Many Records Broken at Cup Meet; 704 Athletes Entered

Despite the low hanging fog that greeted the April showers, the Russell Cup meet held at the high school track last Saturday was the most successful ever held since the inception of the event. A total of 704 athletes representing 40 Southern California schools were entered in the all-day event and 25 records were shattered.

For the first time in the history of the meet the finals were broadcast direct from the field between 2:30 and 4:45, during the meet held at the Santa Barbara High School last year, Stanfill Stables of Compton who tied for first place in this event at the Russell Cup meet of 1937 will be divided between their schools for the meet of 1938 and both names will be inscribed on it.

The most outstanding record of the meet was set by Gill Lee of Beverly Hills in the high jump of Class A, division 1, where he vaulted 4 ft. 8 in. and White and Manion, third, 6 ft. 3 in.

The Montebello high tracksters were high men of the day, taking first in Class A, division 1, with 214 points; followed by Santa Barbara; second, 181 points; and Beverly Hills, third, 171 points.

OXY TRACKSTERS
TO MEET L. A. J. C.

First free weekend in over a month will be afforded Occidental College tracksters this week, but the Tigers will make up for their layoff when they take on L. A. J. C. on May 2 and then compete in the Southern California conference meet on May 7.

Coach Joe Pipal's Bengals, conference champions, added another victim to their long list last weekend by whipping Santa Barbara State College with ease. Charlie Kilday, Oxy's "iron man," was winning national recognition at the same time by placing second in the Kansas Relays decathlon.

The addition of Pomona to the list of conference rivals on May 7 will make it very tough on Oxy. The Sagehens will cut deeply into the Tiger team total. Although the meet is held merely for the establishment of records, Occidental will attempt to prove itself as an all-around champion by capturing the unofficial scoring total.

La Verne College baseballers, who upset Occidental for their first Southern California conference victory, will attempt to do a repeat act on Friday when they visit the Tiger diamond for a dual match on Saturday when they attempt to prove itself winning national recognition at inference champions, added another conference victory, will attempt to do a repeat act on Friday when they visit the Tiger team total. And the Bananas Go ‘Round and ‘Round!

Banana cream pie, the all-time favorite, is quick and easy to make because it requires no baking. It is a combination of bananas, cream, and flavoring. It is a delightful dessert for the summer months.

Banana Cream Pie

- 1/4 cup milk
- 1 1/2 cups mashed bananas
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons unbleached flour
- 1 package instant vanilla pudding mix
- 2 cups heavy cream
- 1/4 cup sugar

1. In a saucepan, combine milk, sugar, salt, and flour. Cook over medium heat until thickened, stirring constantly.
2. Beat egg whites until stiff, then add sugar gradually while continuing to beat. Add a few drops of flavoring. Soften spread over top of pie and bake in moderate oven (350°F.) for 10 to 15 minutes or until meringue is delicately browned. Covers one 9-inch pie.

Banana Chocolate Cream Pie

1. To make the chocolate banana pie shown in illustration, use your favorite pastry. Line a deep dish.
2. Fill with a layer of sliced bananas, pour on chocolate filling, and garnish with banana slices and whipped cream, as shown.

Meringue

1. Beat 1 egg until stiff, then add 1/2 cup sugar gradually while continuing to beat. Add a few drops of flavoring. Soften spread over top of pie and bake in moderate oven (350°F.) for 10 to 15 minutes or until meringue is delicately browned. Covers one 9-inch pie.

How to Make a Banana Split

1. Split banana lengthwise.
2. Place banana cut-side down in a bowl.
3. Add ice cream of desired flavor.
4. Sprinkle with whipped cream.
5. Add maraschino cherries.

NEW YORK — (Special).—The dream of the mechanical age and perhaps the commonplace event of the World of Tomorrow—trip to Mars is in a rocketship—will be produced in tangible form in steel and glass when a model working rocketport is placed into operation at the New York World's Fair 1938.

Now being constructed by Raymond Loewy, industrial designer, the operating plan-5e-line will be part of a free, public exhibit in the transportation section of the Fair.

