

Galloping Gaucho Cagers Tangle With Twentieth Century Fox, Pepperdine

Local Casabamen Express Desire to Balance Books With Hollywood Unit

All primed to knock over the vaunted Twentieth Century Fox quintet and the fast-breaking Pepperdine hoopsters who gave the locals "nuttin' but trouble" in their recent southland encounter, "The Chief," Coach Willie Wilton prepares to send his Green and White cagers into battle backed with an impressive half-season record of six wins and one defeat.

However, the Gauchos will have a chance to balance their 50-47 defeat Saturday night at the National Guard armory when they meet the Fox aggregation. Santa Barbara's loss to the Hollywood team was no disgrace as the local quintet held a 27-19 lead at half time and maintained a slight margin until the closing minutes of play. The Fox team, which is one of the strongest forces in the United States and won the A.A.U. tournament two years ago, displayed their championship ability in the final stages of the game to win.

Lanky Harvey Hubler, sophomore center, will probably be given the job of guarding Frank Lubin, Twentieth Century's scoring ace. This All-American center chalked up 16 points against Santa Barbara last week, using his 6-foot, 6½ inches in height to a good advantage on tip-in shots.

Although Lubin was high point man, the Gauchos will also have to watch two other former U.S.C. stars, Len Berg, forward, and Art Moellner, guard. Berg was especially effective in the closing minutes of the game last week, scoring two important field goals to help his team chalk up a 50 to 47 victory.

Local fans will also get a chance to see Pepperdine and Santa Barbara in action in a two-game series next Tuesday and Wednesday evening at the armory.

Pepperdine college boasts a fast and tricky squad, and will be gunning to upset the locals in revenge for their one point defeat last week, 40-39.

Coach Wilton will start Bill Leveille and Bob Sherman, forwards; Harvey Hubler at center; and Don Druliner and Dick Rider at guards. Certain also to see action will be Lefty Thomas and Bill Cohee, substitute forwards.

Leveille and Sherman are the Gaucho's leading scorers to date, with the other three members of the first team, Rider, Hubler and Druliner, also contributing several points to Santa Barbara's total.

Leveille led the Gauchos to victory over Pepperdine scoring 15 points.

Photographers Set Deadline

Burchetts Studio, official photographers for the 1942-43 La Cumbre, issued a warning to students to return all proofs to their studios before Wednesday, February 16.

Heads of the studios declared this would be the absolute deadline and if students didn't meet the time limit they would be in danger of being excluded from the yearbook.

La Cumbre will be on sale today and through next week in the Alumni secretary's office near the Quad, according to Dorothy Wold, business manager. A limited number of books are being published and already subscriptions have been taken out for over one-third of the books.

Blue Key Book Sale

Used books are being sold for the students by Blue Key, national honorary fraternity, according to George James, president of the organization. For a student to sell his books he must first look on the list posted by the student body office to see if his book will be used this coming semester. Books that are useable are brought to the student body office where the student may set his own price for the sale.

Any person desiring to buy used books can find the list of those available on the bulletin board in the quad by the student body office. The number of the book is on the list and should be given to the fraternity member in charge in order to get the book listed.

"This is an enterprise entirely for the benefit of the students, and we ask you to cooperate and help yourselves by turning in saleable books," added James.

Dean Clarifies Rulings for Repeat Courses

Students Remove F's From Permanent Record

Bearing on the subject of repeating courses in which low grades were received, a new ruling was released this week by Dean Charles L. Jacobs, chairman of the credentials committee. The new ruling stands as originally recommended at the conference of State college deans and approved by the president's conference.

A student receiving any grade below C may repeat the course and be given the grade and grade points earned in the repeat providing he receives permission from the proper college authority.

In computing total units "attempted," the student shall be charged only once for the units of a repeated course, and his grade point average shall be calculated in accordance. (Under this setup if a student gets an F in a three unit course then repeats it with a C grade, his number of units "attempted" for this course shall be 3 instead of 6).

