MUSIC FESTIVAL SUNDAY

'Three Dimensions of Music' Discussion; Three Concerts Highlight Annual Program

by Bruce Batchelder

Three concerts and a panel discussion highlight the sixth annual Contemporary Music Festival at UCSB, beginning Sunday afternoon and concluding Tuesday night. The festival is under the direction of Dr. Roger Chapman of the UCSB music department.

Sunday afternoon's 4 p.m. performance is in the choral room of the music building. Eight students will perform solo, vocal and piano works.

Sunday night at 8:30 p.m. the Modern Chorale and an accompanying seven-piece string ensemble, under the direction of Dr. Van Christy will perform in the choral room.

Three Dimensions

"The Three Dimensions of Music: Composer, Performer, Listener" is the topic for a panel composed of Professor Halsey Stevens, Aldous Huxley and Lucas Foss. The panel will be held in the campus auditorium.

The final concert Tuesday night will be performed by the combined glee clubs under the direction of Dr. Chapman. All of the performances are free to the public.

'Sonata for Trombone'

Featured in Sunday afternoon's presentation will be Monique Charland at the piano and John Pleasant who will play "Sonata For Trombone."

Monday's music panel features two authorities in the world of music. Professor Stevens has taught music composition at USC for nine years.

Distinguished Panel

Pianist-conductor Foss has simultaneously conducted and played piano for the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra in a Mozart concerto last month.

The third member of the panel is the distinguished Aldous Huxley whose universality in the arts qualifies him as a panelist.

The Modern Chorale will do

Hindemith's "In Praise of Music." Also on the Sunday evening program is the UCSB string trio which won first place at the Coleman Chamber Music Audition. The trio is composed of Don McInnes, violin, Marilyn Mack, piano and Sue Swift, cello.

Tuesday night's finale will include Zoltan Kodaly's "Te Deum" by the combined glee clubs. The first half of the program is constituted of various individual and small group originalities.

GAUCHO SENIORS

Gauche seniors Ray Ward, John Geoghaghan and Bruce Loeb were awarded $2,600 Coro Foundation public affairs scholarships last week, it was announced by the Coro Foundation.

The scholarship covers nine months of internship. The men will work with organized labor, management, public administration and city government in a program designed to train students for public life.

Ward will attend the San Francisco branch office while Loeb and Geoghaghan will be located in the Los Angeles area.

The winners were selected from applicants of colleges and universities throughout the state. Approximately 20 interns are selected every year by the Coro staff.

Ward served as editor of El

EDITOR DEADLINE

Signups for editor's positions on next year's UCSB publications close Tuesday, May 12. Jobs open include editor, news editor, editorial director and sports editor of El Gaucho and editor of La Cumbre and the student directory.

The editors will be picked by the Press Control Board. The PCB's recommendation is subject to final approval of Council.

Move to Eliminate Barbary Coast Nixed by Council

Attempts to limit major AS social activities such as Barbary Coast and Spring Sing and to separate the Galloping Gaucho Review from Homecoming were defeated at the Tuesday Legislative Council meeting.

The discussion on eliminating one of the major activities from the social calendar was prompted by Council advisor Dr. Robert Kelley at the meeting two weeks ago.

Dr. Kelley informed Council that various faculty members felt the preparation for the major activities drew heavily on the students time. He also stated that Barbary Coast is becoming a discipline problem.

However, Council defeated a motion to drop Barbary Coast for the following reasons. 1) Groups are not compelled to participate. 2) Barbary Coast and other activities have become traditions. 3) Council should not drop major activities without consulting the students.

A compromise motion to allow participation in either Spring Sing or Barbary Coast was also defeated, as was a move to hold the GGR before the Holiday basketball tournament later in the year.

In other action Council passed bylaw changes concerning awards in speech and music. The legislators also brought various elections regulations up to date.

CHAIRMAN JOBS SIGNUPS BEGIN

Applications for next year's board and committee chairmanships are now available in the AS office, announced Guy Shipp AS president-elect.

Signups will close Friday, May 15. Interviews will begin Saturday, May 16. The new chairmen will be announced by Shipp Tuesday, May 19.

According to the new constitutional amendment passed last week the AS president appoints the new chairmen with Council's approval.

Committee positions open are assembly, awards, charities, finance, publicity, rally, social, standards, special events and student union.

Board posts are activities, athletic and recreation control boards.

Housing Construction On and Off-Campus To Provide Room For 1,000 More Students

Over 1,000 new students can be added to the present UCSB quota next year because of housing facilities both on-campus and off-campus which are scheduled to be completed by the opening of the fall semester.

On campus the new Anacapa Hall will open its doors to 420 new men students. For the spring semester, Santa Cruz Hall will provide additional housing for 420 women. This will bring the total to 1,700 students living on campus.

