-Cal junior activities, TGIFs, and the Junior-Senior Prom at the Coral Casino.

New Faculty Women To Be Welcomed

New women faculty members will receive official greeting and be welcomed into the UCSB academic family at a dinner in the Faculty Club next Monday evening. Helen Keener, Dean of Women, will act as hostess at the affair from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

Tom Weir, SBC faculty member who returned recently from a two-year sojourn to Lebanon, will be featured as speaker. Slides showing progress and culture of the Middle Eastern country will accompany the lecture.

Reservations for the dinner, to be catered by Flight-Line Restaurant, may be secured by calling Mrs. Muriel Engle, secretary to the Dean of Women, telephone 3108. Reservations must be made before Thursday, Oct. 10, according to Mrs. Engle.

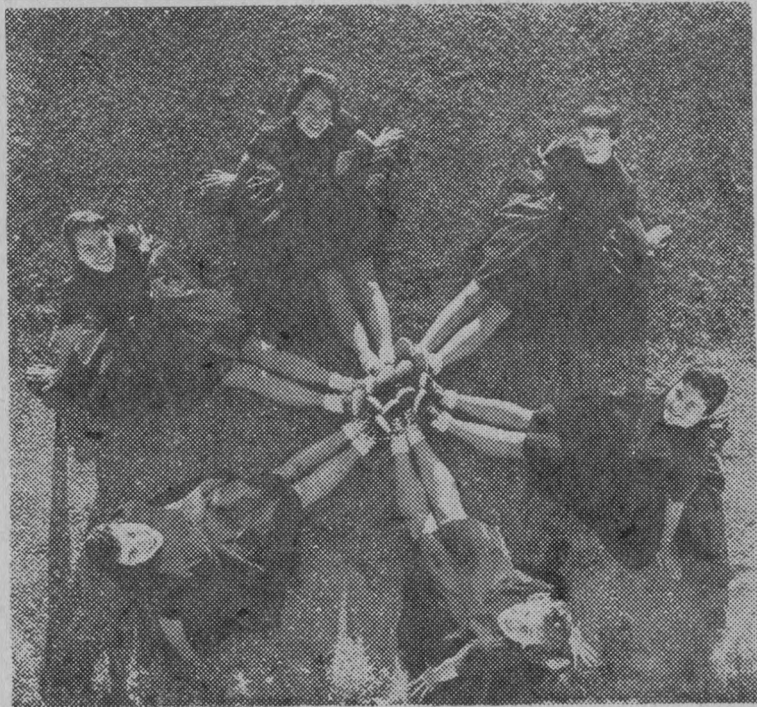

Cadets Begin Selection of Colonel's Coeds Following Application Deadline Oct. 15

This year's group of Colonel's Coeds will be the largest in their history, since their number corresponds to the ROTC Cadet Corps enrollment, which is at a peak this year.

Application blanks for girls interested in running for this position are available in the halls, sororities and boarding houses. Application forms are also available at the office of the Dean of Women. There are vacancies for four junior girls, seven sophomores and eight freshmen. Girls elected become officers according to their class, with lieutenant, captain and major corresponding to freshman, sophomore and junior grades.

Completed applications, accompanied by a 3x4 photo, are due in the Dean of Women's office by Oct. 15. Primary elections are Oct. 20-26.

Colonel's Coeds were formed on the UCSBC campus in fall, 1950, their purpose being to co-sponsor ROTC Cadet Corps activities. Dressed in bright red jumpers, the girls appear with the corps in such events as the Veterans Day Parade in Santa Barbara, the Annual Provost Review, Awards Reviews throughout the school year, the Annual General Inspection Review, Presentation Ceremonies and the Annual Military Ball. The Queen of the Military Ball is selected from the ranks of Colonel's Coeds.