More than a thousand visitors will be able to see the show at one time. After an inspecting, actuated display of transportation from the day of the cave man to the present illumination in the auditorium will be shifted to spot-rocket the spacecraft.

Airplanes, trains, railroad tracks and taxicab of futuristic design will bring passengers and twirly-elevators will begin loading the rocketship's cargo. When the time comes for departure, airs will sound, machinists will hum, a giant crane will lift the rocketship and place it in the breath of the sun and a brilliant flash and an explosion will indicate that the world-folk are off on a visit to another planet.

By means of an ingenious invention resembling the shutter of a camera, placed in the sky-ceiling, the audience will seem to see the rocketship vanish into the vast reaches of space.

The Ambassador probably is right.

And even if it weren't such a thankless job—choosing two or three dozen ladies from among the hundreds who regularly clamor for the social distinction of a Court presentation—it still isn't difficult to see practicality in Mr. Kennedy's point of view.

Certainly no English-American treaties or trade agreements ever have been broken because a Yankee lady was denied an appearance at St. John's. No international crises have been precipitated nor peace programs sacrificed because an American woman was or wasn't officially recognized at the English Court. But the unselfish, un diplomatique repressions which have echoed across the seas! The social thunderbolts which have been launched! The scintillating victories—the heartbreaking defeats—that the quaint old British custom has visited on socially inclined woman-kind!

Going through their presentation pace, ladies have borne physical torture, learning to walk, to curry, to manage a train, to acquire themselves elegantly at the court. Tempers have been raised and sweet dispositions spoiled. More than a few Court successes have been known to culminate in nervous collapse. Many an otherwise peaceable trip abroad has been completely ruined by the social necessity of a presentation in the family. And months have been sacrificed by weary fathers of debutantes—pulling social strings, banding political wires, imposing on public officials—begging the favor of an appearance at St. John's.

Finally, among too many ladies who've made their bows in Court, arrogance and jealousy have been rampant. For unfortunately, the more experience of walking into a royal presence, with feathers in her hair, but seemed to many a woman quite to set her apart from her sister society and bridge companions back in Oklahoma and Sunnyside, U. S. A.

And though countless gracious ladies have survived the test ably, considering all the aspects, perhaps the royal formalities at St. John's, scrapped for the same by the American Ambassador, need not be too kindly missed by the world at large.

GUADALUPE LIQUOR LICENSES REVOKED

LOS ANGELES—Seven liquor licenses at Guadalupe, where conditions recently caused vigorous protests from citizens, were drastically punished for violations of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Act when the State Board of Examiners levied their licenses at its meeting in Sacramento last week.

In announcing the board's action, William G. Bonelli, member of the board from the fourth district, said: "The board will not continue to impose unfounded regulations which exist as prevailed in these places at Guadalupe. Its action in revoking the seven licenses is not only punishment for those found guilty of violations of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Act, but is notice to other violators as to what they may expect if apprehended.

There are enough law-abiding licensees to care for the public needs and the board neither desires nor intends to permit anyone to violate any other type of license to operate. When I assumed office recently, I made a pledge to the people of Los Angeles that I would endeavor to correct any and all improper acts, which we believe to be being enforced under these laws, and I believe I have kept my word in that respect."

Licenses revoked at Guadalupe were: Manuel D. Perez, Las Glorias Cafe; Carmen Castillo, Algodon, El Porvenir Pool Hall; Anselmo Lemos, Conede Garcia, Baucalis Cafe; Concha Padilla, La Paloma Cafe, Julia Rojo, El Higuito Cafe.

The board also denied license applications from W. W. Knight, Orcutt and William Papes, College Inn, Santa Barbara.

In the fourth district 52 licenses were denied, 16 revoked and 3 suspended.

SAVE SOIL IS TOPIC FOR FIELD DAY PROGRAM

"Keeping Farm Soil on the Farm" will be the topic of the talk by V. P. Blanchard, Farm Advisor of Ventura county, at the 11th Annual Field Day for Walnut Growers of Southern California, Thursday, May 20, at North Los Angeles under the joint auspices of the Edible Nuts Department of the California Farm Bureau Federation and the Agricultural Extension Service, according to Sydney A. Anderson, Farm Advisor in Santa Barbara county for the University of California.

