Music Week Observed by Students of Local Department

Music Week is being observed by the local music department by presentation of three concerts, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights. A recital by pianists Doris Holt and Betty Hendershot, and mezzo-soprano Jean Lewis is scheduled in the Music hall on Wednesday, May 8 at 8:15. The annual concert, but is combining with the Community orchestra in a concert at the Santa Barbara Junior High school Monday, May 6 at 8:15.

The college is cooperating with the public schools and the community in making Music Week outstanding. The emphasis for Music organization's Spring Concert is to be presented in the Riviera campus auditorium at 8:15 on Thursday, May 9. Organizations appearing are the Women's Glee club, the String Ensemble, the Treble Ensemble and the A Cappella choir. The college orchestra is not appearing in the this year is especially upon Music of the Americas. The Music organizations concert is almost exclusively programmed with music by American composers.

The A Cappella choir, reorganized this semester, is giving its first concert since the close of the war. Of especial interest to those enjoying current popular music will be their presentation of "It's a Grand Night for Singing" from the motion picture "State Fair", by Rogers in a special arrangement by Armand Jackson and Dr. Van A. Christy. Dr. Christy is the director of the A Cappella choir and the Women's Glee club, Mrs. Helen Barnett of the Treble Ensemble, and Mr. Edwin Jones of the String ensemble and the orchestra.

All concerts presented at the college during Music Week are open to the public free of charge.

Speech Festival Finals May 5

Finals in the annual Speech Festival, sponsored by the S.B.C. Speech department, will take place Sunday, May 5, from 12:30 to 3:30 at the Californian hotel.

The preliminaries were as follows: Monday, the Oratory, with Margaret Wheeler and Wallace Perry to vie in the finals; Tuesday, the After-Dinner Contest; Wednesday, the Extemporaneous; and Thursday, the Interpretives. Finalists in divisions other than the Oratory were not available at Gauchito press time.

Judges for the finals will include various members of the faculty and alumni of the Santa Barbara College Speech department.

Phrateres Group Has Beach Party

S.F.S., a sub-chapter of Phrateres held a wiener roast at East Beach, Thursday evening.

Games were played and plans were made for a trip to be taken to the college cabin.

The beach party was under the direction of Helen Ambroff, presi-

Revue Cast Starts Work

After completing a successful half-hour preview of the 1946 Roadrunner Revue over KDB the cast and producers started work on the stage performance which will be presented on the nights of May 15, 16 and 17.

Ticket sales started booming this week with the societies on the campus vying for two cups that will be awarded the organizations selling the most seats. The first days of selling have seen the tickets go like hot cakes so an early sell-out is indicated.

Supplementing the play rehearsals this week has been the transcribing of the hit songs of the show. These records will be played over the local radio stations and also over the public address system of the college.

Local bobby-soxers (as well as other music lovers) will be happy to hear that swooner-crooner Bob Sherman has been added to the long list of talent now on the program. Bob will warble an original tune written by one of the campus musicians.

Spanish Club Hears San Juan Lecture

Meeting of La Tertulia Spanish club was held at Mary Webb's home, 809 Moreno Road, on April 25. Guest speaker for the evening was Senor San Juan, who was formerly the director of the symphony orchestra in Cuba. He is, at present in Los Angeles, directing the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra in the Hollywood Bowl. His topic was 18th century music of Spain.

President Danny Alcala led informal discussion and a business meeting, following the talk. Plans were formulated for a Spanish dinner to be held on May 5th at the home of Mary Webb. It was also planned to attend the Cinco de Mayo celebration which is to be held at the court house in Santa Barbara. Senorita Ramelli is acting as club sponsor.

College Theater Gives Two One-Act Plays

Presentation of two one-act plays by the College Experimental Theater under the direction of Beth De Mers and Bob Clark will be made on May 23rd in the Riviera campus auditorium. Interpretive readings will also be included on the program.

Each semester this project is undertaken by the graduating seniors of the Speech department as the completion of their required speech activities.

