'Make Campus Beautiful' Is Aim of Drive

Campaign to Beautify Campus Opens Under Supervision of President Phelps

By DICK MACQUIDDY

It won't be long until we'll be able to point to our campus with pride. Lovely drives, well-kept lawns, sweet-scented flowers and shady paths. It all depends on the extent to which the students lend their support to the campus beautification program which is being launched under the general supervision of President Phelps.

How many of us know that not so many years ago, this campus was pointed to with pride as one of the show places of Santa Barbara. Visitors were brought here to marvel at the well kept gardens, to remark that the college resembled a priceless jewel in a beautiful setting.

Sadly, through lack of funds, the campus has suffered extensive depreciation. The lawns have shriveled up. The flowers have died. The drives might easily be mistaken for some country cowpaths, especially the drive in front of the administration building, which, above all, should be in good shape. How many of us now, would bring our friends and relatives up here and say with pride, "It's beautiful isn't it?"

Possibilities Fine

This campus has wonderful possibilities, situated as it is high above the town, standing out like a medieval Spanish castle, its arches strung out beautifully to resemble an old mission. Tall eucalyptus trees standing as stately guardians. It's beautiful now, beautiful as can be, from a distance. What needs to be done, and what will be done is to bring that beauty up close, to bring it right here, because this is where we see most of the college, and not from the mesa on the other side of town.

Present plans, in general include the restoration of drives, lawns, and shrubbery, and the planting of more shrubbery wherever the need calls for it. The drive in front of the administration building is to be completed and continued until it connects with Alameda Padre Serra drive. It will be possible then to drive in one side and out the other, without making the circle which is now necessary. It is expected that the state and the county may help in defraying the expenses of this particular phase of the work.

Southern California Symphony Invites Musicians to Concert

Application blanks for participation in the All-Southern California college symphony orchestra have been sent to all universities, colleges, and junior colleges in the Southland, in preparation for the concert of the orchestra which will be given here March 1.

Enthusiastic letters have been received from several colleges, including the University of Southern California, University of California at Los Angeles, San Diego State college, and Fullerton Junior college, according to Betty Procter, chairman of the intercollegiate symphony executive committee, who states that the replies pledge full support for the concert. The affair will be the second annual intercollegiate symphony for the Southland, the first one having been staged last spring in the local High school auditorium. The first concert, which also was sponsored by Santa Barbara State college, was declared to be one of the outstanding cultural achievements of the college.

Clifford Leedy, who planned and organized the orchestra, stated that Henry Eichheim, noted musician and director of the first symphony, has been secured to direct the concert this year. Eichheim will secure all of the musical scores from the San Francisco Symphony orchestra, with the exception of one number, "Clouds," by Debussy, which he hopes to obtain from the library of the Chicago Philharmonic Symphony through the courtesy of Leopold Stokowski, conductor of the Chicago orchestra.

Total Cost of New Science Building Will Be $159,000

State's new Science building, which has been under discussion for two years, will be erected at a cost of $159,000, or $39,000 more than the original appropriation for the building, according to a decision reached by the state legislature and finance officers last week.

Work on the building will start within a few weeks, if present plans of the state officials and of President C. L. Phelps of the college are carried out. The structure will be erected on the site of the old cafeteria, above Ebbetts hall.

The original appropriation for the building was $120,000, but this was found to be insufficient to complete the building according to specifications, so the additional appropriation was made.

Alumnae Group of Tau Gamma Sigma Will Give Benefit

Benefit bridge will be added to the growing list of unemployment relief benefit affairs when Sigma Tau, alumnae chapter of Tau Gamma Sigma, plays hostess to city and campus friends at a benefit bridge tea at Rockwood Saturday afternoon from 2:30 to 5 o'clock.

Entertainment for the afternoon will include both bridge and a musical program, according to Ann Hegeman, Sigma Tau president. Miss Hegeman stated that numerous reservations have been received from members of the City Women's club who expect to substitute the bridge tea for the vanishing luncheon planned by the club for the relief fund. The Women's club has donated the use of Rockwood to Sigma Tau.

Music for the affair will be furnished by campus artists. Mrs. Helen M. Barnett will present a group of vocal solos, accompanied by Betty Procter. Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Lyans will play cello and harp selections. A string quartet composed of members of the college orchestra will be directed by Clifford Leedy.

Mrs. Barnett, faculty sponsor of Tau Gamma, and Mrs. Elmer A. W. patroness, will preside at the tea tables. Refreshments for the affair are to be donated by Diehl's Grocery, Hunt's Mercantile, and Overgaard's Bakery, according to Ann Hegeman, general chairman.

All sororities on the campus have reserved a table or group of tables for the bridge tea, and numerous individual co-ed parties are being formed, according to Betty Procter, president of the active chapter of Tau Gamma Sigma, who stated that the Tau Gams are planning to make it the most brilliant social event on the co-ed's calendar. Prizes will be awarded to the holder of high score at individual tables.

Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham, registrar, is in charge of ticket sales, and tickets, which are fifty cents each, can be secured from her office or from members of any sororities, according to Betty Procter. Off-campus sales are in charge of Ann Hegeman.

Co-Eds Will Pay Date Expenses for Perfect Man

University of Southern California.—A group of women students at the University of Southern California have agreed to pay the full cost of dates if their escorts can measure up to "the perfect man." Should the boy rate only 50 per cent the girls will stand half, and the lower in esteem the male falls, the greater share of the entertainment he must foot.

Here's how the modal man will be rated by the girls: intelligence, 20 per cent; cultural background, 15 per cent; personal appearance, 15 per cent; personality, 10 per cent; courtesy, 10 per cent; sense of humor, 10 per cent; physical fitness, 5 per cent; clear understanding of the meaning of the word "No," 5 per cent; social poise, 5 per cent; dancing ability, 5 per cent.

Jean Duncan Delegate To Convention

Jean Duncan represented the college at a convention of the Junior Council of International Relations which met at U.C.L.A. on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of last week.

The purpose of the council is to promote better understanding between the races of the Pacific. The delegates were divided into five forum groups. Each group discussed one of five topics: Race prejudices on the Pacific Coast as it concerns the student; 2—Mexican Relations; 3—Second Generation Problems; 4—Social Reorganization of the Pacific Area and 5—Cultural Contacts in the Pacific Areas.

Miss Duncan attended the forum concerning the cultural problems of the Pacific Area which was under the direction of Professor Geoffrey Smith of Compton J.C. She was chosen to prepare a summary of the discussion which concerned our culture in relation to Oriental, Tibetan and Javanese culture. The summary, in brief, concluded that there should be a give and take between the Pacific peoples without a loss of the individuality of each culture.

Some fifty delegates attended the convention representing the following colleges: U.C.L.A., Pasadena J. C., Caltech, Santa Maria J.C., Redlands, Hawaii university, Occidental, Whittier, Long Beach J.C., San Diego State, S.B.S.C.

New Surface Hides State St. Tracks

State street, "main drag" through downtown Santa Barbara, is being resurfaced with asphalt to cover the now abandoned street car tracks. The entire length of the street from Sola street to the beach, 13 blocks, will appear with a new smooth surface within two weeks, if the schedule of the contractors is carried out on time.

Street cars were out-moded in Santa Barbara three years ago, the Southern California Edison company abandoning its lines in favor of the Spreitz system buses at that time, after bearing financial losses on the trolley lines for several years.

The Edison company agreed to remove the car tracks. West Cabrillo boulevard has been resurfaced, the tracks recently were removed from Alameda Padre Serra, the drive from the Old Mission to the State college, and now Santa Barbara's main thoroughfare is being repaved.

Debating Teams Will Enter Redlands Meet December 4, 5

Former S. B. Girls Receive Honors in U.S.C. Music Group

Anita Cochran and Dorothea Peterson, former State students prominent in musical and social activities of the campus, were among the seven University of Southern California students to be honored by election to membership in the U. S. C. chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, national honorary music sorority, this semester. Anita Cochran represented the pledges in responding to toasts at the initiation banquet which was held in the Elks club, Los Angeles, the Friday before Thanksgiving vacation.

Mu Phi Epsilon is the most outstanding musical sorority on the U.S.C. campus. It is a sister organization to Phi Mu Alpha, largest music fraternity in the country, of which Clifford Leedy, State college orchestra and band director, is a member. Honorary members of the sorority include Madame Schumann-Heink and other noted musicians.

Both girls attended State for three years before transferring to U.S.C. They were members of the Revelettes, the Women's Glee club, the Third Year Harmony class, and Tau Gamma Sigma. Both won recognition for original music compositions done in connection with the Easter cantata and the Spring Music Recital last year.

Anita Cochran is a member of the local chapter of Kappa Delta Phi, honorary scholastic fraternity. She is organist and choir director of the Santa Barbara Unitarian church, coming up each week-end for services. Dorothea Peterson sings in the choir. She is also a member of the local chapter of Alpha Phi Gamma, honorary journalism fraternity.

DRUG ADDICTION IS DISEASE, SAYS ROWELL IN TALK

Mr. Earle A. Rowell's lecture on the Dope Evil was the feature of the assembly presided over by President Clarence Phelps, in the auditorium yesterday.

According to Mr. Rowell, narcotic addiction is not a habit but a disease, and the worst disease which the human race has to combat. He states that the narcotic business is the largest illegitimate business on earth, and has reached such immense proportions that the United States government, as well as numerous organizations are devoting extensive efforts to curb the evil.

