REPEAT 'GHOSTS' TONIGHT

Sophomore Snow Queen To Be Chosen By A.M.S. Nov. 28

In a rally in the quad, Wednesday noon, November 28, the thirteen candidates for Snow Queen, nominated by the sophomore class at their last meeting, will be presented to the associated men students. The men are to choose by secret ballot, a snow queen and two attendants from these candidates.

The queen and her two attendants are to reign at the Winter Carnival dance to be given November 30th by the sophomore class at Rockwood. The name of the woman chosen as Snow Queen at the rally will not be known until 10 p. m. the evening of the dance.

The candidates are: Kay Updegraff, Jorane King, Virginia Fahey, Virginia Carr, Bobbyann Kubly, Patty Geyer, Marilyn Seagran, Willie Wigger, Barbara Rush, Jean Calderon, Betty Sansom, Naomi Dyer, and Jane Ericson.

The affair will be dressy sport, which means that date dresses and heels will be worn by the women, while men should wear coats and ties. No admission will be charged those showing student body cards. The dance will begin at 8:30 p.m.

The dance is being planned under the direction of Ross Everman, president of the class, and Marian Nickel, social chairman of the sophomore class. Dawn Walker is decorations chairman. Mildred Ramey will handle all Snow Queen arrangements. Patty Geyer and her committee are planning entertainment while Marjorie McClanahan and committee will serve refreshments. Bobbyann Kubly is handling publicity for the entire event.

Music Students Present Second Informal Recital

The program was as follows: Ave Maria, Bach-Gounod—Margaret Pomatto, violinist; "The Engulfed Cathedral", Debussy—Joyce Anderson, pianist; "They Call Me Mimi" (from La Boheme) Puccini; Concertino, Chaminade—Patricia Parker, flutist; "Maids of Cadiz", Delibes—Kathryn Fox, lyric soprano; Intermezzo opus 76 no. 6, Brahms—Doris Holt, pianist; Meditation from "Thais", Massenet—Albert Coffman, violinist; "Over the Steppe", Gretchaninoff—Monica Ting, soprano; "Aria", Auber—Clara Abowitz, clarinetist; "Jewel Song", (from "Faust"), Gounod—June Lord, Lyric soprano; "Andalucia", Lecuona—Bernice Baker and Louise Schilling, duo-pianists; "The Two Grenadiers", Schumann—David Wood, baritone; "Study in Fifths", Swaney—John Swaney, pianist.

Gauchos Rally At Jamboree

The Gaucho Jamboree, last week's rally and game event, was a tremendous success, according to students who attended. Meeting on the women's gym field at three p.m. Friday, students witnessed the annual contest between the faculty and student teams in baseball. "Terrible" Ted Hatlin, playing for the faculty, brought Dr. Glen W. Durlinger and Harrington "Pop" Wells in on a two base hit, but confused spectators and players alike, by running left to third base. Dr. George Hand, Dean C. Douglas Woodhouse, Clyde Keener, Will Hayes and Dr. Cornelius Muller also played for the faculty. Dr. Durlinger, manager for the faculty team quotes the score as being tied at eight to eight, at the close of the fourth and final inning. Terry Dearborn of the faculty, acted as umpire.

Immediately after the game, students joined the auto caravan, which led the way to Phelps field, where supper was served. Cars were decorated with blue and gold streamers. Frankfurters, toasted buns, potato salad, milk, hot coffee, and ice cream comprised the menu.

Students were entertained during and after supper by a five piece band, singer Jean Ausman, and the Cleveland House quartet. The quartet, including Ray Puissigur, Bob Schottland, Gordon Griffiths and Lowell Williams, sang novelties which included "I Want My Rib."

Climaxing the activities planned for Phelps field, the pep rally was held surrounding the blazing bonfire built by A.M.S. men. Songs and yells were led by Bob Schottland, while students serpented. The basketball team was introduced to the student body, and Coach Stan Williamson spoke of the athletic possibilities next year.

The automobile caravan then led the way to the community center gym, where our basketball team played the Marine squad. Students were given the opportunity to cheer a winning team, when the Gauchos defeated the visitors 36-26.

Entries in the student body contest for a new fight song, yell, and emblem must be in the student manager's office by 4 p.m. today. Winners will be selected and results will be announced in the November 30 issue of El Gaucho.

THE LEADING parts of "Ghosts" are portrayed by Margaret Wheeler as Mrs. Alving and Warren Anderson as Oswald.

8:15 Curtain For Presentation Of College Play

College students and townspeople witnessed the opening of Henrik Ibsen's three act play "Ghosts" last night in the college auditorium. Second performance of the classic will be given tonight at 8:15 p.m.