Application of the above provisions shall be retroactive to all student programs at present incomplete. All repeated courses will be starred on the student's permanent record and a footnote inserted stating that all starred courses are not included in computing the total units completed.

AWS Sponsors Novel Dance

"Hearts' Parade" will be the theme for the all-student body dance to be held at Rockwood, Saturday, February 13. Sponsored by the Associated Women Students, the event is to be a women's choice, which is the only one of its kind throughout the social season.

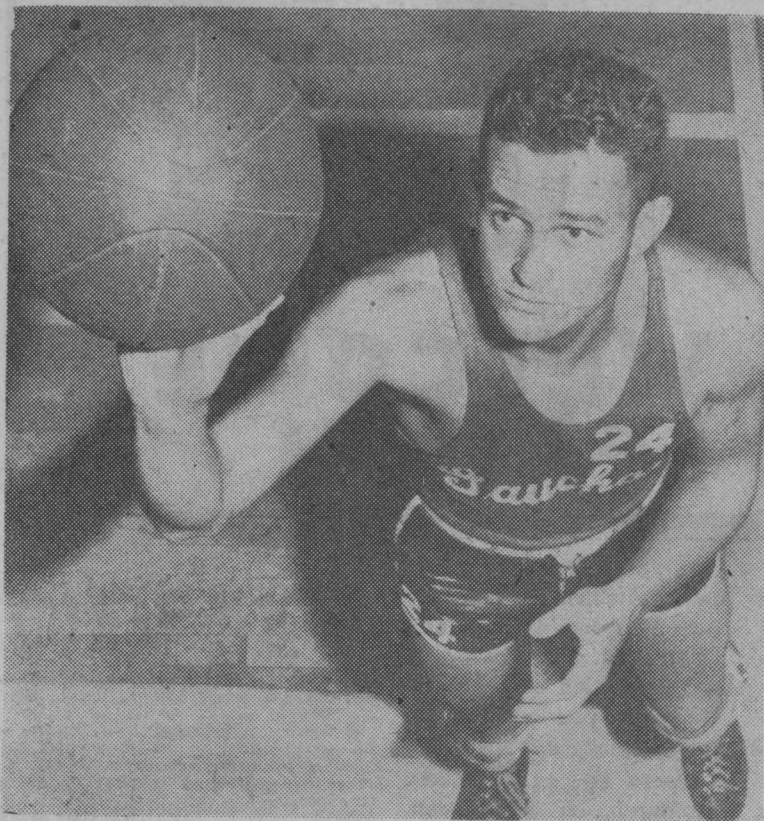

Dancing will be from 9 to 12 p.m., with a yet undetermined orchestra to be featured and the dress is to be informal and sport. Admission will be free to all student body members, while non-members may secure guest cards in Dean Bennink's outer office for a nominal fee.

Valentine decorations, including crepe paper streamers, decorated programs, floral arrangements, and table motifs will be under the direction of Phyllis Atwood and Rebecca Waylor.

Other committees are: refreshments, Frances Houghton; programs, Marian Agamalian and Phyllis De Pew; publicity Edie Van Meter and Dorothy Sands; music, Frances Boynton; patrons and patronesses, Dorothy Kruger.

SANTA-BARBARA STATE-COLLEGE EL-GAUCHO

Vol. XXII SANTA BARBARA, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1943 No. 15

All-conference forward BILL LEVEILLE is scheduled to give plenty of support to the local Gaucho casabamen as they seek to even the score with the flashy Twentieth Century Fox quintet tomorrow night at the National Guard Armory.

Enrollment Record Shows Slight Drop

Women Hold 2-1 Ratio Over Male Population

Coming as a frank surprise to members of the administrative office, figures for the 1943 spring registration stood well over the 850 mark yesterday morning according to Registrar Jane Miller Abraham.

Of this present total of 850 attending classes, there are 229 men, 579 women, and a number of limited students.

Officials of the State Board of Education had only recently estimated a 35% drop in enrollment for the local college, but with the latest figures and the large number of daily late registrations administrative heads felt that the local campus would not suffer more than a 20% loss.

