COUNCIL MEMBERS HOLD PRE-SEMESTER RETREAT

UCSB's Legislative Council gathered together at their annual retreat last week at Lake Zaca to formulate plans for the coming semester. Discussion groups were the main procedure at the conference as the members met together and discussed current problems on campus and, also of great importance, were informed of the many facets of student government.

For many of the council members this was merely a resume of material they were already familiar with and, in fact, some of the workshop meetings were under the direction of council members. But for many of the newly elected legislature the intricate workings of government are a mystery once they are behind the upper layer of government.

Many of the items discussed during the meetings might be considered of the menial type, but when they are viewed in an over-all perspective, their individual importance is apparent.

Such things as knowing what forms to file for activities, how the budget is organized and used, what criteria is established to work from in establishing the budget and council policy are all essential items of knowledge for a student leader in student government.

Council Problem

Among the many items of business, taken up at the council meeting following the close of the workshop program, was the committee report to council regarding the attendance of living-group meetings by voting members of the body. Chairman Bill Tice presented his committee's recommendation that each voting member, with the exception of the president, vice president, secretary and Freshman Class president, be required to attend at least two meetings of each living group per semester, the idea being that each member would be assigned four living groups. As Tice pointed out, each member would then be attending at least one living-group meeting every week but would be free to attend more, should he feel there is a reason.

Associated Students President Jerry Combs headed the President's Session and discussed, among other matters, parliamentary procedure. He pointed out that unless business is handled in an orderly manner, nothing will be accomplished in the end result.

Combs Comments

Commenting on the retreat, Combs said, "I believe that through a conference such as we had at Lake Zaca the entire student body realizes more nearly the advantages that a well-run student-body government can afford them. Their representatives are better informed about the workings of their own jobs as well as being aware of the problems of other officers. By acquiring a view of student government as a whole, and knowing its individual parts, they are better qualified to fulfill their obligations to the student body."

Provost, Associated Student Body President Welcome Students To Santa Barbara Campus

This is the first opportunity for us to say hello and welcome you to Santa Barbara College. I know you will find your college experience a rich and rewarding one. A part of your college education will not be found in the speakers, and several publications to afford you journalistic experience. One or several of these activities would be sure to be of benefit to you and to the school, and I urge you to take advantage of them.

If you are interested in one of these activities, in student government, or if there is anything that we can help you with, don't hesitate to drop in to the student body office, which is located behind the Student Union building. We will be happy to help you. Welcome aboard.

Jerry Combs
A.S. President

During the years when I was a student, I always began a new semester with eagerness and with tremendous optimism: here was an opportunity to make up for all the mistakes which my instructors had made in listing my grades in the previous semester. So now I join all of you in starting our new academic year with enthusiasm, and I extend greetings from the entire faculty and administration.

Our college is changing rapidly and you, the students, are a part of that change. I urge you to take the time to talk freely with your faculty friends about the college, the curriculum, and about your views on the goals of a liberal education. These views will help us to plan for the future.

Jr. and Sr. Classes Form Councils, Plan Parties and Inter-Class Prom

Activities such as picnics, swim parties, socials and proms are the keynote of the current Junior and Senior classes. Meetings have been held, suggestions made and plans formulated during the summer months by the officers of these two classes and now they're ready to begin the actual promoting of these plans.

Both classes have proposed a class card system to increase their treasuries and give them the necessary funds with which to work. Both groups will offer the cards to the students during the registration period as they go through the lines.

Bill Tice, Senior Class President, and Bob Kieding, Junior Class President, both emphasized that only those people holding membership cards will be allowed to participate in the class functions.

Jr.-Sr. Prom

Highlight of the year, according to Kieding, will be the Junior-Senior Prom at the Coral Casino in February. The efforts of the members of both classes will be directed toward making this event a success.

Also of important note is the establishment of a perpetual trophy to be presented to the "Outstanding Senior" by the Junior Class.

Councils Formed

Both groups will form class councils to act as administrative bodies for the organization. Letters will be sent to each living group informing them of the meetings to form the councils, and council membership will be on a voluntary basis. Kieding commented, "The success of the class depends highly upon an active and efficient council. I hope an enthusiastic and willing group will appear at the first council meeting. With their help, the Junior officers plan to make the Junior Class perform a very significant function on campus."

