Many Enter State from New Places

Students Enter State From Hawaiian Islands; Philippines

NEW YORKER PRESENT

California Is Represented by Largest Majority of Students

The Santa Barbara State college students come from many local and distant sections, according to Fred Allred, student comptroller, but the furthest distance for any student to come is from the Philippine Islands. Hawaii, with one future teacher, is also represented.

In the United States, New York is the most remote district represented. Pennsylvania, Utah, Washington and Arizona all have sent one student each to the local institution, while Montana and Michigan have sent two apiece.

California Represented

California is the best represented state at the college. Santa Barbara has 307 students registered. Los Angeles enrolled the second largest number of students, 38, while Bakersfield and Lompoc sent 18 and 17, respectively. Pasadena, with 11, and Pomona, with 10, vie for fourth place. The next cities are listed in their respective places, according to enrollment: Huntington Beach, Santa Paula, Ventura and Carpinteria, nine; San Diego, Santa Ynez, San Luis Obispo, San Pedro eight; Chino, seven; Riverside, Santa Ana, Huntington Park, Solvang, Pittsburg, Taft six; Summerland, Upland and Orange, five; Oakland, San Bernardino, San Fernando, Lindsay, Long Beach, Hermosa Beach and Santa Maria four; Somis, East Highlands, Alhambra, South Gate, South Pasadena, Thermal, Paso Robles, Anaheim, Redlands, Orcutt and Sacramento, three; Azusa, Whittier, Roscoe, Inglewood, Rialto, Medicine Lake, Montana, Coachilla, Wasco, El Segundo, San Francisco, Ojai, Banning, Brawley, Woodlake, Oxnard, Victorville, Fillmore, Fullerton, Burbank, Buttonwillow, Hemet, Visalia, Reedley and Bellflower two; El Monte, Alameda, Campbell, Moorpark, Glendale, Delhi, Monolith, Monrovia, Farmersville, Buellton, Flint, Palo Alto, Sam Simeon, Stockton, Arroyo Grande, Kingsburg, Berkeley, Bonita, Glen.

E. E. Ericson Attends Meet

E. E. Ericson, director of the industrial education department, attended the first meeting of the Vocational Guidance Association of Southern California, held last Thursday in Los Angeles. The program was devoted to a discussion on the provisions of the National Youth Administration.

Miss Ruth Lockett, supervisor in charge of the National Youth Administration for Southern California, spoke on "What the NYA expects to do for the Youth of Southern California."

A unique feature of this plan, according to Mr. Ericson, is the idea of giving youth the opportunity to explain its own program and to manage it to a larger extent.

During the meeting, a report was given on a survey of the youth of Los Angeles, by Claude Owen, coordinator and office manager of the Los Angeles city schools' employment service. The report showed that more than half of all men twenty-four years of age still live with their parents.

STATEMENTS by the "POWERS THAT BE"

Students must make all arrangements for absence with the instructor as an individual matter, according to a statement from Dean Ashworth's office. The responsibility for making up work and handling in assignments thus devolves upon the student. Necessary absence upon student business is handled through the offices. Leave of absence for an extended time is obtained through special arrangement in the office of the dean.

Students who have changed their address or telephone number since making out their program cards are asked by Don Follett, editor of the student handbook, to record such changes on the bulletin board of the administration building before Wednesday noon. The staff wants, in the interest of the students, to have the handbook as accurate as possible.

Petitions for a change of program should be filed in the registrar's office on or before Friday of this week, either for the addition or dropping of subjects. Only very special excuses, such as serious illness, will be accepted after this week.

"We are not going to have the previously planned car caravan to San Diego on October 7," announced Dolly McDonald, yell leader, "because many students wish to go down early and attend the fair. However, let's have as many as possible at the game early so that we may get organized as a rooting section."

Prexy, Jacobs Act on Panel

President C. L. Phelps and Dr. C. L. Jacobs, head of the educational department, were panel members for various discussions at the Santa Barbara city and county teachers institute meeting, Saturday, in the high school.

Dr. Grayson N. KeFauver, dean of the school of education, Stanford university, acted as chairman of the panel discussion which started with the general session at 10 o'clock. Phelps was a member of this panel whose topics of discussion was "The Task of Improving the Educational Service." Dr. Paul Hanna, associate professor department of education, Stanford university, gave a preliminary presentation of the subject.