"Ghosts" is a classic drama, satirizing the stiff social conventions of the eighties. It is heavy drama with no humor and difficult dialogue, and as such is a hard play for actors with little experience to do well. The cast which Mr. Ted Hatlin, director, presents in "Ghosts" tonight has well overcome the difficulties of inexperience and youth. It is one of the best directed and most sincerely acted plays which has been given at this college in recent years.

Margaret Wheeler as Mrs. Alving does a remarkable job of portraying the older woman, completely submerging herself in the part. Warren Anderson, playing the part of Oswald Alving, dominates the second and third acts with his excellent characterization of the beaten, wronged son. John Swaney as Pastor Manders, Dean Dillman, jr., as Engstrand, and Phyllis Friedman as Regina do their parts sincerely and well. "Ghosts" is not a play in which the reviewer can pick out one or two characters as outstanding as all five in the cast have difficult, lengthy parts, and all five thespians have contributed to the success of the play being presented tonight.

"Ghosts" is a fine example of excellent casting and good direction, showing the earmarks of much hard work behind the scenes.

Members of the play production cast took charge of lighting, stage sets, and student directing. Following the final performance this evening, cast members and students in the class will hold a cast party in the speech room.

Students will be admitted free with student body card. General admission is 60 cents; reserved seats, 80 cents, and service personnel, faculty and children, 35 cents. M.K.A.

Sorority Women Discuss Plans For Pan Hellenic Tea

Plans for the annual Pan-Hellenic tea for new women, to be held this year on December 2 in the college music hall, were discussed recently at a meeting of the sorority presidents and representatives.

A departure from the usual tea, this year's group will hold a discussion of sororities to acquaint the new women with a few of the facts about sorority life. At the same time they will be given an opportunity to meet the sorority women.

Invitations will be issued in the near future to all new women.

Students Dance At Frosh 'Turkey Trot'

Strains of "Turkey in the Straw" issued from the Music hall last Saturday night, as frosh students, clad in levis and gingham, danced the Virginia Reel at the Turkey Trot, first freshman event of the year. Musical chairs and other games were played and Harrington Wells, class advisor, played for community singing.

Women provided box lunches for their dates and cokes were furnished by the class.

Lee Klinck, social chairman, was in charge of the affair, and Donna Hill took care of publicity.

Alumni Service Data Compiled

The record of Santa Barbara college alumni, former students, and faculty members who served in World War II has been compiled by Dr. Irving A. Mather, dean of the upper division. Dr. Mather's statistics have been built up through correspondence, published lists and contacts with students and friends.

The record reveals that fifty-one lost their lives in service and 11 are listed as missing in action. Ten who were prisoners of war have been released. To parents of each of those listed as killed, missing or prisoner, Dr. Mather sent a note of sympathy from the college at the time such notices were received.

Dr. Mather suggested that the list of those who paid the supreme sacrifice could appropriately be included in a memorial tablet for the college.

Distribution of Santa Barbara college personnel in the service was as follows:

Army 392, Army Air Force 364, Navy 406, Navy Air Force 85, Marine and Marine Air Corps 67, women (excluding Red Cross) 108, branch unknown 4, faculty in service 18, Red Cross 35, miscellaneous 43; total 1522.

Student Handbook Under Publication

Student handbook, an annual college publication, listing names, addresses, and telephone numbers of students and faculty, has gone to press and will be on sale the first part of December.

Enlarging the issue this year, Jean Ausman, editor, stated that the book will include the home addresses of students, which will make it more useful.

Gaicho Room Reaches Crises

All of our complaints about and pleading for help in the Gaicho Room have apparently been to no avail. It is in worse condition than ever. We are going to say nothing further about the situation, except that unless conditions improve immediately it is going to be closed permanently.

We are quite well aware that returning coke bottles to the cases and coffee cups to where they belong is a super-human effort quite beyond the strength of college students, but you might at least try. A little practice would help.

The freshmen women's service group is attempting valiantly to keep the place clean, but it is not up to them to do all the work. They cannot stay up in the Gaicho Room all the time, picking up after the rest of the students. They have other obligations, such as classes.

It is completely up to you. You are the ones that want a student lounge, so why not do something to help?

Back from the Front

By PEG WELLS

Back from fifty missions in the skies over Italy, frosh DICK ATKINS chose to attend Santa Barbara college partly because he can receive a University of California degree for his work here, but mostly because Santa Barbara is his home town. After attending high school here, Dick enlisted in the Army Air Corps in the fall of '42, and trained in Missouri, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, and South Carolina. First assigned to submarine patrol duty on the east coast, Second Lieutenant Atkins then saw action in the European theater, piloting planes which bombed Italy, Yugoslavia and Austria, with concentration on the Brenner Pass. As a member of the 446th Bomb squadron, 12th Air Force, Dick piled up 50 missions and over 1000 hours before receiving his discharge.

