Of course he was going to quarrel. That is more powerful than they.

It would be a spirit of friendliness among the dancers that is sometimes needed for a day that follows a holiday for the college. These two affairs are important yet it is hardly fair to expect the out-of-town man who comes, after something, of that sort had occurred? Hardly.

Support of the team has been drooled into the minds of everybody. Many men and women will be in town, finding themselves unable to return to their homes for the Armistice Day. This proves conclusively the merit of the team that helps make it the team of the Santa Barbara State college. A few mistakes do not tear down the real worth of anything, team man.

Tomorow, the people in the bleachers will see the Roadrunners not without the driving force of a team that is more powerful than they.

It is as difficult for the students to have two events featured for a day that follows a holiday for the college. These two affairs are important, yet it is hardly fair to expect the out-town students to return to go home if they have the opportunity to do so. It will be too great a sacrifice to be expended on them if they do.

In the space reports that are given out, San Diego ought to defeat the Roadrunners by four or five touchdowns. Hereafter, however, the Aztecs have been unable to score more than one or two touchdowns over their home town.

This proves conclusively the merit of the team that helps make it the team of the Santa Barbara State college. A few mistakes do not tear down the real worth of anything, team man.

The Administration building will soon be completed externally, with grading work nearly completed and shrub planting to take place soon. On the north side of the building a long shaded walk is planned with fawn and shrubs on each side.

The road in front of the building will be started soon. The work of grading the Seaboge road leading up from Alameda Padre Serra street will entail considerable labor, and will be done either by contract or day labor.

OTHER SONG STORIES DISCOVERED BY EAGLE

"Oh, Lady, Vi, I have a peach of an idea for your story song collection. D'ye know that song, 'Memories?' I don't know who wrote it, but I think it's a beauty."

"Memories'? There are several songs by that title."

"I don't mean the popular ones. That's just the old tune. It goes this way—ta—ta, ta—ta. Get the idea?"

"Oh, sure; I remember now. Quick, tell me more."

"Here it is—"

"Memories, memories."

A young man was sitting under the bare, gnarled grapesvines that covered the small out-door dining room. It had been a long time since he realized that there might be gay and beautiful and sumptuous in the summer after old Mother Nature had finished decorating it in the height of festivity.

But now it looked old and lonely. The old man looked old—lonely, too. He had been rather unkempt along the edges. It had been melancholy tidy—before.

"Dreams of it are very much different than last year's, aren't they?"

A young girl, dressed as grandmother dressed when she was going to the grocery store. Her father, so she was not grand­father. That crease out of respect, and a frown lighting it, she extended her hands, but it was not the old man who took them.

"O'er the sea of memory I'm drifting back to you."

It was a young man, a hand­some, staidly fellow who clasped them in his hand. He called her close so that their joyous meeting might not disturb the legionnaire, gray­haired beings who looked upon them with a stony vise.

Childhood days, wildwood days. Among the bird and bees—

Two small pattering feet sent the fowls scurrying. Two small voices, small but lusty in their tips of welcome to the feathered and furry and gassy and bony inhabitants of the woods. It had treated the night before, and the boy carried in one hand two baskets. The other hand held one of hers, feebly intertwining a square.

A blit, a cloud enveloped the two voice-free clasps. The old man stirred, and wavering, palsied two care-free children. The old man had a shaggy brow, and the boy carried in one harp! two baskets. The other hand held one of hers, feebly intertwining a square.

She: "Have you been reading any stories lately?"

Her: "Yes; got a letter from my husband this morning."

Dr. Carson: "What is matter?"

Jim Poole (waking up): "Noth­ing's the matter.

Oito: "Say, that's a fast looking car you have there. What's the best you ever got out of it?"

Dan: "Five times a mile."

Teacher: "Name five animals that are found in the Arctic."

Boy: "Polar bears and one seal."

Edie: "Is that all?"

Clerk: "That's our business, Eddie. Well, you take care not to get so fresh about it."

ALPHA THETA CHI ENTERTAIN AT TEA

"Women members of the faculty and all active members of the sororities on the campus were entertained at tea Sunday afternoon by the Alpha Theta Chi sorority. The tea was held at the home of Miss Charlotte Bellman, 1912 State Street."

Mrs. Dudley DuGrort and Mrs. L. Peetier were honored as representatives of the homemakers sorority. Autumn was the motif for the decorations. A musical program was arranged for the guests. The verses for the afternoon were; Miss Hazel Sevry, sponsor of the Alpha Theta Chi sorority; Margaret Gammon, Marjorie Swayne, Marion Davidson, Lois Thurmood, Charlotte Bellman, Eleanor Hicks, Elinor Gifford, Pearl Crawford, Helen Campbell, Margaret Pat­rick.

Glee Club Memorizes Songs for Their Trip

Up to date the men's glee club has a total of five songs partially memorized.

The titles and composers of some of these songs were arranged by Fred H. Hantsly; "Dancing," by Harry Rose Shelly; "Bangle Song," by Dudley Buck; "California Lullaby," by Bruce Ryder; and "Mosquitoes," by Paul Bliss.

The above mentioned are only a few of the songs which will make up the program to be given on the actual glee club tour. The program of this year's trip will be much different than last year's, inasmuch as there will be more spirit and frivolity in the last part of it.