As a member of the panel, Jacobs participated in the secondary section which started at 2:15. Topic of discussion in this group was "Challenges of Practice and Trends in Curriculum Development in Secondary Schools," presented by KeFauver.

Inquisitive Student Gets to Bottom of Verb Mystery

Poor old grammar! She seems to be as dead as she ever was in the old wheeze which runs like this: "Johnny! Where's your gram—" O.K. It's a bargain. Drop the tomato.

Well, anyway, we were standing on the steps of the administration building when we remarked to a friend, "The papers still lie on the step."

"Lay on the step," he corrected. "Lie on the step," we insisted. We asked three girls, "They lay on the step," all replied.

We asked Denny McArthur, who smiled a very wise smile. Another superman answered,

Homecoming Is Featured With Rally, Parade

Annual La Verne-State Grid Battle Also Planned for Saturday

Warner Brothers Give Trip to Hollywood Studios as Float Prize

Bonfire, Rally, Parade, and La Verne-State college football game are to be features of Homecoming week the last of October.

The bonfire will be held Thursday night, October 24, while Friday evening a parade for decorated floats and cars will be run up State street to the Granada theater at which point the Warner Bros. management will present prizes to the winning contestants. To climax the week, a football game will be held at Peabody stadium Saturday afternoon with a series of stunts during the half.

This year's homecoming is to be one of the biggest in the school's history, according to the rally committee who promise that a gigantic bonfire is to be built by the freshmen class. The place for the bonfire will be announced later.

Danny D'Alphonso, freshman president, and Dan DeReign, frosh rally representative, announce the bonfire committee as follows: Francis Becchio, chairman, Lloyd Monk, David Phelps, Ed Murphy and Jimmie Jordano. Becchio reports that "plans have been formulated and are already in progress."

The prizes donated by the Granada theater for the best decorated floats or cars will be: first prize, trip for four people to the Warner Bros. studio in Hollywood. It will include a visit and luncheon with the stars. Second prize, a dinner and dance for four people at the Santa Barbara Biltmore hotel; third prize, a dinner and dance for four at El Paseo.

"Mac" McDonald requests that all students, fraternities and sororities lend their cooperation and support in entering decorated cars or floats for the rally parade.

Gauchos Men Trounce Cal-Tech Gridsters

Cal-Tech Men Get First Touchdown; Los Gauchos Loosen Up in 2nd Quarter as Yeager and Morelli Make Goals

Displaying probably the best brand of football that has been played by a State team in many a moon, the Gauchos rode rough shod over a light but fighting Cal-Tech eleven last Friday night under the arcs of Pershing Park. The Hardermen ran up a 26 to 6 score.

The engineers scored early in the first period, when after a couple of exchanges of punts, Wileman tossed a pass to Van Fleet, which was good for about 30 yards and a touchdown.

H. Rutzebeck Gives Talk on Cooperatives

Head of S. B. Cooperatives Lectures to Economists on Self-Help

Hjalmar Rutzebeck, head of the Santa Barbara Cooperative Industries, spoke to Dr. Ellison's economics class last Monday. He described the formation and principals of the local organization and also explained the background of the cooperative movement as a distinctly American institution, and the formation of earlier cooperative efforts.

Rutzebeck, who is one of the foremost authorities on self-help cooperatives, pointed out that while the world has solved the problem of production, all countries find an excess of goods on hand without buyers. The cooperative method, he explained, is to band together a group of unemployed to produce directly for the consumption of the members of the group. These self-help organizations began about 1932, and grew so rapidly that there were over a thousand by the following year.

The Santa Barbara organization was formed in March of this year, with the specific object of completing the search for a new way to live for those who are permanently unemployed. Rutzebeck made it clear that the new organizations do not seek to supplant the present economic system, but rather to supplement its weakness. He also explained that the cooperative college recently formed will endeavor to train students for leadership in cooperative enterprise.

AVERAGE GROUP REPORT TO THE HEALTH COTTAGE

Appointments should be made immediately by those who have not already had a physical examination. A California state law requires all students to be examined on entering college. Dean Ashworth's office will take care of all those who do not make an appointment voluntarily. There have been 675 students examined thus far.