A few of the pertinent facts of Mr. Rowell's speech are quoted as follows: "Nine-tenths of all premeditated crimes are directly traceable to dope addicts. Dope addicts do not use dope because of the pleasure derived therefrom, except in the very beginning, but because of the excruciating pain which accompanies all efforts to cease taking the dope. Pleasure is derived from cocaine only. Opium makes the user drowsy, while morphine acts in the same manner as opium, but to a greater degree. Heroin is the drug of crime. It is this substance, which is used extensively by criminals. A dose of heroin, banishes all fear from the mind of the addict. In his mind, he becomes invincible, and will stop at nothing to attain his ends.

To illustrate his assertion that addiction to dope is not a habit but a disease, Mr. Rowell told of the newly-born baby of a mother who was a dope-addict. The child was born an addict, and in order to save its life, it was necessary for the attending physician to inject dope into the child. After 30 days, it was possible to rid the child of the habit, but the child suffered excruciating pains during the process. Fifty years later the child, naturally now grown, and in the interim never having touched dope, is taken to the hospital to undergo a minor operation. Doctors inject a single dose of morphine, and almost instantly the person is again a confirmed addict, and must submit to treatments with the accompanying suffering, in order to again be rid of the disease.

The White Cross Society, of which Mr. Rowell is a prominent member, is one of the most eminent societies combating the dope evil in the United States, and it is doing much to educate the younger generations concerning narcotics, for, as Mr. Rowell says, "No young person of sound mind, knowing the facts, will succumb to dope in any form."

Dolores Center on Anacapa St. To Be Scene of First Junior Dance

The junior class will hold its first junior prom this Friday night at Dolores Center on Anacapa street at 8:30 o'clock.

After many changes in plans the committee has decided to make the dance semi-formal because of the social importance of the event. It is planned to make the junior prom an annual event at State.

Juniors may attend only if they have paid their class dues to Bernard O'Reilly, who will be in student body office fourth period every day. Class members may also pay at the dance Friday night. Both men and women must pay class dues whether or not they attend the dance.

Pop Well's orchestra will furnish the music and refreshments will be served. Those on the committee for arrangements are Rose Greenwell, Dorothy Hodgins, Ben Romer, Carmel Leach, and Bernard O'Reilly.

CLINIC TESTS 381 STUDENTS DURING STAY

Three hundred and eighty-one students were given X-Ray and chest examinations by the Motor Tuberculosis X-Ray Clinic during their two weeks stay here.

Only four persons were sent home on the advice of the clinic for rest. They will probably return next year.

According to Dr. E. L. Bishop, chairman of the health committee, the most serious condition found was that 22 per cent of the people examined were more than 10 per cent under weight. In such cases, there will probably be marked readjustments of programs, said Dr. Bishop. She went on to say that it was significant to note that in no case was chest difficulty found in people of normal weight.

Mrs. Edythe Tate-Thompson, who is in charge of the clinic, will return next month with a nutritional expert to give individual advice and assistance to students.

Beginning December 1 there will be a part-time nurse in attendance in the health office. The schedule will be announced later.

In connection with the health work, rest classes will be organized for the underweight and rundown people.

CINCH NOTICES SENT TO LARGE COLLEGE GROUP

Approximately 43 per cent of the student body received cinch notices, 504 of them having been sent to 309 students, according to data compiled by Dr. E. L. Bishop, director of Research at State.

The data indicates that one half of the notices sent advised students that they were doing work which would be considered failing, 56 per cent were made "5" or "F". One hundred and seventy-one students (24 per cent of the student body) received 1 warning notice. One hundred and thirty-eight students (49 per cent of the student body) received 2 or more notices.

Of these 138 students, 90 (approximately 12.1-2 per cent of the student body) received 2 notices. Nine students (approximately 1.1-4 per cent) received 4.

President Phelps remarks that nothing would please him more than to write to Sacramento, saying that the library is overcrowded, and that funds are needed to buy more chairs to accommodate the students.

Miss Mary Holmes, graduate of 1910, now living in Berkeley, recently sent word to Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham, alumni secretary, notifying her of incorrect address in the alumni files. Miss Holmes stated that she has spent 20 years in service to the state, retiring only last year.

Letter Reveals That S.B. State Takes Part in Social Activity

To anyone who doubts that Santa Barbara State college is modern in its social practices, the following correspondence between the president of a southern teachers college and President Clarence Phelps is offered as a study in contrasts.

The letter from the southern executive, who is a personal friend of Mr. Phelps, is quoted in part as follows:

"Our students have presented a petition to the faculty for young men and young women to be allowed to dance together, of course, under the supervision of designated college officials. The students are quite insistent upon having this privilege and protest that the college is out of line with other colleges in not having granted this privilege before. As might be expected, the faculty members are somewhat divided upon the propriety of the innovation."