Eugene O'Neill's "Ille" is under the direction of Beth De Mers, while Bob Clark is in charge of "The Proposal" by Anton Chekov. Casting has not been completed.

CO-ED DELEGATES MEET TO ORGANIZE HONORARY

A convention will be held this week-end to discuss a national junior honorary for women, the first of its kind in the United States. The convention is a follow-up on a convention held at the University of California at Los Angeles in January, at which time a draft was made for the constitution by the representatives from all colleges and universities in California. Sharon Smith, A.W.S. president, and Mariana Richardson, representing junior women, were delegates from this campus.

SHARON SMITH, A.W.S. President, who is general chairman of the Junior Convention to be held on this campus Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Delegates will arrive Friday evening. Seminars will begin Saturday at 10:00 and conclude at 5:00 on the college campus. A summary of the day's discussions will follow in the evening. The convention will climax Sunday at 1:00 p.m. Seminars will be under the co-chairmanship of the president of A.W.S. from U.C.L.A. and Miss Smith.

Members of the A.W.S. board will act as hostesses at the convention. Those participating in the events are: Kay Nordstrom, Gloria Rosi, Naomi Dyer, Patty Bates, Mary Ellen Roberts, Lynn Edgerton, Billie Kneeland, Reva Hansen, Jean Calderon, Patty Hodge and Kay Updegraff. Representatives of the junior women will assist in the discussions. Members of Las Espuelas will help with the preparations for the three days of convention.

Are You a Man Or a Mouse?

Men, what's the matter? Where are those beards that you're supposed to be cultivating? You mice—mouses—or what ever you're called—where are those "Mouse tags"? Show some spirit, and wear your beard . . . if you can't show off a beautiful face full of whiskers; then at least show that you CAN be a MAN and wear the "Mouse tag".

The last of the annual Hobo Brawls was held in May 1941, at Hendry's beach, and it was a huge success. This year the annual "Whiskerino" is being revived, and A.M.S. President Bob Elliott who is chairman of the affair announces that this Brawl will be bigger and better than in any past years.

The Brawl begins at 3:00 Friday afternoon, May 10th at Hendry's beach. Men are advised to wear their old clothes, and come prepared for an afternoon of sports activities: tug-of-war, relay races, handicaps, and swimming; and of course, a meal of immense proportions to satisfy the appetites worked up by these activities. There is no charge for anyone attending the event, but an A.M.S. card must be shown to be admitted to the Whiskerino games and dinner.

Those men who are REALLY MICE—hiding in men's clothing—the ones who don't wear their beard or a "mouse tag"—will receive justly meted-out punishment for their crime of lack of school spirit.

Social Committee Sponsors Picnic For Married Couples

All married members of the student body are cordially invited to a picnic at Oak Park on Sunday at 3:00 p.m. The affair is being sponsored by the Social Committee.

Arrangements have been made for children to be cared for by the college Red Cross unit with no additional charge to the ticket price of 50 cents. There will be square dancing, games and relays. Tickets may be purchased in the Student Body office. All old and new student body officers and faculty members are also invited to attend.

The Sig Alphas are in charge of games. Art Bazil will direct square dancing. Chi Delta Chi and Gamma Delta Chi sororities will serve. The Beta Sigs will put the park in order after the picnic.

ATTENTION MEN STUDENTS

An employment bureau has recently been installed in the Dean of Men's office, and men students are invited to list their names for part-time jobs. Heading the bureau is John York, student manager, who is in the office every afternoon. Hours during which men students may sign up for employment are now posted on the bulletin board outside Dean Jones' office, and men are requested to contact York any day next week if they are interested in after-school or weekend jobs.

Eye Ease...

... (Views of the Mesa)
By BERNI RUMACK

It never rains but it pours. And Mr. Griffin got soaked last week! About 4:30 one afternoon a tremendous truck carry machinery in from the wood shop. Mr. G. phoned his wife to let her know he would be an hour late or dinner. He was late all right. Didn't get to eat until 8:30. When the trucks pulled out, the woodshop possessed a 35-inch hand saw, (which is still outside, as it is too large to get through the door) a large jointer, a jig saw, small jig saw, shaper, cut-off saw, lathe, and three grinders. The shop is so crowded there is hardly room for students and lumber (that is, if we had any lumber).

