"Ain't It A Shame!" Here, no, from all indications State College students and townspeople are in store for two of the liveliest evenings of entertainment in Gaucholand history as the curtain goes up next Thursday evening heralding the opening of the 12th annual Roadrunner Revue "Ain't It A Shame!", which will run May 20 and 21 in the college auditorium.

Directed and produced by Edie Van Meter, this year's musical show combines the tops in original songs and dances to insure revue-goers the best in college musical shows.

The theme of the show is carried out in two acts. The first act centering around earlier kindergarten play where the tots are taught to put a little swing into their education, while the second act shows the same characters, twenty years later, still playing at the college beach club.

Among the principal players in the musical revue are Laurette Lovell, teacher; Bob Shelly, Johnny; Ted Murray, Donny; Mabel Barker, Guendilen; Millie Schaub, Daisy; Dorothy Keniston, Ming Toy Ginsberg; Jean Ausman, Sally; and Shirley Rogers, Martha Harding, and Jean Casey as Jean, Jane, and Joan, musical trio.

Appearing on the evening's program as featured singers will be Emily Joost, Jean Ausman, Millie Schaub, Kay Stockton, Ted Murray, and Bob Shelly.

Also adding color and form to the musical will be a dance chorus including Darlene Sherfey, Martha Harding, Dorothy Saul, Nadine Loy, Shirley Rogers, Maureen Drury, Olga Ortner, Sally Becker, Jean McClure, Barbara Burtis, Jean Ausman, Jean Casey and Mabel Barker.

One of the dance specialties of the show will be a jitterbug number with Misses Drury, Ausman, and Rogers along with Red Groom, Murray and Shelly.

Also included in the program are a series of entr'acts featuring numerous members of the cast in minor specialties.

Script for the show was written by Miss Van Meter and Paul Kliss who acts as technical director, while the all-original music to be heard throughout the revue was written especially for the program by Dorothy Kenniston, Emily Joost, Millie Schaub, Van Meter and Kliss.

Aiding Miss Van Meter and Kliss on the technical direction are Delphine Martin, stage manager; Maureen Drury, dance director, Emily Joost, music director; Doris Kirsten, and Cathy Lesovsky, costumes; and Bub Hanley, publicity.

The annual Roadrunner Revue is sponsored each year by the student rally committee to raise funds for the publication of La Cumbre, college yearbook. Gerry Cockins, rally chairman, is executive manager of the show.

Tickets will go on sale next week in the graduate manager's office with a fifty-five cent charge for student body members, seventy-five cents plus tax for townspeople, and a special charge will be made to service men.

California Legislature Approves Bill Abolishing State College

Long heralded as one of the West Coast's most robust and fastest growing institutions of higher learning, Santa Barbara State College lay dead today, the victim of a political poisoning administered by the California Legislature earlier this week as it gave approval to the abolishment of the local college to create a branch (?) of the University of California in Santa Barbara.

The Legislature's authorization of the assembly bill, climaxed a battle that brought concern to educators and educational groups throughout the state who have been united in fighting the proposal since its origin some years ago, from the standpoint of the indefinite construction of the assembly bill itself, the feared insincerity of the authors of the proposal, and the inadvisability to unite two institutions whose standards and operation policies lie at extremes.

However, with this final action Santa Barbara State dies and according to many student leaders and administrators "so dies the spirit and attracting features of the college which have been responsible for the continued growth of State College."

Under the meager provisions of the approved bill, State College lies at the mercy of its new administrator The Regents of the University of California, who consenting, shall establish a branch of the University of California for purpose of providing such courses of university grade as they from time to time may deem proper. And with this shift in authority goes all properties belonging to and used by Santa Barbara State.

Due to the indefinite wording of the bill and the recently published fact that "the regents of the university have according to long established precedent in such legislative matters made no public statement," speculations could not be made as to the immediate outcome of the approved bill. However, President Clarence L. Phelps, announced that despite the outcome of the Legislature's action State College would continue with its plans for coming summer session and next year.

Drama Club Meets

"Arsenic and Old Lace", forthcoming Lobero production, will be attended by Theta Alpha Phi, honorary drama society, according to Letty Lovell, president.

Plans have been made to meet at the home of Dr. A. O. Mitchell next Wednesday evening, where a number of plays will be reviewed.