Here, in part, is President Phelps' reply:

"Our men and women not only dance together but they frequent evening dances off of the campus where they congregate in large numbers to such an extent that it is almost impossible to get a hall large enough to accommodate them and the faculty members who also attend and dance."

"The whole matter is much like a big family affair where everybody is welcome and where everybody expects that everybody else is there for the same legitimate purpose of enjoying himself. These dances are quite important events. A considerable amount of student body money is expended on them. We always have the best orchestra that is available and sometimes

State Grads Secure Jobs Through Office

Following her receipt of announcements of elementary positions at Calistoga and San Luis Obispo, Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham, appointment secretary, has recommended graduates to the principals of the schools.

Mrs. Abraham stated that many changes are made during the fall, permitting several students to secure positions. She also warns students not to join agencies until the appointment office had failed to find them a place. She advised, too, that special attention must be paid to legibility, construction, and spelling when making out application blanks for positions.

The double trio, Betty Procter, Margaret Jigerian, Evalin Eaves, Ella Cornwall, Audrey Moore and Eleanor Tubbs, sang "Babylon" by Clokey and "Elegy" by Massenet. Montecito Club Setting of Xmas Formal Dec. 12

Harrington Wells and Campus Boys Will Furnish Music for Affair

Montecito Country club, set far back in the hills of Santa Barbara, will lure many students and their guests to attend the annual Associated Student Body Christmas formal next Saturday evening, December 12.

Co-eds and their escorts will have opportunity to give vent to their spirits of Christmas as they dance to the tunes of Harrington Wells, versatile science professor, and his Campus Boys.

In the attractive lobby, with its two blazing log fires, will be placed a large Christmas tree under which presents for student body officers and faculty members will be placed for distribution by an ample Santa Claus. Inexpensive toys and gifts will be placed under the tree also by thoughtful students for additions to the Christmas baskets provided every year by the Associated Women Students.

For the first time in many years, co-eds will attend this formal dance minus the corsages. The action regarding the purchase of floral decorations was made by the women themselves at the A.W.S. meeting last Tuesday in the auditorium. The co-eds decided that the long-cried-over "depression days" are continued when the escort must indulge in expensive flowers for the sake of a feminine whim.

Elizabeth Peacock, social chairman, states that any men lacking tuxedos, are asked to come in dark suits. Alumni invitations are limited to twenty guests because of the crowded conditions of the dance floor. Only five outside women will be admitted at the front door, by invitations issued through Dean Mildred C. Pyle's office.

Through the kindness of Mr. Bower, manager of the Montecito Country club, arrangements have been made at a minimum cost. The Social committee plans to save more than one hundred dollars on the affair. This money will be applied to the student unemployment fund.

Patrons and patronesses for the affair will be President Clarence Phelps, Dean Mildred C. Pyle, Dean and Mrs. William Ashworth, and Dr. and Mrs. Charles Jacobs.

A.W.S. Sponsor Vesper Service of Thanksgiving

The Associated Women Students Vesper hour on last Tuesday proved to be a fitting and inspiring beginning for the Thanksgiving vacation, as expressed by students and faculty members who attended the service.

The room was lighted only by seven candles which lent an atmosphere of quietness and peace. Dr. Oliver Hart Bronson, from the Presbyterian church in Montecito, gave a Thanksgiving talk on the relation between thinking and thanking. The harp selection of Mrs. Lyons and the poem read by Irene O'Leary helped to carry out the feeling of the service.

The Vesper hour was well attended and it is hoped that the next service, which is to be held just before Christmas vacation, will be equally successful.

Alpha Rho Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, Honorary Group, Pledges Six

By HELEN SMITH

Kappa Delta Pi, international sorority educational fraternity, represented in the S.B.S.C. campus by the Alpha Rho chapter, pledged six candidates for membership at services held in the Faculty Dining Hall last evening, December 1, at 8:15 o'clock.

Kappa Delta Pi originated from an honor society known as the Illinois Educational club at the University of Illinois in 1909. Dr. Bagley was the founder of this society. On June 8, 1911, the Illinois Educational club was incorporated under the laws of the state of Illinois as the honorary educational fraternity of appa Delta Pi.

The second chapter of this fraternity was founded at Boulder, Colorado, in 1912. Little progress was made during the war, but in 1919, President Crabbe of the Greeley State Teachers college interested the American Association of Teachers colleges in appa Delta Pi and this organization recommended that chapters of the fraternity be established in teachers' colleges.

President Clarence Phelps of Santa Barbara State, who was at Greeley State college in 1919, did much to further the establishment of additional chapters of appa Delta Pi. At this time there were two outstanding honorary educational societies in the United States, Phi Delta appa, a fraternity and Pi

Lambda Theta, a sorority. An honorary coeducational fraternity was a new organization, and much work was done to convince people of its merit, according to members of Kappa Delta Pi.