Evidenced by the number of injuries reported to the health office, the football teams have been unusually fortunate this year. The average number reporting daily to the health office is from 25 to 30. Services rendered includes everything from answering questions on health education to setting broken bones.

A small "flu" epidemic in Santa Barbara has only slightly affected the college. Dental patients are requested by Dr. Markthaler to get their dental slips in as soon as possible.

The try for extra point failed.

The Gauchos didn't get going till the 2nd. quarter when Howard Yeager, on the first play of the period, romped around his own left end for thirteen yards and 6 points. Acting captain Voorhies' kick, for conversion failed.

Yeager Goes Places

The Gauchos kicked off to the Engineers, who, after a couple of bucks into the State line, kicked to "Little Box" Morelli who was stopped on the Tech-40 yard line. Then a series of off tackle bucks by the "Little-Box" and Yeager took the ball down to the Tech 20 yard line. Yeager on the next play skirted the Gaucho left end for another score. Voorhies booted the ball for the extra point, making the score 13-6 with the Hardermen on the long end. The result of an intercepted Tech pass by Harold Sanderson almost netted State another touchdown in the first half. The Gaucho fullback was tackled on the Engineer 5 yard line as the gun went off ending the second period.

Morelli Goes Over

Late in the third quarter, Morelli, behind beautiful interference, galloped around the Tech left end for another touchdown. The try for extra point was no good.

Howard Yeager scored State's fourth touchdown when, in their last period, he ran his own left tackle for 10 yards and went over on to pay dirt standing up. Sanderson kicked goal for the extra digit. Score 26-6.

Parking Squad Enforces Rule

The student's welfare committee announced yesterday that specific parking regulations will be in force immediately, with a parking squad on hand in the mornings to remind all offenders. Students are asked to keep in mind that there is to be no parking on the driveway between the administration building and Pine hall. Diagonal parking will aid in the proper use of all available space. Students must not drive their cars on the lane east of the administration building, but must drive around it.

"By proper consideration on the student's part and perhaps a few extra steps, the parking situation will be cleared up satisfactorily to all safety and convenience requirements," stated Thomas Merrill, head of the committee.

Junior Class Elects Chuck Leister Prexy

Charles Leister was elected president; Bob Kindred, vice-president; Gretalie Fitzgerald, secretary; William Murphy, treasurer; Allen Neil, social chairman. As council representatives class members elected Wilma Kiessner and Don Follett. Yale Lorden was named rally representative, at a meeting of the junior class.

News of the World

We, who have not until recently become interested in the affairs of the stock market, for obvious reasons are now taking notice of its ups and downs in relationship to the daily occurrences at the European cities of Geneva, Rome, Paris and London.

Following Mussolini's questionable gesture of friendship toward England on Saturday, the exchange returned to normal. However we, who would make splendid canon fodder in case of a world wide conglomeration have cold chills up and down the spine, whenever the news reports that the conflict seems near and inevitable, and consequently the buying in steel shares, as well as those of cotton products rises sharply. We have been wondering if there can be any significance to the very unobtrusive notice that there has been a great move of selling by so called "in-an-out" traders who probably want to get out of the market in the event of any unforeseen changes in the grave menace to world peace.

The Japanese market has shown an unusual amount of activity indicating that the Japanese are in no small way vitally concerned with the settlement of this question. The other day their market reached a new high, said to have been the highest there since the last war.

Feeling that the industrialists are in special contact with information in this affair we think that the activities of the stock market are more apt to reveal the gravity of the situation by sudden spurts of buying or selling than the news from syndicated newspapers would indicate. —S.M.

Men! Do Your Duty!

Does Santa Barbara State have 20 "footloose and fancy-free" males (meaning men who have not fallen to taking blondes to football games) with a school spirit that makes them want to give their all for "ye olde institution?" Sure? O. K. Go sign on the paper in Fred Allred's office, and he'll take care of it. Here's your chance to play policeman.

All levity aside, however, some twenty boys are very much needed at the football games to keep townspeople and "sneaker-in-ers" out of both our own and visiting school's rooting sections, keep the side lines open, and prevent young boys from tearing up the field unnecessarily during the half. The student body, since it makes very little on its football games, must cut the overhead on the games to a minimum and cannot afford to hire guards, but Fred Allred does promise volunteer guards a good view of the game.

Help your school out, men, by doing your part in making our football games worth the money paid for admittance. Sign up in Fred Allred's office for volunteer guard duty. —D.H.