Opera Workshop

Auditions for the Music Department Opera Workshop fall production of "The Consul," by Gian-Carlo Menotti, will be held Tuesday, Sept. 24, beginning at 3 p.m. in Room 1219 of the Music Building.

Students interested in both singing and technical work are invited to attend, according to Dr. Carl Zytowski of the Music Department. He added that one unit credit may also be obtained for the

Men's, Women's Mud Brawl, Tribunal, Dance Begin Year's Events for Students

by Pat Gower
Gaucho Staff Writer

The Sophomore Class's big effort to welcome incoming Frosh to the Santa Barbara campus reaches a semi-climax tomorrow morning when 350 Freshmen invade the Coral Casino.

The all-day affair is a brainchild of Sophomore Council members, who have worked all summer to bring a full day's activities to the Frosh. Tickets at $3.50 a throw entitle new Gauchos to swim in the Casino's Olympic pool, sunbathe on heated sand, dine and dance poolside, and assemble for the first time as a class.

Sophomore Class President Dennis Naiman will be on hand with the Council with words of welcome and advice, and the reminder to "Wear that beanie!" Dress is informal and don't forget bathing suits.

President Sproul Welcomes Students

Autumn is still the harvest season, even though field-ripened foods may now be picked from a deep freeze display case in the corner grocery any day in the year; and the traditional symbol of the season, a great cornucopia—the horn of plenty—filled to overflowing with fruits rich with color and ripe with pleasurable promise, still appeals to all my senses more than a cake of ice.

As I welcome students—new and old—to the campus in this fall session of 1957, I am reminded of this gustatory conclusion, for autumn is also the great harvest season for the University of California, in terms of numbers of students enrolled, range of courses offered, and even the number of tickets sold for athletic events.

In other words, the University offers to you its horn of plenty, appealing to the intellect and to all emotions, rather than strictly to the palate, but equally rich and full of pleasurable promise for those who are beyond the bottle and spoon-feeding stage and sufficiently curious and courageous to try things heretofore unknown.

If you are so set in early acquired tastes and habits—like some young people I have known—that you want only the raisins out of the bread and the frosting off the cake, your failure to partake of and digest some of the more substantial provender may bring you to the unfavorable notice of a Dean, and you may be sent away from the table. This would be a conclusion desired by none, and avoidable by all, through reasonable discrimination in diet, proper exercise of the mind, and a balanced schedule of work and play.

I welcome you to the campus in this harvest season, with the hope that you will recognize it for what it is, and garner at least a few sheaves before you go to the barn to dance.

Robert G. Sproul

Freshmen who haven't reserved tickets for the event can come to the Graduate Manager's office, as a limited number of tickets remain, according to Naiman.

Block C Facelift

Friday the Frosh play, Saturday they work. The big facelift job on Block C Mountain gets under way at 9 a.m. Dressed in grubby garb and equipped with enough lime and tools, the Frosh will clean the Big C and establish their initial mark on the UCSB campus.

Transportation will be available in front of the Student Union at 9.

Get Acquainted

The Frosh are bound to stand out tonight when Gauchos get together informally for the annual Gaucho Gam-bol. Green beans and name tags will identify Gaucho newcomers and the student body is asked to extend a cordial "hi" to the incoming class. A combo will supply music for dancing and the affair begins at 8 p.m. in the auditorium. Dress for the occasion is school clothes.

More to Come

The climax to the indoctrination program comes Sept. 23 with the Frosh Tribunal and dance. This is preceded by a riotous day's activity on either side of the gym.

The Men's Mud Brawl and Women's Water Fight highlight the afternoon; the tribunal begins at 7 p.m. in the auditorium.

Election of the Freshman Queen begins next Tuesday and candidates must file applications by Sept. 23 at 4 p.m. Her majesty will be presented with two princesses at the dance as a climax to almost two weeks of Frosh-Soph events.

Student Personnel Service Offers Students Assistance

A major reorganization of the Student Personnel Services at Santa Barbara College will be in effect for 1957-58, uniting several offices to give increased attention to students' needs outside the classroom.

