Band Opens Entertainment
with 'Adeste Fideles';

CLUB PRESENTS PLAY

Entire Assembly Sings Yuletide Songs Accompanied by College Orchestra

Christmas spirit was brought to the campus today when the Associated Women students were hostesses to the Men's club at the annual holiday program during second hour.

Strains of "Adeste Fideles" played by the college orchestra under the direction of J. W. McAllister opened the program. Following the orchestral number, the Men's Glee club, accompanied by the orchestra, sang, "Cantique de Noel," with solo parts taken by Colleen Murphy, Fred Lambourne and Stanley Cox.

Play Presented

"The Christmas Chime," a one-act play, was presented by four members of the Players club. It was a story of a young couple not on speaking terms, brought together by well-meaning friends. Those taking part in the play were Gladys Terrill, played by Carol Warren; Joseph Terrill, Harry Nethery; Dolly Wakelee, Alice Freeman; and Ted Owen, Elbert Phelps.

Members of the Women's Glee club sang, "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming" and "Silent Night." The latter was a special arrangement by Mrs. Helen M. Barnett, head of the music department. The combined glee clubs then rendered, "A Legend," by Tschaiowsky. The entire assembly closed the program singing several Christmas carols, accompanied by the orchestra.

PRELUDE TO WAR

Marshall Chang, anti-Japanese, friendly to Russia, has kidnapped no less a person than General Chiang-kai-Shek, Generalissimo of the Chinese central government. He will be released if the central government agrees to cease its anti-Communist campaign immediately. Russia and Japan are preparing for war which the Japanese consider inevitable and are desperately maneuvering for position in China.

DUKE OF WINDSOR

Smiling, the erstwhile King Emperor of Great Britain, alighted from his car in Austria. Police guards started to break the cameras of newsmen until Edward intervened in their behalf and obligingly posed for them, winning their gratitude. At home, the press is making a strenuous effort to puff brother King George VI up to the proportions of number one man in England. He stutters; if he has any social theories he keeps them safely to himself. We won't find him embarrassing the Tories by poking his head into slums and depressed areas.

STRIKE PEACE PROPOSAL

Most stubbornly fought points in the strike is the question of who shall control the hiring halls. Word has seeped out that the Federal government has hinted it will set up a Federal board to regulate the hiring of seamen. The unions look on this favorably. The ship-owners frowned. Now, both sides, having tested each other's strength propose to arbitrate.

A.W.S. Stages Christmas Tea

All Campus Women Included in Invitation; Vice- Prexy Chairman

Issuing an invitation to all campus women, the A.W.S. will hold its Christmas tea in the Women's clubroom tomorrow afternoon, December 16, from 3:00 to 4:30 p.m. Ellen "Pat" Ireland, vice-president and social chairman, will be general chairman for the event, the last scheduled on the fall social calendar.

Frances Hoelscher, Gretalie Fitzgerald, Louise Jackson, Charlotte Naess, Wilma Kiesner, Dorothy Riche, Nancye Clapp, Miriam Turton and Petie McKinney will act as hostesses.

Committees for the tea are Blanche Hillman, food chairman; Jeannette Leister and Betty Townsend; Cecile Dillehunt, decoration chairman, Pat Forsythe, Eleanor Benham and Ellen Seymour; and Kathryn Bowers, serving chairman. Mabel Forsythe, Barbara Bennett and Kaye Grow.

Naturalist Speaks to Science Classes

David Banks Rogers will speak to a combined meeting of physiology, zoology and botany classes tomorrow, December 16, third period in room 80.

The subject of his lecture will be "Prehistoric Man," the second series of lectures to be delivered to gatherings of State students, the first having been given in a general assembly two weeks ago. The lecture will be illustrated with lantern slides.

Mr. Rogers is curator of the Santa Barbara Museum of Natural History, and has gained national recognition as an authority on the anthropology of the Santa Barbara region.

All students wishing to hear Rogers are invited to attend the meeting.

A.W.S. Raises Cash for Christmas Fund

As money is coming in slowly, a special drive will be made this last week, before vacation, by the A.W.S. for their Christmas Fund.

Contributions may be made any time and each girl is asked to give a minimum of 10 cents. Boys may contribute also. Money jars are placed in the coffee shop, the Co-op and Dean Bennink's office.

'Collegians' Bewail First Season Rain

"It never rains, but it pours" is a true enough statement, collegians are ready to affirm after the campus is deluged with water, for the first time this season. But all trouble comes at once. Not only must students slosh to class, they must slosh through exams as well, in the pre-Christmas rush.