Recently ground was broken in Isla Vista for a $1,000,000 studio apartment project designed to house 334 students. The apartments will be named Villa del Sur and are located on Camino del Sur Road.

Isla Vista's Largest

This will be the largest project of its kind in the Isla Vista area, containing almost as many students as a residence hall. Approved by the housing office, the apartments will be staffed by a resident manager and his wife and will have accommodations for junior and senior women in one area and for men students in another.

The two-story construction will have in each unit two bedrooms on the second floor above the kitchen and dining units. Each apartment will have one and a half baths.

Private Patios Offered

Every unit will have its own walled private patio. Four large areas have been reserved for lawn which the residents can use for recreation areas or sunbathing.

All walls between apartments have been soundproofed. There will be a laundry room and enclosed yards for drying clothes. Rates in the new apartments will be $212.50 per semester per student. Four students will share an apartment.

Women's Hall

A privately operated women's residence hall located within walking distance of the campus will also open next fall. It will accommodate 120 women. Freshmen and sophomore women are eligible to live in this supervised hall.

Many other apartment houses are being built much smaller in size and will be ready by fall for occupancy by students.

"A BAWD, A BAWD, A BAWD, SO HO!" Mercutio cries as he jestingly raises the skirt of the indignant nurse in the UCSB production of Romeo and Juliet which will conclude its eight-day run tonight and tomorrow night. Gail Anderson plays the Nurse and Robert Crumb is the fun-loving Mercutio. Also starring in the play are Julie Felix as Juliet, Fred Vesper as Romeo and Dr. Theodore Hatlen as Friar Laurence. The production has played to a full house each night of the run and the same is expected for the last two evenings. —Photo by Bob Quittner

THE COPY CAT...

We're "in" with the little man who spins records on KDB's morning show. Every Friday he says to his listeners, "TGIF and FTIS!!" The latter puzzled us so we called to be informed. It means "Fortunately tomorrow is Saturday!" and every week this time we agree, we agree, we agree.

The Copy Cat was excused from the last two issues to make room for the exclusive coverage of the election. Now that the results have been tabulated—congratulations to all the winners—by the way we can catch up on the non-political activities around campus... We are in agreement with the critic (who will go unnamed in this column) who raved over "Romeo and Juliet." Julie Felix would be a perfect lead in a campus production of "Carmen" but she performed convincingly in the role of gentle Juliet... We missed the Aquacade, but the rainy weather didn't... Competing with the crickets tomorrow night at the Santa Barbara Bowl will be all of the excited, song-happy, text-book-forgotten Gauchos making their annual pilgrimage to spring by way of SPRING SING.

FORMALS: The Lambda Chis joined fraternity brothers from SC, UCLA and San Diego last Saturday night at the Mar Monte Hotel for their annual Cross and Crescent Formal. Theta Chris Anderson was named "Crescent Girl" and for the honor received the perpetual trophy from local chapter president Doug Schmidt... Kappa Alpha Thetas held their dance Saturday night at Hidden Valley Inn... PINNINGS: Phi Psi Roland Cardobes and DG Kay Hubbell and Lambda Chi Sam Cooper and Bonnie Chaffee: The Triangle fraternity men from UCLA drove up Monday night to serenade ADPi Margie Schuster who recently announced her pinning to Gene Rosholt... Congratulations to Phi Psi Joe Kimbro and Mildred McKinley on their recent engagement... The ADPi's left the cobwebs where they were, lit a few candles, turned up the hi-fi and threw open the cellar doors recently for a Beatnik party with the Lambda Chi's that would make Eric Nord up at North Beach wonder if he were still "in". Poetry to jazz, Blabbermouth sessions and Mike and Elaine were on the Cellar's entertainment program.

Spectrum On Sale Monday; Features 4 Student Stories

The spring-summer Spectrum, UCSB's literary magazine, goes on sale in front of the Library from Monday until Friday for 35c. After Friday the magazine will be sold in the student bookstore and in most bookstores in Santa Barbara for 50c.

Four student short stories are featured in Spectrum. Lawrence Thronton's The Vocation concerns a young man who enters a monastery in order to escape the confines of worldly life, but finds further restrictions within the monastery.

The Kiss, by Georgia Pearce, is the story of an office accountant in London, whose greatest adventure is a kiss.

Irresponsible Americans

Also set in London is Kerry Gough's Barbara, Are You Grieving? This is a slightly bawdy, slightly tragic tale of two irresponsible young Americans and their relationships with English women.

A parakeet and several drunks in a bar are the characters in a story which ends violently. Entitled The Parakeet, it is by Tom Chamberlain.