Dr. Lyle G. Reynolds, Dean of Men since 1951, has been appointed Dean of Students, and Dr. Helen Keener, Dean of Women since 1945, will continue in that position and also serve as Associate Dean of Students. Miss Ellen Bowers will continue in her position as Counselor of Women Students.

New Dean Appointed

Newly appointed as Dean of Men and Assistant Dean of Students is John Groebli, Assistant Professor of Industrial Arts, a graduate of Santa Barbara College.

Another new addition to the Dean of Students staff is Vernon R. Persell, counseling psychologist, who will head the counseling center. This office will aid students in scholastic difficulty through adjustment counseling. Students who are having difficulty selecting majors or vocational goals may receive guidance through special counseling.

The Student Personnel Services staff not only offers assistance in the solution of scholastic, financial or personal problems, but they seek to help all students in making the best possible adjustment to all facets of college experience.

New Grade Point System Used at UCSB

The entire University of California, including the local campus, has adopted the new four-point system for grade points assigned to the respective grades of scholarship.

The new system provides four points for the grade of A, three points for a B, two points for a C and one point for a D. Previously an A received three points down to one point for a C, and no points for a D or lower.

In order to graduate, a student must have obtained at least twice as many grade points as there are units in the total credit value of all courses undertaken by him in the University of California.

Council Adopts New Assembly Program

Last weekend during the annual Council Retreat, Neil Kleinman, chairman of the ASB Assembly Committee, presented a plan of action for assemblies during the coming year.

In short, the proposal covered four areas. Kleinman explained that the purpose of this program is to provide as wide a base of entertainment as possible in order to interest more students.

A schedule of movies was presented. The movies would be shown in the classroom auditorium, and no admission charge is planned. Arrangements will be made to have one movie every other week.

The suggested movies fall into five categories, stated Kleinman. There will be French, British, Italian, Japanese and American movies—such movies as "Game of Love," "Well-Digger's Daughter," "Captain's Paradise," "Miracle in Milan," "Ugetsu," "Umberto D," and "Pygmalion."

Kleinman also stated that the ground work has been laid for political speakers. He said that national figures of the caliber of Senators Knowland and Morse and Governor Knight might be presented. These people would speaking on state, national and international subjects.

A new series to be known as "Seminar in the Arts" was announced. This program would bring writers, musicians, cartoonists, etc., to the campus to speak. The committee feels that at least one speaker from each of the fields of literature, music and the popular arts should be set as a minimum. Such names as the poet Karl Shapiro, the Shakespearean expert Frank Baxter, the folk singer Richard Dyer-Bennett, and Ray Bradbury, science fiction writer, have been suggested.

The Assembly Committee plans to sponsor at least two jazz concerts during the year. Plans are being made to have Chet Baker as the first jazz artist; the tentative date for this event is Oct. 2.

The Council voted approval of the plan. Kleinman commented that all students interested in working on the Assembly Committee should contact him at the ASB office.

AS I SEE IT . . .

by Ray Ward

Once again we begin a new semester of college life and once again the college press attempts to solve the age-old problem of acquiring an insight into what the readers want to read in the paper.

El Gaucho is no different in this respect. In fact, we're no different in suggesting, as most newspapers do, that the students themselves let us know what they like in the paper, what they don't like and what they would like to see in future editions.

In the editor's column, the one you find yourself reading now, there is a good chance of finding many diversified subjects, such as current campus problems, a few suggestions, a remark or two calculated to nudge someone who has responsibilities into action and out of any temporary inertia he may have succumbed to, and also occasional "pats on the back" for people who are accomplishing things that benefit the college in any number of ways.

To begin the semester, a word concerning the Residence Hall Assn. . . . Jerry Perry, new RHA president, was at the Council Retreat and discussed various phases of the RHA program and the problems the association faces.

One of the main problems is unification of the organization into a working group that can take its place as a campus leader. The RHA has the potential to assume this leadership and now seems the time for them to begin.

Returning to the Gaucho and this time including the other two student publications, La Cumbre (the college yearbook) and Spectrum (an endeavor into more serious literary works), the problem arises concerning personnel to do the work required to publish them.

All three publications urge interested students to contact them and offer their services.