This comes as an announcement to be, E. O. Campbell of Goleta, Santa Barbara county member of the Committee.

"Mr. Blanchard's talk," Campbell stated, "will be based upon a study made immediately following the flood of March 1, studying the sandy loam to the southern reaches of the state and recording the effects of the flood, the study covering the southern part of the state and recording the results. Study was made of drainage, farm practices, etc., which were causing soil loss or loss of soil. Hundreds of Groves have been photographed and a detailed study made of the entire situation. Campbell pointed out that Blanchard's talk will be illustrated by use of these photographs.

Delayed foliation or abnormal tendencies of walnuts, destruction of walnut pods, trapgrass weeds, and harvesting will also be discussed on the program.

"The irrigation and pest control discussions will be supplemented by a demonstration in the field," Campbell stated, adding that the talk on irrigation which will be given by W. E. Schowecker will include a discussion of methods and irrigation structures in relation as well as in relation to moisture and the leaching of fertility.

D. C. Brown, manager of the Santa Barbara Santa Barbara county squad is the first officer in this area to receive one of the new radio equipment cycles which the state is planning to furnish for all members of the highway patrol.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Henderson are to dine here tonight at their ranch home.

Now Get This Straight, Bill!

“What this country needs”—according to this enthusiastic young citizen who emulates his father in discussing the economic situation—“is plenty of ripe bananas!” Bill, the listener, seems to be taking it in between big bites of the mellow fruit. A rugged individualist, he agrees a fellow likes to peel his own.

“Here we are in the midst of a depression and you must imagine it is a joke,” he says, “but if we had more bananas we would all be on banana boats in the South Pacific.”

PROTECT OUR AMERICAN FARMERS AND WORKERS SAYS ELLIOTT

To protect American labor, to increase employment opportunities for American workers, to increase the purchasing power of American farmers and to provide markets for the produce of American workers and farmers, Congressman Elliott is introducing a bill to the Congress whereby the products of foreign workers will not be granted entry into American markets where the total landed costs, including payment of tariff duties, are less than the cost of similar products of America’s workers and America’s farmers.

Elliott recently protested reciprocal trade agreements that would permit the importations of commodities from other countries in which cost of production are so much lower than they are in this country. Proposed trade agreements have already imperiled the livelihood of the fig and raisin industry, the olive, wool growers, cattle, dairy, mining and other industries vital to California and the country. America’s industrial workers are being deprived of their jobs, despite low wages received, through importations of lower priced foreign products.

The government has spent billions of dollars providing relief employment and as Elliott states “if we do not begin actively to safeguard and build up our home markets we will have a greater unemployment problem. The farmer should enjoy the American market without low price foreign competition.”

Delicious Recipes to be Demonstrated at Free Movie Cooking School Next Week

Goging to school in a theater! It sounds a bit strange, doesn't it? But that is what women of the community will be doing when the Carpentersville Chronicle's Motion Picture Cooking School comes to town on May 4.

There will be real lessons, too, lessons in measuring, mixing, and blending the ingredients for many recipes; in the preparation of such triumphs as a buttered fresh fish pie, making delicious frozen deserts and salads; in laundering fussy fabrics; and in planning healthful meals for growing children.

The camera has assembled all the expert information of trained home economists—not as a routine lecture, not as a formal “high-brow” demonstration, but as a real suspense and charm, and in a formal chat in an “on-again-cook-to-moments”.

There will be remarkable close-ups of each process in a series of models, conveniently-equipped kitchens—real, workable kitchens, including the synthetic, false-front variety, where trained home-makers will plan and complete the preparation of several meals so the entire audience can see the process step by step.

The finished dishes, which will be shown in full color, will look as though they could be picked right out of the picture and eaten on the spot.

The class won’t be all work, for there is the constant play of sparkling humor, the appeal of tender romance, the suspense of a mysterious, intelligently-directed story, which dramatizes every-day happenings—the human sort of things that really do happen.