The local chapter Alpha Rho was established on May 20, 1927, as the fifty-first chapter. As early as 1923, ten candidates had petitioned for a chapter, but the petition was not recognized, since at that time the college was not granting degrees. In 1927, however, thirty-four chapters unanimously granted the petition for a local chapter.

In addition to its many chapters, appa Delta Pi has a Laureate chapter, the members of which have made outstanding contributions to the field of education. The membership limit for this chapter is fifty. Not more than five members are accepted in one year. There are now twenty members. Among the members we find the names of such internationally famous educators as Dewey, Charters, Cubberley, Thorndike, Sir John Adams, Dr. Helen Wooley, Dr. Susan Dorsey, Terman, Bagley, Suzzallo, and Coffman.

Kappa Delta Pi is now an international fraternity. The statement has been made that appa Delta Pi is to the field of education what Phi Beta Kappa is to letters and sciences.

Dean Pyle Hostess to Girls' Council

Members of the Girl Scout Council of Santa Barbara were guests of Dean Mildred C. Pyle at her home last Friday evening.

Miss Hovey spoke to the members on her recent trip to the national Girl Scout convention at Buffalo, New York. Miss Alley entertained with moving pictures of the summer camp of President Hoover on the Rapidan river, and was a guest at the camp for four days recently when Mrs. Hoover, who is the President Emeritus of the Girl Scouts, entertained the members of the National Board. Miss Alley was the Pacific coast representative at the meeting.

Tau Omega pledges surprised and pleased their prospective brothers by reporting at last Monday's meeting with not a single "cinch" notice received in the group.

The five pledges whose records were thus left unblemished, and anatomies consequently unpunished, are Ben Palmer, Walter Ott, James Nicklin, Oscar Trautz, and Paul Hylton. Three of these men finished last semester with grade averages of 1.5 or higher, it was discovered at the meeting, and the standing of the other two were considerably above average.

Sorority Alumnae Will Offer Benefit Dance

Alumnae members of Alpha Theta Chi sorority will sponsor an invitational benefit dance to be held at the Samarkand hotel, Saturday evening, Dec. 5, at nine o'clock. The proceeds obtained from this affair will be used in filling Christmas baskets for needy families.

Outing Club Members Make Barbecue Pit

Enthusiastic Men Use Holiday Season to Work on Outing Club Cabin

Not all of the students spent their Thanksgiving vacation in luxurious idleness, according to Archie Way, president of the Outing Club, who with Milton Burnham, Moose McCullough and George Harper spent the week-end at the club's cabin, effecting necessary repairs and improvements.

According to Archie, the boys accomplished much. The chimney was completed, making it possible for the boys to gather 'round the fireside on an evenin' and spin yarns. The eaves have been extended and finished, leaving the cabin with a completed bonnet. Lastly, but of great importance, Archie and his pals constructed a handsome new outdoor barbecue pit. Now the club may include large, juicy barbecued steaks on its menu.

By next semester, the Outing club expects to have the floor of the cabin in a condition which will permit the holding of parties and dances.

The next outing will be held on December 13, when all members of the club are expected to adjourn to their mountain retreat, for a brief return to nature.

Fashion Preview

What with the Christmas formal, the holidays, and all that approaching a word or two on evening things might prove timely.

The heavier crepes and satins are in vogue at the moment, not however to the total exclusion of the delicate nets and laces that were seen last season.

Elaboration is centered almost entirely in the back, not only in the ruffles, cascades and puffs flowing from the waist down to the hem, but in the startling decollages. These are unusual arrangements of straps, crossing from the shoulders, or front of the dress, or trimming motifs of scarves, artificial flowers or feather fronds.

Hair in the evening is drawn back from the forehead as smoothly as the features will permit and arranged in smooth rolls on the top of the head. One or two wispy curls over one ear or on one side of the forehead add in some cases to an attractive effect.

Economically minded lassies will be delighted to know that gloves in the evening are only half an inch or so above the wrist. Very smart, worn with a large bracelet or two. Isn't it nice though not to feel it de rigueur to prance forth and spend our allowance money on elbow or full arm lengths of kid-skin?

Please, please, please, don't wear the elaborate court earrings unless you're a fairly stately type—that is, as stately a type as S.B.S.C. produces. Otherwise why not go in for the sweet simplicity sort of thing as far as jewelry goes?

As has been mentioned before, the modern form of the Grecian Sandal is lovely in dyable crepes, ornamented with gold and silver kid. You may be daring and wear the real sandal with nothing over the toe and fling some snappy polish on your toenails. From what's been seen of modern maidens toes in the showers and at the swimming pool, however, perhaps you'd better not.