There is a tremendous amount of work involved but, also, the people connected with the three works feel there is an equal amount of satisfaction to justify any amount of effort put forth.

El Gaucho, La Cumbre and Spectrum offices are located behind the Student Union, so sharpen your pencils and hurry over.

Among the many jobs on campus that many students know very little about is the job of Director of Publicity. During the summer the Student Body hired a new man to fill this position. He is Bob Magruder. Among his many jobs is the job of selling advertisements for El Gaucho. As you can see by scanning the pages of this issue, he has really gone all out. As a result, what is set up in the student body budget as a four-page paper, published 52 times each school year, is a six-page endeavor on both this issue and the next.

At this time I won't go into the whys and wherefores of the budget and the Gaucho except to comment that to go from a four- to a six-page paper, all we have to do is sell more ads to cover the added cost. Bob did.

Not to deviate too much from the subject at hand, I make mention of added responsibilities of the publicity man. In addition to selling ads for the Gaucho, he also sells ads for the football programs, the yearbook, the student directory and the college index. Additional duties are placed on his shoulders in putting out a brochure on every sport to other schools, publicizing the sports program in the various media of communication and also publicizing student body activities such as Homecoming, Barbary Coast and other events.

The student body is paying Bob for his efforts and the people who have seen the amount of work he has done to date feel UCSB is getting its money's worth.

'Spectrum' To Go on Sale to Students

Spectrum, the new literary magazine of Santa Barbara College, has presented only two issues to date, but it has already received national plaudits. Jackie Newby, editor of this year's Spectrum, attributes this recognition to several factors. First, there is the wide student and faculty interest demonstrated by the large number of issues already sold here on campus.

Further, she pointed out that the faculty advisory board is of tremendous help in aiding the student editorial staff to gain its distinguished list of contributors. Santa Barbara College is at the present time in an enviable position, for it has on its faculty men of such stature as Hugh Kenner, Donald Davie and Marvin Mudrick, according to Miss Newby.

Cy Epstein, business manager of Spectrum, sees this magazine as a catalytic agent with regard to student interest in writing and literary efforts. "This magazine," he said, "enables students to place their work alongside the work of major literary figures." He added that "the magazine, even with its comparative youth, is in direct competition with such national magazines as Shenandoah, Sewanee Review and Hudson Review."

The second issue of Spectrum

History of College Varied and Colorful

Santa Barbara College, the youngest campus of the largest university in the nation, is the only University of California branch devoted solely to a "college." Consequently, the title "college" has been retained to distinguish its function as primarily an undergraduate liberal arts institution.

Other UC campuses have graduate and specialized research centers operating in conjunction with the undergraduate program—the College of Agriculture at Davis, the Citrus Experiment Station at Riverside, and the great graduate-research centers at Berkeley and active research centers at UCLA. Active research programs are carried on by the faculty at Santa Barbara also, but the institution itself is not devoted only to that cause.

For Santa Barbara College, this is a continuation of its early history which goes back to 1891 when it was a small private school established by Anna S. C. Blake. Eight years later it was taken over by the city and became the Santa Barbara Manual Training Normal School, and in 1906 a teacher education program was added.

A pioneer in teacher education, it was the first school to be devoted exclusively to the field of manual arts and home economics and was accepted into the state's educational system in 1909. Until 1911 it was concerned wholly with the training of women and, by 1913, 11 men joined the student ranks.

In 1919 the curriculum was broadened to include education of elementary teachers and the name was changed to Santa Barbara State Normal School. Two years later it became Santa Barbara State Teachers College with the B.A. degree authorized.

As Santa Barbara State College the liberal arts program was inaugurated 22 years ago and the curricula broadened rapidly into non-teacher majors. By 1941 almost half of the graduates majored in subjects other than teacher education, a trend which was to be emphasized when the University of California took control in 1944.

In 1954 the college abandoned its city-bound 14-acre campus on the Riviera and moved to the Goleta location with its 408 acres along the coastline where it is rapidly growing into a major-size institution of learning.

is on sale again and students may obtain copies in the registration line, at the Bookstore and in the Graduate Manager's office. The magazine may be bought for 35c a copy or at the subscription rate of $1 for three issues.