Binding the attractive story together is the romance of home-making, a subject that holds the interest of every woman young and old. Even the Chronicle knows that all women—brides, business types, and experienced housekeepers—respond to the fascination of looking in on another woman when she is at work in the kitchen.

Particularly do they like it when they are allowed to sit quietly and watch her prepare some dish in which she specializes. They know that if they watch closely, while measuring and mixing and completing the entire cooking operation, this close-up personal study will be more helpful than hours of ready recipes or blind experimenting.

WILL IMPROVE U. S. 101

Grading of 2.9 miles of U. S. No. 101, between Gaviota Pass and Santa Ynez River, in Santa Barbara county, will begin shortly, reports the Surveying Department of the National Automobile club. Bids for this project were opened in Sacramento on April 20, by the Division of Highways, and the low bid price was $275,555.90, which includes concrete paving and four reinforced concrete bridges to be constructed.

IT GETS 'EM!

When all is said and done, it's the newspaper advertising that gets 'em.

That's what H. L. Blairkely, New York advertising expert, thinks. And considering he has the says-so in the annual expenditure of some $7,000,000 in advertising, his judgment should count for something. In California a few days ago to study the advertising value of our rural press, the expert paid tribute to the effectiveness and worth of various forms of advertising—and wound up by saying four-fifths of his advertising appropriations for 1938 would go to country newspapers.

All of which seems to prove that the country newspaper has made good in the city!

MODEL $3500 HOME ON DISPLAY AT L. A. HOME SHOW

Building dollars go farther today than on the average during the last ten year period according to the exhibitors that are attracting record throngs to the Southern California Home Show in the Pan Pacific Auditorium here this week.

To prove the point there is a five room California type bungalow complete with every conceivable modern feature even to glass brick walls in one room and a pergola. The home complete can be built for $3500.00. Ten years ago a kitchen, each typical for homes of varying sizes, would include concrete paving and four ice-box wonders. Competent cooks who have drifted into bad habits will be able to check their own mistakes by studying the systematic routine revealed in those close-ups.

"They make cooking and housework seem so easy," the audience will say after watching the experienced home-makers in "Star in My Kitchen" instruct the eager, young Dedee Abot. And cooking will become easy for every woman who attends the Motion Picture Cooking School, where the lessons will be simple yet remarkably effective.

It sounds like a real reunion for women of the community, even to the Chronicle, which is getting steady stream of congratulations on booking this profitable cooking school.

In addition to the daily recipe school, a generous store of gifts are destined to be carried back to many a home from the Del Mar Theatre.

Don't miss the 1938-model school on "Star in My Kitchen." The whole family is assembled at the surprise birthday dinner which Dedee Abot prepares for Mike Anders in "Star in My Kitchen." These people will provide many interesting moments for the visitors at our cooking school.

The outstanding example of such a problem is the sanitary conditions in the old town section of Carpinteria. Under present conditions, and particularly during the high waters in February and March, it might easily prove the breeding ground of a serious epidemic that would sweep the entire community and might even spread for many miles down the coast.

Although county health officials and Carpinteria residents are fully aware of the seriousness of this situation they are powerless to do anything about it without federal aid. This area is included in the sanitary district but the cost of installing sewer lines, etc., is so great and the assessed value of property in this area so low that the property owners cannot possibly carry the burden of this greatly needed improvement.

With new funds available for public works projects representing grants for projects that are not nearly so vital to public welfare as the needed sanitary improvements in the old town area, and the fact that Carpinteria has received but little federal aid, it is to be hoped that government officials will again review requests for aid in solving this problem and grant the financial help so greatly needed. Not only would such a grant eliminate the possibility of costly epidemics, but it would adequately serve the.admission of the community into the launching of a program, that of creating more employment, for the completion of the sanitary district's program would naturally entail the hiring of ordinary labor over a considerable period of time.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

Some years before the turn of the century, Commodore Vanderbilt is credited with having made the statement "The Public be Damned" in regard to certain large enterprises bearing on the public welfare over which he had control. Of course, no business man or enterprise would be foolhardy enough to issue such a statement today but it has really been made for the Santa Fe Railroad Company. With the ever increasing traffic hazards, the public is to be congratulated that this experience of the improved service which the Santa Fe desires to give its patrons in the San Joaquin Valley.