Francis Boyton Takes Over President's Post

Marking the first time in Santa Barbara State's lengthy history for a woman to officially assume the office student body head, Frances Boyton, retiring president of the Associated Women Students, was selected by the executive council last Thursday evening to fill the office of Associated Students president for the remainder of the current semester.

Elected to aid Miss Boyton as vice-president is Charles Block, former junior representative, who will also take charge of the vacated vice-president's post until the close of the year.

The two new student heads were appointed under constitutional order to fill the offices left vacant by John Falxa and Dick O'Brien, former president and vice-president, who withdrew from college to enter training at Northwestern University.

WSSF Drive Tops Goal

Topping its goal with a total of $310.82, the World Student Service Fund drive closed its campaign this afternoon, according to Margaret De Haan, faculty sponsor.

Opened on the first of March by Bruce Langdon, assembly speaker, this authorized channel for aid to student prisoners of war was given strong support by college members. The fund provides direct relief for students and professors, who are victims of war.

Numerous national organizations are sponsoring this drive, which is non-sectarian, non-political, and international, and it has been through their backing and enthusiasm that the fund has contributed such an important place in the present war.

Members on the campus committee were: Johnny Falxa, Charlotte Holt, Dorothy Keniston, Colin Rodney, Mary Taylor, Wilf Seamen, Rosalie Osborne, Tom Loeffler, Dorsey Stewart, and Louise Browning.

Art Group Fetes Students

Highlighting their semester's social calendar, the State College art department entertained fifteen Mexican college students who are visiting this country in the role of lemon pickers at a Good Neighbor program last Sunday afternoon.

Jose Morales Perez, University of Mexico law student, spoke during the program and pointed out the present importance of better understanding and cooperation between Anglo-American and Latin-American groups.

Other speakers during the afternoon included Paul Sweetzer, president of the local Pan-American league; George Martinez, university student; President Clarence L. Phelps, and Miss Eda Ramelli, instructor.

Dionicio Morales, State College student acted as coordinator, interpreter and master of ceremonies throughout the program.

Much Ado

By GEORGE BLUMENSON

John L. Lewis has dealt labor, organized labor, a blow from which it will take a long time to recover. Lewis, in calling the miners out on strike last week, deliberately, and by his own admission, was attempting to do away with the agency which the Federal government had set up to handle such cases. Lewis, who had pledged his union to a no-strike agreement, refused to have anything to do with the War Labor Board.

There is no doubt in my mind that the miners are entitled to their pay raise. Coal mining is a dirty, dangerous job, and if the mine operators are receiving more for their coal, the miners should share in the profits. During the depression those who were hit hardest, harder, even, than the farmers, were the miners. No one cared, in those days, whether they ate or not, whether they struck or not. Today we do care if they strike, and, by the same token, we should care if they eat and are able to pay their rent.

But John L. Lewis, while he is interested in these things, is also interested in furthering his own ambition. Lewis, as the record shows, has taken every opportunity to embarrass the president. He is obviously disappointed over the fact that he has not received the post of labor secretary. It was, obviously, for that reason that he sold out the CIO to the Republican party during the last presidential election. His pettiness in waiting until the president was almost on the air before announcing his change of heart shows his eagerness to embarrass Mr. Roosevelt. At one time John L. Lewis was a great American, a great liberal, and a great labor leader. Today he is a petty politician and a detriment to labor, as is any man who puts his own personal ambition before the good of his union.

The "Honorable" Hamilton Fish, congressman from the State of New York, is at it again. Mr. Fish, not satisfied at having been shown up as a Nazi-phile inasmuch as his franking privilege was being misused by George Sylvester Viereck, has let this frank get out of hand. During the previous investigation Fish claimed that the frank had been let out by his secretary, George Hill, who has been convicted of perjury. We wonder who Mr. Fish's new secretary now is, because there is a traitor named Douglas Shea in Baltimore who is disseminating racial, religious and anti-labor propoganda out of that city which is identical with the pre-war filth which so many of our "100% Americans" were sending out. It follows the Nazi party line identically. And the most amazing thing out it is that it comes through the mail in envelopes bearing the frank of the "Honorable" Hamilton Fish, Member of Congress. Better look into your new secretary, Fish, because something smells fishy there. And, Mr. Fish, as we know you could have nothing to do with this abuse of a governmental privilege, we would not think of accusing you of having anything to do with this abuse.

It becomes very tiring, after a while, trying to wake up a nation which seemingly has no desire to be awakened. Men such as Fish have no place in a wartime congress. There are others

AN EDITORIAL

The news columns of the nation have been filled this week and will be filled for some time to come with some very pertinent material. There are two trials opening, both of which have deep national significance and importance.