FALL FASHIONS RUN SB STYLE GAMUT; CAPRIS, PEDDLE PUSHERS SET PACE

by Lee Vanosdall

Santa Barbara College campus is well known for its air of friendliness and casualness, but the students in general believe that campus dress should be governed by both good taste and dress regulations instigated and approved by students and administration. Ever-popular Bermuda shorts, featured this season in the classic oxford gray flannel and in the beautiful and new plaids in interesting color combinations, are matched with shirts or sweaters. Capri pants and pedal pushers also play an important part in everyday campus activities. Go-aheads still lead the field in casual footwear.

Class Attire

Dress for attending classes, library study, visits to faculty and administrative offices, to the dining hall, through registration or other mixed-group meetings and informal social events is less casual than for informal wear. Women wear skirts, appearing this fall in jeweltones of emerald green and sapphire blue, plaids and beautiful bulky tweeds, teamed with blouses or sweaters. The big thing in sweaters seems to be wool shetland sweaters, which come in many interesting knits.

Men may be seen attending class in Ivy League pants, with a new color added this fall—olive green—and Ivy League shirts. New and wider stripes are used often in shirts this fall in colors co-ordinated to match the pants. Slacks, jeans and denims also are worn with neat sport shirts by many.

For more formal occasions women wear the classic sheath with added back interest in many new fabrics and color combinations. Nubby cottons and light wools have been used by most designers this fall in jeweltone plaids and solids in many variations of the classic sheath. Full-skirted cottons and bouffant skirts also are appropriate. Men are seen wearing dark suits and ties for most formal occasions held on campus. It is unnecessary for women to have numerous formal dresses or for men to wear a tuxedo.

A good rule to follow in dressing for any occasion is to look around you and use plain old common sense and good taste.

College girls like Judy Owen say, "Ott's has a wonderful selection of sports clothes! It's fun to shop in their California Corner."

GAUCHO GAMBOL DANCE WILL BE HELD TONIGHT IN THE AUDITORIUM

Tonight marks the kick-off of the new school year as the Special Events Committee presents the All-School GAUCHO GAMBOL. The evening's activities will begin at 7 p.m. with the assembly-rally to be held in the campus auditorium. Following the introductory program, Coach Cody will present the 1957-58 Gauchos football team to the student body. This in turn will be followed by a rally which will enable the Gauchos to demonstrate to the team their support.

Following the assembly is the first all-school dance of the year with music provided by Bob Raleigh from 8:30 to 12:30.

Assisting the Special Events Committee, headed by Ellie Kooser and Duke Mitchell, is the Junior Class which is supervising the decorations, and the Social and Rally Committees which have jointly planned the rally activities.

In keeping with SBC's casual social events, school clothes will be worn. Women's hours for tonight only have been extended to 12:30.

Freshmen To Choose Class Coed As Queen

Question marks around the UCSBC campus punctuate the big question, "Who will be Queen of the Freshman Class?" Some new Gauchos fem will step into the spotlight Sept. 28 to receive her crown and assume duties as official hostess and representative for her class.

The coronation will highlight Saturday's Tribunal and dance, sponsored by the Sophomore Class, and two princesses will reign with the queen.

Penny a Vote

Voting by penny ballots begins Monday, Sept. 23, and ends the 28th. Containers will be circulated in living groups, dining commons, the Student Union and library during this time.

Girls interested in running for queen should secure an information sheet from their living group and return it with a photo of themselves, 5x7 or larger, to the ASB office or to Regina White, activities chairman on Sophomore Council. Deadline is Saturday, 4 p.m.

Soph Council Plans Frosh Indoctrination

Sophomore Council met Sunday night with President Dennis Naiman to complete last-minute plans on their all-out Frosh Indoctrination program.

Five major events involving members of both Sophomore and Freshman classes are the result of countless meetings, letters and phone calls during the summer, all to guarantee the traditionally lowly frosh the best welcome possible to Santa Barbara.

GAUCHOS, TANK UP

Santa Barbara's Gauchos will "tank up" at the Miller & Lewis Union Service, 5755 Hollister Ave., Goleta, on Sept. 20 and 21.

The Gauchos Gridiron Club, composed of Santa Barbara and Goleta businessmen, will receive five cents on every gallon sold during the two days. The club is dedicated to the encouragement and development of the UCSB football team.