To add to their respective worries, the gals were forced to don long dresses for the football banquet in spite of the cloudburst. It seems the grid guys are the only lucky ones—football practice was called off.

TAU GAMMA GIVE XMAS MUSICALE AT MAR MONTE

Tau Gamma Sigma, social sorority, presented its annual Christmas musicale Sunday evening, December 13, in the lounge of the Hotel Mar Monte.

Catherine Phelps was guest soloist, with Mrs. Helen M. Barnett as choral director and Mrs. Anita Priest as accompanist and instrumental director. Miss Phelps, accompanied by Thelma Matesky, played three violin selections, "Concerto in D Minor," "Nocturne" and "Humoresque."

An original dance interpretation by Audrey Moore was a main feature of the musicale. The choral ensemble sang, "Come to the Fair," "A Bird Flew," "The Sea Hath Its Pearls," "Nights," "Chinese Lullaby," "Swanee River," "Greeting to Spring," "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming" and a special arrangement of "Silent Night" made by Mrs. Barnett. Mrs. Barnett sang a soprano solo, "Panis Angelicus." Two-piano presentations completed the program.

Elementary Group Hears Dancing Talk

Miss Elizabeth Sehon, member of the faculty spoke to members of the elementary department last week during a second hour meeting.

"Rhythmics in Progressive Education," was the subject of Miss Sehon's talk. She told of the procedures and possible outcomes of the new physical education program.

President Leo Butts told of the plans for the combined party of the industrial education and elementary departments which has been tentatively set for January 8. Mrs. Price made further announcements regarding classes.

and Phelps Give Welcome

Mike Frankovitch, former U.C.L.A. grid star, was the featured speaker of the evening at the annual Football Banquet sponsored by the Associated Students, aided by the Women's Athletic association, last night in El Paseo, in honor of the 1936 Gaucho squad.

Frankovitch recounted numerous experiences encountered during his football career, tracing the history of the U.C.L.A. gridmen way back to the time when its teams consisted of "eleven men, four water boys and two assistant coaches." He congratulated the Gaucho eleven on its successful season, and complimented the Santa Barbara High School Dons on their playing during the year. The former gridster also read a telegram sent to Wilton Wilton by Joe E. Brown, expressing the latter's desire to be with the Santa Barbarans last night, his regrets, and his admiration of Wilton.

Young Violin Player Gains Local Praise

Jaqueline Duke Makes Second
Appearance Here Before
College Audience

Students who attended the performance given by Jaqueline Duke, 13 year old violin prodigy in assembly last Friday morning were even more impressed by the talent and charm of the youthful genius who presented a program here last year.

The youthful virtuoso made her program varied and of unusual interest with brief summaries of each piece she played. She also stated that she enjoyed playing before the Santa Barbara audiences even more than the last time and would choose this city as one in which to live.

Barnett Praises Girl

Mrs. Helen M. Barnett, head of the college music department, praises the young violinist. She states, "Jaqueline Duke has a remarkable mature tone for a child of 13. The depth of emotional feeling and richness of experience brought out in Mendelssohn's appealing, 'On Wings of Song,' seems almost impossible for a child to conceive. With apparent ease and entire lack of effort she draws from her violin the strength and sureness of tone expected only of a man performer. Added to those qualities is a beautifully developed agility as well as lovely harmonies and double stopping."

Miss Duke finishes today her tour for the year of Southern California colleges and universities and will return to her home in Los Angeles.

Dance Instructor Initiates Orchesis Society on Campus

Miss Elizabeth Sehon, dance instructor, who has been successful in creating Orchesis societies in colleges and universities throughout the State, is here to establish the same organization on our campus.

This group is similar to the European Jooss Ballet dance which was presented at the Granada theatre Wednesday night. The large number of people who attended this performance repeatedly applauded for more.

Miss Sehon invites all women on the campus to join the Orchesis society held on Wednesday, 10th hour in the gym. It will be a part of the W.A.A. activities.

A statement in the Santa Barbara News-Press by Mrs. Jooss, wife of the creator of The Jooss Ballet, stated that everybody should dance for the physical benefit if for nothing else. The dancer keeps herself well by going through this procedure daily whether she is to perform on the stage or not.

Keeble Present

With Frankovitch was "Joltin' Joe" Keeble, also of U.C.L.A., who formerly played with the Pittsburgh Professionals.