Congratulations

Setting a precedent that all other school organizations can follow, the Sigma Alpha Kappa fraternity deserves praise and commendation for their initiative in inaugurating school dances following the football games.

If each organization will pattern their social functions along these lines, our fall semester will be teeming with activity much to the enjoyment of everyone.

We take our hats off to the Sig Alphas, and hope that other organizations will follow in their footsteps. —D.D.

Music-Art-Drama
 By BRUCE TOMLINSON

The Lobero's fall season got off to a poor start this last weekend with the presentation of "To Hell With Men." The play itself was mediocre—trite in plot, weak in action, insipid in lines; all of which goes to the credit of Juanita Crossland, was stiff to a degree that could not be entirely excused on first night psychology. Miss Crossland was the one conciliatory feature of the evening. Good-looking, clear-spoken, gracious and charming, she gave forth the only warmth present on a peculiarly cold stage. The play was presented by Frederick Mailey, who is testing out plays for the Broadway consumption. "To Hell With Men" will never get that far—though San Francisco is scheduled to see it this week.

For new students at State college, the Lobero deserves a more cordial introduction. The Lobero is the home of the Community Arts drama branch. Each season they present a series of plays carefully selected and well produced. Also to the Lobero are brought an Artist Series by the Music Branch, this winter's season to include Szigheti, Schnabel and others. Then Mrs. Herbert presents a series of concert artists each season. And, finally, the Lobero is a favorite theater for "dress-rehearsal" performances for Pacific Coast productions before they are taken to Los Angeles, San Francisco, and elsewhere. Thus Santa Barbara is given especially fine opportunities to see and hear the best in music and drama. The Lobero Theater has always extended special courtesy rates to college students whenever possible, and we suggest you avail yourself of these opportunities.

Alumni Guests Attend Dinner

Assemblyman Alfred W. Robertson, honorary member, and City Treasurer Leland Gammill, alumni member, were among the prominent guests who attended the Beta Sigma Chi fraternity dinner last night.

Following the dinner a business meeting was held at which the fraternity's plans for social activities were advanced. Also, steps were taken to start operation of the Beta Sigma Chi alumni organization.

Other guests were Arthur Evans, county probation officer and alumni member, and Fred Allred, alumni member and director of the controller's office.

Tau Gam's Gather at Pot Luck Lunch

At a pot luck luncheon Saturday at the home of Betty Roulston, president of the sorority, members of Tau Gamma Sigma formulated plans for their social events of the semester.

The active and alumnae members will honor their parents and the faculty at a tea to be given at the home of Cecilia Hauser, president of the Alumnae chapter, Sunday Oct. 13.

Tag Dance Features Sig Alph Frat Dance

Tag dancing was one of the novelties which featured the Sigma Alpha Kappa fraternity dance given Friday night in honor of the Cal-Tech students in the Elks club, Hacienda.

D. D'Alfonso Considers Buy

Outcome of Frosh-Soph Tilt Is Doubtful

Who really won the Frosh-Soph tilt the night the Cadillac was "fixed up" by the frosh? The outcome was different than most students expected.

It seems that about the middle of the fight, the sophs decided to go home and do some studying. The frosh, inspired by their reign on the campus, set to work "improving" the grounds and other scenery. "We've got spirit; you guys didn't when you were frosh," explained Danny D'Alfonso, freshman president.

Now Danny is considering buying the Cadillac as a frosh car. It wasn't sentiment, however, that made him do so. He thinks that perhaps he can buy it for fifteen dollars which would be cheaper than paying the bill of twenty-five dollars to fix up the Cadillac.

DEPARTMENT HEADS MEET

Gladys Van Fossen and Hal Davis, heads of the women's and men's physical education departments, respectively, attended a meeting for administrators and college directors last Friday night at the University of Southern California.

Plans were made to have meetings every other Tuesday night

Snoops and Scoops

"Gibby" Martin comes through! At the hotel in Bakersfield after the frosh football game, "Gibby" was assigned to room 815. In the morning the clerk, who was to wake the players at a certain time, called Martin's room and said "Seventy-fourty-five." Sleepy-headed "Gibby" answered in a daze, "No, it's 815." —And did "Gibby" get ribbed for it all the way home from Bakersfield—but he can take it!