Of course you all know better than to spoil what may be a knock-out of a frock with the world's worst in shoes. A red dress with white shoes was once seen at a rather exclusive function and there have been others—yes indeed there

Questions Based On Current Events Baffle U. of W. Studes

The following questionnaire was presented to its readers by the University of Washington Daily:

- Can you answer these?
1. Who are Grandi and Gandhi?
2. Who is the outstanding democratic candidate for president?
3. Who is the vice president of the United States?
4. When is the next presidential election?
5. Who is the Prime Minister of England?
6. Who is the Pierre Laval?
7. Who is the political leader of Russia?
8. Where is Manchuria?
9. Who is the mayor of Chicago?
10. Who is the mayor of Seattle?
The world was a topsy affair when these questions were given to 90 students. Less than half, forty-eight percent, were answered correctly. These questions were prepared by the University of Washington Daily of Seattle to test the general informational fund of the students.

Men gave the explanation that more co-eds than men answered the questions. Only one woman had no wrong answers. The best record was made on the question, "Who is the prime minister of England?"

fifty-seven out of ninety answered McDonald.

And Mayor Harlin of Seattle was next with fifty-six correct. Gandhi came next with only one less correct answer, while only twenty-three knew who Grandi was.

Manchuria wandered around considerably. One geographical contortionist had it "south of China and north of Japan." Lenin again became the head of the Russian government. Although one answer put Mussolini (!!!) as the head of the Soviets. Even Tolstoy became Russia's head man.

Well, it's a queer old world and would be even more so if some of these answers were correct. But there is one consolation, at least we haven't reached the ultimate limits. Here are the answers:
1. Grandi, Italian minister. Gandhi, leader of the India nationalists.
2. Franklin D. Roosevelt.
3. Charles Curtis.
4. November, 1932.

Cooks and Mechanics Frolic at Cafeteria

On the evening of November 20, the Industrial Education and Home Economics department held their second annual dance party in the college dining hall.

These two departments have established this affair as an annual event at which the Industrial Education department, made up entirely of men meet with the Home Economic, made up entirely of women get together for an evening of fun. A large percentage of the members of each department were present. Those who did not care to dance enjoyed the evening playing cards. Patrons and patronesses for the affair were Miss Charlotte Ebbetts and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Ericson.

have been others. Oh well, a word to the wise should be sufficient, choose your shoes either to match perfectly or to form a harmonious contrast with your costume. And incidentally, silver shoes are coming in again, we have this on the authority of one who knows.

We're all painted ladies in this day and age, but how about a little discretion in the use of make-up? Just a little, that's all we ask. Blue eyeshadow with brown eyes is not being worn, my dears. And a little mascara will go a long way. The same applies to rouge. No point in looking feverish as 'twere. Also, there have been complaints against eyeshadow caking in the fold of the eyelid. Can't you girls do something drastic about this?

Ind. Ed. Men to Elect Officers Tomorrow

During the fourth hour Thursday the men in the Industrial Education department will hold their regular monthly meeting in room 44.

This meeting is to be very important in that two offices created by the adoption of the constitution are to be filled. These offices are vice-president and treasurer. In compliance with the constitution names of nominees for these offices have been posted for one week. They are Walter Ott and Eugene Morgan for vice-president and S. D. Stephens and Dave Lewis for treasurer.

According to the president of the department, Howard Schyler, many other important things are to be discussed necessitating the presence of all the men in the department.

BONE SMASHING WILL FEATURE NEW CONTESTS

Good Material Turns Out for Boxing and Wrestling Contests

According to Coach Luke Trimble, the intra-mural boxing and wrestling contests will begin Monday 7. The contests are to be staged in the gym during the boxing and wrestling class periods as well as other periods during the day. Boxing classes are held Monday, Wednesday, and Friday seventh period; wrestling is staged Tuesday and Thursday during the sixth and seventh periods.

All those who wish to enter these contests must sign up with Luke Trimble sometime during this week. All weights are to be entered.

Last year the boxing and wrestling contests were very successful and this year they look even more promising.

Horseback Riding for Phys. Ed. Women

The Physical Education department is considering the advisability of offering horseback riding as a junior-senior class activity for next semester. Any women who will be taking P. E. 160 will be eligible to take the course for credit. All students interested can see Miss Van Fossen for further information. The class will need eight, and be limited to ten riders.

ALUMNI RECEIVE NEW MAGAZINE WITH APPLAUSE

Mrs. Jane Miller Abraham, registrar, has been receiving subscriptions from members of the alumni association to the new alumni bulletin, Hoy Dia, which it is planned to publish quarterly.

These subscriptions have been received from alumni who are now in different sections of the country. A subscription from Anna N. Roenigk comes from Elizabeth, New Jersey, and Mabel L. Dewlaney sends here from Kamehameha, Hawaii. Ninety-eight per cent of the subscriptions, however, come from California.