For meritorious work in the service, Dick Atkins received the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with four Oak Leaf Clusters, the Purple Heart medal, and two presidential unit citations. As a member of the class of 1950, Dick is enrolled in the physical education department. He is a member of the basketball squad, and plans to go out for football next fall. Like most men who have really seen action, Dick is quiet and modest, but we of the student body appreciate what he and others like him have done, and welcome him back with a smile of appreciation.

One of the first college professors to return from military service is H. KLYNE HEADLEY, associate professor of music. Widely recognized for his instrumental works, which include the "California Professor Headley enlisted in the Army during October '42, and remained in the service for more than three years. Having graduated from the Army Air Corps Administration School, Fort Logan, Colorado, Headley was assigned to the Public Relations Bureau at the Flight Training Command of Santa Ana, California. His next assignment was in the field of war information at the Army Airfield, Yuma, Arizona. Finally he was stationed in Palm Springs, California, where his work included the counseling of officers and enlisted men in their post-war educational and employment plans.

To the Editor

In terms of student affairs, teachers should be seen and not heard. However this writer has spoken publicly of his antipathy for the term "Gaicho", at the Men's club dinner of last spring. Repeated requests have produced this editorial gem. Our emblem through the years was a tough, wiry, fast little bird, the "roadrunner," common in our foothills. Roadrunners have been known to kill rattlesnakes. Like the sage hen of Pomona, the little bird was revered as truly emblematic of a small school in the coastal foothills. Then we suddenly grew a bit, producing good athletic teams perhaps too suddenly, and it appeared to some that the old bird wasn't a good enough emblem. Opponents, it seemed, sometimes referred to us as "nose-runners". So committees cast about for a new emblem, preferably in the local Spanish motif. Something dashing, brave, fearless, tough, but alas, totally incongruous, the Argentinian Gaicho, was selected. This was about ten years ago. Someone, doubtless with good intentions, must have confused "gauchos" with the Mexican "vaqueros" who roamed the ranchos of this land of the Dons. There never was a Gaicho here. They have always had the good grace to confine themselves to their native South American pampas.

We are now in and of the university. We have our chapter of the "Cal Club." Our colors are blue and old. We practice California songs and yells, yet we wish to remain distinctive. The Berkeley emblem is the bear; that of U.C.L.A. the bruin. Let ours be the California Cubs. Try it, students. Clip it out a few times. Make up a yell including the two words. They click. It's a natural name, and as a teacher very much interested in student affairs, this writer suggests that it be submitted to a student body vote. A new name for a growing school: "California Cubs."

PEACE TIME DRAFT . . . .

STUDENT VIEWS

. . . . By WALTER W. ARNDT

Editor's Note: El Gaicho invites students to participate in these discussions of subjects pertinent at this time to all Americans. Put your reply in Box 70 in the Administration building mail boxes.

The question of the advisability of having a peace time draft in the United States reminds me forcibly of the story of the Arkansas traveler. A rainy-day visitor in a somewhat decrepit dwelling, the traveler noticed that the roof leaked badly. "Why don't you fix your roof?" he asked. "Can't now, it's raining," was the reply. "Well, why don't you fix the roof when it isn't raining," the traveler persisted. "When it isn't raining, my roof doesn't leak." On comparable logic are based the objections to the peace time draft.

Imagine the college basketball coach saying to his men, "There's no need to come out on the floor except when we actually have a game." The fate of that unpractised team would be dismal to contemplate. When, however, we consider a war instead of a basketball game, and the box score is not reckoned in goals, but in human lives, unpreparedness must appear as a crime against the citizens of the United States. Ah, you may say, but war is not a basketball game. Indeed it is not. Hence the more unquestionably we must keep our army in practice—not just a token force, but divisions, well-equipped and well-trained.

John Moreland in this column last week said, "If we want peace it would seem reasonable to prepare for peace." Suppose we go all the way on that suggestion, smash all our airplanes, sink all our warships, melt down all our field pieces, outlaw the possession of rifles, shot-guns or pistols by the civilian populace (there would be no armed forces, of course), what then? The mighty voice of the United States government would suddenly change to a quavering, faltering whine. How long would we enjoy the peace for which we had so assiduously prepared?