From a "usually reliable source" comes our next tale. During the election, the poster of a certain attractive young lady candidate was in the foyer of the I. E. building. Her picture mounted on it disappeared. In other words, hooked, glommed, snatched. Did some eager beaver add it to his collection?

Me informant says no. It seems a young man and his spouse passed the poster, whereupon the y. m. commented upon the comeliness of said candidate. There followed certain warm words between the couple, whereupon said spouse whipped out a long nail file, and wham! No more picture. How jealous can we be? As I said, "it wasn't told to me, I only heard." Speaking of elections, the I. E. department will take an active part in the Student Council next semester. Congratulations are in order for Del Beissell, an I. E. man who was elected to the office of vice president. Yours truly will start his second year on the council, serving this time as senior class representative.

Another good man gone! What some people will do to get into the Budget Busters. Kidding aside, we attended a beautiful wedding Sunday. James Opperman was married to Betty Vanover in the rose garden of Westmont college.

This is to explain the happy expression on the visage of our friend Pat. He states that since the boys have returned from the service they are more cleanliness and orderliness-conscious. Very gratifying, yes indeed, very gratifying.

Things will be humming this summer. Mrs. Percival informs me that summer session enrollment will be larger than regular session enrollment. Summertime is a good time to get rid of some of those rough courses you've been worrying about. Six weeks and boom! it's over. Personally, we are of the school of thought that believes the six weeks should be spent on the beach or at Paradise (camp, that is). Anyway, catalogues are available at the Provost's office, if you're interested.

"The Fight for the OPA is Your Fight, Too!"

STUDENT VIEWS

... By Leonard Phillips

It is extremely ironical that the House of Representatives, the branch of the legislature that was designed to be the closer to the will of the people, has passed a bill in regard to the OPA that was never willed by the people or passed in their interest. The battle over this legislation is now resounding throughout the Senate, and the result of this conflict will incomparably affect our post-war economy. It is your fight too!

Campus Talk

The discussion I have heard on the campus indicates some fine thinking on this issue; most of the students seem to feel that OPA should stay. One doesn't have to be pulling down A's in Mr. Halterman's courses to understand that we must have an OPA and not the one envisioned by the House bill. However, in case there are any doubts in your mind here are a few thoughts that might sharpen up your thinking in this matter.

Veterans

The veterans have more invested in the hopes of post-war America than anyone else, and whether this country returns to the pre-'29 "Boom and Bust" type of economy or one that is relatively planned and controlled is largely dependent on the fate of the OPA. Chat Patterson, representing the American Veterans Committee, made this statement at the Senate hearing on the OPA bill:

"What good are disability pensions, living allotments, liberal loans, and other forms of financial assistance if the veteran can't buy anything with the money when he gets it?"

The Rest of Us

What holds true for our post-war economy with respect to the veteran also holds true for the rest of us. The married people on the campus will see the price rise in food attain sky-rocket like proportions, and similar effects will be felt in the cafeteria by us. This is what will happen if the food subsidies are terminated as provided in the present House bill. The present ceiling on '46 Ford super deluxe sportsman's convertible coupes is $1558; the ceiling on the same type of Mercury rests at $1764. How long will these reasonable prices exist if price control is dropped from all industries in the future that have reached their pre-war production level?

Bare in mind, however, that the population of the U. S. has been increased by 8 million and that the consumer is now in a better position to buy, both largely due to the war. These two factors will increase the nation's purchasing power over that which existed before the war, and in the absence of price control, they will mean an increase in prices resulting in greater inflation. This is what the bill before the Senate will mean.

The National Scene

If you take the word of Chester Bowles when he says that the present OPA legislation means the end of price control, (of all people, he should know), then you may ask, "What will be the consequences?" Well, here are a few: The government's food procurement program, which was launched to fulfill our food commitments abroad, will fold up because farmers will no longer sell their produce to the government when they can get greater profits in the consumer market.