Many favorable comments on the new magazine have been received. Anna N. Needham says, "Congratulations on the new publication. I think it is splendid. Best wishes for the future." Miss Dewlaney writes from Hawaii to Mrs. Abraham that she is glad of the advent of Hoy Dia and thinks it will be "a nice way to keep your children together."

Subscriptions have been received from the following alumni: Mrs. Julius Bergen, Helen M. Nauman, Anna N. Roenigk, Mrs. Evan D. Lewis, Ethel Anne McDonald, Elizabeth K. Johnson, Mrs. Ray Swartz, May Worthington, Agnes Hutchinson, Esther Arthur, Henry Hadley Batchler, Elmer F. Karpe, Mabel L. Dewlaney, Mrs. M. R. Bundage, Florence S. Varsity Casaba Team Starts Grind for Hectic Schedule

Drive to Beautify Campus Is Started

Shrubbery Needed
There is nothing which exceeds nature's flowers, trees, and grass in lending a note of stability to man-made structures. When this institution possesses that note of stability in the one sense, and indicates that it is a thriving and ambitious concern in another, it bids fair to receive aid from interested persons in the city and in the state.

Mr. Rust is starting the program by donating to the beautification fund, all of the profit from his picture "Theodore Roosevelt" which he is offering to the students and to the public on December 10. Every student should be back of Mr. Rust to the last ditch. Attend the picture and bring your friends. Nothing can be done without cooperation, and since we are the ones who will benefit most from a beautiful campus, it behooves us to cooperate to the best of our ability in attaining that end.

All labor on this project will be done by college students. It is expected that many persons attending college will be benefited considerably by aiding in this work on a remunerative basis. In the final analysis, it can only be repeated that it all depends on each and every one of us, on cooperation and unselfish effort.

With such objects in mind as beautifying our campus, and creating useful employment on the campus, can't we do it?

Coach Hal Davis Explains New Play Tactics to Enthused Squad

Coach Hal Davis' varsity quintet began practice for the tough basketball schedule ahead of them, yesterday afternoon in the college gym. Luke Trimble will handle the frosh five and prospects for a great season looms for them, according to Trimble.

Only one home game is on the local schedule that being with Occidental college, and the rest are all out of town games. A gym for the home game has not been decided on, but it is hoped that the Carpinteria gym may be secured, it being the best site for such an encounter.

In their meeting Monday, Coach Davis stated that varsity men would practice from four to six o'clock in the afternoon and frosh casaba heavers would rehearse from seven to nine in the evenings.

Mentor Davis gave a short talk to the men Monday in which he stressed the fact that strict training rules must be observed by every member of the squad, "and any one breaking training during basketball season are out," thundered the coach, and the seriousness with which he looked gave weight to his statement.

"This year," stated Davis, "we will use a four man offense and man to man defense, and you can't play unless you are in condition." He advised the men to practice dribbling, turning, pivoting and shooting baskets in their spare time in the gym and not just shooting baskets alone.

He also stated that the bounce pass would be employed quite often as well as the baseball pass, hook pass, and push pass.

Quite an array of talent heeded the basketball call and among those who look promising are: Joe Martin, "Pinky" Greeson, Vic Colton, Bob Schultz, Pat McCullough, Clyde Coombs, Bob Hathaway, Gaylord Purvis, John Echardt, and Bob Winters. These and others will be whipped into shape so as to present a formidable outfit to the other Southern Conference teams, it is hoped.

been hard fought. The third period class seems to have a trifle edge so far with Dick Kalme's team coming close behind. Those who are on the touch football teams please notice the schedules more closely and be on time for all games. The Tau Omega fraternity won on eleventh last week because of reason and I am sure that this frat wishes to win another in such manner.

As predicted at the beginning of the football season Caltech and Whittier were the leading teams in the pigskin battle. Looks as though Caltech has won the Conference pennant or whatever they give, as she has won five out of six games played.

Coach Davis politely asked the gathering of basketball men Monday night who were the "forwards." Vic Colton humbly raised his hand.

Now that Christmas is near and Santa is preparing to make his annual visit this would be the ideal time to send him this kind of a message. Tell him how much you would appreciate a portable typewriter. Tell him too, how much it would help you in your work at State College.

And don't forget to tell him how easy it would be for him to do this for you this Christmas. Right now when he needs so much for all the folks it is the easiest time to buy one of these portables. We are willing to help him out with the most reasonable of terms.

Tell Santa that he can just send us a note telling us to let you select a typewriter and we will invite you down to our shop to make your choice from among all the latest and best portables on the market.

Just tell him that you think it is the most common sense gift he can select and tell him straight from the shoulder how much you would appreciate it.