TRICKY AND COLORFUL routines by the newly formed Gaucho flag twirlers will be seen at most UCSB football games this year. Responsible for these half-time activities are, clockwise: Donna Weyand, Jody Ballard, Donna Ginsaricusa, Marge Peterson, Sue Sailors and Nancy Leach. —Photo by McFadden

Gaucho Flag-Twirling Coeds Highlight Half-Time Events at Home Football Games

Something new has been added to the sights at the UCSB football games, in the form of seven flag twirlers.

The group is comprised of one junior, four sophomores and two second-semester freshmen. They came into existence when six of the seven girls lived in Laurel Hall last semester. The idea came from Nancy Leach, who was a flag twirler at Whittier College.

Many preparations for the group were done during the summer as all the girls lived in the Los Angeles vicinity. The girls bought the material and made their own costumes, while Miss Leach made the flags and poles.

The future plans of the group are hazy, but they do hope to make their future performances longer, according to Marge Peterson.

The girls practice about an hour a day, sometimes more, on their own, and then practice with the band and song leaders on Tuesday nights.

"We know we need a lot more practice, and we're going to work harder and harder," said Donna Weyand, a sophomore member of the group. "Bob Raleigh has helped us so much. We think it is a lot of fun, and we're doing something for the school," she added.

The members of the Flag Twirlers are Nancy Leach, Donna Weyand, Jody Ballard, Donna Ginsaricusa, Marge Peterson and Rosemary Sosoka.

Orators Discussed at All-College Lecture

Dr. Upton S. Palmer, associate professor of speech and chairman of the department, will lecture on "The Orator as Conservative," as the speaker of the second All-College Lecture of the fall semester series at Santa Barbara College.

The public is invited to attend these events without charge. The lectures are scheduled each Tuesday at 4 p.m. in the new Classroom Building Lecture Hall.

Dr. Palmer's discussion will point up a strong strain of conservatism observed in the speeches of men who have been distinguished because of their eloquence. He will consider such orators as Edmund Burke, Charles James Fox, William Pitt, Daniel Webster, John C. Calhoun, Henry Clay and Abraham Lincoln.

Today's lecture has also been designated the first annual "Honors at Entrance" lecture, through which incoming freshmen having high scholarship will henceforth be honored.

Dr. Palmer has been a member of the Santa Barbara College faculty since 1947. As director of forensics at UCSBC he has coached many successful debate teams and individual forensics competitors. He is vice-president of the Western Speech Association and a former vice-chairman of the faculty.

'Country Girl' Opens New Run Tomorrow

"Country Girl," the Speech Department's first offering of the 1957-58 school year, will begin its second run this Wednesday through Friday in the Little Theater.

Yvonne Bonsall, Dale Pennington and Mike Seely have leading roles in the Clifford Odets play. Supporting cast is Gail Carver, Hal Carlock, Robert Rogers, Diana Lillie and Nick Scott.

Technical director for the production is Bob Crumb, and Theodore Hatlen is directing.

"Country Girl" concerns the struggle of an alcoholic actor staging a comeback. The plot received Hollywood treatment recently with Grace Kelly, Bill Holden and Bing Crosby in starring roles.

Scene construction is the department of Bob Rogers, Mike Seely and Mike Vaile, with make-up by Peggy Jo Huggans. Stage manager is Nick Scott; assistant to the director, Rosalind Pfaff. Charles McGaha has charge of lighting and Nina Napier is costume director.

VA Issues Notices For Korean Veterans

Veterans attending UCSB under the Korean GI Bill are reminded of three notices issued by the Veterans Administration.

First, veterans should have enough money of their own to carry them through the first two months of school. It takes that long for a veteran's first monthly GI allowance check to reach him, according to the VA.

The second reminder deals with the monthly certification of class attendance. The certification is to be signed by the veteran and a representative of the school and sent to the Veterans Administration immediately after the month's attendance.

The final note is to veterans who wish to take part-time jobs while attending school under the GI Bill. There is no limit to the amount of money GI students can earn. Earnings need not be reported except in the case of veterans training on the job under the Korean GI Bill.

Rooters Dance To Post-Game Rhythms In SBC Auditorium

Music, fun and festivity will be combined when Gaucho rooters gather in the campus auditorium following the game Friday night.