The present wage structure rests on price-line that has been maintained by the OPA, and it will crumble when this price-line is taken away. The country will be immediately faced with a strike crises, and productivity will go to pot.

There will be a recurrence of the mistakes made after the last war in respect to price policy, and in so doing, we open a new era of "Boom and Bust" living with a devastating depression as its inevitable result. We cannot make the same mistakes again!

It Is Your Fight Too!

A great many of you are probably now saying, "Oh... hum... Yes, I think the OPA should stay, but what can I do about it?"

There are some of us on the campus that are going to send letters to Washington, and I understand that the local Veterans Committee has already done so.

There is no reason why all of us cannot do the same thing. A letter with your arguments why the bill should be amended in order to save the OPA will be satisfactory. It is your fight too!

Tri Beta Elects New Officers

Members of Tri Beta, a national honorary biological science fraternity, met at the home of Dr. Noble, 1250 Dover Lane, April 25th.

At that time, the following officers were elected, Virginia Richter, president; Ed Corrison, vice president; Margaret Lane, secretary; and Dorothy Millsap, historian.

Plans were discussed for a final formal dinner to be given this semester for fraternity members.

Recently, Dr. Barbara Blanchard, Margaret Lane, Carol Scalapino and Cecile Simms became full members of Tri Beta.

New provisional members include Barbara Cooke, Edwin Corrison, Bob Bailey, John Randall, Colleen Sears and Dorothy Walton.

Petitions Signed for Sports Amendments

Petitions circulated throughout the campus this week have gained over 200 signatures, sufficient to place the following amendments before the student body for a vote as to whether they will be incorporated in the college constitution:

1. Article III, Section 5b, to be changed by the addition of the word "tennis" to read as follows:

"The following shall be recognized as major sports: football, basketball, baseball, track, and tennis."

2. Article III, Section 5c to be changed by the deletion of the words "handball", "volleyball", "softball", and "tennis", to read as follows:

"The following shall be considered minor sports: badminton, boxing, cross-country, fencing, golf, gymnastics, rugby, swimming and wrestling."

Wandering Reporter

"Peg" Wells

Question of the week: "What is your opinion of the present form of honor code?"

LOUIS WARSH: The honor code does not work.

CHARLIE ROBERSON: I think it's unfair to everyone. If it worked, I'd be in favor of it.

BEVERLY SMALL: The honor code needs more publicity. I don't believe the students understand the program.

KENNY AINGE: It's a good idea, but it doesn't work; the students don't cooperate.

DORIS SAVERUD: Students of college level should be able to take an examination without violating the honor code—but can they?

ARNOLD HARGIS: I approve of the honor code. If a student is going to cheat, he will, regardless of honor code or aculty supervision. The majority of G.I.'s work better without dictatorial supervision.

ELEANOR ZANKICH: I think it's terrible. It isn't handled right.

NEIL UNDERWOOD: I think instructors should stay, but not as policemen.

DANNY ALCALA: The honor code can become a fine thing, but we students have to cooperate.

LARRY DUDLEY: It's a farce because it penalizes the honest student.

Intramural Finals Set in Badminton

Finals matches in the annual intramural badminton tournament whose 74 entries demonstrated increased popularity of the sport in student circles, will be played during the coming week on the men's gym court at hours to be posted on the sports bulletin board, according to announcement today by Coach Terry Dearborn, tournament director.

Meeting for the men's doubles championship will be the teams of Mal Morehouse and Bob Elliott against "Pinky" Mohr and Bob Stansbury. Mixed doubles will see Morehouse and Joan Anderson pitted against Warren Finley and Pat Barnes. Women's doubles brings Miss Anderson and Annabel Blue up against Mary Lou Lewis and Elda Tonello. Women's singles contest will be between the winner of "Kit" Carson and Miss Blue and Miss Anderson and Lida Watson. Men's singles finds Ralph Webster in the finals, to meet the winner of David Lewis vs. the winner of Morehouse and Jerry Gellatt.

Trophies for the winners of the several events are being underwritten by the A.M.S. and will be presented at the awards assembly late in May.