Kappa Sigma Crowned As Intramural Track Champion

by Jerry Patch, Sports Writer

Kappa Sigma Fraternity maintained its stretch drive to overhaul frontrunning Sigma Alpha Epsilon in the race for the all-school sports trophy by posting a first in the annual campus intramural track and field meet last Monday afternoon.

The Kappa Sigs walked off with six blue ribbons from the meet's fifteen events en route to rolling up a winning score of 41½ points, 11 digits better than the second-place East Beach Athletic Club's final total of 30.

John Stoney and Jerry Mullin paced the winners with two first-place finishes apiece; Stoney in the 100 and 220 and Mullin in the 380 and mile run. Stoney checked in with good times of 10.4 and 23.4 in the sprints.

Individual honors for the meet went to Roger Wells of Lambda Chi Alpha, who compiled 13 points during the afternoon to pick off all but four of his team's fourth-place total. LONG BEACH HOSTS CONFERENCE NET, GOLF CHAMPIONSHIPS TODAY

The curtain falls on the final appearance of both the University of California, Santa Barbara tennis and golf teams this afternoon at Long Beach St.

The Gaucho netmen will wind up their two-day CCAA eliminations with the championship round, while the conference golfing crown goes up for grabs on the 49er course starting at 1 p.m. today.

Veteran Pat Mackinga, Don Wise, Al Gillespie and Don Kelliher top Coach "Doc" Kelliher's Gaucho entry list for today's tourney.

Two of the league's three southern schools, Los Angeles St. and San Diego St., figure to take care of most of the noise in this afternoon's net finals, while Coach Ray Thornton's Gauchos went into yesterday's action as the tourney darkhorse off of a strong finish in match play.

UCSB's hopes will rest on the services of the top four players on the Gaucho ladder, Chuck Neubauer, Phil McMullen, John Zellhoefer and Jack Knudson. These four will also handle the doubles chores for Santa Barbara.

Fresno St., with only three seasonal losses and a clean sweep against its CCAA opponents, goes to the starting gate as the odds-on favorite in the golfing competition.

The University of California, Santa Barbara track and field forces will return to Fresno's Ratcliffe Stadium, the scene of last Saturday's conference finals, for their next-to-last outing tomorrow night.

Coach Nick Carter has entered several of his outstanding Gaucho spikers in the 33rd running of the annual West Coast Relays, which will be the final stepping stone to the last meet on the 1959 schedule, the Redlands Invitational spikefest next weekend.

Carter will not take his entire team, which ended in a tie with Cal Poly as the third best cinder squad in the conference, to the "Raisin City" however and early this week was undecided on his possible entries. A probable list of UCSB performers includes Don Kelliher and Dave Mead, javelin; Coyt Davis and freshman Joe Taylor, hurdles and a mile relay team most likely composed of Dave Boraker, Jim Law, Roland Cordobes and Bernie Weiner.

Gaucha Nine Tests Mustangs Today, Bulldogs Here for Twin Bill Tomorrow

by Tom Morgan, Sports Editor

Mired deep in the California Collegiate Athletic Association cellar, the University of California, Santa Barbara baseball Gauchos go looking for some help from the law of averages this afternoon.

There will be plenty of activity on tap for local diamond fans this weekend, what with rival Cal Poly moving in for a single game today and Fresno St.'s impressive Bulldogs, hoping for a slice of the conference title, arriving tomorrow for a doubleheader.

This afternoon's festivities are scheduled to get under way at 3 p.m. on the campus field, while the lid will be popped on tomorrow's twin bill at 1 p.m.

The Gauchos close out the 1959 season Tuesday when they make up a rained-out doubleheader with Long Beach St.

Santa Barbara has dropped ten straight conference contests without a win, and there is only a slight flicker of hope for the Gauchos to escape from the basement, every other team in the league having won at least five games.

So about all that Santa Barbara can hope for in its final five outings will be to play the role of "spoiler" and try to jam things up in the upper half of the standings where San Diego St., Los Angeles St. and Fresno are knocking heads for the loop leadership as conference play heads into its final week.

Coach Rene Rochelle's UCSB crew, already absorbing its share of injuries and personnel losses this season, was further depleted this week when veteran right-hander Jim Hezlep was forced to quit due to doctor's orders.

Hezlep sustained an elbow injury and in order to prevent possible permanent damage, submitted his resignation.