Roz Rea, chairman of the ASB Social Committee and in charge of the post-game function, reports that "it doesn't cost a single penny for this enjoyable climax to the UCSB-L.A. State football game!"

For all music and dancing enthusiasts, melodies by Chip Crosby's band will be featured from 11 p.m. to 1 a.m. Crosby's combo has appeared already this semester on the Gaucho campus.

Miss Rea encourages everyone to attend the after-game dance, which is sponsored by the Associated Students.

RECORD FRESHMAN CLASS TO CHOOSE OFFICERS IN OCT. 17-18 ELECTION

One of the largest freshman classes in the school's history will go to the polls Oct. 17 and 18 to elect their class officers.

In addition to the freshman president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer, several other offices, left vacant by students who failed to return to school, will be filled.

These include: Sophomore Class secretary, Associated Women Students second vice-president and secretary, Freshman Class representative, and Associated Men Students secretary.

ASB Vice-President Don Cottle, who is chairman of the Elections Committee, terms the turnout of freshman candidates "very satisfactory." The deadline for signups was Friday.

Preferential Voting Cottle urges that students remember to vote preferentially, that is, for all of the candidates of a given office in the order of preference. This is in keeping with school policy.

This will be the first election in which one central voting location will be used. This change was adopted by the Executive Council last week in an attempt to curb "electioneering" and provide for more efficient administration of the election booths.

The polls will be located in the patio of the Library. Voting will begin at 8 a.m. Thursday and conclude at 3 p.m. Friday.

County Booths Secured

The Elections Committee has secured some of the county voting booths for use. All students will be required to show their Associated Student Body cards before they are given a ballot.

The election schedule follows: Today, Constitution Test for all candidates; Wednesday, Oct. 16, Elections Assembly in the Auditorium at 12 noon; Thursday and Friday, Oct. 17 and 18, voting, Library Patio, 8 to 3.

Candidates

Candidates signed up in the ASB office as of noon Friday are:

AWS Second Vice-President: Judith Kirk, Hannelone Steinhoff, Jan Carman, Cindy Brown, Gail Smith, Gail Flemming, Joan Griffith.

AMS Secretary: Henry Duke, Ron Largent.

AWS Secretary: Gretchen Ulrich, Leta Andrews, Sue Campbell, Marge Peterson, Sharon Sue Spurgeon.

Sophomore Class Secretary: Gretchen Ziegler, Terry Trau.

Secretariat Post Openings Announced

George Hawkins, ASB office manager, announced last week that students interested in joining the secretariat staff may apply at the ASB office.

The staff is employed in the office answering telephones, typing letters for the student body officers and serving the special needs of committee and board chairmen.

Interested girls may sign up in the ASB Office or contact George Hawkins.

GAUCHO NOTICES

Alpha Mu Gamma

Alpha Mu Gamma, national foreign language honor society, will meet this Thursday at noon in the Classroom Building, Room C-1112.

Election of officers and discussion of semester plans are on the agenda.

CSTA Meets

All persons interested in teaching are invited to attend the "get-acquainted" meeting of CSTA tomorrow at 7:30 in Room 1100 of the Science Bldg.

Open House

Following the game with Long Beach State on Friday night, Oct. 18, there will be an open house at the Sigma Kappa house. Dancing and refreshments will highlight the evening. Everyone is invited to drop in.

Visitors Welcome

Legislative Council meets tonight at 7:30 in the Huddle. Both voting and non-voting members are required to attend. Visitors are welcome.

International

All students interested in the world at large are invited to attend the first meeting of the International Students Club this Thursday, according to president Sylvia Noble. The meeting will be held in the Quiet Room of the Huddle at 4 p.m.

The club is primarily for foreign students studying here, but all interested American students are cordially welcomed.

Folk Dancing

Sponsored by the Recreation Control Board, the folk dancing group begins anew this semester at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow evening in building 422, room 110. Scheduled to meet the second Wednesday evening of each month, the festivities begin this week.