Fashion Notes . .

dear susie,

the greatest thing happened when I got back to school, I was asked to be the new lou rose campus representative for this year, isn't that terrific? Thought I would send you the picture, which was used to introduce the college board members at the mademoiselle fashion show in August. The show was so much fun and the clothes were just fabulous.

susie, you just have to get yourself a shetland crew-neck before you go back to school! they look great with an ivy-league shirt under them, and can be worn with skirts, bermudas and capris. there are shetlands in about every color you can imagine: all shades of grey, yellow, blue, heather-beige, green and naturally white. our shetlands range from the garland at 9.95 to 15.95.

to go with our new sweater you should see the big 'n bold clan plaid, pleated skirts we have in. I might add that these terrific skirts, which are the rage, are priced right for a college girl's budget, only 12.95, how about that?

you know all the ads in magazines, newspapers, etc., you've no doubt been seeing picturing the 1920's relived in a racoon coat? we have in our possession the craziest line of vintage racoon coats, in "magnificent disrepair" that you will ever hope to feast your eyes on, and at a "cool" 33.00. Believe me when I tell you that these raps are the most!

i can hardly wait to show you all the fabulous clothes we have in now, and will be getting in throughout the year. You know that you could open a charge account, as many of the college crew out on campus here have done, and they are so great to have when you need that certain something new for a party, formal, or extra-special date. I will be in the lou rose annex every saturday to show the latest catches for the college wardrobe, may be occasionally seen in the student union, and around campus wearing different, new outfits, which will be from our annex collections. so I'll be looking forward to seeing you and all your friends on saturdays in the annex.

until you hear from me again, I remain your new annex rep.,

SPORTS SCENE

by Mike Kahn

The start of the 1957 football season may very well be the start of a new era in Santa Barbara athletics. Football at Santa Barbara seems to be making the jump to big-time football on a small-college class. Coach Cody and his staff have incorporated a new and effective offense, they've lured several young top-notch players here and they seem to have instilled a strong desire to play the game to the hilt (often known as "attitude"). These are characteristics of top-notch teams.

It has often been a complaint that Santa Barbara College lacks school spirit. Often the so-called spirit depends upon the success of athletics. I have often felt that there has been a lack of desire, sort of an apathy among some athletes at Santa Barbara. A change to a real desire to play the game with 100 per cent effort is the new era.

Mr. Ed Cody feels his team is greatly improved over last year. "Trauthen has been looking like a pro," exclaimed Cody. The lack of a good QB can be disastrous and with the addition of John Crawford and Jim St. Clair the Gauchos appear strong at the signal spot.

First Gaucho Water Polo Team

Santa Barbara College has taken another step toward developing a well-rounded athletic program. The first water polo team in the school's history will begin practice next week. Dr. Dearborn will hold the first meeting Wednesday, Sept. 25, at 3:45 at the pool; he is hoping for a large turnout.

Those young men who are interested in pioneering this sport may see Dr. Dearborn in his office in Bldg. 420.

Two of Santa Barbara's athletes have returned to school after a summer of professional baseball. Fidenzio Brunello, after finishing the season with the Gaucho nine, joined Bakersfield of the California League, then after a short stay he finished the season with the Virginia team in the Appalachian League. Bruno batted .261 before a knee injury forced him into a pinch-hitting role.

Johnny Osborne, CCAA infielder, signed with the Dodgers, then played the entire season with Reno of the California League. John hit a credible .318.

CODY'S CAREER BEGAN IN VICTORY

Ed. Note: This is the first in a series of articles on Head Coach Ed Cody.

Coach Cody, who assumed the role of salesman for both Santa Barbara and its branch of the University of California and who was in the Midwest this past summer in search of athletes who are not only talented on the athletic field but in the classroom, has another tough job in store for him. That is to build a championship club in a conference that is highly underrated. But, as those who have met this enthusiastic coach can testify, there could be no better salesman for the job. Cody is one of those rare men with a combination of brains and brawn that have paid off in success both as a player and as a coach.