The decision went a step further, recognizing the financial difficulties in which the railroads of the country are involved, and indicated that the company hoped to wage the battle of life. Equipment with which to wage the battle of life. It is possible that this fact has been one of the reasons that Carpinteria has received so little in the way of financial aid.

SECOND HELPING NEEDED

Carpinteria residents are justly grateful for the PWA grant that has been made for the grammar school, just when all hope for such aid had been abandoned, but many feel that the $49,000 is but a small part of the federal aid that this district is entitled to, particularly in view of the fact that Carpinteria has contributed generously to federal income and social security funds.

It is possible that this fact has been one of the reasons that Carpinteria has received so little in the way of financial aid. Federal authorities should go further than the printed reports of assessed valuation which might lead them to believe that Carpinteria is a wealthy district well able to take care of its own problems.

Although no one questions the fact that Carpinteria is located in a rich agricultural area, the fact remains that food is grown in the hands of a comparatively small percentage of the entire population of the valley; the balance of the community being composed of people engaged in small business, who are hardly the carriers who can stand a heavier load of taxation than they are already carrying no matter how badly certain improvements may be needed.

every hour of day after the birth of Christ you would have spent only a little more than a billion dollars. If you played a billion one dollar bills end to end they would reach 114,406 miles, or more than 4½ times around the world at the equator. If you started to spend $100 a minute it would take 10 years before you would break. A billion one dollar bills would completely cover 2,000 football fields. From March 4, 1862 to April 3, 1868, the Federal government alone has spent nearly $37,000,000,000, according to official treasury figures.

BOY STASHES—A noted economist last week said “If taxes keep on mounting someday there will be a second Boston Tea Party.” Most people who do not pay income taxes believe taxes do not affect them very much. Here is some interesting information:

More than 8 per cent of the cost of a pound of beef or pork is in hidden taxes; 10 per cent of the cost of a suit of clothes; 25 per cent of the cost of toothpaste; 2 cents of every foot of bread, and 6 cents of the cost of a package of cigarettes goes to the tax collector. If a man who drinks two glasses of beer a day and smokes 20 cigarettes, he pays the government $45 a year in taxes.

Through taxation or borrowing America must collect more than $17,000,000,000 this year to run our Federal, state, county, and municipal governments. This is three times the amount of money in circulation and amounts to more than $46,500,000 a day.

PROSPECTS FOR 1938 CITRUS CROP DECLARED GOOD

SACRAMENTO—Prospects for orange, lemon and grapefruit production in California considerably in excess of 1937 packed box to-take is indicated in forecast released by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service at the State Department of Agriculture.

Statistician R. E. Blake forecasts a total production of 42,358,000 boxes of all California oranges this year, which total forecast may be compared with 20,395,000 boxes in the last crop year.

Prospects are good, the Statistician, that the navel and miscellaneous crop as of April 1 may total 16,118,000 boxes, compared with the total of 12,243,000 boxes packed last year.

Total harvest of Valencia oranges in California was forecast at 25,440,000 boxes, which total may be compared with 11,930,000 boxes packed in the last crop year.

Based on the indicated production of January 1, the California lemon production this year may reach 8,500,000 boxes, which total may be compared with the tops of 8,102,000 boxes packed last year.

Grapefruit production in California this year is forecast at 1,517,000 boxes. The pack of the last crop year was listed at 1,550,000 boxes.

America frequently faces a problem of moving its surplus crops. In 1938, California peach growers, for example, had a carry-over of 6,500,000 cases of canned peaches. A four-week merchandising campaign in 40 states increased the sale of canned peaches 171 percent. Chain stores in New York state currently are engaged in a ten-week campaign to move an apple surplus of 5,000,000 bushels, of which one-quarter were re-packed sold in the first two weeks of the drive. The week of May 28 to June 4 has been designated as "Cotton Week" which is designed to help move the surplus cotton crop. A Holiday in the Bath

A vacation in a bath tub—

Off hand, such an idea probably strikes my readers as being an exceptionally preposterous one.