The program opened with the general singing of "On To Victory" led by Barbara Sharp and Renata Maccianti. Bill Hoyt, senior class president, acted as toastmaster. Welcomes were given by Nancye Clapp, W.A.A. president, and President Clarence L. Phelps, Student President Denning McArthur gave the presentation. John Twaddell, Block "S" president, spoke on the

ADVICE TO BOOKWORMS

"The way you comb your hair has a lot to do with your future success. Good grades will get you places but they don't mean everything. It is just as important to make yourselves men respected. Study how to improve your personality and appearance. If you neglect yourself you will suffer for it," J. A. Hunter, professor at the University of Colorado stated.

Cultured mice at the University of Minnesota theatre scamp across the stage, sit for a while to watch the rehearsals and then scoot off. Theorists claim they receive their taste for art from living in the auditorium organ.

KEEP ON STUDYING

An eastern college president has what seems to be a good idea. He suggests that five years after graduation all graduates should be re-examined and if they flunk, their diplomas are to be revoked. Maybe interest in self-education after graduation would be increased.

WHAT'S IN A NAME

Here are some of the unusual names of Northwestern University students. There are a couple of Beers, a Booz, a Beerman, a Bender and a Bock—not to mention six Steins. Also there's a Pond, Pool, Brook, Lake and Rainwater. They even have a Sailor, a Seaman, Steed, Stirrup and a Saddle.

An oddity hunter might raise his eye-brows when he learns that there is a sophomore who is a Frosh, a lawyer who is a Heckler and two dentists named Toothaker and Jirka.

The Woman Driver

According to recent investigations, Professor William Junkin Cox of Yale university, has proven that women drivers, long thought to be inferior to men, do not cause the most automobile accidents.

No longer can men sneeringly comment, "Must be a woman driver," as statistics show that women are involved in only six percent of the highway accidents.

"But it is not while driving from either the back seat or the front seat of the car that women can exert the greatest influence on the highway," states the professor, "If accidents are to be reduced, it will be accomplished through women. Men have had the problem for 30 years and have done little with it."

Development of public opinion toward an observance of law with a view to decreasing automobile accidents is definitely a work for women. Strict impartial and certain enforcement of law is one thing needed and largely lacking to reduce highway hazards. Public opinion for such enforcement can be woman's contribution.

On the State campus, cases prove that college women are the most cautious and observant of parking and traffic rules and regulations. Chalk one up for the "weaker sex."

'The Way of the Progressors'

To the Women's Athletic association go the heartiest congratulations of the entire school for its successful management of the Annual Football Banquet given last night in honor of the "Galoping Gauchos" of Santa Barbara State.

Well-organized and well-executed from beginning to end, the banquet was held at El Paseo, with over 150 students, faculty and townspeople present. This number far exceeds that of last year at a similar event held at the Montecito Country club.

The success of the event proves that college sponsorship of such a banquet honoring a football team which represents the college itself, is a wise move. Splendid cooperation on the part of downtown businessmen contributed greatly to the above-mentioned success, however, and the words of Joe Myers, Junior Chamber of Commerce president, assuring the school of its undivided support of a team, whether it wins or loses, were received enthusiastically by the guests.

Each event given at Santa Barbara State continues to mark the "Way of the Progressors," and is constantly indicative of the upward trend.

Individualism vs. the Fraternity

The behavior of the individual fraternity men and not the purposes of the fraternity was challenged in a recent Inter-fraternity Conference held at Syracuse university.

Prominent university professors gave opinions, "Unless we live up to fraternity criteria, our days are numbered," "It isn't the fraternity aims and purposes that are challenged, but the behavior of the individual fraternity men!" Many stated that fraternities carrying too large memberships cannot be successful, as the aims of the fraternity to develop personality and character through warmth of close personal companionship are lost. Freshmen seldom know Senior fraternity brothers living in the same house.

In hope that non-fraternity men also would aim at better social standards, the social affairs roundtable decided to prepare and publish a uniform code of social practices to be observed by all fraternity men.—A.C.P.

Passing in Review

By TED JOHAM

Looking over the results of the past season it becomes obvious to the students that the Gauchos are at a cross road in the event of deciding about the destinies of the future Gaucho teams. It is a noticeable as a carbuncle on your neck that the Big Green has outgrown the Southern California Conference and that to continue to increase the revenue taken in each year some teams of higher caliber must be placed on the Hill-topper schedule. It is up to the students to decide between two issues, the first of which is, shall the Gauchos stop improving the type of their gridiron teams and stay in the obscurity of a sectional conference, or to cut loose and free-lance it during football season and get games with such teams as St. Mary's and Santa Clara.

In the opinion of this writer and of several students who have been approached on the subject the Staters would do well to try to free-lance in the future for several reasons. All of those who stated their views believe that the Gauchos will continue to improve and that this team is not just a flash in the pan, they all stated that with the added attraction of nationally famous teams the proposed Gaucho Stadium would practically be assured.