Senior Football Section

"The Senior Class will inaugurate the senior section at the home football game this Friday evening," according to Bill Tice, Senior Class president. "Admission to the section will be by class card only and it will be on the 50-yard line," he added.

Watch and Wait . . .

Ed. Note: In reply to many questions to El Gaucho regarding the current policy toward various problems on campus, the following editorial is presented.

Each year during elections, when candidates are running for various offices of major and minor importance in the UCSB student body government, there seems to be a wealth of ideas presented by the aspirants as to what they will strive to accomplish if they are elected.

Assuming they are elected, the implication is that the student body has taken their word and believes they will make progress toward the goals they have established by their own words during the vote-inducing period. The question now arises as to whether or not they do make this attempt, whether or not they do make any progress toward alleviating any of the problems they promised aid for.

This, by the way, is not limited to student body offices but extends to the organizations as well; after all, the leaders of any group are entrusted with promoting that particular group.

As yet this semester El Gaucho has not criticized any element on campus for not making an effort toward its goal. At this time, the immediate future does not see any such criticism. The leaders appear to be making headway toward ironing out many of the problems and are fully aware there are more waiting to be undertaken.

Basically the words "watch and wait" sum up the Gaucho stand at present.

The Gaucho, in its own efforts, is striving for an informed student body. Therefore, we will report what progress is being made and what projects are being undertaken.

This policy does not in any way, however, prohibit the Gaucho from commenting on either the means or ends of such actions. We feel that the student body should be aware of possible implications involved in any method the Legislative Council should choose to pursue.

Elsewhere in today's paper the reader may find a story, concerning the coming special elections, which reports the newly adopted system of one centrally located polling place. This method, approved by the Council, will be given a trial in the special election to verify its workability for the general election next spring.

The test will be evaluating the feasibility of the plan and any subsequent action of the Council regarding its use for the future elections.

Naturally, student body comments are invited by both the Council to help in deciding the future course of action in elections and by El Gaucho to form a consensus of student body opinion for use in evaluating the Council's decision.

The problems are there, the leaders are aware of them and steps are being taken to solve them. The present situation, following its course to the end, appears to be adequate for the present.

Hatlen's Presentation of 'Country Girl' Proves Bonsall Outstanding Actress

By Tom Chamberlain

Under the direction of Theodore Hatlen, the SBC Speech Department opened its dramatic season in the Little Theater last Thursday with an above-average presentation of Clifford Odets' "The Country Girl." Odets' psychological exploration of a disreputable actor and his relationship with his wife was presented in convincing fashion throughout and rose in the second half to powerful dramatic tension.

A high degree of dramatic skill was displayed by Yvonne Bonsall as Georgie Elgin, wife of the alcoholic actor. Primarily due to her fine performance, the play achieved its impact in the closing scenes.

Dale Pennington, who gave his usual competent and consistent portrayal, showed flashes of brilliance in bringing out the conflicting forces operating in Frank Elgin, the actor.

Mike Seely was cast as the third lead, Bernie Dodd, the director.

Dramatic conflict centers on the weakness and cunning of Frank Elgin in his interaction with Bernie Dodd, who tries to save the actor, and on his wife, who tries to save the man.

At the same time Bernie finds himself first repelled by and later attracted to Georgie, who must finally decide whether or not to abandon her husband. The plot is cleverly contrived so that the audience is kept guessing whether Frank's weakness lies within himself or in his relationship with his wife.

The first half of the play was carried by Dale Pennington's powerful and accurate portrayal of Frank Elgin's great talent as an actor conflicting with his fear of failure, and his present dissolute appearance contrasted with his inherent dignity. This was particularly apparent through the first scene. However, he slips slightly when the emphasis changes to his interaction with the other characters, rather than the conflicts within himself, notably in the two scenes with his wife. Although polished, he seemed to lose the depth of feeling which he had previously maintained.