The first has to do with sedition. This one is not too important, because those on trial are, for the most part, cases. Very few Americans were taken in by their honeyed words. If convicted they will receive comparatively light sentences, and will be free in a short time to seek to disrupt the American people again. The significance of this trial lies in the slight penalties which may be visited on these seditionists. The importance of the trial lies in bringing these light penalties before the American people.

The second trial, or investigation concerns itself with murder, pure and simple. Those on trial are not, however, called murderers, because we do not call men in their position murderers. We call them corporation heads. However, if sending faulty copper communications wire and faulty steel, steel which buckles and crystallizes when it is made into ships is not murder, what is it?

This trial is an important one, although it is called an investigation. It will reach into many here-to-fore sanctified places. It may involve many government officials. It may involve a Washington character named Monroe, who is more or less a man of mystery. It will, provided the screws are not put on the investigators instead of those being investigated, bring into the open the rotten materials of war which are being given to our fighting men. It will bring into the open those men who are supplying those rotten materials of war.

We have been urged, recently, not to patronize black markets. This appeal was made on the basis of our patriotism, and all America responded. But what are we to do with our enemies who call themselves Americans? A fine and a monetary penalty is not enough. With the profits made out of these faulty sinews of war these men can pay these fines and penalties ten-fold. New laws must be made to cover these cases.

The Truman Senate Committee reports should be read by every American, and, following the reading America should write to her congressmen and senators, telling them what they think. America is at war. We, the people, realize this, but do our national representatives?