At the present the United States is playing a major role in the society of nations. Suppose we lead a world movement for all nations to prepare for peace? Can we forget so readily the Japanese envoys who were bowing politely at our capital even while the Japanese fleet lay off Pearl Harbor with murder in its heart? Great and wonderful as our nation is, it cannot predicate the intention of the other major powers. Within the past six months the daily newspapers have recorded riots in Spain, Greece, Arabia, Argentina, India, Java and China. If there are any games not on the schedule, let's be ready for them too.

The late Franklin D. Roosevelt declared publicly, "I hate war." I, too, hate war, and I know of a great many battle veterans who also hate war and agree with me that there should be compulsory military training. Democracy is ours to enjoy and cherish so long as we are willing to earn it. If every young man in the United States is not willing to give one year of his life to make democracy work, our nation has come to a sorry pass indeed.

A popular conception that time spent in the army is wasted, is, in my opinion, a spurious and hastily drawn conclusion. A great many young men who served in World War II gained knowledge of human nature, learned self-reliance and discipline during their "wasted" time in the army. If the occasion ever arose where the thousands of men who would be trained under the provisions of a peace time draft were called upon to use the skills they had acquired during training, a grateful nation would not long entertain doubts in regard to the advisability of the program.

The United States is no longer an upstart New World experiment; it is a full-fledged world-power. No longer do its citizens naively proclaim, "This is a war to end all wars." A reliable source in a leading American periodical reports that the peace following this war will, at best, be "an armed truce." Let us keep our national roof in repair.

Men Meet With Alpha Theta Chi

Alpha Theta Chi social sorority feted the associated men students Monday evening at the sorority house, 616 Micheltorena street. Approximately forty men attended the party which was given in Parisienne cafe style.

Jean Calderon, social chairman for the sorority, planned the evening during which the guests played card games and danced to recordings. Betty Steele entertained with piano solos. Jean Murray, refreshments chairman, served hors d'oeuvres, sandwiches and coffee buffet style.

Formal Initiation Held By Nani Leilani

New members of the Nani Leilani chapter of Phrateres were formally initiated last Monday night, according to Gloria Thagard, president of the organization. The candlelight ceremony was held in the banquet room of the Hotel Lobero, where dinner had been served.

After-dinner speeches were delivered by the initiates, who spoke on varied subjects. Mrs. Ross Everman, sponsor of the group, welcomed the new members, and spoke of the plans for the coming Phrateres breakfast. The breakfast will be an all-Phrateres function, and will be served in the quad at 9 a.m. Sunday, November 18.

The ceremony was concluded when each active member placed a lei about the shoulders of one of the incoming initiates, and welcomed her to the chapter.

S.F.S. Members To Be Initiated

New members of S.F.S., sub-chapter of Phrateres, will be initiated at a dinner at the California Hotel, at 6:30 p.m. next Monday evening.

S.F.S. will continue their last year's tradition of making a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family.

under the direction of metal instructor, LOUIE TAYLOR, took a field trip to the U.S.S. Iowa. Electrical instructor, CLYDE KEENER, played hockey, to play baseball at the Jamboree.

A collection is being taken up in wood shop to buy a coffee pot. It seems that Mr. GRIFFIN believes the class should meet in the shop instead of the Gauchos room.

DID YOU KNOW?

That there are many industrial education courses that can be taken as electives by students of other departments. To name a few interesting ones:

Art metal, photography, home planning, automotive repair, drafting, woodworking, and jewelry.

Professor ERICSON and various instructors will journey to Los Angeles this weekend for a convention of the southern section of the California Industrial Education association.

What a weekend! First the rally committee gives the student body one of the biggest bonfires and get-togethers that Santa Barbara college has seen in five years, then—and then . . . the fleet came in!

It's been a long time since this school has seen as much school spirit displayed . . .

All those die-hards who just couldn't believe that the Gauchos could field a good basketball team should have been at the game following the rally. Can't classify myself as an expert on basketball, but those boys really played a smooth game . . . laugh of the evening was on BOB ELLIOTT and KAY KIMBER. Bob shot off the gun ending the first half with a loud bang . . . spectators on the opposite side of the gym watched cob-web after cob-web float down to light gently all over Bob and Kay . . .

Sailors everywhere you look . . . nothing but sailors! Nothing like this has happened to Santa Barbara in years . . . The long over-worked ratio of 6 women to every man took an about face as the men from the Iowa swarmed the town . . . Delta Zetas following the game opened their house to about 25 gold braiders . . . Alpha Thetas did the same . . . next day the gals spent the day on board, stayed for dinner in the officers' mess, then saw the picture show. Liked it so well they all went back for more Sunday . . . LAUREL NOBLE, SUSAN PERRY, JO BERRY, VIRGINIA LONDON, JEAN MURRAY, ELEANOR LITTLE, LYNN WIGGINS, JEAN AUSMAN, PHYLLIS MCCOMBER and hundreds more helped show the Navy lads a good time while they were in town. It was a sad sight when the ship (almost got thrown overboard for calling it a boat) pulled out for San Pedro.