Mike Seely, although there was some interaction with the other characters, failed to fully develop the complexities of Bernie Dodd as a real individual. He lacked empathy with the character he was trying to portray. He failed to correlate the motivations provided by the play with his interpretation of the part. His action was natural and his stage presence excellent, but his diction seemed forced, perhaps due to the fact that he had not as yet fully mastered his part.

Diana Lillie did an excellent job as the ingenue, while Bob Rogers performed capably as Paul Unger, the playwright.

Also in the cast were Gail Carver, Hal Carlock and Nick Scott.

UCSBC Heralds Formation of University Religious Conference, Inter-Faith Council

A new program of religious activities to serve the students at UCSB was inaugurated this fall with the opening of the University Religious Conference Center a short distance from the campus.

Various religious activities will be conducted off campus by each of the student denominational groups under the direction of their own advisors. In addition, interdenominational activities will be open to all students at UCSB. A Student Inter-Faith Council will co-ordinate the programs and sponsor certain campus-wide events.

Dr. Adaline Guenther, executive secretary of the UCLA Religious Conference, will supervise the Santa Barbara center during the first year. Local co-ordination will be directed by Sam Thomsen, UCLA graduate, who was active in student affairs and the Religious Conference.

The purpose of the conference, Thomsen explained, is to promote "our common faith in God, a keener appreciation of the values inherent in our religious, and harmony and friendly understanding among peoples of varying faiths."

HALLER HONORED

Dr. John R. Haller, newly appointed instructor of botany at UCSBC, is the recipient of the annual award for the outstanding paper presented before the American Society of Plant Taxonomists.

The botanist was honored for his paper, "The Relation of Pinus Ponderosa and Pinus Jeffreyi Pines," part of a research study for his doctorate which he recently earned at UCLA.

SIGMA KAPPA TEA

The Sigma Kappa sorority extended its hospitality Sept. 29 to other sorority housemothers and presidents at a tea honoring Sigma Kappa's new housemother, Mrs. Gertrude Clark.

Mrs. Clark recently arrived from Cincinnati, O., where she served two years as housemother for the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity at the University of Cincinnati.

Letter to The Editor . . .

Dear Editor:

It is my opinion and the opinion of countless other students of Casitas and Santa Rosa residence halls that there is room for considerable improvement in policies, menu planning and actual preparation of food in the campus dining hall.

There are people on campus who will say that this is not the proper channel to take; they will recommend taking any suggestions to the "menu committee." Few people are familiar with the actual worth of this committee and its impotency. Suggestions need only be quieted with a "no" (university policy) answer or the now famous quotation, "We are doing the best we can with the facilities we have."

The menu committee will again this year prove to be a farce. Perhaps the only sensible suggestion ever moved and voted on occurred a few semesters back when a motion was made and carried to disband the committee.

By this letter it is hoped that a little thinking will be done by all concerned and sometime in the future real results may be achieved.

I often wonder what would happen if those in charge had enough nerve to install a suggestion box in the dining hall. It would seem that we students, as paying customers, should be allowed some voice in regards to the product of our investment.

I have often heard of the fine dietary work that goes into the preparation of the actual meal but, for specific example, I cannot believe that a balanced breakfast should consist of watered grapefruit juice, two eggs and toast, coffee and milk. This breakfast has occurred this semester. Whether due to quantity of food, time of arrival or lack of planning is entirely irrelevant to the point. As further example, there is the absence of sufficient syrup and jam containers for the number of students eating at any one time. The containers are in the kitchen; the reason must then be due to ignorance in recognizing methods of expedient serving. Another glaring omission is that of potatoes with some Sunday diners. Meat and vegetables alone on a plate with an oversized, over-chewy roll leaves much to be desired.

One annoying practice is the change of menu in mid-meal. Eating two cookies on a plate while those all around are eating pie or ice cream is extremely frustrating. This sly maneuver is also practiced with the main course.

A classic example of pseudo-economy is the allowance of only one bun with two wieners. This is an actuality.