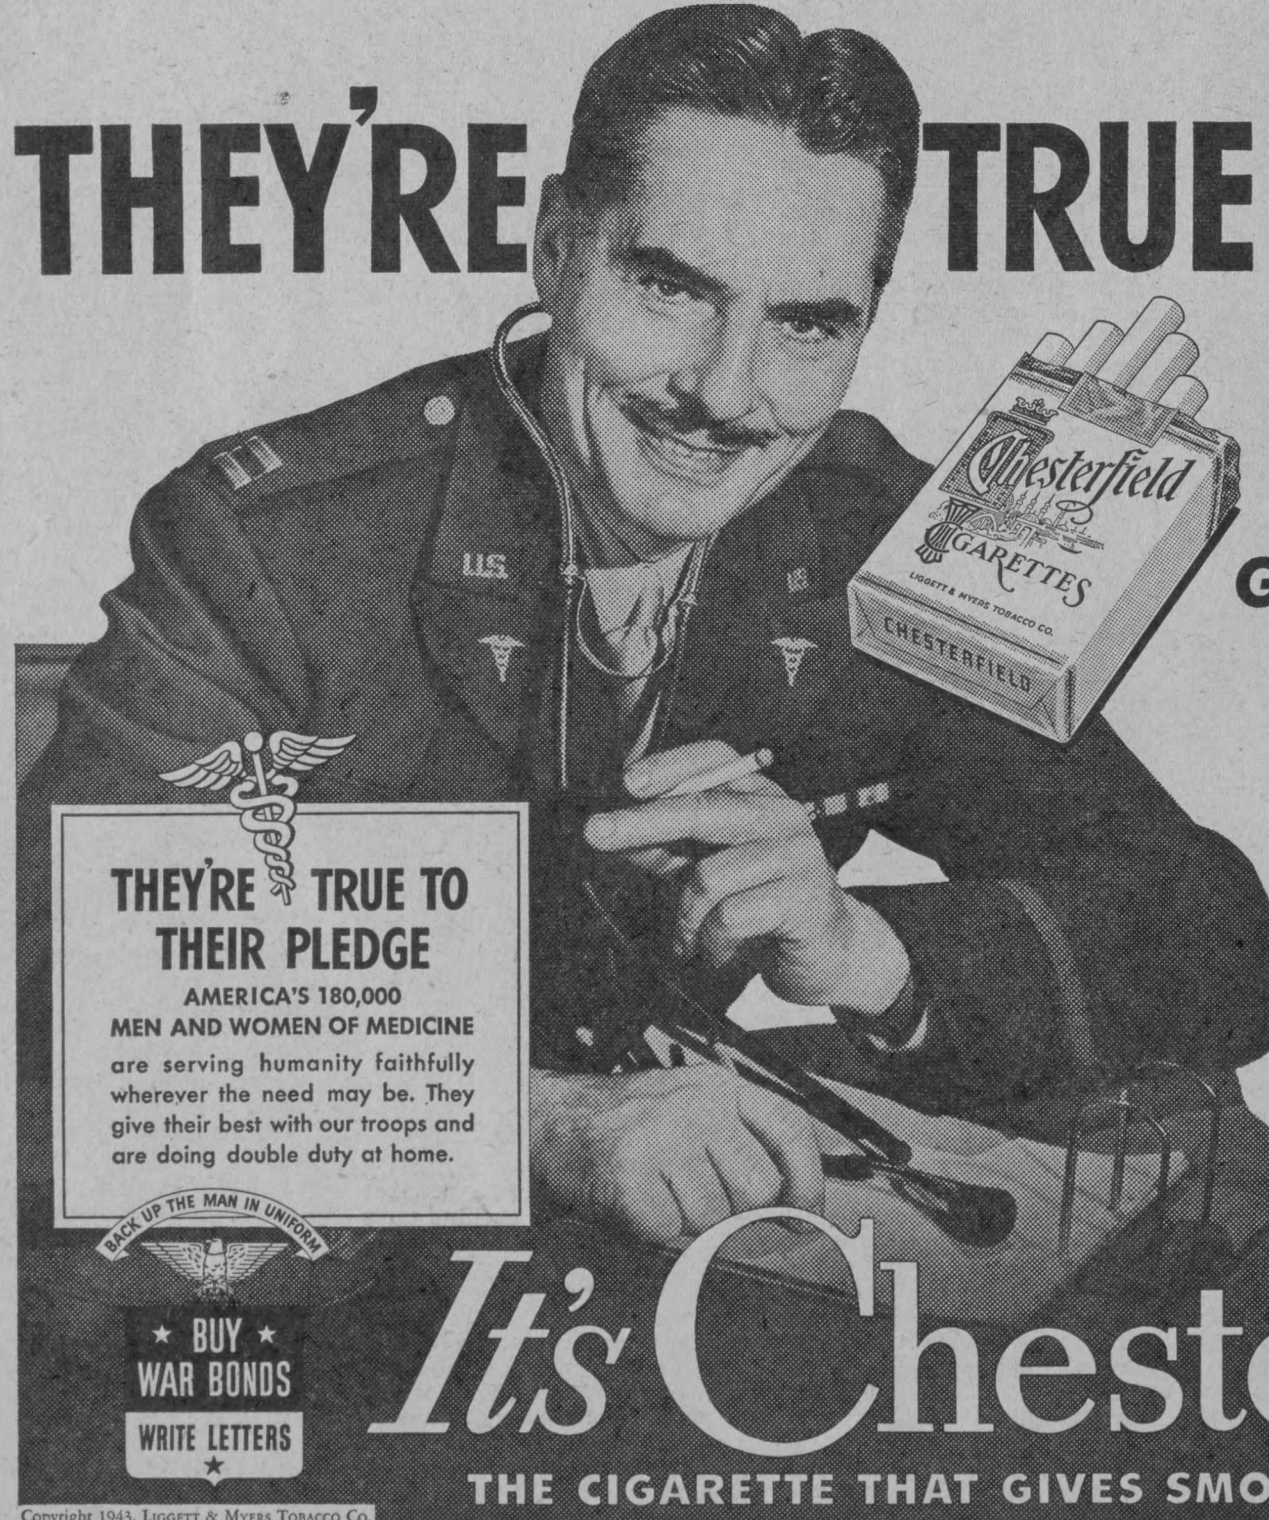

G.B.

who should not be allowed to sit in the National Legislature. Congressman Clair Hoffman, Senators Nye, Wheeler, Clark, "Curley" Brooks, are just a few of those obstructionists who seek to hamper our war effort. But the American people must have the facts thrown at them, and even then they do not believe these facts half of the time. The cast of Senator Ernest Lundeen is but one of these instances. Pearson and Allen charged Senator Lundeen with being in the pay of Nazi agents. Before he could refute these charges, he was killed in an airplane accident, and the columnists were excooriated for their statements. However, subsequent investigation proved their allegations, and even when confronted with cancelled checks and letters, the American Public chose to ignore them.

A traitor is a traitor. There can be no mincing words. A traitor is worse than a murderer, worse than a known enemy, because he works in the dark. For God's sake, and your own sake, wake up America, before it's too late.