The mention of vacation usually conjures up visions, not of bath tubs, but of excursions away from the commonplace world of work and duty, into another sphere of luxurious relaxation.

Actually, the bath may provide just that—an atmosphere of luxurious relaxation, and a brief vacation from everyday existence.

Of course there is the "duty" bath, which is merely a matter of soap and water and lather and scrubbing. But the "vacation" bath is something else entirely. It is a glamorous and glorified elaboration which goes far beyond the mere personal cleanliness.

It is alltogether a luxurious conception from the standpoint of luxury. The luxury of the "vacation" bath is, of course, quite achieves. The "vacation" bath there is a splendid opportunity to experiment with new soaps in new odors. The whole gamut of fragrances, all the way from stalwart pine to the overwhelming sweetness of Jasmine, can eventually be sampled in lazy comfort.

The luxurious "vacation" bath affords splendid opportunities to experiment with new and fragrant soaps, bath salts, bath oils, colognes, and body lotions, points out Max Factor, Hollywood's foremost authority on feminine grooming.

The main point I wish to make is that in speaking of "luxurious," I am not referring to the expenditure of moriey. The luxury of the "vacation" bath is not to be measured in financial outlay. It is entirely a matter of time and the personal state of mind.

Here in Hollywood, when stars such as Rosalind Russell, Joan Crawford, Alice Faye, Anne Shirley, Olivia de Havilland, or any of the dozens of others you might name are busy working in a picture, "duty" bathing is, of course, the order of the day. Arriving at the studios very early in the morning, and at their homes very late at night, ladies of the Plims have little time or energy left for any form of bathing except quick, practical showers or dips in their tubs.

But, when a picture has been completed, and its feminine star has a few days or weeks of leisure at her command, the bathing routine is generally a very different one.

Then comes the assembling of all the luxurious little niceties and luxurious frivolities which had to be omitted, because of the lack of time, during the long and busy work days at the studio.

It is really surprising to check overhand just how many interesting ways there are of complicating the simple bath. In the "duty" bath the principal object is cleanliness; almost any reputable brand of soap will serve. But in the luxurious "vacation" bath there is a splendid opportunity to experiment with new soaps in new odors. The whole gamut of fragrances, all the way from stalwart pine to the overwhelming sweetness of Jasmine, can eventually be sampled in lazy comfort.

Fragrance

Not are soaps the only medium of fragrance for the leisurely bath. Bath salts, bath oils, colognes, body lotions—these and many other compounds can contribute their scented richness, too.

Or perhaps the feminine fancy may turn from soap in its usual cake form, and finally select one of those granulated soaps which deliver such huge billows of lather instead. As for the water—possibly it is near boiling in temperature. Or it may be only mildly lukewarm. Maybe the bather likes the soothing sprays which can be sprayed from a big sponge. Or it is quite possible that she prefers the cleansing powders contained in a long-handled brush which handyly reaches the back and shoulders. Some like both.

The "vacation" bath relaxes nerves, and affords a generous share of fastidious well-being which the "duty" bath seldom, if ever, quite achieves. The "vacation" bath calls for a careless disregard of time, and the complete pampering of one's bathing whims. It is altogether a luxurious indulgence.

It must be understood, however, that in speaking of "luxurious," I am not referring to the expenditure of moriey. The luxury of the "vacation" bath is not to be measured in financial outlay. It is entirely a matter of time and the personal state of mind.

The "vacation" bath is an exceptionally preposterous one, glamorous and glorified elaboration which goes far beyond the mere personal cleanliness. The luxury of the "vacation" bath is something else entirely. It is a glamorous and glorified elaboration which goes far beyond the realm of merely achieving personal cleanliness.
YOUR HOME AND MINE
BY ANNE WILSON

With automatic ranges becoming a part of so many kitchens, menus for oven meals which can be cooked under the supervision of the timer clock are becoming more and more in demand. Here is one for a simple meal:

Meat loaf in ring mold, noodles, tomato, celery and okra casserole, corn bread and rhubarb tapioca. The five foods are placed in the oven, the temperature set at 375 degrees and the timer clock set to cook them one and a half hours.