It is quite possible that a situation where respect and co-operation in personnel would make for a finer all-around dining operation.

I would like to see a retired Navy chief cook take over this situation!

How about some opinions from the readers?

Sincerely,
Wayne L. Probert

Listening and Concentration Considered First Important Step to Efficient Learning

College life falls into its normal pattern on campuses throughout the nation as the fall semester begins. Students begin frequenting classes they have signed up for and undertake the job of learning the material the instructors are putting out.

Perhaps one of the most important phases of learning is listening. The average person is only a "half listener." Even when a person tries to listen well, he retains only about 50 per cent of what he hears right after he hears it.

However, all is not lost; there are advantages in being a good listener. According to Dr. Ralph G. Nichols and Leonard A. Stevens of the University of Minnesota, "Concentration is more than half the battle. A good listener fights distraction. He will close a door, move closer to the speaker, interrupt only when it is necessary to clear up a point."

One of the reasons for paying close attention is simply that it is courteous to do so. But there is a selfish reason also; the way you listen has a great deal of control over the way people talk to you. Intelligent listening on your part helps the speaker give you information that you may need.

In reverse, the same holds true. A good listener has a far better chance of being a good speaker. By being a good listener you will be able to learn more and by being a good speaker you will be able to better inform your listeners.

The structure provides offices for the physical education faculty and departments, activity rooms, corrective studio, dance laboratory, dressing rooms, storage facilities and specialized areas.

The college will continue to use its present Olympic-size swimming pool for several years and has no plans for replacement in connection with the current project.

The office of architects and engineers co-ordinated the programming of the building in co-operation with the faculty building committee, of which Dr. Theodore Harder and Dr. Jean Hodgkins have served as chairmen.

Ground will be broken for the eighth permanent building of the college about the middle of this month, following the recording of the contract, according to Floyd. The contract calls for a construction period of 400 days, barring certain delays beyond the control of the contractor. Completion is expected early in 1959.

Gillespie Invited To French Recital

Dr. John E. Gillespie, head of the Music Department at Santa Barbara College, has been invited to appear as concert soloist with the famed Municipal Orchestra of Montpellier, France, Jan. 16.

Dr. Gillespie is presently on sabbatical leave from the University and is touring Europe on a series of concerts.

"Concert Classiques" Dr. Gillespie will play the Concerto No. 5 by Beethoven and two groups of solos at the winter series of "Concert Classiques" in France.

At the present time Dr. Gillespie is doing research in Madrid. He is planning a concert schedule which includes six recitals in Spain during November and December. His work will also take him to England.

CAMPUS CARICATURES

by PETE VORZIMER

The Campus Males and How to Recognize Them

1) The Athletic Type
The first character we come across on our tour of the campus is the athletic type . . . known by its species name Jockius surfius. He is shown here placed in his natural habitat . . . wearing his colorful native costume.

In his right hand he carries his surfboard. In lieu of the time he spends at the beaches in proportion to time in classes, he is classified by the Administration as a Water Science major. The more avid surfers carry sextants for "shooting the sun," tide tables and weather reports for tide waves and assorted storms at sea. Mutilated-sweatshirt belonging to Men's P.E. is part of the standard apparel. The wine skin seen being held in the left hand does not contain, contrary to popular belief, any alcoholic beverages . . . but instead a reddish liquid made from crushed berries, or grapes, known popularly as "go-juice" . . . professionals claim it aids to their athletic prowess.

Native to the Jockius surfius costume are sunglasses . . . the very dark kind. These are worn in all places of public gathering where this species can look over the members of the opposite sex without their being able to detect any movement in the otherwise primitive eyeballs. Scabs are often a common adornment to members of this species. War wounds such as these are proudly exhibited by members of this cult. The local tribe here has claimed a recent victory over a neighboring tribe named the Whittierites . . . and it is evident that the number of scabs denotes a true warrior . . . and therefore members of this species are very glad to accumulate as many scabs as possible.