LORENZO DAL ARMI back in Santa Barbara . . . Dal is a Gamma Sigma Pi, a good looking, and what's more gals, he's coming back to Santa Barbara college in February . . . other Gamma Sigs in town are ACE ACEVEDO and HARRY REDOGLIO . . . both big-wigs on campus in 42-43 . . . Tau Gamma Sigmas held a joint meeting last Monday evening with the alums. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Helen Barnett, the sororities patroness.

It's an old saying that hard work will bring to you success. That's just what happened to the Gaucho cagers when they encountered a strong Marine five, Friday night at the community center, and came home with the bacon, by a margin of 36 to 26.

The first half was a closely matched tilt, with the Hilltoppers coming out on top, 16-15, but as the game proceeded the Marine Flyers were unable to keep the pace of the Gaucho machine, and allowed them to score twenty points in the last half, which ended the first game of the season with a Gaucho victory.

In basketball practice, I have been keeping my eye open for the player who has shown the most improvement in all respects in the last two weeks. To me this player is Tom McGill, a freshman from Long Beach, who has plenty of fight, handles the ball nicely and shows that he knows that team work leads to success. Another fellow showing improvement is Dick Atkins, a tall boy who I might say, is one of the hardest working fellows on the squad. Although he has played very little basketball before this season and lack of experience is his main default, Dick gets out there and puts his all into the game.

TENNIS

Intra-mural netters, M. Sloniker and J. Andrews were closely matched Monday, playing a tight game all the way. Sloniker won the first match of the men's singles 8-10, 16-14, 6-4.

The women's singles were won by Betty Tyson, who defeated Maxine Barlow. L. Wathey defeated Bingham in a fairly close contest by a margin of 7-5, 6-2.

Women Called For

Women to serve as hostesses at the Santa Barbara U.S.O. are desperately needed, according to Mrs. John Reidell, head of the Junior Hostesses.

Since V-J day, many women have resigned and as a result there are not enough left to do an adequate job. Duties include dancing with the men, playing games, and the usual jobs connected with recreation work. College women over eighteen are needed, particularly on week nights.

Anyone interested may call the U.S.O., or call Mrs. Reidell at Wilson school.

W.A.A. Includes Play Days, Volleyball, and Hockey in Calendar

To reestablish the old tradition of tri-county high school play days which were discontinued because of the war, the W.A.A. board held their regular meeting, November 1.

Those high schools invited to attend are Antelope Valley, Arroyo Grande, Carpinteria, Fillmore, Lompoc, Nordoff of Ojai Valley, Oxnard, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, Santa Maria, Santa Paula, Santa Ynez, Ventura J. C., and Moor Park.

The play days will take place some time in March under the direction of the board. Lynn Edgerton will be stirring committee chairman; Barbara Webber, registration chairman; Jane Motter, games; Trudy Doerr, arrangements; A.W.S. entertainment; Rosie Seals, food; Dorothy Millsap, advertising; Peggy Ford, clean-up; Elaine Piper, check room; and Dorothy Kircher, officials.

Intra-mural volleyball season is now in progress with the sororities composing seven teams and the six Phrateres sub-chapters, the house teams.

GaUCHO Cagers Whip Marines

Scoring 20 points in the second half rally after holding a 16-15 margin at half time, the Gaucho cagers opened their season with a 36 to 26 victory over the Marines last Friday night on the community center court.

The score was tied 8-all at the end of the first quarter. Shortly after the second period opened, Ralph Keegan, forward, and Bob Casier, guard, scored field goals for the Gauchos to give them a 4-point edge. This lead was reduced to one point at the intermission.

Two minutes after the third quarter started, John Bey, Marine guard, tied the score at 17-all. The lead changed hands three times before the college quintet finally earned a 25-22 margin at the end of this period.

With the capacity crowd screaming madly, players from both teams missed easy shots in the first two minutes of the final quarter. At this point it looked like a thrilling finish was in sight, but the Gauchos went on a scoring spree to chalk up 11 counters while holding the Marines to a pair of field goals.

Bill Frear, Marine forward, was high scorer of the game with 14 points. Jim Minah, center, led the Gauchos with 11 counters, followed by Casier with eight, and Keegan and Binkley with five each.