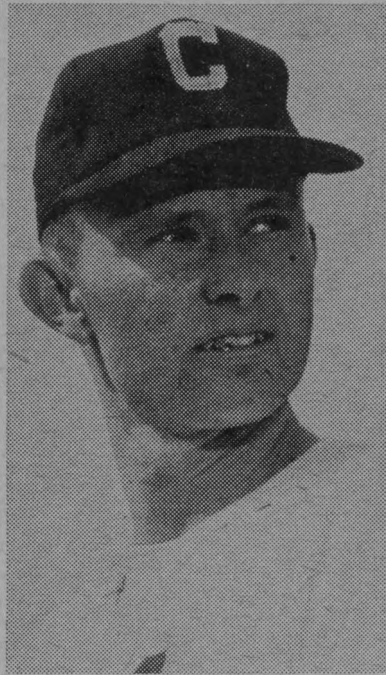

Rochelle will be going with somewhat of a makeshift lineup and "new blood" for the weekend games, with Rich Gunner, of outfield fame, scheduled to open on the mound this afternoon. Gunner was impressive in a relief role at Cal Poly last weekend and Rochelle is counting on the stocky righthander to fill the gap in the Gaucha mound corps.

Tentative plans call for Ron Huesser, who has been Mr. Versatility for the Gauchos this season, to get the starting assignment in the opener Saturday, with Bill Wetzel slated to toe the slab for the seven-inning nightcap. With the above-mentioned pitching rotation, UCSB will have capable Jim Escareno in the bullpen in case of emergency.

Off of a sparkling performance last weekend behind the plate, Ned Permenter, an all-conference selection last season as a second baseman, will start at catcher today, with Huesser taking over for Permenter at third base. Ron Williams at shortstop, Bill Shortell at second base and Duke Ellington at first base will round out the starting Gaucha infield.

JACK-OF-ALL-TRADES—Ron Huesser, who will start at third base in this afternoon's game against Cal Poly, will be on the mound in the first game of tomorrow's doubleheader with Fresno St. Ron, who started as a catcher this season, has been a main cog in the Gaucha baseball machine this season with his timely hitting and versatility. —Photo by Bob Quittner

BILL WETZEL is slated to hurl the second half of tomorrow's twin bill against Fresno St.

HUGE VOTE HEALTHY SIGN . . .

Student government at UCSB is very much alive. The largest vote in Gaucho history, 1,343, or about 65% of those eligible, shows that interest in student politics is on the upswing.

The number of votes cast in last week's election is an increase of almost 500 over last year's figure. Should this trend continue it is interesting to speculate about some possible political changes.

Heretofore it has been a well known fact that candidates cannot win a major office without the Greek vote—the exceptions have been rare enough to remember.

An examination of the rough voting statistics in this year's election reveals that now, for the first time, it is possible to win without Greek support.

RHA Gaining

While the Greeks still remain the largest single voting bloc (despite a smaller membership) with 475 votes cast, the RHA were a close second with 460 and surprisingly enough the non-affiliated students ran a respectable third with 345.

What's more, the trend away from Greek voting domination promises to continue. With more students living on campus starting next year, the RHA could become the major group for candidates to win.

Non-Greek Prexy

For the first time in many years the AS president-elect is not an active Greek. While Guy Shipp formerly belonged to the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, he has been inactive this year.

The fact that most of the other elected officers are Greeks indicates that the RHA and non-affiliated students still have a long way to go to match the fraternities and sororities in active interest in student affairs.

Voting percentage is usually a reliable sign of interest in community government.

Last week students let it be known in no uncertain terms that interest in student government at UCSB is healthy.

Far East's Population Boom Is Big Western Headache

Overpopulation in the Far East, a big problem today, will be even bigger tomorrow, says Dr. Charles McClintock, psychology professor at UCSB and member of the TEMPO team of social and physical scientists who forecast economic, technological, social and political changes.

In a published report, "The Demography of the Asian 'Big Three,'" which McClintock recently completed for TEMPO, the psychologist evaluated a statistical study of the populations of China, Japan and India.

Few Resources

"The United Nations has forecast that the population of Japan in 1970 will be 109 million," points out McClintock. "Population growth, when related to Japan's all-too-limited resources (land, agriculture, raw materials, etc.), acts as an impediment to her achieving industrial status."

In regard to China, the report states that "the United Nations has projected China's 1970 population at 799 million. China will be forced more and more to obtain outside aid to move forward industrially."

Look to Russia

"The most likely place China will look for this aid is Russia. It seems likely that the rapidity, perhaps even the success, of China's industrialization will rest with the U.S.S.R.'s willingness to give economic aid to China during the next 20 years of demographic, social and economic crises."

McClintock points out that much of the world's future may rest upon the nature of the relationship between China and the U.S.S.R.

India

The TEMPO report goes on to show that the "UN has projected a population for India in 1970 of 504 million. Population will continue to be one of the major impediments—an increasing one—to India's achieving her five-year plans for socio-economic progress."

"It will also make India more and more dependent upon external aid. On the basis of population alone, it seems likely that the Western world, particularly the U.S., will be compelled in future years to increase considerably its economic support of India."