Neither the Gauchos nor the Aztecs are popular members of the conference and their dropping out of the circuit would not hurt any of the feelings of the rest of the schools represented. Several unofficial suggestions for a new conference have been put forth, one of them would have all of the state colleges of California in a group, another believes that one composed of St. Mary's, Santa Clara, Nevada, Fresno State, College of the Pacific, Santa Barbara State and San Diego State would be a good one. Objections to the last named league are that the Gaels and Broncos would be the dominating factors, however that sort of a conference would draw at the gate and in a few years would be a source of competition to the Pacific Coast conference.

After talking things over with a former great of the gridiron last week end he convinced me that some unsportsman-like comments were passed in this column, so in order to erase a black mark against the college for what I said about the San Diego game I'll apologize to Jim Tunney and say I'm sorry.

HOOPSTERS GET NEW UNIFORMS

"State is going to have the classiest looking outfit in the conference this year." This statement was made by John Twaddell, varsity basketball manager, when asked about the proposed new uniforms for the team.

Johnny states that the suits will probably be made of silk, and of the school colors. He and his assistant, Powell Lee, are very enthusiastic over the prospects for the team, saying that the squad has an average height of six feet-two inches, and contains three All-Conferences from junior colleges.

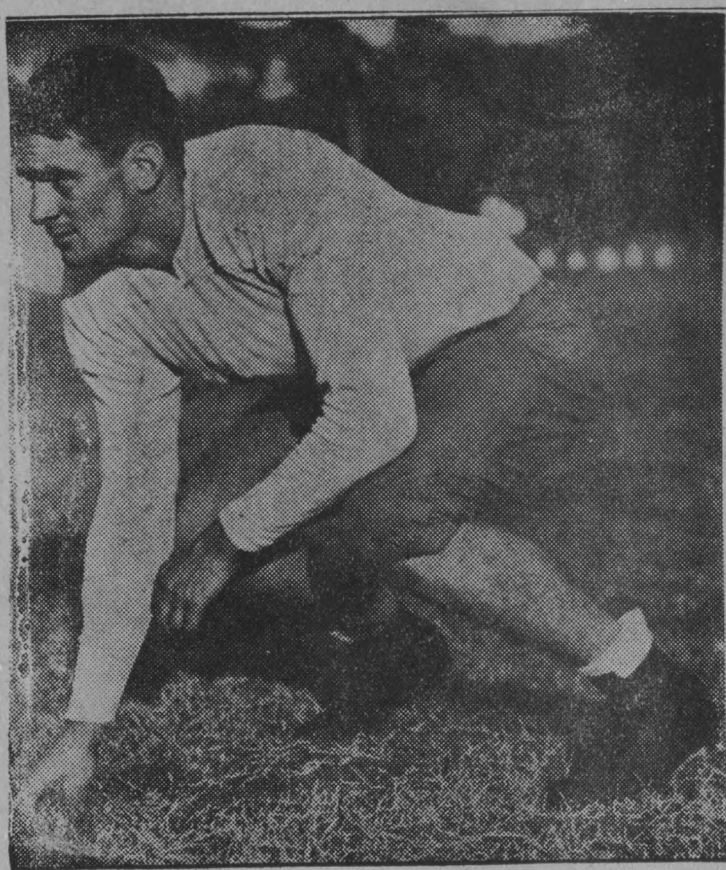

The student body will get its first glimpse of this year's quintet on Wednesday night, when there will be a practice game with Ventura J.C. at the Recreation Center gym. There will be no admission charge, so everyone will be able to come.

Due to the fact that most of the games this year will be out of town, there are attempts being made to get more home games, so that the townspeople will have more of an opportunity to see the squad in action.

Oldershaw Rates All-American Street and Smith Places Doug on Team

The selection of Doug Oldershaw as a member of the Street and Smith, Sport Pictorial was announced in a communication Sunday from New York. The team was picked by Stanley Woodward, president of the Football Writers association, and 65 of the leading coaches, professional scouts and sport writers in the country.

The members of the team all hail from small colleges, but the Sports Pictorial in its January issue will defend it as the best of the All-Americans yet selected. "We think that we have the best All-American of all. We think that it would lick anyone else's All-American. We would like to get this team together and turn it loose on the stereotyped All-American," was the statement that showed where the choosers stood.

The men who were chosen were the stars of their various teams and played through the season without the aid of powerful team mates. Oldershaw was one of three men to be selected from the far west; the others were occupants of the fullback post and were Kramatic of Gonzaga and Weisgerber of Willamette.