Reports on registration for the fall semester announced a total of 1,112 students, the total including 329 men, 669 women and 14 limited students.

Although war inroads including coluntary enlistments into the various branches of the armed service, selective service, and inviting jobs in defense industries during the past term, the accelerated three year program and various college deferment programs have enabled many men students to remain with their education.

Commenting on the latest enrollment figures, President Clarence L. Phelps expressed gratitude that a good number of the students could remain in classes and make preparations to approach the problems of peace.

Members of Las Espuelas, sophomore women's honorary service organization, and other members of the Associated Women and Associated Men students helped in the registration line and in the counselling service.

Women Strive For Fitness

In response to the requests of the national office of education to make American women more fit for vigorous activity, Santa Barbara State college has installed a new physical fitness program for its women. Classes are scheduled for Fridays, every period from second through sixth.

Students may participate in any one period on Friday, either in combination with their other P.E. class, or as a part of P.E. 10, which now meets Mondays and Wednesdays and Fridays, fifth, seventh and eighth hours.

Crown and Scepter Holds Sunday Meet

Crown and Scepter will hold the regular monthly meeting at 1822 Loma Sunday evening at 6, it was announced this week by President Ruthe Suggs.

In the form of a supper, the meeting will be the first to be attended by new members of the senior women's honorary society who were initiated last month. They include Doris Cruz, Phyllis Atwood, Iovette Lovell, Jeanne Bornhurst and Marilee Stevens

Dean of Men Airs Concern Over Reservists' Errors

Concerned over the failure of a number of the college reserve men to re-establish themselves on campus for the Spring term, Dean of Men C. D. Woodhouse today warned all reservists to respect their original order and remain in college until otherwise instructed.

"It is a very serious problem for the reserve men, regardless of the scholastic standing, to ignore the order of their particular branch of service by dropping their Spring registration," declared Woodhouse. "These men fail to realize that as members of the armed forces they are subject to the same discipline as those men on active duty and therefore not immune from serious penalty for breaking their furloughs."

With the opening of the new semester, the status of those men in the army enlisted reserve corps had not been cleared. Just when the officials will choose to call these college men into service remained indefinite.

However, the Daily Californian at the University of California carried in its news columns this week a statement by President Robert Gordon Sproul in which he revealed that army seniors and juniors will probably be called to active duty about April 15, and sophomores and freshmen about May 15, instead of at the end of this term. He also emphasized that students in the reserves who do not study, will be seriously hurting their chances for advancement in the army.

Department Head Announces Change

Dr. Will Ellison, head of the social science department, today announced the change of the Sociology 2 class, originally scheduled for the Mesa campus, to meet fifth hour Monday, Wednesday, and Friday in room 41 of the Riviera campus.

Economist Speaks at Special Meet

"War and Starvation" is the timely subject on which Russell Bell, noted economist, will speak at a special assembly, Wednesday second hour in the College auditorium. Two bells will call students to the auditorium.

Bell has had first hand experience with food shortages and war, having worked for three years with ex-President Herbert Hoover in European war relief after the last war. The present world food situation, possibilities of production, and post-war problems of the present war in comparison to World War I, will all be discussed.

Dean Awards Scholarships

Receipts of the Faculty scholarships of $25 were announced this week by Dean of Women Lois M. Bennick, chairman of the faculty scholarship committee.

Those receiving the awards, character, and need, are Jeanne Bornhurst, James Branham, Lorenzo Dall'Armi, Nancy Lee Has-kin, William Lantz, Harry Redoglia, and Grace Thompson.

Members of the committee who assisted in selecting the winners were Dr. William Ellison, Miss Hazel Severy, and C.D. Woodhouse.