Happy birthday to Cy Ross! He's 13 years old today, or so he says. He came to school yesterday all decked out in his birthday clothes—straight goods! Many happy returns to "Sis" Fazio, too.

Tommy Lindquist says he got two black eyes at the dance 't'other nite—when we told him he shouldn't be that way, he explained that he'd been dancing with a certain gal with dark glasses. If that's the truth, you're forgiven, "Swede."

What's happened to the Hart-Cornwall combination? Is it just another "last semester" romance—or have they both quit school?

At a party recently given for Tip Willis by "2304," Buppy Moore received a comb at his placard—What's it for, Bup?

The Gilmore-Davis-Yeager triangle seems to be all settled. Frankie is having a plenty swell time with some of these cute babes in the freshmen class. He may not be a football hero, but he sure knows his stuff!

Don Follett lost 20 lbs, during the summer vacation. Could it have been because he hadn't been having his regular meals on Prospect Ave.?

Gaucha Gab

By BARNEY JAMESON

The Gauchos surpassed the expectations of some of their most ardent supporters Friday night by whipping Cal-Tech 26 to 6. The greatest highlight of the game was the wonderful team spirit which pushed the Staters on to victory. Coming back after receiving some bad breaks which put them 6 points behind early in the game, the Gauchos worked together and did not let down until the gun sounded.

Lack of a scoring punch on the goal line defeated the baby Gauchos Saturday night in Bakersfield when the valley men eked out a 13 to 6 victory. Coach Cummings' men were within the ten yard line many times but were turned back. Bakersfield scored on the second play of the game with a 60 yard run around end, their second score was made when Blaylock picked the ball out of the air after it had bounced out of Gardenhire's arms and ran 50 yards to a touch-down.

Fish-Tash: Cal had a hard job beating Whittier 6 to 0 Saturday. Oxy and Flagstaff battled to a 0 to 0 tie over the week-end, it is reported that all the new press box at Pershing park lacks is a Sears and Roebuck catalog, the Gaucha-Aztec game Saturday afternoon is the opening game of the Southern Conference, no other league games are scheduled on or before this date.

Tommy and Willie, corner of State and Sola street, wish to announce that they are giving away ten gallons of gasoline and a thorough grease job to anyone guessing the score of each Gaucha game for the rest of the season.

Everyone will be given the opportunity of voting more than one time, as a chance will be given with every purchase. In case of a tie, duplicate awards will be given.

Morelli-Yeager So. Conference Star as State Will Be Close Trounces Tech

le, was, according to many authorities, the most outstanding lineman on the field. His work on defense was superb. Time after time the big Gaucha broke through and stopped the Tech charges before they could get underway. Merlin Miller, State center, also turned in a bang up game. His work on the offense, although probably not noticed from the stands, was a marked feature. "Mert" is the lightest center in the conference, weighing a mere 160 pounds.

In the backfield, Howard Yeager and "Little-Box" Morelli stole the show. Their open field running on the Coast. When the Tech according to many beliefs, can easily be rated with any ball carrier squad was busy watching Yeager. Morelli would cut loose, and vice versa.

Pep Rally 'Caravan' Supports Tech Game

The pep and car rally on Friday afternoon, started with a bang at 3:30. From the college, where the cars met, the caravan proceeded with more speed than caution to the bright lights of State St. Most of the cars managed to make pretty good imitations of machine guns, and the fact that nothing blew up was a surprise to mast witnesses.

Football teams in the southern conference so far this season have shown that they are no set-ups, and prove that the conference race will be plenty close.

Last week-end the Whittier Poets, conference champions of last year, held the University of California Golden Bears to a score of 6-0. California didn't score until the last quarter.

The Occidental Tigers battled to a 0-0 tie with the Arizona State college eleven last Saturday afternoon. It proved to be a hard fought battle, with neither team doing much damage.

Down at Redlands, we have probably the biggest upset of the season. Two weeks ago, Loyola walloped the Cal Tech Engineers to the tune of 54-0. Redlands turns around and knocks Loyola over by a 19-18 score.

La Verne was tripped by the strong Fresno State college eleven by a score of 28 to 0 on the North-erners field.

World Series to Start Soon

Baseball, the national pastime, still holds the limelight in the sporting world. The 1935 edition of the world series gets under way on Navin field, Detroit on October 2. The participants in the classic for this year are the Detroit Tigers and the Chicago Cubs.