2) The Gung-Ho Type

This type, scientifically known as the Inebrius vorzimerius, can be found, in full glory, at every school function . . . and hibernating in-between times at a local habitat called "spigot."

Part of the colorful costume of this creature is a coat of beaver (it has to be from genuine pelts!) which is donned before each function. The pair of what appear to be binoculars is a

MLA To Meet Soon In Los Angeles

A question of whether the use of scores made in English tests is valid, compared to the success a student will have in a foreign language course, is the subject of a meeting of the Research Council of the Modern Language Association of Southern California, in Los Angeles, Oct. 12.

Two members of the school's faculty, Dr. Robert Beachboard, head of the foreign language department's phonetics laboratory, and Dr. Jack Murray, instructor in French, are active in the association. Dr. Beachboard heads several committees of the association and Dr. Murray will assume a full chairmanship beginning next year.

recent dodge perfected only by this species and are in reality a container for alcoholic nectars, which, it appears, members of this species must consume to stay in their natural state. The multi-colored hat known as a beanie appears to be some sort of tribal headdress.

The means of locomotion for this type seem to always be that known as "sports car."

The actions of this type are unpredictable . . . but the species is more prevalent. There is a subspecies known as Alumnus inebrius which appears only once a year during the fall.

Waving the tribal banners of blue and gold . . . this group is noted for its loud voice . . . and half-time acrobatics.

Perversity and Oriental Virus are encountered on every side, but, my friends, be joyful, you may live through it. M.V.S.

My dear Dr. Spleen:

I've been going with a girl who is simply crazy about Elvis Presley. All she ever talks about it the time she smeared "Barbara plus Elvis" on his new Lincoln. . . . She even wants me to let my hair grow all over the sides of my cheeks like that idiot. I don't like Elvis. What do I do?
J.M., Goleta

Dear J.M.:

It is not surprising that your simply crazy girl likes Elvis. Millions of simply crazy people do in this time of the undulating Illiac. This age of piercing sounds and unhappy, frustrated females with too much extra lipstick. Speak to this girl about the hidden implications of her love for this other man. Reason with her and speak highly of Beethoven and Sibelius. Every time she mentions Elvis, smile at this one you love and hit her in the stomach.

Gauchos Halfback Duke Ellington is pounced upon by Oxy player as John Morris (29) looks on.

SPORT SCENE

by Mike Kahn

After watching Santa Barbara lose to Occidental Friday night, I would still pick the Gauchos if the two teams were to play again. It's pretty tough for an inexperienced team to get off to a bad start and still recover. The Gauchos spotted Oxy two touchdowns by fumbling the ball to them within 25 yards of the goal, then played the Tigers on fairly even terms the rest of the game, despite more fumbling.

Oxy has a good team; to hold the Gauchos to a minus 32 yards net rushing isn't the easiest thing to do in the world (I hope). I am sure the Santa Barbara line has run into a six- and seven-man line before, but they didn't show it. Maybe if Occidental scouts had seen more last week they wouldn't have defended the Gauchos so easily.

At times Quarterback Don Trauthen looked real good, but I had the feeling that on his passes he was merely throwing the ball in the direction he expected his receiver to be, not directly at his man. With Oxy rushing six men the whole time and with a fine set of pass patterns, there was almost always a Gauchos receiver in the open.

The loss could hardly be blamed on Trauthen, however; he was the best thing offensively the Gauchos could offer. Don has a fine attitude and will undoubtedly improve. He was calling plays better and on occasions was getting rid of the ball quickly (two of his faults against Whittier).

Probably the outstanding player for the Gauchos was Kelly Hoover. Big "Kel" smeared Oxy runners for losses on five separate occasions. He must have thought he was in the discus ring as he grabbed one ball carrier, spun him around and hurled him for a loss.

One consolation is that opposing scouts still must have trouble filling their books on the Gauchos' offense. Actually, Santa Barbara's line contained the Occidental ground game much better than Whittier's.