Much Ado

By GEORGE BLUMENSON

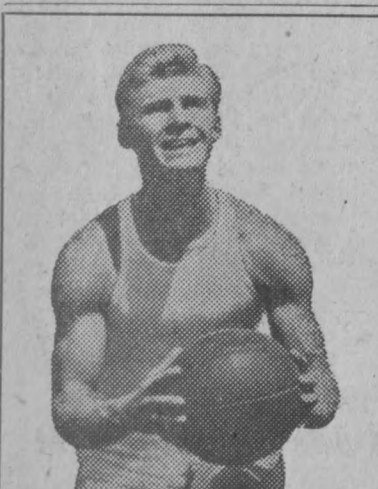

And still the price scandals grow in enormity. The San Francisco papers carried, a few days back, a scandal story which they called "The War Hero Scandal." It seems that certain Navy men, heroes of the battle of the South Pacific, were stationed in Vallejo to give them time to recuperate. The Bay region papers looked these men up to obtain a story and found numbers of them living in their cars, still others paying absurd prices for squalid filthy homes, simply because they lacked the hundred and fifty or two hundred dollars a month the penny gorging landlords of Vallejo wanted for their twenty-five dollar a month houses.

This state of affairs stinks to the high heavens. This was supposed to be a profitless war. No one was to get rich out of the blood and sweat of the fighters and workers. Nice bit of altruism, that. The fact remains that too many people are getting quite rich out of the misery of their fellow humans.

It is not the soldier, who, in many cases was forced to give up a good job to risk his life for his country. It is not the worker, who is living in overcrowded, unsanitary, dangerous areas, who is being forced to spend his every cent for the bare necessities of life. Some one is getting rich quick, and I think you can figure it out as well as the next guy. This war has developed a new class—the petty capitalist. Not the prosperous middle class, with middle class beliefs and mores, but an honest to Gawd 'poor' capitalist. This is the man with the two apartment houses who has been averaging $1,000 a month who is now getting six or seven times that from war workers.

Food prices are rising still, the price of other commodities is still rising, and no one seems to be willing to do anything about it. Everyone talks about it, but no one is willing to risk the ire of the men who will be angered by some honest price fixing. Leon Henderson tried and was hounded out of his job. The president, to keep peace in Washington, did not back his appointee. What is needed now is a man who will risk his political ambition for the good of the people. A man who will take the fight to the people if necessary to get an absolute ceiling placed on all commodities and, at the same time, wages. The index of the salaries and wages raised accordingly, loopholes plugged, and an absolute ceiling set. There have been many new products which are actually no better than the ones in use previously. Flash light batteries for example—which cost more than did their previous counterparts. But, inasmuch as these products were not on the market last March, no ceiling can be placed on them. You may also notice that many of the older products and trade names have disappeared from the market, although these new ones are made in the same places and factories. This is one of the loopholes we must plug.

Santa Barbara's Meat Shortage Assumes Serious Proportions

Harder hit by the meat shortage, perhaps, than any other town in the costal region, is Santa Barbara, and the reason for this remains not quite so obscure as it did previously. There are a great many factors which are contributory to this shortage in Santa Barbara, factors which can and must be rectified.

It is claimed by many that the number of soldiers, sailors and marines who eat here while they are on leave is one of the reasons for the shortage being so acute. If this is so, let the government allocate or re-allocate this meat from the reserve it is building up, instead of penalizing the citizens of this area.

It is claimed that the Officers' Mess at many of the encampments in and around Santa Barbara are taking our meat away. If this is so, let the government take some steps to rectify this procedure.

But this list could go on and on, and the government could rectify all the seeming unfairness. One salient fact remains. Many of the inhabitants of Santa Barbara go for six and seven days at a stretch without meat. The recent council which was formed by the mayor has found that the present quota of meat would mean just 12 ounces for every person in this area per week. This is certainly not enough. Again, it is claimed that this is not a "vital" town, that the inhabitants do not work as hard as do the inhabitants of those districts in which there are located defense areas. Here, however, there are men engaged in heavy work for the city, men at work on the base in Goleta, and men residing here who work at Hueneme.

The college and the government is urging us to keep fit, physically and mentally, but this is impossible when we are not even getting a minimum of meat, when we drool at the mouth at the mention of a steak, when we see steak on the menu in a restaurant at $1.50. The present conditions are shameful, shocking and disgraceful. Something must be done to rectify it, and this something must be done fast.