From the first day of practice on a New Britain, Conn., high school football field in 1933 until the day in 1951 when he hung up his gear in the Chicago Bears locker room for the last time, All-

American Ed (Catfoot) Cody re-wrote football records from coast to coast. In 18 years of football Cody played under such great coaches as Frank Leahy, Bernie Bierman, Clark Shaunnassy, Curly Lambeau and George Halas. Cody idolizes Halas as the "greatest of them all" and much of the Chicago Bears and Halas is evident in his own coaching technique.

New Backfield Coach

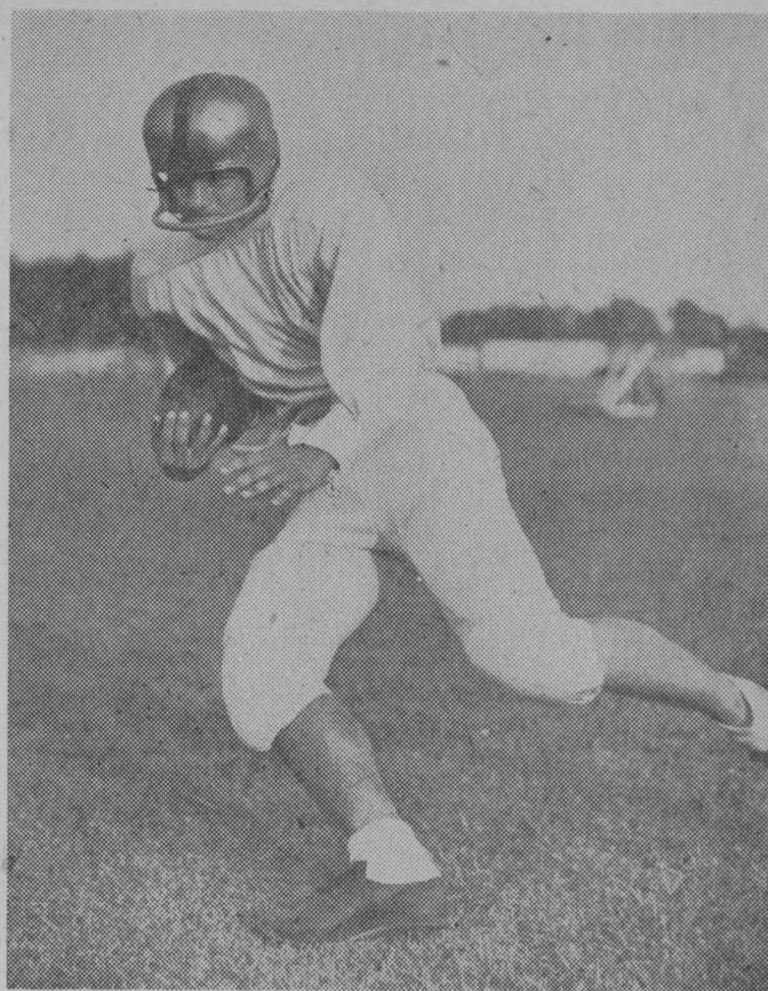

The 1957 edition of the Gaucho football team welcomed a new backfield coach to the campus on the first day of practice. He is Frank Rohter, a 33-year-old Chicagoan.

Rohter is actually taking over the duties of assistant coach on the gridiron in addition to handling the chores of swimming mentor during the spring semester.

The new member of the athletic department is replacing M. S. (Doc) Kelliher as backfield coach while Kelliher is on a year's leave of absence.

Prior to coming to Santa Barbara, Rohter was head football and swimming coach at Crane Tech High School and also coached at four other high schools in the Chicago area.

Rohter is a graduate of Rensselaer Poly Tech Institute in Troy, N.Y., where he lettered in football, basketball and lacrosse. In 1946-47 he toured the Midwest with the Chicago Shamrocks professional basketball team.

LEFT HALFBACK JOHN MORRIS, co-captain of this year's squad and the Gauchos' leading scorer last year, will be out to add more points in the forthcoming season.

DEPTH PROVES STRONG POINT OF GAUCHO SQUAD

A promising list of 45 aspiring UC Santa Barbara College football candidates are currently engaged in their third week of football practice under the astute leadership of Head Coach Ed Cody.