Although off to a slow start, the Cubs came along with a burst of speed climaxed by a sensational winning streak of 21 games. The Tigers got away to a bad start and for awhile looked like they wouldn't repeat, but they sharpened their eyes and with the mighty bats of Hank Greenberg, 1935 King of Swat, Charley Gehringer, Manager Mickey Cochrane, and the old veteran of many series, Goose Goslin, emerged victorious in the American League.

Frosh Lose Close Grid Battle with Renegades

Before a large opening game crowd, the Gaucha frosh dropped a close grid battle to the Bakersfield Renegades, 13 to 6. The contest was waged under the arc-lights of the Valley city gridiron last Saturday evening.

Coach Jack Frost, Renegade mentor, stated after the game, "The breaks were in our favor." And that, in very few words, sums up why the Gauchitos came out on the short end of the score after shoveling the J. C. eleven up and down the field at will between the 20 yard stripes.

Renegades Score

On their first offensive play of the game, the Frost coached team, with Haggard carrying the ball, scored on a 45 yard run around right end.

Shortly afterwards the frosh machine began to click with "Power-house" Gardenhire bearing the brunt of an offensive drive that netted five first downs in a row. During this attack, Mickey and Monson snagged a couple of passes for considerable yardage. The frosh locomoted their way to the 12 yard marker, but were held at that point.

The remainder of the half saw the Gauchitos roll up more yardage but to no avail. The half ended with the Cummings' men still in possession of the goose-egg.

Cummings Fires Men

Coach Cummings talked enough fight and football between halves that it was only a few minutes after the kick-off when the frosh again moved down the field where they were held on the 4 yard stripe, but the Renegade kick was blocked and the yearlings again took possession of the pigskin on the four. Held for three downs, Monson went over for the score on a quarterback sneak. The attempted conversion, was blocked leaving the score 7 to 6 with the Renegades out in front.

About to start another drive late in the game, the Gauchitos were stopped and expected victory was turned into defeat. On the throw from center "Gordy" juggled the ball which fell into the arms of Blaylock, a charging Renegade, who kept right on going unmolested for 30 yards and another six points. Haggard missed the conversion.

Team Looks Good

The entire State squad played good ball. Particularly impressive was the work of Gardenhire, Martin, Gilkerson, Trigiero, Busbe, Romero, and Seeley. Gilkerson made tackle after tackle but his bang-up game got the best of him late in the fourth quarter when the lanky tackle passed out on his feet. Gardenhire was easily the star of the game. Known as the "Galloping Ghost" during prep days, he became the Galloping Gaucha with an outstanding display of both offensive and defensive power. Haggard, Blaylock, Whalen, and Clerou played heads-up ball for Bakersfield.

The majority of the 2500 fans were impressed with the showing made by the Cummings' squad in outgaining the Renegades both in yardage and first downs.

Scanlan Heads Co-Op College

Curriculum Includes Arts and Economics

Dr. Ralph Scanlan, professor in the social science department of the state college for the past several years, is now acting as director for a novel cooperative college in this city. Classes are being held at the Woman's center at Bath and Haley streets.

Affiliated with the Santa Barbara cooperative industries, the newly formed school will train leaders for the self-help cooperative movement. On the guiding committee with Dr. Scanlan are Dr. Rexwald Brown, member of President Roosevelt's committee on economic security, and Hjalmar Rutzeback, general chairman of the local cooperative organization.

Need Good Leadership

As recent federal surveys have shown that the collapse of many of the self-help organizations is directly attributed to the lack of intelligent leadership, the new college plans to prepare students to fill these positions. Students will be acquainted with the techniques of cooperative enterprises, and supplied with a cultural background in applied arts and the sciences of well-being.

Practical experience in the local cooperative will be included as part of the training.

Specific courses will include

Cigarettes give a lot of pleasure to a lot of people.

More cigarettes are smoked today because more people know about them—they are better advertised.

But the main reason for the increase is that they are made better—made of better tobaccos; then again the tobaccos are blended—a blend of Domestic and Turkish tobaccos.

Chesterfield is made of mild, ripe tobaccos.

Everything that science knows about is used in making it a milder and better-tasting cigarette.

We believe you will enjoy them.