There were serious work stoppages in the Bay region, but men who were late—sometimes hours late—because they were out hunting for meat. The something which needs to be done is a ration on meat. How about it, OPA?—G.B.

A Good Time Was Had By All OR We Dood It

First came registration
We were happy then
Even though we seemed to lack
A quantity of men.
And the first dance of the season
Made our spirits climb.
We initiated the freshmen
With the traditional mud brawl
And there we let our hair down,
A good time was had by all.
We had an operetta
And we had a first class play,
And there was dancing in the quad
Almost every day.

Kangaroo Court held session
And we plastered Mr. Jap
The Beta Sigs held their Mardi Gras
And fun was on the tap.
We suffered through our midterms
And then we danced our blues away
At the Christmas formal,
Before our two weeks holiday.
Next came the Senior Banquet
And basketball games galore
We enjoyed them so immensely
That we still cry for more.

Phrateres Honor New Women At Informal Tea

Honoring all new women students, the chapters of Phrateres, national non-sorority group, will sponsor an informal tea Sunday in the A.W.S. club room.

Frances Houghton, Phrateres president issued an invitation to all incoming freshmen, returning students, and chapter members for the affair. The tea is semi-annual, given with the purpose of greeting the new women students, and introducing them to the Phrateres officers. The latter, in turn, will acquaint them with the various sub-chapters and functions of the organization.

Held from 3 to 5 in the afternoon, the event is to be under the direction of Catherine Bradley and Martha Fedderson. During the tea piano selections will be given, and various games, with Miss Bradley in charge will complete the entertainment.

"Valentine Day" will be the theme for the decorations, which will consist of favors, name tags, and table motifs. Other committee members are Agnes Shear, Betty Courtner, Louise Brownlee, and Miss Houghton.

AWS Initiates Neophytes at Rites Tonight

To initiate and acquaint entering freshman women with the campus and its various organizations, Associated Women Students board members and Las Espuelas, sophomore women's service group, will combine to entertain in the A.W.S. club room tonight at 7.

Under the direction of Marion Agamalion, newly elected Las Espuelas president, the initiation will consist of a formal ritual, and a variety program, provided by the neophytes.

Welcome will be given the women by Dean Lois M. Bennink and Francis Boyton, A.W.S. president. Refreshments will conclude the evenings festivities.

The first meeting of the A.W.S. slated for Tuesday, February 9 at the regular 4th hour assembly period in the auditorium will feature a workshop play entitled, "Sparkin'."

Under the direction of Elizabeth Brown, this playlet was presented during the workshop presentation, and includes Dorothy Keniston in the part of Ma, Laurette Lovell as Granny, Mabel Barker as Lessie, and Paul Kliss as Orry.

The play will be preceded by a short business meeting, under the leadership of Miss Boyton, A.W.S. head.

Legislators Attempt To 'Save' Gaucho Club's Condemnation

Its disputed past as to just whether it is "a den of iniquity," "a lair of ill-repute," or "a hideaway for female weed addicts," ignored, the campus Gaucho Club found itself in the hands of a concerned group of political evangelists determined to "save" the traditional clubroom from destruction at the hands of several administrative heads.

El Gaucho Editor Jim Lytle threw the soul-saving problem into the laps of the executive councilmen last night by repeating a warning of the administration to the effect that the Gaucho Club must show immediate rejuvenation of the face condemnation.

Dr. Hazel Severy, council advisor, who supported the move to have the student council take action in cleaning up the 'disgraceful condition of the club', declared that she couldn't see how students could stand to exist in such a mess.

In response to the criticism of several councilmembers concerning the litter of waste paper and cigarette stubs on the floor, Finance Chairman Tom Loeffler exclaimed that it not only offered a distasteful appearance, but was probably unhealthy for those students who manage to hibernate in the room.

Concluding considerable discussion, President John Falxa appointed a committee headed by Don MacKenzie to make every attempt to clean up the room and save it before it is taken away from the student body.