To the Editor

Culminating a desire in many of the returning veterans at Santa Barbara College, a club to be known as the "Student Veterans" received its charter from the Activities Control Board last week, after submitting its constitution for approval.

Fostering the principles and ideals of promoting recreational facilities and stimulating an interest in college activities, this new organization hopes to offer an opportunity to the student veterans to take an active part in college life.

The constitution, drawn up by the organizing committee and approved at their second meeting Wednesday, April 10, provides for the maintenance of improved relations between the veteran at Santa Barbara and the college administration.

Dr. William F. Aggler, Assistant Professor of Foreign Languages, unanimously elected sponsor of the "Student Veterans" says, "This organization should, with the cooperation and support of its members, offer much to the veterans in the way of recreational enjoyment for themselves as well as the college." Dr. Aggler has served in World War II himself.

A meeting of all interested veterans, both men and women, will be held in the near future to read the constitution and accept members. Time and place of regularly scheduled meetings will be announced later.

Members of the organizing committee consist of C. W. Roberson, acting chairman, Guy Exon, Wes Gray, Al Schab, Don Brown, and Ralph Eckles. This committee together with Dr. Aggler, sponsor, and Dean Paul A. Jones, Dean of Men, drew up and adopted the constitution.

With the influx of returning veterans to Santa Barbara College there has been a desire in many of these men and women to get together with other veterans and college students, make new friends and become acclimated to the college activities. And it is only natural and right that they should enter into this college spirit. But has such spirit been aroused?

In the service, these men didn't have the opportunity to enjoy the kind of life to which they were accustomed. They had to resort to USO's, or other similar activities if they were available, or, as in many cases, patronize the local taverns for entertainment.

The need now is in a sense similar to the one that existed in the service, that is the need for recreational facilities and social contacts. This need is not as great for those who are acquainted or who live in Santa Barbara, nor for those members of fraternities and active organizations. But a good many students here are from out-of-town. These veteran students are the ones who desire to establish contacts and enjoy their college life.

Such is the aim and purpose of the "Student Veterans", the newly organized club for Santa Barbara College veteran students. There has been a desire for such an organization for many months. It is a club with a two-fold need: need for support of the veterans and need for recreation by the veterans.

Similar clubs have been organized on the U. C. Campus at Berkeley and Los Angeles. The need for organizations such as these will be even greater as more and more men and women turn to college from the service. It deserves our support.

Ralph Eckles.

"Sports in Shorts"

Defeat was again inevitable for the Gaucho nine when they encountered the Whittier Poets, last Friday afternoon at Pershing Park and were thrown for a loss to the count of 6-3.

In the opening inning Saenz made two costly errors. Hall plastered a ground ball to Eddie and on the pick-up the ball was fumbled. This gave the Poets a man on first.

Walker was the next batter driving the ball down to shortstop Saenz who came across to make the play but again was unable to make the pick-up. This put the Poets in a position to score and Chuka, Poet pitcher, came through with a smashing fly ball out of the park, scoring Walker.

The Gauchos took over at the plate, but were unable to see the pitching of Joe Chuka. It was one, two, three, Steinberg, Wallace and Elliott were struck out. It looked to me as if Joe Chuka had something on the ball. He staged a fine ball game on the mound for the opponents.

Keffritch got a little wild in the third inning, hitting the first two men up to bat. This put two men on base and gave the Poets another chance to score. This they did, with Chuka bringing one of the men home on a single. As a whole, Kelfritch pitched a fair game, but what's the matter with Keegan?

The ninth inning showed lots of fire by both teams and a probable upset. The ball game isn't over for the Gauchos until the last minute of the last inning. I have found this to be true before. Whittier took the power in batting in the first half of the ninth, securing three hits and two runs. In the last half of the ninth and final inning, the Gauchos began to get that much needed spark could have been used earlier in the game. Steinberg singled to left field and was followed by Shipman's single to center field. An error on the part of the Poets on Fisher's grounder filled the bases. At this point of the game anything could happen with the unpredictable nine at bat.