A more elaborate dinner might consist of barbecued beef or veal, baked potatoes, diced turnips, banana nut bread and fruit pie. The oven temperature is 350 degrees and the time two hours. The meat is prepared by covering a three-pound beef chuck or veal shoulder with % cup catsup, % cup chopped onion, salt, pepper, and two lemons, sliced.

More elaborate is this dinner, suggesting a baked stuffed pork tenderloin, candied sweet potatoes, slivered beans and carrots, spiced cranberry sauce and apple dumplings. To prepare the tenderloin, put a well-flavored dressing between three one-pound tenderloins fastened together with skewers.

Women with electric ranges do not worry about being a little late in getting home to take dinner out of the oven. An electric range’s moist oven heat does not dry out food, but keeps it appetizing until it is served.

The model of the cyclotron, or atom smashing machine, will be shown in actual operation at the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition.

One of the most necessary concerns of our communities is the easy paving of the roads. This is a method that has been proved reliable and effective in construction where concrete, asphalt, stone, etc., are used, and sand and gravel have become of great importance.

ROCKY NOOK—Etiwanda,}
Mr. Hurst, located at 3314 E. Haley in Santa Barbara, phone 4055 is the signal between house and tree preservation by pruning, spraying, and fertilizing; and as general consultant in the care of trees.

As the county grows old and the original vegetation is replaced by nursery stock, it is necessary to give the new growth the best care.

The story of the tree in the picture is that there is a price on well-grown trees, and if it is a price worth while, there is a price paid. Mr. Hurst furnishes one of the most complete tree care outfits in the country.

Tree inspection and information will be given by phoning Dixie Hurst, 7819, Santa Barbara.

Charles

Painter

PAINTING

Charles Painter takes the gross work—the danger of disappoint­ment—out of painting. His ser­vice assures you a workmanship that looks right, and it is right. One that stands up-graves of real satisfaction—and protects the investment you have in your home.

You will find the work done by the best experts, be­cause familiar with the work, and knows how to produce the at­tractive design in general—professional style.

Instead on good painting by get­ting a design or pattern from a well known in the trade. Mr. Bausher and his boys will do the work in such a way the value of the product you have in your home will be increased.

Ask for Butter Crust Fies and you will always get delightful satisfaction.

Almost a Circus

For a non-circle picture, the new Paramount musical comedy, "The Gang's All Here," is a non-circle story as it is based on a woodland record for animals and birds. In this circus story, there are Blacky, Dorothy Lamour and Ray Milland there are fighting bulls, oxen, burros, geese, chickens, cats, dogs and even a turtle.

Exponents of Home Ownership

The loan policy of this organization is a model of fairness and simplicity. All loans are made on a definite contract basis whereas the borrower pays simple inter­est on the amount he owes each month. This means that the rate of interest charged is the same over the entire term of the loan and there are no addi­tionals fees charged. The Association of Santa Barbara and surrounding county area farmers and owners have taken steps in the past year to establish the California Gleaners and Dyers and to help the people to become home owners.

One of the most outstanding of these organizations is the Fed­eral Savings and Loan Associations which have acquired total assets of more than one million dollars since their organization in 1934. This fact itself is definite proof of the real worth of the Federal Government itself.

Money invested in this associa­tion, whether in large or small amounts, first of all is insured up to $5000.00 on each account by the Federal Savings and Loan Ins­urance Corporation, an instrumentality of the Federal Government itself. This money is locked out in the community for the financing of the purchase or construction of homes on a fair and reasonable basis.

In addition to chartering and supervising the Federal Savings and Loan Associations, and pro­viding, for the insurance of ac­counts, Congress has also provided that local savings institutions may invest its own funds in these associations to the extent of 10 per cent of the total amount invested by individuals, provided, however, that the advancing of this home financing shall be the first Federal Savings and Loan Associations in the First Federal Savings and Loan Area of Santa Barbara, are assured that they will earn gen­erous dividends with perfect safety. In this Industrial Magazine we unhesitatingly recommend this institution to all of our read­ers for the wonderful work they are doing to help every one own 100% scholarships.