The All-American Team

The men selected for the first and second teams were the following: ends, Frank Kilken, Western Reserve; Leo Deutsch, Saint Benedicts; tackles, Bill Gills, Oklahoma Central Teachers college; Bob Klein, Chattanooga; guards, Dick Colman, Williams; Jim Farley, V.M.I.; center, Art Merchant, Loyola, New Orleans; quarterback, Art Stevenson, Hastings; halfbacks, Johnny Stoval, Texas State Teachers; Mickey Kobrosky, Trinity; fullback, George Karamatic, Gonzaga; Second team, ends, Hersh Ramsey, Texas State Teachers; Henry Hammond, Southwestern, Memphis; tackles, Otho Fagala, Oklahoma Baptist; Bob Taft, Carlton; guards, Doug Oldershaw, Santa Barbara State; Dewing Proctor, Maine; center, Fred Nebel, Xavier; quarterback, Ken Chetum, Illinois Wesleyan; halfbacks, Leo Donaher, Saint Benedicts; Roger Tufts; and fullback, Weis-gerber, Willamette.

Place on Little All-American

Captain Doug Oldershaw, stellar guard of the Santa Barbara State green horde, was picked on the Associated Press selection for the Little All-American team published last Sunday.

With a line that averages 200 pounds and six feet two inches from end to end, the "Little All-American" presents a team that would do justice to any selections made from the "Big Team" now being announced. Oldershaw was the only Californian to be picked and one of two to be selected from the far west.

Among the honorable mentioned were Howard Yeager and Elvin Hutchinson, the "Red Oak Express" from Whittier. Yeager was picked because of his shining offensive record of 10.7 yards for every time he carried the ball, Hutchinson's claim to fame was his 84 points he scored during the season.

Small Schools Chosen

With the exception of Cooper, center from Howard, Alabama, the team was picked from schools with enrollments under 1,000.

Aggies Begin Prep for Game

Coach Hines Issues Call to Twenty-Four Men to Make Trip

LAS CRUCES, New Mexico, Dec. 13—After a much needed 10 day rest the New Mexico Aggie football squad will resume practice Monday in preparation for the Christmas Day clash with Santa Barbara State in California.

Coach Jerry Hines has called 24 men back for practice all of whom will make the trip to the coast. None too optimistic about his team's chances for a victory the Aggie coach hesitated to make comments today.

"If Lem Pratt and "Hookey" Apodaca get back in shape soon enough our chances will be much better", Hines said. "With the squad in good shape I see the game as a toss-up. The boys will furnish plenty of excitement for the spectators at Santa Barbara."

Hines indicated that he would make no major shifts in his lineup or style of play but he probably will give the squad one or two new formations and several new plays. The Aggies will rely on a fast open attack with lots of passes and laterals.

The Aggie squad will leave for the Coast December 22 with stops for practice at Phoenix and San Bernardino. Many of the squad members will stay on the Coast for the Rose Bowl game. The California invasion is the second for a State College team in recent years. In 1932 a Hines coached team lost a close game to a Marine team in San Diego.

During the current season the Aggies have won 6 games, lost 3, proved to have more left at the finish, winning in the fast time of 15 minutes and 56.1 seconds for the three mile grind. To cover the course in that time he would have to run three five minute and 17 seconds miles.

Fujimoto Third

Fujimoto of the Gauchitos had to fight for the last 50 yards with his team mate, Bill Varner to take third place, Varner came in fourth, Marlin Wilbur, running his first college cross-country race, took a sixth. Bill Parks came in eighth, while Greer Reid was the final Gauchito to cross the finish line, coming in at twelfth position. Wilbur has had some experience as a prep distance man, having placed second in the grind last year for Southgate High school.

While the yearlings were covering themselves with glory, the Gaucho varsity did not do so well. Finishing in a pack, the big team placed McDonald, Dorn, Reitter, Erickson and Shean at 10, 11, 12, 13 and 17 respectively. The boys were bothered with heat and cramps. Wells Gibson started the race, but due to an injury in his leg had to drop out at the two mile post.

Oxy Man Wins

Brown of Occidental won the varsity race in the time of 22 minutes and 48 seconds for the four miles. The Tiger lad ran a smart race and saved his energy for the final sprint one that carried him over in first place.

Team honors were carried off by the Bulldogs from Redlands, with Occidental second and Santa Barbara third, and tied 1.

Last year the Aggies were runners-up in the Border States Conference and played in the first Sun Bowl game at El Paso. This year the College eleven closed its regular season in third place in the conference.

I can't pay a higher compliment than that.

Girl or cigarette... when I tumble that means I'm for 'em.