Cody and his assistants, line coach Stan Williamson, backfield newcomer Frank Rohter, and end coach Ray Thornton are presently conducting scrimmages in an effort to familiarize the Gauchos with Cody's Chicago Bears style offense.

Nineteen returning lettermen give Cody a strong nucleus with which to mold this year's squad.

At end, Cody has three returning lettermen in Kelly Hoover, Dave Iman and Herb Williamson. Iman, who ended up being one of Cody's starting ends last fall, is a rugged competitor and will be tough to dislodge from his starting position. Hoover at 6-3 and 205 could assume a strategic role at the flanker spot in this season's campaign.

Two outstanding newcomers are pushing Hoover and Iman for the starting assignment. They are Benny Days, a 6-1, 195-pound transfer from Glendale City College, and Larry Popkin, a rangy, 6-2, 185-pounder who has just returned from the service. Larry Smith, a squad member last year and top quartermiler, also is being used at end and could surprise everyone.

At tackle the Gauchos squad has one of the most-sought-after high school players in the nation. His name is Ray Schaack, a 6-1, 225-pound tackle from St. Rita High School of Chicago. Two returning lettermen, Don Rodriguez and Roger Whalen, also tackle, top the list of some seven candidates. Vic Snider is a transfer from Monterey JC and Hal Schifferle, 6-4 and 220 pounds, hails from Glendale City College. Hal Bertholl, from Pierce JC, will give the Gauchos plenty of beef with his 6-2, 230-pound frame. Mike Orth, 6-1 and 210 pounds, will give added depth to the tackle spot.

At guard, the outstanding returnee is last year's captain and this year's co-captain, Jim "Lucky" Pullman. Pullman is backed by two-year letterman Harold Fink and newcomer Frank Tomlinson. Also seeking starting berths are Chuck Williams, a two-year letterman, and Bob Pfeiffer, who played center for last year's squad.

Cody has been particularly impressed with the aggressiveness of Jim Sylvia at center.

In the backfield, last year's starting quarterback, Don Trauthen, appears better than ever and with a year of experience under Cody's system should have a great year.

He is backed up by Nick Hasdovac, a sharp passer from Monterey JC, and John Crawford, also from Monterey JC.

Speed merchant Johnny Morris, co-captain along with Pullman, heads a list of highly impressive halfbacks which includes returning lettermen Tony Baca, Mike DeGeorge and Dick Juliano. In addition are Howard Crawford and Duke Ellington, and basketballer Jim Hargrove.

At fullback Cody has the durable Bruce Varner and little else is needed. Varner was forced out of action two years ago but last year looked highly impressive and is expected to be a top ground gainer this fall. Jack Lyon, a rugged 6-2, 215-pounder, also has impressed sideline observers and may push Varner into a halfback slot.

Semi-Annual Greek Functions Progress on Gaucho Campus

Sunday evening climaxes over a week of activities for the eight sororities on the UCSB campus and begins the actual rush parties by an equal number of fraternities.

The coeds' organizations began to formally rush the women students at Santa Barbara on the 14th with an orientation assembly and open-house events. Reciprocal "elimination" is carried on by both the active members of the women's Greek houses and the prospective members; that is, each rushee attends open house at all eight competing sororities on Saturday the 14th and then eliminates one house for the next day's activities. The sororities also eliminate the rushees until on the following Saturday evening the rushees have cut their choices to two house for the next day's activities only from those two groups for preference night.

Although the female members of the campus Greek organizations have nearly a week's head start on the fraternities, the men won't be outdone activity-wise, according to Bo Williams, Inter-Fraternity Council President.

Rushing for the men begins tomorrow evening with open house at four of the eight houses and continues Saturday evening at the remaining four houses. The open house is handled in two evenings because the houses are split four-and-four as to location, half of them in Santa Barbara and the remainder in the Goleta-Isla Vista area.

Sunday through Wednesday the fraternity rush events are by invitation, with Wednesday evening being preference night. Unlike the women, men's rush parties can vary in themes according to the whims of each house, while the sororities follow a particular theme for each day's rushing.

The IFC has the following to say about fraternal life: "Well rounded fraternity life is a great force in moulding high school boys into versatile, personable young men that can handle the responsibilities of being citizens in our country."