GAUCHOS SUCCUMB TO TIGERS, 21-6

by Jerry Rocco

Led by Pete Tunney, the Occidental Tigers stopped the Santa Barbara College Gauchos by a score of 21-6 last Friday night at Eagle Rock. The game was decided when Santa Barbara fumbled four times, all being recovered by Oxy. Two of these were converted into quick TDs.

In the first quarter, after an exchange of punts, the Gauchos fumbled on second down and Oxy recovered on their own 43-yard line.

Sink Passed to Tunney for 30 yards. Another crack at center and they were down to the S.B. eight-yard line, where the Gauchos held them for four downs.

Santa Barbara fumbled again on the second play, recovered by Oxy. On third down, Tunney went off tackle for the touchdown. Sink converted.

On the third play of the second quarter, Gauchos Halfback Morris fumbled and Oxy again recovered on the Gauchos 24-yard line. After a short series of plays it was Tunney again up the middle for his second 6-pointer, Sink converting.

Oxy kicked to Santa Barbara and the Gauchos started to roll. Don Trauthen completed to Morris on an eight-yard pass. Trauthen again threw to Ellington on the 50-yard line. Another pass was completed and then fumbled, recovered by Oxy.

After exchanges of the ball, Oxy fumbled, recovered by Santa Barbara. On the next play Trauthen threw to Dyas in the end zone for a touchdown. Varner tried for the extra point but it was wide.

The half ended as the Gauchos seemed to be on another sustained drive but just ran out of time. The half-time score was Oxy 14, Santa Barbara 6.

In the second half the Gauchos really took to the air. Santa Barbara took the kickoff back to its 27-yard line. Trauthen completed a few passes before the Gauchos were forced to kick.

On the first play from scrimmage for Oxy, Tunney shot through the center of the Gauchos' forward wall, broke for the sidelines and went 79 yards for a touchdown. Sink booted it through the uprights and made it 21-6 in favor of Occidental.

Both teams during the second half made a good deal of yardage but were stopped on interceptions and fumbles. Sink tried a field goal late in the third quarter but it was blocked.

The over-all speed of the Oxy team and fumble-itis on the part of the Gauchos seemed to tell the whole story.

Playing an outstanding game for the Gauchos were Johnny Morris, Don Trauthen, Benny Dyas and Kelly Hoover.

RCB Presents List Of Fall Activities

The second event presented by the Recreation Control Board this semester is a bicycle picnic on Sunday, Oct. 27, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. All students with bicycles will meet in the student parking lot area by the Physical Education buildings by 10 a.m. At that time they will leave for Tucker's Grove, where volleyball, softball and horseshoes will be provided for recreation. Those who do not have bicycles are also welcome, according to Carlene Hester.

Picnickers may leave whenever they wish, but all bicyclists must be gone by 3 p.m. Sign-up sheets for the picnic will be posted in the gym and on all dormitory, sorority and fraternity bulletin boards. Sign up no later than Oct. 25.

The bicycle picnic is the follow-up activity to the recreation day which was held on Saturday from 1 to 4 p.m. The sports offered were badminton, tennis, volleyball, basketball, softball, horseshoes and swimming.

The last event of the semester will be a table tennis tournament on Dec. 7, 13 and 14. "The Recreation Control Board's purpose is to organize, promote and coordinate recreational activities on this campus," added Miss Hester.

Gauchos Unbeaten Against L.A. State

When the Gauchos footballers encounter L.A. State this Saturday night at La Playa Stadium, it will be the seventh meeting between the two elevens. The series with L.A. State dates back to 1951 when the Gauchos ran roughshod in a 26-to-0 victory.

In the next five years, '52 through '56, UCSB made it a habit of beating the Staters. Thus, Santa Barbara's record, as we go into the game this weekend against L.A. state, stands at six wins, no losses and no ties.

Block 'C' To Meet

The Block C will hold its second meeting of the year on Thursday, Oct. 17, at noon in Bldg. 420, Room 110.

Plans for the year's activities will be discussed. President Dave Iman stated that it is important for all old and new members to attend.