He will be glad to have the selection of the gift taken from his shoulders and our cooperation will help ease the financial burden just when it is heaviest.

HEARD IN THE SHOWERS

During the lull between the football and basketball seasons the athletes of State college are getting their fill of turkey; the many new holes punched in their belts testify to this. That word "turkey," doesn't it sound nice; oh, well, Christmas is coming.

Looks as though basketball is going to get under way after all, although Coach Davis does not know yet where conference games will be held. Much good material is to be had at State this year with Barnett, Denno, Colton, Martin, etc., all ready to go. Practice started last night and those who have not turned up for basketball do so at once as Coach Davis would like the men to get into shape as soon as possible for our first conference game.

"Have you noticed how straight Walter Barnett stands since the board that has braced his broken shoulder has been taken off.

State has no basketball captain this year as the captain elect for this season did not show up at college this semester.

Soon you will see college men going about with their noses in slings with black eyes and swollen chins; or perhaps a few will be using crutches and others may have broken bones in various regions of the body. Don't get alarmed, it really isn't as bad as this, only that the boxing and wrestling matches are going to start Monday. These two sports as given at the colleges are really interesting to watch and not a bit dangerous to those taking part, so, girls I may say that you are invited to watch them also. State has much good material and some fine contests are expected.

Coach Davis after preparing carefully a list of men who are eligible for letters in football misplaced said list and now will have to battle out another one to take its place.

Touch football is coming along fine as most of the contests have

Is Football Worth While?

Loyola university in Chicago has completed one year without football in any form for its students. And Loyola's enrollment has not fallen off, as was probably predicted by the opponents of the action when football was abandoned last year, and scholarship records in the college have shown a definite upward trend. Basketball has supplanted the sport of the gridiron as Loyola's major interest in athletics, and the college's basketball team has gained national prominence. Supplementing basketball on the sports list are gymnastics, swimming, boxing, golf, tennis, and track. The fact that dropping football from the college has proved to be a successful venture, or at least without any bad results, has encouraged the president of Loyola, Rev. Robert M. Kelly, to declare that no lowly pigskin will ever again pass the portals of his institution. This action, taken in the face of the growing popularity of football, now beyond question the most-followed national sport, would require courage in large amounts in any college or university. But it serves to bring into the foreground the question as to whether football in its present highly commercialized form, with its great hordes of spectators and teams travelling three thousand miles to play against other schools, high salaried and almost worshipped coaches, its "great" players, its over-developed publicity—whether all this is really worth while. The American public is "sold" on the idea of football, screaming headlines carry final results to that part of the public which hasn't spent the afternoon in front of a radio. Yet Death has stalked his way into almost 30 homes this fall, injuries have put hundreds of young players "on the bench." The game yearly draws farther from its origin as a sport, and becomes more and more a spectacular show for outsiders to watch and bet on, with colleges continuing to supply the actors on the stage because of publicity, gate receipts and momentary individual fame. Is football worth while?

Read the Ads

In a box in the upper left hand corner of the first page of the Roadrunner there is a message to S.B.S.C. students entitled, "Worth While." It reads: "Advertisements in the Roadrunner are placed there for your benefit by local merchants. Patronize them."

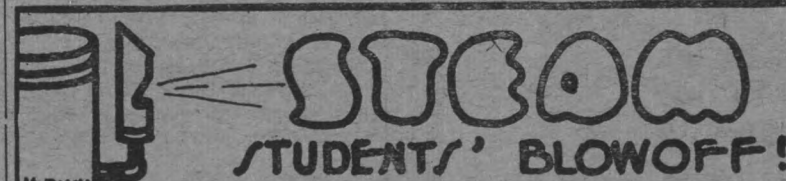

Readers of newspapers often fail to realize that the funds of the paper do not come from some mysterious, inexhaustible source. College newspapers are dependent to a very great extent upon advertisements for their revenue, just as are the metropolitan dailies. Your paper, The Roadrunner, is almost entirely as dependent, and consequently requires a greater than average response from the student body to the advertisements. S.B.S.C. students spend an enormous amount of money in Santa Barbara during the course of the year. With an average of $75 per person per month, the total monthly expenditure for the 700 students would be $52,500. For the school year of ten months, this means volume of trade for downtown merchants of $525,000, more than half a million dollars!

Local merchants realize the value of obtaining this trade. They realize, too, that one means of getting it is to swing the current of buying to their doors by means of advertising. The kind of advertising most effective, and read by the greatest number of student buyers, is that in their own paper, in which they have a personal interest. The merchants who advertise in The Roadrunner are not only soliciting that trade but are also aiding materially the worthy extra-curricular activities of the college. It is only fair and reasonable that students at State recognize the value of this source of revenue on which the paper is so largely dependent, and reciprocate by patronizing those advertisers herein represented.