If only we could have had another batter like our "Iron Man" Eddie Saenz. Eddie went to the plate and made a single bringing

Final Home Tilt For Hardermen Scheduled Today

On the victory trail and fresh from a 7 to 3 win over Fresno State college, the Santa Barbara Gauchos has its last home game of the season today at Pershing Park.

Monday's double-header was one of the best days ball games yet played. In the first game, a seven hit contest was pitched by Ralph Keegan, a steady man who has been pitching high caliber ball, only to lose due to poor support in hitting. The Gauchos made seven hits, left twelve men on base and lost 1 to 0 in nine innings, faulty base running being a factor in the loss of a few needed runs.

In the second game of the afternoon, the Gaucho nine suddenly came to life after twelve games of slumbering hibernation. Carl Fisher clubbed the ball out of the lot, hitting the car-barn outside of the left field fence. Two innings later, not to be outdone, Bob Elliott also hit his second homer of the year as he sent a well-hit ball high over the left field wall.

The San Diego game Saturday at San Diego will be the finale of the season as the game with U.S.C. has been cancelled. The last home game should be well supported by the student body as the team is playing it's best ball of the year.

Loyolans Billed for Saturday Net Tilt

The Gaucho netmen lost two matches in the double dual collegiate meet held here last Saturday, 0-6 to Fresno State, and by the same score to San Diego State college. Fresno deflated San Diego 4-2 in the same contest. Gaucho Larry Wathey proved to be "iron man" of the day, playing eleven sets in the long-winded tourney.

Next Saturday Coach Dearborn's racketmen are set to meet Loyola University here in a return match in which they will work to duplicate their 5-0 victory over the Lions of four weeks ago. The Gaucho sextet is expected to be made up of Juan Solis, Alan Cobbe, Larry Wathey, Stanford Bingham, John Sanders and Joel Andrews.

Coach Dearborn announces that the Junior Chamber of Commerce is extending a concession to Gaucho tennis fans in the half-price student rate to attend the professional tennis matches of "Big Bill" Tilden, Kovacs, Perry, Mako and company being held May 1st through May 5th at the local tennis stadium.

GaUCHO Trackmen Defeat Aztecs in Three-way Meet

By defeating the San Diego Aztecs 69½ to 60½ and losing to the San Jose Spartans 90 to 41, Coach Carter's trackmen broke even in the three way duel meet at the La Playa Stadium last Saturday. San Jose State was the top squad Saturday, by also defeating San Diego State by a score of 83½ to 47½ points. The best performance of the afternoon was San Jose's Likins whose javelin throw of 200 feet 3½ inches distinguishes him as one of the best in the country.

Smally of San Jose ran a fast 10 flat in the 100 yard dash and won the 220, timed at 22.2 seconds.

San Diego's Rice must be mentioned. His time of 10:07.4 in the 2 mile is as good as, probably better than, any clocked so far on the coast this year.

In the shotput, Ed Grabast did very well even with a bad leg. He came from behind and won the event with his last put. His third in the discus was rather remarkable as his throw was his best so far in competition.

Bob Sherman was high point man against San Diego, while Cole took the honors against San Jose. Sherman is still coming up with the javelins. His 177 foot 11½ inch throw is his best. Bob took three first places against San Diego including the javelin, the high hurdles, and the lows.

Cole looked his usual best by tying for first in both the mile and in the high jumps. His time for the mile—4:44.6 was very good and compiled with the fact that this was his first mile in competition makes his performance as very notable.

Sam Cathcart looked very good in what was next to the mile, the best race of the afternoon. That is the 440.

Matthews won the pole vault against San Jose and tied for first against San Diego. The winning height was 11 feet 6 inches.

Patton, while still weak from a cold, came through very well against San Diego by taking 3 second places in the broad jump, the discus and the 100.

Coach Carter's trackmen rest this weekend but next Saturday, May 11, will have their hands full during the All-Conference meet in San Jose in which the following schools participate: San Jose State, Fresno State, San Diego State, and U. of C. at Santa Barbara.