Also included in the evening's meeting was a report from Rally Chairman Gerry Cockins involving the forthcoming Galloping Gaucho Revue. Under plans as announced by the chairman, Greek organization heads will meet with Russ Haney, revue director, next Tuesday to receive notice of what their organization is expected to contribute.

Under the financial business, the legislators approved the action of the finance committee in regards to student body refunds. With the present set-up refunds will be made to those students who must withdraw from college starting February 6. A deduction of one dollar per week will be made until March 6 and after that time no refunds will be recognized.

Men Turnout For Tennis

All men students interested in competitive tennis are invited to turn out for practice, which begins next Monday at the Municipal Tennis stadium. The squad is scheduled to practice 8th and 9th hours on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

The Gaucho netmen won the conference team and doubles championship in 1941, and last year retained their doubles crown. Although travel will be limited this year, according to Coach Terry Dearborn, the program will provide nearby competition as well as good physical conditioning.

Announcement is made that girls interested in learning and playing tennis are invited to register for P.E. 185, which meets 8th period on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at the municipal courts. Lockers and showers will be available there.

State Considers Purchase of New Mesa Land

Appropriation to purchase land for the new La Mesa campus site of Santa Barbara State college has been asked in a bill introduced in the legislature by Assemblyman Alfred Robertson of Santa Barbara. The appropriation is for $25,000 although President Clarence L. Phelps pointed out this sum is only the considered price of the land, which extends west from the mesa campus.

The property lies across the beach access road from the industrial division building and has been sought by the college for nearly three years.

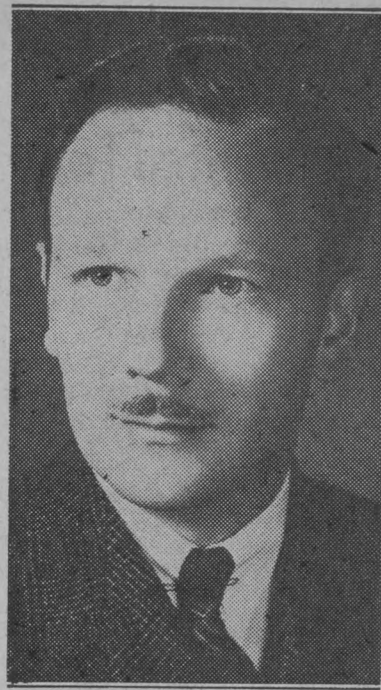

If acquired, the land will serve as site for 11 new buildings to be constructed some time in the future, according to Phelps. When the new buildings, including dormitories, are completed the college will move from its present location to the mesa, where the industrial division is now located.

With view to financing construction of the new buildings, a committee is now studying the idea of a $9,000,000 appropriation to be divided among California's seven state colleges, from which Santa Barbara would receive $1,500,000. War, with its demand for vital building materials, is the bottleneck holding back construction of the crosstown campus at the present time.

Honor Society Elects Cabinet

Pi Sigma Chi, honorary industrial education fraternity met January 20 to elect officers for the spring semester. Gerald Ellis, retiring president, presented the gavel to Dutch Maaskant, newly elected leader of the group.

Other officers chosen include Harry Redoglia, vice-president; Kenneth Price, secretary; Jack Phinney, treasurer.

Sigerist Takes Duty With Red Cross

Another State college faculty man to leave for the service, according to announcement last week by President Clarence L. Phelps, is Fred Sigerist, teacher of French, German and English for the past three years.

Sigerist left recently for Washington, D. C., where he will take up his duties as assistant field director for the American Red Cross.

Miss Jeanne Mettenet, teacher of French at La Loma Feliz school will take over Sigerist's French classes, while Dr. Dowe Stuurman, already on the college staff, takes charge of the elementary German classes.

Sigerist declared he will return to San Francisco for further training before being assigned to a post. He is known throughout California as a painter as well as a linguist.

Both Miss Mettenet and Dr. Stuurman were formerly on the faculty of Reed college, Portland, Oregon. Miss Mettenet also taught at the University of Wisconsin
